PHYSICAL EXAM FOR STUDENTS

Trustees Vote Measure as Safeguard to Health

WILL BE WELCOMED

As Decided Benefit to Individual and to College—Progressive Step in Direction of Sound Physique

At a meeting of the college trustees held here October 12, it was voted that hereafter every student at New Hampshire College will pass a physical examination upon entering. Following the examinations to be held by doctors, one man and one woman soon to be appointed, physical exercises will be prescribed in accordance with the needs of the individuals.

This decision was reached after a year of consideration and its aim is to make not only the general good health average higher, but also to eliminate all chances of having any student in college who is undesirable from a physical standpoint. As some such arrangement as the one adopted has long been considered important and valuable, students and faculty members sincerely appreciate the efforts of the board of trustees and anticipate marked improvements in the direction of sound physical make-up.

AID CLASSMATES NOW AT FRONT

By Subscribing to Student Liberty Bond

FOR IMPROVEMENT FUND

The New Hampshire Asks Every Individual to Contribute Something Towards Its Purchase

The New Hampshire proposes to buy a $50 Liberty bond and add it to the New Hampshire Day fund. The bond is to be paid for by student subscription and the New Hampshire hopes to see a heavy over subscription.

The state public safety committee is making a house to house canvas in Durham to sell bonds. Every man in Durham, not a student, will be asked to buy. The students of New Hampshire do not wish to be left out. If they can not buy bonds individually, they can and will do so collectively.

The managing editor of the New Hampshire will post the names of the collectors, and when they make their rounds, PAY! Your classmates are in France, or getting ready to go there. It is up to you to help them in every way you know how.

SACRIFICE

Give up the thing you wanted and contribute. Never mind if it hurts to pay. It is a time of hurts. Men, women and children must sacrifice now. This is your chance.

The New Hampshire is soliciting this subscription, knowing well that soon you will be asked to help the Red Cross, and that probably a little later you will be asked to buy bonds of a third Liberty issue. You must do your part for all these things, and for the others that come after them.

Think of your classmates and of your country and subscribe.

FOOTBALL TEAM MEETS RHODE ISLAND TODAY.

New Hampshire's football squad left for Kingston, R. I., to play Rhode Island, Friday morning. The New Hampshire squad has been putting in overtime practice as a preparation for this game. Owing to Connors, the star back's sprained shoulder and Graham, a linesman's sprained ankle, the New Hampshire prospects do not look as bright as they should. "Billy" Brackett and "Chuck" Sanborn, old New Hampshire football stars have been assisting Coach Cowell in developing some trick plays in order to defeat Rhode Island. Brackett spent last year as assistant coach to the Ohio State team which won the "Big Nine" western championship. Both of these men will go with the team to Kingston. About twenty men will make the trip. The team will spend Friday night in Providence. Coach Cowell feels confident that the team will return as the winners.

New Hampshire State is at present negotiating with Boston College to play them at Haverhill stadium on Nov. 10. The negotiations have been going on for some time but no decision has been reached. New Hampshire is also considering a proposition to play the 1st Naval Reserve team from Portland on Nov. 10. This team defeated Colby last Saturday and is playing a fast game.

Y. W. C. A. LISTENS TO MISSIONARY FROM INDIA.

A meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held last Friday night at 7.30, in Smith Hall parlor. Alice Kemp had charge of the meeting, and the speaker was Miss Fairbanks, a missionary from India, and a representative of the student volunteer movement. She was in native costume, and talked to the girls about her life in India, and her work there, also explaining the student volunteer movement, and urging them to take an interest in it.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEFEATS SOLDIERS

McKinley Team is Outplayed—Broderick Does Good Work in First Game as Captain

New Hampshire opened its football season last Saturday, Oct. 13, on College Field by defeating Fort McKinley 23-0. This was certainly a fine showing, considering the short time the team has had for practice, and speaks well for their development since Coach Cowell has had them in hand. Fort McKinley outweighed New Hampshire and was surprisingly fast, but the teamwork and quickness of the Blue and White was too much for the Portland aggregation.

INDIVIDUALS

The work of Connors, a freshman, was especially satisfactory to Coach Cowell. Broderick, playing his first game as captain of the team, made several long runs and was especially brilliant in running back the punts. "Les" Bell, at left tackle, and "Skeet" Irvine at right end, both played a good game.

