TOWN LIBRARY REPORT

Whole number of volumes added, 104; by purchase, 90, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carter, Lebanon, gave 10, Albert Pinneo 1, Mrs. C. D. Smith, Lebanon, 1, State Board of Health 1, Library of Congress 1.

Your librarian is pleased to report that the library has had another useful and successful year. The number of books loaned is about the same as last year, which goes to show that a good interest is still manifested in its use and in the principle of the educational value of a well selected and good collection of first-class books; and the people seem to appreciate the prize, and also of having so pleasant, commodious, and nicely furnished library room.

There have been several portraits placed upon the walls, which not only adorn and help to make the room more homelike, but in the future years will be valued as old friends to the library and of the town.

BOARD OF EDUCATION, DISTRICT NO. 1

We herewith submit our annual report upon the work of the schools of the Village Precinct of Hanover. This report is for the financial year, March 16, 1907, to March 20, 1908, but the tables of statistics of the schools are for the calendar year, Jan. 1, 1907 to Jan. 1, 1908, as in this way only can the report of three completed terms be given.

The village precinct forms a special school district, with officers of its own. The expenses of this district are met by its share in the school money of the town as a whole, by a small allotment from the Literary Fund of the State, by tuition fees of pupils from outside the district, and by an additional tax on the property of the district, voted at the annual school meeting of the district.

Of the school money of the town this district receives 71 per cent, this being the proportion that the assessed property of the district bears to the total assessed property of the town as a whole. From this source the district has the past year received $4095.87. The allotment from the Literary Fund of the State was $143.96. The income from tuitions was $669.00, and the amount raised by the district by its own additional taxation was $1000.00. A balance of $1200 was brought over from last year, making the total available income for the schools of the district $7108.83.

The High School receives additional support through the generous provision by which the Trustees of the Moor's Charity School Fund, a fund connected with the early years of the College, assign to each of two graduate students in the College a scholarship of $200.00 annually, in return for which these students teach in the High School an average of ten recitation periods each per week, without cost to the district.

The High School is receiving additional help throughout the current school year through the generosity of Mr. Eugene R. Musgrove, Assistant Instructor in the English Department of the College, who is giving efficient service without pay as teacher of one of the English classes in the school. Mr. Robert I. Adriance, a College Assistant in History, rendered similar service in a class in History throughout the school year 1906-7.

Books and supplies are furnished to this district, as to the other schools of the town, by the Selectmen, from the general fund of the town (not from the school fund). The books and supplies for this district, including an addition to the physical apparatus of the High School costing about $100.00, have amounted to about $950.00.

At the last annual meeting of the district it was voted to install a new and complete system of heating and ventilating in the older half of the school building. It had been impossible to secure sufficient heat in the coldest weather, and at all times the ventilation was entirely inadequate. By contract with E. T. Ford two new hot-air furnaces and a new steam boiler were put into the basement, a new and larger cold-air shaft was carried out through the wall, a large ventilating shaft was put through the center of the building, with steam coils set high in the shaft to force circulation of air, the old ventilating shaft was converted into a ventilating shaft for the basement closets, and sufficient registers and radiators were put into the school hall to make it available for class purposes and for use as a study room throughout the day. The cost of these improvements was $2382.49. Of this amount, $500.00 has been paid by the special tax raised for this purpose at the last annual meeting, and the balance has been borrowed at 3 1-2 per cent. It is expected that this debt will be paid in a series of annual installments.

It is fortunate that this new system of heating and ventilating was put in last summer, for the schools in that part of the building have never been so full as this year; in two of the rooms every seat is occupied; under the old conditions such attendance would have been impossible without serious injury to the health of the children.

The infirmities of age rendered it impossible for the janitor, James Cunningham, who had served the schools most faithfully for nearly twenty years, to undertake the care of the larger system of heating. The committee cannot let his resignation pass without expressing publicly their hearty recognition of the fidelity of his service, and his interest in all that would contribute to the comfort of teachers and scholars. Since Sept. 1 the building has been under the care of E. W. Weeden, who gives his entire time to this work.

