WAR CAMPAIGN GREAT SUCCESS

Much Competition Between Companies

LIBERAL DONATIONS.

Professor Simmers, Local Chairman, Gives Report of Townspeople and College

The report of the United War Work Campaign as carried on in Durham has been delayed, owing to the large number of contributors; inadequate help in keeping accounts, and a positive effort to keep a systematized account; but at last we have a detailed statement to make to the public. Only one or two slight discrepancies occur in it and it seems quite probable they will be corrected soon.

We have collected the following cash and hold unpaid pledges as indicated.

Townspeople in Durham,	$840.00	$93.50
Faculty,	197.00	463.00
College Girls,	231.00	547.50
College Employees,	13.00	18.00
Co. A. in S. A. T. C.,		2.00
Co. B in S. A. T. C.,	65.00	29.25
Co. C in S. A. T. C.,	36.60	24.60
Co. D in S. A. T. C.,	44.75	9.00
Co. E in S. A. T. C.,	61.00	154.50
Co. F in S. A. T. C.,	95.16	83.00
Co. G in S. A. T. C.,	68.00	328.00
Co. H in S. A. T. C.,	68.65	122.50
Naval Unit,	88.00	122.00
College Unit,	23.00	5.50

$1,831.16 2,002.85

Total cash received, $1,831.16
Total unpaid pledges, 2,002.85

Total amount of contributions, $3,834.01

The total of paid pledges checks exactly with the total cash received in every instance except that in Co. G, the paid pledges seem to amount to $5.00 more than the cash paid, and in Co. C, the total amount of cash received is $36.60. This makes the sum total of cash received amount to $14.35 more than the sum total of paid pledges. I also know positively that a few pledges are still forthcoming from the townspeople of Durham.

ONE HUNDRED PER CENT.

It is interesting to note that the college girls are 100 per cent. subscribed. Also the Naval Unit, Cos. E. F. G. and H. Co. F won the distinction of being the first to become 100 per cent. subscribed and the others mentioned soon followed it over the top in this respect.

Co. G has maintained the distinction not only of subscribing the largest amount, ($401.50), but of having the largest average amount for all men,—the average being nearly $4.00 each. Of the vocational units Co. B made the best showing. It subscribed a total of $94.25 with an average of $1.50 for each man who subscribed.

Co. D offered to give one twentieth of the collection from its company entertainment to the vocational unit making the highest average subscription for all men subscribing. This prize goes to Co. B. The company donated a like sum to the unit of the normal training camp making the best showing. This went to Co. G. Each of these two companies received a prize of the amount of $2.25.

QUOTA MISPLACED

Owing to some mistake the quota for Durham, including that of the college was originally placed at $1,000. After conferring with the county chairman of the campaign it was decided that our quota should be at least $3,000—this to include the over subscription asked for. Just as we opened the campaign, word was received from Mr. Shedd of Boston that some error had occurred, and that Durham's quota should have been 5,000. This came at too late a date for us to try to go over the top for that amount. I feel that Durham and the college have done their part, and all that could reasonably have been expected of them.

LIBERAL CONTRIBUTIONS

It seems that two gifts should receive special mention at this time. Mr. Forest Smith, who owns a farm in Durham, but conducts a business in Boston, made a liberal contribution here, and Miss Emma Hawkrige, a Wellesley 1910 graduate, who was a special student at New Hampshire College last year, aided the girls by giving liberally here. Last year she contributed $500 to our Friendship War Fund. These people we thank as we do all who have helped Durham and the college do so much to aid in carrying on the activities of the various United War Work organizations. Contributions varied in amounts from 10c to $200 per person. The largest contribution coming from a student was $50.00 and of these there were several.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the splendid work and hearty co-operation of all persons engaged with me in securing this money. I feel certain that every gift was tagged with good cheer and a wish that it might serve our boys and perform a part in rehabilitating a war torn world.

In giving so beautifully we have made a real Victory-Thanksgiving gift, and set a high water mark of generosity for Durham—the standard for a long time to come.

Now that the drive is over let us lend our effort to making subscriptions 100 per cent. paid—for no pledge will help anyone or enable us to perform humanitarian labors unless it is paid.

MAY PAY ANY TIME

Subscriptions of the faculty and women students and college employees may be paid at the college business office at any time. Those of the men in the S. A. T. C. may be paid to the men in the companies, who did the soliciting, or to Mr. Watson at the Y. M. C. A. Those of the townspeople may be paid to the solicitors or at Runlet's store. All pledges should be paid by Dec. 12, unless a different time of payment was specified at the time of making subscriptions.

(Signed) Charles L. Simmers,
Local Chairman for United War
Work Campaign.

