ROAD ENGINEER'S REPORT

TO THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN AND HIGHWAY COMMITTEE OF THE TOWN OF DUBLIN.

GENTLEMEN:—

I beg to submit herewith my report and recommendations relative to the expenditure of the bond issue for improvement of your town highways, together with a plan for the future maintenance of the same.

The popular demand of the day is for good roads, which to the average layman means one of the so-called modern pavements, little if any consideration being given the cost, whether first or ultimate. As the first cost of these pavements varies from $6,000.00 to $15,000.00 and over per mile, depending upon the materials used and methods of construction, I have viewed your road problems without considering the construction of any of the modern pavements. There is only one road which can be called "permanent" due to the fact that its type does not change and that is the common earth or dirt road, which always remains a dirt road.

To improve your existing earth roads has been the basis of my study and investigation. First it was necessary to know the mileage of your town roads and to obtain this I made an automobile survey and inspection of practically all your roads including every section suggested for improvement by the several members of your joint committee. This survey showed that there are approximately $45\frac{1}{2}$ miles of used highway in Dublin, of which ten miles have or will be improved under state aid and then be maintained by the state. This leaves $35\frac{1}{2}$ miles of earth roads for the town authorities to improve and maintain.

The advent of the motor vehicles, both for pleasure and business, has put a demand on our highways which to satisfactorily meet, requires different methods of expending the highway funds and of doing the work than those in vogue when our highways were used chiefly by horse drawn vehicles and for local travel.

Primarily the town must consider its highways as means of transportation performing similar functions as those of the steam railroads. This requires the classifications of the town roads with regard to their several uses. First, there are the roads carrying the main through travel. In the case of Dublin the principal road of this class is the South Side Trunk Line, which, owing to its relation to the state highway system, I have not considered in the town plan. The town roads I have divided into four classes as follows—

Class A. Main roads connecting adjoining towns.

Class B. Secondary roads used chiefly for local traffic.

Class C. Cross roads and roads used by light traffic.

Class D. Balance of the town roads which carry irregular traffic, mostly pleasure vehicles.

Such a plan properly developed and carried out will provide outlets for all travel during all seasons of the year, even if at certain seasons a longer route may be necessary.

Grouping the various roads in Dublin according to this classification, I find the mileage of the several classes to be—

Class A	←	7.15 miles
Class B	—	3.10 miles
Class C	—	13.25 miles
Class D	—	12.00 miles

35.50

The roads included in Class A are—

The Beech Hill road from the South Side Road to Harrisville town line.

The Jaffrey road from the South Side Road to the Jaffrey town line near Thorndike Pond.

The road around the south and west sides of Dublin Lake from Waite's corner to the Monadnock post-office.

The Troy road from the corner near the outlet of Dublin Lake to the corner near the golf links.

Class B are—

The Chesham Road from the South Side Road to the Harrisville town line, (This road should be selected for improvement under state aid as soon as the Trunk Line is completed.)

The East Jaffrey road from Bond's Corner past the reservoir to the Jaffrey town line.

Class C are—

The Charcoal Road.

The Troy road from the golf links to the Darling Trail.

The Chesham road from the South Side Road near Blackberry Lane to the Harrisville town line near Charles MacVeagh's.

The old Harrisville road from the "Parting of the Ways" to the Harrisville town line, together with the cross road from the South Side Road near Catlin's to the above road.

The road from Waite's Corner up the hill to the corner near estate of Mrs. Norman Williams.

The road leading off the Jaffrey road near Franklin MacVeagh's to the intersecting road in Lot 8, Range IV.

The Hancock road from Bond's Corner to the Harrisville and Peterborough town lines.

The Gold Mine road.

The East Harrisville road from the South Side Road near Walker's to the Harrisville town line.

The continuance of this last named road south from the South Side Road to the East Jaffrey road at the head of the reservoir.

The road leading south from the Gold Mine road to the intersecting road in Lot 2, Range II.

Class D-

The remainder of the roads open and maintained by the town.

IMPROVEMENTS RECOMMENDED.

