BOSTON ENGLISH WINS TRACK MEET

Captures Second Leg On Out-of-State Cup TIE FOR TROPHY

Seventh Annual Interscholastic Meet Success—Colby Wins in State Cup—Hammer and High Jump Records Broken

The Seventh Annual Interscholastic Track Meet was held last Saturday at the college oval and was very successful. The meet was won by Boston English High School with 56 points. This victory gives them their second leg on the out of state cup, having won the first leg in 1913. It also makes a three cornered tie for this trophy, as both Hebron Academy and Huntington School have two legs on it. The in-state cup was won for the third time by Colby Academy with 15 points, and now goes to them permanently. They took third place in the meet as Maine Central Institute was second with 24 points. Sanborn Seminary came in fourth with nine points and Stevens High of Claremont, N. H., fifth with four points. RECORDS BROKEN

Maine Central was favored to win, but as they had competed the day before in the Brown Interscholastics at Providence, they were not in condition to put forward their best efforts and did not fulfill expectations. Clarence Emery, their star hurdler and weight man, confined his efforts to the weights winning both events handily and breaking the hammer record held by Fisher of Tilton Seminary with a heave of 142 ft. 9 in. He added 1 1/2 in. to the previous record; he also attempted to break the record in the shot put but fell short of Shelburne's record by almost two feet. The only other record to go was the high jump, which was broken when Capt. John Feeny of English High topped the bar at 5 ft. 7 3/4 in. toppling Evans' (Nashua High) record of 5 ft. 6 in. Harold Mock, the clever half miler of English High failed to eclipse the 880 mark by only 1-5 of a second when he did not sprint on the home stretch.

PRETTY RACES

It took three trials and two semi-final heats to find the men worthy to run in the finals of the 220. In the final, Foster of English jumped right into the lead after a two-yard set back, winning easily over Nassikas of Sanborn. Fitts of Maine Central had it all his own way in the mile, leading the entire distance. The quarter was the best race of the afternoon, Glazier of Colby winning. He took the lead at the start and was

C. W. BUTTERFIELD TALKS AT CHAPEL

State Superintendent of Schools Discusses Some of New Hampshire's Educational Problems

Although he denied the charge of taking advantage of a lull in the ceremonies of a funeral, which he was attending, to speak a few words upon the development of education, C. W. Butterfield, State Superintendent, said that he was indeed glad to talk to the students of New Hampshire College about the educational conditions in New Hampshire.

He said that in some lines the schools of New Hampshire have gone far ahead and in others they are far behind but New Hampshire High schools are on the whole of notable excellence and in the past seven years the number of pupils in the high schools has doubled over and above any increase in population.

Mr. Butterfield said in part: "We are woefully behind the schools of other states in the lack of equality due to varying lengths of the school year moreover this is one of the few states which allows persons to teach without examination. Undertakers and peddlers have to be licensed but school teachers need only the favor of the school board to obtain a position. After September 1st this will all be changed."

NEW SCHOOL LAWS

"The present school laws were made for the time when the people were scattered all over the state but now the schools are being put on a different basis and this state will soon have schools with the best possible opportunities for education."

INTERSCHOLASTIC PRIZE SPEAKING

Sanborn Seminary Captures First and Third at Annual Reading Contest May 30—Manchester High Second

On Friday evening, May 30, the annual interscholastic prize reading contest was held in the college gymnasium under the auspices of the English department before a surprisingly large audience. From twenty contestants, representing eight schools, there were chosen ten contestants for the final trials. These speakers were: Agatha Crowell (Berwick Academy), Camille Hudon (Berwick Academy), Thomas Folsom (Sanborn Seminary), James Gartzos (Sanborn Seminary), Loren Rand (Pinkerton Academy), Mabel Hayes (Robinson Seminary), Elinor Stearns (Manchester High), Samuel Epstein (Boston Latin), Carolyn Hodgdon (Berwick Academy) and Marjorie Groah (Berwick Academy.)