Connors scored New Hampshire's first touchdown in the first quarter. Broderick followed with the second one in the second quarter and Hewey with the third one in the third quarter.

SUMMARY

The lineup was as follows:

New Hampshire	Fort McKinley
Leavitt, l. e.	r. e. Dwinnell

Griffin Safely in France—Ordway to Go As Instructor—Rice Injured In Fall

The faculty committee has received several letters from students and alumni in the service, but it wants to receive many more each week. Parts of these letters will be printed in each issue of the New Hampshire. Help us to help you by sending a letter at frequent intervals.

An aunt of M. W. Smalley, 2-yr. '18, writes, "We suppose he is now in France. The last letter his father received was dated Sept. 24, Camp Bartlett, and they were packed ready to move somewhere. They had rations for four meals."

Philip C. Griffin, '17, recently cabled his parents in Portsmouth of his safe arrival in France, where he went with an expeditionary force lately sent by the government.

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE

Former Captain C. A. Hunt, '01, U. S. A., now ranking lieutenant, is 70 yards from the wire entanglements before the German trenches "Somewhere in France."

Booma, '20, 2d Lt. U. S. R., and E. L. Bell, '18, 2d Lt. U. S. R., are attending a bayonet school in France. C. B. Tibbetts, '17, 2d Lt. U. S. R., stationed at Camp Devens, has written that F. I. Ordway, '18, "said in his last letter that L. L. Rice, '19, had an accident, resulting in a fall. He was pretty badly injured. Ordway is flying his own machine. Said that it was just as easy as driving a Ford. He leaves Toronto, Can., for Texas very soon to act as instructor."

In closing, Tibbetts said, "Give my regards to New Hampshire and tell that football team if they beat Dartmouth, we will give them anything they want." His address is Hq. Co., 303 F. A.

YOUNGEST SERGEANT

A. E. McKenney, '19, writes that he has the distinction of being the youngest first sergeant in the army. He is in Bat. B, 1st Maine heavy artillery, stationed at Camp Curtis Guild, Boxford, Mass.

F. D. Willard, '20, in Battery A, 19th Cav., stationed at Fort Ethan Allen says that the cavalry has been changed to 3-in. artillery. "Orders have been received at the fort for the 19th to be clothed for foreign service in two weeks. If we go across, as I sincerely hope, I will try to let you know how everything is going in our section."

SPEAKS AT GRANGE FAIR.

Professor Richardson of the poultry department spoke recently at the school and grange fair held at Whitefield. His subject was the selection of market and breeding fowls.

The students in poultry 61 are now getting practical work in the handling of market fowls. Various methods of killing, picking and dressing are being taken up.

SECOND FOOTBALL ELEVEN VS. EXETER HIGH TODAY.

Coach Cowell has made arrangements for a game between Exeter high and New Hampshire's second eleven here today. Exeter has one of the best high school teams in the state, is coached by "Buckie" Bissell, N. H. C., '17, and should put up quite a defence.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION.

Last year one of the former instructors here, Prof. George A. Perley, put forth the proposition that all students on entering college should be subjected to a physical examination. The idea was little commented upon at the time, but it has borne fruit, as evidenced by the recent action of the board of trustees. Their decision is one of the most important in the history of the college. The men on this board felt that the institution is bound to take every possible precaution in safeguarding the general welfare of the students, and aimed their first blow at ill health.

Nothing too good can be said of the measure, as it nourishes the very roots of the problem, namely, good health. This quality of being sound physically is taken for granted, but too often lightly passed over. The plans under way are based on sound sociological and physiological principles and a marked advantage in student efficiency must result. Undesirables will be eliminated and the unsound will receive training that will build up and improve. Professor Perley's notions are about to be put to the test and there is no shadow of doubt that the college will profit immeasurably.

INCREASE IN WAGES.

That portion of the students who work for the college for a cash consideration will be pleased to learn that the reward for labor has increased from 15 to 20 cents an hour. With present conditions of living, this raise makes more even the balance between wages and expenses.

THE ATHLETIC OUTLOOK.

In spite of pessimistic opinions and a dubious mid-summer outlook, athletics are looking upward. This much has been done. A very promising football team is being rapidly whipped into shape by the industry of Mr. Cowell. Saturday's game proved that. The large number of husky men to be seen nightly on the field warrants the belief that a highly successful season is due.

