CO-EDITORIAL

Many families communicate and share through round-robin letters. In this technological age, one nearby family is introducing their newly-acquired houses to each other via video tape. I'm sure families of computer buffs exist who use their modems to stay in touch. Thinking about some recent letters and requests, we see American Squaredance magazine as a sharing vehicle for square dancers, round dancers, cloggers, and contra dancers.

Folks write who have old magazine issues and old records to give away, feeling that this part of our heritage ought not to be discarded, but passed on to another generation of dancers. An offer of past magazines by a Colorado dancer found an instant taker in Illinois. "People" this month contains an offer of dancing records, free for the postage.

Letters arrive containing invitations for dancers to visit overseas countries, with the writers willing to play host to them. Letters ask for information about callers and events, also how to reach people who are featured or who write features. Letters ask for the history of dancing, or how "tips" came to be called tips and "hoe-downs" to be called hoedowns.

Sometimes we answer the questions; sometimes we refer the writers to the National S/D Directory or to the Lloyd Shaw Foundation Archives in Albuquerque.

Obviously, as our friend Charlie Baldwin said, "Our only excuse for existence is Service." Our service is to be a clearing house—the round-robin letter of the square dance family.

FRONT LINE COVERAGE

Perhaps we haven't had such a pint-sized pointillistic poignant portrait that makes a point on our cover since March, 1985, but this is August, 1987; September is just around the corner and we definitely want to make a point.

The point is this: It's your move, all you kings, queens, knights, and otherwise chairmen of the board. This is the month to prepare that Square Dance Month promotional campaign. Act quickly. Get your LEGACY promo kit (See page 11), call a meeting, and go to work.

What you put into it is chess what you'll get out of it, according to this month's artist, Tom Roberts of Illinois.

ALWAYS A GREAT DANCE IN LYONS!

BY-LINE

Our writers this month are well-known on the square dance scene. Walt Cole is chairman of LEGACY and executive secretary of Contralab. Doc and Peg Tirrell are executive secretaries of Roundalab and past chairmen of LEGACY. Bud

McNicol, with his wife Angie, edit the Dancin' Beat from Medford, Oregon.

Elmo Stiles has appeared in these pages before, with a story on square dance neighbors. This month's offering is written through the eyes of a child at square dances.

Toini Kaartinen appears once again on the back cover. She is a prolific cartoonist.

Again, thanks are due to all the "regulars" both on the ASD staff and otherwise, who keep the news and the suggestions coming. In response to reader requests, we devote another "QueST" page this month to the Callerlab Plus Emphasis Call, with diagrams. Look for the Mainstream Emphasis Call next month. Also, thanks to a suggestion, we'll list the Callerlab Round of the Quarter on the Pulse Poll page now.

Enjoy August, and don't forget to make plans for the new square dance season...

Your picture on the cover of the May ASD was a beautiful picture of two young square dancers. I am an 80-year old square dancer. I belong to the Bachelor and Bachelorettes square dance club. I started out too late in life, but I sure enjoy it. My wife died last January and am alone now. But this picture of the young couple sure fascinates me. They look so happy square dancing. I love it. Wish I was younger.

We enjoy and look forward each month to the delivery of our copy of ASD. The extra convenience of your forwarding advertisers' information is indeed a very special service. Saves a lot of time corresponding and, needless to say, the additional postage when one is sending to many of your advertisers. Otherwise, we may think twice about additional information. Thanks again for this note-worthy service.

Meandering <sup>6</sup> With Stan

If only old Henry Ford could see us now! I thought about that the other day as we danced in the old museum in Huron, Ohio, and we tried to recreate some more-or-less traditional dances of about 1920 and earlier. It was a shiny, shimmery shindig, further enhanced by an authentic Maypole Fiesta created by Myrtis Litman (Lloyd's widow) and daughter Janet from Cleveland, when five sets of dancers cavorted and gavotted. ("No, Basil, when she says 'address the maypole,' you aren't to say 'Hi, maypole!'")

I thought about old Henry's inventive genius and preservation perspective when I called one in Detroit, Michigan also. Even when I whipped across Minnesota in a few hours to call in Milbank, South Dakota in my third generation Model T—my genuine progeny of a jumpin' Jenny of the '20's genre, old Henry came to mind. If he could see what we drive! If he could see what we dance! But I must rattle on...

Milbank, South Dakota—It was a loner. One day. One dance. In and out. But it was not without a barrel of value and a vat load of validity. May was coming to an end, and I'd already been lazing at home a week or so. (There it is, folks, in black and white! Guess who does all the work!—Co-ed.) I was ready.

Boarding a Midway mammoth with a blazing tail, I flew to the twin cities of Minnesota via Chicago, then drove a hard bargain Budget bag-o-bolts straight across that lake state to Watertown, South Dakota. Caller/cuer Perry (and Margaret) Bergh hosted me overnight after we van-ran to Millbank for the Old Mills Twirlers dance. Caller/cuer Dennis Van Asch cued. (All callers in the plains states are cuers, it seems, and vice versa.) The crowd there seemed to like a cool slice of MS, a hot tip of Plus, a delicate dose of workshop, and a wide-spread board of tasty pastries to end the evening. Love those apple squares! I'll be back next spring with my ample apple appetite tightly tied to just one square on the board, and I'll be attentively attuned to ten to twenty squares on the floor. I promise.

Charleston, West Virginia—It seemed like a lucky thing to couple another driving/flying derby southerly on the very hoofs of the last one. This one was to cover a three-day loping lap, and that's not furlong! The month of May had galloped out of its corral, and already the grooming had begun for June brideling.

I drove the five-hour stretch to the capital city with a tingling tinge of anticipation, for reasons that you'll soon see. (We can hardly—yawn—wait!—Co-ed.) Sponsors of the ASDance in the wild, wonderful state was the KVSDA, and key-ordinators were caller/editors Fred and Pauline Camp, Dillard CC grads of '85, as well as Willie Hintz. The dance was coolly staged at a Presby-subterranean basement in South Charleston. Dancers were a preppy, peppy and happy bunch, and the dance seemed to be finished in half past a jiffy, so we topped it off with strawberry pie at Shoney's with the gang. Susan (Greg) Smith coo-d the cues. I lumbered to my bed and board building after logging a 14-hour day, and sawed wood soundly under a Red Roof.

Knoxville/Sevierville/Blountville, Tennessee—My flight from Charleston to Knoxville via Charlotte on Piedmont was an early morning one because it was to be a busy three-part day. Phase I began when Don Williamson (Red Boot records) met me at the airport around noon and we hopped over to the nearby studio where I was booked to do a number on the RB label. It was fun and fortunate for me to do that sort of thing again after a lapse of about five years or so. (I made a dozen discs in the old days for RB, Grenn and Top, which almost nobody remembers.)

Here's a quick summary of the session: The engineer's name was Sweetpea. Big guy. Former drummer. Expert sound/light technician; does a lot of shows on the road. He's put a lot of CW stars on plastic. I wore elephant earphones in a pin-drop punctuated, dimly-lit audio-mated dungeon worth half a million, I reckon. After several takes on the mike, I got it right and they canned me. The tune is My Blue Heaven. It's now available, in case you readers wish to lend an ear, give it a spin, and buy a gross or two. (That makes a lot of cents.—Co-ed.)

Meanwhile, back at the studio. Sweetpea gave us a sampling of the sound with a fleeting flick of a few dozen switches on that huge console board that twinkled Christmas-tree-mendously, and sixteen tracks of the tape that carried separate sounds of instruments got blended expertly with the voice pattern. The wizardry of a studio and engineers like that is incredible.

Phase II—Off we went, next stop, English Mountain Retreat (resort), high in the hills near Sevierville. Where's that? Well, think Great Smokys, south of Knoxville; Gatlinburg, Pigeon Forge, Dollywood. Take another glance at the three color pages (57-59) in our March issue, or the center pages of this issue. Retreat is a good name. In that cool mountain country you're away from the world and half way to heaven. It's a condo village, rustic but elegant, dedicated to the best in square dance programming from April to November, featuring over a hundred callers and the Red Boot Boys themselves, calling in two separate halls. I went through it with the Pruitts (owners Gordon and Frances), had a full-course early meal in the dining hall, had my cake and ate it too. Sam Dunn of Ohio was there with dancers. Name it, they've got it: trout farm, miniature golf, swimming pools, tennis, a western store, and full camping facilities on the way. I can't wait for my scheduled Callers College there with Don a year from now, October 30 to November 4, 1988. Meanwhile, if you feel a bit over the hill sometimes, go over the hill to the Mountain, and feel as spry as a spring chicken, with a ringing cling and clang in your cluck, as well as a renewed click in your clog.

Phase III. Rollin Amsden met me on the Mountain and we shot straight east to Blountville, where I was booked to call another Tri-Cities ASDance, sponsored by the Mountain Empire S/R Dance Association. Maxine Collins also went with us; the first guy at the door of the school to greet us was Wayne McDonald (bass singer with the Red Boot Boys); other callers present were Jim Mabe and Roy Crussell, who set the sound. Jim Cass cued rounds. Other key people were Bill and Nora Carrier, C. Story, more Storys... (and you'd better begin to end this story.—Co-ed.) Nice crowd of 75 couples. Chester and Anita Hand (Dillard CC grad '84) were there. A long and eventful day ended about midnight, and my welcome home for the night was the Camara (No, I didn't really sleep in a car), which is a pebble roll from the Tri-State airport, convenient for my tri-dance term terminal turnabout towards home the next morning, which also terminated the month of May.

