DURHAM, NH – Congressperson Carol Shea Porter trails all of her Republican challengers in New Hampshire’s First District while former Republican Congressman Charlie Bass leads the top two Democrats in the Second Congressional District, and former Attorney General Republican Kelly Ayotte maintains a lead over Second District Congressman Paul Hodes in the race for the US Senate from New Hampshire. However, most voters are far from finally deciding who they will support.

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll,* conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred (500) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by telephone between January 27 and February 3, 2010. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.4 percent. Included was a subsample of 444 likely 2010 general election voters (margin of sampling error +/-4.7%), a subsample of 251 adults in the NH First Congressional District (margin of sampling error +/-6.2%), and a subsample of 249 Second Congressional District adults (margin of sampling error +/-6.2%).

2010 U.S. Senate Race

The New Hampshire Senate seat remains one of the most closely watched in the country. Democrats believe they can pick up both of New Hampshire’s Senate seats while Republicans see this as an opportunity to strengthen their opposition to Democrats in the Senate. Second District Congressman Paul Hodes is giving up his seat in Congress to run for the Senate against four Republicans -- former Attorney General Kelly Ayotte, Manchester attorney and former gubernatorial candidate Ovide Lamontagne, and businessmen Bill Binnie and Jim Bender.

But with more than a year until the election, most voters have not yet decided on who they will support. Only 10% say they have definitely decided who they plan to vote for, 11% say they are leaning toward a candidate, and 78% say they have considered some candidates, but are still trying to decide who to support.

Favorability Ratings of Potential Senate Candidates

The New Hampshire Senate race is also wide open because the candidates are not well known to voters. Congressman Hodes has run three times in New Hampshire’s Second Congressional District, but remains only modestly known across the state. Currently, only 32% of Granite Staters have a favorable opinion of Hodes, 27% have an unfavorable opinion, 8% are neutral, and 32% don’t know enough about him to say. Hodes’ net favorability rating, the percentage having a favorable opinion minus the percentage having an unfavorable opinion, is a surprisingly low +5% and has been below +10% since June 2009.

