FRESHMEN GIVEN RECEPTION.

College Christian Associations Entertain.

THREE NATURES TO DEVELOP.

1921 Class is Given Welcome and Advice by Professors and Student Leaders.

The annual reception to the Freshmen was given last Saturday night by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., these two organizations combining, according to their custom, to introduce the new class to their college life. In the receiving line were President and Mrs. Hetzel, Dean and Mrs. C. H. Pettee, Dean Knowlton, Reverend and Mrs. Vaughan Dabney, R. P. Nevers, '18, President of the College Christian Association, and Miss F. J. Harris, '18, President of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Mr. Nevers, speaking for the Y. M. C. A., gave a welcome to the Freshmen, and urged them to make the most of this opportunity for becoming acquainted with the faculty and their college mates. Then he introduced Professor C. L. Simmers who spoke of the importance of the place which the Christian Associations hold in college life. He said that athletics are for the development of our physical nature, the courses of study for the training of our intellect, and the Church and Christian Associations for the needs of our religious nature. He reminded the students that in order to have the best kind of college life they must neglect none of the three.

Professor R. H. Porter spoke in favor of athletics, discussing briefly the different sports and urging every Freshman to go out for at least one. He showed them that with so many of the players from the upper classes gone more must be expected from them than usual.

After the speaking, dancing was begun immediately, and was enjoyed until 11 o'clock, with an intermission in which refreshments were served.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE TO HAVE EXHIBIT AT SPRINGFIELD.

New Hampshire College and the Extension Bureau, in co-operation with the State Department of Agriculture are furnishing material for a state exhibit at the Eastern States Exposition to be held at Springfield, Mass., October 12 to 20. For this exhibition, Registrar C. J. Ham is preparing a large map showing the registration of this year, to date. A comparative chart of the total registration for the past sixteen years will also be shown. Smaller charts will show facts and figures which will be of interest to both students and alumni.

Y. W. C. A. WEEK CLOSES, RUSHING RULES EXPLAINED TO NEW WOMEN.

A meeting of the girls held last Tuesday afternoon, marked the close of Y. W. C. A. week. Explanation of the rules governing relations between fraternity members and freshmen was made by Marguerite Merrill, president of Pan Hellenic. This year, the first week of college life was characterized by no rushing on the part of women's fraternities, and in accordance with the agreement, no insignia was worn. The activities of Y. W. C. A. were emphasized, and a better basis of understanding among all girls was established.

Only one definite change has been made in the Pan Hellenic rules this year, and that is regarding the length of the rushing season. The time has been shortened from ten weeks to seven weeks.

FOOTBALL SEASON STARTS.

Four Home Games—Coach Cowell Looks Forward to Having Good Team.

In spite of the war, New Hampshire College will have as good a football team, if not better than last year. Broderick, Irvine, Bell, Davis, Harvel, Jenkins, Shuttleworth, Hewey, Graham, and Currier of last year's team have all returned to college and have reported for practice. Humiston, a veteran baseball pitcher, and Wadleigh, a weight man, have also reported. The new material looks very promising and Coach Cowell looks forward to having a very good team.

New Hampshire has been given an advanced place on Dartmouth's schedule this year and will play Dartmouth, at Hanover, Oct. 27. The revised schedule as announced by Coach Cowell is as follows:

Oct. 13 Fort McKinley at Durham.
Oct. 20 Rhode Island at Kingston.
Oct. 27 Dartmouth at Hanover.
Nov. 3 Tufts at Medford.
Nov. 10 Mass. Aggies at Durham (pending)
Nov. 17 Worcester Tech. at Durham.
Nov. 24 Freshman-Sophomore (annual) game.

PROF. GEORGE A. MINGES DIES SUDDENLY.

Death of New Instructor of Chemistry in Apparent Good Health Due to Hemorrhage of Brain.

The whole college was astonished Friday morning, October 5, to hear of the sudden and unexpected death of George A. Mingos, the new instructor in chemistry. The medical referee pronounced it a case of hemorrhage of the brain.

The day before, the young man complained of a rather severe headache. However he continued his work in the laboratory the balance of the afternoon and seemed in good spirits. He left the chemistry building for his room apparently all right.