Detroit, Michigan—June increasingly busts out all over each year, and the first port to pop was Detroit, early in the month. Caller Bill Peterson (ASD, June, p. 82) sets up a series of variety caller dances each summer in the cool Senior Center in Livonia, so I took my turn, and the turnout was typically topnotch. Alice (and Joe) Hill rounded out the evening. Like I said at the outset of this barely af-Ford-able filibuster, my charging chariot with its chattering chassis motored melodiously to the Motor City and back home the same night, and I reckon that's a perfect place to put on the brakes for now.

what makes a leader?

by Walt Cole*
Ogden, Utah

Let's look at what makes up a leader. There is really very little different between those who sit in the folding metal chairs and those who run the meeting. Experts who have studied leaders have identified their most successful traits. Some are obvious; some less so. But if you have the desire to take a leadership role, much of what the experts have learned may help you along the way.

First, have a dream. Effective leaders all have a good sense of their organization. They know what's going on in it, where it's been and where it's going. One way to develop a vision is to visualize your group five years from now. What do you see? What will the group have accomplished in five years with you at the helm? Whatever your goal, lock onto that dream, and don't let go!

Next, be the kind of leader you would follow. The underlying thing that makes an effective leader is the ability to ask oneself, "How do I want to be led?" Think about the kinds of qualities you like to see in a leader, then tailor your approach to fit. Very few people want to be led by a bad leader.

Then, be enthusiastic about your dream. You can tell others about your great vision for the future, but without passion your vision is just a passing fancy. Really good leaders are like little children in the sandbox, having so much fun it doesn't seem like work to them. Leaders are effective at communicating that enthusiasm to others. If a leader feels good about what he's doing and he's having fun, that has to be communicated, too, along with the message.

Another, don't assume you don't have the skills. Think about how you have been raised; the values that have been handed down to you by your parents, teachers, other leaders; the things that are important to you, and consider, too, an experience that far too many folks fail to appreciate, running a household. You can be a leader within your own home by virtue of the example you set for your children, your patience, your tact. The quality of being all things to all people—chauffeur, homemaker, cook, confidant, friend, disciplinarian—really begins at home and provides the basis for leadership in many other areas.

Yet again, consider yourself fail-safe. Effective leaders don't accept failure, and they don't allow setbacks to knock them off course. Leaders learn from their mistakes and move on. If you play it safe, you won't fail, but you won't get to where you're going either. That's the difference between a good leader and a bad one.

If you want power, call the electric company. Leadership is not what people think it is—poking, prodding and manipulating others. It's really energizing people. Pulling people in the right direction. Good leaders don't issue commands or send out a stream of memos. These make people under them feel dependent and sap their energies. A leader finds ways to help other people realize their potential.

Recognize that all leaders are not at the top. There are many ways to lead in an organization. In most cases, the person willing to take the initiative can be the leader. Being a leader doesn't necessarily

DANCIN' AT THE DOM

by Bud McNicol
Medford, Oregon

On a cold, rainy night in March, the syncoated call of Left allemande, swing your partner 'n promenade home filled the theater of the Veterans Domiciliary at White City, Oregon. Square dancers from the surrounding communities of Medford, Rogue River, and Grants Pass danced and twirled to the sing-song commands of Dave Correllus, while the audience of domiciliary residents tapped their toes to the rhythm of the music. Miraculously, the dreary weather outside vanished; the spectators' beaming smiles bathed the room in bright sunshine.

The occasion for all the frivolity was a combined birthday party for several domiciliary members. A local western band joined the square dancers in the entertainment and afterwards the entire group was treated to cake and ice cream.

The Veterans Administration Domiciliary is old Camp White, a renovated WWII Army base. Now it provides veterans with a place to live. Many, both men and women, have war-related injuries and illnesses, and some are recovering alcohol and drug abusers. Through the efforts of the voluntary services, there is an ongoing program to familiarize the community with the domiciliary and dispell some of the negative image that is attached to its population. When a volunteer service-woman at the domiciliary asked Lee Shat-to, a dancer with the Spares 'n Pairs of Grants Pass, if she could arrange an exhibition of square dancers for the party, she frowned. She knew that square dancers are special, friendly people. But, would dancers come to the dom?

Lee agreed—reluctantly.

Dave Correllus is just beginning his calling career and he jumped at the chance to practice. Now all Lee needed was dancers. One square would do, she thought, four couples—shouldn't be too difficult.

As the event grew close she had no commitments, only a few maybes. In desperation, she called Angela McNicol, the owner of the local square dance apparel shop and explained her dilemma.

"Don't worry, Lee," Angie said. "I'll make some calls."

When it came time for Dave to set up his equipment, a square and a half was ready to dance. Another couple hurried in as the first beats of music sounded. Then, another couple ambled in. Before the first tip was over, there were four squares dancing fanny to fanny in the small space provided for them.

At the end of the exhibition, Dave asked the spectators to join in for a fun dance. Some eagerly came up. Most sat glued to their chairs in stark fear. The dancers went out into the audience and coaxed several more to join in.

This was the first time most of the vets had been exposed to square dancing, let alone actually dancing with square dancers. Judging from the bright smiles, it was a pleasant introduction.

One vet, celebrating his 80th birthday, smiled a wide, toothless grin. His pale, blue eyes dampened, and his gray stubbled chin quivered.

"Best guldurn'd birthday I ever had," he said hoarsely.

It was an evening loaded with fun and surprises. We square dancers learned something about the domiciliary, and the veterans learned about square dancers.

WELCOME TO "MY WORLD"

The two couples pictured above, Betty Lee and Bill Talmadge, SusanElaine and Harry Packer, are owners of My World Vacations, geared specifically to square dancers visiting the central Florida area.

An account written by a recent tour member describes in glowing terms the week spent with several members of her club vacationing in Florida.

From the first welcome—tall, cool glasses of fresh orange juice—through many evening dances, visits to the Magic Kingdom and to Epcot at Walt Disney World, with side excursions to Cypress Gardens, Sea World, Cape Canaveral, shopping sprees, to the final brunch, every effort was made to give these visiting dancers a vacation they would long remember. The article is signed by "The Exhausted Squares."

One paragraph describes SusanElaine and her activities. She is a square dance caller, well known in Florida, and has an exhibition group of square dancers. "Suzie's Best" has performed at several state conventions and at the National Convention last year in Indianapolis. The group dances both squares and rounds without cues, while SusanElaine sings. In her spare time, SusanElaine owns Susie Q Creations, designing and making square, round and clogging badges, bars and dangles. She recently started a line of custom-made license plates, for sale at Walt Disney World Shopping Village.

Just before New Year's Day last year, Betty Lee and SusanElaine were asked to provide dancers for the half-time show in the newly renamed Citrus Bowl in Orlando. 250 dancers from Miami to Tallahassee, Daytona to Tampa, volunteered to be in the show. Tapes of three songs were sent to all squares for rehearsal. Two were by the Gatlin Brothers, stars of the show, with choreography by Danny Robinson, an Orlando area caller. The day before the show, rehearsal took five hours—starting, stopping, re-working, giggling, frowning and laughing—an exhausting "hurry up and wait" morning. All out-of-town dancers stayed at the Sheraton Twin Towers, and they all attended a New Year's Eve Dance scheduled just for them and called by SusanElaine. (The dancers all joined in the Square Dance Spirit celebration mid-way through the evening, too.)

The half-time show started with a two-couple routine to Orange Blossom Special, followed by a huge grand right and left around the field until partners were met. Dancers ran to squares for a square dance routine. The Gatlin Brothers sang their latest hits from center stage. Lines of cloggers were on wooden platforms all over the field. Dancers dressed in yellow and orange did the Texas Two-step. The red, white, and blue clad square dancers ended with a grand square amid fireworks and smoke bombs, which Betty Lee describes as "a beautiful ending to a terrific show, on a sunny, balmy day in Florida."

Betty Lee and SusanElaine, mother-daughter twosome who with their husbands become a dynamite foursome, welcome dancers to "their world."

From the 36th National Square Dance Convention

PROMENADE FIGHT IN THE BLUEBONNET STATE

ROASTIN', BOASTIN', BOOSTIN' HOUSTON

Oil's well that ends well!" a Houston Oilers' fan might quip, and that's the feeling twenty-thousand-plus square dance fans had about the 36th National S/D Convention in Houston, Texas. There were some negative aspects (the sound, the heat, the tired feet) but good memories abound for the most part.

Most of the halls in the Astrodome complex of buildings were comfortably cool, although the booth area had hot and cold spots. (Our booth was a hot spot, but business was good, and many old friends stopped by to chat, so we considered it a good location.)

The Showcase of Ideas was especially cool, extensive and informative, and we liked the elaborate "schoolhouse" theme for this area and the education section. Each panelist took away an "apple for the teacher" as a memento.

So many attendees complained about the poor sound in most halls that we urge key leaders in Anaheim, Oklahoma City, and future convention sites to p-l-e-a-s-e spend the money it takes to hire S/D-oriented firms to sound the halls.

Other plusses (really a lot of them):

- The Contra panels, clinics, demos and all-dance sessions were a beehive of activity, with the presentation of old-time Bluebonnet Dances a special hit.

- The almost continuous performances of exhibition groups in Bluebonnet Park were super—colorful costumes, high-energy teen clogging, smooth rounds—and relaxing to watch.

- The elegant fashion show in the same location featured gals, guys, and glitter among bluebonnets galore.

- The live music provided by Terry Mosier and the Ghost Riders made a great hit with participating dancers—one of the most-mentioned features of the convention.

- Dancing in the Arena featured full crowds and good sound.

- A wide variety of vendor's booths were set up; aisles were wide and comfortable. The booths were on the way from dancing to the cafeteria, and vice versa, so traffic was substantial.

