

COACH H. W. COHN'S FIRST BOXING TOURNAMENT IS A HUGE SUCCESS

Crowd Packs Gymnasium and Excitement Runs High Through Forty Bouts During Afternoon and Evening

FACULTY MEMBERS ACT AS OFFICIALS

Elimination Bouts in the Afternoon—Semi-Finals and Finals in Evening—Trophy Not Arrived Yet—A. T. O. Wins Championship—Sigma Beta Second—College Championship Bouts Scheduled Thursday, April 6

Coach Harvey Cohn's first boxing tournament started off in the midst of flying gloves, towels, sponges and other paraphernalia of the ring, and was a huge success from the start of the first bout to the gong of the last bout in the finals. The bouts were under strictly Amateur Rules and Regulations. The officials for the afternoon bouts were Judges J. A. Churchill of Exeter and Heber Depew of Durham. Edmond Bowler handled the watch and the gong. The third man in the ring was "The Coach" himself and he gave every one to believe that he sure did know the box-ing game from A. to Z.

Tabulations

The first event of the preliminary bout was a match between R. Kelly, '24, A. T. O. against W. Moore, '24, Sigma Beta. The decision was awarded to Moore after four rounds.

The next bout, the first in the featherweight class was between Sisters, '25, and MacFarlane, '25. A. T. O. Decision awarded to Sisters.

The third bout was a slug fest between R. Thayer, '24, A. T. O. against G. Simonds, '25. Decision awarded to Thayer.

The fourth bout between C. L. Allard, '24, D. P. E. against Woodward, '25, was won by Allard in three rounds.

The fifth bout. A. T. Morse, '25, against J. Horne, was won by Horne.

The sixth bout. First in light-weight class, E. Graupner, '24, A. T. O., against R. Gunn, '24, L. X. A. Decision Graupner.

Seventh bout. R. L. Wood, '24, A. T. O., vs. H. Wormwood. There was a lot of action in this bout and the pace was too strenuous for each of the contestants so the bout was stopped in the first half of the second round.

Eighth bout. Third in lightweight. T. Slack, '25, A. T. O. and J. Colby, '24, Tri Gamma. Decision was awarded to Slack.

Ninth bout. Fine vs. Spaulding, '25. Decision awarded to Fine.

Tenth bout. Cutler, P. M. D., '24, vs. Sawyer, '25. Cutler's bout by a knockdown.

Eleventh bout. E. J. O'Gara, '25, and Weeks, '25. Decision O'Gara.

Twelfth bout. First in heavy-weight class. L. P. Stearns, '25, Kappa Sigma vs. A. I. Hubbard, '24, A. T. O. Decision Hubbard.

Thirteenth bout. Graves, '25, vs. Sayward, '25, K. S. Decision, Graves.

Fourteenth bout. First in middle-weight. J. McDuffee, '25, vs. Hammond, '25. Decision Hammond.

Fifteenth bout. H. Fernald, '24, A. T. O., vs. Ramsay, '25, L. X. A. Decision Fernald.

Sixteenth bout. E. M. Post, '23, D. P. E. vs. Louis Viola, '25, Decision Viola.

Seventeenth bout. Mansell, Theta Chi vs. L. Boutwell. D. P. E. Decision Mansell.

Eighteenth bout. Akmakjian, '25, vs. D. Hartwell, '25, (welterweight class.) Knock down by Akmakjian in 1.36 seconds. "Akky" eager to continue fight but Hartwell not so willing. In the second round Akmakjian scored another knockdown in 2 seconds. Hartwell took the count and when he arose from the canvas the following remark was heard, "Boy you can sure hit."

Nineteenth bout. This bout was the comedy bout of the afternoon and entertainment was furnished by Paul Paulson, '25 and Eddie Warren, '25, A. T. O. Paulson's jaw stopped one of Warren's punches and in his desire to get out of the range Paulson tried to hit Warren while running away from him. The referee called that episode a round. In the second round Paulson scored heavily with repeated rights to the jaw but Warren called his heavy artillery into action and Paulson retreated to answer a telephone call in the showers.

Twentieth bout. J. C. Warden, '24, A. T. O. vs. Frizzell, '25, Sigma Beta.

Decision disagreed at the end of the second round and a third round is ordered. Evidently Frizzell wanted to show that he really deserved the decision at the end of the second round for he planted several solid blows and Warden kissed the canvas.

