Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of Northwood:

All of the teachers who were in service in our schools last year, are teaching again this year. In this we are fortunate, for there is a most important stability which comes from the continued services of really desirable teachers.

It is unfortunate that about the only occasions when parents and teachers see or talk to each other are those made necessary by matters of discipline. Parents should see and know teachers when the atmosphere is clear and should talk of the good work their children are doing and not always of adjustment of difficulties. The schools are open to visitors at all times, and it is to be hoped that citizens will avail themselves of the opportunity to become conversant with school room activities through observation. I am sure that if more people saw the work of the class room, there would be a greater interest in the affairs of the school district.

As shown in the school statistics, the average per cent. of attendance last year was 90 per cent. While this is better than the record we have made some years, it is not satisfactory. We should strive to have an average of at least 95 per cent. This will be possible when the parents appreciate the importance of regular attendance, and allow their children to absent themselves from school only when it is absolutely necessary.

At the present time the town pays the tuition at Coe's Academy, while the pupils have to purchase their own books and supplies. I would recommend that the district enter into a contract with the Academy to furnish all supplies for pupils from town. Northwood would then be offering the opportunity for free high school training, which is the practice of nearly every town and city in the state.

Many towns have school buildings where the light enters the class room from the rear and left side only; where the window space is one fifth of the floor space; where there is a system of ventilation which changes the air in the rooms without causing a draft; where the temperature remains uniform all day; where there are sanitary toilets located in the school building; where the desks and seats are all adjustable; where the floors are all oiled and free from dirt and dust; and where the best of equipment is installed. Would you like to have your children attend school in such a building? The children of Northwood have just as great potential powers, and merit just as good school buildings and school privileges as do the children of any other town in New Hampshire.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARENCE C. SANBORN,
Superintendent of Schools.
