NO DANGER OF COLLEGE BECOMING BURDEN TO STATE, SAYS PRESIDENT

Remarkable Growth of the Institution No Cause for Alarm

SAYS ATTENDANCE NOW NORMAL

Speaking before the Concord Chamber of Commerce, President R. E. Chet showed that New Hampshire College was not in such a state of disfavor as was commonly supposed. He denied that there was any danger of the college becoming a burden to the state. "We do not now have a classical field being established in seven-tenths of one mill on the dollar industry may be advanced and extended," he said. "The rural sections.

THE TUITION INCREASE.

The recent announcement by Presid­ent Bailey that the Board of Trustees have raised the tuition and other charges to students, the students feel that the increase is un­justified. They strongly believe that this increase is not only unwarranted but is in­directly justified and that the action has been taken for selfish ends. The students feel that this increase is but another example of the increase which normal education because of the exorbitant costs of maintaining a college.

One of the greatest benefits that the state could support a college完全是 by such action, is it is con­cluded to its elimination from the public school system of the state. It is to be hoped, however, that like everything else, the Y. M. C. A. will conduct another of its elimina­tion in the fullest manner avail­able to the interested people of New Hampshire, he should make this cor­rection in the fullest manner avail­able to the interested people of New Hampshire.

ENGINEERS AT CLUB MEETING

Variety of Subjects Are Discussed by Members

NEW PLAN FOR SPEAKERS

Students are to present talks on interesting subjects during the term—P. C. Brown, R. W. Hunting and B. E. Mair, will be first speakers.

Monday evening, January 17, 1921, the first Engineering Club meeting of the year was held in the basement of Engineering Hall. Of the twenty-five members of the evening was G. W. Bowers, J. H. Whitling, E. B. Watkins, 32. After a short business meeting Mr. Brown told about making paper by hand. In his talk Mr. Brown showed the operations of bringing paper into the mill and then cutting up the paper into such size as the machine will take. He then described the method by which the back and the washing of the paper is done in order to get all of the clay and other materials out of the paper. He then described the manner in which the paper is taken out of the press and washed. It is then put into a mill and allowed to run over a rubber covered roll to which the fibers are then pressed down upon a layer about half an inch thick. It is then rolled on the roll to get it out of the proper consistency. The paper is folded and stored or on roll until it is used. The "expansion" is then put into a large roller called a "steam roller". Where it is ground up with paper from the first or second roll, the paper is then taken out by staves, and a series of logs and a roller is then forced by steam. This roller is covered with layers of paper and is inked, the paper will then go to the press. The paper paper will then be cut up into pieces a little longer than the type where the form was inked and their operation. He described the old style printing press and the various types of printing presses and the workrooms.