Favorability Ratings – Paul Hodes Statewide

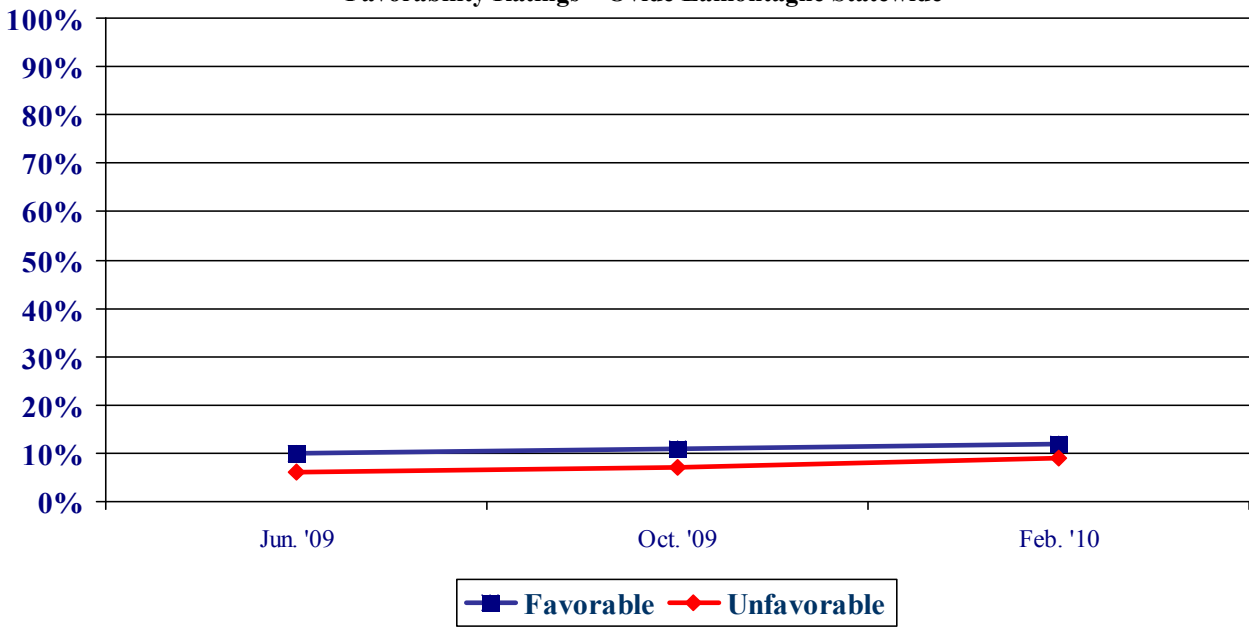

Former New Hampshire Attorney General Kelly Ayotte slightly less well known than Hodes, but is better liked. In the most recent Granite State Poll, 38% of New Hampshire adults have a favorable opinion of Ayotte, 12% have an unfavorable opinion of her, 6% are neutral, and 44% don't know enough about her to say. Ayotte's net favorability is a solid +26%, but has declined from +37% since she entered the race in June.

Favorability Ratings – Kelly Ayotte Statewide

Manchester attorney Ovide Lamontagne remains largely unknown across the state -- only 12% of New Hampshire adults have a favorable opinion of him, 9% have an unfavorable opinion, 6% are neutral, and 73% don't know enough about him to say. Lamontagne's net favorability rating is +3%, largely unchanged since June.

Favorability Ratings – Ovide Lamontagne Statewide

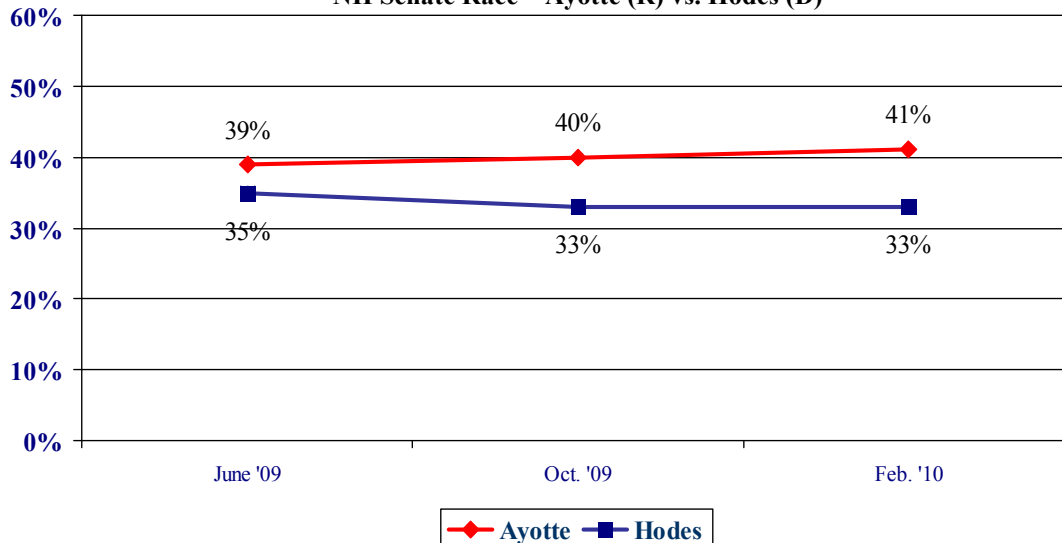

In recent months, two new Republicans have entered the race, businessmen Bill Binnie and Jim Bender. Binnie has been running television ads for some weeks and Bender has indicated he will soon, but both candidates are largely unknown across the states. Currently, 10% have a favorable opinion of Binnie, 4% have an unfavorable opinion of him, 6% are neutral, and 80% don't know enough about him to say. Binnie's net favorability is +6%. Bender is less known with only 6% saying they have a favorable opinion of him, 2% have an unfavorable opinion, 6% are neutral, and 87% don't know enough about him to say. Bender's net favorability rating is +4%.

Senate Trial Heats

Ayotte continues to be the strongest Republican against Hodes. In a hypothetical matchup between Hodes and Ayotte, 41% of New Hampshire likely voters say they would vote for Ayotte, 33% would back Hodes, 1% would back some other candidate, and 25% are undecided. Ayotte's lead over Hodes has not changed since October. Ayotte continues to do better than Hodes among her party, getting 73% of the Republican vote compared to Hodes getting 62% of the Democratic vote. Hodes holds a slight lead among political independents by 31% to 29%.

NH Senate Race – Ayotte (R) vs. Hodes (D)

Hodes does better against Ovide Lamontagne than any other Republican challenger – 38% of likely voters say they would vote for Hodes, 29% would vote for Lamontagne, 2% prefer some other candidate, and 30% are undecided. This race has remained unchanged since October.