Then cross country, although almost new here, is a sport which is bound to place New Hampshire athletics in the front rank this Fall. One man on the team is almost unbeatable and several others in the large squad are bound to make their places on the team when it is chosen to race the Bowdoin aggregation. So much for the active, strenuous side of athletics. Now for the inactive side.

At Saturday's game not two-thirds of the students were there to lend their sympathies and voices to the occasion. They were absent because they did not see four dollars' worth of interest in college athletics. Because of this blindness, the crowd was small. Because of both conditions, the cheering was nil. Those present were scattered all over the field. Being scattered, both on the field and off, good cheering was impossible. Without loud and united vocal demonstrations, a football game isn't a football game, not in college, at any rate. Then too, very few men and women go up to watch practice during the week.

The trouble is self-evident; we lack personal interest. If we possessed it, we would also own an association ticket, get up to practice, talk athletics, get together for cheering practice and then go to the games, well fitted to demonstrate our confidence in the coach and the men he is training to bring athletic laurels to New Hampshire. Get behind and push, get ahead and lead; don't stay out of sight and do nothing, think nothing, and say nothing.

CONCLUSIVE PROOF.

Are the Seniors capable of managing themselves and others in a practical way? Or, as critics have often asked, "Does college fit men to do things—to lead?"

When Major Wygant was transferred to Wesleyan, these questions were answered. The zeal and intelligent manner with which the senior officers have grasped the military problem proves conclusively that these men have the right idea of college. Being thrown onto individual responsibilities is a new experience to most collegians, that is, when a student is placed in the position of instructor.

In spite of all the troubles and degeneration arising from a condition of war, many good things crop out, and the present military situation here is one of them. It may be truly said that college training is valuable, when it fits students to become leaders when their leaders are called away.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS.

Just a word of caution is apropos. A few individuals, thoughtless ones of course, seem to take keen delight in tramping on the grass instead of staying on the walks. With one of the most beautiful and extensive campuses in New England, the size of the college being considered, enough concern over its appearance should be felt to insure its present beauty. This chopping off corners in order to "get there" more quickly is not worth the damage done. Obey the time worn sign and "keep off the grass."

A TEST OF SPORTSMANSHIP.

Many of the women students have nursed grievances through the Summer over the method devised for choosing rooms. As nearly as can be learned, the old scheme was simply that of getting there first with the largest roll, in order to secure the best room. Simply the ability to pay the price and being fortunate in arrival.

The new way of apportioning rooms is something like this. The Senior girls are given first consideration in the drawing of numbers. The one getting the lowest number is awarded the privilege of first choice of rooms and roommate. And so on, down through the classes, the drawing of numbers determines the rooming place.

Let us see how the two methods work out. In the first, a girl might fortunately have a better grade of room her first year, and keep it throughout her college course. Is it quite fair to hog all the good things, even though able to pay? Other girls, having less stable pocket books, would vary in fortune, having perhaps better rooms each year. Taken all in all, the old system wasn't so bad after all, when we consider that money talks.

Now turn to the new system. There is, of course, a large element of lottery. The girls take a chance, and win or lose, as luck has it. If they win, joy is theirs, if the cards come wrong, they wail with grief and claim unfairness. They say that it is unfair to set a standard price on all rooms, regardless of desirability. One girl gets a room worth $85 for $65, while another gets one worth $50 for $65.

The sole object in the project is to give every girl an equal chance, regardless of pocketbooks.

In fraternity houses, the drawing of rooms is similar and works well, the fellows proving themselves "good sports." Will the girls do as much? If at the end of the year, Dean Knowlton's plan is not successful, she will be willing to abandon it, but just now, she desires the girls to make the sacrifice involved in its trial. We await the outcome with interest.

AIDS ABSENT CLASSMATES.

The schedule mapped out by the Durham branch of the American Red Cross is one that promises to bring good results to the college. As planned, the scheme of helping New Hampshire men in the service, through channels afforded by the Red Cross, is one that has the hearty endorsement of faculty and students.

Like most worthy objects, there is a cash, as well as personal consideration, and the canvass soon to be made must be a success from the money viewpoint. Remember that whatever amount is expended by us, in behalf of our absent classmates, will reach them directly. The satisfaction in helping a good cause in such a friendly intimate way is greater, perhaps, than simply giving to the Red Cross as a matter of duty. When the opportunity comes to exhibit our interest in college men at the front, the response will come from all men and women now enjoying here the privileges laid aside by those whom we are to assist.

