SUCCESSFUL BIBLE STUDY CAMPAIGN.

Over Half the Students Have Enrolled.

The New Hampshire Christian Association Bible study committee with T. J. Yaxis '13 as chairman has been conducting a Bible study campaign which has been very successful. To date 167 men have been enrolled in the three courses to be given this year. There are 167 men divided among five groups. Sixty-five are fraternity men, 21 non-fraternity upperclassmen, 13 two-year 1912, 30 two-year 1911, and 35 freshmen. The fraternity men will study, "The Life of Christ," the non-fraternity men and 2-year '12, "The Social Significance of the Teachings of Jesus," while the freshmen and 2-year '13 men will study, "The Life of Paul." The courses are to cover a series of twelve lessons. The classes are to be made up of small groups led by one student. The group leaders will meet in normal classes conducted by various college professors for instruction in each lesson before giving a lesson to their groups.

The leaders of the various groups are as follows:

Normal Groups: Prof. Brooks, Prof. Smith, Mr. Taisne.

Life of Christ: M. G. Eastman, '13; Dustin, '14; Lane, '13; Dresser, '14; Ladd, '13; G. N. Perkins, '14; H. A. Robinson, '13; Jones, '13; Tucker, '12.

Life of Paul: L. H. Bunker, '12; Foster, '13; Elliott, '15; Hobbs, '15; W. Bartlett, '15; Grant, '15; Reed, '15; Bodwell, 2 yr. '13; Sawyer, 2 yr. '13; Batchelder, 2 yr. '13; Wiegler, 2 yr. '13.

Social Significance of the Teachings of Jesus: Knight, '12; Bent, '14; Steele, 2 yr. '12; Hall, 2 yr. '12.

DEPUTATION TEAM.

The College Christian Association Deputation Team spent the week end at Milton, N. H., where an entertainment was given Saturday and assistance was given to the churches in conducting their Sunday services. In the afternoon the young men and boys of the town were addressed by H. R. Tucker and P. C. Jones and in the evening at a joint service of the two churches. Tucker spoke on work with boys while Jones, himself of Milton, spoke on the work of student Christian Associations.

CONVOCATION EXERCISES.

Wednesday Nov. 15th it was our good fortune to be addressed by Dr. Dana, an old friend of the college, who spoke forcibly and interestingly on "The Value of a Man to Himself."

A. T. A. PLEDGES.

The following men are pledged to the Alpha Tau Alpha fraternity: Huse, Converse, Blodgett, Wiegler, Barr, Rowe Pascoe, Robie, W. H. Robinson, Norton, Bell, Sawyer, York, Priest, Graham, Bodwell, and A. E. Smith.

P. C. JONES—FOOTBALL CAPTAIN.

In electing P. C. Jones '13, of Milton captain of the football team for the season of 1911 the team is assured of having as a leader one of the best athletes who has been in college during the past years. He prepared for college at the Irving School, Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, where he was actively associated with athletics, playing on the baseball, football, and basket ball teams. He was also active in literary and class circles. Since entering college Jones has played for three years on the football team at end and in the back field in which positions his versatility has made him a valuable man. For the past two years he has also played on the baseball team where his speed on the bases and in the field has helped the team many times; in basketball last year he showed himself to be a strong, fast, heady player. Although he has not gotten his letters in track, Jones has been a member of the track team and has won several points for the college in that branch of sport. In religious circles Captain Jones is also to the fore and is acting Secretary of the Christian Association, in which position he expends the same energy that he shows on the football field. He is also Managing Editor of "The New Hampshire", secretary of the Athletic Association, and takes an active part in all other class and college activities. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and of Casque and Casket. (A. L.)

WINTER DAIRY SCHOOL.

Seventeenth Annual Announcement by New Hampshire College.

The following announcement has been sent out by the college:

The 17th annual dairy school at New Hampshire college opens Tuesday, Jan. 4, and closes Friday, March 8. The school offers instruction in dairy farming and creamery and farm butter making. This year special efforts are being made to give a strong course to dairy farmers. This course includes a study of such subjects as the growing of profitable crops for dairy cattle, the judging, feeding and breeding of dairy cattle, and a study of factors influencing the quality of the milk from the time it leaves the cow until it reaches the consumer. A study is made of surrounding dairies, giving practice in the use of the score card in dairy inspection.

