DO YOU GET A BID?

By the time that this issue of The New Hampshire comes off the press, the social calendar of the campus will have been filled by the bidding season of the class of 1922. Have you been closely scrutinized by the Maenads who are holding forth in the halls? Have you been prepared to give all the trouble at all the cost? That is the question that must be answered by the men of the class of '22.

Now, if you are to get a bid, we advise you to look at the cards, for if you are not one of the select that have been chosen to have the honor of being one of the favorites, you will have to resign yourself to the fact that you are not one of the favored of the gods.

Here is a good opportunity to study the situation of the world. There are many things that every man should know about the world in which he lives, and this is as good a time as any to study it.

Now, if you are to get a bid, you must be ready to take your place in the front row of the social world. You must be prepared to take your place in the front row of the social world. You must be prepared to take your place in the front row of the social world.

Tells How Farms Paid

A significant decline took place practically throughout the months of October, according to the New Hampshire Agricultural Experiment Station. The report, which is based on the results of a survey conducted in October, indicates that there was a decrease in the prices paid for farm products during the month.

The station's report notes that the decline in prices was due to a decrease in demand for farm products, which was caused by an increase in the supply of farm products. The report also notes that the decline in prices was more pronounced in the case of crops and livestock than in the case of animals.

How to Use Acid Phosphate in Pruning

The use of acid phosphate in pruning is recommended by the New Hampshire Agricultural Experiment Station. The station's report notes that the use of acid phosphate in pruning is effective in promoting the growth of new shoots and in increasing the yield of crops.

The station's report notes that the use of acid phosphate in pruning is especially effective in promoting the growth of new shoots in the case of young trees and in increasing the yield of crops in the case of old trees.

The station's report also notes that the use of acid phosphate in pruning is effective in promoting the growth of new shoots in the case of young trees and in increasing the yield of crops in the case of old trees.
