WATER COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

We present our third annual report of the Salem Water Works.

In accordance with the vote passed at the last annual town meeting, the water main has been extended to Pine Grove Cemetery, at an expense of $451.96, which exceeded the amount raised by $201.96. This expense was deemed advisable, as the greater part of the pipe was purchased at a very low figure and the cemetery trustees were ready to extend the pipe throughout the cemetery.

A 2-inch pipe has been laid in Church Avenue and Spring Street at the depot village.

Thirty new services have been added or extended. The gross income is now $1,504, for private services, and $1,200 from the town, making a total of $2,704.

Owing to the failure of the New England Breeders' Club, the annual income was reduced $600.

DUE THE SALEM WATER WORKS.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF SALEM FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The trustees of the Salem Free Public Library herewith submit their annual report for the year ending Feb. 15, 1908.

Organization was effected at the beginning of the year as follows: Chairman, Daniel A. Abbott; treasurer, Lorenzo F. Hyde; clerk, Clinton L. Silver. Meetings have been held according to usual custom, the first Saturday evening in each month during the year.

At the close of another year of existence the trustees find the library in a good condition and constantly increasing in usefulness to the people of the town, who manifest a greater desire to avail themselves of the privileges of the library than in former years.

We would especially call the attention of the patrons to our books of reference. These works cover a great variety of subjects, and while consulted by many of our people, are still not fully appreciated. All patrons when in need of works of this character should not hesitate to consult them freely.

Early in the year the trustees received with regret the resignation of Mrs. Susan A. Cluff as librarian. We desire at this time to record our high appreciation of the faithful work and valued services rendered during the twelve years she held this position. Mrs. Hattie F. Abbott was chosen by the trustees as her successor, and began her labors as librarian April 1.

We are glad to note an increase in circulation of some twelve hundred volumes over the previous year. In only two years of the library's existence has the circulation exceeded that of the past year.

For gifts of books, periodicals, valuable papers and magazines, we are indebted to Mrs. John J. Hunt, Mr. Eugene Goodwin, Mrs. Fred O. Wheeler, Mr. Edgar Gilbert, Miss Josephine Bailey, and Mr. Felix Mullaly. To these and all others who have aided the library by gifts of books and publications, we desire to extend our sincere thanks and hearty appreciation of the same.

The trustees feel that in order to carry on the work of the library as planned by the founders, and place on the shelves for the use of our patrons the best of the seasonable books and publications each year, a larger amount is needed than we heretofore received, and we would recommend an appropriation of at least one hundred and seventy-five dollars for the ensuing year.

In connection with this report will be found a list of books added during the current year; also reports of the treasurer and librarian.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL A. ABBOTT,
LORENZO F. HYDE,
CLINTON L. SILVER,

Trustees.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The school board respectfully submit their report.

For verbal report and tables, see report of the superintendent of schools. The interest on the note held by D. W. Felch, to be used for the benefit of pupils attending No. 3 school, has been received and will be expended by the board in extending the winter term beyond the number of weeks given by the town school district.

The interest on No. 2 and No. 10 notes has not been received. The interest on these notes will be expended some time during the fiscal year ending Feb. 15, 1909.

In order that your schools may be in session 36 weeks, we recommend that the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars ($2,500.00) be raised above the amount required by law. As you will see by our report there is a balance of $1,892.00 at the end of our fiscal year, and as our schools are now in session, which expense will have to be paid from this balance, possibly leaving a balance of $1,000.00 or $1,200.00, therefore the sum before mentioned ($2,500.00) seems to the board to be a sufficient amount to maintain your schools for 36 weeks.

REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Members of the School Board:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit to you a report upon the schools of your town, which is my first report as superintendent of the schools.

Upon taking up my duties, I found the work of the schools much as would be expected in the absence of special oversight; unsystematic, indefinite, with a diversity of text books and a wide variance in the progress of the different schools. There had been, I think, a printed course of study adopted by the school board some time ago, which, almost wholly inapplicable to present conditions, was consequently a dead letter to the teachers. The state "Program of Studies," an excellent outline, remained inactive through lack of intelligent application by some responsible head. I began right here and, after getting acquainted with the work and conditions in the schools, outlined somewhat tentatively a definite course of study applicable to these conditions, and then looked to it that the teachers applied and followed it. By this means a definite requirement was set for all teachers to meet and the progress of graded and ungraded schools alike made regular, systematic and will in time become uniform. This work is but begun. One person can not make a course of study perfect in every detail. During the spring I shall hold teachers' meetings where the work and plans may be discussed and the present course of study revised as may be needed for better work next year. As a further effort to secure uniformity, the work of each month is outlined in advance and each teacher reports at the end of the month what she has accomplished. In this way the weak spots are found and strengthened and the school board may be kept informed once a month of the work and progress of each school in each study.