For the proper development of this system the several classes of roads should be improved with the bond issue money keeping in mind that there are five fundamentals of a good road—grade, alignment, drainage, foundation and surface, and that only the work done on the first four is “permanent.” This borrowed money should be used first for the permanent improvements, expending only the balance, after the roads are properly graded, straightened and drained, on the surface.

To do this I recommend that Class A Roads—be straightened where possible to eliminate dangerous corners, graded by filling the sags and hollows and removing abrupt pitches, widened where narrow, remove boulders and ledge outcrops, and the drainage, both surface and subsurface, be carefully laid out and properly constructed so as to keep the road free from mud and frost holes or from damage by surface water. An allotment of $900.00 per mile being made for this class.

Class B Roads—Repair and rebuild the drainage the same as for Class A roads and then remove boulders and ledge outcrops and widen with the balance of the money. An allotment of $500.00 per mile being made for this class.

Class C Roads—Put these roads in good condition as summer roads, so they can be properly maintained by dragging and patrol. An allotment of $150.00 per mile being made for this class.

Class D Roads—These to be taken care of from the annual maintenance appropriation.

This plan provides for expending the bond issue as follows—
Table A.

MAINTENANCE.

As the life and condition of any road depends upon maintenance and as you plan to improve your roads now and pay for the work after a term of years, it is obligatory that a proper maintenance system be put into operation at once and continued yearly so as to keep these roads in condition and thereby your successors who will pay for them will receive suitable returns for their money. To provide for this maintenance I recommend the following plan based on an appropriation at the annual meeting in March, 1917, of $6,500.00 which should be increased in 1918 by $1,000.00 if needed for extending the patrol system or for special work.

Table B.

1917 appropriation to be		$6,500 00
allowed for salaries		1,200 00
		$5,300 00
Allowed for patrol on Class A roads, $125 per mile	$875 00
Class B roads, $100 per
mile	325 00
Class C roads, $65 per
mile	860 00

Class D roads, $50 per mile	600 00
Total for patrol		$2,660 00
		$2,640 00
Allowed for bridges	$1,000 00
Allowed for road machine work	1,000 00	2,000 00
Balance for miscel- laneous work		$640 00

This provides for the employing of four patrolmen, each to work 186 days per year, and allows $665.00 for a patrolman.

The town roads should be divided into sections so as to equalize the lengths of the Class A, B and C roads allotted to each patrolman. In addition to the patrolmen a small maintenance gang should be used to operate the road machine or grader where necessary to properly shape a section of road and to help out a patrolman on any special work where he needs extra help. This gang would also be available for any bridge or culvert work during the season but should be a unit independent of the force employed on the work under the bond issue.

ORGANIZATION

The organization of any department of public work or of private business is absolutely essential if any adequate results are to be obtained. It matters not how much money a town may provide for highway work, unless this money is properly expended the results will be unsatisfactory.

I firmly believe that the present condition of the majority of the town roads in New Hampshire is due to a grave mistake in the basic law and its application. I refer to the "Part Time Road Agent" system, that is the road agent who devotes part of his time to the roads and the remainder to farming or some other occupation.

The building and maintenance of roads today is not a job which can be well done during a man's spare moments. It demands practical experience and judgment together with some executive ability, and these qualities can be acquired only after the persistent and continuous service. It is unfair to the road agent and to the roads over which he has charge to expect him a jack-at-all-trades. Let him be either a road builder or a farmer—not both. It is asking too much of human nature to expect that the work on the roads will not be neglected when crops need harvesting or other farm work has to be done. For illustration—No railroad company would think of paying for part of the time of a section foreman and leaving him to use the remainder of his time in his trade. For the same reason a competent man should be put in charge of the roads in a town and kept employed all the time on them. He should be paid an adequate salary so he can afford to give the best there is in him to the roads and not be obliged to seek part of his living elsewhere and the town should retain him in his position as long as his work is done efficiently and economically. It is also false economy to save the small salary of a full-time road agent and later pay many times the amount saved for repairs and reconstruction, which under intelligent and continuous administration would not be necessary. As the modern uses of our highways differ from the old fashioned ones, so a modern system or caring for them is needed to replace the old fashioned methods.