With the new dairy building completed and equipped the school offers excellent opportunities for giving instruction in practical dairy work. Milk and cream are received from over forty farms assuring sufficient material for practice and demonstration work. The practical work in milk, testing, milk inspection, and in the farm dairy and in the creamery offers valuable training and experience for men who desire to take up commercial dairy work in milk plants, creameries or as dairy or milk inspectors.

Address Dairy Department. New Hampshire college, Durham, N. H., for illustrated announcement giving details about the dairy course.

Chester D. Thompson of Manchester has registered in the Arts and Science Course. He rooms at Sawyer's.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS.

Last Monday afternoon the candidates for the basket ball team were called out by Captain Holden, a large squad reporting, and it is expected from the wealth of material in the entering class and from the varsity men of last year who are still in college that a winning team can be developed.

To date a coach for the coming season has not been engaged but it is expected that John Lacasse, who coached the team two years ago, will assume the direction of the squad. The first game will be played against Dartmouth in Hanover, December 16. Although the schedule has not been announced it is probable that Manager Fisher has arranged games with Brown, Rhode Island, Wesleyan, Springfield Training School, Dean Academy, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Phillips Andover, and Boston University Law School. The schedule in all probability will be published at an early date.

The captain of the varsity, H. C. Holden '12, has held the position of varsity forward for two years. He has played a brilliant, steady game, holding last season's record of 67 goals from the floor. He has also had consistent success at throwing fouls. His election as captain has been approved by the entire college, and it is believed that his work this year will excell his previous season's good showing. P. C. Jones '13, a new man last year, will be a side-partner for Captain Holden, and will undoubtedly prove one of the stars of the team. A worthy team-mate for these two is "Noah" Sanborn, last year's captain, who returned to college again this fall. He is known favorably in the opposing colleges as the "Big Man", a name which certainly fits. His experience and head work at center will be a great asset. Another of last year's men is Miles Watson '12, a back, who needs nothing but experience to develop him into a good man. His remarkable work on the defense should insure him a place on the team.

Besides these veterans, there are Lowd '12, and Swasey 2-year '12, who are probable candidates for a position on the team. Lowd was forward two years on his class team, playing a good individual game. Swasey held the position of center on the Maine varsity of two years back.

With these six as a nucleus, and with the promising material in the freshman class, we should be able to turn out a team that will have an even more successful season than the one last year.

WHY NOT?

This is the day when every hustling section, state, city or town is adopting a slogan. From all parts of our land where there seems to be business or agricultural opportunity come pamphlets, magazines, and cards telling of the advantages of that particular section. From California come magazines setting forth in an attractive and convincing manner the manifold ways of obtaining success there; from Oregon and Washington come a like quantity of material; from the reclamation districts also they come. Los Angeles, Duluth, Detroit, and many of the mid-western cities are doing this advertising and are doing it so well that fine results are obtained. Then we come to our own state and find our chief city, Manchester, waking up to this sort of thing. Our state paper, the Union, which is published there, has adopted the slogan "Come to Manchester", and keeps it daily before the eyes of its readers. If these things are bringing results, as they surely are, why should we not adopt a similar one for the college? We desire to place "New Hampshire" fully in the eyes of all residents of the state, that every person may know of the college, of its situation, its buildings, its apparatus, its faculty, its students, its activities, and its needs. We desire to place the institution before their eyes so well and so thoroughly that no student graduating from a preparatory school within the borders of the Granite state, shall choose his college without perforce knowing all about his own state institution of higher learning before making a choice to go elsewhere. The adoption of a slogan, or war-cry as you may desire to call it seems to the editor one good way to get all present students at work spreading knowledge of the college. "Let it be for New Hampshire", "New Hampshire before the eyes of every prep. school student", or some cry similar would do wonders amongst us if kept in our minds so that no opportunity of doing our alma mater a good turn would slip by unseen. Put it over your desk, print it on your memory—then go out and get the men whom we want. "Let it be for New Hampshire."

TO THE ALUMNI.