NEW HAMPSHIRE WINS IN 14TH

Extra Inning Game Finally Sewed Up

SCORE 5-4

Andrews Strikes Out Sixteen—Captain "Bill" Bats Out Winning Hit—Best Game of Season

With three men on, two out, and two on Capt. Bill Shuttleworth came through with a fine smash to right center that served to sew up the game for New Hampshire in the fourteenth inning of the game with Conn. Aggies last Monday. Andrews, the freshman pitcher, twirled a fine game, allowing but six hits, all of which came before the seventh inning. The whole team played the best it has this season, getting twelve safeties and making only three errors. Sixteen Conn. men fell along the strike out route while fifteen N. H. men went the same way. The visitors led in the seventh three to one.

LUCKY SEVENTH

Lorden, the first man up in the seventh started things with a fine triple to left; after Andrews had fanned, and Broderick had been passed, Butler slammed one over third base for a single, sending in two runs which tied it up. That closed the scoring for that inning. Connecticut got another in the eighth on a base on balls and an error by Lorden. With one out in the ninth Andrews doubled and scored on a passed ball a few minutes later, thus tying the score and forcing the game into extra innings. Both teams played fast ball for the next four innings, the visitors cutting off a rally in the eleventh with a fine double play. In the fourteenth, Swain, the opposing pitcher, had a wild streak, passing two. Andrews opened with a hard smash to the shortstop who missed it, Broderick was passed, and Butler fanned. Jenness walked, after an attempt to sacrifice, filling the bases. Rumazza bunted but the ball landed too close to the plate and Andrews was forced at home. With the bases crowded, Bill came to bat and the crowd yelled for the necessary hit. After two and two were called on him, Bill hit the next between short and second, bringing the winning run. Butler and Shuttleworth shone for N. H. while Eaton and Brigham did the best work for the visitors.

FRESHMEN LOSE TO EXETER ACADEMY

Game Loosely Played by Both Teams—Harris' Circus Catch in Fifth Only Feature of Game

The Freshmen lost to the strong Exeter nine last Wednesday by the score of 6-4 in a closely contested game. Errors in the fourth served to hand the game to the Academy. Pill, the first man up in that inning, was passed, stole second and went to third on Cutler's single; they both scored when Smith let one go by. The next two men were out, but on an error by Marsh, the next man reached first and also stole second. Mosier singled and Bullard scored when Harris failed to stop the hit. Mullen fanned after Handy had doubled and the scoring was over for that inning. Exeter got two more in the seventh on errors although Andrews fanned four men; they also got one in the ninth on three successive hits. The freshmen tallied once in the second when Keane singled after two were down, advanced on an infield out and scored on a wild throw. Harris tripled in the fifth and scored on Broderick's sacrifice fly to center. Andrews reached third on his long fly to right in the seventh, which the fielder could not quite reach and counted on Harris' infield out. In the eighth Carpenter singled, stole second, went to third on a wild throw, and scored on Marsh's single, but the rally was nipped when the latter was caught stealing. Harris pulled a circus catch in the fifth, when he robbed Cutler of a home run. Keane and Carpenter did well for the Freshmen, and Cutler and Mosier played the best for the Academy.

DURHAM PAGEANT GREAT SPECTACLE

Splendid Portrayal of Town's Historic Past

HUNDREDS VISIT DURHAM.

History Told in Three Episodes—Patriotic Spirit of New England Settlers Emphasized—Much Credit Due Actors

The historical pageant given by the townspeople and the college students in celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Durham church took place Saturday afternoon, May 31, on the banks of the Oyster river.

5,000 SEE OUT-DOOR DRAMA

A large audience estimated at 4,500 to 5,000 people was seated on the hillside sloping from the Sawyer's house down to the river. Many people came from all over the state besides goodly representations from Maine and Massachusetts. Automobiles and carriages filled up the available parking space for a considerable distance along the roadside near the scene, and their successful manipulation was a sufficient task to keep the military traffic officer busy.

