New England Clergymen "tell the truth" about

DR. WARREN'S WILD CHERRY & SARSAPARILLA TROCHES,

The best remedy ever discovered for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Bronchial Catarrh, Whooping Cough, Canker, Asthma, and all Throat and Bronchial Affections and Consumption.

Says the Rev. George Haskell, South Waterford, Maine: "Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches take immediate effect in soothing the throat when irritated, clearing and strengthening the voice, and the benefit derived from their use is more lasting than from any we ever used before."

Remedy Without an Equal for Canker.

I have been troubled with canker in throat and mouth for five years. Have employed several eminent physicians, but have never taken anything that would afford relief as Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches. I believe them to be a remedy without an equal for canker. — Rev. W. P. Merrill, Paris, Me.

Twenty-five Years a Sufferer from Catarrhal Trouble.

Rev. C. P. Nash, pastor of Universalist Church in Camden, Me., writing under date of April 11, 1882, says: "I have used three boxes of Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches, and have to say that nothing I ever used did me so much good. I long have had catarrhal trouble, affecting mainly my throat, making it difficult for me, most of the time, to speak in public, and almost impossible to sing. I have recently used three bottles of a widely advertised medicine, and one that has many certificates as to its curative qualities, but without effect, at least observable. I resumed your Troches, and received manifest benefit at once, and continuously, until now I speak and sing with an ease and clearness of voice I have not known for twenty-five years."

Immediate Relief.

I have tried Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches myself, and other members of my family have done the same, and am prepared to say they are all they are represented to be. For a cough, or any irritation of the throat or lungs, I have never found anything equal to them; the relief is immediate. I shall not fail to recommend them to others who may need them. — Rev. H. G. Carley, Prospect, Me.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

GENERAL REMARKS.

In presenting our annual report we still have cause to congratulate the citizens of Henniker on the healthful condition of its finances. Although having been called on to pay several large bills outside the general routine of our ordinary expenses, we have been enabled to meet all legal demands and have left a balance in the treasury amounting to $3,137.65, — a very commendable showing when we take into consideration the fact that but one dollar was raised at our last annual meeting to defray town charges, and also that we have been obliged to appropriate from the treasury, without replenishing it by taxation, the following sums: —

For aid to Henniker Academy	$500 00
For memorial services	75 00
W. Bartlett damage case	300 00
Newton road case	119 17
Constructing sewer (a permanent improvement)	182 67
The building of three bridges and repairing washouts on highways consequent on the big showers	200 00
Amounting in the aggregate to the sum of	$1,376 84

Most of these are extraordinary expenditures, and, excepting the academy appropriation, not likely to occur again in the ordinary business of the town. We last year voted $500 in addition to what the law requires for the support of common schools, which we presume will not be thought necessary in the future, or at least until the working of the new school law is more fully understood. It will be seen by these figures that there will be no occasion for the raising of money for town charges, but with careful management and economy in our expenditures we can easily add to our balance on hand in the neighborhood of $1,000 a year from our different sources of income. We have no town paupers and but two county paupers at the present time, so we may congratulate ourselves on the fact that the day is past when large sums will be required to be drawn from our treasury for the support of the unfortunate poor. Our taxes must be extremely low in the future, providing there is no unforeseen demand for expenditures; and we do not see the necessity of assessing any money tax so long as our financial standing continues as at present, except what the law strictly requires.

Cash on hand		78 54

		$1,256 73

The tuitions for the spring term and the cash now on hand will probably not be sufficient to defray the expenses of that term, hence there will probably be a small deficiency, the amount of which cannot be determined until the opening of the spring term, March 3, at which time a very near estimate of the amount of the tuitions of that term can be made and the deficiency ascertained. We have procured the insertion of an article in the warrant for the annual March town-meeting, under which the voters can take such action as they may deem expedient with reference to providing for any deficiency that may occur. It will be observed that the last annual report covered only two terms of the school, and that thirty dollars of the amount paid out during the past year was for unpaid services of assistant during the preceding year.

It has been our aim to maintain a first-class school, second to none other in any country village in this State, and one that shall, at the same time, furnish educational advantages to the youth of this town at the smallest possible expense. How well we have succeeded in our undertaking can be best answered by those whose children have been pupils in the school. We trust that the citizens of the town will unite in giving the school their hearty support and a fair trial during the further continuance of the contract with the trustees, so that the town may receive the greatest possible advantage from the expenditure of its money.