The manner in which the Alumni are supporting "The New Hampshire" is even better than the editors had dared hope. Almost unanimously they are subscribing, and also in many cases giving a word of commendation. Everyone who has been seen personally has been enthusiastic over the success of the venture, and has told frankly of the pleasure and expectation with which he awaits each succeeding issue.

We have one request to make of you, alumnus or alumna, as you may happen to read these words; send to the editor all notes that you can gather concerning graduates of our college. This will be a great aid toward circulating among you the activities of your classmates or of the classmates of the other fellow. This is really the only way by which we can be sure to furnish the many with the facts that a few may be conversant with relative to where you are and what you are doing. If you do not do this, the alumni column is quite likely to be far from satisfactory to us and to you.

LECTURE COURSE.

The lecture course tickets are out. Now is the time for every student who can possibly do so to purchase one. It is true that the committee has found it necessary to raise the price to seventy-five cents, but for the attractions offered, the price is truly small. Admission to either the concert by Victor's band or that of the Schuberts with their ladies quartette is well worth the price of the ticket, not to mention the value of the lectures by Rabbi Wise, Dr. Eastman, or by Mr. Clark. Now is the time to get on the lecture wagon and ride through the season cheaply; tickets bought for a single lecture cost you much more.

SCHEDULES INDEXED.

In the registrar's office there has newly been instituted a card index of the recitation hours of all the students with the exception of a few who have neglected to submit their schedules, and from this index may be easily determined where any student can be found. This system has already proven efficient and of value to those who have used it. Its employment is encouraged by the Dean.

FIRST LECTURE.

To Be Held Next Tuesday Evening.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, the noted orator of New York, is to be the first speaker in the lecture course, which begins next Tuesday evening. The subject is yet to be announced.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The new seats in the Physics lecture room greatly improve its appearance.

Prof. Scott recently addressed the Woman's Club of Farmington on "Civics."

Prof. Rasmussen spoke lately to the Durham Woman's Club. His subject was, "Social Life in Denmark."

The first year two-year class has elected the following officers: Pres., H. C. Bachelier, vice pres., W. F. Foster; sec., C. C. McKeil; treas., J. C. Jenkins.

"Bill" Hayward, the carpenter employed about the college, nearly severed the thumb from his right hand while working in the wood-shop last week. It is expected that the injured member can be saved.

A PURELY MUTUAL COMPANY.

The policies issued by the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, are purely mutual and much more liberal than those of other Companies. The premium rates are LOW the dividends are large, and they are paid annually on the anniversary of the policy. Paid up Insurance, Cash Surrender Values, and Extended Insurance are guaranteed after two years premiums have been paid. If you want THE BEST THERE IS IN LIFE INSURANCE, send us your name and address, date of birth, kind of policy desired, and we will mail you a Specimen Policy of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company for your inspection. # De Laval CREAM SEPARATOR Saves Its Cost Every Year

Occasionally the intending buyer of a cream separator who has but a small amount of ready cash to invest is tempted to put his money into one of the so-called "cheap" machines which are being largely advertised.

Why pay your hard earned money for a "cheap" trashy machine when you can buy a reliable DE LAVAL upon such liberal terms that

IT WILL MORE THAN EARN ITS COST WHILE YOU ARE PAYING FOR IT.

When you buy a DE LAVAL you have positive assurance that your machine will be good for at least twenty years of service, during which time it will save every possible dollar for you and earn its original cost over and over again.

If you purchase the so-called "cheap" separator you must pay cash in advance and then take the chance of the machine becoming worthless after a year or two of use, to say nothing of the cream it will waste while it does last—all of which means that you have virtually thrown away the money invested in the cheap separator and wasted your time, labor and product in the bargain.

The DE LAVAL separator pays for itself. It runs easier, skims cleaner and lasts longer than any other cream separator.

Be sure and see the local DE LAVAL agent and try a DE LAVAL before you buy any cream separator.

THE SMALL VERSUS THE LARGE COLLEGE.

Many times during the last four years it has been the thought of the writer that he has been peculiarly fortunate in getting his undergraduate training at a small college. There are six reasons for this feeling:—

1. The relation between students, faculty and officers of administration is closer in the small college.
2. The spirit of love for the institution is fostered in every student.
3. The opportunity to make a larger number of life friendships is greater.
4. The opportunity for social life is much greater.
5. The small college man is much better rounded-out for his life work.
6. The expense of living in the small college is about one half.

