REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of Warren School District:

I hereby submit my first annual report as Superintendent of Schools of the Warren School District. The statistical information follows this report. The superintendent assumed the supervision of your schools on May 1st, 1930. It being near the end of the year there was time only to familiarize himself with the problems of the district and finish up the year's work.

INSTRUCTION: Miss Hazel Maynard resigned her position at the Grammar School and Bernice Boswell was appointed to the position. Mrs. Evans and Miss Natalie Smith are in charge of the Intermediate and Primary rooms. Miss Wildie Stillings, a Plymouth Normal graduate was appointed teacher at Glencliff.

Owing to crowded conditions in the Primary room it has become necessary to split up the third grade so that one section is in the Intermediate room all the time and the other section is in the Primary room. This was done by the Stanford Achievement Test and by conference with the teachers. As a result each group is pleasantly occupied with tasks suited to their abilities and the seating problem is settled happily from the point of view of educational efficiency and seating capacity.

The school at East Warren has been closed and at the time of writing this report three children are being transported. It is generally understood by educational authorities that at least ten children should be in school to operate efficiently. Generally speaking, children receive a broader education in village schools by contacts with more children, more opportunity for group work, more equipment and more experienced instruction. And finally there is a financial saving.

ATTENDANCE: The attendance of the district was 93.75 per cent and was below that of the state which was 95.50. Only the Intermediate room exceeded the state average. While a great deal of this was undoubtedly due to sickness, nevertheless, one cannot escape the conviction that a few families are unmindful of the loss of school even one session and others are keeping children home for small and trivial reasons. Not only does a child lose by absence but he slows down the class on his return. The law states that children should attend school every day that schools are in session.

It is my recommendation that a truant officer be appointed at once. It is a worthy position and one that should be well paid for the work and responsibility. One or two prosecutions would clear up the attendance situation for a good long time.

HEALTH: The district is fortunate in having a school nurse. Miss Underhill reports twenty-two (22) house visits in addition to school visits as well as two clinics. It is lamentable that so many parents are not apparently, in the least interested in the notices of the nurse. She found 146 instances of underweight, defective vision, hearing, teeth, diseased tonsils and defective breathing, and only 32 have been apparently treated. This is a correction of less than 25 per cent. Children with these handicaps invariably lose a good number of days in school and a consequent education. Any day's absence is a distinct loss to the average child for he loses the momentum of the class and the teacher has to reteach, to a certain extent, what the class has been over the day before. No child can do satisfactory suffering physical discomfiture, and furthermore neglect of these all important defects often develop into physical handicaps throughout life.

CONCLUSION: The School District is to be commended for the good equipment of its' schools. In particular its' policy in paying substantial salaries to the teachers is sound. In this way successful teachers can be secured and depended upon to stay more than one or two years. The Village School does not have to undergo the usual disadvantage in villages of constantly changing teachers.

In closing I wish to state that I shall be glad to meet parents at almost any time to discuss the individual school problems of their children. It is through such conferences that children often are understood better and do better work in school.

Respectfully submitted,

ALLAN M. McCURDY,

Superintendent of Schools.