Twenty-first bout went three rounds. The principals in the case were Howard Cushing, '25, Theta Chi vs. Eddie Rumazza, '22, L. X. A. Decision awarded to Rumazza.

Twenty-second bout. The first semi final bout of the afternoon between G. Drew, '25, S. B. vs. Chamberlin, '25. Decision went to Drew.

Twenty-third bout. J. Snyder, '24,

Theta Chi vs. W. W. Smith, '24, L. X. A. Smith awarded the decision. This ended the afternoon session.

Evening Matches

The evening program consisted of the semi-finals and finals in all classes. The bouts were fought in the same manner as in the afternoon, that is, a two-round bout, and then if no decision is made the referee has the privilege of ordering another round. The bouts were handled by J. A. Churchill of Exeter, Prof. Cummins of New Hampshire and George A. Perley was timer. Coach Cohn again was the third man in the ring.

The first bout of the evening was between Eddie O'Gara and E. Graupner. First round, O'Gara led a left hook to jaw, Graupner countered with a hook to the stomach. O'Gara started in a volley of crosses and hooks and the round was ended by a knock-down by O'Gara.

Second round. O'Gara hit Graupner with everything but the water bucket, O'Gara's round and the decision.

The second bout of the evening was a slugfest match between G. Summerville, '25, vs. J. Horne, '25. Summerville led left and right to jaw, Horne retaliated with blows to head and body. Summerville scored knockdown with a right cross to jaw. Second round is one of action and heavy artillery. Judges disagreed and referee Cohn gave the decision to Horne.

The third bout was between H. E. Cutler and L. S. Moors. Cutler led left jab to jaw, followed up by several short jabs. Moors missed a wild swing at Cutler's head. Moors lands right hook. Cutler connects with four left jabs to jaw. Moors led left hook to jaw. Bell. Second round. Cutler led left hook to stomach. Moors took a right swing to Cutler's head. Cutler knocked Moors down with a left hook to jaw in 55 seconds. Cutler is declared the winner.

Fourth bout in semi-finals of lightweight. Ted Slack, '25, vs. Sam Fine, '25. Fine led to jaw. Slack gave him a right hook to the heart. Fine followed up with several right swings to jaw, and Ted got in several jabs to the face. Bell. Fine's round.

Second round. Fine missed a right swing, Slack connected with a left jab to the ear. Slack sent in a couple swings and hooks to body and abdomen. Fine comes back with a right swing to ear. Bell Slack's round. Judges disagree and the referee orders another round.

Third round is a series of right swings and left jabs to jaw, with Slack having a slight advantage. Judges again disagree and Slack is awarded the decision.

Smith Triumphs

Fifth bout. C. Lord vs. W. W. Smith. Lord started a series of left and right hooks to jaw. Smith countered with right swings to jaw. Many heavy blows were landed by both men. The round closed with both men up against the ropes.

The second round started with a rush. Lord led a right uppercut to the jaw. Smith got in a right and left hook to the jaw and neck. Lord landed several wallops in the kidneys. Bell. Judges award decision to Smith. The next bout was the final bout in the fly weight class between Charlie Fitzpatrick, '25, and W. Moore, '24. "Fitzie" started off with a left and right hook to jaw. Moore missed a right swing and Fitzpatrick caught him a beautiful uppercut on the nose. Moore showed signs of mixing it and landed a left jab to nose. Then Fitzie landed another on the point of "Bills" nose causing it to bleed profusely. Bell. Fitzpatrick awarded the decision.

The seventh bout was between Eddie Rumazza, '22, and Louis Viola, '25, for the championship of little Italy, in the welterweight class. Viola led right swing to ear and then both men swapped punches. Rumazza landed three blows to body in quick succession followed up by two right jabs to the neck. Viola landed a right swing to face another right swing to the stomach. Bell.

Second round. Rumazza landed several heavy blows to jaw, knocking Viola down. Viola countered with a right swing to stomach and followed this up with a haymaker to the jaw. Rumazza awarded the decision.

The next bout was a short lived affair between K. O. Akmakjian and Frizzell. Akmakjian poled out about seven right hooks to the jaw and then cut with a right swing that started from the floor and sent Mr. Frizzell into dream land in a bout that lasted just 1.15 seconds.

