BATES DEFEATED IN DUAL MEET WITH VARSITY AT LEWISTON

First Intercollegiate Track Duel of Season Finds Men from Granite State Up to Standard

BATCHELDER GETS MOST POINTS FOR N. H.

Weight Events Prove Easy Picking but Sprints and Distance Races Afford Stiffest Kind of Competition—Wearers of Garnet Good Entertainers—Ray Buker Continues Blue Ribbon Performance—Five Records Shattered and One Tied

New Hampshire's inexperienced track team won its first dual meet of the year last Saturday, at Garcelon Field, Lewiston, Me. The final score was New Hampshire 71, Bates 55. The meet was interesting and close throughout, Bates leading until near the end. The strength of the Blue and White team was practically an unknown quantity before the meet, and with such stars as the Buker brothers, Wiggin, Kane, and Burrill against them, the outlook was rather doubtful from a New Hampshire standpoint. It took hard work, and a lot of "the old fight" to win second and third places in the track events, as the Maine men put up a good, stiff competition in every race. In the weight events, however, the contest was less severe, and the New Hampshire huskies succeeded in taking every place.

RECORDS BROKEN

Five of the dual records were shattered and one equalled. Bates men lowered the time for three events—the 100-yd. dash, the 880-yd. run, and the mile run. New Hampshire was responsible for two new ones,—the high hurdles, and the hammer throw, while Batchelder equalled the shot put record made in 1916 by Adam of Bates.

The high point men of the meet were Batchelder, N. H., with 11 points Wiggin, B. and Rogers, N. H., with 10 each, while R. S. Buker, B. and Boomer, N. H., each won 3 points. The races of Wiggin and of the Buker brothers were easily the features, and unfortunately the New Hampshire men could not force them to their best performances.

The Bates team lived up to their reputation, not only as game fighters, but as good losers and excellent hosts as well. They gave the New Hampshire men their usual cordial hospitality and applauded their efforts during the meet.

The first event was the 120-yd. high hurdles, with four starters. It was nip and tuck all the way, with Rogers slightly in the lead at the last hurdle. Vin pulled away from the Bates men in the sprint for the tape and took first place. Draper, the last man over the sticks, caught up with the others in the last yard and made it a close decision, but the judges gave Jenkins and Irving second and third. The time was 17 3-5 seconds, clipping a fifth of a second off the old dual record held by Quimby of Bates.

FAIRLEY INJURED

Two trial heats were held for the 100-yard dash. Fairley of Bates won the first in 10 3-5 seconds, but pulled a tendon as he crossed the line, and was unable to compete in the final. McKinney of Bates, and Fox of N. H. finished second and third. Wiggin of Bates won second heat easily, with Nassikas and Stevens just beating out the rest of the field. The time was 10 2-5 seconds. The final was a repetition of this heat, the same men placing in the same order, and in the same time. This made the second new record, one-fifth of a second faster than the one made 1916 by Barows of Bates.

MILE RUN

The mile run was one of the features of the day. R. S. Buker of Bates, led for the first quarter, after which Cy Leath passed him and set the pace for two laps. Buker passed Cy during the last lap and won in the time of 4 minutes, 30 and two-fifths seconds. This lowers the time of 4 minutes, 44 and four-fifths seconds made in 1916 by Bunny Eastman of New Hampshire.

The 440 was a stiff battle. Nearly all the starters were penalized, Varney of Bates being the only one to start from scratch. He took the pole and held it half way around. Then Harry Paine took the lead and held it to the finish. At the 220-yard mark Cy Cotton started after the leaders, and was running third until the last 50 yards. Then his muscles tightened and he was unable to hold his pace. At this point Buck McKelvie uncorked a sprint which carried him from sixth place to third. Hodgman of Bates was too far ahead of him to be caught, and took second place. The time was 54 and three-fifths seconds.

The first heat of the 220-yard low hurdles was won by Vin Rogers, with Rose of Bates taking second. Draper won the second heat, and Litchfield managed to beat the Bates starter. The time for both heats was the same, 27 and four-fifths seconds. The final heat was another close race, with Rogers and Rose neck and neck until the last hurdle. Vin won by inches, while Draper took third place. The time was 27 and four-fifths seconds.

Two heats were held for the 220-yd. dash. Wiggin loafed through the first one, letting Carr win it, while Haywood finished third. The time was 24 and one-fifth seconds. The second heat was all New Hampshire's. Nassikas won it in 24 and four-fifths seconds. Morrill and Stevens finished second and third, just beating out the other starters. Wiggin won the final heat by three yards, while Morrill and Stevens again finished second and third. The time was 23 and three-fifths seconds.

TWO-MILE RUN

Bates took the lead all through the 2-mile run. For the first five laps Hubbard ran second, R. B. Buker third and Leath fourth. Buker was fresh from his triumph at the Penn. Relay games a week ago, while Leath was still winded from his exertions in the 1-mile run.

Buker took the lead in the sixth lap, and although Cy gamely took after him, the pace was too fast. Buker won by 30 yards in 10 minutes and 14 seconds, with Hubbard in second place and Leath third.

Kane of Bates led all the way in the 880-yard run. Batten of Bates was running second at the end of the first 220 yards, with Weston third, Paine fourth, and R. S. Buker fifth. At the half way mark Paine passed Weston and started after the leaders, passing Batten. Kane sprinted the last 200 yards, leaving the other runners easily. Buker passed Paine and landed second place, with Paine third. The time was 2 minutes, three and one-fifth seconds, breaking Sid Wentworth's record of 2 minutes, four and three-fifths seconds.

In the field events Burrill of Bates won the broad jump, with Boomer and Stafford second and third respectively. The distance was 20 feet seven and one-half inches.

The pole vault took longer to run off. Walker and Stafford put up a game fight, but the best they could do was a tie for second place with Smith and Descoteau of Bates. Wilson of Bates, though erratic in form, had a good spring, and cleared 10 feet and 1 inch for first place. In this event Walker had a pole break while in air but was lucky to escape injury.

