ANNUAL GLEE CLUB CONCERT.

Excellent Entertainment Given.

Last Friday evening in Thompson Hall the Glee Club, in conjunction with the Orchestra and the Mandolin Club, presented a musical program par excellence. The concert numbers were interspersed throughout the program with divers types of specialties, which varied from the sublime to the ridiculous. The constantly growing popularity of the Glee Club and the other musical clubs of the college may easily be seen by the fact that this concert drew the largest attendance that any similar entertainment has in years.

The Orchestra, Mandolin Club, and Glee Club were grand; each selection rendered by them was received by a hearty round of well deserved applause. Of the other numbers, no "best" could be selected,—they were all supreme. Murdock, Fernald and Brown, Bachelor and Weigle, and the Floradora Sextette all scored hits, both severally and collectively. The last mentioned number was a charming little farce in which the "girls," Knight, Bishop, and Rollins, caused much merriment by their quaint appearance in feminine attire.

All who went enjoyed an excellent entertainment, and are confident that unbroken success will come to the Club in its contemplated spring training trip.

SORORITY DANCE.

Alpha Alpha Alpha Sorority held a very enjoyable dancing party in Grange hall Saturday evening, March 14. Mrs. Pettee, Mrs. Fairchild (honorary A. A. A.) and Miss Helen B. Thompson were the patronesses. The usually plain interior of the hall was transformed by experts in the art of decorating into an unusually pretty scene. Potted palms and banks of evergreen, artistically arranged, changed the chaperones' corner into a cozy woodland nook while soft cushions and wicker rockers were an added comfort. Softly shaded lights, Sorority and college banners and pillows held an important place in the decorations. Behind a concealing vista of evergreens and palms those well known musicians, Ward and Langley, furnished excellent music for the dancers.

Guests of the evening were Professor Wilson, Messrs. Tufts, French, Pettee, Whittemore, Hurd, Manter, Nelson, Robinson, Bent, Thomas, Brown, Greene, Farland, McCrillis, Paulson, Bond, Haines, Sanborn, Weston, Sullivan, Blake, Barr, Dustin, Emerson and Bissell.

On Friday the 13th, Prof. Taylor spoke before the Suncook Valley Pomona Grange on "Chemicals and Fertilizers." In spite of the superstition that "Friday the 13th" is a dangerous day for handle chemicals, he succeeded in his usual manner in handling them with far from any disastrous results.

INTERCLASS DEBATING.

Trials were held last Wednesday evening for freshmen and first year two year men's debating team. Two teams were chosen. Trials were held for the sophomore and second year two year men for the interclass team last Thursday, the results of which have been posted on the bulletin board. The date set for the final choice of all four teams is April 30th. The final debates will be held about two weeks after the teams have been chosen.

The Girls' Glee Club accompanied by the Mandolin Club and in conjunction with the Glee Club of Robinson Female Seminary will render a concert in Exeter during the early part of March. Both clubs are scheduled to go to Rochester on March 27 to perform under the auspices of the Baptist Church of that city. The young ladies, who have conscientiously attended rehearsals may regard themselves as rewarded for it is only "by virtue of attendance" that any one is permitted to go on these trips.

The club will be assisted by the Men's Glee Club Quartette, and also by Miss Melissa Cilley, who will give some readings.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

Unknown Hero Makes Daring Stop.

What might have proved a disastrous runaway last Monday noon was stopped before any harm was done by a young construction foreman, who is now working on the new engineering building. Bravely stepping in front of the frightened horses, he waited until they were almost upon him, then, quickly stepping to one side, he swung upon the back of the nearer steed, and soon brought them to a halt.

At 12.25 P. M., last Monday afternoon, as the students were dispersing after the regular Monday morning military exercises, a team of heavy work horses belonging to the College and attached to a dump-cart, were frightened for some unknown reason, and came galloping down the main thoroughfare in front of Thompson Hall. The young foreman seeing them coming, stepped into the middle of the road, and then mounted the rushing steeds with the ease of a Western cow puncher. As he did so the frightened horses swerved toward the ditch at the side of the road, and in a moment more would have dashed madly into a telegraph pole. Undaunted, however, in his perilous position astride of one of the galoping horses, he seized the feed bag that was attached to the unbridled head of his steed, and pulled the horses around to a standstill. On account of the presence of mind, bravery, and quick activity of this man, no harm was done.

Prof. Rasmussen was present at a recent meeting of the Farmers' Institute at Providence, R. I. The affair was conducted under the auspices of the Rhode Island state department of agriculture. Prof. Rasmussen gave an interesting and minutely analytical discussion on the "Cost of Producing a Quart of Milk."

