DR. WARREN'S

Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches,

For all Diseases of the Mucous Membrane of the Respiratory Organs, and to Purify the Blood. An Unfailing Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Canker, Asthma, Catarrhal Affections, Consumption, and all Lung Diseases. A Blood Purifier and Nervine.

These Troches feed the nerves, tone up the system against disease, preventing indigestion, dyspepsia, and consumption, and through the nerves stimulate the liver, kidneys, mucous membrane, and muscles, and have a magic, immediate effect; expel humors and scrofulous taints from the system, sweeten the blood and restore it to the condition that makes perfect health; eradicate all skin diseases, prevent erysipelas, salt-rheum, boils, pimples, nettle-rash, etc.

Throat and Lung Troubles.

An Unfailing Remedy for all Diseases of the Throat.

"I like very much Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches. They are an unfailing remedy for all diseases of the Throat."—[W. H. Dowden, Pastor Congregational Church, South Easton, Mass.]

Nothing Else Allays Irritation of the Throat so Speedily and Surely.

"I have tried Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches and am more than satisfied with them. Nothing else that I have used allays irritation of the throat so speedily and surely."—[Rev. G. E. Fisher, Amherst, Mass.]

Quick Relief for Throat Trouble.

"I received your favor of Nov., 1881, with a box of Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches. I had no occasion to use them at that time, but my family used some of them, and spoke very highly of them, finding them a quick relief for throat trouble caused by a cold. I used a few that they left, and certainly thought them better than any I have before used."—[Rev. J. L. Sanborn, Pastor Baptist Church, Waterboro, Me., April 11, 1882.]

Testimony of a Clergyman who is also a Physician.

"The box of Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches was received, and trial has been made of them by myself, my wife, and my wife's mother, and they all agree that they are the best for throat troubles of any remedy yet tried, allaying irritation, cough, tickling, etc., almost immediately, and working permanent benefit."—[J. C. Emory, A. M., M. D., Pastor Worthen-street Baptist Church, Lowell, Mass.]

Immediate Relief.

"I have tried Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches myself, and other members of my family have done the same, and am prepared to say they are all they are represented to be. For a cough, or any irritation of the throat or lungs, I have never found anything equal to them; the relief is immediate. I shall not fail to recommend them to others who may need them."—[Rev. H. G. Carley, Prospect, Me., Mar. 24, 1882.]

It affords us a great deal of pleasure to be able to report the schools in town in a very satisfactory condition. Most of the teachers employed have been long and favorably known to the citizens of Pembroke as able, efficient, and successful instructors of youth, while those who have taught their first schools during the past year have given very general satisfaction. We believe that the faithful and conscientious discharge of duty on the part of the teachers has been the general rule and not the exception. We are also pleased to bear witness to the good behavior of all our scholars. No instance of willful disobedience or insubordination has been reported to your committee, and at our visits to the several schools during the year, the good order manifest, and the kind and cordial relations existing between the teachers and scholars, afforded us sincere gratification.

Citizens and parents have taken a commendable interest in the prosperity of our schools very generally, while it affords us more than ordinary pleasure to say that the prudential committees have discharged their duties ably and well, in the interests of those whose servants they have been. As a result, we report that in most of our schools marked progress has been made, and an advance step taken in the right direction. While we are thus enabled to report the schools in so satisfactory a condition, we would not be understood as conveying the idea that they have by any means reached the acme of perfection. There is ample room for improvement still.

Our common schools having been established for the purpose of giving to all our youth the advantages of such an education as will best fit them to discharge the duties and responsibilities of life, we hold that only those branches should be taught as will best tend to this end. An intimate and clear knowledge of arithmetic, grammar, geography, book-keeping, reading, writing, and spelling is all that is absolutely necessary in the ordinary transactions of life.

Now when we take into consideration the fact that only a favored few can avail themselves of the advantages of a liberal education, that the great masses of our youth must depend upon the common school alone for what primary instruction they receive, it seems that the branches enumerated above are, as a general rule, all that should be taught in our primary schools. And these should not only be taught theoretically, but practically, and with direct reference to the pupils' greatest benefit in after life.

