TO HOLD INTERSCHOLASTIC BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT.

The athletic department sent out this week a circular letter, in response to the questionnaire recently returned from the various high schools in the state, in regards to an interscholastic basketball tournament.

The response from the various high schools of New Hampshire was very gratifying. It was first decided to hold a tournament this year, but owing to several of the schools having vacations or teams having been disbanded at the time the college had set the date, the tournament will be postponed until April 2 and 3, 1920.

It is hoped that every high school in New Hampshire will start making plans for this unique and premier event.

Y. M. C. A. DISCUSSION GROUPS POPULAR.

The discussion groups under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. are now in full swing; 195 men and 102 women students were registered to take up the work making a total registration of 297. Two fraternities, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Theta Chi, have a registration of 100 per cent. with the Phi Mu Delta, nearly so.

The leaders of the various groups are Phi Mu Delta, Prof. M. O'K. McKay; Theta Chi, Prof. F. C. Werken-thin; Alpha Tau Omega, Mr. Vaughan Dabney; Kappa Sigma, Dr. H. L. Hines; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Mr. E. P. Robinson; Lambda Chi Alpha, Prof. C. R. Cleveland; commuters, Mr. D. C. Babcock; Fairchild Hall (two groups), Mr. C. J. Fawcett and Mr. V. W. Bennett; Alpha Tau Alpha, Prof. C. O. Eckman and non-fraternity men outside of Fairchild Hall, Prof. C. L. Simmers. Mr. Robert Watson has charge of the leaders.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB ENTERTAINS ENGINEERS.

On Monday evening the Agricultural Club entertained the members of the Engineering Society in the gymnasium. The program was made up of a Pathe Weekly, a Mack Sennett Comedy and an educational feature picture showing the chief steps in the process of orange cultivation. This film which is produced by the Sun-kist Orange Company was interesting, not only for its educational value but also for the wonderful scenery of the California orange groves. Some of the steps necessary in orange production are, planting, transplanting, cultivation, fumigation, picking and the various processes of cleaning, sorting, packing and shipping.

Answering the appeal made on the bulletin board to bring "young ladies" the men of both the Engineering Society and the Agricultural Club responded and made the second Ladies' Night, a success.

MORE SUMMER POSITIONS AVAILABLE IN AGRICULTURE.

Dean F. W. Taylor of the agricultural division has received letters from several men who desire farm help for the summer. It is probable that a student who is interested in agriculture can gain valuable experience, and at the same time earn some money, by spending the summer in the employ of one of these men.

The available positions are as follows: Major William E. Knowles, Camp Devens, Mass., wants a competent young man to work on his farm in New Hampshire.

Harry G. Brierly, Stratham, N. H., wants a young man to work on a fruit farm this summer; wages $2.50 per day without board.

E. B. Edgerly, Mirror Lake, N. H., wants a general utility man for four or five months this summer. Chores and garden work principally.

H. B. Heard of Intervale, N. H., wants two young men for general farm work; no wages stated.

Anyone who is interested should see Dean Taylor or write directly to the applicants.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT TO BE GIVEN MAY 30

Historical Events to Be Re-enacted on Memorial Day—Two Hundredth Anniversary of Meeting House

On Memorial Day, May 30, the town of Durham will celebrate in pageant form five events of historic interest; the settlement of the town, the Indian raid in 1694, the founding of the first church in Durham, the patriotic services of General John Sullivan, and student life at the college today.

MANY INCIDENTS

Each of the events selected is marked by striking characteristics which lend themselves readily to dramatic representation, and the problem of the pageant committee has been how to condense, rather than how to elaborate, these features. For instance, it would be interesting to the student of history to see portrayed the arrival in Durham of some Scottish prisoners captured by Oliver Cromwell at the battles of Dunbar and Worcester and sold to the settlers of this town. It would be interesting—perhaps too interesting—to see pictured the killing by the Indians of that young woman, Elizabeth Burnham, whose gravestone may still be seen on the farm owned by Mr. Ralph Paine. It would be interesting—but certainly not edifying—to see portrayed such church scenes as this: "Aug. 21 (1746). I preached from Gal. 2: 20. The people appeared very devout, excepting those of Mr. Gilman's party. They as yesterday made wry mouths and extraordinary gestures of body, often crying out loud, but generally approving.— At length the authority took hold of one and the rest all jumped up and out they went, crying out and railing and made a hideous noise abroad, but we finished and went into the house." Such items of "human interest," however, must be passed over.