- Our own ASD Trail Dance at the Stouffer Greenway Plaza was well attended by volunteer callers and cuers, as well as by a constant flow of dancers.

- The Press Breakfast on Thursday morning, honoring all publication staff people, featured a special award to Cacti Pete, who has attended all 36 national conventions. The Diamond Jills quartet provided excellent harmony.

- The AstroWorld After-Party did not live up to expectations of having the whole park especially for the square dancers, but those who participated enjoyed the facility.

- All groups (Mainstream, Plus, A-1 through C-3, Clogging, Round Dancers, Contra Dancers, Campers, Singles) were accommodated.

- Roundalab, Contralab, NASRDS (Suppliers) and USDA conducted meetings prior or during the convention. Reports on those will be made later.

Future conventions will be in Anaheim in 1988, Oklahoma City in 1989, Memphis in 1990, and Salt Lake City in 1991. The latter site was announced in Houston by the National Executive Committee.

See y'all next year, and next, and next...

Question: How do you have a surprise Fortieth Anniversary Party for a very busy, round dance cueing couple?

Answer: You hire them to cue a dance, even give them flyers to distribute, but don't tell them why. And then by word of mouth spread the real reason for the dance!

It worked! The date was set for December 27, on a weekend when it would be natural for all the Hark children to gather at the Vermont homestead. And natural for the Harks to be unsuspecting when the family suggested eating out before the parents went to cue their dance. Also planned was the unusually slow service at the restaurant so that Evelyn Hark could not arrive early at the hall and catch the decorators, nor see the arrival of their many friends and well-wishers.

Picture the scene, dancers milling all around the gaily decorated hall, and you are late! Evelyn and Al Hark rushed in to the dance hall, Evelyn removed her coat,

Doc and Peg Tirrell, Al and Evelyn Hark, Doris and Hal Holmes. The latter two are ex-New Jerseyites.

Surprise!

by Doc & Peg Tirrell Cresskill, New Jersey

dashed up to the stage, picked up the mike and began to apologize. They had not noticed the decorations of red hearts and 40's, the banners and anniversary cake! Not until the dancers continued their clapping and begin wishing them "Happy 40th Anniversary" that Evelyn and Al realized it was all a put-up job!

After dancing the Anniversary Waltz, Evelyn was too overwhelmed to cue so Barbara and Jim Connelly took over. Bucky Tenney and Dog and Peg Tirrell also shared the cueing, with Bucky, Wayne Richardson and Hal Holmes calling varying tips, including easy ones for the Harks' non-dancing friends.

The Hazen Squares presented Al and Evelyn with a Dividend Card entitling them to enjoy many restaurants and events in New England, two for the price of one. Dancers had been asked to bring anniversary cards with an admission fee of their choice enclosed. All were put into a ribboned basket for the Harks.

The weather was frightfully cold outside, but the warmth, love and friendship inside warmed the hearts of all. As we left we heard one dancer say to another, "Well, it worked this time, but how will we ever manage to keep it a surprise when Doris and Hal [Holmes] have their 50th next year?"

SQUARE DANCE ORPHAN

by Elmo Stiles

I was a square dance orphan. When I was young, my square dancing parents took me to their dances and let me fend for myself while they do-sa-doed the night away. This never bothered me any. I found the dances to be better than sitting at home with a babysitter.

For one thing, the food was always excellent. All the dancers brought refreshments and laid them out on a long table. There was a vast array of cookies and pies and cakes, set out like a king's feast. It was enough to send a kid to hog heaven.

Of course, while everyone was dancing, the refreshment table went unguarded. I crowned myself the official taste-tester and made sure all snacks met my standards. Sometimes something exceeded the standards and you can be sure very little was left by the time the dancers got to it.

"Hey, Myrtle, I thought you said you would bring two dozen fudge brownies."

"Why, yes, I did."

"Well, there's only ten here now."

"I'll be darned."

But besides snatching snacks, the entertainment was limited for a kid. Actually, I knew how to square dance. Because I had been around it all my life, I just sort of picked it up. But I was a small kid and dancing with all those big people was awkward. Everyone would be stooping to reach me and I could probably look right up the women's petticoats and that would be embarrassing.

I preferred just to watch, listen to the music and sing along with the calls I knew. Maybe I fantasized about being a boy wonder square dance caller, touring the world.

One time I was looking around the dance hall for something to do. I found a back staircase and went up to the second floor. There were several rooms upstairs and I found one unlocked and went in.

The square dance music was as loud in this room as it was downstairs. This was because a vent in the floor let everything drift up. The vent looked right down on the dance floor. I laid down on the floor with my face on the grid and watched every-one dance.

It was pretty amusing. All those dancers swirling and twirling in all the different colors and patterns of shirts and dresses made the view from the vent a giant kaleidoscope. I could see my parents. I had never seen them from an aerial view and I discovered Dad had a big pink bald spot on his head.

I stayed and watched the kaleidoscope for the entire dance. Soon it was over. Everyone dispersed and my mother was calling me.

"I thought maybe you got lost," she said when I appeared.

"Naw," I said. "We square dance orphans can take care of ourselves."

Hem-Line

Just the thing for a cool May day of bus touring are these red and black sweaters with dancing silhouettes. In this photo, snapped as they were boarding the bus at Woolacombe to join the ASD dancers for a trip to Clovelly in Devon, England, Zoe and Dan Newson model the creations their daughter made on a knitting machine. Zoe and Dan live in Cambridge and were among the British dancers who attended the May Bank Holiday Dance Weekend at the Combes Hotel in North Devon.

To be a leader!

"Good active leaders direct the group in a program of varied activities and effectively accomplish specific goals. Ineffective leaders muddle through their jobs, never really accomplishing any lasting goals. Their groups will be bored and soon lack enthusiasm for any project.

"Certain character traits are essential for leadership. Among them are: a love of people, maturity, enthusiasm, creativity and knowledge. Most adults already possess the first three.

"If you aspire to be a leader in any group, make sure you have a set of accurate and clear cut principles to rely on. If you are not sure about the facts, find out. Being creative is merely being able to find a new approach to a problem; finding a new method for doing the same old thing, or revising existing methods to improve their effectiveness.

"To be a leader is not an easy task; however, its rewards are great."

Square dancing received national recognition in a recent issue of Time, the weekly news magazine. The Golden State Convention in Oakland, California, provided the basis of the article which was both factual and fanciful. Square dancing as seen through the eyes of a non-dancer is partly modern and partly hillbilly. Our image is showing.

Best Club Trick

CHIPPEWA CHIEFS AND SQUAWS by Bev Warner

It's easy to figure out how some clubs were named. The name of Chippewa Chiefs and Squaws of Remus, Michigan, is typical of the American Indian names found in that area.

Club outfits are the most fun things going. Callers dread them because they all look alike, but for visiting clubs, they are truly outstanding. Of course, a club outfit is fashioned around the club name.

The Chiefs and Squaws were clever and practical in making their outfits. Using a beige suede cloth for the vests and skirts was wise. They are durable, washable, soft to the touch, and will never go out of style. Fringe edges the women's skirts, making them look rather Indian-ish. On the back of the lined vests are large Indian-head patches with the club name. All members wear red shirts of their choice and the men wear beige trousers.

A committee planned the outfit and Rose Michell was "roped" into doing most of the sewing. (See "State Line.")

The Chiefs and Squaws were formed after an adult education class of dance lessons. Four charter member couples still dance with the club: Dick and Grace Sanderson, Ila and Russ Miller, Helene and Don Chase, Neita and Harvey Blackmer.

Neita says, "If it had not been for Harvey dragging me off to lessons, I would never have gone back for a second lesson. It was a disaster for me. I just knew everyone was watching me and all of the mistakes I was making, but I must admit I love it now after all of these years. I don't care about the mistakes that are made and I love Harvey for dragging me."

Sandy Towersey was the beginning caller for the club. Duval First, the present caller, has been with them since 1978.

You can bet when you dance with the Chippewa Chiefs and Squaws, you will enjoy the "war whoops and hollers" right along with the best of them.

FEEDBACK

We have had numerous inquiries in response to the letter to the editor in "Grand Zip" in the December edition...Only a few of our recruiting and retention techniques were original. Our success with lessons was due to implementing the wisdom of callers and dancers whose ideas have been published repeatedly in articles over the decades. An excellent example is the "Dancing Tips" by Harold and Lill Bausch in the February '87 issue of ASD. We believed what they were all saying and we vowed to put these ideas into action as well as a few of our own. It paid off. Of the original 82 people attending our first two free nights of lessons, 78 turned out to be local residents. After 20 weeks of lessons, through Basic, we lost 21 people due to moves, job shift changes, illness, accidents, and personal reasons. The remaining 57 graduated from the Basic program on January 30, and 49 joined our club. Although this may not seem like many to big city clubs, it is a huge success by our standards.

What are these "secrets?"...In order of importance, the caller is the most critical element. He or she must be personable, knowledgeable, patient and non-critical. Our caller, Dee Cox, a 30-year veteran caller, followed the Callerlab program religiously—no rushing, no shortcuts, lots of fun, lots of review, and repeated encouragement. The students went home each night looking forward to coming again. They went home believing they really learned something and that they were better dancers.

The second most critical element is leadership and management of the program. Being semi-retired, Helen and I accepted the presidency not to get a badge dangle, but because we had the desire and time to do something constructive for the super people in our club who give us so much enjoyment. The members agreed to our lessons proposal and agreed to be part of the activity. Here are some of the important elements of our program:

1. We told the members, "If you really believe in the friendship, fellowship and fun of square dancing, you most certainly want your best friends to join in and share this." Anyone who asked a friend and detected even a spark of interest gave us the names and addresses of these people. Helen wrote a personal letter from us giving a special invitation to them...We figured if we could get them to come, our caller and members would get them to stay. And they did.