WILL COMMENCE TO DEMOBILIZE

Orders Received to Begin on Monday

MAJOR SPEAKS

Usual College Schedule to be Resumed
After Christmas—No Orders Yet for Navy

The New Hampshire College S. A. T. C. will cease to exist very shortly, for the discharge from the United States service of the students in training, will begin next week.

Major S. A. Eaton, on Wednesday received orders, stating that the Students' Army Training Corps units, both Sections A and B, will be demobilized, and the men discharged, beginning the week of December 1. This communication was delivered at the assembling of the men at noon, when both President Hetzel and Major Eaton spoke.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS

President Hetzel expressed his appreciation of the part the college has had in the war, and hoped that the men would go away feeling glad they had been here and with better equipment for a successful future. To the S. A. T. C. he strongly urged upon them the advisability of their returning to college. He made it plain that in all probability the college will reopen, as normally, after the Christmas holidays and that all men who had shown signs of making an effort towards keeping up their studies, would be admitted. "College education, he said," will be of special value in the coming period of adjustment.

THREE CHEERS GIVEN

Major Eaton in speaking said that during his service for Uncle Sam he had been in close touch with many colleges in connection with the S. A. T. C. work but at none has he found a college that has stood so square behind the War Department and its demands as has New Hampshire College. He continued, "Many colleges have had more prestige, more money to do with, and bigger equipment but few have played the game as has President Hetzel and his colleagues."

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

Physical examination of the men will be started at once, and they will be discharged as quickly as possible. Meanwhile all work and studies will be continued as usual. The last men will not be sent away until December 21, for it will take the next three weeks to complete the work of demobilizing.

Although no orders regarding the Naval units of the S. A. T. C. demobilization have been received, it is expected that the navy will follow the army, and that similar orders will be received within a short time.

ASSISTING IN REVISION OF HIGH SCHOOL COURSES.

Professor C. L. Simmers, on Friday, attended in Concord, a meeting of the committee appointed by the State Department of Education, to revise the high school courses of study in this state.

Professor Simmers reports that much progress has been made in bringing the methods and subject matter of various courses up to a standard distinctly modern. The committee has had the greatest amount of difficulty with the subject of mathematics owing to the fact that under the leadership of Young, Breslich, Schultz and others many radical departures have been made from the old order in both studies of algebra and geometry. The decision has been left for a further consideration at some future meeting.

PRACTICE HOUSE OPENS FOR HOME ECONOMICS SENIORS.

The practice house for the senior women of the Home Economics Division opened last Thursday. This is the first time a practice house has been attempted at New Hampshire College and it will be under the supervision of Miss Louise Knight, formerly of Columbia University.

The senior girls taking Home Economics have been divided into three groups with six girls in a group. Each group has the entire charge of the practice house for six weeks. The work of running the house is divided into six parts, and the girls take turns at doing each of these parts for a week. The girl and her assistant, who have charge of buying and planning the meals, live at the house during the week that they are in charge, while the other four girls live at the dormitory, but take their meals at the practice house.

Partly because of war conditions and partly because of financial conditions, the practice house here is not yet the ideal house that the girls wish to maintain, but is a practical home where economizing and Hooverizing figure highly.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TIES WITH TECH

Scoreless Game Played on Thanksgiving Day

HARD PLAYED CONTEST

Both Teams Showed Good Defensive —Neither Able to Get Through the Other's Line

New Hampshire College S. A. T. C. and Worcester Tech football teams played a scoreless game at Textile Field, Manchester, on Thanksgiving day. The attendance of 700 was comparatively small for such a game. Both teams had very good defense and blocked every drive attempted by the other. Each had chances when they might have scored.

The New Hampshire players reached Worcester's 34-yard line in the third period and 30-yard line, in the fourth. But they lost when Kushmer intercepted a forward, and in the last surrendered it on downs. Worcester approached New Hampshire's 20-yard line in the last period. On the third down White, New Hampshire's fullback, got the ball in some unknown manner being no fumble and a deliberate steal was charged and ran the gauntlet away from hard tackles to Worcester's 38-yard line. The play, which was the feature of the game, was allowed by the officials.

Open playing was resorted to by both sides when it was shown in the first half that to hit the line was useless. The aerial route was prominent after the second period was well under way. New Hampshire punted four times and Worcester five. In addition, Spaulding tried two drop kicks from the 35-yard line. A couple of fumbles were charged to each team.

FIRST HALF

Spaulding kicked off for New Hampshire, Shirley taking the ball and being downed on his 30-yard line after a short run. A five-yard penalty for offside handicapped Worcester for distance and the Bay Staters punted, Stearns being thrown on his 40-yard line. With eight to go, Spaulding punted on the fourth down, Kittredge being downed on his 20-yard line.