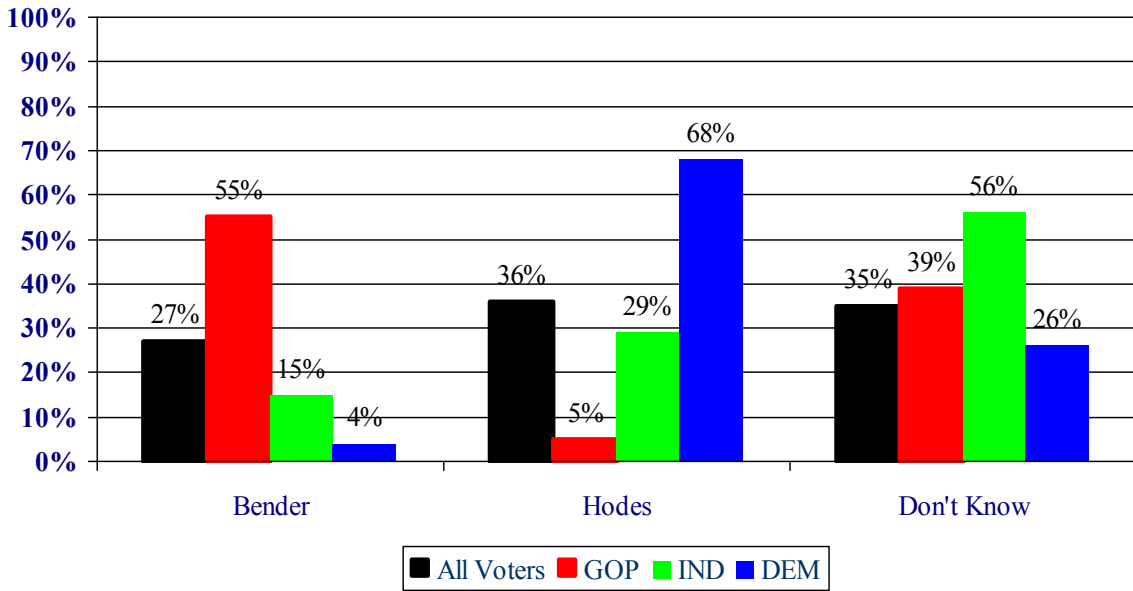

Hodes difficulties as a candidate show up when he is matched with businessman Bill Binnie, a political novice who has recently been running ads to increase his visibility. In a Hodes, Binnie matchup, 34% of likely voters say they will vote for Hodes, 30% prefer Binnie, 2% favor some other candidate, and 33% are undecided.

Hodes also leads businessman Jim Bender, who is essentially unknown to New Hampshire voters. In a Hodes, Bender matchup, 36% of likely voters say they will vote for Hodes, 27% prefer Bender, 2% favor some other candidate, and 35% are undecided. “Hodes faces a real uphill battle to win this seat,” said Andrew Smith, Director of the UNH Survey Center. “He is the best known candidate, a two-term incumbent, but doesn’t crack 40% against three relatively unknown candidates and continues to trail his best known rival.”

US Senate – Bender (R) vs. Hodes (D)

1st Congressional District

In New Hampshire’s First Congressional District, incumbent Democrat Carol Shea-Porter’s favorability ratings have dropped in recent months. Currently, 35% of adults in New Hampshire’s 1st CD have a favorable opinion of her, 40% have an unfavorable opinion of her, and 24% are neutral or don’t know enough about her to say. Shea-Porter’s net favorability rating stands at -5%, a significant drop from +11% in October.

Favorability Ratings – Carol Shea-Porter NH 1st District

Among Shea-Porter’s potential Republican challengers, former Manchester Mayor Frank Guinta is the best known. Currently, 23% of 1st CD adults have a favorable opinion of Guinta, 14% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 62% are either neutral or don’t know enough about him to say. Guinta’s net favorability rating is +9%, down significantly from +22% in April.

Favorability Ratings – Frank Guinta NH 1st District

Several other Republicans have recently entered the race. Rich Ashooh is an executive for BAE Systems in Nashua and is a native of Manchester. He is well known in New Hampshire political circles, but largely unknown among the public. In the most recent Granite State Poll, only 4% of 1st CD adults say they have a favorable opinion of Ashooh, less than 1% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 96% are neutral or don't know enough about him to say. Ashooh's net favorability rating is +4%.

