DURHAM, NH –Congresswoman Carol Shea-Porter enjoys double-digit leads over potential Republican challengers a year before the 2014 election for Congress in New Hampshire’s First C.D. In the 2nd District, Congresswoman Ann Kuster continues to struggle with poor favorability ratings and name recognition and is in a dead heat with relatively unknown Republican challenger Gary Lambert.

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll,* conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Six hundred and sixty-three (663) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by landline and cellular telephone between October 7 and October 16, 2013. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 3.8 percent. Included were 330 residents of New Hampshire’s First Congressional District (MSE = +/- 5.4%) and 333 from the Second District (MSE = +/- 5.4%).

Favorability Ratings – Congresswoman Carol Shea-Porter

Democrat Congresswoman Carol Shea Porter is increasingly popular in New Hampshire’s 1st Congressional District, a seat she held from 2007 to 2011 and regained in 2013. Currently, 42% of 1st District adults have a favorable opinion of Shea-Porter, 28% have an unfavorable opinion, 7% are neutral, and 22% don’t know enough about her to say. Her net favorability rating, the percentage who have a favorable opinion of her minus the percentage who have an unfavorable opinion, is +14%. She is very popular among Democrats (net +56%), Independents are divided (net +1%), and she is unpopular among Republicans (net -30%).

GOP Challengers for U.S. Congress – District 1

The two declared Republican challengers for the 1st District seat are former Congressman Frank Guinta (R-Manchester) who held the seat from 2011 to 2013 and former UNH Business School Dean Dan Innis (R-Portsmouth).

Guinta is the better known of the two, reflecting that he ran in 2010 and 2012, but is also the least liked. Currently only 24% of 1st C.D. adults have a favorable opinion of Guinta, 34% have an unfavorable opinion of him, 8% are neutral and 34% don't know enough about him to say. His net favorability rating is -10%. Guinta is modestly popular among Republicans (+27%), Independents are neutral (net +3%), and he is very unpopular among Democrats (net -45%).

Innis is not well known in the 1st District. Currently, only 7% have a favorable opinion of Innis, 2% have an unfavorable opinion, 6% are neutral and 85% don't know enough to say. His net favorability is +5%.