Worcester again punted, the oval going offside on New Hampshire's 32-yard line. Stearns made first down, on the third try, on his 45-yard mark, and on the fourth down Spaulding booted the ball, it being Worcester's at its 30. New Hampshire was penalized five yards for offside on the first play and Worcester 15 on the second, for tackling. After falling on a forward, Worcester punted. Fullback White fumbled in midfield, Worcester again having possession of the oval. Kushner cut down five yards on the first play, which ended the first period.

White redeemed himself on the next play by covering a fumble by Kushner on New Hampshire's 40-yard line. Neville dropped a forward pass in his hands. Kushner intercepted a forward pass in midfield, hurled by White.

Murphy, on the fourth try, made first down at the 33. With a yard and one-half to go on the fourth down Kittredge failed to make distance, it being New Hampshire's ball at its 30-yard line. After failing on a forward Spaulding punted offside at Worcester's 40-yard line. Coleworthy reached New Hampshire's 38 on a forward and on the next play Penwell brought the ball to the soldiers by intercepting a pass on his 30.

Neville got away with a neat forward on the first down, catching the ball with one hand, to midfield, but the play was not permitted because of a run-in Neville had with Murphy before the catch was made. With but a few seconds to play, Stearns threw another forward, which was broken up. A five-yard setback was given New Hampshire for offside. Spaulding

COLLEGE SPIRIT.

It is especially important for the Freshmen in the collegiate section of the S. A. T. C. to begin to think of the changes coming in the next two months. It is time to become acquainted with the collegiate reorganization that is soon to come. So far this year New Hampshire College has been strictly an army post, and no sign of the intricate organization and college spirit has been shown. It is hoped that the Y. M. C. A. reception which is one of the first social events of the college year, may take place with the opening of regular college activities and constitute an introduction to your Alma Mater.

The future spirit of our college depends in a large measure on how the freshman class is handled by the upperclassmen. In the past the annual poster fight and the resulting class spirit brings home to the freshmen that they must inquire into the spirit of college life in order to please their overlords, the Sophomores.

One thing has always characterized the spirit of the campus and that is the attitude towards smoking. It has been a tradition that no student or faculty man should smoke while on the campus. The place to smoke is in your room, at regular "smokers," or in the club, or fraternity rooms. There are plenty of places to have a smoke other than on the campus walks and any violation of this unwritten law has earned the disapproval of the upperclassmen. Freshmen get started now to learn the traditions of your Alma Mater and prepare yourself for the changed conditions incident to college life so that alumni will be proud to claim you.

THINK!

Germany has been defeated. The American army of occupation is marching into Germany. The enemy is surrendering its navy. The Allies and the United States have triumphed. And yet, how much do we really appreciate the importance of these tremendous facts? We have become so accustomed to revolutionary happenings, so used to thinking in gigantic terms that we pass over matters of epochal importance and treat them as commonplace.

And therein lies the danger. The American mind is rapidly becoming numbed by the constant stream of great happenings, and we glance over the headlines of the newspaper, half-grasp the trend of national and international affairs, and turn aside to—what?

This is a charge which has been laid at the door of the average University student—superficiality. This is a fault which is being remedied by the campaigns for Liberty Loan subscriptions, for contributions to United War Fund drives, for donations of clothing, for the relief of the Belgians. But does the average American and the college student think consistently, or does he think when someone else prods him into mental activity?

Now is the time to develop initiative, the time to learn to appreciate importance of events and to act in accordance with our own thinking.

Because Germany is fast surrendering her forces on land and sea is no excuse for slacking up. The need for conservation, the need for economy, the need for cooperation in patriotic work is just as real now as it was before November 11.

More credit to the man who grasps the importance of events now, and who keeps up his interest and enthusiasm from his own reading and his own thinking.

CAMP NOTES.

Last week was about the worst week experienced in Durham from a weather standpoint. It rained five out of the seven days.

There is one man in camp who is sorry the war is over. That man is Sergeant Bohan of D Company. According to Bohan, he says he will wear the insignia of a Major General or bust, but his lieutenant has a different idea of the matter, as long as the Sergeant has a hankering for dances in Newmarket.

We wonder why it is that Sergeant Fellows of Co. D yells "eyes front!" when a lady passes by, and then turns round to see if the men at the small end of the company are looking straight ahead.

Monday afternoon during the drill period Co. E received a lecture on "The Spirit of the Bayonet," given by Lieutenant Milling.

It is rumored in camp that Home Rule for Ireland of Company D will be insisted upon by Privates Wilson and Herrick of the same company at the coming Peace Conference.

1st. Lieut. Thomas M. Toler, M. C., who has been stationed here since last June was relieved from duty last Monday, and ordered to proceed to Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont.