Newmarket businessman Bob Bestani has also thrown his hat into the ring, but is also essentially unknown. Currently, only 1% of 1st CD adults say they have a favorable opinion of Bestani, 2% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 98% are neutral or don't know enough about him to say. Bestani's net favorability rating is -1%.

And Portsmouth businessman Sean Mahoney is rumored to be strongly considering getting into this race after he decided not to seek the U.S. Senate seat. Mahoney is also not well known in the 1st CD – only 5% have a favorable opinion of Mahoney, 3% have an unfavorable opinion, and 92% are neutral or don't know enough about him to say. Mahoney's net favorability rating in the 1st CD is +2%.

In hypothetical matchups between Shea Porter and her Republican challengers, all four Republicans currently hold narrow leads over the incumbent, an ominous sign for her reelection chances. In a race between Shea Porter and her best known challenger, Frank Guinta, 43% of likely 1st CD voters say they would vote for Guinta, 33% would vote for Shea Porter, 2% prefer some other candidate, and 22% are undecided.

In a matchup with Rich Ashooh, 36% of likely 1st CD voters say they would vote for Ashooh, 33% would vote for Shea Porter, 3% prefer some other candidate, and 28% are undecided.

In a matchup with Bob Bestani, 36% of likely 1st CD voters say they would vote for Bestani, 33% would vote for Shea Porter, 2% prefer some other candidate, and 30% are undecided.

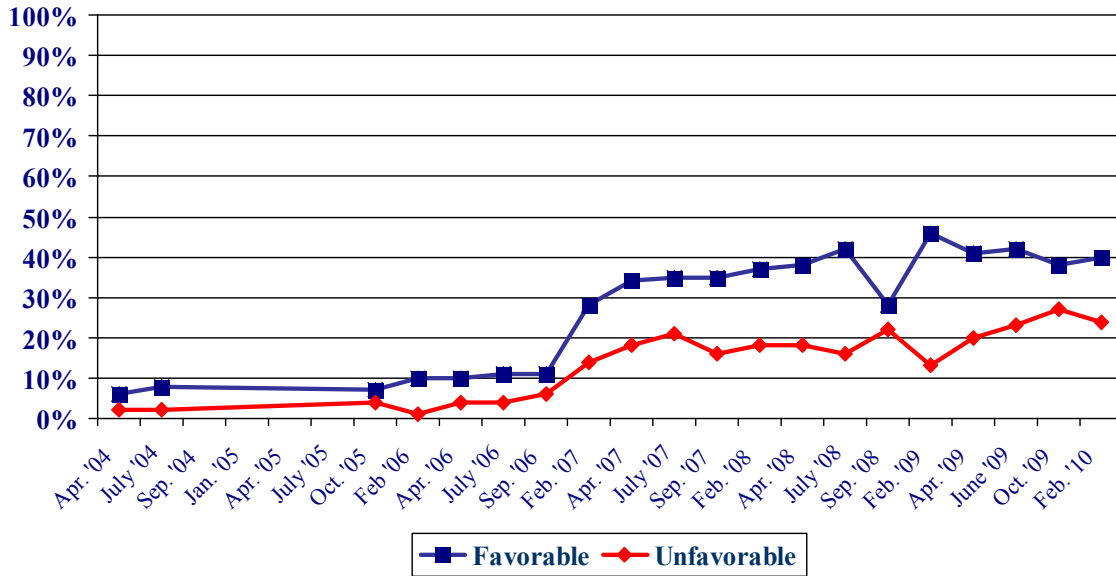

And in a matchup with Sean Mahoney, 39% of likely 1st CD voters say they would vote for Mahoney, 32% would vote for Shea Porter, 1% prefer some other candidate, and 28% are undecided.

“Shea Porter does not break 40% against any of her challengers a sign that she faces an extremely difficult challenge to keep her seat,” said Smith.

Congressional Favorability Ratings –NH 2nd District

In New Hampshire’s Second Congressional District, Congressman Paul Hodes’ favorability ratings have improved slightly in recent months. Currently, 40% of 2nd CD adults have a favorable opinion of Hodes, 24% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 36% are neutral or don’t know enough about him to say. Hodes’ net favorability stands at +16% in the Second District, up slightly from +11% in October.