Steve Boomer won the high jump without much trouble, getting over 5 feet, 4 and one-fourth inches. Dinsmore and Webster of Bates tied for second place, beating out Walker and Cotton by an inch.

WEIGHTS EASY

The weight events had a decidedly blue tinge. Batchelder won the shot put with a heave of 37 feet, 7 inches. This ties the old record. Si Cotton took second place and Dutch Connor third.

Shorty Sawyer won the hammer throw, with Dutch Connor second and Batchelder third. The distance was 124.95 feet, a new record. The old one, 117 feet 2 3/4 inches, was held by Ross of Bates.

In the discus throw the N. H. men were somewhat hampered by the buildings and a few windows were broken. Batchelder managed to land first place with a heave of 112.3 feet. Luce, Bates' contestant at the Penn. Relay games, was shut out of the finals, and Dutch Connor finished second and Shorty Sawyer third.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE ALUMNI FORM BRANCH AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Graduates, Former Students and Faculty Gather at Hotel Lafayette and Organize Southern Group

TWENTY-NINE ATTEND

Celebrate New Hampshire Day Night in Fitting Manner by Dinner and Smoker—H. T. Converse, '10, Elected President of New Body—Congressmen Wason and Burroughs Present—Reminiscences of Old Days in Order

On April 29 New Hampshire College alumni, former students and faculty in and around Washington, D. C., met and organized the Washington Branch of the New Hampshire College Alumni Association. The meeting was held in the "Gold Room" at Hotel Lafayette, 16th and Eye Streets, and there amidst pleasing music furnished by the hotel orchestra, and an excellent dinner, this branch of our ever increasing alumni association had its birth. A more fitting night could scarcely have been chosen, it being the evening before New Hampshire Day, when all Durham was in the center of the annual all-college celebration.

To quote Forrest A. Barker, '20, newly elected publicity agent of the association,—"We were especially honored in having present Honorable Edward H. Wason, '86, one of the board of trustees and a member of Congress, and also Congressman Sherman E. Burroughs.

BUSINESS MEETING

Soon after the cigars and cigarettes had been passed, Toastmaster Colonel William E. Hunt turned the meeting over to Chairman H. T. Converse, '10.

A short and snappy business meeting took place, constitution read and accepted, and the following officers elected: President, H. T. Converse, '10; Vice-President, F. A. Barker, '20; Secretary, K. D. Blood, '20; Treasurer, Miss H. C. Nudd, '17.

The constitution which is a model of simplicity and efficiency consists of the following:

"This organization shall be known as the Washington Branch of the New Hampshire College Alumni Association. The officers shall consist of President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer. Meetings—as called. Dues, $1.00 per year."

ORATORS INTRODUCED

All business over, Toastmaster Hunt previously having been supplied with a list of orators, introduced Lieut. Louis Dreller, '18, U. S. N. He gave an interesting talk and to those that remember him—he hasn't changed a single bit.

Mr. J. W. Smith, '88, in a pleasing and jovial manner congratulated us on the splendid showing made to-night, emphasizing how well the arrangements had been made. He alone remembering that this was the eve of N. H. Day.

Prof. Chas. Brooks, for seven years head of the Botany Department, told of his experiences on landing in Durham. He got off from the train, asked Mr. Wentworth if he would direct him to the best hotel, Mr. Wentworth replying that the town supported no hotels, but that he might find rooms somewhere without much difficulty. Dr. Brooks previously had information that Durham was a town of some 2,000 odd. He soon grew to like Durham very much despite the "mess" at Burnham's.

Since there are five men working at Beltsville, Md., President Converse was selected to tell of their work there.

Dr. H. H. Kimball, '84, took us back to the old days when they were always looking for chances to cut classes. One prof. in particular they could not manage to cut. However one day they succeeded in getting out the back way as Dean Pettie came in the front. Fifteen minutes later a notice was distributed that they would return in one hour with fifteen additional pages. They were all there to a man.

SPEAK OF ALLAN POND

Mr. Goodwin, Kenneth Blood's present room-mate, a graduate of Massachusetts Agricultural College, former center of the 1919-20 football team, told of the spirit between Mass. Aggies and New Hampshire ever since the death of Allan Pond, their star athlete and scholar. Mass. Aggies have sincere and brotherly feelings toward New Hampshire for the regrets felt and expressed by the N. H. men. He remarked on the accuracy of "Dutch" Connor's toe, which spelled defeat for them that day.

Lieut. R. C. Bartlett, '18, U. S. N., inasmuch as he was averse to his selected topic, "Sub Chasers," gave a travelogue of his trip from Hampton Roads to Honolulu. Especially interesting was his account of the bull fight staged at Panama.

CO-OPERATION URGED

Honorable Sherman E. Burroughs, an ardent admirer and friend of New Hampshire, a Dartmouth graduate, urged co-operation between New Hampshire people and pledged his support to the college to the best of his ability.

F. A. Barker, '20, gave a resumé of the Memorial Field Drive.

Hon. E. H. Wason, '86, closed the evening's impromptu speeches and left every one in good humor. Accounts of the old days at Hanover were recalled. With no disrespect to a certain professor, the following was related. It seems that this professor constantly wore a scowl to class. One day it was much worse. At the close of the class, as the Prof. was walking homeward, a pail full of water greeted him. To those that witnessed the catastrophe, it was said that the Prof. looked much refreshed. The thermometer in the same class room could also tell some interesting stories. As a retort to Col. Hunt's introductions Mr. Wason replied, that although the size of the army would be reduced there still would be enough enlisted men to shine the officer's boots.

A unanimous rising vote of thanks was given to Congressman Burroughs and Wason for their efforts, past, present and future in the behalf of New Hampshire College.