2. Our members were asked to "angel," greet the students as they arrived, speak with them and learn names, rotate through the squares, and make everyone feel special and welcome.

3. Name badges not picked up each night were listed. If we could not account for the absence, we phoned the couples the next day to let them know they were missed. We encouraged them to keep coming, and followed this with a call to the member who originally supplied their names, asking them to make personal contact. We also offered a 30-minute, pre-lesson review time each week.

4. We tapped the younger crowd by providing a supervised nursery for younger children and a room with a VCR and TV for the older ones. The local VCR rental stores donated Disney and other tapes for the advertisement they got.

5. Our board of directors sensed that the students needed to see a goal in the near future, and that full club membership needed to be integrated with the students for a closer comradery. It was unanimously agreed that we would redefine our club for the last four months and dance the Basic program with some MS. We will teach a couple of MS moves each night during the first half hour and just club-dance for the last two hours. This is how we graduated dancers in January and increased our club membership about 140%. We will be dancing the MS program by May. The "oldtimers" can visit other clubs if they want to dance Plus, and we do. Many others visit us as well.

The whole thing boils down to genuine, sincere concern for the activity of square dancing and what it offers to people. It does take time and it is a lot of hard work. Very few things worthwhile come easily. It's truly a labor of love. The spontaneous comments from our students on the atmosphere and esprit de corps of the group is ample reward for the effort.

Pictured in the photos are the 117 members who attended LEGACY VII last May in Nashville, Tennessee. Focus of the meetings was on the goals of LEGACY and future projects to be accomplished. One of the main concerns, since its inception in 1973 has been square dance leadership, hence the encouragement of leadership seminars throughout the activity.

Elected as LEGACY chairmen for 1987-89 were Walt and Louise Cole of Ogden, Utah. Assisting them as vice chairmen are Stan and Cathie Burdick, Huron, Ohio. Executive committee members are Chet and Julia Vetter, Ernie and Barbara Stone, Ted and Betty Vaile. Remaining as executive secretaries are Vera and Al Schreiner, with May Donna Gilmore as assistant. Committee appointments were not final at this writing.

"Say yes to Michigan," square and round dancers! Have we got a dress and vest for you to see. The Chippewa Chiefs and Squaws of Remus, Michigan, are lucky to have a member, Rosie Michell, who keeps the women in beautiful new dresses. She outdid herself when she designed, constructed and modeled this creation, which is now Michigan's state dress.

Not only is the style becoming and beautiful, but the colors are a natural for Michigan, the Water Wonderland. She chose navy blue, with trimming of yellow bias tape, with a white sailor collar with navy blue appliques in the shape of Michigan, including the upper peninsula. The man's vest is yellow with a large applique of Michigan on the back.

Rosie, you did yourself proud, and the club thanks you.

AMERICAN FOLK DANCE NAMED IN W.V.

In 1981, Frank Slagle from Kingwood, West Virginia, read a story in American Squaredance Magazine entitled "California Tries for Folk Dance Status." He said to himself, if California, why not West Virginia? Within a few weeks he contacted members of the House of Delegates and Senators in Charleston, the state capital. Frank worked about two years with only slight success. In December 1983, Corbet and Rena Phares, having served the state on the national level, joined Frank and Jean Slagle in their efforts to make Square Dance the State Folk Dance.

When the state legislature met in January 1984, the square dancers were there to talk to senators and house members. Dressed in square dance attire, they performed in the capitol rotunda. Presented to the house and senate were petitions from over 2,000 square dancers.

Just a few weeks later, the senate voted to pass the S/D Resolution, but when it came to the house, a woman named Bonnie Brown spoke against the resolution and it failed to pass.

At the next state S/D convention in Charleston, the Slagles and Phares met Bonnie Brown and answered her questions, took her to the convention, introduced her to many dancers. That's all it took; she would support us.

In 1986, Corbet and Rena Phares

traveled to Charleston and made what they thought were the necessary contacts to have the resolution passed. After being assured of success, they went to Arizona for the balance of the winter.

On their return in March, they found that the house passed the resolution, but their senator, who had supported them in the past, had failed to have the resolution introduced in the senate. So it failed again.

This year Corbet made a new contact with Senator Bill Sharp and he introduced the resolution, which was passed on Feb. 6, 1987. Another friend, Representative Kenneth Riffle, presented it in the House, and it passed February 13. The Square Dance is now considered the West Virginia Folk Dance. Other contacts were: in the Senate, Jay Wolfe; in the House, Speaker "Chuck" Chambers, Bonnie Brown, Percy Ashcraft, Floyd Fullen and Joseph Minard. The square dancers appreciate their support.

The Resolution reads: Square Dancing is the American Folk Dance that is called, cued or prompted to the dancers, and includes squares, rounds, contra, clogging, line and heritage dances...Therefore, be it resolved by the Legislature of West Virginia that the square dance is hereby designated the West Virginia Folk Dance.

by Harold
& Lill Bausch

The growth, or the decline, of square dancing is often related to "fellowship." The word has many definitions, but I would like to share two: "the condition or fact of having common interests, ideals, experiences, etc.," and "a body of individuals joined together through similar interests, beliefs, etc."

The more fellowship we have in square dancing, the more our groups will grow. The decline of fellowship would bring on a decline in our numbers.

In the early seventies, we were becoming concerned at the way square dancing was going. It seemed that people were losing interest because of several factors—the number of surprise calls they encountered, the lack of confidence that they were good and able dancers because they ran into many calls they hadn't heard before and couldn't dance. All this brought less fellowship.

Also in the early seventies, several callers met to form a new organization for callers, called Callerlab. One of their concerns was the number of new calls being called at open dances and the resulting confusion. Soon Callerlab came out with a group of dance programs—Mainstream, Plus, and then Advanced. The main reason was so dancers would know which set of calls were to be used at each dance.

The idea of dance programs was a noble one, but unexpectedly, it also contributed to the idea of dancers striving to be better. Not better than others, but better and more knowledgeable about the calls. This in turn started to separate dancers into groups, those who wanted to move on to new calls, and those who didn't have the time or desire to do so.

At the same time we suddenly found callers—many of them—wanting to call the most advanced programs because they didn't want anyone to think some other caller knew more. A funny thing happened—suddenly we found callers who could call advanced programs but really were not experienced teachers. It is not difficult for a caller to write out a complex set of calls, or even to get these calls from a callers' note service, and become an advanced or challenge caller. But the same caller often had not worked up through the programs for years to really understand the calls, and the needs and desires of the majority of dancers.

At one time I was on a Callerlab committee to screen callers for membership. Part of the requirements was that a caller had to have so many years' experience as a caller and in teaching square dancing. A gentleman came before us who had only been calling a couple of years, and who called only challenge. We asked if he taught beginners, and he said no, he didn't see the need, he just wanted to call for challenge dancers. Apparently, he got his experience from books and note services. He was quite upset when we didn't approve his application. He said he could call anything we could. I'll bet he could, but there is more to being a caller than memorizing a set of calls.

It seems to me that the real mainstream of square dancing is somewhere between the Mainstream and the full Plus program. There are popular calls that dancers like to dance in both programs, and our dancers are happiest when we use calls they enjoy. At this time this true mainstream is not defined by any printed program, and it is up to callers to find it with each club for which he or she calls.

No organization is going to do this for us. Callers are paid to show dancers a good time, and we are going to have to work it out with each club. It is sad when we are limited to one program when 95% of the dancers on the floor would like to be dancing a variety of calls.

Should a caller be criticized when he uses a call from another program if he keeps all, or nearly all, of the dancers dancing? If the caller has the ability to call in such a way that all get through the calls, is he still wrong to slip in a track two? You tell me...

UNIDIRECTIONAL MICROPHONE

ATM11

This Stage-Quality, low impedance mike is designed for both vocal and instrumental pickup. When used ultra-close it also provides extra bass emphasis (proximity effect) to achieve a fuller sound. Frequency Response: 50-20,000 Hz. Weighs only 6 oz. Attractive low-reflectance matte finish. Multi-state Screen reduces "popping" when being worked extremely close. Only a common AA "penlight" battery (5,000 hrs.) is needed to power this unique condenser mike. Fits perfectly on all Hilton Remote Cables (without cable).....$155.00 ($3.00)

DYNAMIC
CARDIOID MICROPHONES

810A

813S

Both models are designed for today's professional user. Frequency response is essentially flat and peak free, but with a slight intentional emphasis in the 3,000 Hz. "presence" range to give it that natural sound. The proximity effect will make a thin voice sound more mellow when used very close. Both models are identical except that Model 813S has a conveniently located on/off switch and also allows the user to change the impedance.

- 810A (with 18 ft. cable).....$110.00 ($3.00)
- 810A (without cable).....$95.00 ($3.00)
- 813S (with 18 ft. cable).....$120.00 ($3.00)
- 813S (without cable).....$105.00 ($3.00)

PART I

HIGH—TECH CALLING THE CALLER AND THE COMPUTER

Almost everyone in today's society has some type of contact with computers. The high-tech world of the 1980's that we live in has computers that tell you what's wrong with your car (in English, Spanish and French!), computers that give you access to your bank accounts at 3:30 in the morning, and (as most of us, including myself, unfailingly discover) computers that magically send us every possible kind of correspondence, from bills to form letters to advertising circulars.

Several callers (and dancer leaders, too) have turned to the personal computer to help them manage their square dance-related information. Personal computers have become the television console of the 80's. As callers and leaders, if you have access to a personal computer, then this column is for you!

