

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

pletely from federal funds. A course in carpentry apprentice ship is now being conducted by the Dover School Department. It makes good sense for the community to make maximum use of its educational facilities during the evening hours for the educational enrichment of its adult members.

Federal Economic Opportunity Programs
 offered in the Dover Public School and Parochial School Systems consisted of (1) The Neighborhood Youth Corps, sponsored by the Community Action Program and conducted by Thomas Conroy, and (2) the Adult Basic Education Program directed by Mrs. Helen Phillips.

The Dover School Department received approximately $55,000 last year to operate a Title I and Title II program under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Title I covered speech therapy, language arts and child development counseling. A program under Title II operated under the direction of George Rivers, provided library resource materials and audio-visual aids. Public and parochial school systems of Dover continue to share in this worthwhile project.

Government Supplies

The State Program controlled by the New Hampshire Distribution Agency continues to defray some materials at approximately ten per cent of acquisition cost. Although brand new items are needed with such items as metal storage cases, work benches, bottles for the Science Department, cooking utensils for Food Trades, tools, bolts, nuts and hardware. The key to obtaining useful material and equipment from this source is to maintain a routine visitation by the Vocational Director.

We continue to take advantage of a program whereby supplies, electronic equipment and supplies from the MIT Lincoln Laboratory in Lexington, Mass., is donated to Dover.

Use of School Facilities

For a number of years now greater community use of the schools has become quite evident. Demands for the use of the Dover Junior High School are most excessive during the winter season. The gymnasium is in use from November to April every evening of the week, with 14 different clubs and city organizations using the facilities from 6:00 pm to 10:00 pm. The Dover High School Woodman Park School, Home Street School and Garrison School, are also in great demand by youth and adult civic organizations.

Although the School Department is aware of the fact that extensive use by community organizations of our school facilities places a strain on our custodial staff and adds to wear and tear of the buildings, we will continue to encourage use of its facilities.

Use of school facilities by approved local organizations has made it possible for the City to realize an added dividend from its multi-million dollar investments in plant facilities.

DUAL ENROLLMENT

It was announced in October, 1971, that St. Thomas Aquinas High School would close its operation in June, 1972 because of lack of funds.

Plans were developed to engage in a dual enrollment plan involving all schools in the Great Bay Area, with the Dover School Department agreeing to be the administrative agency. At the time the Great Bay area (2000 Dover students) are enrolled in the dual enrollment program—and, I'm pleased to report, functioning very well without any entanglements.

The dual enrollment program involving students of the Catholic Consolidated School was approved by the Dover School Committee for the third year. This program involves the renting of two classrooms at Dover Catholic Consolidated and placing two public school teachers within these rooms. The State no longer makes a contribution to this program, as the City of Dover now provides the full financial funding under the Dual Enrollment Law. This amounts to approximately $23,000.

It should be reported that a suit was brought against the Nashua School System and the State Department of Education by Americans United for Separation of Church and State, and a recent decision by a three judge panel declared the Dual Enrollment Law unconstitutional. This decision will be appealed.

School Committee

This year again has been a busy one for the Dover School Committee. The following schedule of meetings is any criteria: Regular Meetings, 12; Executive Meetings, 38; Finance Meetings, 10; and Special Meetings, 18. The aforementioned do not include the hours of negotiations with the Dover Teachers' Association. There were also 5 Joint Building Committee Meetings (renovation of Sawyer School, and 1 Joint Building Committee Meeting for the renovation of Garrison School.

The Dover School Committee continues in its capacity as a participating agency in the third year of operation of the A.B.C. Program (A. Better Year of operation of the local Jaycee Organization). A tuition fee of approximately $10,000 for a full year of operation of this program is being implemented. This program basically allows the students to be from different parts of the State to attend the program. This program has a number of advantages. It provides a better chance for educational opportunity at Dover High School.

Special Mention

An additional dimension to Vocational Education - Cooperative Education, under the able direction of Richard Henry, in Dover High in work experience programs.

The cooperation of many business and industrial firms in Dover and environs has made this trial effort possible. To these people, we are grateful.

