L. H. COGSWELL,

REPORT OF ALMONERS OF FOSTER FUND
FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEB. 15, 1916.

The same good work has been continued this year as in the past seventeen years from the dispensing of the income from Mr. Foster's benevolent gift to the town. Many excellent people in sickness and distress have been aided, and the beneficiaries have reason to thank the generous donor. More enduring than monuments of stone or brick or towering statues are the memories of noble charities like these. Countless generations rise up and call the givers blessed. Every year we have cause to bless the memory of Hon. John Foster.

The following is the record of receipts and disbursements:

Balance from last year,	214 42

FREDERICK M. COLBY, Treasurer.

This certifies that we have examined the accounts of the treasurer of Pine Grove Cemetery Association for the year ending Feb. 1, 1916, and find them correctly cast and proper vouchers for all money paid out, and the bank books footed up as reported.

E. C. COLE, M. T. ELA, Trustees.

REPORT OF HEALTH OFFICER.

At the last session of the legislature an act to improve the public health service was passed, the provisions of which change the character of the boards of health in the smaller towns. A health officer is appointed in each town by the State Board of Health, who, with the selectmen, constitutes a local board and succeeds the then existing board of health. This health officer, appointed for a three years' term, enforces the public health laws and regulations and makes such sanitary investigations as may be necessary.

Some little interest has been taken recently in the vaccination problem. Stimulated perhaps by the occurrence of an epidemic of smallpox in a neighboring town, the State Board of Health instructed its health officers to enforce the law concerning the vaccination of school children. Section 2, Chapter 93, Public Statutes, reads as follows:

SECTION 2. No child shall attend any public, parochial, or private school unless he has been vaccinated, or has had the smallpox, and this section shall be enforced by the board of health, except in the case of a child who has submitted to the process of vaccination not less than three times, or who holds the certificate of the local board of health, that he is an unfit subject for vaccination. Said board of health shall issue such certificate upon the advice of a registered physician approved by said board of health.

The above section was printed in the local paper in September last, and notice of the instructions to health officers was also given. As a result a majority of the scholars were successfully vaccinated. Those remaining must comply with the law before the opening of schools in the fall, as then no scholars will be admitted to the schools in town, in fact in the state, who have not been successfully vaccinated or properly excused.

Diphtheria antitoxin is now provided by the state free to any patient within the state of New Hampshire, the local agent, Leon H. Wheeler, dispensing the antitoxin upon the prescription of any registered physician. This is a very important aid in the treatment of this much dreaded disease as it makes the antitoxin readily available for immediate and frequent use. The early use of antitoxin in diphtheria in relatively large doses is important. In fact large doses should be promptly administered and be repeated if necessary at frequent intervals, no harm whatever following the use of large doses.

The use of the common towel is now prohibited in hotels, schools, railroad stations, public halls, churches, barber shops, stores and all other public places. The term common towel is considered to mean a roller towel or a towel available for use by more than one person without being washed after use. This provision is a step in the right direction as diseases of the most serious kind may be and have been transmitted by the use of the common, dirty towel.

Several cases of acidosis have occurred in town during the past year, one of which, in a lad of eight years, ended fatally in about sixteen hours. The alarm shown and interest taken by the public prompts us to consider this subject at some length. Acidosis has been defined as "an abnormal metabolism of carbon leading to the appearance of organic acids in the blood and urine, and the formation of ammonia to neutralize these acids." It appears from the above definition, that in the chemistry of digestion and absorption of food, which contains a large amount of carbon, if from some cause this process is interfered with and not properly done, certain products would be formed, as organic acids and acetone, which absorbed into the blood act as poisons. If the amount of organic acids and acetone are small in amount, neutralized by the production of ammonia and readily excreted by the bowels and kidneys, no illness of the individual results. If, on the contrary, large amounts of organic acids and acetone are formed, little neutralization accomplished and excretion faulty or incomplete, serious and perhaps fatal symptoms of acidosis occur.