To begin with, we'll examine just what a personal computer really is, and what kind you'll need to start storing all this valuable information. Then, we'll start looking at different actual uses of the computer (called "applications" by computer buffs) that will quickly reduce the amount of time that you currently spend on paperwork and bookkeeping.

Let's start off with a bit of instruction as to what makes a personal computer "tick."

A personal computer is composed of five basic parts: the CPU (Central Processing Unit), which is the "brain" of your computer (it does all the actual thinking); the storage unit (or units, depending on your computer), which store all the information that the CPU requires to operate; the keyboard, which you use to enter and retrieve the information; the CRT or display unit (usually a TV-like screen with green or amber coloring); and finally a printer to actually transfer the information to paper (this is optional with most systems).

All of these parts can be grouped under one umbrella term: hardware. Each and every one of these basic parts is a piece of machinery that performs one specific function. It's call hardware for a (hopefully) obvious reason: you can reach out and touch it...it's "hard!"

All of the hardware that makes up a computer system is connected together by cables with what may seem like some rather strange looking connectors on the ends. These are called "interface cables" and they're really not that strange at all. Usually the only time you, the user, need to concern yourself about what kind of cable you need is when planning to connect a new piece of hardware to your system. You'll need to know then what kind of connection, or "interface," that your new piece of hardware requires to operate. This information is almost always supplied along with the hardware you buy.

By themselves, however, these different pieces of hardware (individually, they're called peripherals) don't have the ability to process a single item of information! There's one more thing that the hardware needs to become a true computer—instructions on what to do. Such instructions to the machine are called programs. The information that these programs need to operate is called data. The combination of the programs and the data used by those programs is called software.

Next issue, we'll take a look at the different kinds of hardware that are available on the market today, and attempt to make some sense of all the "buzzwords" that you might hear when you enter your local computer store to get your computer system.

August is a great month for vacationing and traveling. Here are a few titles that fit the situation.

Callerlab has combined the Contra and Traditional Committees. Mona Cannell, the current chairman, has sent along the following two dances which have been designed as the Dances of the Third Quarter.

THREE LADIES CHAIN

First couple balance, first couple swing

Lead right out to the right of the ring

Circle four hands once around (Couples 1 & 2)

Now two ladies chain, don't be slow (Ladies 1&2)

Now three ladies chain across the floor

Gent 1 & lady 2 turn half left, chain ladies 2 & 4

Gent 1 & lady 4 turn half left, chain ladies 4 & 1

Gent 1 & lady 1 turn half left, chain ladies 1 & 2

Gent 1 & lady 4 turn half left, chain ladies 4 & 1

Gent 2 & 4 turn the ladies chaining to them.

Chain them over, chain them back

NOTE: For great variety and challenge, see the variant Three Ladies Chain the Length of the Hall in Cowboy Dances, pp. 349-350.

While the three gents stand like a rock in the sea

Chain those gals 'til you've chained all three

Now first old couple lead to the next

Circle four go once around (1 & 3)

Chain two ladies across the track

Chain those gals, chain 'em back (Ladies 1 & 3)

First old couple on to the next

Circle four hands once around (couples 1 & 4)

Now two ladies chain, don't be slow

Now three ladies chain across the floor (Repeat above)

Home you go and everybody swing

(Repeat call for couples 2,3 and 4.

TUNNEL OF LOVE

by Jerry Helt, Cincinnati, Ohio

FORMATION: Proper contra set (men to caller's right, women to caller's left). Set limited to about 8 couples.

MUSIC: Ragtime Annie, Gold Star 402; It Ain't Nothing But Love, Big Mac 050; any standard 64-count music.

INTRO:

Head couple only down the center*

Head woman up the center, head man up the outside

Head woman down outside, head man down center

— — Partner swing

Everybody forward and back

*All other couples form two-hand arches after head couple passes.

Herry Bortz of Lady Lake, Florida, was in Jerry Helt's callers' class at Copecrest this past spring and wrote an easy routine involving a Hey for 4 in a square formation using the record, Down the Wrong Road Again.

HEY HEY SQUARE

MUSIC: Prairie 1046

OPENER, MIDDLE BREAK, CLOSER

(exactly as written for the singing call)

Four ladies promenade inside

Come back home and swing your man

Join hands and circle

Left allemande and weave the ring

Here I go down the wrong road again

Do-sa-do and promenade

Even knowing where it will end

Here I go down the wrong road again

FIGURE:

Heads (sides) forward and back

Heads (sides) do-sa-do, then back to partner

Face corner and do-sa-do

With corner reverse do-sa-do

Do a hey for 4

Take corner and promenade home*

*Use a sweeping promenade because you are already very near to home.

While at Oglebay Folk Dance Camp- this past Memorial Day Weekend, camp director Bill Herman taught me a nice solo dance he learned from Juanita and Fred Schockey of Orlando, Florida. They use the music On the Road Again and call the routine...

O.R.T.A.

FORMATION: Solo

Quarterly Selection Tips

A Callerlab Quarterly Selection diagrammed and explained for the dancer's benefit

Bill Heyman, newly appointed chairman of the Callerlab Plus Committee, has announced that for the third quarter of 1987 (July, August and September), the following has been chosen as the Plus Emphasis Call:

ANYTHING AND ROLL

STARTING FORMATION: Various

DEFINITION: The term ... and roll may be added to any call which, by definition, causes one or more dancers to have turning body flow to the right or left at the completion of the call, but not to a call which, by definition, has all dancers walking straight forward at the completion of the call. It is an instruction to the dancer(s) to turn individually in place, one-quarter (90°) more in the direction of body flow determined by the preceding command.

Note that if ... and roll is added to a call which, by definition, has some dancers walking straight forward or standing stationary at the completion of the call, those dancers will do nothing for the ... and roll.

STYLING: At the completion of the movement preceding the roll (anything), release all handholds and allow the established momentum to set the direction for the solo turn in place. Arms are returned to natural dance position and ready to assume appropriate position for the next call.

EXAMPLES: Partner trade and roll

Trade

R dancer roll L

Ends with facing dancers

Right and left thru and roll

Facing lines

Courtesy turn

Ends in R-H columns

ALTOONA, PENNSYLVANIA

Altoona is the site of the famous Horseshoe Curve on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which was opened for traffic in 1854 and considered then and now as an engineering marvel. Before June 17, 1987, that is what made Altoona famous, but in the minds of nearly 1400 square dancers who attended the 21st National Advanced & Challenge Convention, Altoona has a lot of other reasons to be proud and famous, namely their people. Several dancers walked to a restaurant for lunch on Saturday, while dining, it started to rain, the owner arranged for a van to shuttle the dancers back to the school so they wouldn't get wet. One thing right after another, the local people were ready to be of assistance. A local club provided the security at the school at no fee. It was amazing the treatment the dancers were shown. It was the biggest gathering ever to be held in Blair County and it was the biggest gathering of A/C Dancers ever. 1392 dancers (I think), that will make it very challenging for Toledo and Hamilton, to try to top that. For those of us, who have been in the A/C movement for a while, it's hard to imagine, how our aspect of the hobby has grown. In 1977, there were 280, now nearly 1400.

Ross Howell was selected by the dancers in attendance to be a part of the 1988 staff. He had chosen to sit out a year and didn't appear on last year's ballot, but has reconsidered and will be back next year. Clark Baker and Vic Ceder will not be Associate Callers for the 1988 Convention, which will be held on June 16-18, 1988 in Virginia Beach, Va. The 1989 convention will be held in Nigagara Falls, NY. The dancers represented 32 states, Canada and Japan. Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, and Florida had the most dancers. We only heard three gripes in all the dancers we talked to: 1. Too Hot, inadequate air conditioning in some halls. Part of that was caused by the exceptionally warm weather for that time of the year in the mountains. 2. The distance from the CI Hall in relation to the other halls which cut down on the mingling between halls. 3. The boilers broken down, eliminating the hot showers promised to the campers in the parking lot. We know those seem major to some people, but to have a record crowd and only have those minor discomforts, we think Ed and Marilyn Foote did an outstanding job, in fact their achievements were more noticeable this year than in prior conventions, we have attended. Every tip in every hall was recorded, again this year by Dick and Arlene Cook of Orangevale Ca. You may receive the tapes of your choice: RHC Enterprises, 9054 Edden Oaks Ave., Orangevale CA 95662. (916) 988-8905.

We were able to pick up a revised Third Edition of Ben Rubright's Pocket Reference of Current Experimentals and Non-list Calls C-3 and C-4. It has been revised and corrected to correspond with the most recent C-3A and C-3 lists, along with the revised C-4A and C-4B lists (Clark Baker, June '87). We don't know how many of you working C-3 are familiar with this handy little reference, but we refer to it every night we have a workshop and strongly recommend it. You may get your copy by writing to Ben Rubright, 1309 Bearmore Dr., Charlotte NC 28211.

We talked to three couples who make up the square of Challenge Dancers from Waynesboro, Va. The four couples get together, used Ed Foote's C-1 Teaching Series and then Dave Hodson's Shazam Tapes and found themselves fully prepared for the convention.

GRAND BOX
by Orlo Hoadley

STARTING FORMATION: Any facing lines of four at normal spacing.

ENDS:

1. 4 steps: step forward and box the gnat*;
2. 4 steps: back up and turn to face partner;
3. 4 steps: Step forward and box the gnat*;
4. 4 steps: back up and turn to face partner.

*If all ends are same sex, use slide thru & roll.

CENTERS:

1. 4 steps: step forward, turn to face partner;
2. 4 steps: back up (reverse);
3. 4 steps: step forward, turn to face partner;
4. 4 steps: back up.