Too much credit can not be given to the committee that planned the new organization: "Chuck" Weigel, '16, chairman, assisted by Col. W. E. Hunt, '99; J. W. Smith, '80; C. B. Durgin, '18 and Miss H. C. Nudd, '17. Col. Hunt, by the way, is an ideal toastmaster.

Those present were as follows: Edward H. Wason, '86, 3825 Morrison Street, Washington, D. C. Wm. E. Hunt, '99, War Dept. Mrs. W. E. Hunt. Sherman E. Burroughs. J. Warren Smith, '88, U. S. OPENING GAME ON NEW BASEBALL FIELD FINDS VARSITY TO FRONT

Defeat Fast Team from Waterville by Three Runs Before Large Crowd of Enthusiasts on Bleachers

HOME TEAM GETS SIX COUNTERS IN SECOND

Kroog and Sherwood on Mound for New Hampshire with Howard and Daniels for Colby—Champaigne Pulls Spectacular Play—Timely Hitting by Local Boys Help to Bring Game to Victorious Close

The New Hampshire varsity nine christened the new field Saturday afternoon with a win over the fast Colby team by a score of 8 to 5. The game was a long drawn out affair but nevertheless New Hampshire held the lead at all stages.

New Hampshire in their half of the first got one run when Perry, the first man at bat, worked Howard, the Colby pitcher for a pass, advanced to second on Broderick's bunt, stole third and scored on Champaigne's long fly to center field.

BUNCH HITS

Kroog held the Maine team scoreless in their half of the first and second, but when it came New Hampshire's turn in the second, our heavy artillery got in their work for six hits and six runs giving us a lead of seven runs to work on. But in the third the Colby batters found Kroog's delivery to their liking and sent four runs over the plate. The Waterville lads continued their methods of the previous inning and Kroog was forced to give way to Sherwood who pitched fine ball for the remainder of the game keeping the hits well scattered.

There was no scoring until our half of the eighth. Butler, the first man up, flied out to the second baseman, Lundholm reached first on an error by Daniels, Champaigne flied out to Azzasa, Bailey then singled to left advancing Lundholm to second, Hagerty then sent another pretty single to left and "Lundy" scored, Roy went out second to first and that ended the scoring for the day.

CHAMPAIGNE STARS

Captain Taylor of Colby turned in a nice day's work gathering in three long drives to center field, but the play that brought the crowd to its feet was the stunt Jack Champaigne pulled when he threw Willis out at second base on a batted ball: it happened thusly; Willis the first man up in the eighth, sent a sizzling grounder to Sal Broderick but Sal heaved it wide to Bailey and the ball seemingly went into the crowd and Willis started for second, but Jack was on the alert and backed up Bailey at first then easily threw out Willis at second. Champaigne besides catching a good game connected for two hits out of three trips to the plate.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING.

Because of the chilly evening, last Monday, May 2, the girls gathered around the fireplace instead of on the porch, at Smith hall, for a short business meeting of the Y. W. C. A., followed by a "sing." The prospect of having a Chinese graduate student, as a member of the New Hampshire delegation at Maqua was brought to the attention of the meeting by the president, Eleanor Sawtelle, '22. Miss Sawtelle also announced the establishment of a joint office with the Y. M. C. A. in the former faculty rest room at the Commons. The treasurer was able to report that the finance committee has collected nearly thirty dollars through the sale of Maqua lollipops.

Catherine Dodge, '23, led in the singing of college songs and old time favorites, and Alice Saxton, '23, taught the girls new songs, including the instantly popular "A Man without a Woman," which she had learned from the workers at Camp, last summer.

CHILDREN'S HOUR HELD AT LIBRARY

Plans Introduced by Librarian Lewis Meets with Great Success—Women from Various Walks of Life Entertain Youngsters with Appropriate Stories

The Children's Hour at the Library occurs every Saturday morning at ten o'clock. It is conducted under the supervision of Mr. W. P. Lewis, the Librarian, and is his special project. The ladies of the town, Faculty women, and some of the college girls cooperate in telling stories at this hour. One of the best of the story-tellers is Miss Helen Simmers, twelve years of age.

Children from three to nine years of age come to these meetings and the number of children who attend them are indication of the interest these young people have in this form of entertainment plus education.

The purpose of this Children's Hour is to introduce to the children worthwhile literature in the form of stories of all kinds, which were written for children of the ages of those who attend.

TO DO, OR NOT TO DO.

A great deal has been written and not a little has been said about honor systems and student government versus our own Student Council, and the gist of it all has been—that we must get down to business and start something. When the Council was rejuvenated last fall great things were expected of it. Nothing, however, was accomplished. Why? Because the Council was not organized on the right basis, because the best men and women on the campus were not necessarily members, because the students elected to serve on the Council neglected their duty and did not attend the meetings, and MOST IMPORTANT of ALL because the Student Council has not had the support and faith of the student body and the faculty.

LET'S GO!

Colonel Edward L. Munson, Chief of Morale, General Staff, United States Army, declares that the expression, "Let's Go!" stood out above all others as the slogan of the American Army in the World War. In fact, it was more than a mere slogan, it was a battle-cry in the front line trenches, a spur on the march and an inspiration in camp.

Brief, terse, dogmatic, compelling; wholly and completely American. It is the essence and the spirit of this republic. It seems to jeer at inaction and indecision; it flays technicality and red tape; it mocks the impossible. It rouses the bold to the supreme of accomplishment and muddles the incompetent.

Warren used it to beat the British at Lexington; Andrew Jackson won with it at New Orleans; Taylor took it with him to Mexico; Grant would have loved it. "Let's Go!" This has been the spirit of our land ever since its birth; but was never placed in words, given form, shape and syllable until our young men took the acid test in France. Out of all the joy and anguish and glory of this great adventure the spirit of America found a voice, at last, by which the world might know it as it really is: "Let's Go!" That tells the tale of us, what we have done and how we did it.