A study of the cases of recent date shows the causes interfering with metabolism may be varied. Sometimes an intestinal disturbance may be the exciting cause, and we have the so-called "digestive" type of acidosis. A larger number are preceded by an infection of the respiratory tract, as a coryza or bronchitis, giving the so-called "infectious" type. Seventy per cent. of the cases in the recent apparent epidemic in Concord were of this class. On the other hand, about one third of those affected have no apparent predisposing cause, the symptoms developing rather insidiously.

The onset of an attack is usually sudden, vomiting being the first indication that the child is ill. Diarrhoea soon follows with drowsiness and thirst prominent, quick pulse, rather rapid rise in temperature, air hunger with cyanosis soon develops, and with nervous manifestations varying from muscular twitchings to convulsions and coma, with death perhaps, as a result, give a characteristic picture of acidosis. All cases fortunately do not progress as far, for prompt recognition of the condition and early administration of the proper remedies frequently bring about a recovery as rapid as the onset.

Prevention is the surest way of avoiding serious results, and this in a great measure may be done by scrupulous care of the general health of the child, early treatment of digestive disturbance or respiratory infection and the administration of simple laxatives and alkalis at regular intervals. Disinfection is of value by limiting the spread of some infectious disease, which if contracted might act as an exciting cause of a condition of acidosis.

Respectfully submitted,

L. H. COGSWELL, M. D., Health Officer.

To the Trustees of Pillsbury Free Library:

No report was made last year on account of illness.

The two years have been very satisfactory to look back upon—the interest felt in the library, the class of books purchased, the gifts added, the agreeable visitors, and the pleasant informal trustees' meetings which all “wish would come often-er.”

They have been very busy years and many times the librarian and one and sometimes two assistants, have had all they could attend to, when there was a “rush” as there often is early in the evening.

One thing which adds to the work is the neglect of patrons to place the numbers of the books they wish on their cards, as the rule requires. Everyone has a catalogue, and there is always one at the library, and with more than 11,000 books on 164 shelves, it is impossible when half a dozen persons are waiting to be served, to recall at a minute's notice just where a certain book is and particularly hard for the “helpers.” One who wishes for a Life of Washington, can look in the catalogue, and select from the dozen there, the one they want instead of asking if there is a “Life of Washington in the library?”

Some idea can be had of one part of the work by the figures of the past two years, which show that 17,925 books have been furnished to the public. This number does not include those in the school cabinets, nor the hundreds of magazines, which some libraries count as books.

During the year just ended, 228 books have been purchased. The Book of Knowledge in 20 volumes which should be seen to be appreciated, has been of great benefit to the teachers and others who have availed themselves of it.

Biography, History and Travel have been in much demand, and many fine books have been added. Mrs. Taft's Recollections of Full Years, Reminiscences of Tolstoi, Life of John Hay, Lyman Abbott's Reminiscences, Autobiography of Theodore Roosevelt, English Ancestral Homes of Noted Americans, Political History of Secession, The Amazing Argentine, are some of the titles. Two of the most interesting of the many books relating to the war, are Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Kings, Queens and Pawns," and Frederick Palmer's "My Year of the Great War."

Among the educational books are, What do we Mean by Education, Schools of Tomorrow, The Brown Mouse, and Teaching American History.

The children and young people have not been forgotten.

We consider the library very fortunate in having the most valuable gift it has ever had, the set of Luther Burbank's work. Three volumes were published last year, the remaining nine, early this year. Everyone is familiar with Mr. Burbank's wonderful work with flowers and fruit, making the cactus grow without needles or spines, and turning the common white daisy into a blue one, and doing marvelous things with plums and apples. The volumes are profusely illustrated with beautiful colored photographs.

Gifts have been received from Frederick W. Whitridge, Slason Thompson, Oliver Willcox Norton, Percy Andreas, Arthur A. Corey, Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Ela, George T. Page, Mrs. Hamilton Chase, Lloyd R. Chase, Jesse B. Pattee, George Q. Pattee. The latter has sent a large chart, the "Official Summary of Electoral Votes for each President of the United States," showing the development of the politics of the Nation from 1789 to 1912.