The comfort of real beds seems to be somewhat absent here. Saturday night the Springfield cross country team slept in the naval reserve barracks. It was late when they came in "to hit the hay," and they were compelled to make their beds without any light. Next morning, Mansfield, one of the team, woke up, rubbed his eyes, stretched his arms and innocently queried, "What's the idea of these half-mattresses?" He had not unfolded his hay sack.

Our landlocked jackies of Morrill Hall have received their uniforms and now present a very neat and pleasing appearance. Equipped with new uniforms and led by their commander, Ensign Carpenter, they are as sea-going a crew as the saltiest bunch of tars afloat on the rolling deep. If they only had the proper swing to their arms and could find their sea legs, we would be able to smell the brine all over the campus.

The boys of Co. H have been kept pretty busy lately corresponding with the fair knitters of their Red Cross sweaters.

The New Hampshire House, better known as the Tin Palace, looks deserted since Co. H has moved into the Lambda Chi house.

With the new schedule in effect Co. H doesn't have to be afraid of waking the co-eds at breakfast formation.

Lieutenant Rathbone is planning to organize a crack squad, which will be privileged to remain in Durham over the week-ends. It is to be composed of men who are deficient on the manual of arms.

Capt. Charles S. Pettee has been six weeks in a hospital suffering from exposure to gas. For six days he was totally blind but is now slowly recovering.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HAMMER

"With Mallets to All and Charity to None."
"Pie" Palmer, Editor.

Somewhere in Durham,
Nov. 30, 1918.

Deer Minnie,—

Well big girl, I am still here. Received your pitcher and in the expression of your eyes and mouth I can see the old town once again, and I hope soon to be back their onct more.

Not much excitin last week, except we all went on a week-end hike. Some hike. We left hear, at P. M. at one fifteen, and got back Sunday P. M. at four 15. Had to sleep out on old Mother Earth and believe me kid it was some cold. In the morning I had ice between my toes. I bunked with a cook by the name of Yost. He took most all my blankets, he was from Rochester, N. Y. Well we build a fire along side of us but the wind blowed it the wrong way and one of the guards from Co. G must have forgot to put wood on our fire, as it went out. I guess he was one of them guys who thought "eventually, so why not now?" All enjoyed the hik anyway and we hop they have another one after we are discharged.

Sunday we had a shame battle thru the streets of New Market and long will we remember the battle of New Market. We would have murderized the other side, only the game was to let them win so we did. Well I guess thats about all tonite, as I must write a letter to a nuther girl. Anthony Wozonkonkiewicz is in our Co. to. I forgot to tell you. I will close.

Your own Pie.

P. S. Well the orders are here to be canned so don't be surprised if you hear that I was hurt in the rush. If the office force lasts out, we will be home in another weak.

When is the next hike?

Well, Thanksgiving is now a year away. Much to Sergeant Dowd's satisfaction.

Co. E is to be issued overalls next week; then the outfit will be uniformed.

Things were all twisted all last week. Co. A marched into mess in order every meal.

Remember the beautiful summer night we arrived here, boys? Jack White and the Agony Four entertaining in front of the Engineering building and then the comfortable night in the barracks. Them were the happy days, eh?

Almost time for Lemay and Palmer to move bunks again.

B Co. beat C Co. again although C Co. did not run enough men.

Rookie: "Is the Lieutenant a modest guy?"

Private: "Well, he dresses the company right in the middle of the street."

Have you noticed the men in Co. C calling the non-coms by their respective titles?

Sergt. Larnie almost lost his place into mess last Monday. The sergeant took too much time buttoning his blouse and consequently lost time.

Well, the day is almost here.

And Pie Palmer has only one more week to write this column.

ing punted. It was Worcester's ball on its 45-yard line as the half ended.

SECOND HALF

Stearns ran the ball back 10 yards on the kickoff, to New Hampshire's 30, for first down. Stearns circled his right end to midfield on the first play, in one of the best gains of the game. Spaulding hurled the ball to Neville, who advanced to Worcester's 34-yard mark. On the next down a forward from Stearns was intercepted by Kushner on New Hampshire's 40-yard line. Frank Keane, the former Manchester high school player, covered a fumble on the third down, the ball still being on the 40-yard station.

White, on the first try, reached Worcester's 38 for first down. The Tech students braced up and held New Hampshire on downs, the Durham players trying a forward on the fourth to Keane, which was not completed. The ball went to Worcester on its 30-yard line.