FIRST EPISODE

The first episode represented a period between 1640 and 1680 when a band of pioneer settlers were clearing the town of Durham. They were temporarily settled on a bank of the river on the opposite side of which a tribe of Indians lived. As the scene opened the Indians were occupied with various activities: the children were playing games, dancing and occasionally a war cry was heard. On the opposite bank the white women were cooking by means of iron kettles hung over the fire, spinning, and washing clothes in the river. Meanwhile the men were driving oxen and building log cabins. In front of one of the cabins a school was in session and one little boy was the wearer of a dunce cap. The Indians were hostile to the settlers and when Parson John Buss crossed the river to make peace, his terms were rejected and he was sent back with whoops of displeasure. Soon a band of Indian braves led by their chief made an attack on the whites, who retreated into their cabins and fired from the loop holes. The air was filled with flying arrows and the smoke of guns. The Indians were defeated and soon withdrew while the settlers gathered and thanked God for their deliverance.

FOUNDING OF CHURCH

The second episode was the representation of the founding of the first church at Durham and was shown on the right bank of the river where the Colonial village had been in the first episode.

The people were summoned by the beat of a drum, and led by Parson Buss and his four deacons they sang hymns as they marched down to the banks of the river and formed an open square. Instructed by Parson Buss, the deacons drove in stakes for the foundation of the church. Then the Parson and the deacons knelt down and prayed for the consecration of their work. The ending of the episode was marked by the formation of a procession of the villagers who marched off singing hymns.

PATRIOTIC SPIRIT SHOWN

The third episode showed how Durham entered into the War of the Revolution. The scene is supposed to have taken place in 1774. The people were gathered on the banks of the river before this village as the King's messenger, guarded by two soldiers, tried to read a royal proclamation signed by his Excellency, Governor John Wentworth, at Portsmouth. This proclamation demanded that all gunpowder and other munitions be delivered into the custody of the British officers. The people of Durham didn't listen very attentively to the procla-

WHY?

Why is it that New Hampshire has one of the poorest athletic fields of all the New England colleges, when she is among the leaders of those colleges in most branches of sport? With one of the most beautiful campuses in the East, surely it should not be marred by the absence of a good athletic field. Such colleges as Colby, Bowdoin, Boston, Brown, Middlebury, Mass. Aggies, and Wesleyan, all have fine grass diamonds with outfields stretching as far as the heaviest hitter can hit the ball. Here at N. H., the outfield is hilly, and right field extends but a scant twenty-five feet beyond first base. Because of this, many long flies that would be easy outs on the average field, go for two base hits. Another disadvantage of the baseball field is the background behind the home plate; it is practically impossible for an outfielder to see a low line drive until it is past the pitcher's box, and then it is too late to judge the ball correctly. Two glaring examples of this may be seen in the Boston College game. In the fourth inning Urban of the visiting team sent one on a low line toward center; the center fielder started in but then realized the ball was going over his head. Nevertheless it was too late and the ball went over his head for a triple, the running continuing on to home when the ball was not found, because it had lodged in some rubbish that was being used to fill in around the edges of the track. The left fielder made the same mistake later on in the game. As to the field, it is very rough and in the jumping pits many of the visiting schoolboys last Saturday wondered if records would hold as the lanes were down hill. In the same way, the weights are thrown down hill so that a competitor gains almost a foot. Certainly the problem of an athletic field is an important one, and the college should be interested as a good field is one of the most important features of a college campus.

THETA CHI FRAT TRIMS LAMBDA CHI IN TENNIS.

In a tennis tournament between Theta Chi and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternities played on Memorial day the former easily carried away the honors. On the Theta Chi counts Newman lost to Craig in the singles but in the doubles Craig and Hill were defeated by Newman and Melville of "Lam Kai." On the Lambda Chi courts Vose and Thayer playing against Carpenter and Jenness carried away the match by winning every set.

GIRLS TO HAVE TENNIS TOURNAMENT NEXT WEEK.

Arrangements are being made for girls' tennis tournaments of singles and doubles to take place on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

The girls entered in the doubles are Miriam Fuller, Leona Colton, Annie McWeeney, Hortense Cavis, Winnifred Brown, Lucile Bureligh, Miriam Lewis and Muriel Chamberlain. Those entered in the singles are, Hortense Cavis, Miriam Furberlain, Leona Colton, Lucile Bureligh, Annie McWeeney, Muriel Chamberlain, Amber Arey and Helen Chase.

