MOTIONS PASSED IN THE ACADEMIC SENATE MEETING

OF NOVEMBER 27, 1995

Motion on Relationship of the Faculty Senate

A motion was made that the Academic Senate refer to the Judiciary Committee of the Academic Senate, to explore the relationship between the Faculty Senate and the Academic Senate and to bring recommendations back to the Academic Senate. The motion passed.

Motion on the Writing Requirement

A motion was made that the passage of Gen. Ed. Revision # 1 be finalized as described in the four-page document "Motion to Revise the University Writing Requirement (Draft for Discussion 10/18/95)", including a revised version of the 5/8/95 motion that "All undergraduate students will be required to complete Freshman Writing plus three 'writing-intensive' courses, at least one of which will be in the major and at least one of which will be on a 600 level or above"; second "that a Writing Committee be formally constituted as a Permanent Committee" as outlined in the same document but amended to say that "Since Liberal Arts (English Department) will have permanent representation through categories 5, 6, or 7, there should be at least one additional Liberal Arts representative to ensure the other departments can also be represented." The motion and its amendments passed. Implementation will begin with the freshmen class entering in the fall of 1996.