A special word of commendation is due the Garrison School Parent Teachers Organization which continues to operate with the best interests of that school in mind. They continue to serve as an example to other schools and parent groups in the City of Dover.

The Curriculum Coordinating Committee, co-chaired by the Assistant Superintendent, Thomas Albem and Miss Maryellen Crossan, completed their third phase of a five year phase of curriculum development throughout the school system. Language Arts was particularly stressed during 1972. The third phase continues in Mathematics.

The School Department continues to express high concern in regard to the drug problem and pressed by many segments of the community, in press the issue to see that there is community involvement. A drug curriculum this year, which was introduced to the school system this year. Much work continues to be done.

I recommend that we continue to stress through P.T.O. and parent groups that exist, the need for a closer and wider broadening of interest between the home and the school, all in support of quality education.

Recommendation

Of the four recommendations made in my last year's report, one of these has been implemented, that of an appointment of a guidance counselor at Dover Junior High School, and two others are in the process of implementation, i.e. (1) the renovation of the Sawyer School, and (2) the construction of playing fields for our physical education and athletic programs at Pelham Field.

It continues to be my recommendation that (1) at least one school site be purchased before all desirable locations have been acquired for other purposes. It was a short two or three years ago that I was recommending the purchase of three school sites. A dropping off of the elementary school enrollment, as well as a declining birth rate, suggests caution in this area at this time. (2) I would recommend the appointment of a curriculum coordinator at the elementary level. (3) I would highly recommend that the Dover School Committee support the present usage of interest in Stratford County in the introduction of a Learning Disabilities Center. (4) I recommend that a foreign language program be instituted at the Junior High School level. (5) I recommend that the CEP's study for the improvement of the plant facilities of the Junior High School be implemented—certainly that it be given a high priority.

Conclusion

I want to express my sincerest personal appreciation to all the principals and assistant principals, the teachers, nurses and all other school department employees who deserve high commendation for their dedication and devotion in their respective fields of endeavor.

I am most grateful to my administrative staff in Central Administration, Mr. Thomas A. Heath, Assistant Superintendent of Schools—Elementary Education, and Mr. George K. A. S. Assistant Superintendent of Schools—Business Affairs, and to the educational secretaries who serve us well in the discharge of our duties.

It would be hard to find a more devoted and conscientious group of public spirited citizens than the members of the Dover School Committee of the school year 1972. The City of Dover will be eternally in their debt for their tireless efforts through endless hours spent in providing the best possible education for the youth of our City.

Laconia made it 20-4 midway here last evening by a 2-4 score. Through the third period after For the Dover High Green Wave in a poor punt coverage put the straight Cross State Conference Laconia 12-8 at half. The Sachems got on the score board last as they took advantage of a blocked punt to set up the score. When the period half went and a Dover drive that went from their own 24 to midfield had a costly penalty Bill a Green Wave to lose the ball on a fumble. Laconia picked up the fumble and scored 70 yards for the TD quarterback Jeff Jousset. Jousset had a handoff which drew the whistle on it was a battle between two then went wide right and reeled fine defensive units with Dover's a perfect block by Jim Robinson that wiped out two Sachems at the 20 for the six pointer. But it was all in vain as a Dover outside wiped out the TD. Purinton had his punt blocked by Laconia's defense with Karl Stucky falling on the ball at the DHS 27 yard line. Dover's defensive unit was outstanding but it just couldn't contain the Sachems quarter-back 6'2", 160 pound Dick Sweet as he passed to his tight end Mike Donovan for 11 and five plays later rolled in from a yard out for the TD with just 41 seconds left in the period. The try for the PAT failed but the Sachems had a first period lead of 6-0.