A word for the little folks before closing; they enjoy the privileges of the library as much as the older ones. The last little applicant, seven years old, asked first for Alexander the Great, which some child had told him about. When he returned it he called for Frederick the Great, which he had seen in a little friend's home. These children are so quiet and well behaved one often wishes our building was large enough to admit of a children's room.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY BARTLETT HARRIS, Librarian.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The school year embraced in this report relating to the conditions of the schools closed July 15, 1915. The report for the fiscal year begins Feb. 16, 1915, and closes Feb. 15, 1916.

Twelve schools were maintained an average of thirty-six weeks in this school year. The total number of children in the district between the ages of five and fifteen years, September, 1914, was 182: 79 boys and 103 girls. The largest enrollment of pupils in any of the twelve schools was 33 in the village intermediate school and the smallest 4 in the Collins school. Nine of the eighth grade pupils were admitted to the high school at the beginning of the current school year.

Needed repairs and improvements have been made on the schoolhouses at Melvin's, Schoodac, Joppa, Tory hill and Warner village.

Signs have been placed each side of schoolhouses, warning drivers of automobiles to look out for school children.

Insurance has been renewed on the graded school building in Warner village for five years. The Davisville schoolhouse has been insured.

It is hardly ever that important undertakings are so thoroughly performed as to give perfect satisfaction to all interested in them. The educating of children is of vital importance to the child, to its parents and to the community. The education of the youth begins in the home and in the school; therefore it is very important that parents and teachers should be on friendly and social relations, that they may work together in harmony for the best interests of the children.

Teachers have pupils under their care and training about thirty-five hours a week on an average of about thirty-six weeks for the school year. This means that pupils in elementary grades are under the care and discipline of their parents about six-sevenths of the time. Parents, to do their part, should do the best they can to teach their children to be honest, truthful, cheerful, friendly and obedient, and let them leave home in season to be punctual in attendance.

The teacher should be well equipped for all the work she undertakes to perform. She should have a good understanding of the best up-to-date methods employed in the schoolroom and practice them. She should also work for peace and harmony and for the best interests and progress of her pupils in conduct and advancement.

The school board has endeavored to employ teachers who have knowledge of the work of organizing, controlling, guiding and instructing their pupils in morals and in all the work embraced in the elementary school curriculum, with a presentation of subjects so clearly expressed that the pupils may understand them. Teachers of this class can be procured for our larger schools, but they are not on the list of candidates for small rural schools. We have employed teachers who are classed as professional teachers, experienced and well equipped, some others who have had some experience but no special preparation, and occasionally one who has had no special preparation or experience. The work done by nearly all of our teachers this year has been satisfactory and the school board appreciates the interest and conscientious efforts that all of our teachers have put into their school work.

We plowed and made ready for planting a plot of land in a corner of the village school grounds. This ground was divided into plots by the boys and girls of the intermediate and grammar grades, under the supervision of their teachers. Each pupil selected seeds, planted them and watched for the results, and cared for the young plants. The children in the primary grades planted flower seeds. The work was done before and after school hours. The children were interested and pleased with the results of their work.

An outfit is being installed in the unfurnished schoolroom in the village to do some domestic work. Connected with this work, the boys and girls who come from a distance will leave their dinner pails and eat their dinners in this room. Their dinners will be supplemented with hot cocoa and creamed soups and occasionally a variety of other light and easily digested food. The food will be properly served on tables at which the boys and girls will be comfortably seated.

Among other things to be provided are water tanks with faucets for the schools that have been using pails from which children dip drinking water with their individual cups. Sanitary paper cups and towels will be provided.

The new schoolhouse at Davisville was ready for occupancy at the beginning of the current school year. Everything is satisfactory—heat, light, ventilation, furnishings, convenience and comfort. The children show their appreciation of the new schoolhouse and spacious play grounds in their cheerful, happy, animated faces.