Mr. Victor Bennett will referee the semi-finals and Doctor Howes has consented to referee the finals.

When these matches are played off mixed doubles will be played.

DURHAM GIRLS' CLUB HAS A TEA ROOM.

One of the most successful things run in connection with the pageant was the tea room which was opened by the Durham Girls' Club in the Old Library building.

Tables were placed under the trees where the visitors ate sandwiches, ice cream, cake and drank iced tea and coffee.

At the pageant grounds sandwiches were sold under the direction of Mrs. Lester Langley.

The total amount netted from the tea room was about $80 and this went towards the pageant fund.

Miss Beulah Bettell deserves much credit for the assistance she gave the girls in this project.

SPRINGFIELD WINS FROM "N. H." NINE

Loosely Played Game Although Thrilling Ends Up in Y. M. C. A.'s Favor—Played at Central Park

New Hampshire lost a thrilling though loosely played game to Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Central Park, Dover, on Memorial Day, by a score of 12-10.

At the beginning of the seventh Captain Carlson of Springfield decided to forsake the box for the field as his team had an eleven run lead. Hobert took up the duties and right there the Blue and White started things. With three men on Captain Shuttleworth realized what is many a baseball player's dream and knocked a home run over the fence. Six runs that inning and four the next made the score look nearer even.

Andrews, the varsity track star, pitched the last two innings and got two hits, one a two bagger, out of twice at the bat. Haberman and Bennett starred for Springfield.

RELIGIOUS COLLEGE TO BE AT DURHAM

Northern New England School of Religious Education to Hold Its Session Here Week of August 11-17.

The fifth Annual Session of the Northern New England School of Religious Education will be held at The New Hampshire College, Durham, August 11-17, and promises to be the most successful in its history.

The hearty welcome accorded by the college to this school is ably expressed in the words of President Hetzel, who, with the Executive Secretary and members of the faculty is co-operating in every way possible in the plans of the Dean and Board of Managers.

"The New Hampshire College takes particular pleasure in welcoming to its campus this summer the Northern New England School of Religious Education. The college is a public institution and, consequently, is anxious that its plant and resources shall be used in the promotion of all worthy educational effort. The splendid work that is now being carried on by the Northern New England School of Religious Education is of the nature that particularly appeals to our sense of valuable public service. For these reasons, we extend to the school a most hearty welcome."

R. D. HETZEL,
President.

This School, which was formerly The Twin State School (New Hampshire and Vermont) was incorporated during the session of 1918 as The Northern New England School of Religious Education, and has formerly been held at Dartmouth College, a central meeting place for both states, but on account of the increasing interest and attendance, it is found to be desirable to hold two schools this summer, and a like session will be conducted at the University of Vermont, Burlington, August 4-10.

FACULTY ANNOUNCED

The faculty includes the best authorities on Religious Education the country affords, and includes: Charles Foster Kent, of Yale University; William H. Wood of Dartmouth; Dr. Milton S. Littlefield of New York; Arthur H. Merritt of Boston; Rev. Earle B. Cross of New York; Miss N. L. Frayser of Louisville, Ky.; Laura Ella Cragin of Boston; Mrs. Caroline C. Barney of Boston; Miss Mary S. Warren of Vermont; Rev. L. L. Barber of Nashua; Prof. and Mrs. C. L. Simmers of New Hampshire College; Rev. Vaughn Dabney of Durham and Miss Bertha Titsworth of New Hampshire College.

There will be a popular course of Evening Lectures on the general theme Religious Education and Reconstruction. Among the speakers of renown in this course are President Ernest Martin Hopkins of Dartmouth College whose special theme is "Problems of the New Era" and Right Reverend Edward M. Parker, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of New Hampshire and President Hetzel who will give the Commencement Address on Sunday evening.

A Vesper Service each evening will precede the lecture course. It will be held in one of the beautiful spots on the campus, and will be conducted by Rev. Robert W. Coe, Pastor of the First Parish Church, Dover.

