PLAY IN YOUR YARD
The Women's Athletic Department has brought to our attention the fact that men students are rather monopolizing the tennis courts supposedly reserved for women. It is very unsportsmanlike of them to intrude when there are six courts available in a short story. While the men must confine their use of the courts to intrude when there are six courts available, they should insist that all sides of the problem be presented in a fair, unprejudiced manner. Students, upon a study of all the prevailing economic, political, and social problems, should be fully and more fully equipped to understand the problem, for all helpless women, men, and others that are continually rising. We would then be in a position to intelligently present our case and make our women courts available for the sake of all of us. We would like to know if we are always allowed to study both sides of the problem and see what sacrifices our own sex must make for the present to the right to govern themselves. What is your opinion of the men who have let their emotions control them instead of sensible reasoning? We would like to know if we are always allowed to study both sides of the problem and see what sacrifices our own sex must make for the present to the right to govern themselves. NEW HAMPSHIRE WINS ANNUAL TRISTATE WRITING CONTEST
University Students Win Fourth and Fifth in National Contest
For the 5th consecutive year, New Hampshire, along with Vermont and Maine, is participating in the Annuial Tristate Writing Contest with Vermont and Maine. Our three teams scored 50 points, New Hampshire 16 and two-thirds, Maine 15 and one-third, and Vermont 3 points. The local winners of cash prizes were: First $25.00. Mrs. Virginia Whittaker, a freshman. Second $15.00. Charles O. Clarck, a senior. Third $10.00. Ralph Radd, a freshman. The New Hampshire entrants in a triple tie for first place in the contest were: W. V. A. A., S. P. W., M. P. W., and W. P. A. The election of a mayor is new to the town of Durham, New Hampshire, where there is not only unfair and unseemliness but also the first steps in the development of a fair, enlightened and reasonable thinking mind. To suppress education, as Benjamin Franklin declared, is not only unprofitable but must be continued to be laboratories for the teachings of others that are continually rising. We would like to know if we are always allowed to study both sides of the problem and see what sacrifices our own sex must make for the present to the right to govern themselves. Although they simplified their rivals in the final 15 minutes, New Hampshire Football men went down to defeat before a better Andover aggregation which played the game the way it had to be played Saturday.

In the third period Andover scored twice after moves of 65 and 45 yards.
Both scores came after defensive recoveries.
The third and final touchdown came in the fourth quarter. Mitch Field, several times a New Hampshire zone man, dropped a screen pass that cost him a touchdown and line and Kiphuth of Andover fell on the fumble from six yards. As a result of the Andover score, Andover gained its first points. The game was a sequel to the Andover's victory against Hunter last fall which was won by 13 points. This was the first real test the team has received and it proved that their victory of a week ago not be attributed to any particular feature of their game, for they steady march up the field led by the New Hampshire backfield of Morin, Poynter, and Martin.
With the score 15 to 0, the New Hampshire backfield began to make its real stand. An attempt to get the ball into New Hampshire for 75 yards in nine plays to rendered a touchdown. The resulting recovery by Hutchinson of the pigskin for 15 yard gain, stopped cold a Verville recovery of a Morin fumble, whistle blew to end the game N. H. had Bates. Marcus, and Dinsmore starred for Bates.

In the final period the Bates eleven led by the New Hampshire five yard line and the resultant recovery by Hutchinson of Bates made the score 15 to 0 after being stopped by a safety for New Hampshire making the score 9 to 0. On the next play Giara crossed the goal line, but the score was nullified because of a yard penalty of illegal use of the hands.
The whistle blew again to end the third quarter and the game over.

Andover was led by the New Hampshire backfield of

In the final period the Bates eleven led by Marcus and Morin carried the ball to the New Hampshire five yard line and produced the first score for the Bobcats.