INDICTS GERMANY FOR WAR AND PLEADS CONSERVATION.

At Convocation, on Wednesday, October 17, Professor Whoriskey spoke upon the European situation, at present and previous to the outbreak of this great war. Professor Whoriskey is intensely interested in the war and follows the movements of the nations very closely. Having travelled extensively in the European countries he is familiar with the ways of living and habits of thought that have been cultivated in the people.

By reviewing the important historical events of the past fifty years, Professor Whoriskey skillfully pictured to his hearers, the events that took place in the courts of the nations, which lead up to the titanic struggle that is now on. He enumerated what he believes to be the direct causes of the war, claiming that it was within the power of Germany to have averted the catastrophe.

The speaker dwelt to some extent upon the relations between Germany and this country previous to the breaking off of diplomatic relations. He recalled several events, occurring within the last few years, that proved beyond a doubt that Germany was desirous of conquering this nation. In closing he said that this is a war between two widely different forms of government, and apparently there can be no end until one or the other is beaten. It is for the individual to do all within his power to conserve that our democratic form may continue to exist.

MRS. R. D. HETZEL GIVEN TEA BY WOMAN'S LEAGUE.

On Thursday afternoon, October 11, from four o'clock to six the Woman's League entertained at tea in the Kappa Sigma house in honor of Mrs. R. D. Hetzel.

In the receiving line, besides Mrs. Hetzel, were Mrs. Morgan, president of the Woman's League, Miss Martha Emerson, and Miss Frieda Reiner.

At tables prettily decorated with red roses, tea was poured by Mrs. Hewitt, Mrs. Fairchild, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. Croghan, and Mrs. DeMeritt.

1918 "BIG SISTERS" WILL LOOK AFTER 1921 GIRLS.

The "Big Sister" movement, which was started last year, is again gaining popularity and under Dean Knowlton's supervision each Senior woman has been allotted three Freshman women for whom she is responsible. The big sister is supposed to help the little sister to gain the most she can from the college life, and to aid and encourage her in every possible way, particularly through the first few early weeks of the new college life, and the little sister in turn will find many ways to be of service to her big sister.

FANCY APPLES, HAYS, AND DAIRY PRODUCTS EXHIBITED.

At the New England States Exhibit, held at Springfield, Mass., this week, New Hampshire made a very creditable showing. The exhibit was arranged by Professor Wolff of the horticultural department and Mr. Farmer of the State Department of Agriculture. It held a place between the exhibits from Maine and Con-

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB WILL GIVE CONCERT AND OPERETTA.

At the rehearsal of the Girls' Glee Club, last Monday evening in Thompson Hall, only college songs were practiced. A business meeting followed, in charge of Irene Huse, leader of the club. Plans were made to give a concert in December and an operetta next Spring.

Until the tryout, the club will have a rehearsal every Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Thompson Hall. All the girls are invited to attend and show their interest by participating in the singing.

The position of pianist is now open. Any girl wishing to try out, will please notify Miss Huse at once.

WIDELY SCATTERED DURING SUMMER

Members of Faculty Go to Distant Points for Work and Play

The members of the Arts and Science faculty were scattered during the summer vacation. The limits of their range were California and Crawford Notch, as far as can be ascertained.

Prof. M. O. K. McKay, head of the Economics department, spent most of his time in Cambridge, but made a few trips to Durham to look after his interests in the faculty potato garden, which, without his valiant efforts, would have turned out an ignominious failure.

Prof. C. W. Scott, having lived in Durham long enough to appreciate the town, remained here all summer, cultivating his garden and completing arrangements for a so-called catch-all course, History 9, which he concluded to open to all students between the ages of four and 100. Needless to say, the course is a popular one, as Professor Scott is a man well known to all of us between the ages specified.

DEAN GROVES

Prof. E. R. Groves, an instructor known not only in courses in Sociology here at Durham but throughout the country, to students of social service, lectured at the summer school on Lake George and also at Lake Geneva. This is Professor Groves' third summer at Lake George, a favor never conferred before, in point of continuity. Next summer he will teach by invitation at the Ontario Agricultural College, one of the best in Canada. Having recently spoken at Conway, and with engagements extending throughout the Winter, Professor Groves anticipates a busy season, in addition to his duties here.

Professor C. H. Simmers had the first real vacation in fifteen years this summer. He spent two months at his old home in Iowa and renewed his youth by tilling the soil.