The work of the schools has gone on quietly and efficiently. The success of the schools is in no small degree due to the fact that all the regular teachers of the year before returned to their places this year. All have rendered a service that is hearty and generous, measured as it has been not by the amount of salary received, but by their own high ideals of a teacher's work. The good order in the building has been greatly improved by the use of the upper hall in daily work, relieving the crowded condition on the second floor, which had become a constant hindrance to the quiet of the school.

At the beginning of the winter term, January, 1908, Miss Myra Hastings, Smith College 1905, joined the teaching force of the High School, being employed in part by Mr. Fletcher as his substitute to complete his year of work under the Moor's Charity Fund agreement, and in part by the district, to provide for additional work necessitated by the growth of the school.

The large number of pupils in the upper primary room has necessitated the employment of a teacher's assistant for the forenoon hours. This work was done in the first and second terms by Mrs. A. B. Kibling, in the third by Miss Helen G. Brown, and is now being done by Mrs. W. P. Clough.

Miss A. A. Estabrook has continued her teaching of music in the eight grades, and the good results of her careful and efficient work are clearly apparent.

A class of nine graduated from the High School June 14, with the following program:

ALBERT PINNEO,
Auditor

SCHOOL SUPERVISOR'S REPORT

To the School Board of Hanover Town District:

I beg leave to submit the following report of conditions in your schools:

Commencing August 1, 1907, your board arranged with the other sections of the supervisory district to employ two tenths of the superintendent's time. The amount previously used was about 15.5 per cent. This has made it possible for supervision to be more efficient and to cover more of the work usually done by a superintendent.

In most of the school buildings, no large repairs are needed. At all the schoolhouses the out houses ought to be thoroughly renovated and repaired and some, perhaps, rebuilt. The proposition to move a schoolhouse to the foot of the hill in Ruddsborough is in the interests of economy if found feasible, for it would do away with the expense of transportation in that part of the town. The Etna school continues to be about as large as it is economical for one teacher to manage. If there should be any increase in numbers, the district will need to consider the advisability of changing the Etna building into one of two rooms. When that is done economy may be served by bringing children from other districts, thus reducing the number of teachers and increasing the efficiency. In this connection the experience of the town of Warren is significant. In that town about 100 children are taught in one building by three teachers at a cost of $15 per pupil. About 36 children in three out schools cost $22 each. Cost of transportation is included in the expense of the center school.

During the year and especially during the last two terms I have attended to the purchase of supplies under your direction. Arithmetics have been changed, the Smith series being introduced. Considerable supplementary reading has been procured. The total amount expended under my charge $113.10. One interesting feature of this matter is that textbooks, supplies, and apparatus must be paid for by the town, not by the district. The taxpayers in the special district, therefore, pay about 70 per cent of your bills, and you pay about 30 per cent of theirs for such supplies. The net result this year is, that the taxpayers of the town district are making the taxpayers of the special district a present of $200. Last year the amount was about $150. Possibly this favor may be returned in some other department of the town government, but not in a way to benefit the schools.

In the table appended, especial attention is called to the column showing per cent of attendance. The average ought to be higher. Sickness has much to do with it, of course, and some allowance must be made for unavoidable absence for that and other causes, but anything below 90 per cent where there is no serious epidemic is inexcusable. It shows that there are a considerable number of people who do not realize the benefit of schools to their children and who are not seriously concerned in obeying the laws governing attendance. If they have so far escaped being called to order it is due rather to your kindness than to their deserts. By the figures themselves it appears that in some schools from 15 to 20 per cent of the teachers' effort and the taxpayers' money is being wasted because the children are not there to profit by it, and every teacher and intelligent citizen knows that the damage is much greater than that. The column showing number of visitors should remind all that parents and friends are welcome during sessions of the schools, and that the interest taken by the community in the schools is fairly well measured by the frequency of visits. It will also be observed that the schools have reached the length of 32 weeks this year. The school in the northeast part of the town closed after 30 weeks, owing to the small number, difficulty in securing transportation, etc. The extra week in the Goss district and two weeks in the County Road school represent an attempt to make up for shortage the previous year.

In conclusion I desire to thank the school board for the confidence and support you have given me and to express my high appreciation of the loyalty of teachers, their earnest and faithful endeavors to use helpful suggestions, and the general success and harmony of their work.

Respectfully submitted,

D. F. CARPENTER,
Superintendent
