DURHAM, NH – Hillary Clinton is the heavy favorite among New Hampshire Democrats for the 2016 New Hampshire Primary. There is no clear frontrunner among Republicans.

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll,* conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred and eighty-one (581) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by landline and cellular telephone between January 30 and February 5, 2013. Included in the sample were 212 likely 2016 Republican Primary voters (margin of sampling error +/- 7%) and 201 likely 2016 Democratic Primary voters (margin of sampling error +/- 7%).

Three Years Until NH First in the Nation Primary

Although it is three years before the First in the Nation New Hampshire Presidential Primary, prospective Republican and Democratic candidates have already been testing the waters here for presidential runs in 2016. While many of the candidates tested will decide not to run, and others may enter who are not tested, candidates who are the early identified frontrunners have typically won past New Hampshire primaries.

Very few voters have made up their minds about who they will support in 2016. The great majority of prospective primary voters, 82% of Democrats and 88% of Republicans, say they are still trying to decide who to support.

Democratic Primary

Despite the primary being 3 years from now, former Secretary of State and 2008 NH Democratic Primary winner Hillary Clinton is the clear current favorite among Democratic voters. In February 2013, 63% of likely Democratic Primary voters say they plan to vote for Clinton, 10% prefer Vice President Joe Biden, 5% prefer New York Governor Andrew Cuomo, and 2% favor Newark, New Jersey mayor Cory Booker. All other potential candidates received less than 1% support and 16% say they are undecided.

When asked which potential candidate they would NOT vote for under any circumstance, 7% of likely Democratic Primary voters say they would not vote for Biden, 6% would not vote for Massachusetts Governor Deval Patrick, 4% would not vote for Clinton, 3% would not vote for former Indiana Senator Evan Bayh, 3% would not vote for Cuomo, 2% would not vote for Virginia Senator Mark Warner, 2% would not vote for Booker, less than 1% say they would not vote for some other candidate, 34% think that all of the prospective candidates are acceptable, and 34% are unsure.

Democratic Favorability Ratings

Hillary Clinton is also the most popular potential Democratic candidate among likely New Hampshire Democratic Primary voters. The great majority of Democratic Primary voters, 87%, have a favorable opinion of Clinton, only 7% have an unfavorable opinion of her, and 6% are neutral or unsure. Her net favorability rating, the percentage who have a favorable opinion minus those who have an unfavorable opinion, is an extremely high +80%.

The only other Democrat who approaches Clinton's favorability ratings is Joe Biden – 73% have a favorable opinion of Biden, 22% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 5% are neutral or unsure. Biden's net favorability rating is +51%.

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred (500) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by telephone between January 27 and February 3, 2010. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.4 percent. Included in the sample were 201 likely 2012 Republican Primary voters (margin of sampling error +/- 7%) and 182 likely 2012 Democratic Primary voters (margin of sampling error +/- 7%).

The data have been weighted to adjust for numbers of adults and telephone lines within households, respondent sex, and region of the state. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response.
