

University of New Hampshire

University of New Hampshire Scholars' Repository

UNH International Educator Newsletter

Global Education Center

Fall 10-1-2015

Fall 2018, Faculty Travel the World from the U.K. to Uganda on Global Education Center Grants

UNH Global Education Center

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholars.unh.edu/international_news

Recommended Citation

UNH Global Education Center, "Fall 2018, Faculty Travel the World from the U.K. to Uganda on Global Education Center Grants" (2015). International Educator: the Newsletter of the UNH Global Engagement. 270.

https://scholars.unh.edu/international_news/270

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Global Education Center at University of New Hampshire Scholars' Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in UNH International Educator Newsletter by an authorized administrator of University of New Hampshire Scholars' Repository. For more information, please contact Scholarly.Communication@unh.edu.

UNH Global

Faculty Travel the World from the U.K. to Uganda on Global Education Center Grants

Friday, October 19, 2018

In the spring and summer of 2018, eight UNH faculty members, recipients of GEC Faculty International Development Grants (</global/faculty-international-development-grants>) travelled abroad to conduct fieldwork, explore the development of a study abroad program and research opportunities, present papers, teach a class, and to perform as a guest artist. They traveled to countries in Africa, Europe, and Asia. Read more about their international engagement (</global/faculty-travel-reports>) from the grantees' travel report, with synopsis below:

Spring 2018 grant awardees:

Name	Destination	Purpose
Thomas Ballestero (/global/thomas-ballestero)	France	To teach a stormwater course at the Federal University of Cear for professionals from throughout Brazil
Jessica Ernakovich (/global/jessica-ernakovich)	Sweden	To study climate change on the landscape in Abisko, Sweden in collaboration with Professor Ruth Varner's summer field campaign
Ileana Chirila (/global/ileana-chirila)	France	To explore the possibility of a new faculty-led short "living lab" study abroad program

Name	Destination	Purpose
Amy Boylan (/global/amy-boylan-and-nicole-gercke)	Italy	To explore an institutional relationship with the Cineteca di Bologna with the goals of creating research opportunities for UNH faculty, creating study abroad and internship opportunities for UNH students, and establishing UNH and Seacoast NH as a host of the Cineteca's annual traveling film festival
Alecia Magnifico (/global/alecia-magnifico)	United Kingdom	To present papers at three different events and locations, which brings together an international group of educators to discuss learning and teacher education in this digital age
Amy VanCamp (/global/amy-vancamp)	Uganda	To explore international fieldwork with Hope of Children and Women (HOCW) and to visit various medical, social and educational institutions
Assaf Benchetrit (/global/assaf-benchetrit)	Israel	To perform as a guest artist and to choreograph an original work by invitation for the Jerusalem Ballet Company
Lisa Jones (/global/lisa-jones)	Switzerland	To extend and expand on work that a colleague and I have done developing program evaluation resources for NGOs addressing children's exposure to violence in low and middle income countries