The Green Wave dominated most of the second period to pull ahead of the visitors 8-6 with 5:21 left in the half. Starting at their own 32 the Dover eleven with Purinton, Tom Ayer, Jousset and Vince Turbelle ripping off the short yardage plus two 15 yard Laconia penalties advanced to the Laconia five yard line. On third down halfback Peter Shabene took a handoff from Jousset and went in standing up to tie the score at 6-6. The try for the extra point failed on the first attempt on Jim Robinson's kick but Laconia was called for roughing the kicker and with a second chance the Green Wave went for two with Tom Ayer going in from a yard out to put the Dover eleven in front 8-6. Back came the Sachems and with quarterback Dick Sweet doing most of everything run-

Dario's Brumate will renew their rivalry in the $10,000-added Rockinghorse Juvenile Stakes today as Belmont Rockingham Park ends the most successful meeting of the 1973 New England thoroughbred season. Unbeaten in four starts, Don't Be Late Jim comes into this three-quarter mile feature fresh from a smashing three-length victory over Brumate in the $10,000 Granite State Stakes a month ago.

In addition to the aforementioned pair at least six other two-year-olds will report to starter Dino Bonoli. They include Min-Asian Bros., Ole Ole's Pride, owner of the $4 three-fifths freetraining record here, Pennsylvania and the Sportsman cars. All four classes will have their preliminary heats prior to the feature. Starting time is eight o'clock and if it rains and the races are postponed then the entire card will run at seven thirty on Sunday night.

Butch Walsh of Dover, Mass., will carry a slight lead into the races tonight, in the Midgates and he holds the lead over the 22-year veteran Johnny Mann of Rocktonham, N.Y. Can the Dolphins stand the pressure? That's really the BIG question of the weekend. If it's can the Raiders stand the pressure? The old Football Forecast got off to a rip-rapping start last week. The sire was 12 right and one wrong for a nifty 2-3. That's an ably tough act to follow, but here's the forecast for the second week.

MINNESOTA over Chicago — The Minnesota Vikings of orange-liged defense came through last week. Chicago's defense almost did it. But the Fran tankton-out-directed Viking offense jassied Bear attack. Vikings 10, Bears 10.

UNH Wildcats Open Today Against HC

DURHAM — The University of New Hampshire football wildcats open their 1973 season this afternoon against the Holy Cross College Crusaders in Durham's Cowell Stadium at 1:30 p.m. Although a scattering of minor injuries plague some members of the squad, it pleases UNH Coach Bill Boves that his number one unit goes into today's game injury-free. Boves says he's pleased with the team's progress in practice in the last two weeks. "We've made several changes since we finished two-a-day sessions," he noted, "and the team reacted well to them. That means we're in good shape for the biggest change in the Wildcat lineup. He started at fullback last year, but because of the loss of several key people in the linebacker corps, Sexton now lines up as outside linebacker.

The team was split into two squads. The Sharks vs The Barracudas. The teams consisted of 33 members on each team with the Barracudas coming out on top. A coaches award was made to Robin Harr for outstanding swimming. Kim Harris received the most points for the girls and John Davidson for the boys.

ROCHESTER — The annual Rochester Fair harness racing meet concludes today with two sessions of trotting and pacing activity. Both programs, the afternoon card which gets underway at 1:30 and the evening card with its 7:45 first post, feature nine races. An $800 pace for winners of more than $5,000 in 1973 heads the program. Seven, including the Cycle Matison-driven Ro Ho Cho, a winner, its first trip here, will start in the afternoon headliner, Marilyn's Pudd, which was a top contender in feature company earlier in the week heads the six-furlong field in the night feature. The eventual winner of the Jesse Brown Memorial driving trophy, awarded each year to the top driver of the meet, could well be determined by the middle portion of the night card. Leader Wayne Colby of Dover, drives in the complete enough points to withstand a rush by defending champion, Lee Fitch, or contenders Warren Harp and Earl Beebe.

Dover Swim Team Holds Intersquad Meet

DOVER — Dover's indoor swim pool was filled with parents recently when the local swim team held its first intersquad meet. The team was split into two squads. The Sharks vs The Barracudas. Little Raiders Win First Game ROCHESTER — After a fan-tastic two minutes of play with little one (one) under the Little Raiders could generate only two more TD's for a convincing 18-6 win over the Amherst Jets in their first game of the season this week. George Vesilich and Marty Simon scored touchdowns for Rochester and the extra points were made by Tommy Cossette and Rick Lachance. Fumbles were the big problem for the Little Raiders as four times they turned it over to the Amherst Jets by the same token Bret Bolin and Steve Boulanger recovered Jet fumbles to offset the first game jitters. The Jet quarterback tried valiantly to compose his team with fourteen pass attempts and only completed four but the Raiders' offense attempted three and completed two, and that spelled the difference for Amherst and their triumphant defeat. Making key interceptions for the Raiders were Bolin and Roger Brenden and shortly after the Jets, Jeff Paine plunged over for their TD.

lems in the elementary schools. Buckley said his office served only as the "catalyst" in originating this program, which is now operating directly between the school department and UNH.