MEDICAL AND DENTAL INSPECTION.

At the Warner town school district meeting on March 13th, 1915, it was voted to adopt the provisions of the medical inspection act, and the sum of $200 was appropriated therefor. The school board appointed Dr. L. H. Cogswell as school physician and Dr. Wm. S. Dow as school dentist to carry out this work and the following is a part of their report to the school board:

The aims of medical inspection are toward detection and correction of physical defects, detection and exclusion of contagious diseases, the maintenance of good hygienic conditions in the schools, the diagnosis and care of mental deficiency, and to increase the efficiency of the school system as well as to improve the health of its scholars.

A physical record of the children in school has been made (except those excused at the parents' request) according to cards prescribed and approved by the state board of health. A facsimile of one of these cards is here given.

This record is supposed to be continuous throughout the school life of the child. In the square for the proper grade and opposite the name of the defect found, mark a cross, thus: Malnutrition X. The cross is equivalent to "Yes." In the case of vision and hearing indicate the defective eye or ear in the square opposite by R or L as the case may be. If both are defective use RL. The teacher and physician should both be especially careful to follow up cases to see if treatment is secured and a record should be carefully kept on the line provided for the purpose. This is by all odds the most important entry. A blank square indicates no defect found, no treatment secured, etc. A blank space is equivalent to "No."

Examination of eyes and ears is included in this general examination and was done by the physician aided in most cases by the teacher. A report of defects found has been sent to the parents with the recommendation that proper treatment be sought at once.

No case of contagious disease was excluded from the schools for the reason that none was found. Teachers have been instructed to notify the physician of any evidence of contagious disease and to notify parents as well. Several suspects have been examined, but no symptoms were found that warranted

Inspection of school buildings and surroundings finds much to be done. A general cleaning about each school is needed to make it more attractive. Proper repairs will make school-houses warmer in winter and cooler in summer. Screens and window catches would make many schools healthier and more comfortable. Installation of rolls of paper towels, water tanks where there are no facilities for running water, and paper drinking cups, to avoid the child borrowing another's cup, would much improve conditions. Fumigation of each schoolroom during each vacation is earnestly advocated, and during the winter and spring the daily use of a weak solution of formaldehyde as a preventative measure against contracting a coryza, which in itself may be a prodromal symptom of some contagious disease, is suggested.

The backward children should be placed in a separate class, or by the aid of a special teacher given more time and encouragement to do their work. Some good cause is responsible for a backward child. Not always a lack of brains, but more often a lack of proper nourishment, defective eyesight or the presence of adenoids, which if corrected by proper treatment will cause the child to return to his grade and do better work. In this connection we recommend the opening up of the spare room in the graded school building, rearrangement of the grades so that there shall be two grades in a room, which will benefit not only the backward child but all the scholars in the village schools.

By means of interviews with teachers and parents the inspectors have endeavored to explain the ideas and aims of medical inspection that all might recognize what we are trying to accomplish in the way of improving the school system. Talks at parent-teachers' or mothers' meetings by the school physician and dentist would be of distinct benefit. Something has already been done in this line but more is planned for the near future.

Children and teachers to the number of 214 were examined by the school physician. Of the 33 cases of defective vision found, 17 were corrected by glasses. Cards have been sent to the parents of the remaining 16 suggesting treatment. Adenoids are responsible for the majority of defects in hearing found. A few cases of impacted wax were noticed which should be treated at once. Enlarged tonsils were discovered in one third of the children examined. Many cases of enlarged tonsils are due to defective teeth; when both are found in the same child no special treatment is recommended for the tonsils. Eleven cases of adenoids were found. Parents were notified accordingly and treatment suggested. Only marked cases were reported, as many children have adenoids and have no trouble from them. One third of the children were found to be unvaccinated. These must comply with the law before the opening of schools in the fall.

REPORT OF DENTAL INSPECTION.