According to his landlady, Mrs. Edgerly, Mr. Mingos went out during the evening and did not return to his room until nearly 11 o'clock. Having neglected to take his key he was obliged to have Mrs. Edgerly let him in. She said he thanked her and that there was nothing about his appearance or conduct that would lead her to believe he was not in the best of health.

The next thing that was known was the failure on the part of the young man to respond to Mrs. Edgerly's call the following morning. The landlady summoned Dr. Grant who found that the man had been dead for probably several hours. The medical referee was called and he carefully examined the body. There was no evidence either from the position of the body or from the condition of the room to indicate that the young man had suffered. According to the opinion of the doctor he probably died shortly after going to his room.

The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Tasker & Chesley, Dover. From there it was sent to his father, Dr. George Mingos, Dubuque, Iowa.

In a letter to the young man's father, President Hetzel stated that "Those who made his acquaintance, and particularly those who have known him in his work, here, speak in the highest terms of his splendid professional equipment, and his manly bearing. His death came as a distinct shock to the entire community, and particularly to those who knew him."

Mr. Mingos was about 24 years of age. He had obtained both B. S. and M. S. degrees at the Iowa State College. His home was in Dubuque, Iowa.

PRESIDENT RALPH D. HETZEL.

President Ralph D. Hetzel has a record for college and business activities that any man may well be proud to attain. An athlete of merit, a scholar, a social worker, editor, organizer and leader, he lived as complete a college life as is possible to reach in the course of four years.

President Hetzel is a native of Wisconsin, where he received his early education. While in high school at Merrill, Wisconsin, he took an active part in student activities. He was a member of both the football and baseball teams for four years, edited the school paper for two years, and served as president of his class during the entire four years. He was also active in interscholastic debating and oratory.

President Hetzel's college training was received at the University of Wisconsin and University of California. While at Wisconsin he served as captain of the freshman rowing crew, and as a member of the university crew. He was president of his class in his junior year and continued his work in oratory and debating, being on the team that defeated Minnesota for the championship of the middle west, in his senior year. He edited the college daily for two years and served as associate editor of the literary magazine, and at different times as business manager of several student publications. He was a member of the Delta Upsilon and Phi Delta Phi fraternities, also of the Iron Cross.

After taking the A. B. degree in 1906 and the LL. B. degree in 1908 he took special courses at the University of California.

In 1908 Mr. Hetzel was elected instructor of English at Oregon State College and, during nine years of service, occupied successively the position of Assistant Professor and Associate Professor of English, Professor of Political Science, having organized that work, and Director of the Extension Service. In this period he maintained an active interest in student affairs, serving as chairman of the students affairs committee, reorganizing student interests entirely.

When Mr. Hetzel was made Director of the Extension Service in 1912, the college's appropriation was only $2,500 for the work. In five years the annual budget was increased to $221,000. The extension work included not only agriculture but liberal arts, commerce, engineering, forestry, home economics and other subjects.

Besides building up the interior of the college, Mr. Hetzel had an active and important part in advertising the institution to the state and securing financial aid to further the work. He thus aided in making possible an increase in attendance of 1,300 students, or from a small college of 450 to a live, busy organization including 1,750 men and women.

President Hetzel, therefore, comes to New Hampshire keenly in sympathy with student affairs and practically equipped to manage its various problems, and with experience in all phases of land grant college work.

THIS YEAR'S REGISTRATION NOT FAR FROM THAT OF LAST YEAR.

Latest figures from Registrar Ham's office show the total enrolment to date to be 505 students, as against 561 last year in the four year courses. There are in college now 159 women and 382 men. Registration by classes and courses is as follows:

Freshmen, 48 77 107
Agr. Engin. A. & S.

Sophomores,	22	38	73
Juniors,	13	19	45
Seniors,	22	13	28
Total,	105	147	253
Freshmen,		232
Sophomores,		133
Juniors,		77
		505

The two-year, graduate and special students bring the total registration to 541.

N. H. MEN ON ROLL OF HONOR.

To Keep in Touch With Them Through Committee.

SEND INFORMATION AT ONCE.

So That List May be Published Showing Whereabouts of Every Man—Essential to Success of Movement.