"The youth resources coordinator is also attempting to begin a program of follow up services for school drop outs. Buckley reports last year nearly 100 persons dropped out of Dover schools.

He would like to contact each drop out and explain the options available to the youth. "Perhaps we could help find jobs or help overcome some of the problems which caused them to drop out of school and hopefully re-route them back into school. Really just give them someone to turn to," Buckley said.

Buckley said the program has been approved by Dover High School Principal Harvey Kepp and is being directed by Charles Chamberlain of the guidance department.

"A firm believer in the work ethic, Buckley hopes to establish a job bank for young people. "One of the most effective ways for students to achieve a higher sense of self-worth is for them to earn money in meaningful employment," he said.

Buckley is working with the Chamber of Commerce, the Dover Jaycees Neighborhood Youth Corps and the School Guidance Department to establish a pool of jobs for young people. He said he has November 1 as a target date for operation of the program and hopes to be able to provide jobs during the Christmas holiday period.

"The youth resource coordinator's office is also involved in working with the existing Dover Crisis Home program. This program consists of a group of families who take adolescents into their homes on a temporary emergency basis.

Buckley explained the crisis home is used when a youth's home situation becomes intractable and a change of environment is essential. The crisis program allows an "interim cooling off period" after which counseling with the youth and his family can begin.

Buckley said he is "very optimistic about the program's establishment so far. I think they will meet real needs."

up an eternal confirmation since the Governor would have transgressed authority granted to the Board by law. "I understand that the Governor told Power to see every available effort to make that some power has a new ambulance by January 1," said District coordinator Seymour Bowden.

Contracting Couture, Bowden further stated. "Some of their intent dated September 12 and we are now in the process of having their name added to the roll."

"The rumor that I hear," he continued, "is that Somersworth will get the ambulance, apparently by replacing Farmington. It sounds like the Governor is pulling out all the stops for Somersworth."

"It doesn't seem possible," he said doubtfully, "I find it hard to believe the man (Governor) would make that type of a decision without getting the other side of the story."

The Governor's press secretary Jay McDiary was making inquiries into the Somersworth situation Friday morning, but stated that he was totally unaware of events transpiring in Thomson's office Thursday.

Nothing Official

"I haven't heard anything official yet," Bowden explained, "but I've certainly heard the rumor. We have rules and regulations in this state, but they don't amount to the paper they're written on if such a thing has happened."

"It would appear to be that such an action would result in an interference with the power of the Federal fund granting system. "One man I don't want to be involved in do such a thing," the District coordinator injected, "but then I suppose politics is politics," "I hate to think everyone is out to do everybody in all the time," he concluded.

Federal Injunction

"There is a law and we're supposed to abide by it," Lessard stated, acknowledging the rumor. "We can't allow it."

"The wheels are in motion," he said, "Yes! Our attorneys have been notified. "Yes! We will seek an injunction to freeze the monies."

"I believe in the letter of the law. If (the injunction) is our obligation, we've got to do this. Lessard went on to explain that monies were to be allocated in accordance with the District concept, with the members deciding which community within their District was the most needy.

If Somersworth had requested our assistance "we would have done what we could to help," he remained.

Both Lessard and Bowden were concerned that Somersworth had originally refused to join the District and was now, apparently, trying to defeat the system by not following the procedure, and instead attempting to crash through at the top.

Upset that someone might attempt to pass by the Board, Slack through localities have gone through the proper procedure that has to be taken to acquire ambulances and equipment through federal funds. I don't think it's right the one or two areas should be given handouts without proceeding through district planning."

