The bills of the town have been largely in excess of former years on account of the severe epidemic of small pox.

By a vote of the town the selectmen were authorized to borrow sufficient amount of money to defray the expenses caused by said epidemic. All bills have been paid excepting the following, in consequence of the occupancy of the old boarding house of the Cheshire Mills Co., taken by the state board of health for a small pox hospital, and ordered by said board and the attorney general of the state to be used as such by the town.

Rent of building 114 days, at $10 per day,	$1,140 00
Damage to 30 looms,	600 00
Damage to 4,382 lbs. head ends,	306 74

Damage to 7,460 lbs. burr waste,	186 50
Damage to 298 burlap sacks,	29 80
	$2,444 12

In settlement of the above bill, the selectmen have offered the Cheshire Mills Co. $150.00, which they decline to accept. The selectmen think the amount offered a liberal compensation.

Three years ago the town expended the sum of six hundred dollars for the purpose of raising the highways around the pond in the village affected by high water.

The citizens of the town confidently hoped that the water question had been settled for all time but the experience of last spring has taught us differently.

Complaint being entered to the selectmen that the water was being held over these roads previously raised, to the depth of from six to eighteen inches, to the damage of the highway and great inconvenience of the public in getting to the postoffice and other public places. The selectmen recognized the just complaint of the citizens and all efforts having failed to have the water drawn off the streets and highways, undertook to remove the cause of the trouble by taking away the needless dam in the natural outlet of the pond near the blacksmith shop. These actions were resisted by the Cheshire Mills Co., but our object was obtained in removing the water from our highways nevertheless. The above company has brought suits against the chairman of your board of selectmen and others who were acting under directions of the selectmen at the time.

REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the Citizens of Harrisville:

The board of health submits the reports of their action for the past year. The duties of the board, aside from the epidemic of small pox, which we reported last year as just commencing, have been about the same as in other years. Relative to the epidemic, it developed until it menaced every interest of the community, both pecuniary, social, and physical; at the same time, opposition to every effort of the board of health to suppress the epidemic increased; there was a local and imported element that seemed determined to oppose and defeat every effort of the board which they could not dictate and control; but, fortunately, the State board of health, here, as in other places where the epidemic occurred, assumed and dictated relative to measures to be taken to suppress it, and the local boards were made their agents to see that the measures suggested were carried into effect. The antagonisms of that element which opposed the action taken fell almost entirely on the local board. Common sense, it seems to us, would suggest that when an epidemic, or danger of any kind menaced the interests of a community, that the action of every good citizen should be a united and harmonious effort to assist those who are appointed to have charge of the suppression of the epidemic. After vainly trying to control the epidemic by quarantining those affected with the disease, we were obliged to procure a building for a hospital. We were fortunate in securing the consent of Mr. Colony to our occupying the boarding house on Grove street. We proceeded at once to furnish as much as we needed as a hospital. Before we had occupied it we were requested to delay the occupying it to give them an opportunity to remove or dispose of stock, etc., stored on the premises. After waiting a few days, the keys were demanded, and we were forbidden to occupy it. The condition was reported to the State Board. They consulted Atty. Gen. Eastman in relation to the matter. He instructed them to authorize us to take forcible possession of the premises and also sent two deputies to assist us in gaining possession, and removing the patients to the hospital. Whilst we were transferring the patients to the hospital we were ordered to vacate the premises, but we did not choose to do so. We occupied the premises and soon we had the epidemic under control. The building was occupied by patients the 27th of February, the last patient was discharged the 16th of April, making forty-nine days the building was occupied by patients. We had the premises thoroughly disinfected. After waiting a sufficient time for the appearance of cases that might have been contracted, we disposed of by auction whatever we could and removed the remainder and cleaned up the premises. June 6th we returned or offered the key which the agent would not accept, and asked for their bill which has never been rendered; evidently, they prefer to claim for rent and damage.

We would advise that the town make a tender of a generous amount for the use of the premises and wait for developments. The expense of the epidemic is given in the account annexed. We were fortunate in procuring the services of a nurse for a less amount than most other places were obliged to pay. The pay allowed guards and others was the same as was paid in other localities. We cared for and nursed one patient from the town of Hancock, receiving $136.94 for care and attendance. We had in our own town forty patients. From the commencement, every effort of the board was ridiculed and opposed. We have not made any figures to show what per cent of the expense was due to opposition, but it is safe to estimate, and could be satisfactorily demonstrated that from twenty-five to fifty per cent was due to malicious and criminal opposition. We have had the entertainment, what remains is to settle the bills.

In closing this report, which is submitted without malice toward any individual, and which is a fair and truthful statement of the condition as it existed, we express no personal opinion, as we were officially connected with it, but will quote just one paragraph contained in a letter from the secretary of the state board which shows that they endorsed the action of the local board. He writes: "I certainly hope we shall not be called upon to go through such another experience, and I have no doubt you feel the same way. There was a combination of obstacles not often met, but they seem to have been successfully surmounted. I wish to thank you for the straightforward and determined position taken and maintained by you throughout the epidemic."