Respectfully submitted.

J. H. ALBIN,
C. B. CHILDS,
Committee.

REPORT
OF THE
SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

In presenting this, the annual report of the condition of the schools in town, I am pleased to say that, as a whole, the standard of the schools has been fully maintained, and much progress has been made in most of them; and although there is room for much improvement, I believe they will compare favorably with those of other country towns. The teachers worked hard, and, with perhaps one or two exceptions, succeeded in convincing their pupils that only hard work in the schoolroom would make them succeed in their studies; and without any disparagement to teachers in former years I can safely say that, with an exception or two, the schools of our town have not had for a long term of years a more industrious, faithful, and efficient corps of teachers than during the past year.

The past year closes labor in our schools under the old law. On March 1, 1886, the new school law went into operation. The first school taught in Henniker was in 1767, by Mrs. Josiah Warde, in the kitchen of her house. The first money raised by the town for school purposes was at the annual meeting in March, 1773, and the first school teacher paid by this money was Mrs. Elizabeth Arbuckle Patterson, wife of Alexander Patterson, one of the earliest settlers of the town. For the first eighteen years after the incorporation of the town only $230 was raised by the town for schooling, but from the commencement of the present century until the present, the town has, as a general thing, been liberal in its appropriations for schools. The new school law is in many respects the law in force three fourths of a century or more ago; the selectmen then engaged the teachers and had the charge of the schools. In 1827, the selectmen for the first time appointed a superintending school committee. The board to be elected under the new law are to perform all the duties now incumbent upon the prudential and supervising committees of the town and several districts, and in addition have the power to do as they please with the schools, — close up such schoolhouses as they shall see fit, grade the schools, and say where the scholars of the town shall or shall not attend school. A faithful and impartial execution of the law can only make it of any benefit. It is of the highest importance, then, that this committee shall consist of conservative men, or women, — for women are equally eligible with men, — and that the interests of the people of the whole town shall be carefully guarded, and no rash experimental measures be adopted and put in force. It is for the people of the town to say what shall be done.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

John Garland, Prudential Committee.

Miss Carrie L. Whitcomb taught the summer term, it being her first experience as a teacher, but she carried with her into the school room her studious, industrious habits and succeeded nicely. Miss Julia A. Rice taught the fall and winter terms, and by her faithful work carried forward the good work begun in the summer term in such a manner that the terms of this school were valuable ones to the pupils of the district.

DISTRICT NO. 2.

Franklin Peasley, Prudential Committee.

This district had no summer term of school, but the fall and winter terms were combined with a short vacation at the end of several weeks. Miss Mary W. Eastman was the teacher. I visited this school at its commencement, but the sudden illness of the teacher a few days before the school was to close brought it to an abrupt termination, and I did not visit it again. I understand, however, that the pupils in this school made good progress in the different branches pursued by them.

DISTRICT NO. 3.

Harrison Morrill, Prudential Committee.

Miss Clara E. Patten taught the three terms in this district with her usual faithfulness, and although her school was small in numbers—the smallest in town—she did a good work, as each examination showed. Miss Patten is deserving of a wider field as a teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 4.

Moses W. Rice, Prudential Committee.

The three terms in this district were taught by Miss Helen H. Colby, who is an old teacher in this town. She performed her duties in this school with her usual energy and industry, and each examination was a testimony to her faithful and thorough instruction.

DISTRICT NO. 5.

Curtis B. Childs, Prudential Committee.

Miss Carrie L. Morse continued her labors in this school through the year, making six continuous terms in this school, and the good results of her teaching were exhibited in a manner not to be mistaken. This is the largest school in town, but the order was excellent and great good was accomplished. Her class of nearly a dozen large scholars would be an honor to any district. I am glad this district knew a good teacher and retained her valuable services.

DISTRICT NO. 6.

David K. Robbins, Prudential Committee.

This district had no summer school, and I need only say that Miss Jessie Marshall taught the fall term to know that a good school was assured. Many things were taught outside of the textbooks, and the pupils made rapid progress in all of their studies.

The winter term was taught by Miss Arvilla A. Hardy, who had taught the school previously in this district, and during this term succeeded quite well in maintaining the standard of the school.

DISTRICT NO. 7.

James Fellows, Prudential Committee.

Miss Lydia Marshall taught the summer term, and like her sister enters the schoolroom to work, and her faithfulness and thoroughness in teaching were shown in her admirable examination.