Murphy, Kushner and Shirley inturn made first downs, the latter being around Worcester's right end to the 24-yard line. A fumble was recovered on the first lineup. Kushner made six on the second and on the third White got the ball for New Hampshire and ran through a broken field to his opponent's 38-yard mark. Worcester questioned the legality of White's tactics, as it was claimed he stole the ball. Three downs netted only five yards and on the fourth Spaulding tried a drop kick for field goal from the 35, which dropped in front of the goal posts. This playing went in the fourth period.

Failing to cover distance, Mossberg punted on the fourth down, the ball going offside at midfield. Stearns made nine yards on the first down and White gave New Hampshire first down on the 38-yard line. With four to go on the last down Spaulding tried for a field goal, the pigskin being picked up on the 10-yard line by Shirley and placed on the 18. Worcester found New Hampshire's line too much and punted, Spaulding dropping the ball on Worcester's 43-yard mark, where the Bay Staters enjoyed first down.

Worcester made a desperate stand via the forward pass, but was forced to give over the ball. Neville was under two fine forwards thrown by Stearns, but failed to complete either. On the first play, as he was about to catch the oval, he fell. Either catches would have meant a possible score. Another forward was broken and the game ended.

Lieut. J. J. Shillaber has been transferred to Camp Grant, Ill. He says this is the best change he has experienced, although he expects to be discharged within the next two weeks. Expressing keen regret at the recent death of Lieut. George D. Parnell, Shillaber says, "That kind of news only makes me all the more 'sore' because I didn't get over there, to get in a few 'wallops.'"

Lieut. Ernest W. Hardy received his commission from the Machine Gun O. T. S. at Hancock, Ga., on September 16. Until the first of November he remained at Hancock and was then sent to Camp Kearney, California. His present address is Co. A, 48th M. G. B., Camp Kearney, California.

Miss Emma Hawkrige, Wellesley, '10, who last year was a special student at New Hampshire College, has been chosen among seven other trained workers, who this month will join the Wellesley Unit, already in France. All of these seven are experienced social workers, who can speak French and drive a motor car. Miss Hawkrige, who is very well remembered here, where she made many friends, is a graduate of the Boston School of Social Workers. She has also served at the Boston Dispensary and the Massachusetts General Hospital, as well as under Dr. Lucas at the University of California.

James A. Purington, '16, has a new address "over there." It is 18th Company, 20th Engineers, Forestry, American Expeditionary Forces, France, via New York.

Lieut. E. R. Wagner, '17, and Lieut. Ray Ewart, '19, are stranded at the U. S. Gas School, Lakehurst, N. J. Wagner received his commission August 31 at Camp Jackson, S. C., and was detailed to the Gas Warfare School October 15.

"Goodey" Hewey, '18, has recovered from injuries received in a fall while flying at Carlstrom Field, Florida. He was taking front seat instruction when the driver of the plane lost control of the machine. The driver was hurt badly but Hewey only sprained his ankle and received cuts about the face.

"Cy" Hunt, '19, and "Cles." Richardson, '18, are in the Students' Officer Detachment, at Carlstrom Field, Arcadia, Florida. They have continued together in the same courses for several months which is a rare possibility in the army.

O. R. Garland, '19, who was sent home from the S. A. T. C. here, because of an abscess on his eye, is recovering under a specialist's care at his home in Hampton, N. H.

Lieut. William Thorpe Tapley, '16, who has been in France for many months, has had a varied experience. Going across in the American Field Service he shortly, in the fall of 1917, transferred to the Reserve Mallet, a complete amalgam of French and Americans, who compose a squadron of emergency transportation, and includes 700 five-ton trucks. Belonging to no army corps, but rather held in reserve for any crisis in transportation, the Reserve Mallet cannons are on the move, going from one place to another. They live in their trucks and sleep in them travelling over France more like gypsies. With this organization he was for eleven months first as driver, then as Sergeant and finally as "Elève Officer." He has now been transferred, and is Convoy instructor and commander of 106 men at a Motor Transportation School. His address is Lieut. W. T. Tapley, M. T. C., School No. 1, Desize, A. P. O. 772, American Expeditionary Forces.

Miss Celia Gardner, ex-'21, who has been studying in Boston, preparatory to going across as a Red Cross ambulance driver, is one whose plans have been upset by the peace declaration. Celia finished her course in Automobile Mechanics with a grade of 98, the highest given to any in the class. Two days later she was notified that at present the Red Cross will not need any more drivers.

NEWMARKET THREATENED.

Last Friday evening word was brought that Kaiser Wilhelm, and a picked body of Prussian Guards were encamped in strong numbers near Newmarket, and were threatening that little town with extinction. Steps were taken immediately by the brave lads of New Hampshire College to defend their neighbors, and shortly after noon, Saturday, about 350 of the bravest and the best, marched out to meet the invaders.