Since making the dental examination of the school children of Warner I can appreciate more fully the remark of the eminent Dr. Olser, who said, "If I were called upon to state which of the two, in my opinion, causes the most evil, alcohol or diseased teeth, I should unhesitatingly say, diseased teeth." This is a broad statement and the public is only just beginning to realize its significance.

The almost indescribably unsanitary mouths are not limited to our town school children. Inspection is being carried on all over the country; and those who know tell us there are ten million children in the United States suffering from all kinds of maladies traceable to decaying teeth and unsanitary mouths; that forty per cent. of the absences from school are caused by toothache; that by actual experiment children with decaying teeth are six months longer completing a given school course; that their physical development is retarded and mental capacity lessened; and that their foul mouths are fine breeding places for germs of many communicable diseases.

Now let the parents teach the children the proper use of the tooth-brush; teach them that to eat with unclean mouths is like eating from unwashed dishes.

Teeth are bound to decay so long as we eat the foods we do, but cleanliness will do much toward lessening and retarding decay.

The number of young children who have lost permanent teeth is appalling. How many parents realize that at six years of age children have four permanent double teeth? They are the most important teeth in the mouth, being the key to the whole arch; forcing the other permanent teeth to come in their proper places, serving to keep the jaws apart until these other teeth have formed and performing most of the function of mastication till a child is nine years of age. Yet in my examination these are the teeth most often missing, and mostly through neglect or ignorance has it happened.

Below is a statistical record of the examination. Please study it carefully.

SIMONDS FREE HIGH SCHOOL.

Our last annual report covered the time to March, 1915. This report begins at the date the last report closed. The spring term was carried on with good results to the end of the school year in June.

Commencement exercises were held in the town hall on Thursday afternoon, June 17. The graduating class consisted of five members: Evarts Curtis Hall and Vada Isabelle Whytock of Warner, Esther Howlett Davis of Bradford and Hazel Harriet Colby and Bernice Myrtle Sawyer of Sutton. Carl R. Flagg, '14, was marshal and ushered the senior and junior classes, and Herbert G. Martin, '18, was marshal for the sophomore and freshman classes. Rev. Joseph M. Burt of the Baptist church offered prayer and the Courtland orchestra of Warner furnished music. Salutatory, Historic Mansions of New Hampshire, Vada I. Whytock. Oration, Mount Kearsarge, Evarts C. Hall. Essay, Artistic and Symbolic Dancing, Hazel H. Colby. Class History and Prophecy, Esther H. Davis. Valedictory, "Aim at the Best," Bernice M. Sawyer. Flower girl, Dorothea Whytock. Presentation of diplomas by the superintendent. The class ode, written by the salutatorian, was sung by the class. A large and appreciative audience of relatives and friends assembled to witness the exercises, and as one after another of the class stood upon the stage and presented their well composed and eloquently delivered parts it was a great pleasure to see the countenances of the large audience animated with an appearance of satisfaction and happiness.

The annual reunion of the alumni association, held in the evening of graduation day, was largely attended. Many out of town students and graduates were present. A fine concert program was rendered by the Colonial Sextette of Boston. Miss Bent's readings were very enjoyable. The Courtland orchestra of this town opened the program with an overture and furnished music for dancing.

During the summer vacation the prudential committee had hardwood floors laid in the large recitation room and in one of the corridors on the first floor of the building. They also furnished the room with new recitation seats with tablet arms. This room is very convenient for the large classes, also for some of the domestic science work. The floor in the assembly room was given a dressing of shellac and the iron supports of the seats and desks were improved in appearance by a coat of aluminum paint. All of the outside woodwork of the building received a coat of new paint.

A new piano was purchased with money contributed by friends of the school and is highly appreciated for its quality of tone.

The room in the school building hitherto known as the commercial room was given up for other uses; and the entire equipment was moved into a room having about 1150 feet of floor space located on the first floor of the Cole building nearby.

At the close of the year in June, Miss Amy H. Edmands gave up her position and has since been employed in chemical work in Philadelphia.