We refer you to the annexed bills relative to the financial transactions.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWIN P. HUNT,
ABNER E. DRURY,
Board of Health.

Harrisville, N. H., Feb. 15, 1902.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Citizens of Harrisville:

In compliance with the statutes and custom we present a report of the schools for the past year.

To say that our schools compare favorably with their record in the past is not satisfactory to the committee; to merely maintain the standing acquired in the past, in an age when an advance is being made in every department is soon to be left far behind; we should be able at the close of each school year, to report our schools in a better condition than at the beginning. We might as well realize, and admit that there is a large element in our town that are indifferent if not antagonistic to the interests of our schools, and the benefits and advantages which they bring to a community. It should be the object of every member of the committee, and every citizen interested in education, to do something to make our schools more attractive and beneficial. In our community many have evidently accepted the idea, that we should be satisfied with the advantages which those who preceded us enjoyed. New methods, and different conditions demand a different preparation, and the persons who are intending to keep abreast with this advanced condition must qualify themselves to intelligently meet the demands made upon them. We have endeavored the past year to get out of the ruts partially, and adopt some new methods which we trust will be for the benefit of our schools and scholars. Our teachers have heartily cooperated with the board.

There are in our schools those who have practically completed a common or grammar school course, who are interested in studies, and anxious to take up some higher branches; the teachers were willing to assume the additional labor, the committee wishing to do everything they could to encourage an interest in schools have furnished the books necessary, and introduced some advanced branches. Our state laws provide that in a town where there is no high school kept, the pupils who have completed a grammar school course may attend some high school in some other place, the tuition to be paid by the town. Only a very few of our scholars could, or would, ever be benefited by this act; but we can when we have teachers competent and willing to introduce some more advanced studies in our common schools, which would add to the interest of the schools, and also be a benefit to the scholars. In the schools in the village we have adopted and recommended the doing away with the examination at the close of each term; two or three weeks are usually spent in review and preparation that should be spent in advance; and substitute instead a public examination at the close of the school year.

We don't want parents, guardians or anyone, to conclude that they are in the least restrained or exempted from visiting the schools; visit them more. It is your duty and privilege to do so. It is a duty that cannot be delegated to the committee or anyone. The interest manifested by the parents creates an interest on the part of the scholar, and an effort to do their best. Let everyone realize that there is a personal responsibility resting on them to do what they can for the benefit of the schools. Remember that "The children of the present, are the future's coming men."

The record of attendance is perhaps as good, perhaps better than at some times in the past, but it is not as good as it should have been. In most instances, we think the fault has been with the parents. There are but a very few habitual truants. The parent has a duty to perform that cannot be delegated to teacher, truant officer or committee: namely, to see that their child attends school, and that regularly and punctually. But some parents seem to care very little whether their child attends school or not, and in the opinion of some, the small sum a child can earn, is of more value than what they would learn; perhaps the committee have been too lenient, and are at fault in not compelling the observance of the statute in relation to attendance; we will take our part of the blame, and try to do better in the future, and commence by calling attention to Chapter 93 of the Public Statutes as amended by the legislature of 1901, especially to Section 14, in relation to attendance; when we can succeed in remedying this evil, we shall have done much toward raising the standing of our schools.

Considerable repairs have been made on the school-house in Chesham the past year; the windows are set lower, and the seating and whole internal arrangement of the room changed, to the mutual satisfaction of the parents, teacher and scholars, and it is now as pleasant and attractive a schoolroom as we have in town, and we are pleased to say that an interest on the part of the scholars and teacher is evident to keep it so.

In relation to text books, comparatively little has been expended the past year for books. We have deferred taking any action in relation to the matter so that whatever work we should conclude to adopt would contain all the changes geographically, and the historical events which are being included in the revised editions of the nineteenth century. We shall be obliged the coming year to procure for all the schools a complete set of geographies and histories. We would recommend that an appropriation for that purpose be made.

A word in relation to teachers. We have with one exception, retained the services of the same teachers during the year. At the present time, we have a corps of teachers which we hope the town will be fortunate enough to retain. We shall not attempt to say anything relative to their ability and faithfulness; if anyone is at all skeptical in relation to their efficiency, don't credit our opinions; visit the schools, and be convinced.

In this report, we have endeavored to present briefly the condition of our schools; when the faults we have noticed have been remedied, and the suggestions complied with, there are others that will demand our attention, and we shall probably never see perfection in connection with our schools; but so long as education and intelligence shall remain the foundation of national and local prosperity and happiness, wisdom will dictate that it is for our interest to earnestly strive to attain the highest practical degree of perfection.

The foregoing brief report, roll of perfect attendance and statistical table is respectfully submitted. For information relative to financial affairs refer to treasurer's report.