Mayor Couture

Contacted at the Municipal Planning Office's Association Convention in Ryman, Mass., Mayor Couture could shed little light on the situation. He admitted to no positive action by the Governor in his presence.

Couture maintained that he had informed Thomson that the City must provide "ambulance service by Jan. 1" and that the City "would like to receive any funds available."

"The Governor assured me," he commented, "that if money ever he could to assist us. I didn't have a commitment, only to the effect that anything that could be done would be done to assist us. This is not something that I can

"Request" Not "Ordered"

Power prominently was unavailable for comment due to a doctor's appointment. Meanwhile, Director of Emergency Health Services Crissy Goodwin and various other state officials were also unable to be contacted yesterday afternoon.

However, one source, close to the Governor's office, did state that the Governor "asked Power to cooperate and help in any way possible so that Somersworth could receive funding and advice."

The Governor did not definitely instruct Power to give Somersworth funds, "the official indicated.

All determined was the fact that the Somersworth Mayor was informed that a legal procedure would have to be followed if the funds were available.

Couture indicated that he expected word from the Governor's office sometime Monday. Meanwhile, McDiary indicated that he had been assigned to determine the facts surrounding the Somersworth ambulance dilemma.

The Rochester Whirl

By BEA CRAIG

As of Thursday, the writing day of this column, the Rochester Fair has fared well when you consider the weather for with the exception of one rainy day, the weather has been excellent. It has been on the cool side, particularly at night and mothers have wisely dressed their youngsters in knit hats, warm coats and even some youngsters have worn mittens.

Hundreds will be going home with prizes from the midway to the exhibition buildings. The fair as usual attracted old and young and it was one of the Senior Citizens that received the coveted "Best of Fair" of all arts and crafts. This was awarded to Milton Bradley, who is over 70, for his replica of the Great Seal of America.

It was made with over 60 separately carved pieces of wood. It was painstakingly done to perfection and goes to prove that there are no age barriers for hobbies and craft work.

Coming up this last day will be the state-wide 4-H Dog Show in the judging ring at the Fair. Carl Schroeder, 4-H agent, tells me that this will be one of the biggest shows ever held. Here is your chance to see dogs, dogs and more dogs, large and small. This starts at 10 a.m. today.

There is the horse and oxen pulling in the pulling rings. Three contests today, one at 1 p.m., one at 3 p.m. and the final at 7 p.m. tonight.

And so it's back to the ROCHESTER WHIRL with the Haven Hill Garden Club meeting this Thursday. They were the winners of the trophy for the best garden club presentation of "The Potting Shed".

Thursday's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Albert Downes at 1000 Main Ave., starting at 11 p.m.

On Tuesday, the 25th, the Episcopal Club will be meeting at the Elms Hall for a 6:30 p.m. meeting. On Wednesday, the Senior Citizens Center on Hancock is having an open house and ribbon cutting at 2 p.m. This is a bee hive of activity with all sorts of fun and serious learning taking place. The center is open every afternoon from Monday through Friday.

On Thursday night, the ladies Country Club Golfing League will hold their awards banquet starting at 6:30 p.m.

Double Ring Ceremony

ROLLINSFORD — Larretta Marie Veno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland G. Veno of General Sullivan Way, golfing, became the bride of Steven Jerry Dumont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Dumont, of Burlington Road, Somersworth, in a double ring ceremony at St. Mary's Church here on August 31. The Rev. Andre Bedard officiated at the 7 p.m. service. Bridesmaids in white gaidoli adorned the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length empire style gown of nylon and lace, featuring a lace bodice, elbow length sleeves, and lace edging at the hemline. Her crystal studded crown held her bouffant veil of silk illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath.

Miss Deborah Dumont, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her pink nylon floor length gown featured lace trim and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bride's cousin, Denise Dionne of Barrington, was bridesmaid. She wore a dress identical to that of the maid of honor in green and carried a matching colonial bouquet.