This two-time zero = ends circulate twice.

EXAMPLES:

Side ladies chain, heads square thru

Circle to a line, forward and back

Grand box = 1P2P lines.

Four ladies chain  $\frac{3}{4}$ , sides right and left thru

Heads crosstrail thru, go around one to a line

Go forward and back, grand box = 1P2P lines.

Heads lead right, circle to a line

Forward and back, grand box, pass thru

Wheel and deal, swing thru, turn thru

Pass to the center, square thru three hands

Left allemande...

Heads pass thru, go around one to a line

Forward and back, grand box, star thru
Substitute, square thru  $\frac{3}{4}$ , left allemande...

REVIEW

AN ANALYSIS OF AND ROLL

STARTING FORMATION: Various

The term and roll may be added to any call which, by definition, causes one or more dancers to have turning body flow to the right or left at the completion of the call, but not to a call which, by definition, has all dancers walking straight forward at the completion of the call. It is an instruction to the dancers to turn individually, in place, one quarter more in the direction of body flow determined by the preceding call.

NOTE: If and roll is added to a call, which, by definition, has some dancers walking straight ahead at the completion of the call, those dancers will do nothing for the and roll.

COMMENT: Although included in the definition, the use of and roll where only some of the dancers are expected to roll generally causes problems for Plus dancers. Most will attempt to roll to face. It's best, where possible, to "name" the dancers who are supposed to roll. Because of the oddball arrangements resulting from this use, it might be wise to restrict this variation to Advanced and above.

SAMPLE CHOREO:

Heads square thru four, right and left thru

And roll, ends circulate, centers trade

Girls trade and roll (girls only)
 Center four circulate (straight ahead)
 Girls touch  $\frac{1}{4}$ , centers trade, girls trade
 All pass thru, wheel and deal
 Dixie grand, left allemande...

Heads lead right and circle to a line
 Touch  $\frac{1}{4}$ , circulate, trade and roll
 Pass thru, tag the line in, star thru
 Pass to the center, square thru  $\frac{3}{4}$
 Left allemande...

Some good, but seldom used, calls to precede
and roll are: recycle, linear cycle, bend the line.
 There are many more. Get out your dolls and look for them. It's well worth the effort, and your dancers will better understand and roll.

SAMPLE CHOREO*

Heads lead right, veer left, couples circulate
 Bend the line and roll, circulate, trade and roll
 Square thru four, trade by, left allemande...

FERRIS CYCLE AND WHEEL

DEFINITION: From 3x1 lines, infacing end and adjacent center ferris wheel (or stretch recycle) as required; outfacing end and adjacent center wheel and deal (or recycle) as required.

If the infacing end and adjacent center are facing the same direction, they ferris wheel; if alternating directions, they do a recycle, moving to the far center position of the final DPT formation. If outfacing end and adjacent center are facing the same direction, they wheel and deal; if alternating directions, they recycle.

It is possible that this movement is covered under the stretch concept.

SAMPLE CHOREO:

DANDY IDEA

A TRAVELING BANNER YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO

This unique banner left Youngstown, Ohio, on November 30, 1985, awarded to the couple who traveled the farthest to the Steel Valley Square Dance Club's dance, Joanne and Ken Hidder of Bainbridge, Ohio. They dance with the Greasy Hubs, where the banner was subsequently awarded to the couple who came the greatest distance to dance with that club. The banner was on its way. Each couple was asked to sign the date, their names, addresses, club and caller on the back of the banner. They were also asked to send a postcard to Steel Valley, letting the sponsors know where the banner had been.

The Steel Valley dancers expected the banner to zigzag across the local area, but cards have been received from all over Ohio, Georgia, Connecticut, California, Florida, Michigan, and Ontario, Canada. Finally the banner was returned from Zephyrhills, Florida, in January, 1987.

The banner's travels are an example of the opportunities for fun and friendship that exist between very widespread families of dancers.

Steal a Little Peek

BILL HEYMAN

After learning to square dance in Zurich, Switzerland, in 1978, Bill started calling as a hobby in 1979. Returning to the states in 1980, Bill and Peggy remained active in dancing, calling and teaching. In 1984, Bill resigned his vice presidency after 19 years with Chemical Bank to pursue square dancing full-time. Bill currently calls Mainstream and Plus for 25 clubs in the New York metropolitan area, teaching for several of these clubs. He is an active Caller Coach. Bill and his wife Peggy own Supreme Audio, a major supplier of professional audio equipment for dance professionals.

As past presidents of the Callers' Council of New Jersey, Bill and Peggy are still active with the council, as well as in local dancer associations. Bill has been a member of Callerlab since 1983 and is an active member of the Ethics, Education, Mainstream and Mainstream QS Committees. He served on the special Ad Hoc committee and attended the Crossfire Conference, both of which helped analyze the current situation in square dancing. As active members of the Country Dance and Song Society and regular participants in summer dance programs at Pine woods, Bill and Peggy are also actively in involved in the enjoyment of traditional dancing. On July 6, 1986, Bill appeared as the caller for the Liberty Square Dancers at the nationally-televised celebration of the reopening of the Statue of Liberty.

IN THE NEWS

The goal of those who started to build the beautiful Allemande Hall in Chattanooga, Tennessee, was to be debt-free in ten years. A first class building with two floors for dancing was constructed, which became a showpiece and a busy activity center as the years went by. After nine years and four months, the dream became a reality and the mortgage was paid off, according to Bill Brandfast. By way of celebration, a free dance, with refreshments catered, was held at the hall, attended by 320 square dancers and 30 cloggers. The callers were the regulars from the six clubs that meet in the hall. Bill says, "We even paid the callers and hired people to clean up afterwards, all on the hall. Shown below are the following key persons who helped make it all possible: (left to right) Louise Brandfast, assistant treasurer; Bill Brandfast, publicity chairman; Kitty and Bus Jones, past presidents; Dot and Charles Loney, presidents.

Congratulations to Hugh and Mildred Maddox of Carrollton,

Georgia, for being named the 1987 Paw and Tow at the 38th Shenandoah Valley Memorial Weekend held at Ingleside Resort in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, and attended by dancers from 11 states and D.C. Badges were awarded to them by Edna Hardesty and Edward Robinson of Maryland, the 1986 winners.

Moving from the eastern shore to the midwest, we see another couple similarly honored this past spring. Walter and Bea Gingery of Wooster, Ohio, members of Ohio Mini-LEGACY, were chosen as Honor Roll Couple by the Akron Area S&R/D Federation at the Ohio State (Buckeye) convention held in Cincinnati.

Down in the legendary country music capital, Nashville, Tennessee, this spring, the foursome above was chosen to guide LEGACY for the next four years: Walt and Louise Cole, chairmen; Stan and Cathie Burdick, vice chairmen. The Coles are from Ogden, Utah and Yuma, Arizona. The Burdicks (modestly aside) are from Huron Ohio, and are the producers of this magazine.

Sid and Florence Jobs of Murray, Kentucky, were for many years chairmen of the ever-popular Septemberfest held in the lake area down around Paducah.

Sid now tells us that he and Florence are moving to a permanent home at Plant City, and must consolidate household goods. Items of interest to dancers in isolated areas might be dozens of long-play albums and tapes (very danceable), which they'll give away for shipping costs only. Write Sid Jobs, Rt. 6 Box 238A, Murray KY 42071 before November.

From the Webster-Kirkwood Times comes a fascinating summer short sketch about a Do-Si-Dog exhibition group of 17 human dancers and 18 canines in the St. Louis area. Shown above is Misty, garbed in his kerchief, with tongue-in-cheek smile, a star of the show. Other stars, including the owners, who "bow to their partners" during numerous performances, are Melinda and Joe Gildehous (club founders), Bob White (caller), Chamois, Roby Hearty, Bear, Beth Lippert, B.J., Marge Soucy, Twister, John Haywood, Judy, Crunch, Nancy Shuman, Tiger, Lorraine Koenig, Casi, and others. The group evolved from a dog obedience class. A favorite singing call right now is Diggin' Up Bones. That's a howl!

FACING THE L.O.D.

PHIL & BECKY GUENTHNER Louisville, Kentucky

Phil and Becky Guenthner began square dancing in 1970 after the National Convention was held in Louisville. While square dancing, they first saw round dancing and knew that was what they were looking for. They enrolled in round dance lessons in 1971.

The Guenthners conducted their first basic class in 1975, and have held at least one each year since. They teach one intermediate class each year. They lead three R/D clubs and cue for two of the largest S/D clubs in the area.

In order to improve their dancing skills and teaching techniques, Phil and Becky have attended the Manning Smith Institute in Ok. They continue to dance regularly with Phil and Norma Roberts.

Some of the dances choreographed by the Guenthners are: Nola, Lite and Live-ly, Love Make the World Go Round, Tijuana Sunrise, Swangin' Cha, Homegrown Tomatoes, Today, Till We Meet tomorrow, Swing of the Road, I Ain't Got Nobody, Bop With Me Baby, Terry's Theme, I Give My Heart, and many more.

Phil and Becky have attended and taught at many national conventions, and taught at the 1986 URDC convention in Kansas City. They are on the board of directors of URDC, serving as publicity chairman. They are also members of Roundalab, Dixie R/D Council, R/D Council of Indiana, Kentuckiana R/D Council and the Kentuckiana S&R Dance Association.

In civilian life, Phil is an account executive on the advertising sales staff of The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times newspapers. Becky is a busy homemaker. They have three children and seven grandchildren.