The fall term was a short one, and taught by Miss Clara A. Flanders who was a teacher in this school eighteen years previous to this, and it is sufficient to say that her pupils lost none of their interest in their studies under her excellent labors.

The winter term was taught by Miss Jessie Marshall, and what was said of her labors in No. 6 applies with stronger force to her labors in this school. Her closing examination was an excellent one.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

John Gutterson, Prudential Committee.

Miss Ada M. Carr taught the summer and fall terms of this school. There are but few advanced scholars in this school, but Miss Carr fully maintained her reputation as one of our best teachers. The winter term was taught by George M. Carr. The school was small in numbers owing to the prevalence of whooping cough in the district when the term began, but Mr. Carr was able to accomplish much by his industrious and faithful labors in the schoolroom.

DISTRICT NO. 10.

Frank P. Morse, Prudential Committee.

The summer term and three weeks of the fall term were taught by Miss Annie G. Morse, who succeeded finely in maintaining the high standard of this school. The district and all concerned were very sorry to lose her services, but the death of a sister called her away, and the remainder of the terms were taught by Miss Bertha H. Ross who proved a faithful and energetic teacher and an excellent disciplinarian. Her examination at the close of the school for the year was a very interesting one.

DISTRICT NO. 11.

Warren S. Foster, Prudential Committee.

The summer term was taught by Miss Grace E. Preston, who came to her work with ardent hopes and full of energy, but her health soon gave way and she was unable to continue longer in the school, much to the regret of the parents of the district, for she proved herself to be a thorough teacher.

The fall term was taught by Miss Jennie L. Hoyt, who had never taught school before, and should not have undertaken this one. I visited the school three times, and although the teacher worked hard in her way, the pupils made but little progress in their studies. The winter term was taught by Rev. E. L. Huse, who succeeded in maintaining excellent order and gaining the good will of his pupils in a remarkable degree, and much good was accomplished. This school has suffered severely from such a constant succession of new teachers.

DISTRICT NO. 12.

Ezra Chase, Prudential Committee.

Miss Julia A. Rice taught the summer term of this school, and although this was her first school as a teacher she quickly developed an aptness for teaching that might well be envied by older teachers, and her pupils made good progress under her faithful teaching.

The winter term, as well as the fall term, was taught by Miss Nora J. Creugh, who had taught several terms before, and who did admirable work in this school, being very clear in her explanations and thorough in her work.

Bronchial Affection.

Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches have done me great good. I have suffered for years with a severe bronchial affection, which at times has been so bad that I was obliged to give up preaching and singing altogether. I have used many different kinds of troches, among them Brown's, which I have used freely for the past three years, and think them very good, but none of them have given me such relief as Dr. Warren's. They seemed to relieve me at once of the hoarseness and irritation in my throat, and my voice has not seemed so strong for some time as at the present. I feel that I cannot recommend them too highly. — F. A. VINAL, pastor Baptist Church, Tenant's Harbor, Me.

Throat Trouble for Fifteen Years Cured.

I received a box of Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches, and am duty bound to say that they are the best medicine that I ever used for the throat and lungs. I have had a trouble in my throat for fifteen years, and was suffering much when those Troches came to my relief; as quick as I read the directions I took one, and in less than two minutes I was relieved of my hoarseness and tickling in my throat. I had also what many people call the catarrh, but this box of Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches has almost cured my throat trouble, also my wife and son of a bad cold. — Rev. JOHN SPINNEY, pastor of F. W. Baptist Church, Stark, Me.

Catarrh Cured.

Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches are splendid for catarrh. I have been troubled with catarrh for years; it was so bad I could not stand tobacco smoke; it would cause such a scent in my head for a whole week that it seemed as if there was something bad about the house, I could not tell what. I have not suffered the least inconvenience from it for four weeks, and have taken almost two boxes. When they came I was suffering very much with a cough, especially when I went to bed and before I got up, and would cough until I had not much strength left. I seldom cough now. I lost my voice for singing about fourteen years ago, but since I took these Troches I can sit down and sing a verse or two with apparent ease. I had a heavy wheeze on my left lung and a pressure at my heart; these in a measure have given way, so I am quite comfortable to what I was when I began to take the Troches. — Mrs. M. T. JACKSON, Harrison, Maine.

Dr. Warren's Wild Cherry and Sarsaparilla Troches are for sale by druggists generally. Box sent by mail on receipt of 25 cents, by the proprietors,
