New Hampshire again achieved the downfall of her ancient rival, Rhode Island. In particular the run-off event was noteworthy for he broke the pole vault and hammer throw coming in for distinction. Hampshire added five inches to the pole vault record which was formerly held by T. A. Davis himself.

In the hammer throw Captain Beach enjoyed the thrill of putting the hammer over 200 feet. From this record breaking performance the high class sprinting of the two athletes emerged. Hampshire found him to the limit in each race, marking a sensational last 100 yards. The race was neck and neck for three laps when Kinney lengthened his lead and put the two athletes at the tape. The first two places but in the shot put Rhode Island made a clean sweep, second Benson, R. I., third Davis, R. I., and Davis, N. H., second, McLucas, N. H.; third, Beach, N. H.

In some respects the meet was very ordinary and in others worthy of considerable note. In particular the running of the last 100 yards in the two mile event was noteworthy for he broke the pole vault record, which was formerly held by T. A. Davis himself.

Two other records went on the list, in the two mile event the Hampshire was the winner hard in both events.

New Hampshire scored in the third, fourth, and eighth innings on heavy hitting by McPheters, O'Connor, Welch, and Reardon. McPheters, O'Connor, and Reardon fattened their batting averages with three hits each.

The celebration.

A telegram, giving the score of the victorious track meet over Rhode Island was received by the sporting editor of the "New Hampshire" shortly after seven o'clock Saturday night. The gladness was quickly spread over college. The campus was a sea of humanity, where no doors were closed, and no windows were broken, and the freshman were playing on the college campus between the college and the newspapers. All were unanimous in their praise of the college and its institution throughout the state. He introduced Mr. George W. Fowler of the "Middletown Press" who followed by Mr. Albert De Meritt of Durham, Chas. J. O'Neill of the "Manchester Union", and Stansel Warren of "The Nashua Telegraph". All were unanimous in their praise of the college and its institution throughout the state that all the newspapers throughout the state will unite in giving New Hampshire College a "boost" in their columns.

The last speaker was Pres. Gibbs, who thanked the visitors for their attendance and stated that it was the desire of the faculty to make the meeting an annual affair.

The following banquet the editors and guests were entertained at the college and inspected the village in which the various points of historic interest were pointed out. The return half game was played on the college campus.

The editors explained that he had run over his eyes during the excitement caused by a three bagger hit by "Big Bill" Taylor, but after reporting the situation to the faculty, the faculty agreed to give the college a "boost" in their columns.

Capt. W. H. Raymond of the general staff of the United States Army performed the annual ceremony of government inspection of the college battalion last Monday.

Track meet Saturday.

The first dual track meet with Tufts College will be held Saturday June 1, on the college campus. The management is to bring a large squad from Medford, and will try to capture the meet. New Hampshire's entries will be the strongest against Rhode Island Saturday. The meet will begin at two o'clock.

TRIANGULAR MEET.

A triangular track meet between Rockhurst, Dover and Portsmouth High schools will be held on the college campus, sometime between now and commencement. The exact date of the meet has not yet been determined.

GLEE CLUB ELECTION.

At a meeting of the Glee Club held in the College Club room last Thursday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Lender, R. M. Sanborn '13, manager, J. H. Anns '14; treasurer, librarian, C. J. Dresner '14.

A report from the University of Paris shows that there are 18,000 men enrolled in the institution.

At Cornell University, 42 students were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, 25 co-eds.

ELECT THE PROPER MAN.

This is the season of annual elections in the various organizations of undergraduate life. It is the time when men have thrust upon them the responsibilities of those who are graduating. Upon men thus elected to office is devolved the success of the organization that they represent. Therefore it is particularly necessary that those be chosen who are capable. Capability does not mean popularity in school; it does not always mean the man who wears his clothes to the best advantage. It does mean, however, the man who is able to do a thing well has been proven; it means that he has executive power, a thing not too easily found. Men elected to office should hold the respect of the student body and of the faculty, they should be given office because they can do the "job" rather than because they have an ever-present smile that makes them the best liked men in their respective classes.

Now that spring has come, and the leaves are well out on the trees, the campus looks at its best. Never does the college look so well as at this season of the year when everything in nature is so fresh and green, when the leaves are so smoothly clipped, and the paths so carefully tarred. It is at this time that we are full in enjoyment of all the pleasantness of this gently rolling country, and the way in which it has been augmented by men trained in landscape improvement.

TRACK MEET.

Congratulations to the track team for its victory over Rhode Island Saturday. Victories in track and base ball have somewhat relieved the sting caused by the loss of the football and basketball games. The results, however, made Saturday, on the whole, not as good as generally credited a good "Prep" school. Why can't New Hampshire get more men out for track, have them train faithfully and obtain the same excellent results of other colleges.

Yale

The students are fostering plans for a Union, to be similar when completed to that of Harvard. This idea has received the support of several faculty members who are of the opinion that Yale needs a meeting place for under graduate social life after the fashion of the Oxford colleges.

THE HEN.

I wish to speak a few denotatory words on the hen, the ordinary, everyday, en cayed hen, which feeds the teeming millions and never lays a cent. The female hen wastes no time in front of a cheval glass, neither does she ornament her person with belt buckles or frequent beauty parlors. She is a lay figure with a high and noble purpose, which is to furnish egg sandwiches for the meet of the earth.