ENGLISH MOUNTAIN CHANGES

The management of English Mt. S/D Retreat, Inc. has announced the merger of Gary Shoemake's Timberidge S/D Vacations of Gatlinburg and EMSDR of Sevierville, both in Tennessee. The staff of Timberidge and all reservations will be moved to English Mt. for the remainder of the 1987 season.

Gary Shoemake will join English Mt. as a permanent staff member, along with the Red Boot Boys and Phil Kozlowski. The resort will operate under the English Mt. name. English Mt. can accommodate up to 40 squares in two air-conditioned halls with hardwood floors.

With the combination staffs of the two resorts, and the new S/D program at Dollywood, 1987 promises to be a successful year with a very attractive package.

For info, write English Mt. S/D Retreat, Rt 6, Box 212, Sevierville TN 37862.

SATURDAY NIGHT SQUARE DANCIN'

Sunday through Friday,
 Can't wait 'til Saturday night,
 When we all get together
 For some square dancin' insight.

 To a square dance snappy beat,
 Saturday night just can't wait
 To put in gear these dancin' feet.

AMATEUR NIGHTS

Many dancer-run clubs have regularly scheduled nights set aside for showcasing amateur callers. In northern California, whenever a club has a fifth night in the month, that night is open to "callers from the floor, including amateurs."

Virtually all professional callers began as amateurs, so there is always the chance that one will hear a professional talent in an early stage of his or her development, and it is always exciting to be in on "discovering" a new talent.

Most amateur callers have no aspirations to become professionals; they just do it for the pleasure and excitement of it. What they lack in polish and experience, they often make up with spontaneity and enthusiasm. The pollsters tell us that the number one fear of the average American is speaking in public, and, for most amateur callers, their excitement at being on stage is obvious to all dancers. And they feel for the amateur callers.

Their stage fright is close to the surface, and the dancers identify and empathize with them. Their own fingers tighten as they watch the amateur's hands turn white on the mike; they gulp and clear throats with him; they try to bend his notes to better fit the intended melody; they put all their eyes and ears on him and feel his self-consciousness with him. And if the amateur does well, if he brings it off, if he pleases all those eyes and ears and dancing feet, if he shows the dancers something new and good, then he or she wins and makes everyone else feel as though they have all won with him.

Some amateur callers have expanded roles in their clubs, and call exhibitions for local convalescent hospitals, club picnics, parties or on various other occasions. Most amateur callers are only too glad to take on limited calling assignments, partly because they know they must have mike time with live dancers in order to improve, and in part because they are all hams at heart and love having a captive audience.

Most amateurs just do singing calls. Patter calling is an art in itself—several arts and a science, in fact—and requires time and study beyond what most amateurs choose to devote to calling. So Amateur Nights are often evenings almost entirely devoted to singing calls, which in itself is a nice change of pace from weekly workshops.

As one who has gone through the experience, I can assure you that there is more pressure on the serious amateur than on the club caller. If the club caller calls a figure incorrectly, or hits a wrong note, or uses the wrong singing call at the wrong time for the wrong dancers, I don't worry. (What me worry?) I know there will be many more figures, many other singing calls, many other nights. The amateurs get two singing calls every few months. He or she is on the mike for seven or eight minutes, and then has two or three months to think about it, and prepare for the next time. You can well imagine how much some amateurs may put into one of these little "shows," and how little margin for error they think they have.

So don't miss having one. Coming soon to a dance hall near you—Amateur Night at the Bijou! Chills and Thrills! As the Great Wallenda said, "The high wire is life; the rest is waiting." Steve Minkin
Sebastopol, California

SQUARE REVIEWS

by Dick Bayer

JESSIE POLKA SQUARE— Blue Star 2341

Caller: Johnnie Wykoff

I'LL HOLD YOU IN MY ARMS— Buckskin 1218

Caller: Ray Taylor

OLD BLACK MAGIC—Chaparral 806

Caller: Scott Smith

NEWTRON DANCE—Chaparral 321

Caller: Gary Shoemake

VENUS—Chaparral 807

The last few recordings we received from Chaparral are good floor raisers and this one is no exception. Give a listen. FIGURE: Heads promenade half, square thru four, right and left thru, veer left, couples circulate, half tag, scoot back, swing and promenade. ★★★

SAVIN' MY LOVE FOR YOU—Chicago Country 15

Caller: Bob Poyner

HOW TO ORDER—Order postpaid by sending check or money order to:

BILL PETERS • 5046 Amondo Drive • San Jose, California 95129

Californians add 6% sales tax; from Canada or overseas, U.S. funds, please. Add $3.00 for Air Mail.

HONEYMOON FEELING—Cimarron 106

Caller: Gerald McWhirter

HONEYCOMB—Cimarron 303

Caller: Jerry Rash

Both the records from Cimarron this month have excellent instrumentals. Honeycomb will get you a "buzzin'." FIGURE: Heads promenade ½, sides right and left thru, flutter wheel, sweep ½, pass thru, do-sa-do, eight chain four, swing, promenade. ★★★

RIBBON OF DARKNESS—Corral 1004

Caller: Don Jochum

Here's one we missed last month—sorry about that. A big hit of yesteryear has been revised by Don. Figure is MS. FIGURE: Heads square thru four, right hand star, heads star left, do-sa-do, slide thru, square thru three, swing corner promenade. ★★★

JOHNNY BE GOOD—Cross Country 506

Caller: Tom Manning

A little rock and roll by Cross Country. FIGURE: Heads promenade ½, square thru, right and left thru, veer left, couples circulate, ½ tag, scoot back, corner swing, promenade. ★★★½

FOREVER AND EVER, AMEN—ESP 145

Caller: Elmer Sheffield, Jr.

RHYTHM OF THE ROAD—ESP 612

Caller: Larry Letson

Second release of this number. The music is well done by ESP. Figure is MS. FIGURE: Heads promenade ½, square thru four, right and left thru, veer left, ferris wheel, square thru ¾, corner swing, promenade. ★★★

WE ALWAYS AGREE ON LOVE—ESP 705

Caller: Craig Rowe

OUT OF THE BLUES—ESP 514

Caller: Bob Newman

Good music and a little twist to MS choreo make for a good release. FIGURE: Head promenade half, right and left thru, rollaway, star thru, veer left, ferris wheel, double pass thru, lead couple trade, swing corner, promenade. ★★★

IT'S NOW OR NEVER—ESP 147

Caller: Elmer Sheffield Jr.

ESP has a winner here. Good music accompanies an old familiar melody that's well done by Elmer. FIGURE: Heads square thru four, do-sa-do, swing thru, spin the top, right and left thru, rollaway, touch  $\frac{1}{4}$ , boys run, swing corner, promenade. ★★★★★

WEST VIRGINIA—JoPat 1102

Caller: Nick Hartley

An old favorite done by JoPat with a good instrumental. Breaks feature a grand square. FIGURE: Heads square thru, do-sa-do, swing thru, boys trade, run right, bend the line, star thru, dive thru, centers square thru  $\frac{3}{4}$ , swing corner and promenade. ★★★

TODAY I STARTED LOVING YOU AGAIN—Prairie 1090

Caller: Renny Mann

Good beat to an old familiar tune. Breaks feature a grand square and a tea cup chain. FIGURE: Heads square thru, swing thru, boys run, half tag, scoot back, boys run, slide thru, star thru, square thru  $\frac{3}{4}$ , swing corner, promenade. ★★★

GONNA TAKE MY BABY ON A MORNING RIDE—

Prairie 1091; Caller: Al Horn

Prairie has some nice music and this one is quite good. Figure features track two. FIGURE: Heads flutter wheel, sweep  $\frac{1}{4}$ , double pass thru, track two, swing thru, boys run, wheel and deal, eight chain four, swing, promenade. ★★★

CHICAGO'S MY TOWN—Prairie 1092

Caller: Renny Mann

Here's one that will get your toes tappin'. Good lively instrumental with a little Plus in the figure. FIGURE: Heads pass thru, cloverleaf, double pass thru, track two, recycle, star thru, pass thru, wheel and deal, centers zoom, centers square thru  $\frac{3}{4}$ , swing corner, promenade. ★★★

FREE DANCER NOTES FOLDERS

Conceived by Gordon Goss, publisher of the National Square Dance Directory, endorsed by LEGACY, produced by both the Directory and American Square-dance Magazine, these two-fold hand-outs are gaining widespread approval throughout the S/D world. The best part of the deal is that they are free for the asking.

The folders, printed in black and red, are not primarily designed for promotion and recruitment, but rather for interpretation and retention of new dancers as classes start.

Callers and square dance club leaders are urged to order a quantity of them to hand out this fall.

In effect, the easy-to-read script says "this is what square dancing today is all about." Reference is made to some of the major organizations, such as Callerlab, Roundalab and LEGACY. Other topics, briefly discussed, are Heritage, Etiquette, Apparel, Visitation, Publications, Festivals and Glossary. There's a place on the folder to localize key information.

Just one of the concise paragraphs, under the heading of Apparel, reads as follows:

"Our colorful apparel identifies us as square dancers. Proper attire at dances is very important. Men should wear long sleeve western-style shirts and neckwear. Women should wear a dress or a skirt and blouse with a petticoat. Look Special! Feel Special! Be Special!"

To order your folders, either single copies or in quantity, write to this magazine and say "Dancer Notes," or order from National S/D Directory, PO Box 54055, Jackson MS 39208.

GOLDEN YEARS — GOLDEN ANNIVERSARIES

John & Leona Fath, Dorothy & Henry Albritton

Birthdays and anniversaries of dancing couples are always announced at Tropic Star Park in Pharr, Texas. Sherry Haag, wife of caller Jerry Haag, reported that during one week three couples celebrated anniversaries, and their years of marriage totaled 166, their years of square dancing, 55.