"Let's Go!" That's the way we win victories in peace and war. Can you not hear those doughboys chortle and chant those cabalistic words of a virulent race? Fleeting, humorous, grim and gay, they come from young lips in ragtime measures, in clarion call, glorious protest against every doddering obstacle on their own side of the battle lines and in contempt of any barrier that can be interposed by the foe.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Various petty crimes that have been committed on the campus, have brought the wrath of individuals and groups of individuals onto the Council—a council so inefficiently organized and with so little invested power that it could not combat the conditions which it faced.

The attention of the public has constantly been directed toward the deficiencies in the Council, toward the misdemeanors which the Council should have controlled, and asked to aid in the solution of these problems. Editorials have caught a passing attention. They serve as a topic of conversation, only when the possibilities of the weather had been exhausted. The public did nothing.

After struggling along in this handicapped condition for some time the Council has at last taken the matter of a re-organization into its own hands. A committee report which has recently been turned in shows constructive thought and a sound basis for a future program of work. A new Council with a new constitution, and a new understanding, should be the result.

The least the layman can do is to give this report thought, a little constructive criticism, and SOME support.

Exeter Proves Too
Strong for Freshmen

"BUCK" FERNALD STARS

Start a Whirlwind Game Only to Go to Pieces in Fourth—L. Fernald and Cook Each Fan Six—Errors Plentiful

The New Hampshire Freshman baseball team fell before the speedy Exeter aggregation in a loosely played game of ball on the new field last Saturday afternoon by a 12 to 5 score.

The Frosh team started strong getting two runs in the first inning. The best catch of the game came in this inning when "Buck" Fernald grabbed one out of the air that would have gone for at least a double and scored two runs.

H. Fernald started things with a single. Graves advanced him to third with a hard single. Then Wright came through with a slashing hit to third which taking a bad bound proved unfieldable and let in two runs.

Exeter came to the fore in the fourth inning when after getting three men on, Lathrop delivered the goods in the form of a slashing triple. This was the death knell of the freshmen. Their game, which previous to this time had been characterized by flashy brilliant playing now became loose.

Cook pitched good ball fanning six, passing none, with eight hits against him while Fernald walked five, struck out six and allowed eight hits. Graves was the outstanding hitter of the game corraling three hits, two triples and a single, all of which materialized into runs. "Buck" Fernald's fielding was of the class resulting in five outputs.

INITIATIVE NEEDED

Student Council Realizes Limitations—Offers New System—Attention of Student Body is Essential

At a meeting at Student Council Wednesday, May 4, Frank W. Ladd, '21, read and explained a program proposed for reorganization of the Council. Mr. Ladd recently attended the students conference at M. I. T., and at a meeting following his return, he gave a report showing how student government systems are working out at other colleges as described by the representatives present at the conference. Mr. Ladd was appointed chairman of a committee to draw up regulations for a reorganization of the Council on the bases found most successful.

The members of the Council have felt for some time that their method of election is not representative, and that by the present system the campus is divided against itself. The Council stands ready to sponsor any constructive plan brought forward, and is ready to support Mr. Ladd's program.

Criticisms of the proposed plan will be gladly received. The proposed plan is as follows:

A Proposal for Reorganizing Student Council

1. MEMBERS

The four presidents of the Senior Class.

The three presidents of the Junior Class.

The two presidents of the Sophomore Class.

The president of the Freshman Class.

The president of Senior Skulls.

The president of the "N. H." Club.

The Editor of the "New Hampshire."

The Editor of the "Profile."

The Editor of the "Granite."

Leader of the Men's Glee Club.

President of the Girls' Athletic Association.

2. PRESIDENT

The president of the Council shall be a Senior (elected before the end of his junior year, not later than the first of June). He shall be elected from the student body by Australian Ballot. He may or may not be a member of the Council.

3. EXPLANATION

The organization as outlined, provides representation for the government of the student body from dramatic and social societies, from the publications; from the athletic organizations; these take in the four most important phases of college activities.

This plan also provides for continuity from year to year which means strength.

The members should be, by virtue of their necessary qualifications, the strongest men and women on the campus. They should be students who have initiative, executive ability, and a sense of responsibility.

4. REASONS

Below are stated the reasons for choice of the respective members:
Why the presidents of the classes?—because of their general ability and popularity.

Why the president of the Senior Skulls?—because this body consisting, as it should, of the most active and popular Seniors on the campus, can exercise a great influence.

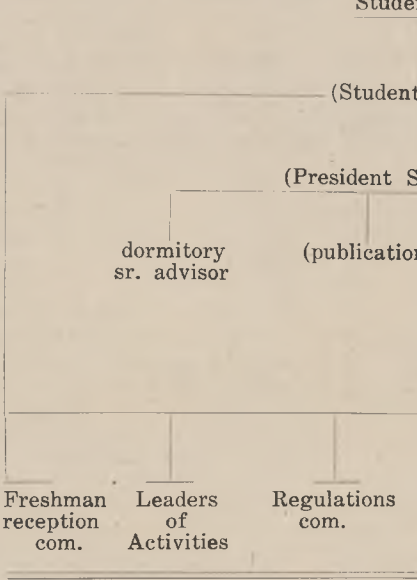

Why the president of the "N. H." Club?—because this organization is the most active on the campus.

Why the editors of our publications?—because they have great influence over campus opinion.

Why the leaders of dramatics, glee clubs?—because they influence our social activities.

Why the president of the Girls' Athletic Association?—because of her general ability and popularity.

Below is the chart showing how the student Council should function:

The Student Council comes from the student body. It acts in conjunction with a faculty committee. The faculty is not a part of the Student Council.

The president of the Student Council is directly responsible to the Student Council.

The leaders of publications, activities, and senior societies are directly responsible to the president for the proper functioning of their particular organizations.

The duty of the dormitory senior advisor is to act as proctor, as adviser, and as a spokesman for his particular dormitory. He is responsible to the president for those under his care.