HISTORICAL SETTING

One fact which is of considerable assistance to the committee in planning the pageant is that all but the last-named feature of Durham's history took place in the same portion of the town; namely, in the vicinity of the bridge on the Newmarket road. The first settlers came up Oyster River and landed at the foot of the falls; several of the garrison houses were situated near the same spot or on land on the south side of the river; the first church was founded on the spot near the Sullivan monument, while behind this monument stands the house of General Sullivan. The entire pageant will therefore be staged on ground which was as familiar to the settlers of Durham in 1650 as it is popular with the college students of today.

NATURAL GRAND STAND

This "unity of place" which History has kindly furnished is matched by the contribution of Nature herself. Spectators will not have to pay for grand stand seats, for a natural grand stand is already provided by the slope of ground leading from Mr. James Sawyer's residence down to the river bank, while the bridge over the river furnishes a splendid station for those who prefer to stand.

PAGEANT LEADERS

Each scene will be staged under the direction of a leader appointed by the pageant committee. The landing of the settlers will be supervised by Mrs. Guy Smart. This scene will be acted by about forty of the townspeople, including some between the ages of 6 and 16. Closely following it will be a representation of the attack on the settlers by the Indians in 1694. Mr. Ralph Paine will lead this attack, and promises that while there will be two parties of Indians there will be only one result. The episode depicting the founding of the first church in Durham will be in charge of the Rev. Vaughan Dabney, who is also planning the celebration in the church on the

TO PLANT A VINE-YARD AT COLLEGE FARM.

The college is planning to plant on the horticultural farm, this spring, a vineyard which is to contain about 450 grapevines of various species, for use in experimental work and variety tests. Several hundred apple, pear and plum trees are also to be set out. Prof. Wolff believes that fruitgrowing should be more general throughout the state than it is at present, and the department is working to find out the exact situation in regard to this important branch of agriculture.

Professor W. H. Wolff expects to spend this week-end in Hanover, N. H., where he will give pruning demonstrations in co-operation with County Agent Wilson.

RED CROSS CLOTHING DRIVE NETTED 20 BAGS.

Dr. A. E. Richards reports that the recent Red Cross drive for used clothing, shoes, etc., shows that it netted 20 bags or about 500 pounds of material. This will be shipped at once to France, Belgium and the Balkan states, where the need is most urgent.

AGRICULTURAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS.

The first meeting this semester of the Agricultural Club was held in their club rooms at Morrill Hall, on Monday evening. The main business of the evening was the election of new officers for the next semester.

Following is a list of officers elected: President, Oral A. Page, '19; vice president, L. J. Cree, '20; secretary, Harold Ham, '20; treasurer, Harry J. Haling, '20; master of program, H. M. Ladd, '20; chairman executive committee, F. M. Grimes, 2-yr. '19; sergeant-at-arms, O. J. Price, '22.

COMING EXAMINATIONS FOR CIVIL SERVICE JOBS.

A number of excellent opportunities are being offered by the United States Civil Service Commission at the present time. Examinations will be held about May 6 to fill the majority of these vacancies. Among the most favorable positions to be filled are the following:

Special Field Agent in Bee Culture (male), $1,200-$2,000; Correspondence Clerk, (male and female), grade 1, $1,200-$1,400 and grade 2, $1,400-$1,800. (Examination on May 7 and June 4); Assistant in Agricultural Instruction (male and female), $2,000-$2,400; Inspector of Locomotives, (male), $3,000; Statistician, (male), $1,800.

The above are only a few of the many governmental positions open to prospective applicants. Further information may be secured by consulting the circulars to be found at the library, or in the corridor of Thompson Hall.

TRUSTEES HOLD APRIL MEETING

Number of Innovations Are Introduced

CHANGE IN H. E. COURSE

New Entrance Requirements Are Decided on—Possibility of Musical Instructor—Appropriations

The regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees of New Hampshire was held on Wednesday, April 9. Those present were, Hon. Harvey L. Boutwell, Hon. James A. Tufts, Hon. Richard W. Sulloway, Hon. William H. Caldwell, Hon. Dwight L. Hall, Hon. Eugene S. Daniell, Hon. Andrew L. Felker and Hon. W. T. Nichols.

The board was in session the greater part of the day. Lunch was served at 12.30 at Smith Hall.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

A number of important changes affecting the general policy of the college, and particularly designed to provide for the anticipated expansion of the college and the extension of its work, were made. Among other things of importance, the trustees changed the entrance requirements of the institution in such manner as to make it possible for students graduating from the vocational courses of the high schools to enter the college without conditions. The new arrangement makes it possible for students to enter from all but one of the high school courses prescribed by the state department of education. They also reduced the number of entrance credits in mathematics for the construction courses in engineering from three units to two units.