Bob and Delvera Johnson from Flemington, W.V., have been married 62 years and started square dancing 14 years ago. John and Leona Fath from DeGraff, Minn., celebrated 52 years of marriage and have square danced for 33 years. Dorothy and Henry Albritton from Hamlin, Texas, also celebrated 52 years of marriage and started square dancing eight years ago. Sherry also reports that 15 couples were added to their Honorary Golden Membership (belonging to the club for ten years) this year, giving them a total of 33 couples still square dancing who have been in the program at Tropic Star Park ten years or longer.

Your editors want to add another south Texas couple to this list. Dot and Charlie Lillagore, of Harlingen, who were on the ASD tour to England last May, are celebrating 60 years of marriage and 20-odd years of dancing. Charlie is 83, Dot 77; Charlie still square dances, Dot dances the rounds. Is there a south Texas secret to longevity?

THE CALLER NOTE SERVICES

Callerlink from the Australian Caller's Federation lists some good connect four ideas:

Zero line: Touch  $\frac{1}{4}$ , connect four Circle to a line, zero line...

Side ladies chain, heads star thru
Double pass thru, centers in, cast off  $\frac{3}{4}$
Touch  $\frac{1}{4}$ , connect four, heads only
Box the gnat, grand right and left...

Zero box: circle to a line
Touch  $\frac{1}{4}$ , connect four, left allemande...

In Lead Right by Malcom, Cole and Burdick, Walt starts off this month with some six-couple contras, followed by Stan with thoughts on how a caller must juggle eight main aspects of calling, followed by Don, who suggests some line choreography. In addition to these ideas, there is much choreo, a description of square the root by Jack Berg, some timing hints, and a Plus supplement.

Choreo Breakdown by Don Beck discusses grand track, spin chain and exchange the gears, compress to a column, cover up, scoot & weave. New calls reviewed this month were: alley oop to a diamond, busy body, chase by 1, 2, and 3, cross the deucey, honky tonk, slip in/out, split cross circulate, and square the root.

Minnesota Callers' Notes reprints the areas to be covered by Callerlab Chairman Bob Osgood's proposed program and asks for help in them: 1. Callerlab influence and outreach, 2. A census of callers, 3. Places to dance—the need for S/D halls, 4. Films and video tapes, 5. Archives and heritage, 6. A "home" for Callerlab, 7. Money. Callers may volunteer by writing to Callerlab, Box 679, Pocono Pines PA 18350. Editor Warren Berquam states, "I know we have had callers join Callerlab who have dropped away from the organization. I have a feeling that this should also be addressed in our research plans, to strengthen Callerlab and the S/D movement."

Mainstream Flow by Gene Trimmer announces a personal decision: "I am going to end my calling career in February, 1988...it is time for me to step down and make more room for the younger crowd. I am also going to stop writing the notes next year and have made arrangements with Jim Hayes of Aurora, Kansas, to write and publish them...Jim has been calling more years than I and has a proven, successful career in the central states. He is currently a member of the Callerlab Board of Governors and is a respected leader in square dancing.

Notes for Callers by Jack Lasry gives us "an odd triple trade set-up: "From a tidal "line" formation, with the center four in a two-faced line and the ends in mini-waves, it is possible to call a triple trade as the center three pairs all have an arm turn trade leaving the extreme ends with no movement at all. A bit challenging but really not that "far out"... Zero line, do-sa-do to a tidal wave

NATIONAL ADVANCED & CHALLENGE CONVENTION

The 21st National Advanced and Challenge Square Dance Convention, held in Altoona, Pa. in June, was the largest Advanced and Challenge event ever held anywhere in the world. Over 1300 dancers (172 sets) from 33 states, Canada and Japan participated in the three-day event. Half of the dancers were present for the Wednesday night Trail-End Dance.

Dancing was held in Altoona High School with four halls of continuous dancing: A-2, C-1, C-2, C-3, and in addition, a part-time C-4 hall.

Staff callers, selected by vote of dancers at the previous year's convention were: Ed Foote, Keith Gulley, Dave Hodson, Mike Jacobs, Lee Kopman, Ron Libby, John Marshall, Ben Rubright and Anne Uebelacker. Associate callers, also selected by vote of the dancers, were: Clark Baker, Jeff Barth, Vic Ceder, Todd Fellegly, Roy Leber, Sandra McElroy, and John Sybalsky. Seven additional callers participated in a special non-staff caller dance.

The dancers were overwhelmed by the hospitality of the people of Altoona. Signs reading "Welcome, Square Dancers" were numerous; television and radio coverage was provided; the local paper gave five consecutive days of coverage; and local businesses donated services. Over 500 spectators watched the dancing.

Herb and Monica Seitz, chairmen of the dancers' Advisory Board, stated in the convention program that the NACC is unique in many ways: 1. Most of the top names in Advanced and Challenge are present as staff callers; 2. It is the only convention which allows dancers to vote on staff callers for the following year; 3. It is the only convention which uses an advisory board of dancers to help make decisions of importance to its success; 4. It is the only convention which allows callers not on staff to be programmed, thereby recognizing upcoming and on-going talent.

The 22nd Convention will be held in the air-conditioned Convention Center in Virginia Beach, Va. June 16-18, 1988, with a Trail-End dance June 15. Virginia Beach is a well-known resort area located on the Atlantic Ocean. For information, write: Ed Foote, 140 McCandless Dr., Wexford, PA 15090.

community (several thousand people) in our area, whom for whatever reason our publicity does not seem to reach.

A mention of our club [in your magazine] would reach a square dance readership far beyond the number of people whom we could ever in our wildest dreams reach with our publicity efforts. Maybe someone who is due to leave the states for a tour of duty at the Lucius D. Clay base near Osterholz will either read it themselves or be told about us. I hope so.

Mike Allen

Am Grossen Geeren 39
2863 Ritterhude, West Germany

I have started to receive your magazine now on a regular basis, and in the May issue, I particularly liked the "Message from the Beginning Dancers," written by Jo Jan Nunley of Canyon, Texas. Her message was one that I felt last October.

I learned my square and round dancing in the city of Augsburg, Germany, with the Bavarian Stompers...I danced regularly with many other clubs in Bavaria. By the time I left there, I was a very confident MS and Plus dancer, as well as a confident round dancer. But when I left to go to Colorado Springs, I began to feel all sorts of fears and worries...I was heading alone into a setting that would be completely new. I did not know anyone from the Colorado Springs area, and my worries and fears grew...What would these clubs be like? Would they be friendly? Did I know and learn enough to keep up?

I arrived, and the next night, I went to the Carriage Stop (S/R dance hall). To my great delight, I found the club dancing that evening to be friendly, and full of fun and enthusiasm. I found my ability was equal to all the other dancers, in both MS and Plus, and in round dancing...I have already become a member of five clubs. My enthusiasm and zest for this activity grows all the time, and I hope it never dies.

NEIGHBORS

In a small town in Ohio, a newcomer noticed that men, women and children were busily pouring in and out of one of the local houses. Being curious, the newcomer paid a visit himself. In the house, he noticed a man sitting in a chair with women feeding him homemade chicken soup, while men were massaging his shoulders, and some kids were pouring warm water in a basin to soak his feet. The newcomer thought this was downright neighborly, helping a man out when he had a cold and laryngitis. Asking a woman if the townspeople did this for all the townfolk when they were sick, the woman replied, "Heck no, it's just that he's the local square dance caller and we've got to get him feeling better by Saturday night."

mean you must be a leader all the time, in every facet of your life. During the day, you might be a schoolteacher, a bus driver, a clerk or whatever, taking orders from the superior. At night, you could be chairman of your union, the PTA or a square dance club.

Recognize others' accomplishments. A good leader appreciates the folks who follow. The important thing a leader has to remember is that it's the followers who are doing the work and making the leader look good.

In leadership, the rewards may be intangible but are nonetheless worthwhile. They are purely personal. There's a great sense of satisfaction knowing you can effect a change, even make a name for yourself. That's the ego part of it. But that's not what you're thinking about when you go out to do things. You think, Maybe I can help. Maybe I can do it better.

*From the 1986 Keynote Speech at the Washington State Leadership Seminar.

questing 'club members to attend the lessons.' Avoid words like tips, hot-hash, workshops. Explain that a Calico Ball is a graduation dance."

"Remember, 'what image am I trying to convey?' It might be better to avoid anything that makes square dancers look foolish or silly. If the program chairmen planned a crazy hat dance, I wouldn't include a photo of the winning entry; if a dance is planned to return a traveling johnny or door or any such item, I'd think twice before including this information in a newspaper article. Flyers, on the other hand, are ordinarily only concerned with the dancing public, so all information of whatever nature may be included.

"Doing publicity takes time and effort but like all the other jobs in a club, if its square dancing, it's fun."

Steal A Peek" features Bobby Lepard. Bobby has been involved in square dancing on almost a 7-day basis since graduating from lessons in 1970.

OLD TIMEY SOUTHERN TALK by Ray Cunningham

This book is a glossary of words and expressions used in talking, especially in the south. However, they are heard in other parts of the country as well.

The author, a square dance caller, states that "old timey" southern talk is dying out, but this reviewer believes that the majority of "language" in this book is still used a great deal, having lived more than 70 years in the north, except for the last six winters spent in Florida. Since the Florida population has so many northerners, we really can't expect to hear a lot of "old-timey southern talk" there.

This book is fun to read and you'd be surprised at how many of the words or expressions we all have used when talking or writing.

Old Timey Southern Talk will set you back $6.95 each or four books for $21.95—delivered!

Order from Ray Cunningham, 1259
NE 8th St., Ocala FL 32670.