The lower branches of the chart are self evident. The responsibility being mainly in submitting reports of activities and financial statements.

CRITICISMS

The above is only an outline of a possible form of organization. The chart shows in part how the Student Council might function. The headings are broad and general because details cannot be taken up until general movement in some direction is indicated.

We are dissatisfied with the present organization of the Student Council and because of this, a movement has been started to reorganize.

Members of the Student Council will welcome suggestions for improvement of this new plan of organization. Just write your suggestions on paper and hand them in signed to "The New Hampshire" office.

Read, think, and talk this over carefully. It will be brought before the student body to be voted upon before the end of the year. Know your own mind.

SOCIETY

CHI OMEGA SOCIETY
HOLD DINNER DANCE

A decidedly enjoyable evening was spent by the members of Mu Alpha chapter of the Chi Omega fraternity and their guests at a dinner dance given Saturday evening, May 7.

The dinner was served at quarter after six in the President's dining room at the Commons. The six long tables were lighted with candles at each end and a few sprays of sweet alyssum and forget-me-nots were at each plate. The dinner served was:

Nuts	Olives
Roast Stuffed Turkey	Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Potato	Squash
Stuffed Celery Salad	Rolls
Strawberry Shortcake	Demi Tasse

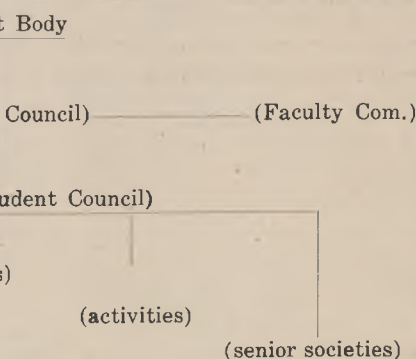

After the dinner, there was dancing in the Gymnasium from 8 to 11. Music was furnished by the Five Jazz Kings. The hall was decorated in pastel shades and a tiny fountain banked with green was arranged near the end door. The big silver shoe in its corner aroused many curious questions but no explanation was offered the guests until the Cinderella dance.

The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. James S. Chamberlain; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Paine, Miss Elizabeth Sawyer and Mrs. Elizabeth P. DeMerritt.

Other guests were Gladys E. Briggs of Colby, Sally Sanders Barnwell, ex. '21; Ada G. Langley, '19; Doris M. Horne, ex. '23; Louise Richmond, '19; Goldie M. Basch, '17; Bernice Reed, '16; W. D. Louise Harding, '22, who had charge of the meeting read a paper on Robert Frost, Dorothy Flanders, '21, gave a talk on the New England ballad, using as an authority "New England History in Ballads," by Edward Everett Hale and his children. Miss Flanders read with spirit and sympathetic interest.

pretation selections from "The French Fleet," "Old Ironsides," and many others celebrating New England deeds in song and story.

PI GAMMA

A short business meeting of Pi Gamma, Wednesday, May 4, nominations for officers for next year were made, and plans for initiation which will occur Wednesday, May 11. At this meeting the following were pledged: Ruth Prescott, '23; Elizabeth McNulty, '22; and Eleanor Sawtelle, '22.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA INITIATION

The Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity conducted its second initiation of the year last Thursday night, May 5th. At a preliminary initiation held several weeks ago, the pledges were directed to adorn their chem. coats, and to carry dessicators around to their classes.

After undergoing the different severe ordeals administered them by their superiors, the would-be chemists were finally admitted as full-edged members.

They are John Morrill, '23; Ralph Parkhurst, '23, Clarence Shuttleworth, '23, John Cullendon, Herbert Chamberlain, '23, John Dockum, '23, Horace Giddings '23, Martin McGreal, '23.

PI ALPHA PHI TEA

Pi Alpha Phi gave a tea in honor of its patrons and patronesses Sunday afternoon, May 8, at Smith hall, from four to six. A graceful basket of japonica and bridal wreath adorned the tea table. The guests were entertained by violin solos by Doris Caswell, '24, accompanied on the piano by Dorothy Burroughs, '24.

The guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Richards, Professor and Mrs. Thomas Eaton, Dean Elizabeth P. DeMerritt, Mrs. Martha Sanders, Seniors, and Mrs. John M. Barnwell.

Large Crowd Turns Out as Interest

—"Ike" Jewett's Fielding Proves

The second baseball game of the Interfraternity Series was won by the aggregation from the Kappa Sigma house which trimmed the team representing the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity to the tune of 26-10 on the new diamond. The game was witnessed by a record crowd, many of whom were so affected by the playing that they had to be assisted from the ball grounds to their homes. Those who managed to see the battles through agreed that it was about as loose a game as they had ever seen and so full of a mixture of comedy and errors that it might well have merited the name which a noted playwright gave to one of his most successful productions. The Lambda Chi's best player was com-fielding of "Ike Jewett who was mendable, while Marsh, who hammered the ball into the pasture with three bases full thus bringing the game to a head in the eighth inning, was the idol of the ball fans and proved himself worthy of a warm berth in any one of the big leagues.

Inspection Trip Proves Very Inter-

Students and Alumni—C. A.
Payne, '02, Writes College
Songs

In accordance with a well established custom, the senior electrical engineers made the annual instruction trip to the plant of the General Electric Company in Schenectady, New York last Tuesday. This is the most extensive trip that has been made by students here for some years, and the results were more than gratifying, not merely from the standpoint of instruction, but also served to bring together the New Hampshire men already in the employ of the General Electric Company, some of whom were not aware of the presence of the rest in the city up to a few weeks before the date set for the arrival of the student delegation.

MET BY ALUMNI

On Wednesday morning a group of ten accompanied by Professor Leon W. Hitchcock gathered at the south station in Boston, ready to board the B. and A. for New York state. The ride across Massachusetts was uneventful, enlivened only by several hands of cards to while the time away. At Albany the change was made from the B. and A. to the New York Central, and soon the entire party was in Schenectady. There a very pleasant surprise awaited all,
for there were some twelve old New Hampshire men ready to welcome their young successors. After a general all around greeting the visitors were taken by different individuals to their homes and rooming places.