In explanation of these six reasons, the following may be said:

The large college man, until his senior year, in his laboratory and recitation work meets a younger and less experienced instructor than in the small college where heads of departments are usually closely associated with all students in all courses. The large college man sees his professor only in lectures except perhaps in the more advanced courses. As for meeting the officers of administration, the student in the large college rarely comes in contact with them.

The spirit of love for the institution is forced into the small college man whether he will or not. If he can possibly come out for the team he is forced to by his self-respect. In the large college this ardent spirit of self-sacrifice is felt mainly by a few. Often a student will not know the name of a single man on a varsity team in the large college, he may be so completely remote from the activities of the team which represents the institution.

In the small college the circle of one's friends is larger and more constant, resulting in a larger list of life friendships. In the large college for the student outside the fraternities, the list of one's friends may be limited to one's table mates at boarding house.

For the large college man his social life is narrow unless he pushes himself forward to a great extent. In the small college, men are expected to call and be entertained at the homes of their instructors and professors and to enter more or less directly into the family life of the community. In the large college, while the homes are just as open, the advantage of the resulting social life is not felt so keenly and many students are narrowed in their social life at a time when habits of life and thought are fast becoming fixed.

The small college man is usually much more rounded out socially and perhaps better equipped to meet the affairs of life than is the large college man. He is familiar, through closer association, with more lines of work and gets into more activities outside his curriculum from choice rather than from a sense of duty.

Lastly, the yearly expense of the average student in a large university is about $800 which would be the upper extreme for the small college men. To the writer, it would seem to be ideal for the average student to go through a small college and then enter a large university that if he has been a fair student in the small college, he is just as well equipped and in many cases better equipped for advanced study than the graduate of the large college.

It has been a source of much pleasure to the writer that the standing of all New Hampshire men at Cornell has been very high, that they have been well equipped and have taken positions

SMALL COLLEGE VS THE LARGE COLLEGE.

with the best of Cornell's own post-graduates when they have completed their work for advanced degrees. No New Hampshire man needs feel for a moment that his training is inadequate. He is just as good the day he graduates as the best of the large college graduates. He can realize that he can spend one more year at a university to round out his training, acquire poise and self confidence at no greater expense for the five years training, four at the small college and one at the university, than he would have incurred in getting his baccalaureate degree at the large college.

NEW COURSE.

A Normal Manual Arts Course Added to the Arts and Science Division.

A so-called Normal Manual Arts course has been added to the Arts and Science division. The course is designed to fit for teachers of manual training, and, with the idea that such a teacher may not only teach manual training but other subjects, a large amount of regular A & S work is required and the student is also allowed 20 points electives. There will be several special courses in wood-work, iron-work, and in forging, besides a course in the senior year on "Theory and Administration of Manual Training Work." The rest of the course is made up of both regular A & S. and Engineering subjects except for the electives. There is just one rule governing these electives, that is: "Of the 20 hours elective not less than six must be in a natural science and not less than three in group I. of the group system of elective studies. As the freshmen work is no different from that of the regular A. & S. division, any '15 man may register for the course before next fall without trouble if he so desires.

CHANGE OF TITLE.

Hereafter the so-called Agricultural, Arts and Science, and Engineering Courses will be known as the Agricultural Arts and Science and Engineering Divisions and the term course will designate various subdivisions of the three divisions as, for example the Electrical Engineering Course, the Normal Manual Arts Course etc.

IF BACTERIA WERE AS EASILY SEEN AS GNATS.

If bacteria were as easily seen as gnats no one would need to tell you how much superior was to other washing materials. But because bacteria cannot be seen by the unaided eye, and because you have always believed things to be clean that looked clean, you do not appreciate how Wyandotte Dairyman's Cleaner and Cleanser does an immense amount of cleaning that you are apt to overlook.

To every Dairyman, be he the owner of one cow, or the owner of many, a dairy cleaner is a necessity and it should be one that will not only remove the dirt and objectionable matter that can be seen, but the invisible bacteria as well.

Ask your dealer for a small sack.