The following roll of honor contains the names of students or alumni entering the service from New Hampshire College, together with their rank. This is the first attempt upon the part of the New Hampshire to publish such a list and there must necessarily be many errors. It is the aim to publish a complete list of names and addresses very shortly. This work is primarily in the hands of a committee, consisting of Professor Whorisky and Scudder and Registrar Ham, appointed by President Hetzel for the express purpose of keeping in touch with every man in active service. The Alumni Association and the New Hampshire are co-operating with the committee. To make the Roll of Honor complete and correspondingly valuable it is very necessary that the committee be notified of errors, changes of address and given other information regarding self and acquaintances.

EDITORIALS.

All students desiring to try out for editorial or reporter positions on the New Hampshire should report to the managing editor or news editor for assignments.

There are also three assistant managerships open to those with business ability. If you are interested give your name to the business manager.

The first issue of the New Hampshire is being sent to every alumnus to further the effort being made to keep in touch with each individual. All are requested to notify the business department of changes in address and to send in news of themselves or other alumni.

OUR PRESIDENT.

The accession of President Hetzel to the head of New Hampshire College is marked by conditions that make his occupancy a particularly significant and important one. World happenings have shaken this little college to such an extent that arduous and courage-testing duties await the new leader from the West.

Added to the ordinary duties of conducting the college as a business enterprise, he has, besides these financial troubles, the task of reorganizing the shattered systems among the undergraduate body.

It may seem that the best way to help President Hetzel is not to fight shy of him, to let him alone. The students must cooperate with him, trying to realize his many and intricate problems, seeing their share in his troubles, and lending support by making things as easy as possible for him. Close cooperation with and respect for the President are two essential factors in bringing prosperity to New Hampshire. President Hetzel is assured our friendships, and our help wherever it may be needed. They will scarcely repay him for the enthusiastic and zealous manner in which he has taken hold of administration problems here. With his ability and fellowship and love of student life, there need be little fear of his not doing his share in continuing the work so nobly started by Dr. Fairchild.

Long live President Hetzel and may he find the students of New Hampshire College always ready to do for him as we know he will do for us.

TO THE FRESHMEN.

Once more in the history of this college has the opportunity come to extend the right hand of fellowship to you, the entering class of nineteen seventeen. Through the columns of the New Hampshire, that portion of the student body that has seen service here hold out to you the opportunities afforded. They are yours for the taking.

By this time there has been imparted to you sufficient valuable information and gentle reminders on conduct, ideals, aims, ambitions, work, sports and other vital elements composing college life, to keep you very busy during your college course. As the weeks pass you will fall into the ways of this little college world. You will understand the reasons why you are told to do certain cut and dried things. You will see that in the apparent confusion and diversified phases of study and play, there is an aim—a goal. The object in view is to make you mature men and women, capable of lending your skilled minds and bodies to the manifold obligations of the next quarter—or half-century.

It is indeed easy to lay down laws of conduct and theories on the moulding of successful adulthood, but it is another thing to obtain it. To avoid confusion and, at the same instant, to cover the ground thoroughly, the words of our new President may be aptly quoted, "Be industrious."

So doing, you will be arriving somewhere. You will be reaching some goal, even though it be indistinct, besides avoiding the many moral and physical and mental disorders that arise from stagnation. It is far better to erode than corrode.

If, in your struggles for prominence here at New Hampshire, you become disheartened and feel slighted; if you think you are not getting full credit for your efforts, remember that the successes of the world are the pluggers. As someone has said, "True greatness is to take the common things of life and walk bravely among them."

Now that you are away from home, the actual making or breaking processes are in order. You are now obliged to live and learn and learn to live, if you are to be successful here and hereafter.

When at a loss to know what is the right thing, don't be afraid to consult your instructors and upper classmen. They have been or are going through the complex game of college life and will be able to help you out of many seemingly difficult problems.

We are all here to help ourselves and to help each other and if you, the latest addition to college ranks, do not turn out to be as good as any class before you, the fault is yours. Having happily surprised us with a large number of men and women, you will be expected by the faculty and students to show the strength that lies in numbers. Show strength in classrooms and social duties and college activities—athletics included. Give of yourselves liberally to every enterprise and in doing it you will find that the business of "being industrious" is a profitable one.