The Devotional Services at the opening of each day's session will be led by Rev. Frank G. Woodworth of Somersworth and other pastors in the county.

PLAN PLEASURE TRIPS

A very pleasant feature of the school is the recreational period, the entire afternoon being free for that. Durham affords unusual opportunities for outdoor enjoyment. Plans are being made for auto trips around Great Bay, canoe trips on the historic Oyster River, picnic suppers in the beautiful Smith Park and extensive college woods, and sports on the athletic field.

Thus, those enrolling for the week will not only receive inspiration and instruction, but will enjoy a most delightful summer vacation, for a very small sum—$12.00 includes a pleasant dormitory room and excellent board in the new College Commons, and the tuition fee for all the magnificent courses offered is only $3.00.

The present indications point to a large attendance. The Sunday Schools that in previous years have found it a wise investment to pay the expenses of one delegate, are now planning to send two or three—and several schools who have always paid the expenses of at least six teachers or prospective teachers are increasing that number.

Never before in the history of our state has a better opportunity been presented for pastors, superintendents, teachers or those desiring to become teachers, parents, older boys and older girls for discussing and solving religious, social and economic problems.

Applications for enrollment or information for either session, at Durham, or Burlington, should be addressed to the Dean, Mrs. Nellie T. Hendrick, Nashua, N. H. The trustees in the immediate vicinity of Durham, Miss Elizabeth Sawyer, Dover, and Mrs. L. H. Thayer, Portsmouth, are also ready to give further details of this school.

At a recent election the following officers were chosen to fill vacancies in the Y. W. C. A. cabinet: Vice president, Judith Jenness, '20; secretary, Dorothy Shand, '21.

MANY SNAPPY ALUMNI NOTES

Several Old New Hampshire Grads
Visit Durham for Pageant—Many
Plan to Return for Alumni
Day

R. J. Irish, '14, of Wolfeboro, was in Durham for a short visit early this week.

"Babe" Anderson, '10, teacher in Manchester High School, came to see the pageant Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hancock of Medford attended the anniversary services at the church last Sunday. Mr. Hancock of the class of '98, is a manufacturer of dairy machinery.

W. H. Pascoe, 2-yr. '13, second lieutenant in the air observation service, has recently been discharged. He was commissioned on March 6, 1918 and stationed with the 99th aero squadron. He is at present in his home at Ossipee.

Gordon P. Huse, 2-yr. '13, captain in the veterinary department of the army, has written of his intention to stay in the service.

"Bill" Brady, ex-'20, former football star, says he expects to hold down his job as a non-com in the marines for a year more at least and longer if he likes it well enough.

A. M. Stalker, ex-'21, of Plaistow saw New Hampshire win from Connecticut last Monday. He has decided to remain on the farm permanently.

"Doc" Porter, former professor of mechanical engineering, spent a few days of his vacation here this week. He is at present working for the New Jersey Zinc Company of Pennsylvania.

George Towle was here for the week-end. At present he is at the head of about a thousand boys in Boston as a leader of Boys' and Girls' Clubs.

"Jigger" Howe, '19, recently discharged from naval aviation after several months overseas, was in Durham to see the pageant Saturday. "Jig" is coming back next year to complete his course. While stationed at Queenstown, England, he had a two days' visit with Joe Morrill, '18.

George Arnold, '12, a florist of Stoneham, Mass., was a recent visitor at the S. A. E. House.

Carlton Tibbetts, '17, second lieutenant in Field Artillery, is expected home during the latter part of June.

Sumner Carlyle, '17, first lieutenant in the army aviation is expected to land in America in a few days. Carlyle has seen over a year of hard service at the front. We heard a bit about him from "Doc" Bell, who told of his falling into a tree with his aeroplane at Chateau Thierry.

Guy Booth, '20, and "Bunny" Lougee, '20, both of Laconia, spent a few days in Durham last week.

Ralph Pitman, '20, was down to see the pageant Saturday. He is working at the shipyards in Bath, Me., as an accountant.

