Author Biographies

Angel Brady

Angel Brady is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire in the class of December 2019. She majored in Sociology and minored in Deaf and Hard of Hearing Studies. Her areas of interest were sexual assault and harassment, human trafficking and family.

Angelique Georges

Angelique Georges has recently completed her undergraduate studies in Sociology, as well as earned a minor in French. Her interests in Sociology center around impression management and social stratification, among those who hold a minority status. Interests in how minority status individuals adapt to different cultural settings, as well as the influence of her academic advisors, have led to a desire to obtain a master's degree in Educational Studies, from the University of New Hampshire. After all, she is incredibly thankful for the support of both the Academic advisors and Sociology faculty in exploring her interests in social cohesion.

Madeline Ohlson

Maddy Ohlson is a senior at UNH and is graduating in May of 2020 with a major in Sociology and a minor in Psychology. She plans to pursue her Master's degree in Social Work in the following years as she has always had a passion for helping others. Her areas of interest include advocacy for minority populations, healthcare access, the foster care system, and institutionalized racism.

Matthew Pincince

Matthew Pincince is currently a Junior at UNH and will graduate in May of 2021 with a B.A. in Sociology and a minor in Communication. He is interested in studying social relationships and the intersection of their effect on personal, social, and physical resources. This interest is driven by his love for people and his desire to learn about how people interact with those around them in the context of larger societies.

Kaitlin Sawler

Kaitlin Sawler is a senior at the University of New Hampshire, graduating May 2020. She is majoring in Sociology and Justice Studies with a minor in Psychology. She is interested in human trafficking, juvenile crime, and prevention. She is excited to continue her journey this summer in the Accelerated Justice Studies Master's Program.

Julia Stergas

Julia Stergas is a Junior at UNH. She is a Sociology and Justice Studies double major. Her areas of interest are in women's health and incarceration and punishment in the U.S.