The laws of New Hampshire provide that “At the annual election, each town shall elect by ballot one or more, not exceeding three, highway agents, who, under the direction of the selectmen, shall have charge * * * * *. Or the town may vote at the annual election to instruct its selectmen to appoint an expert highway agent, who, under the direction of the selectmen, shall have the same duties, etc.”

As your highway work under the bond issue as well as the future town maintenance work must be carried out as provided by the state law, there appears to be one of three ways for the town to establish and organize a highway department capable of carrying out the plans adopted by the town.

1st. Elect one highway agent.

2d. Elect three highway agents.

3d. Authorize the selectmen to appoint an expert highway agent.

Your highway department will have the expending of over $15,000.00 in the near future and it behooves your committee and the voters to give this matter earnest consideration.

As the best and most lasting results can be obtained by the adoption of a system and organization which may be continued from year to year, I recommend for your consideration a town highway department based on the second alternative under the law, so designed as to concentrate and not divide the authority. This plan would require the election of three highway agents at the annual meeting, the three men to be chosen for their interest in the town highways and their ability to organize and handle the work. Their duties would be administrative and not physical. The election of these three men would comply with the law and provide a "Highway Commission," de facto. This "Commission" would then be in a position to employ a working foreman to look after the reconstruction work and improvements under the bond issue, to lay out and put in operation a patrol system for maintenance, and would have general charge of all road work under the direction of the selectmen.

An organization could be perfected according to the following chart: Voters, elect 3 highway agents, elect 3 selectmen, foreman laborers, foreman bridge gang, maintenance gang, and 4 patrolmen.

If the preceding plan does not meet with the approval of the voters then one highway agent must either be elected or appointed, who would take the place of the 3 agents in the chart. If this is done provision should be made to provide the agent with employment for the entire year and to properly remunerate the agent for his services.

Whatever organization is finally determined upon there is one important feature which should not be overlooked, namely, the division or allotment of money for certain roads and certain work. The new highway authorities and the selectmen should make a careful inspection as soon as the snow leaves the roads and decide on just what work and how much is to be done on each project and road in the several classes. After an estimate of the cost is obtained, an allotment of money should be made for that particular project. An accurate account should be kept on the expenditures on each project and if the allotment is insufficient to complete the work as laid out, no overdraft on the fund should be made or allowed, instead the work planned should be curtailed so as to come within the money available for that particular project or an additional allotment made for this particular project, preferably from a balance from a project on this same road. If on the other hand a project is completed for less than the original allotment all balances should revert back to the general fund and then be re-allotted for work on some new project on a road of the same class, or used to complete a project on the same road needing additional funds.

In conclusion I desire to urge upon your committee the need of concerted action and full co-operation between all parties so as to secure the maximum results from the money available.

Respectfully submitted,

C. M. BROOKS,
Division Engineer

N. H. Highway Department.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

In submitting this, the ninety-fifth annual report of our schools to the Dublin School District, we are confining ourselves more especially to facts not bearing directly upon the Educational part which part is fully covered by Supt. Averill's report. The $500 appropriated for the special purpose has been expended upon the outside school buildings of Nos 2, 3, 5 under instructions from the state superintendent.

What has been accomplished in regard to the new school is explained under a separate report. We submit the following estimate of amount of money it will be required to raise for the payment of statutory obligations of the district for the ensuing year. Amount required by law, $2,527.50 we should have at least $800 additional owing to the present high cost of all material, supplies, etc.

In addition to this amount we should raise $300 for High school tuition; $200 for school officers and for interest, insurance and maintenance of new school $1,000, making a total of $4,827.50

REPORT RELATIVE TO NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

In accordance with a resolution adopted at the last annual meeting, instructing the School Board to purchase land, erect and equip a suitable building for school purposes, also to confer with Mr. J. L. Mauran relative to plans, etc., for the same, The School Board beg to submit the following for your consideration.