FEES TO BE $10.00 PER TERM

Physical education will be required of all male students in the freshman, sophomore and two-year classes. This work will be given two hours per week during the year and will count one-half credit towards graduation.

The payment of fees was changed so that the general fees will be $10 per term, and all special course fees will be abolished, with the exception that any extraordinary breakage will be chargeable to the student.

CHANGES IN HOME ECONOMICS

The scope of the work in home economics was broadened so that it is designed to train students for the following principal lines of interest; first, to prepare them as high school teachers of home economics; second, to prepare them as specialists and dietitians; third, to train them for institutional management and, fourth, to offer a general training for home-making. This will put the home economics work on a par with the work given at the best institutions in

A CONTRIBUTOR'S COLUMN.

Suggestions have been received from time to time showing that a correspondence column in the New Hampshire would be a welcome innovation to increase the interest of the alumni in the college, and to provide a means of communication between students and the alumni and between the alumni themselves. The alumni can frequently give good suggestions by virtue of their position on the "outside looking in." Yet they have had no means of bringing them before the student body. A discussion of the needs of New Hampshire College, for instance, would bring an interest from more members of the alumni and would renew old acquaintances. And how about that June reunion? What ideas have you about the best way of celebrating it? Letters should be short and to the point. They should give the writer's opinion as clearly and concisely as possible. No anonymous letters will be published. When a discussion has been started, everyone will have an opinion and from this comparison of ideas conclusions will be reached which will, no doubt, be of great value to students and alumni of New Hampshire College.

The Contributor's Column will be open to not only the alumni but to students and faculty as well. The New Hampshire will not be held responsible for opinions expressed by contributors. The contributor's name will be affixed to the articles which should be addressed to Contributor's Column, The New Hampshire, Durham, N. H.

NEW HAMPSHIRE'S DELMONICO.

It is a generally accepted fact that destructive criticism is universal. It is easier to tear down than to build up. However, this article aims to criticize constructively. The truth need never be concealed.

The students of New Hampshire College are not satisfied with conditions at the mess-hall. In fact, they are very dissatisfied. One needs to eat there but once, to ascertain the pronounced feeling of discontent prevalent throughout the college. If this was confined to a minority of a few chronic grumblers, the matter would be unnoticed. But when a large number of intelligent upper-classmen, and even members of the faculty, are displeased with affairs at the messy mess-hall, something must be wrong.

No student is so radical as to forget the unusual difficulties under which the college is now striving. It is not the fault of the college that the Commons is not nearer completion. Next fall, conditions are to be different. But next fall is some distance in the future. In the meantime it is well to consider the problem of the mess-hall.

Conditions are not so sanitary there as they should be. The average college man does not feel that he should be compelled to polish his dishes with his handkerchief, that he may assure himself of at least a minimum of cleanliness. He is not at all pleased to have a cup of water, tea or coffee shoved across the counter to him, after the gentleman behind the counter has bathed a thumb, or perhaps two or three fingers, in performing the service. Cleanliness in the mess-hall would be a unique and surprising feature to all. It might do away with that disagreeable impression that one is eating in a barn instead of a college restaurant.

Students are reasonably certain that the mess should be improved. It would be well to remember that the day of miracles is presumably past. Five loaves will not feed a multitude nor do all people care for fish. We are not in the army now. We would like a decent variety of tasteful food. If that to which we have been exposed during the past few months is the best that can be expected for the sum of five dollars a week, would it not be better to increase the price of board, and thus insure a more edible quality of food?

At the present time, conditions are lamentable—a reflection upon any college. It is no pleasure for one to eat in the disagreeable atmosphere of the mess-hall. Eating is but a necessary grind—a task to be performed three times daily. College men are expected to be gentlemen, and as such, are supposed to know how to handle properly a knife and fork. It is expected that they will so conduct themselves in society, as to betray at least the rudiments of table etiquette. But the exasperating environment to which we are now subjected, exercises a positively deteriorating effect. It cannot be refuted that the present state of affairs is not conducive to the cultivation of good manners.

We are told that after each meal, eccentric old Dr. Johnson used to wipe his greasy hands upon the back of a Newfoundland dog. If Dr. Johnson were alive today, it would be extremely convenient for him to eat at the mess-hall.