The services of Prof. George H. Harmon, principal, Florence T. Davis, teacher of the English-commercial course, and Prof. Harlon C. Dyke, teacher of agronomy, were secured for the current school year. The committee was fortunate in selecting Miss Pearl A. Grant, B. S., a graduate of Simmons college, to fill the vacancy in domestic science made by the resignation of Miss Edmands.

The enrollment of pupils at the beginning of the fall term was 76, 33 boys and 43 girls. Present enrollment is 73, 30 boys and 43 girls. The number of tuition pupils is 36. Number of pupils admitted to the freshman class is 19—9 from Warner. Number of pupils in the courses: Latin-scientific, 8; English-commercial, 28; agronomy, 14; domestic science, 17; special, 2. Number in the senior class to graduate next June, 3—2 boys and 1 girl.

NEW FEATURES IN THE WORK OF THE COMMERCIAL COURSE.

The work of the commercial department, owing to lack of room in the high school building, has been carried on this year in the temporary annex known as the Cole hall.

The equipment of this department has been brought up to date by the introduction in September of the stenotype, the machine which has improved the recording of speech in the four most important essentials, ease, speed, accuracy and legibility.

This machine is being taught in the two upper classes, and the results thus far this year assure us that a working knowledge and skill in operation of this machine can be acquired in one year, half the time formerly given to shorthand.

Through the kindness of F. A. Savory, who has loaned this department a Grafonola, we have been enabled to test the efficiency of music in rhythm drills in stenotype practice, in typewriting practice in the early lessons, and in penmanship; and it appears that a machine of this kind would prove a most valuable adjunct in the teaching of these subjects.

To meet the needs of the boys in the agricultural course, the bookkeeping of this year has been along the line of farm accounts, the methods taught coinciding very nearly with those recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

REPORT OF THE DOMESTIC ARTS DEPARTMENT.

The first year in domestic science includes instruction in cookery and in sewing.

The work in cookery includes the following:

1. Canning, preserving and jelly making; canned tomatoes, green corn, peaches, pears, crabapple jelly and grape jelly.

2. Study of the care, preparation and sowing of vegetables: Creamed potatoes, stuffed potatoes, boiled carrots, boiled onions, corn a la Southern, baked macaroni with tomato, cream of celery soup, corn soup, tomato bisque, fried potato balls, corn fritters.

3. Study of cereals: Boiled rice, cream of wheat with dates, apple tapioca, corn starch blanc-mange, sautied mush, Quaker oats.

4. Beverages: Coffee, tea and cocoa.

5. Study of sugar: Plain fondant, coffee fondant, peanut brittle, chocolate fudge, creamed mints, creamed walnuts, creamed dates, opera caramels and glace.

6. Batter and doughs, including complete study of the various leavening agents; baking powder biscuit, muffins, sour milk griddle cakes, pop-overs, bread, Parker House rolls, gingerbread, cake, cookies and pastry.

7. Meats and fish: Study of the different cuts of meat, illustrated by a visit to the market; braised beef, roast beef and gravy, chicken, baked stuffed fish, sautied fish, fried fish.

8. Study of eggs: Soft cooked eggs, scrambled eggs, omelet, etc.

9. Salads.

10. The serving of meals a special feature of the course, each student taking her turn acting as either host, hostess, or waitress at each meal served.

The work in sewing includes the following:

1. Study of the simple stitches as hemming, backstitching, overhanding, etc., and their adaptation in making pillow cases, caps, dish towels, and nightgowns.
2. Care and use of the sewing machine.
3. Drafting and adapting of drafted patterns to individual styles.
4. Making of dresses.
5. Kimonos, underwear, fancy articles.

The second year in domestic science includes the study of household appliances and sanitation.

The work in household appliances includes the study of the following:

1. The house; its location, study of soils, drainage, cellars, and suitable building materials. House plans drawn to one-fourth inch scale by each student. Investigation trips made by class to a model basement.

