Report of the Librarian.

TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE WOLFEBORO TOWN LIBRARY.

GENTLEMEN:—

The fifth annual report of the librarian is herewith presented.

The Brewster Free Library and Wolfeboro Town Library are so closely connected that this report must include the work of both, with the exception of the figures for the number of books accessioned during the year.

The year just ended has been one of work and growth. 165 volumes have been added to the shelves, 20 of which were contributed. The accession book records 1,591 as the number of volumes in the Town library. A few of these have been worn out or lost in circulation.

12,163 books have been loaned from the library during the year, of these classes, fiction 6,149, non-fiction 2,207, children's books 3,807. Average monthly circulation 1,013. The largest number of books given out on any single day was 148, the smallest 8.

The work in the reference department has been satisfactory. A large table with stationary lamp has been placed at the rear of the library room for the convenience of persons using the reference books, and the public are urged to come in and look up any subject in which they may be interested. This is one of the most important features of library work.

The reading room has been supplied with a magazine rack, and now all but the current numbers are put in circulation. This enables persons who cannot find time to read during library hours to take periodicals to their homes before they become too out of date and we believe will increase the usefulness of this department.

There has been one art exhibit during the year, which was much appreciated.

The library has started Branch work in a small way by sending 50 books to South Wolfeboro. These are placed in the school building, and one of the girls acts as librarian.

In the selection of books for the year special attention has been given to technical works, and if these prove of service, this department will be made stronger.

The following is a statement of the money taken in at the library during the year.

Library supplies,	17 89
Balance on hand Feb. 1, 1911,	4 71
	$55 90

A library which is doing any work at all will have needs. There is always the demand for new books; for not only must it furnish readers with books of the day, but must constantly be adding to its shelves those which are of permanent value, and which make a library strong.

The children are fast outgrowing their own particular corner; and the time is not far distant when they must have a separate room under the care of an assistant, if this library is to keep pace with the library movement of today.

The librarian would express appreciation for the new interest in the work throughout the town which she has felt since the early summer, and for the larger number of contributions during the past year. She would also thank the trustee for their efforts for the library, and their support of her work.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH BREWSTER, Librarian.