Certainly, college men should be subject to refining and softening influences, and not have to endure the crude Neolithic cafeteria in which we now eat.

There was once a popular song with the following title, "Don't bite the hand that's feeding you." Some readers of this article will immediately recollect this song. However, it is interesting to note that in the army they sing an illuminating parody on this song. The parody is, "Don't bite the feed they're handing you."

In regard to the mess-hall we are all in the position of the proverbial man from Missouri. We are willing to be shown the necessity of such conditions. We desire to be shown that three times a day for the college year, we should be compelled to eat in such a disheartening place. We believe that there is a great need of improvement and that this is easily possible.

Most of us in our homes were taught to be gentlemen. Let us not forget this. We would progress, not retrogress. May we not be disappointed.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC FIELD.

Extensive plans have been made for a spring program of out-of-door sports for the girls including baseball, relay races and vaulting with the purpose in view of holding a field day and tennis tournament later in the spring.

At present there is just one drawback, however. No suitable place for these activities has been provided. With all the acres of land owned by the college there ought to be some place available for the use of the Physical Education department.

The girls have shown what kind of work they have been doing in the recent gymnasium exhibition and when a field is the only thing necessary to carry on this work is it not possible that such a place can be found?

DURHAM CHURCH REOPENED MUCH REPAIRING DONE.

The Durham church which has been closed for repairs, was opened for the regular services Sunday morning. During the time that the church was closed it was painted on the outside, the inside walls were tinted, and the seats were painted and varnished. The work done was paid for from the fund bequeathed to the church by Mrs. Edith Onderdonk.

U. S. ARMY AIR SERVICE NEEDS MEN.

A call has been sent out by the United States Army Air Service for 15,000 men to carry on its peacetime program and replace men who enlisted for service during the emergency only.

The Army Air Service educates its members thoroughly in the new and growing science of aviation, with its many commercial features and offers to men physically and mentally fit an opportunity to learn to fly.

Good salaries are paid to men in this service and to those who show initiative and energy many chances for advancement are offered in the many and varied branches of work.

Further information will be gladly furnished to any interested persons who will write to the U. S. Army Air Service, 739 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

TO CONDUCT EXPERIMENTS IN OAT PRODUCTION.

As there has been a marked increase in oat production in New Hampshire during the past two years, the Experiment Station, in co-operation with certain farmers of the state, is planning a series of variety tests, the first of which will be made during the coming season.

The object of these tests is to determine which of certain standard varieties of oats are best adapted to the various soils and sections of the state. The Experiment Station will plan the experiments, furnish the seed, provide a man to supervise the seeding, harvesting, threshing and securing of experimental data, and will pay five cents a bushel toward the cost of threshing. The farmers will furnish the land, labor fertilizer and machinery, and will, of course, own the oats produced. It will be necessary for the farmer to provide a grain drill, a binder, hay scales and a thresher, for unless these machines are owned or can be hired the experiment cannot be conducted.

It is planned to furnish enough seed of eight standard varieties to sow one-fourth of an acre each. Between twenty and twenty-five pounds of each variety will be necessary. The varieties selected are: Lincoln, Swedish Select, Mammoth Cluster, White Tartar, Ontario Agricultural College Number 72, Gem of Michigan, Worthy, and King Seed.

A plot of land of about two acres, either square or rectangular in shape, will be necessary and should be uniform and reasonably level. A loam or sandy loam soil is preferred. As this is a variety test, the kind and amount of fertilizer to be used is immaterial, although manure with acid phosphate alone or 500 to 600 pounds per acre of a 3-10 or 4-10 fertilizer is suggested. The tests are to be made on the New Hampshire College farm, St. Paul's School farm in Concord, Fred Smalley's farm in Walpole, the Webster estate in Holderness, and on the W. E. Bullard farm in Lancaster. These tests are necessary because the Experiment Station has very little data on the subject of oat varieties suitable for New Hampshire.

DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

Formerly, with butter-fat at 25 to 35 cents a pound, a DeLaval Cream Separator saved $10 to $15 per cow per year over gravity skimming.

Now with butter-fat selling at 50 to 60 cents a pound, and even higher, the saving with a DeLaval is doubled.

If you have only two cows and are selling cream or making butter, a DeLaval will soon save enough to pay for itself.

With butter-fat at present prices you need a DeLaval more than ever before, and if you already have an inferior or half-worn-out separator, your cream loss with such a machine is too big to be neglected.