Oliver Work, '16, was heard from this week. His name had heretofore been omitted in the list of New Hampshire service men. Work enlisted May 15, 1918, at Camp Devens and was sent on June 27, 1918, to the Officers' Training Camp at Camp Lee. He received a second lieutenant's commission on August 25 and was assigned to duty at Camp Lee. He was discharged from that camp Dec. 17, 1918.

Clinton Reade, '15, second lieutenant in the air service, has returned to his home in Manchester.

Ensign George Blatchford, '18, writes that he hopes to reach Durham for Commencement.

Harold C. Gow, ex-'20, was seen sporting a new Dodge car recently.

Lieut. Clesson W. Richardson, '18, motored to New York from Marlboro, N. H., last week. He had the opportunity offered him there to fly over the city in a Curtis H. He saw from the air many points of interest such as Brooklyn Bridge, Statue of Liberty, Central Park, Grant's Tomb, the Palisades, and the Hudson river at a height of 2,000 feet.

Irving A. Colby, '19, has bought a farm in Nottingham, N. H.

Capt. C. S. Pettee, '16, of the Regular Army is spending a few weeks' furlough with his family. He is slowly recovering from the effects of mustard gas.

Another war romance was culminated when Leon Cross, ex-'20, married Miss Helen Converse on Monday, June 2. Cross met his bride, a college graduate and teacher of science at Clemson College, South Carolina, when he was stationed at that institution in the S. A. T. C. Lieut. Cross went to Plattsburg last summer, received a second lieutenant's commission, and was assigned to duty at Clemson College in October. The couple will return after their honeymoon to Cross' home in Tilton. He expects to go into the dry goods business with his father soon after arriving home.

F. A. BARKER, '20, ELECTED PRESIDENT OF N. H. A. A.

Polls were open all day Wednesday at "T." Hall for the election of officers for the Athletic Association. The balloting was carried on under the supervision of the student council which has announced the following results:

President, Forest A. Barker
Vice President, Cecil A. Morrison
Secretary, Florence A. Kelley
Treasurer, Prof. J. H. Gourley
Executive Committee,

Faculty Members,
Prof. Richard Whoriskey
Prof. L. W. Hitchcock
Student Member, Rodney Hill
Cheer Leader, Milton Vose
Assistants, Norwood N. Nute
Basil J. Mitchell

ALPHA TAU OMEGA HOLDS INTER-FRATERNITY PARTY.

Last Wednesday night the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity held an inter-fraternity get-together party and smoker at their chapter house. All men's fraternities of the college were present and after engaging in a tennis tournament which was won by Sigma Alpha Epsilon the men gathered around tables on the porch for a series of card games. Coach Cowell, Sergeant Wolff and "Diek" Whoriskey were the centers of attraction in nosey poker.

An orchestra composed of men from the different houses, who "sat in" at intervals during the evening kept the music flowing.

The serving of refreshments consisting of ice cream and fancy crackers and the singing of several college songs marked the closing of a very successful inter-fraternity gathering.

PROF. WEBBER'S RECITAL OF HAMLET VERY PLEASING.

Last Wednesday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock in the college gymnasium an unique entertainment of educational value was offered to the students when Professor James Flaisted Webber of Phillips Exeter Academy came as the guest of Book and Scroll and recited the play of Hamlet to an audience of about 150 students and faculty members.

The oppressive heat of the day did not prevent the audience from showing by their keen attention and generous applause that they appreciated Professor Webber's recital. The scholarly portrayal of Hamlet the philosopher—"but mad north-north-west," the vivid imaging of the senile old fox Polonius, the sharply outlined characterization of the hypocritical king—all this gave the reading of Shakespeare's masterpiece a high rank in that class of educational entertainment for which Book and Scroll stands sponsor.

Thanks to the generosity of Professor Webber, the literary society above named was able to give the entertainment to the college free of charge.

CERCLE FRANCAIS HAS INTERESTING MEETING.

The members of the Cercle Francais showed their interest in that organization by holding their weekly meeting at seven o'clock last Monday morning for lack of any other available time.