G. T. NIGHTINGALE WILL CAPTAIN N. H. HARRIERS.

Gordon T. Nightingale, New Hampshire College's crack long distance runner, was unanimously elected captain of the cross country team at a meeting of all cross country men held in the Gym last Thursday afternoon. Nightingale won fame it will be remembered by sticking to Joie Ray, the sensational Chicago flier, in the three-mile special at the big B. A. A. meet held in Mechanics building last winter, for more than two-thirds of the distance.

O'Leary, a former Dorchester High runner, and Reid of Berlin, N. H., are other veterans who have returned. About twenty candidates, in all, have reported for practice but many more are needed for a better and faster team.

C. R. Cleveland, cross country coach, announces that the New Hampshire cross country team will run Bowdoin at Durham on Oct. 23. This will be the first cross country meet ever held between the two colleges. Negotiations are also being made to hold one or two other meets.

STIRRING ADDRESS GIVEN AT CHAPEL BY HON.

H. L. BOUTWELL.

Hon. H. L. Boutwell, president of the Board of Trustees, addressed the students at Chapel, last Wednesday. In opening he spoke very highly of President Hetzel, stating that the best possible choice was made from over fifty eligible men.

Mr. Boutwell said that there has never been a time when it was more necessary to have educated men and women than at present. We are in the greatest war that the world has ever known. We shall stay in until autocracy is overthrown. This is a war of machines, science and intelligence, rather than a war of bone and brawn. We need men of brains, trained in the ways of the world. With Ralph D. Hetzel as President, and with the present faculty, this college will continue to send out the kind of men and women required.

Congressman Wason, another member of the Board of Trustees, emphasized the magnitude of the task of choosing a successor to the late Dr. Fairchild, and expressed his confidence in the success of the institution under the leadership of President Hetzel.

The student body and faculty were urged by Prof. McKay to use every possible means of influencing the people of the state in the purchase of the second liberty loan. Professor McKay pointed out the absolute necessity of raising the required amount, and explained the system of easy payments which has been arranged. In closing his short talk Professor McKay said: "This war is to make the world safe in the future. If the money is not voluntarily given it will be conscripted."

EFFICIENT SERVICE AIM OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Co-operation of Every Member Urgently Needed to Put Through Worth While Program Outlined in Conferences.

The New Hampshire College Alumni Association has organized for efficient service. The officers of the Association have taken up their duties with the assurance of real support from every member. You are the representative New Hampshire man or woman in your community. The Alumni Association, the student body and the college all need your co-operation, your personal support. You must give more this year than you have ever given before. If you are doing your part for the nation in agricultural or industrial work you must assume a share of the support previously given this Association by those now in active service. Come on now, it's up to you to offer your services in that field of effort in which you can aid New Hampshire College the most. It is only with your help that the Alumni Association can work efficiently.

Every effort has been made during the summer months towards building up the new organization and making a survey of the work for the coming year. A policy of concentration has been adopted. That part of the alumni work formerly controlled by the college will now be carried on entirely by the Alumni Association, but at the expense of the college. Through a most intimate co-operation with the New Hampshire, the Alumni Association is able to maintain an office at Durham thoroughly equipped for the rapid handling of all mailing lists.

A questionnaire has been sent to all graduates of the college to secure data for the mailing lists and for the publication of a new alumni register to replace that issued by the college in 1914. A well organized campaign is being carried on to secure the record of every alumnus in the government service. This work is supplementary to that taken up last Spring by the college for the Inter-collegiate Bureau. Your co-operation in this campaign is of the greatest importance, as complete records cannot be obtained unless every alumnus becomes a reporter from his own district.

The Alumni Association is now officially represented throughout New Hampshire by our Vice President, L. A. Carlisle, '08, whose work with the boys of the state brings him to the attention of all alumni and friends of the college. Mr. Herbert Tucker, '12, is our national representative and in his trips from coast to coast meets with those groups of New Hampshire men in the larger cities who have already learned to anticipate his coming with news from "all down the line." Announcement can also be made that we are soon to be represented in France by W. H. L. Brackett, '14, who sails in about two weeks. Mr. Brackett will be stationed at a base hospital where he can always be reached by letter, both from the men at the front and from those at home. That is our most important office at this time and we are particularly fortunate to be so ably represented. You will soon be informed of his address and this information will also be sent to all New Hampshire men in the service.