There will be an Informal, Saturday night. Ask her now—of course she wants to go.

ZETAS ARE THE VICTORS.

Defeats Kappa Sigma Team. Score 20-12.

The first of a series of inter-fraternity basketball games was played Tuesday evening, March 10, at the gym between the Zeta's and the Kappa Sigma's and resulted in a victory for the Zeta's by the score of 20 to 12.

Although the regular basketball season is over the different fraternities represented at the college are playing off a series of inter-fraternity games to determine the championship of the college.

A considerable number of rooters were out and the game had the appearance of being a young Sophomore-Freshman conflict. Reardon and Hazen starred for the Zeta's, while Reed showed up well for the Kappa Sigma's.

The summary:

Zeta Epsilon Zeta	Kappa Sigma
Hazen, rf	lb, Murdock
	lb, W. Bartlett
W. Brackett, lf	rb, C. Davis
Harriman, c	c, Arthur, Capt.
Capt. Reardon, lb	rf, Reed
	lf, Ross
Arnold, rb	lf, Morgan

Score:—Zeta Epsilon Zeta 20, Kappa Sigma 12. Baskets from floor, Hazen 6, Reed 3, Harriman 2, Brackett, Reardon, Arthur, Bartlett, Morgan. Referee, Brackett. Timer Steele. Time, three ten minute periods.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THE ZETA'S

Last Monday evening at the gymnasium in one of the fastest basketball games of the season the star team from the Zeta House defeated the aggregation representing the Theata Chi fraternity by a score 8 to 2.

The game although fast was remarkably clean, no fouls being called on either side during the entire game. Harriman W. Brackett and Hazen starred for the winners, while E. Watson, Elliott and Key showed up well for the losers.

The summary:

Zeta	Theata Chi
Hazen, rf	cf, E. Watson
R. Brackett, lf	rf, P. Watson
W. Brackett, lf
Harriman, c	c, Johnson
Parker, lb,	lb, Elliott,

Score Zetas, 8. Theata Chi 2. Baskets, Harriman, Arnold, Hazen, Key, Revere, Thompson. Timers, Came, Woodman. Scorer, Philbrick. Time three ten minute periods.

Prof. Taylor was also present at the same meeting, and spoke in the afternoon on the subject of "Soil Fertility." Mr. Taylor is an expert in this branch of the science of agriculture, and in his discourse brought forth many interesting points viewed from an entirely new stand point.

BLEACHERS IN SIGHT

With the intention of starting a sum for the erection of long needed new bleachers on the college oval the Alpha Alpha Alpha sorority will present a three act comedy, "Phyllis' Inheritance," in chapel hall April 17. This is the second benefit play the sorority has ever given: the first, "Pygmalion and Galatia," scoring a great success, was presented last year and the proceeds contributed toward the college song book. This year's play is the story of a fight for a fortune and promises to be as great, if not a greater success.

Six young men because of their well known ability in amature theatricals and their willingness to contribute toward so worthy a cause have been chosen for prominent parts. The entire cast will be published at a later date.

SIGNS OF SPRING.

With the advent of the annual Durham, mind, through which Durham may justly lay claim of being distinctly individual, when all nature seems to stand on a treacherously pliable terra firma, it is then that the thoughts of the fellows naturally change with the seasons in nearly all branches of College activities. On the rare oases of dry dry land, a game of ball may be seen occasionally in progress, which suggests the coming baseball season. A game of marbles may also be seen here and there, showing that the sports of childhood are not entirely forgotten even in the days of semi-maturity, and this may also safely be interpreted as a never-failing sign of Spring. The progress of the drying up of the athletic field is being watched impatiently by those numberless individuals who are interested in the practice of out-door military tactics, for soon they will be swashing merrily up and down the field on Monday's and Wednesday's to the rhythmic "Hunch, hunch" of Major Tufts or the various captains.

Mid-semester prelims are now appearing occasionally, and to these necessary evils we should submit as gracefully as possible.

In numberless other ways, this season of the year shows itself to be a turning point in the general evolution of college affairs. Care must be taken to avoid colds, for the "Sog of Sprig" is not nearly as beautiful and inspiring as that which we all love and admire, the "Song of Spring."

The Durham Women's Club held its regular meeting last Friday afternoon in the church chapel. After a short business session, a musical and literary program was enjoyed. B. K. Baghdigian then gave an interesting address explaining some of the conditions in Armenia as he himself has seen them. Baghdigian was dressed in Curdish costume, and presented an interesting and picturesque appearance. He told of his experience of having been arrested as a revolutionist, and then of being saved at the last moment by the kindness of the Curdish family with whom he was stopping. His talk from beginning to end was very interesting and instructive.