The column marched along the road leading to Durham Point and then swung off towards Great Bay. The march was made without incident except that one scout, sent out by Lieutenant Warner was captured, and later escaped by desperate effort, so that he was able to rejoin his command by 7.00 p. m.

The enemy was sighted in force after the battalion of defenders had pushed forward about six miles. The column was immediately halted and the men led forward in a vigorous attack which lasted until dusk. The enemy was constantly retreating, and it was thought best not to pursue them on account of a lack of thorough scouting by our men. The battalion was assembled at once, and marched back the road for a short distance to the place of encampment. Here camp was pitched for the night. The whole company was lulled to sleep by Sergeant Palmer's gentle and soothing voice as he sang: "We Won't Go Home 'Till Morning," "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," and other tunes of equally soothing quality.

Everyone waked up the next morning feeling ready for anything, and eager to meet the Huns. As time passed however, and no sight of the enemy was gained, spirits lagged and the ardor of the men became dampened. Scouts reported that the enemy was entrenched on a hill in strong numbers, a few hundred yards away. Immediately skirmish lines were thrown into action. Orders became confused in transmission and disastrous consequences resulted. Several platoons started, and the enemy was overtaken on the edge of the town, and forced to surrender. After a rest of a few hours the victors marched back to Durham with their prisoners herded before them.

Below is appended a list of recommendations handed to the Adjutant, by the chief scout of the day, and based upon the observations of said scout:

From Chief Official Scout
To Acting Adjutant of the Day.
Subject. Report.

Recommend that safety razors be a part of equipment as Private Landes states that they are useful in cutting off blisters.

Recommend that some person be designated to explain to Corporal Amos whether or not blank cartridges have a kick.

Recommend that a board of investigation be appointed to find out who told Palmer of B Co. to open his mouth, when he ordered the crowd to get away from the fire, so there might be a draft.

Recommend that same board investigate and report who the Lieutenant was that cried all night.

Recommend that Lieut. Price get honorable mention for the way his company charged up Hill No. 234 (despite the fact that they would all have been shot if the supposed enemy had had ball cartridges.)

Recommend that Lieut. Price and Private Melhorn confine themselves to searching for water on the next hike instead of fighting bulls, as was done in Newmarket.

Recommend that the men who stole the pajamas from one of the men in G Co, be court-martialed.

TORREY. '19, WRITES OF EXPERIENCES

Says Work Is More Terrifying Than
Deadly—In Gas and Flame Section

First Sergeants Prescott H. Torrey, '19, has had some thrilling experiences in the 30th Engineers, Gas and Flame, an outfit that has made history for itself in France. As first Sergeant he had a lot of responsibility, for he had to keep track of details and make the men satisfied with their work. The most unpleasant part of his work he claims was the handling of men, up for misconduct. His attitude has been philosophic, for he says, "I expect to lose a few friends, but the men who are worth having as friends will not get into trouble." He has had to drill every day and go to school every evening. It has seemed like a college course in physics to him.

One of the papers he sent home gives the following instructions to the soldiers:

There are three things to do when Fritz sends it over.

1. Hold your breath.
2. Get your mask on—quick.
3. Warn your pals. Don't take a chance. If you do, you will never take another.

There are two kinds of men in gas attacks, the quick and the dead. Which crowd is yours? Don't be a dead one.

The hard boiled said gas was "Funk," Said it was harmless, only stunk; And the cock-eyed world he'd tell That all gas masks could go to—well! They sent hard boiled up to the line Fritz spilled the mustard good and fine And yet some folks still wonder why 'Twas "flowers" for the hard boiled guy.

It's all right to "cook with gas," but who wants to croak with it? Get that mask on quick.

Extracts from other letters to his parents, follow. We have been doing the same thing every day and night. As I told you our work is offensive and we are going all the time. We seldom use trenches, when we throw the gas, the thermite, etc. While it is very unpleasant, it is more terrifying than deadly. As we are gas troops, we have very intensive drill in the use of gas masks. Our company was the first to put on and try out the new American mask. It is much better than the British and we hope that they will be issued to all of us, soon."

"The 30th regiment of engineers has been changed to the "First Gas Regiment." The regiment is in demand at all places. When you hear of any gas attack or smoke screen, you may think of me."

"I shall be on the line long before this reaches you. I am more than glad to have the chance, as we shall see the best of the work and kill more Boches than any other outfit on the front."

I had a very interesting letter from Miss Thompson. She told me of the birth of little Charlie Bennett, Jr., and the death of Montgomery, one of my fraternity.

"You can't realize what sacrifices these poor people have made and are making. The women run the farms and do all the work of the men. The farmers have only a certain number of horses and now that the harvesting is over must turn them over to the government."