The officers of the Association have naturally turned for council and advice to those older alumni who have always been leaders in the work of the Association, and to those younger members who were, while in college, among the foremost in all undergraduate activities. The following have been appointed as members of the Alumni Council: Charles H. Hood, '80; Charles E. Hewitt, '93; John C. Kendall, '02; Edwin D. Hardy, '06; Henry F. Judkins, '11; Edith G. Donnelly, '12; and W. H. L. Brackett, '14.

A meeting of the Executive Committee and Alumni Council was held with President Hetzel at Durham on Friday, October 5. This meeting presented the opportunity for President Hetzel to outline his wide policy as to the nature of the college and the work which he desires of the Association. Plans were also considered for a more efficient organization of our Association and the development of real co-operation with the college.

Every unit in the college organization has become an active factor for national service. The alumni must organize just as efficiently. The New Hampshire College Alumni Association has very important work to do at this time both for the college and for the nation. There is work for all. Remember our slogan, "Do it for New Hampshire."

BELIEVE MUCH IMPROVEMENT TO RESULT FROM JUNE MEETING.

To the alumni who attended the annual meeting in June it was evident that the men and women who were there came with the determination to arouse the Association from its lethargy of the past year to an energetic organization that the legislature would recognize as a power in the state, that the faculty could depend on and that the student body would look up to with trust, knowing it to be a group of loyal alumni who were always ready to "stand by."

The nominating committee, appointed by the temporary chairman, brought in the following list of officers who were elected: president, Edson D. Sanborn, '10, Fremont, N. H.; vice president, L. A. Carlisle, '08, Exeter, N. H.; secretary-treasurer, Paul D. Buckminster, '12, Everett, Mass. Why were these men chosen and why was it a good choice is the question that should come to the mind of every active alumnus.

There is no one who was in college with "Chuck" who will not immediately tell you, when his name is mentioned, that he had spirit enough, energy enough, and real determination to run two or three alumni associations. Has his "pep" waned during the years he has been out? Not one whit. It was he, last Spring, who aroused the New Hampshire men about Boston, and had a good attendance at an enthusiastic smoker where New Hampshire affairs were talked over, especially the athletic status of the college. Those present pledged themselves to help in raising funds for athletic scholarships to hold at New Hampshire some of the good athletes. A man who has the initiative to go ahead in this way is surely the man to make things hum, as president of the association.

There are alumni in a large percentage of the towns and cities of New Hampshire who must look to the extension workers for their bits of first hand news of the college, the little points of interest which never get into the papers. L. A. Carlisle, director of the Boys' Club Work, is always welcomed at the homes of these New Hampshire graduates as he is traveling from county to county.

In the evening when sitting with them talking over old days in Durham, as vice president of the Association, he can tell them of the very latest work accomplished and the plan of work to be done.

Paul D. Buckminster, '12, of Everett has shown himself very much interested in the alumni. Not only has he done splendid work in keeping in touch with his own classmates, but for a number of years back he has been a source of New Hampshire news for men about Boston. His method of keeping records is systematic, which will make the machinery of the association run smoothly.

This very salient point was brought out by Mr. Buckminster. When ballots are sent out for election of alumni trustee no statement is made as to whether the man then in office is willing to serve again or information given concerning other possible candidates; also, at the annual meeting, only a few alumni are present to vote on the officers of the association. To remedy this condition it was voted that a committee of three be appointed by the chair to act with the incoming executive committee to consider a revision of the constitution and by-laws as concerns the election of officers and of alumni trustee, to report same to the alumni by letter for action at the next annual meeting. Oscar Huse, '12, A. H. Brown, '11, and H. R. Tucker, '12, were appointed on the committee.

The work started by the group of wide-awake men, which Sanborn got together in Boston, had been working under the name of the New Hampshire College Alumni Athletic Board. It was voted to make this an official branch of the Alumni Association.