Before deciding upon the location of the new building several problems presented themselves for our consideration among which the more important seemed to be:

1st. Land available providing proper play ground for the children.

2d, Accessibility. 3d, Price. 4th, Disposal of old school property.

The Mason lot was considered but the price was prohibited with amount of money available.

The Townsend mowing near the monument was also considered but did not seem centrally enough located.

Owing perhaps more especially to the fact that if the old school building erected in 1841 ceased to be used for school purposes the land and buildings reverted back to the original owners, we decided upon the land west of old school and extending north from the highway to the wall on north side of lot, including the old lot about two acres.

This was purchased of Mr. Carey for the sum of $800 for which he gave the district a warranty deed and quit claim for the old lot.

This making the old lot and building the property of the district without any incumbrance and may be disposed of as they deem expedient.

On May 25th the plans for the new building were received by the School Board for their inspection. They were accepted and subjected to the state superintendent for his approval which was obtained. They were then sent to the following builders for estimates: Mr. Robt. Munkittrick, and Sanders & Pelkey of Peterborough; Messrs. Brockway, Bailey & Mason of this town. The bids were publicly opened on June 10 all the bidders being present who sent in estimates.

Sanders & Pelkey were the lowest bidders but their bid being too high, all the bids were rejected. The plans and specifications were revised and new bids asked for, when these were opened Sanders & Pelkey were again the lowest. They signed a contract and furnished a suitable bond to do all excavating, put in suitable foundation dig and complete cesspool, do all grading shown on plans, and erect and finish building complete, except heating, equipment and blackboards, as the black boards in the old building are of good quality and in all probability will be used.

The building is about 50 feet square and containing two class rooms, rooms for manual training, domestic science and library together with adequate cloak rooms, play room in basement with sanitary plumbing, ought to be both convenient and comfortable.

The building is to be heated by steam, the contract for which has been awarded to one of the best companies (Stone & Underhill) in New England who make a specialty of heating and ventilating school buildings. They guarantee to heat to 70° in any weather and furnish 30 cubic feet of fresh air to each pupil per minute and have furnished a proper bond.

Tentative arrangements have been made to supply water to the building from an Artesian well at Dr. Child's, when a proper analysis has been produced.

In deciding upon a brick veneer building we were influenced by two major reasons—upkeep in the future and appearance.

Although the first cost of this style of construction is a small percent more than all wood, the upkeep is materially less as a large amount of painting is eliminated.

At present the building is far from completed owing to circumstances over which we had slight control, but we feel satisfied that it will be done at an early date.

Mr. Mauran cheerfully gave the district the plans and his time and has helped the School Board in every way possible although being somewhat handicapped by distance.

We feel assured that when the building is finished and equipped, the district will have a school of which they may justly feel proud.

ROBERT C. WOODWARD,
HARRY F. MASON,
CLESSON E. GOWING,
School Board.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION, DUBLIN, N. H.

I hereby submit to you my fifth annual report of the Dublin public schools.

The year has been one of progress and we wish to express our appreciation of the hard, conscientious work done by all the teachers. We have been fortunate in retaining the major part of our teaching force, and that has proven one of the very essential factors in the success of our work.

With good school systems everywhere we are striving to make our instruction less bookish and more real; less abstract and remote from children's interests, and more practically and vitally related to the child's daily life. We are trying to cultivate in the children greater initiative, independence and logical thinking in place of so great dependence upon the teacher, and to train the child to think of his life as a part of the common life of the community in which he lives. It is obvious to all thoughtful citizens, that education consists, not only in imbibing knowledge from books, but also in training for efficient doing. This being so, we need in our program practical courses. In manual training we are doing a little in all the schools. Sewing has been undertaken in a small way at No. 3. An oil stove and a few utensils have been installed in schools 2, 3, and 5, but the work with them has not yet been fully organized, although something in the way of warm lunches at the noon hour has been undertaken in each of the rooms. There is no question but that by means of warm cocoa, cereals, or soup, the physical well-being of the children is increased and their power to grapple with afternoon schoolwork greatly augmented.