"It sure takes the American boys to do the work. They start and keep on going and are much faster than the English or French."

"We have made several moves during the last week and have had no chance to bathe or get clean clothes. Our company was in the last big drive and several of the boys went over the top. The Huns gave up with scarcely any fight and most of the boys who were hit got it from their own guns. We made a twenty-five hike yesterday and in all probability we shall do the same tomorrow.

NAVAL SECTION GIVES BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT.

The men from the naval section gave a fine show at the movies last week. There was picked from the talent of the good ship, "Morrill," some very good vaudeville stunts which were given between the reels. The film was a five-reel melodrama entitled, "The Rules of the Road," starring Frank Keenan.

The first act was a song and encore by the naval quartet. Nichols with his deep bass voice and the harmony

FEDERAL BOARD INSPECTOR PRAISES WORK DONE HERE.

Miss Anna Richardson, Agent of Federal Board for Vocational Education under the Smith-Hughes Act, visited Durham on Wednesday, to inspect the subsidized courses in Home Economics. Miss Richardson was much pleased with the work of the Home Economics department and she was much impressed with the progress and splendid conditions at the practice house for senior girls.

OFFICERS HELD DANCE LAST FRIDAY EVENING.

The officers of the post held a dance in the girls' gymnasium at Thompson Hall on Friday evening. During the evening punch was served. The S. A. T. C. orchestra furnished the music. Incidental to the dance, a sad accident befell the young mascot. While decorating the hall in preparation for the dance, a doll was discovered, a very charming doll, probably left there by one of the freshman girls while attending convocation. The stray doll was introduced during the evening and was at once chosen to be a mascot. However, too much popularity proved disastrous and before the evening was over she lost her head.

The dance was chaperoned by Major and Mrs. S. G. Eaton, Lieutenant and Mrs. R. C. Rosenquest and Lieutenant and Mrs. T. M. Toler.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM DEFEATS SPRINGFIELD.

New Hampshire's Cross Country team won a hard race with Springfield Y. M. C. A. College on the 23rd. Fitch, Billingham and Weston took the lead at the first and kept it all the four and one-half miles, making the distance within fifty seconds of Nightingale's best time. Fitch's time was the more remarkable because of the shortness of the training season, only three weeks. Billingham made a wonderfully gritty run and finished second in spite of his almost exhausted condition. Weston, a strong third, was followed by Ellenwood, Munson and Halberg of Springfield S. A. T. C., all of whom finished strongly. Gove and Gould of New Hampshire came in seventh and tenth respectively, clinching New Hampshire's victory with a score of 23-32. The best time was 27 m., 25 2-5 sec.

After the race the commissary department gave the runners an early supper to enable them to take the train to Dover. There the Springfield men were escorted to the movies and to the dance, finishing up with a truckride back to Durham, where they received accommodations in the navy barracks. They claimed that they had a good night's sleep, but one of them confessed that he didn't see the use of the half mattresses on the beds. He seemed surprised when told that it was customary to open them up before making up the beds.

Coach Cleveland has written for more meets and the team is ready to meet all comers.

The order of the finish was: Fitch, N. H. (Captain), Billingham, N. H., Weston, N. H., Ellenwood, S., Munson, S. (Captain), Hollberg, S., Gove, N. H., Moore, S., Mansfield, S., Gould, N. H., Morrison, N. H., Stalker, N. H.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LOSES TO MAINE

Team Outplayed—Conditions Unfavorable—Score, 20 to 0

The New Hampshire College S. A. T. C. football team lost to Maine University at Bayside Park, Portland, Saturday, Nov. 23, by a score of 20 to 0.

The field was slippery and a cold wind made conditions of play quite difficult. The Maine team clearly outplayed New Hampshire. Maine was favored by having some of last year's material available, especially Paganucci, who was on the team that New Hampshire succeeded in defeating last year, 27 to 0.

CONDITIONS UNFAVORABLE

The work of the officials was particularly unsatisfactory. Maine was continually offside, unnecessary roughness was unpenalized and sideline coaching was unheeded. It may be said, however, that New Hampshire men showed excellent patience and proper spirit under the trying conditions.

The Maine team used a variation of the Minnesota shift against which the N. H. line was unprepared and with an experienced backfield Maine made many good gains. Straight line plays availed them but little. The weakness displayed in tackling lost for New Hampshire many good chances to stop Maine for the losses of several yards.

Maine made two touchdowns in the first period the first after steady rushing down the field, and the second after preventing an attempted punt. The third score went over the line about four inches on the last down.