At this meeting it was decided to retain the present officers for next year and to restrict membership by bidding. The requirements of those to be eligible will be the obtaining of a rank of 85 in the advanced French course.

CHURCH SERVICES END PAGEANT

200th Anniversary Exercises Mark
Finish of Big Durham Celebration—Many Noted Speakers

On Sunday, June 1, the two hundredth anniversary services of the Durham church were held, on the closing day of this most successful celebration. At the morning service, at 10.30, the church was filled almost to overflowing. The sermon was by the Rev. W. S. Beard of New York City, on the subject, "The World of Tomorrow and the Church of Tomorrow." Memorial gifts were presented to the church by Dean C. H. Pettee, and received by Mr. Dabney. These consisted of a tablet containing Durham's honor roll for the war, a tablet with names of all the pastors of the church and a beautiful old pulpit set of mahogany, which was formerly in the church and has now been restored.

At 3.00 p. m. a "Fellowship Service" was held, with delegations present from neighboring churches, and addresses by the Rev. O. D. Sewall and the Rev. S. H. Barnum. Music was furnished by the quartet of the First Parish church, Dover.

At 7.30 p. m. a "Community Song Service" was held, led by the College Glee Clubs and trio from the college orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Richards. Following the music, an historical address was given by the pastor, followed by President Hetzel, who spoke on the subject, "Looking Forward."

PAGEANT COMMITTEE HOLDS "FINIS" DANCE AT "GYM."

An enjoyable ending of Pageant Day was the dance held Saturday night in the gymnasium. Many of the guests were present in costume and shy Furitan maids were seen dancing with fierce Indian warriors in all their paint and feathers.

To help defray the presentation expenses of the pageant admission was charged and in this way about $100 was collected.

Programs were sold and at intermission ice cream, cake, sandwiches and iced coffee from the tea room were for sale.

The chaperones for the dance were Mrs. Edward Griffiths and Dean and Mrs. Charles Hewitt.

MISS THOMPSON HAS ANOTHER FINE SOUVENIR.

A complete history of the 91st Aero Squadron is now one of Miss Charlotte Thompson's most prized possessions. The history, which was sent to Miss Thompson by First Lieutenant H. C. Atkins, ex-'18, covers the entire period from the time of the squadron's organization at Kelley Field on Aug. 20, 1917, to the ending of hostilities.

The 91st squadron went over seas in October, 1917, moving to Amanty two months later. Its organization as a reconnaissance squadron was completed in February, 1918, when Major J. M. Reynolds, J. M. A. U. S. A. S., was assigned to its command and was said to be the best of the U. S. Air Squadrons in France. This squadron is noted for its work of reconnaissance in the St. Mihiel drive.

Lieut. Atkins, who joined the 91st in October, 1918 and who was an observer, expects to be sent home very soon.

DON'T DOUBT IT! IT'S THE PLAIN TRUTH.

The "Commons" building is coming along in fine shape, the plastering being done practically all over the building. This means that with the completion of the cement floor in the grill room and basement that every thing will be ready for the hardwood finish to be put in as soon as the necessary skilled labor can be secured. The doors, window frames and finish of all kinds is ordered or on its way to Durham, and all that prevents a speedy completion of the construction is the lack of skilled carpenters to do the work. Carpenters are striking all over this part of the country for 80c to $1.00 an hour, which the contractors so far refuse to pay.

However, the contractor is sure that he has the "cards stacked," and that the building will be finished for use at the beginning of the college year next fall.

BOTANY CLASS HAS UNIQUE EXPERIMENT

Two Divisions Have Interesting "Lab"
Period—Sections Win and Lose

In an interesting laboratory experiment on Thursday, May 29, Division 1 of Botany 52 defeated Division 2 at baseball by a score of 10 to 4. The game was interesting and gave thrills galore. Both teams played airtight (?) ball, errors being made only by—(lack of space prevents the printing of the list.) The only regrettable incident came in the first inning when M. Holmes, of the heavy hitting Holmes brothers, was forced to withdraw from the game when it was found that he was wearing his brother's best trousers. Later, however, his fighting spirit overcame his regrets and he staged a remarkable "come back." Helff, at second base for Division 2, had a great day. There was considerable antagonism between him and the ball, and they could not stay far enough apart. This was, no doubt, due to his Blue Shirt. Only once did Helff field the ball—when he fell in front of it.