Examinations are given twice a year by the superintendent to test the work of the children and see how near it measures up to that outlined in the course of study. The results of the only examination that has so far been given were fairly satisfactory.

Handwriting is so important a branch of the curriculum and so commonly misjudged by the parents that I feel it necessary to state what is being done along this line. At ten years of age the average child knows well enough how to shape the letters of the alphabet and it is unprofitable thereafter, at stated periods each day, to keep him "drawing" more and more nearly perfect copies in his writing book as an exhibition of his penmanship. It is just here that appearances are so deceptive and misleading. Any child can make a fine showing. You should see the work actually performed to judge intelligently how proficient the child is in penmanship. Is it executed rapidly and in such a way as not to tire the hand? If not, however perfect it may be in appearance, it is nothing more nor less than a "drawing," and has no claim to be considered handwriting. The so-called muscular movement, taught in all business schools but never insisted upon in the public schools, with its easy and rapid execution, is the goal we are striving to reach here. The immediate effect is to convert what were good "artists" into wretched penmen, but the results will fully justify the course that has been taken.

We lost during the summer vacation: At number four, Miss May E. R. Smith, whose place was taken by Miss Florence Bertha Atkins; at number five, Miss Lillian B. Silver, whose place was filled by Miss Anna May Stockwell; at number three, Miss Mary Louise Nixon's school was given in charge to Miss Elsie Silver; at number seven, Miss Lillian Bartlett's school was closed after the winter term; at number six Miss Hattie B. Woodbury's and Mrs. Harriet D. Bennett's places were taken respectively by Miss Aaria Taylor and Mrs. Emma H. Douglas. Miss Florence M. Seaver's resignation as teacher of the primary school at number six was unexpectedly received the day before schools opened in September. Miss Katherine Grey Smith was elected to the position.

In April, at a joint meeting of the school boards of Hudson, Salem and Atkinson, the services of a superintendent were engaged, half of whose salary was to be paid by the three towns and half by the state. The apportionment was as follows: To Atkinson, three twelfths; to Hudson, four twelfths; to Salem, five twelfths. This means that for supervision these towns pay in that order, respectively, $150, $200 and $250.

In general, the same criticism may be made of the school work here as anywhere: We study words, memorize words and do not learn things; we confine children in school rooms too early in life; we do not train enough legs, eyes, ears and arms; we develop imperfectly or not at all common sense, judgment, power of observation and clear thinking; we attempt to run all children into one mould; we separate education from life. However, criticism is easy. To point out sure methods of improvement and changes that will certainly advance the progress of education is difficult. The way has been, to some extent, blazed for us. Many cities and towns got excellent results along these lines; nature study, handwork, manual training, elementary agriculture. To develop the whole child, to train all his faculties to the end that he may become perfectly at home in the world in which he lives should be our purpose and our duty.

Very respectfully submitted,

J. E. WIGNOT,
Superintendent of Schools.

SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

To Superintendent Wignot and the School Board of Salem:

Following is a brief report of the work of the pupils of the Salem schools in the study of music for the past year:

In the beginning I will say that in nearly all the schools I find that improvement which was sure to follow the favorable conditions noted in last year's report. It is somewhat difficult to make a just comparison of the schools in the different parts of the town, as hardly the same conditions exist in any two of them. Generally speaking, however, in rooms where there are the greater number of grades, the results are correspondingly less satisfactory. This is true of all towns which have come under my notice. Especially is it true of the lowest grades. The little people need a good many attractive rote and motion songs, and quite a deal of attention should be given to their scale practice in the simple forms, if they are to become interested and shine as little stars in the work. This, of course, is impossible if they are in rooms with higher grades, as the older ones really require the greater part of the time which can be given to the subject, thus obliging the little folk to grasp what they can. Yet the interest keeps up all through the town, yea, has increased, I am pleased to state, and in many instances I find it difficult to leave the rooms on time, so eager are the children to sing longer.

The schools have all been supplied with the best of books, the teachers, almost without exception, are coöperating as never before, and to these reasons I ascribe largely the great interest that is manifest and the success which is ours. Lack of sufficient time to develop the work assigned by the special teacher is retarding the progress in some rooms, which I hope will soon be remedied.

I would recommend that all the boys and girls be required to take part in the singing period, and that each be given credit for attention to, and ability in, the work, as in other branches of learning. It is understood that all children are not on an equality as regards musical expression, but all are born equal in the ability to grasp and learn the principles of reading music, and a person is not required to be a singer in order to obtain benefit from the period devoted to musical study.

I am pleased to say that all the good work in music is not confined to the central buildings, as in former years, but very enjoyable and meritorious singing can be heard in some of the outer ungraded schools as well.

My thanks are due to the superintendent of schools for valuable suggestions to the committee for the best of material, to the teachers for patient and painstaking assistance and to the pupils for courteous treatment and honest endeavor.

Respectfully submitted,

W. E. HARTWELL.

Supervisor of Music.