The best cream separator you can get is the only machine you can afford to use these days, and creamerymen, dairy authorities and the 2,325,000 DeLaval users all agree that the DeLaval is the world's greatest cream saver. They know from experience that the DeLaval skims the closest, lasts the longest and gives the best service.

Order your De Laval now and let it begin saving cream for you right away. See the local De Laval agent, or, if you don't know him, write to the nearest De Laval office as below

"DOC" BELL HAS BEEN CITED FIVE TIMES

Johnson, ex-'19, Is Home on a Month's Leave—"Les" Bell Has Been Made Captain

Hon. Harvey L. Boutwell, '82, was recently commented upon in the Boston Record as one of the foremost members of the Massachusetts bar. Mr. Boutwell, though almost totally blind, has been able to serve the city of Malden for many years as attorney, and through his efforts has saved the city many hundreds of thousands of dollars. Mr. Boutwell was in Durham on Wednesday to attend the meeting of the Board of Trustees.

W. S. Bartlett, '15, recently discharged from the service, was a visitor in Durham on Thursday.

R. D. Brackett, '18, is teacher of physics and chemistry at Goddard Seminary, Barre, Vermont. He is also baseball coach.

Miss Verna C. Hardy, '17, and Miss Louise Burpee, '17, were visitors in Durham during the last week. Miss Hardy is teaching at Claremont High School. Miss Burpee teaches in Manchester.

Miss Erma Lary, '18, has returned to her home in Portland, Me., from St. Petersburg, Fla., where she has been spending a few months.

E. L. Bell, '18, has been cited five times for bravery in action. "Doc" has also been "over the top" nine times. He is in the 165th Infantry stationed at Coblenz, Germany.

L. S. Bell, '21, "Les," is stationed at Chaumont. The Bells are well represented in the military department of the United States for beside the two brothers mentioned above their father is a major in the army.

H. A. Rollins, ex-'21, and C. D. McKelvie, ex-'21, spent the week-end in Durham.

M. H. Johnson, ex-'19, is home at the Shirley Hill House, Manchester, on a month's leave having just returned from a long cruise in Mediterranean waters. He hopes to visit Durham before his leave has expired.

A. W. Gamash, '15, writes from "Nowhere in France," that he hopes to get home in June but that according to all military matters nothing is definite. He says that the fruit trees are in bloom but the mud is as deep as ever. Durham mud is nothing alongside of French mud, he thinks. He is still in the 31st company of the 29th Engineers, A. E. F.

Wm. M. Forgarve, ex-'18, is with the American Y. M. C. A. in Vladivostok, Spain. He enlisted in the Young Men's Christian Association in June, 1917, having been exempted because of being a clergyman. He worked at Portsmouth, N. H. and Springfield, Mass., as district secretary until sent overseas, arriving there February 17, 1919.

D. C. Stinson, 2-yr. '03, who was killed last June in action at Belleau Wood is buried in a grave located nine miles from Chateau Thierry according to a letter received from one of his companions. The letter says: "The grave has a cross marking it bearing the name of Daniel C. Stinson, 8 Loise Park, Roxbury, Mass. You can tell his folks that he is nine miles out of Chateau Thierry and directly in front of the woods of Belleau where the fighting went on. His grave is in excellent condition, grass growing on it, has the American grave insignia on a khaki colored cross and his name and identification are plainly marked. The grave yard is fenced in and is located on a hill where the sun has a chance to strike it." Stinson was a private in the Marine Corps. A memorial service was held recently in his honor at his church in Roxbury, Mass.

following Sunday of the two hundredth anniversary of the meeting house. In connection with the scene showing the patriotic services of General Sullivan, the committee considers itself fortunate in securing Captain Lynde Sullivan as the director of this episode, which will take place right in his front door yard, so to speak, Captain Sullivan is not only related to General Sullivan, but he is also an authority upon the facts of the patriot's life. The leader of the scene representing the college life of today has not yet been chosen, but the committee proposes to select one faculty member and perhaps three undergraduates to supervise this scene. The idea of those in charge is to have the students' outdoor life represented in canoe-racing (singles and "mixed doubles"), a rope-pull, tub races, etc. It is hoped that this will prove a popular number with which to close the pageant of the day.

It is hardly necessary to add that the pageant committee would welcome any suggestions which would tend to make the scenes not only an interesting spectacle but also a source of pride to the whole community. It is very encouraging to the committee to learn that various residents of the town have already offered to obtain such necessary equipment as boats, canoes, teams, costumes, etc., as well as to give their personal services in order to insure the success of the day. When the college community is called upon—as it will be soon—an equally quick and generous response is confidently expected.

