FOR RELEASE
February 12, 2002

DURHAM, NH -- Republican Congressman John Sununu continues to lead in the race for U.S. Senate from New Hampshire. Sununu has maintained his lead over incumbent Bob Smith in the GOP primary race and continues to enjoy a slim lead over Democratic Governor Jeanne Shaheen.

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. The Granite State Poll is sponsored by the University of New Hampshire. Five-hundred sixty-three (563) registered voters were interviewed between January 25 and February 5, 2002. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/-4.1 percent. (For more detailed results, visit the Survey Center web site at www.unh.edu/survey-center and click on Press Releases.)

U.S. SENATE

A race that is attracting nationwide attention is for the U.S. Senate seat currently held by two-term incumbent Republican Bob Smith of Wolfeboro. Smith is being challenged by fellow Republican John Sununu of Bedford, a three-term Representative from New Hampshire's 1st District. Currently, Sununu leads Smith in the race for the GOP nomination with 51 percent of likely GOP primary voters saying they plan to vote for Sununu, 37 percent plan to vote for Smith, 4 percent favor some other candidate, and only 8 percent are undecided. Sununu's lead has dropped somewhat since October when he led Smith 53 percent to 35 percent. "There has been little movement in the GOP primary as both candidates are concentrating on fundraising and solidifying their campaign organizations" said Andrew Smith, the Director of the UNH Survey Center. "Both candidates appear to be living by Ronald Reagan's '11th Commandment', not speaking ill of a fellow Republican. Instead, both candidates have concentrated their criticisms on Governor Shaheen."

Three-term Democratic Governor Jeanne Shaheen of Madbury officially announced her candidacy last week, although she had been widely expected to run. A hypothetical race between Smith and Shaheen is essentially tied - 46 percent of New Hampshire registered voters favor Shaheen, 43 percent favor Smith, 4 percent favor some other candidate, and only 6 percent are undecided. In October, Shaheen led Smith 45 percent to 44 percent.

Sununu continues to run stronger than Smith against Shaheen. Currently, 49 percent of registered voters favor Sununu, 42 percent favor Shaheen, 4 percent favor some other candidate, and 6 percent are undecided. Sununu's lead has narrowed somewhat since October when he enjoyed a 50 percent to 38 percent margin over Shaheen.

SENATE FAVORABILITY RATINGS

Because the election is many months away, most voters are heavily influenced by their perceptions of the candidates rather than specific issue positions. John Sununu is leading in the race for U.S. Senate, in part, because he has the highest favorability ratings of the three Senate candidates. Among registered voters, 58 percent have a favorable opinion of Sununu, 25 percent have an unfavorable opinion, 9 percent are neutral, and 8 percent don't know enough about him to say. Sununu's net favorability rating, the percentage having a favorable opinion of him minus those having an unfavorable opinion, is a solid +33 percent, although it has dropped from a +47 percent in the October Granite State Poll. Bob Smith's favorability ratings are considerably lower than Sununu's with 51 percent of New Hampshire registered voters saying they have a favorable opinion of Smith, 31 percent having an unfavorable opinion, 8 percent are neutral, and 11 percent not knowing enough about him to say. Smith's net favorability rating is a moderate +20 percent, essentially unchanged since October when it was +21 percent. Jeanne Shaheen's favorability ratings are slightly lower than Sununu's with 56 percent having a favorable opinion of Shaheen, 36 percent having an unfavorable opinion of her, 6 percent are neutral, and 2 percent don't know enough to say. Shaheen's net favorability rating is + 20 percent, down from +28 percent in October.

NH GOVERNOR

The race for New Hampshire Governor is in much greater flux than the Senate race because most candidates vying for both the Republican and Democratic nomination are currently unknown to NH voters. Among Democrats, State Senator Bev Hollingworth of Hampton and State Senator Mark Fernald of Sharon are tied, with former Executive Councilor Jim Normand of Manchester in third. Currently, 19 percent of likely Democratic primary voters say they plan to vote for Fernald, 18 percent plan to vote for Hollingworth, 7 percent favor Normand, 12 percent favor some other candidate, and 44 percent remain undecided. (Caution must be used when interpreting these figures as sample sizes for the likely primary voter sub-samples are small.)