Michael Hamilton of Chesley Ave., Somersworth, was best man. Somersworth, was best man. Somersworth, was best man. Somersworth, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Veno chose a floor length gown of baby blue crepe, trimmed in silver with silver accessories, and she wore a corsage of blue and white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother chose an empire style gown of pink polyester knit and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. Conna Perreault of Dover, decorated the Somersworth American Legion Hall in pink, white and blue for the wedding reception. The bride's sister, Valerie Veno, and the bridegroom's sister, Patricia Dumont, served refreshments.

Presenting the gift book to the 150 guests present another aunt of the bride, Mr. Irene Neve of Dover, made the wedding cake.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Vermont, Mrs. Dumont was wearing a white corset and a corsage of baby blue and white carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumont are at Somersworth High School graduates. Mrs. Dumont is employed at General Electric and her husband at the South Berwick Shoe Co.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold Anniversary Celebrated

DOVER — Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold of 21 Rosewell Avenue, Dover, were recently given a surprise 25th anniversary party at their home by their two children. Over fifty relatives and friends were present to see them open their gifts and cut the two-tiered wedding cake.

The anniversary couple received a special congratulatory note from friends in Indianapolis, Indiana. A silver guest book was attended by Mrs. Pearl Luby.

When an extra amount of yeast is used in a bread recipe, the rising time is decreased. To avoid a yeasty flavor, let bread rise between 80 and 85 degrees.

Processed cheddar cheese has one indisputable virtue: it makes smoothly into a hot sauce and melts smoothly in a casserole dish.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I offer a word to that school teacher's advice to kids who shoplift? What she knows she learned in books. I am a 16-year-old girl who is talking from experience. I've been ripping off merchandise since I was 13. I started out just the way that punk did, with small items—pens, candy bars, chewing gum and dime-store jewelry. By the time I was 15 I graduated to sweaters, dresses, make-up and underwear. Then I went on to radios, tape recorders, cameras—stuff I could sell.

I never had one ounce of guilt. I'd tell myself, "why shouldn't I have it? I deserve them right for leaving merchandise out where people can grab it. I am smarter than they are and in this world, smartness pays off."

I was nailed by a store detective when I was 15. The manager called my mother. She came down and I got a lecture. That stopped me for a month. Then I started again.

Three months ago I was caught with $25 worth of stuff on me. This time it was no lecture; I was handcuffed, fingerprinted, got my nose and the waytons, I had to stay in the police station for six hours. I spent my folks have to pay right now my folks have to pay close to $1,000 for a lawyer and I am blacklisted throughout the entire store chain.

I am not writing this letter to scare anybody. All I am saying is if any kid out there wants to lift, go ahead. But the sure as hell is going to get caught and that will be the saddest day of his life.—Hard Way

Dear Hard Way: When kids hear it from one of their own they pay closer attention. Sometimes, I appreciate your writing and I hope you got through.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: An Open Letter to the Veterinarian's Help with the Fat Cat.

If you don't want your neighbor to feed your cat, keep her at home, even though this may mean confining her to your house or constructing a rodent pen in your yard.

Most of the common problems faced by cat and dog owners (especially those of concerned neighbors) can be solved in one word: FENCE. The cruelest thing an animal lover can do to a pet is allow it to roam free. It could be poisoned, run over by a car, shot, killed by another animal, etc., at a very early least—overall.—G.S.B. (Assistant Women's Editor, Santa Rosa Press—Democrat.)

Dear G.: You've said it all, Thank you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I married a girl I'll call Margaret. She was 26 years old and had never been away from home one single night. I thought she'd get over her attachment to her mother when we moved out of town to live.

We have lived in Canton, Ohio, for nearly seven weeks. Nearly every night Margaret is on the phone crying to her mother about some darned fool thing. Either her hair was too hard or she put a purple sock in the wash with a white blouse. This afternoon she gave herself a permanent and it came out, she looked like an Afro hair-do. She phoned her mother and bawled for ten minutes. What can I do about this?—Dan

Dear Dan: I hope Margaret is having after 6:00 p.m. It's deep.

Obviously this girl is grossly immature and she's not getting enough emotional support from you or she wouldn't be leaning so heavily on her mother. I suggest counseling for both of you before Margaret picks up and goes home to Mama.
