School Board of Plainfield.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board of Plainfield:

My eleventh annual school report is hereby presented for your information and that of the citizens of the district.

The schools were opened as usual the first week in September. The new two-room school building at the Plain provides the urgently needed seat room for the forty-six children who applied for admission. It is in every way a modern building most economically built. The playground is large. The rear area should be plowed, seeded and rolled and should be provided with playground apparatus the educational need of which is not always sufficiently appreciated.

The teacher's name, the fall term enrollment and the December 20th membership of the respective schools are tabulated below.

TEACHER	SCHOOL	Fall Term Enroll- ment	Dec. 20th Member- ship
Ella G. Merrill	Plain Gram.	21	20
Irene Livingston	Plain Prim.	26	26
Ellen P. Hadley	Meriden Gram.	32	28
Mary Z. Greeley	Meriden Prim.	30	28
Hazel F. Dodge	East Plainfield	11	11
Mildred A. Shaw	Methodist Hill	7	6
Esther M. Boyden	Spencer	17	16
Minnie E. Smith	Brook	10	8
		154	143

The fall term enrollment this year is 28 more than the fall term enrollment of last year or an increase of more than 22% in enrollment. This increase is found chiefly in the village schools.

HEALTH.

The town of the Charlestown and Plainfield unions have united in employing as school nurse for a full year, Mrs. Zephyrine L. Hasham of Claremont. Her report follows:

Mr. Andrew P. Averill

Supt. of Schools

Dear Sir:

With the beginning of my work in October an interesting year was ahead. Examination of the school children has brought to light the usual crop of defects and disabilities. I hope, however, that the lesson their discovery teaches will fall on responsive grounds. A school nursing service to cover fifty-two schools, twenty-five of which are in the Plainfield Supervisory Union, presents problems that require careful thought and planning.

Health work for the current year has for its aims correction of defects, prevention of communicable diseases, and health education. Monthly visits, after the individual inspection of the children in every school, are planned. Special visits also will be made upon request or when conditions warrant it. During the first part of the school year until the individual inspection of the children is completed home visits will be made only in exceptional cases. These visits are made to explain to the parents the exact nature of the defects, the procedure necessary to correct the defect, and to demonstrate the care of certain special defects. The parents and children have exhibited a genuine interest in their welfare and the response to suggestions is very pleasing.

Respectfully submitted,

(MRS.) ZEPHYRINE LUPIEN HASHAM,

School Nurse.

In the school census returns of September, 1929 the enumerator reports 176 children (5-16) residing in town. This number exceeds by nine the number reported in 1928. One hundred thirty-five of these children are registered in the public schools of the district. Eighteen are not attending school; sixteen are below the compulsory school age—most of them below the age of admission—and two have completed the elementary school course. Sixteen are attending secondary schools, and seven are attending elementary schools outside the district.

GENERAL STATISTICS.

For the Year Ending June 30, 1929.

One hundred thirty-one different pupils were registered during the year. The average membership was 110.62. The per cent of attendance was 91.69. This is about two per cent lower than usual and is chiefly due to an uncommon amount of illness during the early winter. Because of holidays, institutes, etc., the schools averaged a loss of five and one-half days. The registers record 29 visits by board members, 159 visits by the superintendent and 277 visits by citizens. Ten meetings were held by the School Board. Seven children were perfect in attendance for the entire year.

Respectfully submitted,

ANDREW P. AVERILL.