In most, if not in all of our schools, the arbitrary rules laid down in the various text-books were well committed to memory ; but in far too many instances the principles involved, and the reason for the "faith within," could not be given. As well build stately superstructures on foundations of sand as to attempt the impossible feat of rearing upon the shaky foundation of half-understood principles the fabric of a solid and substantial education. A clear knowledge of fundamental principles is essential, and no teacher should be retained who fails to teach them understandingly.

The one great overshadowing evil that confronts us in most of our schools is a laxity, not to say criminal negligence, on the part of instructors to teach in a thorough manner the various branches pursued. A failure to do so is well nigh fatal to the progress of any school. We may appropriate money with lavish hands, build stately structures, embellish our school-rooms with all the paraphernalia of learning, maintain order and discipline that a martinet might admire, and yet, unless the great fundamental principles, the absolutely essential rudiments of education are thoroughly taught and well understood, the praises we sing to our common schools are as "the sounding brass and the tinkling cymbal."

A much needed reform in the manner of engaging teachers is imperatively demanded. We believe that the examination should precede the contract, and that no one should be employed until they have satisfied the examining committee of their fitness to teach. Very often the candidates when they have been engaged by the prudential committee consider every thing as settled, and consequently do not present themselves for examination until perhaps the very morning the school is to commence. At that late day it is impossible to do justice ; the examination is a mere farce ; and certificates, if given at all, are given reluctantly and against the better judgment of the committee. In order to obviate this evil, we would suggest that all applicants to teach be required to present certificates from the examining committee before their claims can be considered by the prudential committee.

Deservedly high as our schools rank, it should be the aim and desire of all to have them still better. Progress and improvement should be the watchwords all along the line. Let there be no diminution of interest, no lukewarm zeal, no wavering in the ranks.

The best interests of society, the perpetuity of our institutions, social, moral, and political, depend in a great degree upon the intelligence of the masses. History rings down through the by-gone centuries its awful voice of warning, and proclaims to us that only an educated and intelligent people can be free, prosperous, and happy.

DISTRICT No. 1.

STEPHEN S. FORD, Prudential Committee.

This school has been for three consecutive years under the instruction of the same able teacher, Miss Emma J. Fowle. Faithful and persistent effort on the part of the teacher, cheerful and willing obedience and a desire to improve on the part of the scholars, have been rewarded with success. Order excellent, and the closing examinations satisfactory.

DISTRICT No. 2.

JOSEPH WARREN, Prudential Committee.

First and second terms, taught by Miss Hattie A. Warren. Miss Warren entered this school laboring under some disadvantages, and we are free to admit that it was no easy task to fill the chair so recently occupied by that accomplished teacher, Miss Jennie E. Haseltine. Yet Miss Warren, actuated by a sincere desire to succeed, discharged her duties faithfully and well, and more than exceeded our expectations.

The winter term was taught by Capt. Isaac W. Hobbs. Although it had been a long time since Capt. Hobbs exercised his abilities to teach the "young idea how to shoot," he entered upon his duties with the determination that it should be a profitable term, and in this he fully succeeded. His examination did not consist wholly in asking a host of unimportant questions, as is too often the case, but a large share of the work, especially in mathematics, was wrought upon the board, concisely explained, and the reasons given for every successive step taken, which convinced us that what they had attempted to learn had been learned thoroughly.

This is one of our smallest schools, yet in individual instances it exceeds in scholarship any other in town.

DISTRICT No. 3.

JAMES M. CLARK, Prudential Committee.

Miss Minnie A. Batchelder taught this school during the entire year. She is a teacher of large experience, and the success that has attended her efforts elsewhere is a sufficient guarantee of her ability to teach here. The scholars under her charge made good progress, and the order was excellent.

DISTRICT No. 4.

JOHN SEVERANCE, Prudential Committee.

Miss Hannah B. Atwood, teacher both terms. Miss Atwood came highly recommended as a fine scholar, which on examination proved to be correct, and we felt confident her school would be a success, but at the closing examination about one-half the scholars were conspicuous by their absence. We regretted this, as those who were present made a very creditable appearance.