INSPECT PLANT

The inspection of the works began on Thursday morning when, under the supervision of J. W. Dodge, '18, a guide was provided to lead the way
about the different buildings.

The entire plant consisting of some ninety buildings is arranged on both sides of a wide street which extends down the bank of the Mohawk river.
At each set of buildings where different processes in the manufacture of machinery and controlling apparatus is carried on, the assistant in charge of the section accompanied the group, and explained the steps in the process. It would be a task for a talented author to portray an exact idea of the manner in which this great plant operates, for there is not a hitch in the great industrial machine from the beginning of one day until the beginning of the next. In-practically every building there are two main bays down the center in which most of the construction and erection is carried on. In the side bays, and in the balconies, are located toolmaker's lathes, and smaller auxiliary apparatus that is vitally essential to the continuous operation of the plant. Over head there are large travelling cranes with lifting capacities varying from ten tons to one hundred tons, which are continually in operation moving large castings, armatures, and complete machines from one place to another. One can not but notice the skill of the crane operators. Despite the fact that they are located on a small platform high in the air, they are able to lower a casting to within a few inches of the place desired.

The construction of the machines begins at one end of the floor, and by the time it has been moved to the other end of the three hundred foot building assemblage has been completed, and the machine is ready for testing. When proper operation is assured the machine is partially taken down and either stored, or loaded on flat cars ready for shipment.

Just before noon on Thursday the entire group was taken to the room where high potential tests are carried out, and there witnessed two interesting experiments, or rather demonstrations with high voltage. The transformer used in these trials was capable of delivering 750,000 volts from the secondary. The first was a demonstration of corona and flash-over at a pressure of about 400,000 volts. Here a purple glow formed all around the conductor for a short time,
and then the flashover occurred with a crack like a miniature lightning discharge, and the spark jumped around the insulator to ground. The second display was a static discharge across a ball gap of about twenty inches. Contrary to the general idea, the engineer stated the fact that on a damp day the voltage required for the flashover was greater than on a dry day.

BANQUET HELD
The social event of the trip took place on Thursday night at a banquet given by the General Electric Company to the engineers from this college making the trip, and to the New Hampshire Alumni Association of Schenectady, and was held at the Mohawk Golf Club, about five miles out of Schenectady. Here the good old New Hampshire spirit ran rampant until late in the night. The banquet was of the best quality possible, and the entertainment provided by the alumni could scarcely have been improved upon. After a few short speeches had been delivered, the genious of the oldest member of the association was made evident in a series of songs, composed especially for the occasion, by C. A. Payne, '02, and could creditably do justice to a page in that mythical song book that is to be published sometime in the obscure future. One that received unanimous approbation follows here,

and will show that our alumni are still as full of pep as one could wish.

MORE ACTION.
Words by C. A. Payne, '02.
Tune: Tramp, Tramp, Tramp.

Any night we'll dissipate,
And come here to celebrate
With our Engineers as fast as they arrive;
Life is short—come shake yourself,
Tumble off the dusty shelf,
And let other people know that we're alive.

Chorus
Dear New Hampshire, they must leave you,
Soon they'll quit your college halls,
They will be sweet graduates
Out to strangle-hold the Fates,
While their sheep-skins gather dust
on back room walls.

They have dropped the book and pen,
They have squandered all their yen,
Just to joy-ride out upon the B. and A.
They've been dropping volts and
amps,
Turbines, torques, and tungsten
lamps,
At the G. E. works in old Schenectady.

Chorus
Ding-dong-dorp, the old Dutch village,
Many moons ago was built;
It keeps in-cres-ing in size
Like the kids that take the prize—
'Cause they guzzle Mellen's Food and Malted Milk.

With good brother Hitchcock here
To advise, console, and cheer,
And to minister to all our moral ills;
You can safely stow in feed
And eat more than you will need,
He will gladly furnish you with Beecham's pills.

Chorus
Yell-well-tell your next door neighbor,
Advertise and shout your name;
Biscuits, beer, and red top boots,
Spearmin gum, and union suits
All took coin for printer's ink to spread their fame.

Glooms will dog you every step
If you don't fill up with pep,
Which will make you want to yell,
and sing, and hoop,
On dull care we'll slam the lid,
And of kill-joys soon get rid,
We'll give them a noze dive, or a loop-the-loop.

Chorus
Hoot-toot-shoot, let's get more action,
We've been silent quite a while,
Get some speed, and get some punch,
We're the right kind of a bunch
To induce the Sphinx to crack a little smile.

Several hours of hearty good fellowship, and reminiscences brought the gathering to a close, and with a ringing good cheer for the alumni and H. H. C. the evening ended, sending each visitor back to the city feeling that Schenectady was not such a bad place after all, and that N. H. C. has some real live alumni there. The names of those present are: C. A.
Payne, '02; A. J. Woodward, '07; J.
H. Priest, '08; E. R. Fellows, '09; R.

ALTERNATES DEMONSTRATED
The following day the inspection of the plant continued during the morning. The object of greatest interest that was seen during the morning was a large alternator used on short circuit tests of machinery. The maximum power of the machine is about 26,700 horse power, and the short circuit current is about 60,400 amperes.
With such tests as these to undergo
it seems only natural that the General Electric machinery should be of the best, and stand up under the most severe tests while in operation.

VISIT LOCOMOTIVE WORKS
The afternoon was spent in inspecting the American Locomotive Works in another part of the city. Things here were not in full operation, and this visit was quite a contrast to the other where everything was so very busy at all times, and in all parts of the plant.

The first part of Friday evening
was spent at the Edison Club auditorium where Dr. Steinmetz gave a lecture on his theory of lightning.
The lecture was very interesting, and though hard to understand for the most part, served to hold the attention of all.