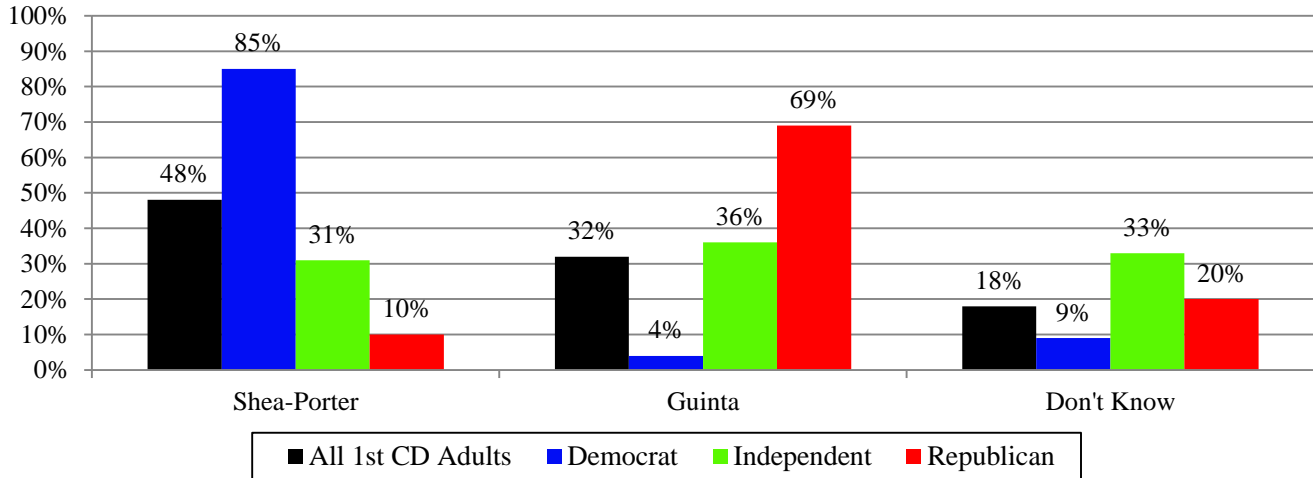

2014 U.S. Congress Election – 1st District

In a trial heat between Shea-Porter and Guinta, 48% of likely 1st District likely voters support Shea-Porter, 32% support Guinta, 1% support someone else and 18% are undecided.

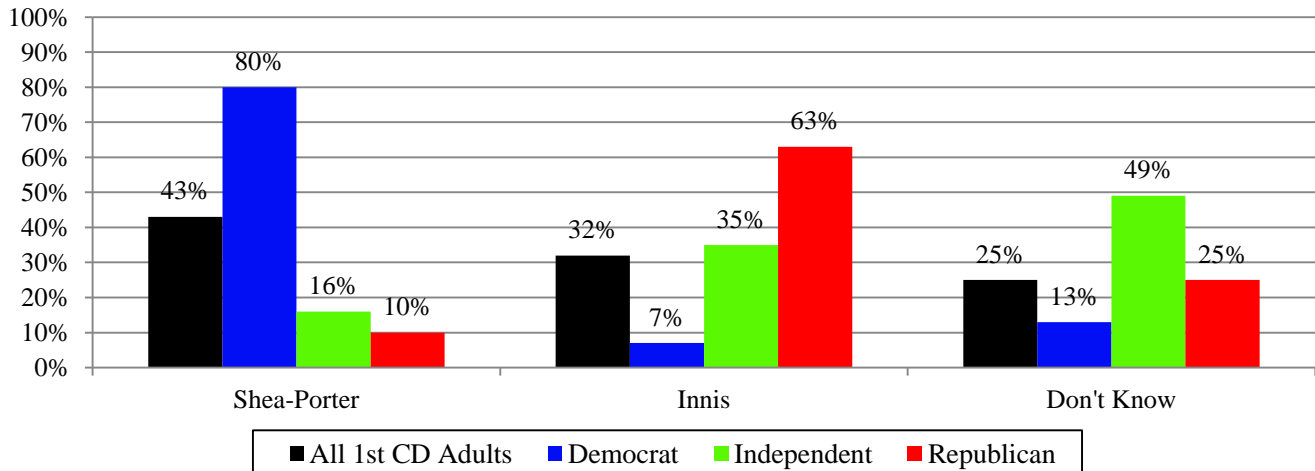

If Dan Innis were the Republican nominee, 43% of likely voters support Shea-Porter, 32% support Innis, and 25% are undecided.

As would be expected in hypothetical matchups this early, Democrats and Republicans largely support their party's candidate and one-third of Independents are undecided in a matchup between Guinta and Shea-Porter. In a matchup with Innis, partisan support is similar, but Innis leads among Independents by a 2-1 margin.

Favorability Ratings – Congresswoman Ann Kuster

In New Hampshire’s Second Congressional District, first term Congresswoman Ann Kuster’s favorability ratings continue to remain low. Currently, only 23% of 2nd District adults have a favorable opinion of Kuster, 28% have an unfavorable opinion of her, 9% are neutral, and 40% don’t know enough about her to say. Her net favorability rating is very low for an incumbent, -5%. She is only modestly popular among Democrats (net +30%), but is unpopular among Independents (net -15%) and very unpopular among Republicans (net -42%).

GOP Challenger for U.S. Congress – District 2

The lone declared Republican challenger for the 2nd C.D. seat is former State Senator Gary Lambert (R-Nashua). Lambert is not well known as only 5% of Second District adults have a favorable opinion of him, 4% have an unfavorable opinion, 5% are neutral, and 85% don’t know enough about him to say. His net favorability rating is +1%.