There are a high percentage of undecided voters because the candidates are largely unknown to New Hampshire voters. Sixty-five percent of registered voters say they don't know enough about Fernald to have an opinion about him, 69 percent don't know enough about Hollingworth to form an opinion, and 80 percent don't know enough about Normand to form an opinion.

Among the Republican candidates for Governor, former U.S. Senator Gordon Humphrey of Chichester continues to lead his rivals. In the latest Granite State Poll, 37 percent of likely Republican primary voters plan to vote for Humphrey, 20% plan to vote for Cabletron Founder Craig Benson, 6 percent favor former State Senator Bruce Keough, 2 percent favor former State Representative David Corbin, 9 percent favor some other candidate, and 26 percent are undecided.

Benson has been airing both television and radio commercials in an attempt to boost his image among New Hampshire voters and this appears to be paying with 7 percentage point increase since October. In the October Granite State Poll, 37 favored Humphrey, 13 percent favored Benson, 4 percent favored Keough, and 2 percent favored Corbin.

There has been little change in the net favorability ratings of the Republican candidates for Governor. Humphrey has a net favorability rating of +13, down slightly from +16 in October, Benson has a net favorability rating of +3, up from +2, Keough's net favorability rating is 0, down from +4, and Corbin's net favorability rating declined to +2 from +4.

SUB-GROUP ANALYSIS

There is some evidence that Smith's run as an Independent for President in 2000 is hurting his standing among New Hampshire Republicans. In trial heat match-ups with Shaheen, Sununu does better than Smith among registered Republicans (84% to 71%), conservatives (73% to 62%), and self-identified Republicans (81% to 70%) and among undeclared voters (43% to 38%). Sununu also does much better than Smith among wealthy New Hampshire residents (57% to 36%). Shaheen gets her strongest support from Democrats and liberals.

In the GOP gubernatorial primary, Humphrey receives his strongest support from conservatives, older voters, and those with lower levels of education. Benson runs strongest among people who have lived in New Hampshire between 6 and 10 years, and people aged 40 to 49.

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the most recent Granite State Poll conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center from January 25 to February 5, 2002. A random sample of 726 New Hampshire adults was interviewed by telephone. In 95 of 100 cases, the statewide estimates will be accurate to plus or minus 3.8 percent. Results reported for other subgroups have potential for somewhat larger variation than those for the entire population. The margin of sampling error for registered voters (N=563) is +/-4.1 percent. The margin of sampling error for likely GOP primary voters (N=226) is +/-6.5 percent. The margin of sampling error for likely Democrat primary voters (N=196) is +/-7.0 percent.

The data have been weighted to adjust for numbers of adults and telephone lines within households, respondent sex, and for region of the state. In addition to potential sampling error, all surveys have other potential sources of non-sampling error including question order effects, question wording effects, and non-response.

Respondents to the Granite State Poll were asked:

- "Next, I'd like to get your overall opinion of some people in the news. As I read each name, please say if you have a favorable or unfavorable opinion of this person - or if you have never heard of him or her. New Hampshire Congressman Charlie Bass."
- "Businessman Craig Benson."

- "Former Senator Gordon Humphrey."
- "Former State Senator Bruce Keough."
- "Former Executive Councilor Jim Normand."
- "New Hampshire Governor Jeanne Shaheen."
- "New Hampshire Senator Bob Smith."
- "New Hampshire Congressman John Sununu."
- "I am going to read the names of the candidates who are expected to be on the Republican primary ballot for U.S. Senator. If you were voting in the Republican primary for U.S. Senate today, would you vote for ... Bob Smith ... or John Sununu?" (ROTATE CANDIDATES) IF OTHER, UNDECIDED, NEITHER, DK: "As of today, which of these candidates are you leaning towards?"
- "Now, I am going to read the names of the candidates who are expected to be on the Republican primary ballot for Governor. If you were voting in the Republican primary for Governor today, would you vote for ... Craig Benson ... Dave Corbin ... Gordon Humphrey ... or Bruce Keough?"
- "I am going to read the names of the candidates who are expected to be on the Democratic primary ballot for Governor. If you were voting in the Democratic primary for Governor today, would you vote for ... Bev Hollingworth ... Mark Fernald ...or Jim Normand?"
- "Suppose the 2002 election for U.S. Senator for New Hampshire was being held TODAY and the candidates were John Sununu, the Republican, and Jeanne Shaheen, the Democrat.