This ended the program of events of the trip, and it was a tired, but wholly satisfied group that assembled in the station to board the sleeper at midnight. Not only were the alumni there to meet the student delegation,
but they were there to see them off
even though the departure took place at midnight, and much credit is due them for the pleasant time enjoyed by all during the visit.

Growing Interest Being Shown in An-

Generosity of Alumni Association—Three Prizes to Be Awarded

The ninth annual New Hampshire
College Interscholastic Prize Speaking Contest will be held in the men's gymnasium on Friday evening, May 13. This annual affair has been made possible through the generosity of the Alumni Association which contributes a certain sum each year sufficient to cover the cost of the prizes.
The prizes to be awarded this year
are as follows: first prize, a gold medal; second prize, a silver medal;
third prize, a bronze medal.

About thirty participants representative of 10 preparatory schools have entered the contest already; and favorable replies are expected from other schools before the time in which entries are to be made closes. Judging from the interest shown this far much competition is anticipated by those in charge of the contest; and the evening will undoubtedly be a most enjoyable one. An attempt is being made to secure "movies" which will be thrown on the screen while the judges are deliberating their decisions.

The college has been unusually fortunate this year in securing as the judges of the contest the following persons: Professor Winans, Head of the department of public speaking at Dartmouth; Rev. M. R. Lovell, pastor of the Durham Community Church; and Mrs. Dwight Hall of Dover, N. H.

Only One Girl

The medical adviser to girls at the University of Kansas, Dr. Martha
M. Bacon, made pedograph of 344 girls at the university and physical examination of a thousand or more,
and found that only one had perfect feet.

Dr. Bacon followed the examination with a public statement that many of the ailments of women are traceable to ill-fitting shoes.
She said: "Headache, rheumatism, nervousness and various other troubles will disappear along with the irritable tempers and bad dispositions when women learn that tight shoes, pointed toes and high heels are less beautiful than a shoe which conforms to the natural lines of the foot."

Her description of a good shoe
is a literal description of Cantilever Shoe, No. 57: "A shoe to be correct must have a straight inner line. The outer border must follow the natural curve with plenty room for the toes to move about. It should be half to three-quarters of an inch longer than the foot. The heel should be broad and low with a flexible shank to allow the muscles of the arch to remain strong through use."

This is a splendid shoe for young women and has become very popular in many of the girls' colleges.
It is wonderfully comfortable. So are the other models of Cantilever Shoes, which look so well on your foot and make you feel well and young and happy! We are the sole worth and Rochester.

LOW SCORE A SURPRISE

Anderson Pitches Well—Conlon Stars for Victors—Small Crowd Present—High Wind and Cold Weather Prevalent

Harvard defeated New Hampshire College 4 to 0 at Soldiers Field on Wednesday, May 4. Harvard expected an easy game but was forced to travel fast in order to beat the Blue and White.

Anderson pitched and repeatedly pitched himself out of bad holes. Only twice did Harvard score, three runs in the third inning and once in the seventh. His speed ball worked well with a high wind at his back. He gave passes and was touched for ten hits. Russell pitched for Harvard issued only two passes and was nicked for only three singles. Broderick, Haggerty, and Connor getting the hits for New Hampshire.

Harvard threatened in every inning but had ten men left on bases. Lincoln and Halleck featured at the bat for winners and Conlon in the field. The summary:

PRACTISE TEACHERS PROGRESSING WELL

Professor Simmers Reports Success of Seniors Carrying on Supervised Teaching in New Hampshire High Schools—Two Men Working Under Provisions of Smith-Hughes Act

Professor C. L. Simmers, head of the teacher training work at New Hampshire College, who returned recently from an extensive inspection trip throughout the State, reports that the supervised teaching is progressing nicely. A large number of Seniors are doing teaching for college credit under supervision by the Department than have ever engaged in this work in any one year heretofore. At the present time, the following eight girls are spending nine weeks each in the public secondary schools of the State: Esther Hunt, Hampton Academy; Jemima Dore, Robinson Seminary, Exeter; Kathryn Aldrich, Milford High School; Rachel Bugbee, Wilton High School; Mary Hennessey, Rochester High School; Olive True, Dover High School; Hazel Ayers, Keene High School; Mary Gerrish, Lebanon High School. Miss Isa A. Greene, acting head of the Home Economics department and Associate Professor of Home Economics Education, visits these girls each week and takes up with them and the regular teachers the specific problems that need attention. The girls are very enthusiastic about the work, feeling quite certain that they are gaining a great deal from this experience in the way of insight into the nature of the work, efficiency, and confidence in their ability to handle new situations.

SENIORS IN AGRICULTURE
At the present time, three Seniors in the teacher training course in Agriculture are doing supervised teaching in the secondary schools of the State. This work is also directly under the supervision of the Head of the Department of Education, and in carrying forward the actual field work, Professor Simmers is assisted very greatly by Mr. W. B. Cookingham, State Supervisor for Agricultural Education and also Assistant Professor of Agricultural Education at New Hampshire College. The following men are carrying regular class work in the schools indicated: B. M. Davis, Alton Bay High School; Louis M. Smith, Pinkerton Academy; Francis L. McGettigan, Haverhill Academy. During the period of ten weeks, Prof. Cookingham makes weekly visits to the schools where these men are working for the purpose of taking up with them problems of instruction, management and organization of work and subject matter taught.

organization of work and subject matter taught.

SMITH-HUGHES TEACHERS

This year, for the first time, two Senior students are engaged in supervised teaching and thereby preparing for Smith-Hughes certification in Industrial Education. These students are Arthur Hauler, Concord Industrial School and G. Rex Bailey, Dover Industrial School. In order to give these men more varied experience in their ten weeks teaching, they will exchange positions at the end of five weeks. The demand for such teachers is good and salaries are relatively high.