MADE INSTRUCTOR

Dr. Richards and his family spent the summer in Berkeley, California. During the summer session of the University of California Dr. Richards attended courses in Public Speaking, Dramatic Art and Spanish. During the course in Dramatic Art he "did his bit" by acting Malvolio (Twelfth Night), Tony Lumpkin (She Stoops to Conquer), Monsieur Bol (Rosalie) and Barclay (Riders to the Sea.) When the lecturer in charge of the course in Public Speaking was taken ill with appendicitis, Dr. Richards was chosen by the class to be their instructor for the remainder of the course. While attending the summer school session he was elected a transient member of the University Faculty Club. Shortly before Dr. Richards left Berkeley, he saw the opening of the regular session of the university, the freshman class numbering 1,800. At the annual freshman-sophomore contest he saw the freshmen win the rope-pull and the jousting, and lose the relay race and the tie-up. Dr. Richards thinks that the relay race and the jousting, as they were conducted by the California men, would be novel and entertaining features for the freshman-sophomore contest here at New Hampshire.

ADDITIONS

Two additions have been made to the Arts and Science faculty. Mr. Vining, instructor in the English department, is a graduate of Boston University, having taken his master's degree there. He comes to New Hampshire with an unexcelled record as a teacher, having instructed in the native schools of Porto Rico for some time, besides seeing service in New Hampshire schools.

Mr. Kelley, instructor in the modern language department, was graduated from Harvard in 1914, taking his A. B. degree. Following his graduation he worked for the B. F. Goodrich Tire Company, until he obtained the position he now fills.

PROF. WHORISKEY LECTURES.

Professor Whoriskey will speak before the Dover Woman's Club Tuesday, October 23, in Dover. Friday night, October 26, he will give a lecture at a meeting of the teachers of Home Economics in Manchester, N.H.

PROFESSOR E. R. GROVES' ARTICLES IN GREAT DEMAND.

Prof. E. R. Groves, of the department of sociology, published an article in the last number of the American Journal of Sociology entitled: "Sociology and Psychoanalytic Psychology: An Interpretation of the Freudian Hypothesis." There has been a nation-wide demand for a reprint and it is interesting to note that requests have come especially from Jews and Jewish organizations. Freud is of Jewish descent.

Professor Groves also has articles in the last number of the Psychoanalytic Review and in the November number of Rural Manhood. Having recently spoken at Claremont and at Wolfeboro, and having accepted an invitation to review books of a sociological character for "Mental Hygiene," Professor Groves is introducing his personality and thoughts into many parts of the country, making still more general his enviable reputation.

FACULTY POTATOES SHOW GOOD YIELD

Club Turns Out Tubers With Aid of Sweet Cider and Song

On September 20, the following notice was sent to the members of the Faculty Potato Club:

"Staff Headquarters Faculty Potato Club.

General Order, No. 3.

All members of the Faculty Potato Club in good standing are herewith fine condition and well trained and after watching the maneuvers for a while awarded the "Iron Hoe" to Registrar Ham, and "Greenhouse Mac."

In order to perpetuate this historic scene with all its life and detail for future generations to gaze upon, the official staff photographer was ordered to open fire. He succeeded in "taking" the whole platoon with no casualties as indicated by the picture above.

TOSS ON BAGS

After 177 bags of potatoes had of the work was immediately wired to Food Dictator Hoover who sent the following reply, "Good work, boys, do it again next year."

RED CROSS MONEY FOR OUR MEN

To Benefit Directly by Sale of Membership Buttons Next Wednesday—Do Your Part

A meeting of the executive committee of the Durham branch of the directed to report in uniform with complete field equipment at the Faculty Potato Patch at 8.30 A. M., Saturday, Sept. 22, 1917.

Said uniform to consist of one straw hat, one old shirt and one pair of overalls. Said equipment to consist of one half-bushel basket or bucket and two or three burlap rugs. Each member will furnish his own commutations of rations for the day.

Signed O. V. HENDERSON,
Secretary, General Staff.
(Spud Division.)"