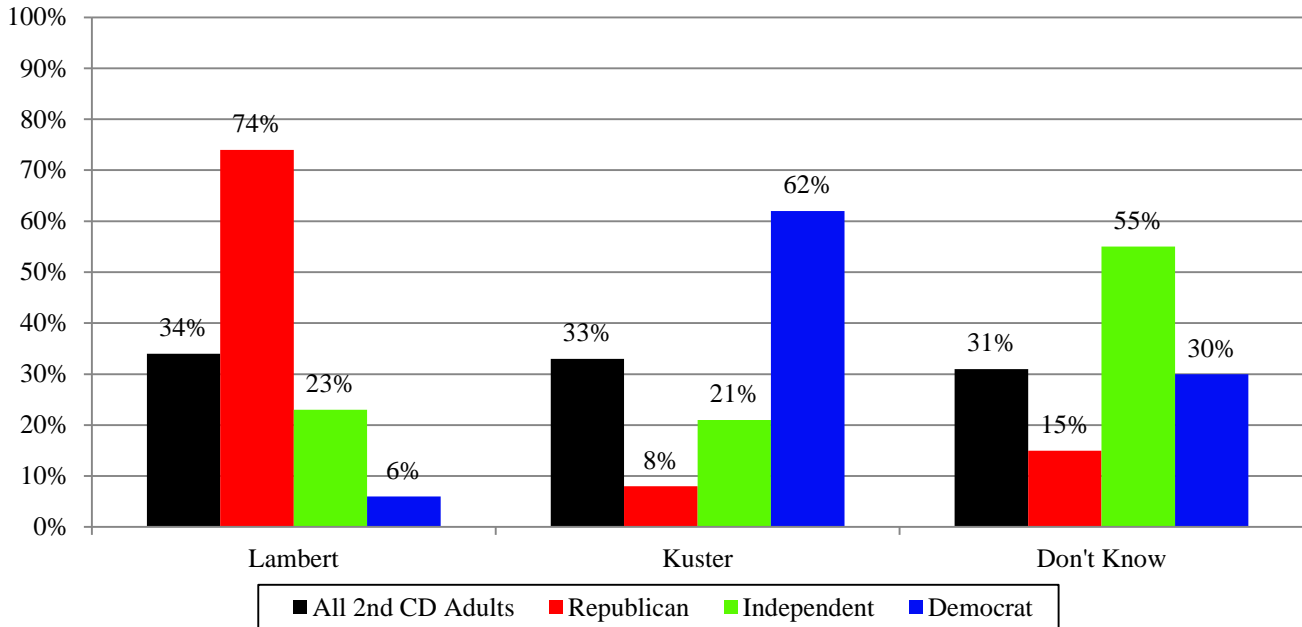

2014 U.S. Congress Election – 2nd District

Despite being unknown, Lambert and Kuster are currently tied in the race. If the 2014 Congressional election were held today, 34% of likely voters in the 2nd District say they would vote for Lambert, 33% would vote for Kuster, and 31% are undecided. “Kuster is currently vulnerable,” said Andrew Smith, Director of the UNH Survey Center. “Typically, an incumbent with less than 50% support is in for a tough fight, but an incumbent below 40% is in real trouble.”

A significant problem for Kuster is that only 62% of likely Democratic voters say they would vote for her if the election were held today.

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Six hundred and sixty-three (663) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by landline and cellular telephone between October 7 and October 16, 2013. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 3.8 percent. Included were 330 residents of New Hampshire's First Congressional District (MSE = +/- 5.4%) and 333 from the Second District (MSE = +/- 5.4%).

The data have been weighted to adjust for numbers of adults and telephone lines within households, respondent sex, age, and region of the state. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response. Due to rounding, percentages may sum to just above or below 100%. Respondent numbers in each demographic may not equal the total respondent number due to respondents choosing not to answer some demographic questions.