2. The appliances:

- (a) Heating: Stoves, fireplaces, electric and gas heaters; furnaces—hot air, hot water, steam (both direct and indirect systems). Study of fuels: Their essential chemical nature; source and relative cost.

Plans of the heating systems required of each student:

- (b) Ventilating: In schoolhouses; in the home; simple devices for securing fresh air suitably warmed and circulated.

- (c) Lighting: Different methods of artificial lighting, lighting fixtures, lamps, etc.; care of each.

- (d) Plumbing: Plan of a plumbing system; study of nature and care of different fixtures; study of pumps.

- (e) Kitchen, pantry, and equipment for each: Stoves, floors, wall finishes, windows; study of the source and manufacture of the different appliances; care of each.

- (f) Laundry: Set tubs, mangles, driers, washing machines and wringers; study of fibers, character of stains and their removal.

- (g). Equipment for the other rooms in the house.

1. Dining-room: Study of furniture; experiments by class in refinishing old furniture, care of highly finished surfaces. Practical lessons in sweeping and dusting. Silver, linen.

2. Bed-room: Floors, bed-linen, mattresses, springs. Care of rooms in general.

3. Living-room: Equipment and care.

The work in sanitation includes the study of the following:

1. Water supply: Source, forms of contamination, town and private systems. Experiments testing for hardness and impurities.
2. Disposal of wastes, both organic and inorganic refuse. Study of septic tanks, cesspools and vaults.
3. Milk Supply: Contamination, proper care of milk, care of barns, cattle, milking utensils and operatives, legal restrictions as to care and sale of milk. Study of specific instance of infection.
4. Study of food supply: Adulleration, forms and kinds.
5. Germ Theory of disease, study of the origin and development of several typical diseases.
6. Elementary principles of bacteriology.
7. Conveyers of disease: Special emphasis on the study of the house fly and mosquitos and their extermination.

SOME OF THE WORK OF THE AGRONOMY COURSE.

Shop work:—Exterior and interior finish work on forge shop; domestic arts cabinet, bookcases, hot bed frame, tool chest, checker board, necktie holders, broom holders, sleeve boards, hammer handles and general repair work about building.

Fall:—Agronomy. Harvesting of crops, general discussions relative to harvesting and marketing. Judging of corn and potatoes.

Horticulture:—Fruit growing, field and laboratory study of orchard insects, life cycle and methods of control.

Winter:—Location of orchard, exposure, soils, windbreaks, etc., preparation of orchard, planning and planting, general study of orchard plant; pruning young and mature trees, top working fruit trees; various methods of grafting and budding, propagation of orchard trees. Tillage and fertilization of orchards, packing, grading and marketing fruit.

Vegetable gardening:—General study of various garden crops and smaller fruits.

Spring:—Early field work involving use of hotbeds and cold frame. Field work in pruning and grafting.

Projects:—School garden. Individual home plots under supervision.

A short course in landscape gardening taking up the fundamental principles involved in landscaping the home, public buildings, etc., will be given during the spring term.

The lyceum has been conducted by the students with great interest. The programs have been well made up and the participants have performed their parts with credit to themselves. Improvement in this line of school work is apparent. Many of the arguments have been presented in a logical and forceful manner.

Athletic sports should be encouraged with the purpose of establishing a reasonable amount of muscular activity in youth which will give the inclination and the strength to indulge in recreation activities throughout life. Symmetrical development of mind and body should go along together to make the efficient individual.

We make a personal appeal to every pupil in the junior, sophomore and freshman classes to remain in the school and receive diplomas when you have completed the four years' courses. It is in your interests that we advise this.

The school is well organized and is running without friction under the direction of Principal G. H. Harmon. A spirit of good fellowship and enterprise among the pupils is apparent. The teachers have kept the school well up-to-date by their faithful, earnest, efficient work, and in the best interests of the school and the community the citizens should encourage them to retain their positions during the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND C. COLE, Superintendent.