Boutwell, pitching for Div. 1, knocked a three-bagger in the 6th. (This is a fact.) Partington of Div. 2 scored a hit with his exhibitions of stunning-base running.

An interested spectator at the game was Coach Cowell, who was, perhaps looking for new and possible material for the varsity nine. He found plenty of new, but not much possible material.

The game was called in the ninth because of excessive hot air, "the visitors having to catch a train," and the general one-sidedness of the score. Immediately, both teams withdrew to a well known ice cream "parlor" where the losers again lost.

The lineup:
Division 1
Mansell, 1b.,
Thayer, Ingham, 3 b.,
Lawrence, c.,
Boutwell, p.,
Russell, s. s.,
Cooper, 2 b.,

The first prize, a gold medal, was awarded to James Gartzos of Sanborn Seminary; the second prize, a silver medal, was won by Elinor Stearns of Manchester, and the third prize, a bronze medal, was awarded to Agatha Crowell of Sanborn Seminary. The title of Mr. Gartzos' selection was "The Bishop's Candlesticks," by Victor Hugo; Miss Stearns interpreted a scene from "The Taming of the Shrew," and Miss Crowell recited "How Dot Heard the Messiah." The judges of the contest were: Professor Marceau, of the college faculty; the Rev. Mr. Barnum of Waybridge, Vermont, and Mrs. Ormond Butler of Durham.

During the intermission a quartet from the Girls' Glee Club sang two pleasing selections. The members of the quartet were: Lucille Burleigh, Marion Berry, Hazel Shedd and Ruth Knight.

DURHAM PAGEANT GREAT SPECTACLE.

mation but spent their time annoying the messenger and his soldiers. Finally the messenger and his guards were forced to flee in order to escape violence.

Captain John Sullivan, Captain Alexander Scammell and Major Steele of the Colonial militia witnessed but took no part in this scene. While they stood in consultation Paul Revere arrived with the news that Governor Wentworth was about to seize the powder and munitions stored at Fort William and Mary.

A short interval later a sentry by the river announced that a party of Durham men were coming up the river in a barge with the powder, lead and guns which they had hastened to Fort William and Mary to obtain. The people of the town flocked to the landing and cheered as they saw the barge coming up the river. The cargo was quickly taken from the barge and loaded into an ox-cart which soon filled and amid the cheers of the people, started on its way to Bunker Hill.

The last scene was supposed to happen after the outbreak of the War of Independence. John Sullivan, now a Major-General of the Continental army, was about to step out for the front. A company of his own troops was ordered to escort him. They marched down to the river where he inspected them at drill. The people gathered around to bid him farewell. He made a very patriotic speech in which he called for recruits. Volunteers rushed forward and were mustered into the service of their colonial army.

The pageant came to a close where after bidding their wives and children good-bye General Sullivan and his troops marched off.

CANOE RACES
Between the second and third episodes came several events in water sports. The girls' canoe race was run off first and was won by Priscilla Norris, '20, and Nora Reardon, '22. Afterward two of the girls at the wish of the "movie" machine operator paddled back into the stream and tipped over. The men's canoe race was won by Burgess Nightingale, '21 and Dick Callender, '20. In the course of this race Ray Greer, '20, and Rodney Hill, '20, came to grief, almost sinking their canoe.

Sally Sanders and C. W. Shepherd, '21, won by large margins in the girls' and men's swimming contests.

The pageant, which was written by Mr. Ralph D. Paine of Durham, was truly a wonderful spectacle and afforded great pleasure to both those who witnessed the out-door drama and those who were privileged to take part.

The presentation of this pageant indicates the true co-operative spirit which exists between the citizens of Durham and the students and faculty of the college.

For the successful presentation of this splendid portrayal of Durham history much credit is due Mr. Paine and the faithful hard working members of the pageant committee.