Music and drawing have been taught for some years under supervision. I refer you to the report of the supervisor for statements regarding the work. Much really good work has been done under her direction.

We have been looking forward with much pleasurable anticipation to the time when the new school building will be ready for occupancy. Many delays and discouragements have occurred to postpone its completion, but undoubtedly with the coming of more suitable weather the work will be pushed with more vigor.

As a means of training in thrift and in the habit of saving, the children have been encouraged to bring their pennies to their teachers. Mr. Pierre of the Keene National Bank visits the schools frequently, collects these savings, and deposits them in the bank. The Centre Grammar School was the happy recipient of a cup presented by the bank on which was the inscription, "For the largest deposit made between Oct. 1, 1915 and June 1, 1916." The primary school was a close second in the list. Mr. Pierre reports that the collections in the Dublin schools from Feb. 1, 1916 to Feb. 1, 1917 was $370.

In the fall the children did a good deal of Red Cross work, such as, knitting sponges, folding bandages, etc. At Thanksgiving the children brought in generous contributions of vegetables, fruit, jellies, etc., for the Keene Hospital. At Christmas they sent a large amount of clothing, also some books and toys to Mrs. Jennie B. Powers for the poor children of Keene.

For many years it has been recognized that teachers vary much in their estimate of a pupil's work and that inspectors differ widely in their estimate of the work of a school system. Many efforts have been made to devise standards by the use of which a relative standing of a pupil or of a school might be ascertained. Some success has been attained and several very good standards or scales have been devised to test ability in handwriting, spelling, composition work, reasoning power in arithmetic, etc. One of the best of these scales is the Ayers measuring scale for ability in spelling. This scale contains the 1,000 most common words in English writing. The data of the scale is computed from nearly one and one-half million of spellings by 70,000 children in 84 cities throughout the country. Thirty-five children in the Dublin schools were tested by this scale. The results show that ten of these pupils were above standard, thirteen were at standard, and twelve were below standard.

One change in teachers has been made. Miss Mae Dutton succeeds Miss Elsie M. Huckins, resigned, at No. 2 School.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW P. AVERILL.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC AND DRAWING

SUPT. A. P. AVERILL, DEAR SIR:—

In accordance with the usual custom I am sending a report of the music and drawing done the past year.

This year I have had two days per week in town instead of one. This has been of great value, allowing from one and one-half to two hours in each school, the time varying according to the number and ability of classes in each school. This time allows a lesson each week in music and drawing.

The first of the year special effort in some schools was made along the line of sight reading. In all except the Village Grammar school the classes in upper grade work are small in number, but in spite of the fact, two part music is progressing very well. The small classes necessarily develop independent work.

No. 3 is doing exceptionally good work in three part material. A recent addition of a new family to the school now gives us three voices on a part.

Each school has its own problem, one tone, another reading, another time, etc., but each seems interested and anxious to overcome the difficulty.

The Modern Music Series and some from the Educational Series are the books in use. With the exception of No. 3 where Book III. is used all upper grade classes are using Book II. of the Modern Series. The lower grades use the Primer and Book I. with rote songs from miscellaneous sources.

In drawing, outlines that can be used by classes in each room are provided.

The mediums used are pencil, water colors, crayons, charcoal, ink and chalk. The subjects are nature work, group drawing, mechanical and constructive drawing, paper cutting, composition, perspective, design, etc.

Some of the grammar classes have been doing chalk work and later these will be finished with passepartout.

Especial mention ought to be made of the Christmas work done by these grades. The special problem was the making of four or six sheet calendars. Some were called "The Calendar of Household Hints," some "Candy," "Friendship," "Happiness," "Good Cheer" calendars. We hope that those who were the recipients of these calendars appreciated the work done for them. They represent as much work, care and time as a good sized piece of needlework.

In closing I wish to thank all who have contributed to the interest, value and success of the work.

Respectfully submitted,

A. JEAN BROWN,
Supervisor.