DISTRICT No 5.

JACOB P. LEAVITT, Prudential Committee.

This school was under the instruction of Miss Etta Bartlett during the year. Miss Bartlett is a graduate of Pembroke Academy, a fine scholar, and possesses many qualifications of a good teacher. This was her first attempt at teaching, and she succeeded. The school appeared well at the close, and both examinations were satisfactory. Order good.

DISTRICT No. 6.

ALBERT P. FOWLER, Prudential Committee.

This district was extremely fortunate in securing the services of so experienced a teacher as Miss Genella L. Fowler. It is undoubtedly one of the most difficult schools in town to teach and govern, and yet, under her skillful and excellent management, this school has been one of the best in town during the entire year. The instruction has been thorough and practical, and the progress satisfactory. Order and methods of teaching excellent.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

ELIHU B. ROBINSON, Prudential Committee.

Both terms taught by Miss Lily J. Rose. This was Miss Rose's first attempt at teaching. She was quite young, a member of the school during the previous year, and wholly inexperienced. Under ordinary circumstances we should have doubted the propriety of her attempting so difficult a task. But a previous acquaintance with Miss Rose as a scholar led us to believe she would succeed. We have not been disappointed. The scholars in this school are young, but the energy and ambition of the teacher impressed themselves upon the scholars, and as a result the examination at the close of both terms was entirely satisfactory. The order was first-class, and we have no hesitation in saying that the scholars in this district will compare favorably with any of their age in town.

DISTRICT No. 8.

RUFUS H. PAINE, Prudential Committee.

The second term of the first primary was taught by Miss Gertrude A. Curtis; the first and third terms, by Miss Metta G. Gault. Miss Jennie M. Fellows has had charge of the second primary, Miss Ella F. Barker, of the intermediate, and Miss Metta C. Davis, of the grammar school, for the entire year.

It is needless to say that the close of the winter terms of the several departments in this district has only added new triumphs to those already won by the able and efficient corps of teachers who have had charge of the schools in this district for so long a time, and that the same good results were apparent at the closing examinations as have always heretofore crowned their efforts in the school-room with success.

DISTRICT No. 9.

GEORGE B. COLBY, Prudential Committee.

Both teachers were inexperienced, but with a firm determination to succeed, and an earnest desire to benefit those under their charge, they both managed the school in such a manner that at our final visits we were not only surprised but gratified at the good progress made; and with experience added to the faithfulness manifested in this school, success is sure to crown their efforts as teachers.

THE ACADEMY.

This time-honored institution, from whose halls have gone forth so many strong hands and stout hearts to fight on "life's broad-field of battle," is in a very flourishing condition, and still maintains its proud position as one of the best in the state.

Situated in one of the finest of neighborhoods, surrounded by healthful moral influences, commanding a view of natural scenery that in variety and grandeur is rarely equaled, endowed with a large permanent fund, and under the able management of Prof. Walker and his energetic corps of assistants, we have no reason to doubt that its future success will equal its ancient renown. In this connection we take pleasure in giving place to the following note, from Prof. Walker, in reply to certain interrogatories touching those matters to which he refers:—

“PEMBROKE ACADEMY, Feb. 24, 1883.

“I am able to report a prosperous year for this institution. There has been a marked improvement in scholarship and deportment. The attendance during the past year has been unusually large. It is the desire of those having the management of the school to have the standard high rather than the numbers large. It would be an advantage if those coming from the district schools were better prepared. No one should think of entering until he has mastered the common-school studies. To this end we would recommend that the district schools be graded as far as possible, to make them, as it were, fitting schools for the academy. Allow us to suggest that the town assist any worthy person who, having completed his studies at the district school, desires to pursue a course and graduate at the academy. There is need of another permanent teacher, and we trust that in the near future that want will be supplied."

"ISAAC WALKER, Principal."

Respectfully Submitted.

AMERICAN MED. CO. :—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well, and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them.