Mr. Lumsden of the Horticultural department has just returned from an extended trip to New York state, where he gave a series of lectures.

NEED OF BETTER WALKS.

As additions are continually being made to the college equipment and the campus is constantly being improved and beautified, the walks about the college grounds are being sadly neglected. This condition is brought to our attention more strongly at this time of the year than at any other. The melting snows and the exit of the frost from the earth only serves to render the walks, in some places, a veritable quagmire. People cannot be expected to wade through such masses of mud and water, and it is only natural for them to utilize the nearest strip of dry sod, which is usually the boundaries of our green lawns. This means that the lawns are being used as sidewalks, and indeed, under the circumstances, how can it be otherwise? People can hardly be criticised for utilizing their lawns for walking purposes, when they afford the only safe and dry places about the campus.

At the present time New Hampshire College possesses one of the most beautiful campuses in New England, and it was only a short time ago that a certain architect, while visiting the college, made the statement that Cornell University was the only institution in the East that possessed greater opportunities for developing its grounds and arranging its buildings than New Hampshire. With the beautiful lawns and artistic campus which we now have, it seems that the walks about the buildings should be of such a nature that they could be utilized for their rightful purpose instead of employing the lawns for such uses.

THE LECTURE COURSE.

In a short time, the final number of the lecture course will occur. The lecture course committee is deserving of the highest praise for their efforts during the past season. Since the introduction of the course at New Hampshire College, the quality of the numbers has steadily risen, until now it has attained such a high degree of efficiency that it is recognized not only throughout the college but throughout the town as well as one of the most valuable features of the college year.

It has been the policy of the committee to arrange for only numbers of high quality and reputation, and in this endeavor, they have been highly successful. No attempt is made to secure a profit, it being the idea of the college authorities to present these rare opportunities to the students with as little sacrifice on their part as possible.

Should future committees maintain for the lecture course the high reputation already established the course will soon become increasingly popular for its quality and efficiency.

New Hampshire College is getting some first class advertising in a nearby state through the medium of the 'movies.' The recent fire at the Gymnasium building is being exhibited in Brockton, Mass. Isn't it wonderful how ubiquitous is the camera man?

N. H. C. C. A.

The College Christain Association last Sunday in the church chapel, listened to a talk by Professor Groves on "Christainity as a Social Force." Professor Groves divided Christian's into three types, vis, the doing type, those in whom feeling or sentiment predominated, and those to whom religion made an intellectual appeal. The early church belonged to the first type, the doers, as the Epistle of James, written by one of its leaders, will show. The sentimental type is fast disappearing, and the influence of Paul, the logical disiple, is widespread today. In closing, Professor Groves urged that we combine faith with works, that we know Society, in order that we may better be of service to it, and that we let slip no opportunity for service presenting itself.

PRIZE SPEAKING.

The prize speaking contest this year will be held on May 8th. A slight change will be made in the awarding of the prizes. Instead of there being three prizes of fifteen, ten and five dollars each, there will be two first prizes of ten dollars each for the boys and girls and two second prizes of five dollars each for the boys and girls respectively.

The railway porter entered the car and said to the lone passenger, "Tickets Please." The passenger looked up and with a sad, alcoholic smile said, "Ain't got no ticket." Thereupon the porter took out his book, which he consulted and said, "Five and six, please." The intoxicated man looked thoughtful for a moment or two and then said, "Eleven."

At the chapel last Wednesday, Professor Scott gave a very interesting talk on Mark Twain. Professor Scott has a very keen sense of humor. He compared Twain with another famous humorist, Artemus Ward, who was at the height of his fame when Twain started to write. He then told of Twain's remarkable preparation for his work; his high school education in a printers office, his college course as a Mississippi river pilot and a post graduate course on the western plains and mining in Nevada with his brother. He traveled extensively in Europe, was given an L. L. D. by an English University, and was otherwise honored by the crowned heads of Europe. Professor Scott then spoke briefly of some of Twain's Works and in closing read: "Smiley and his Frog."

LET US PRAY.

A preacher, at the close of one of his sermons, said: "Let it ain the house who are paying their debts stan up." Presently every man, woman and child, with one exception, rose to their feet.

The preacher seated them and said: "Now every man not paying his debts stand up." The exception, a care-worn, hungry-looking individual, clothed in his last summer suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend," ased the minister, "you are the only man not able to meet your obligations?"

"I run a newspaper," he answered meekly, "and the brethren here who stood up are my subscribers, an—"

"Let us pray!" exclaimed the minister. We hope having red the above, that a number of our subscribers are going to say, "Let us pay."—Ex.