Professor Simmers is very emphatic in saying that the marked success of the work is due in large part to the faithful and efficient work of his assistants, and to the hearty co-operation of the state department of Education, the local superintendents of schools, the headmasters, the teachers of the schools, and students who are teaching.

AT PARKER SCHOOL

Two students, Harriet Ford and Ruth Colburn, are now teaching in the Parker school at Concord, N. H., Miss Ford, history and general science, Miss Colburn, English and mathematics.

In the future, supervised teaching is to be provided for all seniors majoring in the department of Education, and for all who take the Teacher-Training course in Education.

FEDERATION OF AGGIE CLUBS IS SUGGESTED

LOCAL BODY UNDECIDED

Purpose of Union to Standardize Work of College Agricultural Clubs—Intercollegiate Debates and Judging Contests Favored—Old New England Federation Called to Mind

Communications have been received recently proposing a national association of college agricultural clubs. The project is sponsored by the Townsend Agricultural Society of Ohio State University. The New Hampshire College Agricultural Club is considering the matter carefully, and the general opinion, at present, seems to be that such an organization would be decidedly beneficial and that New Hampshire should play a leading part in its formation.

The purpose of such an organization would be to effect an exchange of ideas and so make for the betterment of all the clubs affiliated with it. It would also represent the colleges in matters of general interest, such as the arrangement of intercollegiate judging contests and debates. It has been suggested that a magazine might be published to carry the news of what the clubs are doing. Doubtless many other ways will be presented by which the association could advance the interests of agricultural students generally.

A New England Federation of Agricultural Clubs was formed in 1908, largely through the efforts of the University of Maine, but in which New Hampshire played an important part. This federation lasted for three or four years and in that time arranged the judging contests at Brockton Fair, the New England Fair, New England Corn Show and other occasions. New Hampshire's prominence in these activities is shown by the collection of trophy cups in Morrill Hall.

CONVENTION NECESSARY

Plans for the new association call for a convention, either this spring or early in the fall, to work out the details of organization and prepare a constitution. The decisions of this convention would then be submitted to the various clubs for ratification.

The local club seems to be strongly in favor of the plan. The sentiment is: not to wait for the other fellow, but to go ahead and let the others follow. Such a policy will do much to promote the reputation and prestige of the institution.

NOTICE

The tennis tournament begins on Monday, May 9. The singles will be played the first week and the doubles in the next week.

The winning fraternity will get a cup for both the singles and the doubles. The winning individuals will receive a medal in recognition for their merit.

The finals will be played on a neutral court. All other matches on any available court.

WOMEN STUDENTS HOLD BOWLING TOURNAMENT

A bowling tournament was held Thursday afternoon between girls representative of each of the four classes. There were three representatives from each class. The Juniors had the highest averages, the Seniors won second place, while the Sophomores came third and the Freshmen fourth. The three highest individual scorers had a final contest in which Irene Bourdon, '21, was the winner. Helen Whittier, '22, came second and Constantine Couthoucas, '22, third.

WOOD CUTTING CONTEST HELD

Forestry Men Wield
Axes in Hot Battle

BOOMER WINS PRIZE

Succeeds in Cutting Down Red Oak
Ahead of Other Contestants—
Two Aggie Men Serve as Judges

The spirit of the season entered the veins of the Senior class in forestry sometime during the past week with the result that a goodly number of Prof. Woodward's boys hied them to the woodlot and engaged in a wood cutting contest. The deed of valor to be accomplished was to fall a red oak tree and from the butt of it to cleave off with a mighty axe a four foot stick. While speed was a factor in deciding who was the mightiest man in all the crowd certain other factors such as the cleanness of cut, the number of nicks in the axe blade and the arrangement of the chips (wood) around the stump all had their influence on the final score. As an added incentive to zealous labor, Mr. Woodward put up a very fine spotting axe to go to whomever the judges should deem most worthy of its possession.

The day was Tuesday last and the judges, what a worthy band they were! Heading the list was none other than Professor Woodward himself, a man for many years acquainted with the ways and byways of the forest. A most competent referee as none will deny. Next in order was that worthy personage Mr. George Ham, the man who superintends the operations on our college farm. Surely his judgement would go unquestioned. To give the party that height of purpose that is essential in such gatherings a man with his mind above the ordinary level of humanity was wanted, and what was more fitting than that they should select Mr. Alfred H. Sawyer, '21, the beloved "Shorty" of far flung fame as a hurler of the hammer. "Shorty" found his height of great value in looking into crows' nests for eggs. And last but by no means least was that Superman, Clyde Cotton, '23, "Cy" has the reputation of having cut more cordwood in Durham in the past winter than any three "Canucks" north of Berlin. This may or may not be true but the writer has heard Professor Woodward consult him in Forestry I-c on matters of importance. Isn't that recommendation enough for any man?

The contestants in this battle royal were Stephen H. Boomer, '21, Solon D. Conner, '21, Edward E. Smith, '21, Ralph S. Weldon, '21 and Howard T. Woodward, '21. "Sol" had to run for his train before the contest was over and that automatically barred him from any claim on the trophy. The chopping over, the judges unanimously found "Steve" Boomer victor and he stepped modestly forward to receive the reward amid the cheers (and the pants) of his vanquished competitors.

MR. JOHN TONKIN SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION

Former Instructor Tells of Experiences with Army of Occupation in Germany—President Hetzel Explains Advance in Registration Fees Effective Next Fall

Mr. John Tonkin, a former professor at New Hampshire College was the speaker at Convocation, Wednesday afternoon, May 4. Mr. Tonkin recently returned from Germany where he served with the American Army of Occupation. He told the students some of his experiences.

"There are but very few newspapers in Germany, and so the German people are quite ignorant of the things that are happening in their country. Their spirit of patriotism is wonderful and a stranger in that country can not help noticing it," said Mr. Tonkin.

President R. D. Hetzel spoke of the and work done by the students of New Hampshire Day. He then took a few minutes to explain about the raise in tuition and fees for the coming year.