ABSENTEES

In compliance with the above order nineteen of the twenty-seven members of the club reported for duty at the patch Saturday morning. The remaining ones offered a greater variety of excuses for their absence than the students conjure up on the day after a vacation. Dean Groves forgot to wind his alarm clock the night before and slept too late. O'Kane had not been near the patch all summer and was unable to locate it. "Otto" Eckman was called away to see a sick cow (which by the way has since died). "Joe" Gourley was observing some Jewish holiday and had to hire a substitute. "Billy" Wolff said that the excess adipose tissue in the region of his belt precluded the possibility of stooping over to pick up "taters." Fawcett had taken his "flivver" and gone to visit his grandmother down in Pennsylvania, while M. C. Wilson had been commandeered by his wife to take care of the baby for the day.

LUNCH INTERFERES

Fearing that all the hand hoes and forks would be bent and broken by the Sampson-like thrusts of some of the untutored and unskilled agriculturists in the club, Farmer Stone had brought out the large two-horse digger which proceeded to go down after the spuds and deposit them in rows on top of the ground. Everything moved along nicely until about 10 o'clock when "Pa" Taylor brought out a jug of sweet cider and a basket of apples. This sort of broke up the meeting and much valuable time was lost during the disposition of these light refreshments. Several members including Simmers, McKay and Porter admitted they had gotten up so early that they had to leave home without their breakfasts. It is reported that Dean Hewitt and Professor Scott got most of the cider.

INSPECTION

About 10.30 Huddleston, who simply stood around most of the time anyway, gave the alarm that "Prexy" Hetzel was coming across the field. The members were then lined up by General "Pete" Henderson and ordered to "present arms" while being reviewed by President Hetzel. The president pronounced the "troops" in been filled the transport wagons were requisitioned and the spuds were loaded. Here was where Coach Cowell, Ritzman, Straw and Ross Wilson performed feats of strength and skill in tossing those 1½ and 2 bushel bags of potatoes around as if they were footballs. It was at this stage of the proceedings that it was discovered that "Dick" and Scudder had been putting stones in the bags as soon as they found out that the potatoes were to be divided by weight instead of measure.

ORIGINAL SONG

When the last load had started for the barn the members gathered upon a large ledge of rock and sang the following anthem, entitled the "Battle-cry of Feed 'Em" which is reported to have been composed by Dairyman Fuller and set to music by "Mathematics" Steck:

We'll rally round the hoe, boys, and join the ranks of toil,
Shouting the battle cry of "Feed em!"
We'll train the crops to grow, boys, as tillers of the soil,
Shouting the battle cry of "Feed em!"
Where there is work to do, boys, we'll gather on the spot,
Shouting the battle cry of "Feed em!"
Nature, kind mater, will aid us in our need
Down with the tater, up with the weed!

So we'll rally round the hoe, boys, and train the crops to grow,
Shouting the battle cry of "Feed em!"

RESULTS

After the potatoes had been graded and weighed, it was found that 192 bushels of "firsts," 56 bushels of "seconds" and 12 bushels of "culls," a total of 260 bushels had been grown on the 1½ acres of ground. The cost of the potatoes, including 25 bushels of seed at $4 per bushel, plowing, fertilizer, cultivation, and spraying, but not the weeding and hoeing which had been done by the individual members, was about 80 cents per bushel. A complete report of all the details

American Red Cross was held in the office of Prof. C. F. Jackson, head of the committee, on Monday. At this meeting it was decided to solicit membership to the Red Cross among the students, the funds to be used directly in serving New Hampshire men in all branches of the service. Next Wednesday has been chosen as tag day and at the beginning and close of Chapel, members of the committee, with the help of assistants will sell membership buttons at the regular price, one dollar each.

As every cent collected will be of direct benefit to former New Hampshire college students, the response to the invitation to join the Red Cross will no doubt be unanimous. Anyone desiring further information as to the purposes and object of this branch of the Red Cross, may obtain it by applying to the following members of the committee: Prof. C. F. Jackson, Irene Huse, '18; Ruth Hadley, '18; Ruth McQuesten, '20; M. B. Lane, '18 and A. N. Graham, '18.

APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF RESEARCH COMMITTEE.

Dean C. E. Hewitt has been appointed by the State Committee on Public Safety, Chairman of a sub-committee on Research. The other two members on the committee are Prof. G. F. Hull of Dartmouth College and Vasco E. Nunez, Chemist for the Nashua Gummed and Coated Paper Company of Nashua, N. H.

The work of this committee will be closely correlated with that of the National Research Council and it is hoped to so organize the work that research along the line of governmental requirements will be carried on in the laboratories of New Hampshire and Dartmouth College and in the laboratories of all of the large industrial plants within the state of New Hampshire.