Those who attended this meeting left Durham with the feeling that the Association was destined to enjoy a year of vigorous constructive growth, that the men who had been elected to lead its activities were interested in a broad, far-sighted way, were planning for the future and were going to work with such a spirit and effective system as to make every alumnus proud of his association and anxious to do his part also, to bring New Hampshire to its rightful place among the colleges of New England.

1921 WOMEN'S CLUB ORGANIZATION UNDER WAY.

A meeting of the Freshmen girls was held Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 9, by the President of the 1918 Women's Club for the purpose of taking steps to organize the 1921 Women's Club. Esther Huse was elected temporary chairman and Helen Meader temporary secretary. The president and the secretary together with a committee of three, Dorothy Miller, Clara Smith, and Florence Hatch, will draw up a constitution which will be presented to the women of the Freshmen class next week, and will take other measures necessary for the speedy organization of the club.

ANNUAL ROPE PULL FALLS TO ORGANIZED SOPHOMORE TEAM.

The annual rope pull between the two lower classes was held at Coe's Bridge Wednesday night at four o'clock, the class of 1920 winning handily from the Freshmen.

A large and enthusiastic crowd of students assembled shortly before four to root for their respective favorites. With the best vocal and physical gyrations observed in years, the Sophomores, with a steady, cadent pull, dragged their unfortunate enemies through the shallow, but cold, waters of the Atlantic ocean in record time. When nearly across the narrow inlet, the Freshmen made a stubborn resistance, but as their anchor man and one or two others were not in positions that afforded the greatest possible amount of resistance their hopes were soon blasted.

Instead of cutting up the rope as trophies, as was formerly the custom, the Student Council ruled that it be saved for next year, owing to the high cost of hemp.

The men in the contest were: Freshmen: Cotton, Butler, Reardon, Sorden, Thompson, Davis, Knox, Holmes, Weston, Bailey, Gadois, Cook, Hambiet, McKelvie, Carpenter, Peterson, Shepherd, Franklin, Mann.

Sophomores: Paul, Fitts, Melville, Lougee, Felker, Ladd, F. W.; Congdon, Shannon, Field, Spinney, Jenness, Lane, Burpee, Cree, Pike, Ham, Harling, Thomas, Hilliard, Hicks.

STUDENTS INVITED TO VISIT GREENHOUSES AT ANY TIME.

This Fall the greenhouses usually devoted to sweet peas have been given over to tomatoes. This was done to promote the production of food-stuffs. The chrysanthemums are now in bloom and Mr. Macfarlane invites all students to visit the houses at any time.

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE IN N. H. TEACHING STAFF.

Instructor in Poultry Husbandry U. of M. Man. New Men in Several Other Departments.

Upper classmen returning to New Hampshire College found several new men on the teaching staff. Owing to the great demand for trained men there are more than the usual number of changes.

Mr. A. W. Richardson, professor of poultry husbandry, comes from the University of Maine where he has been instructor in poultry husbandry and assistant professor of animal industry. Mr. Richardson received his degree of bachelor of science in agriculture from University of Maine in 1906. He was a member of Theta Chi and Alpha Zeta fraternities. At the completion of his course there he went to Rhode Island experiment station, then conducted an extensive poultry business for himself for six years, after which he did graduate work at Maine. He also taught agriculture one year at Oliver Ames high school, North Easton, Mass.

The position as professor of Military Art, formerly held by Captain C. A. Hunt, who is now a major in France, is now being filled by Major Wygant.

Major Wygant might well be termed a self-made man as he rose from the position of an enlisted man to his present rank in the army. In the battle of Santiago he fought in the ranks of the 6th infantry but received his Second Lieutenantcy that year and was promoted to a First Lieutenant in 1899. He has served with the 3rd, 2nd, 13th, 25th, and 21st infantry, and has seen a large amount of foreign service with three tours of duty in the Philippines and one in the Hawaiian Islands. In 1903 he was made a Captain. He retired because of physical disability with the rank of Major, June 18, 1917.

C. R. Fischer is the new instructor in chemistry this year, succeeding A. J. Grant who is at the second Plattsburg camp. Mr. Fischer has just received his B. S. degree from the Delaware State College where he took the regular course in Chemical Engineering.