Favorability Ratings – Paul Hodes NH 2nd District

Former Congressman Charlie Bass, who held the 2nd CD seat from 1994 until 2006 when he lost to Hodes, has indicated that he will run to regain his seat. Bass remains well known and well liked in the 2nd CD, currently, 44% have a favorable opinion of Bass, 19% have an unfavorable of him, and 37% are neutral or don’t know enough about him to say. Bass’ net favorability rating is a strong +26%, up from +17% in October.

Favorability Ratings – Charlie Bass NH 2nd District

Journalist Jennifer Horn, who lost to Hodes in 2008, is running again for the open Second District seat in 2010. Horn remains largely unknown among adults in the 2nd CD as only 15% of residents of 2nd CD adults have a favorable opinion of her, 9% have an unfavorable opinion of her, and 77% are neutral or don’t know enough to say. Horn’s net favorability is +6%.

Favorability Ratings – Jennifer Horn NH 2nd District

Another Republican who has announced he is running is former State Representative Bob Guida. Guida is largely unknown in the 2nd CD with only 3% of 2nd CD adults saying they have a favorable opinion of him, 3% have an unfavorable opinion, and 93% are neutral or don't know enough about him to say.

On the Democratic side, Katrina Swett, who challenged Bass in 2002, is viewed favorably by 16% of 2nd CD adults, 13% have an unfavorable opinion of her, and 72% are neutral or don't know enough about her to say. Swett's net favorability rating is +3%, up from -5% in October.

Concord attorney Ann McLane Kuster has been very successful fundraising for the 2nd CD seat, but remains largely unknown to residents of the District. Currently, 8% of 2nd CD adults have a favorable opinion of Kuster, 3% have an unfavorable opinion of her, and 89% are either neutral or don't know enough about her to say. Kuster's net favorability rating is +5%.

Former State Representative John DeJoie is also running for the Democratic nomination in the 2nd CD, and he is largely unknown to District residents. Currently, 4% of 2nd CD adults have a favorable opinion of DeJoie, 4% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 93% are either neutral or don't know enough about him to say.

The top two Republicans and top two Democrats in name recognition and finances were matched in the most recent Granite State poll. In a hypothetical race between Charlie Bass and Katrina Swett, a rematch of their 2002 race, Bass currently is favored by 37% of 2nd CD likely voters, 30% prefer Swett, 1% prefer some other candidate, and 33% are undecided.

And in a hypothetical matchup between Bass and Ann McLane Kuster, Bass is favored by 39% of 2nd CD likely voters, 28% prefer Kuster, 1% prefer some other candidate, and 32% are undecided.

When Jennifer Horn is matched against Kuster, Horn holds a very slim lead, 28% to 25%, with 3% favoring some other candidate and 44% are undecided.

The one bright spot for Democrats is that Katrina Swett holds a slim lead over Horn, 30% to 26%, with 43% undecided.

Favorability Ratings – Jeanne Shaheen

Senator Jeanne Shaheen has seen a slight decline in her favorability ratings among Granite State residents in recent months. In the most recent Granite State Poll, 48% of New Hampshire adults view her favorably, 39% view her unfavorably, and 13% are neutral or don't know enough about her to say. Shaheen's net favorability rating is +9%, down from +15% in April.

Shaheen is viewed very favorably by Democrats (net +69%), favorably by Independents (net +10%), but very unfavorably by Republicans (net -55%).

Favorability Ratings – Senator Judd Gregg

In his final year in office, Republican Senator Judd Gregg is still very popular in the Granite State. Currently, 54% of New Hampshire residents have a favorable opinion of Gregg, 23% have an unfavorable opinion of him, and 23% are neutral or don't know enough about him to say. Gregg's net favorability rating is +31%. Greg is viewed very favorably by Republicans (net +68%), somewhat favorably by Independents (net +48%), and somewhat unfavorably by Democrats (net -9%).

Favorability Ratings – Senator Judd Gregg

These findings are based on the latest WMUR Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. Five hundred (500) randomly selected New Hampshire adults were interviewed by telephone between January 27 and February 3, 2010. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 4.4 percent. Included was a subsample of 444 likely 2010 general election voters (margin of sampling error +/-4.7%), a subsample of 251 adults in the NH First Congressional District (margin of sampling error +/-6.2%), and a subsample of 249 Second Congressional District adults (margin of sampling error +/-6.2%). The data have been weighted to adjust for numbers of adults and telephone lines within households, respondent sex, and region of the state. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response.