The pageant committee is composed of: Dr. A. E. Richards, Mr. Ralph Paine, the Rev. Vaughan Dabney, Miss Helen Bartlett and Miss Ruth Richardson.

Dean E. R. Groves is publishing in the current numbers of "Rural Manhood" a sociological study of village life under the title "Life on Our Street."

SERGT. G. W. WOLFF IS MILITARY ASSISTANT

Has Long Been in the Service—Connected with Intelligence Department in France

First Sergeant G. W. Wolff of the Regular Army has been detailed here by the War Department to assist in instructing the members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at New Hampshire College.

Sergeant Wolff has seen years of service in the regular army and is well acquainted with modern warfare, for his work while in France, was with the Intelligence Department, and this brings one in direct contact with the enemy.

Sergeant Wolff's first outfit was the Second Field Artillery, which was stationed, while he was attached, at Vancouver Barracks, Washington, and at Fort McKinley, Philippine Islands.

But the manhandling of the pedal extremities of mules was not to the sergeant's liking, especially when they went into action, so he enlisted in the First Infantry and was stationed in the Hawaiian Islands.

He was detailed as sergeant-instructor from the regiment of the Pacific Branch of the Disciplinary Barracks at Alcatraz, California.

At the time of the Mexican trouble he was transferred to active service with the Sixth Infantry on the Border. The Sixth was sent to France the early part of last year and Sergt. Wolff was detailed to the Intelligence Department and worked for the most part obtaining valuable information as to the movements and strength of the enemy at different points.

Late last summer he was detailed back to the States by the War Department as instructor in the Intelligence School of the 12th Division at Camp Devens, Mass.

TRUSTEES HOLD APRIL MEETING.

the country, and will meet practically every demand that is made for training in this particular field.

The change will go into effect next year when every girl registering in the home economics department will elect the branch for which she wishes to fit herself. These will be the institutional, by which she will be enabled to become a manager or head dietitian in some institution; the dietetical, as in a hospital, and the third the pedagogical, will prepare for the training of teachers in home economics.

MAY HAVE MUSIC INSTRUCTOR

The trustees also authorized the president of the college to investigate the practicability of interesting some well qualified teacher of music to come to the college and offer courses in music and coach the various musical organizations. There is no appropriation to support this work but the board felt that special fees for these lessons might properly be charged and in that manner the work could be made self-supporting.

The trustees listened to a report of the legislative appropriations and referred the details of plans for the improvement of the college plant and extension of farm operations to the committees on real estate and farm respectively.

GIRLS TO HOLD BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

Four girls having the highest bowling score are to be chosen from each of the three lower classes to compete in a bowling tournament to be held next week.

Mr. Schoonmaker has kindly given the use of the bowling alleys free, the afternoon of the tournament to show his appreciation of the girls' consideration and courtesy in their use of the alleys.

HOSTESS HOUSE NOTES.

On Wednesday, April 9, the new College Folk Club, formerly the Woman's League, held an important meeting at the house which was followed by refreshments.

The Y. M. C. A. Advisory Board held a very important conference Thursday with Rev. Sheldon and Mr. Shedd to plan for Y. M. C. A. work here at the college during the year.

For visitors this week the house has Dr. Charles Reittel and Mr. M. S. Barber. Dr. Reittel is an economist from the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., and is here in Durham settling up and auditing the final accounts of the S. A. T. C. At present he is connected with the War Department Office in Boston. Mr. Barber is here to contract for the finished hard-wood work to be installed in the New Commons building.

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND INFORMAL FRIDAY EVENING.

A large crowd attended the informal dance Friday, April 6, in the gymnasium. The music was furnished by the college orchestra. The dance was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Vickers and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Langley.

FACULTY DANCING CLASSES ARE PROVING POPULAR.

The faculty dancing class which was organized by Miss Helen Brackett, has been enthusiastically received by the members of the faculty and their wives who have availed themselves of the opportunity to indulge in the pleasure of dancing.

The class is held in the Thompson Hall gymnasium each Thursday evening from 8 to 10.30 and about thirty people attend.

The class is planning to give a party later on in the year.

THINK IT OVER

The trend of modern conditions makes a knowledge of law necessary to the heads of all great industrial enterprises.

Whether a young man contemplates following the legal profession or whether he hopes to head any great industrial organization, he will find a legal training of utmost value to him in after life.

The forward-looking youth lays his plans now for future success. The study of law is one great essential to this end.