In athletics he was the star basketball player, being both manager and captain of his class team and winning his letters two out of three years on the Varsity. He played forward. He also played on the 1917 class football team. He is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. He prepared for college at the Philadelphia Central Training High School.

Mr. Edward Long of Dover, instructor in forestry, was born in Lyons, France, and moved to Ottawa, Canada, with his father in 1899. He was graduated from Dover High School in 1913 and entered New Hampshire College the same year. In 1917 he received his degree of bachelor of science in agriculture. He was a member of the Commons Club. Unfortunately Mr. Long's number in the new national army is such that he expects to go from Dover within a short time.

Mr. J. R. Hepler comes to New Hampshire College from University of Wisconsin where he has been instructor in horticulture and has done graduate work. Mr. Hepler is a native of Pennsylvania and received his degree of bachelor of science in horticulture in 1911 at Pennsylvania State College where he was a member of Phi Kappa Phi honorary fraternity. He will be assistant professor of horticulture and teach vegetable gardening and landscape gardening.

Mr. K. B. Laird will teach botany this year. He has been teaching botany the past year in Hartford, Conn. High School. He received the degree of bachelor of science at M. A. C. in 1916, and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa fraternity.

In the dairy department Mr. Heber F. DePew will be instructor. He was awarded the degree of bachelor of science in agriculture in 1917 at Purdue University. He was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and active in varsity track, university glee club and Harlequin dramatic club.

GIRLS' ADVISORY COMMITTEE ELECTED AT COUNCIL MEETING.

A meeting of the Girls' Council was called Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 9, by the President, Martha Hoitt. The following members of the Girls' Advisory Committee were elected: Irene Huse, '18; Sara Greenfield, '19; Ethelle Hayes, '20 to represent the resident girls; and Elsie King, '18 and Beatrice Smith, '20 to represent the commuters.

THEORY AND PRACTICE OF MILITARY ART RESUMED.

Reserved Officers' Training Corps Established Under Government Regulations—Five Companies in Regiment.

The New Hampshire College Regiment of the Reserved Officers' Training Corps is the new title of our little student army which is now in training here to do its bit for the cause of liberty. Because of the minimum and maximum limits placed by the government on the size of a company, only five companies of a little more than fifty men can be formed this year. One company is comprised entirely of athletes who have special drill periods to avoid conflicts with their athletic practice. The regular hours for drill are from 4 to 5 o'clock on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons and from 2.30 to 5 on Wednesday afternoons. This number of periods will probably be decreased with the coming of Winter.

While considerable interest is displayed by the upperclassmen in electing Military Art, yet material to officer the regiment is not very abundant for many have enlisted or obtained commissions in the National Army because of their previous training.

CONDITIONS

According to a bill enacted by Congress last Spring, those who have taken Military Art two years and elect to take it two more years are allowed the equivalent to the army garrison rations. This allowance amounts to about thirty cents a day, but varies with the high cost of living and depends upon the efficiency of the war department official's indigestion pills the day he makes out his report. Also fourteen dollars is allowed toward the military uniform which is considered the property of the government during the first year. At the conclusion of the year the uniform automatically reverts to the wearer who may then treat it as his own. In order to obtain these financial recompenses, the student must attend two Plattsburg camps of four weeks each and must drill five hours a week during the two years.

TRENCH DIGGING

Major Wygant, Professor of Military Art this year, plans to take up both the theoretical and practical side of army life. Probably two or three marches will be taken. There will be work along the lines of building and destroying obstacles. Doubtless what stray bits of camouflage wander over here from "somewhere in France" will be discussed and the camouflage art itself will likely be practised, especially by those who expect to get a rank of 90 without opening a book. Trench digging will again be in order and it is suggested that extra large parties remain in the rear as reserves so that extra labor with the pick and shovel will not be required to conceal their spacious bodies. Considering the scarcity of cooks in the regular army, Major Wygant hints that there may be a little work for a few in camp cooking.

GIVE BELLS AND RULES TO 1921 GIRLS AT RECEPTION.