Cooper at end for New Hampshire played a good game and a feature of the play was an off side kick by Stearns. For Maine Paganucci, Rumery and Mathews were the stars. The line-up was as follows:

MAINE	NEW HAMPSHIRE
Jackson, l. t.,	Weld, r. t.
Weymouth, l. g.,	Cross, r. g.
Murphy, c.,	Penwell, c.
Milan, r. g., (McLeod)	Rowe, l. g.
Allen, r. t.,	Hardy, l. t. (Lane)
Ginsberg, q. b. (Needleman)	Stearns, q. b.
Mathews, l. h. b.	Morrill, r. h. b. (Smith)
Rumery, r. h. b. (Lawry)	Keane, l. h. b.
Paganucci, f. b. (Moulton)	White, f. b.

Score, Maine 20. Touchdowns, Paganucci, Herwood, Mathews. Goals from touchdowns, Paganucci 2. Referee, Fred V. Ostergren, Holy Cross. Umpire, Doe, Exeter. Head linesman, Barron, Maine. Time 12m quarters.

LAST OF RED CROSS DRAFTEES MET MONDAY.

The last quota of Red Cross draftees met in the Home Economics room at three o'clock last Monday afternoon. The work of the week before on little boys' blouses was continued and warm undergarments for girls of ten years were begun. So few were able to attend the meetings on Monday afternoons, on account of classes, that a change in the day is contemplated. Durham's allotment of fifty booklets for sick and wounded soldiers was due Tuesday, but as yet only a part of that number are in. Are you doing your share?

PROF. WHORISKEY SPEAKS TO GIRLS

Reviews War Situation at Convocation—Plans Food Conservation Week

Professor Richard Whoriskey gave a most interesting review of the war situation to the women of the college at Convocation, Thursday afternoon. Besides stating that one of the chief causes for Germany's surrender was her lack of coal, he announced the plan for having one week of food conservation in order that the starving countries around Germany may be helped. Food must be saved in every way possible not only during that week, but every week, because there is a great need of all foodstuffs, particularly of fats and condensed milk. Professor Whoriskey stated that President Wilson has proven one of the greatest leaders in history.

He expressed his regret at not being able to meet his classes as usual, but stated that he is thoroughly interested in the work he has been doing for the last several months, lecturing to the men training here, personally getting acquainted with them and studying the various viewpoints.

REGULAR STUDY SCHEDULE TO BE RESUMED IN JANUARY.

A schedule of regular college courses is now being planned, which will go into effect at the beginning of the new year. The committee, which has been appointed to arrange these courses is as follows: Dean E. R. Groves, chairman, Prof. C. S. Simmers, Dean Helen Knowlton, Prof. C. F. Jackson and Prof. C. James.

HOSTESS HOUSE OPEN TO VISITORS.

The new hostess house, formerly the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house, was opened to visitors last Saturday afternoon, and everyone was invited to inspect the rooms, and sample the cafeteria service. The rooms are simply but attractively furnished and appear to be very comfortable. Tea and crackers were efficiently served in the dining room and people amused themselves generally by wandering about the house and viewing its appointments.

SECOND TEAM DEFEATED BY WESTBROOK SEMINARY.

The second team of the New Hampshire College S. A. T. C. was defeated by the strong Westbrook Seminary team at Portland on Saturday with a score of 20 to 7.

Both lines were like stone walls during the first few minutes, but Westbrook gained on the punts, finally going around the end for a touchdown. The second score came about in a similar manner.

Westbrook was outrushed in the second half, but gained a touchdown by picking up a blocked kick. With three and one-half minutes of play left, N. H. received and after a successful pass to Freeman, tore up Westbrook's line, Rowell carrying the ball over for a score.

The game was an exciting one. Rowell at fullback was the best ground for N. H., while the punting of O'Brien of Westbrook was excellent. It is expected that a few of the Westbrook team will seek positions on New Hampshire's team next year.

The following is the line up: Westbrook Seminary—Belanger, l; Sawyer, l; Bayliss, Quimby, Nagakura, l; Decker, c; Spaulding, Ramsdell, r; Fahey, r; Tibbetts, Wright, r; Lunt, Flaherty, qb; Plaisted, Hawkes, lhb; O'Brien, rhh; Burton, fb. New Hampshire State, 2nd—Jene, Freeman, re; Mansel, rt; Noyes, rg; Piper, c; Hayes, lg; Dodge, lt; Broderick, le; Alling, qb; Rowell, rhh; Keefe, lhb; Sherwood, fb.

Score: Westbrook Seminary, 20; New Hampshire State 2nd, 7. Touchdowns, O'Brien, Belanger 2, Rowell. Goals from touchdowns, Belanger, Sawyer, Broderick. Referee, Fitzgerald; umpire, Lieut. Wordsworth. Head linesman, Pinkham. Time, 12 and 10 min. periods.