The Young Women's Christian Association gave a reception to the Freshman girls last Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in Smith Hall parlor. In the receiving line were Dean Knowlton, Mrs. Hetzel, Mrs. Simmers, Mrs. Steck, Mrs. Dabney, and Florence Harris, '18, President of the Association. Miss Harris welcomed the new girls and explained a little of the purpose of the Y. W. C. A., urging them to take advantage of the benefits it offered. Ethel Kelleher, '19, gave a piano solo, and Mrs. Charles Pettee, '17, sang. After the program, ice cream and wafers was served. The Sophomores then took the opportunity to distribute among the Freshmen their bells and the rules of conduct which are for their guidance until Thanksgiving.

Professor Fuller spoke at a meeting of the Granite State Dairymen's Association held at the farm of R. D. Hunter this week upon the value and interpretation of advanced registry records.

CRITICS SAY MINSTREL SHOW LACKING IN ACTION.

Poster Fight Easily Won by Sophomores Through Experience—Both Contests Revealed Poor Organization of Classes.

True to the traditions of the institution, nearly two hundred Freshmen obeyed the mandates of the Sophomores and appeared at the gymnasium last Wednesday evening for their preliminary breaking-in exercises.

Differing in one respect from previous minstrel shows, this affair was marked by the lack of violent demonstrations. There was not the usual noise and many of the stunts were conspicuous by their absence. An improvised orchestra varied the hub-bub, while guileless and harmless Freshmen were taught cheers for 1920 and learned how to meet paddles with the least resistance.

Friends of the friendless opened various avenues of escape throughout the evening, but their efforts went unaccepted and unappreciated.

Owing to the high prices of food-stuffs, tomatoes and other garden crops did not appear on the scene to any extent. After several fruitless attempts to arouse a little enthusiasm in the two lower classes, the spectators abandoned the hall, declaring the show the meekest in years.

After passing the fire and water tests at the gym, the class of 1921 tried in vain to avoid the issues set forth in the posters pasted conspicuously in many places early the next morning.

NO CASUALTIES

Due to the lack of complete organization in the upper classes, the proper information was not given the Freshmen and they had an uphill task before them in trying to win with numbers over experience and cunning. Meeting near the overhead bridge towards Newmarket, the larger part of the class of '21 waited and wondered for a large part of the night. Becoming divided into small parties, they had more than the customary trouble in recognizing classmates in the dark. As a result, several unnecessary conflicts were waged, but, happily, no casualties have been reported.

Shortly before seven o'clock, Dean Pettee's water tower was the scene of an engagement between small parties from each lower class. The men of '21 tried to crawl to the tower to remove a few objectionable posters, but their efforts were successfully repulsed. Just before the bell in "T." Hall rang, there was an aerial engagement at the Crescent. Perched on the roof of that commodious edifice, "Smiles" Leavitt, '20, labored valiantly to keep his assailants from climbing to the roof, where there were several posters. Wrestling a bucket of paste from one of the number, he turned it on the host and had the satisfaction of seeing them vanish over the edge, instead of "over the top."

As there were several posters intact at seven o'clock, the Sophomores won the contest, thus forcing the class of '21 to respect and obey the rules laid down for them.

SUPT. BROOKS OF EXETER SPEAKS TO EDUCATION CLASS.

Superintendent Mayo S. Brooks, of the Exeter public schools, gave a most interesting talk before the class in Education 5 Wednesday morning. With twenty-three years' experience as a teacher, his remarks on "do's" and "don't's" for coming teachers were especially forceful. Teach for the love of it, possess specific and professional training, be of strong character and neat appearance, be honest, frank, and a lover of children, and mix with the townspeople, were the main points that Mr. Brooks impressed upon his audience.

NEW MEMBERS AND OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR STUDENT COUNCIL.

At the first meeting of the Student Council, Monday, October 9, R. F. Cahalane, '18, was elected President and A. N. Graham, '18, was chosen secretary. The members of the council for 1917-18 are: R. F. Cahalane, Kappa Sigma; J. E. Miltimore, Gamma Theta; M. B. Lane, Theta Chi; R. D. Brackett, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; L. Dreler, non-fraternity man; and A. N. Graham, Beta Phi.