Drew Connects

The next bout was also a thriller between Ted Hamblett, '22, and Gordon Drew, '25, in the light heavy-weight class. Hamblett rushed out of his corner like an enraged tiger but his onslaught was checked when his face came into contact with a glove that carried a kick in it like one from an army mule. Said glove was worn by Mr. Drew and did not stop with that one connection but several more followed it and Hamblett went down for the count of seven.

The next round was shorter still. Drew connected three right swings to the jaw and Hamblett was out for good in 15 seconds.

Another short bout between Harry Mansell and Hammond occupied the center of attraction for 47 seconds. Mansell landed about five swings to the face and Mr. Hammond took a trip to the showers.

The next slug fest was between H. Wormwood, '25, and K. Fleming, '25. At the sound of the bell both men exchanged left jabs to the jaw. Fleming sent in a left hook to the stomach. Wormwood endeavored to land a right swing to the heart. Bell.

Second round. The second round found both men eager to mix and both were continually clinching. Fleming delivered a 1. 2. punch C. O. D. and Wormwood was not so eager to mix. Fleming awarded the decision.

Akmakjian Wins

The next bout was another one of the short kind. Between Akmakjian and E. Warren. Both men exchanged right swings to jaw and Akmakjian ended the first round in a 1.20 seconds by flooring Warren with a right swing to the head. The second round was even shorter than the first; five seconds after the bell Akmakjian connected a left swing on the point of Warren's nose. Warren was forced to leave. Akmakjian awarded the decision. Although Akmakjian won Warren is to be admired for his gameness. The first round he swapped punches toe to toe but his punches had little or no effect as both of his thumbs were dislocated.

The next mild to be between Sisters '25, vs. R. Thayer, '24, A. T. O., and was a rather tame affair with both men clinching quite frequently. Thayer forced the fighting throughout and was awarded the decision after three rounds.

The next bout was between H. E. Cutler, '24, and T. Slack, '25. Cutler won by a big margin.

Feature Bout

H. T. Fernald and Harry Mansell went two fast rounds for the next bill of the program. This bout was one of the fastest of the evening. Mansell was awarded the decision.

The final bout of the heavyweight class between "Hippo" Graves, '25, and Austin Hubbard, '24, furnished quite a bit of amusement for the spectators. Hubbard forced the fighting and was awarded the decision when Graves feigned that he was knocked out.

Gordon Drew and W. W. Smith put up a nice sparring exhibition which was won by Drew when he sent Smith to the floor with a left cross to the jaw.

The last bout of the evening was for the championship of the light-weight class. O'Gara and Cutler were the contestants. O'Gara by virtue of having a longer reach won the decision from Cutler in a fast bout considering the physical condition of both men.

It was advertised that a plaque was to be awarded but through an unavoidable delay the trophy has not been received up to date.

The final computations of the score keeper showed that the trophy had become the property of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, with five points, while Sigma Beta were close seconds with four.

The college championship bouts are scheduled for next Thursday evening and another good series of bouts is promised for this event.

BOXING

On Thursday next, the New Hampshire College Boxing Championships will be held. Remember the date, Thursday, April 6, at 7.30 in the big gymnasium. Bouts will be contested in the following classes: Fly-weight, Bantam-weight, Feather-weight, Light-weight, Welter-weight, Middle-weight, Light heavy-weight and Heavy-weight.

Competition will be keen. All the campus groups will be represented and a fine evening's entertainment is surely to be offered.

There will be no reserved seats and the bouts will start on time. The following will officiate: Time keeper, Professor Perley; Judges, Coach Cowell and Professor DePew; Referee, Coach Cohn.

MEMORIAL FIELD DRIVE IS NOW UNDERWAY

Enthusiasm Is Running High in Alumni Groups

CLASS OF '21 TO FRONT

Many Are Increasing Original Pledges—Other New Subscribers Are Found—Albert Baker, '21, Now Engineering Extensive Campaign Among Last Year's Graduates

Hurry-up calls for help in pushing the Memorial field campaign through quickly to a finish are speeding on their way to alumni in all parts of the country from class leaders. The determination to wind up the job satisfactorily this spring so that Dedication exercises can be held in June is evidenced by many letters that have come into Director Kendall's office during the past few days.

Not only is '21 starting off with a jump on its share of the drive, but the other classes from '75 to '19 are pitching in with a will to complete the memorial before another year rolls around.

The class of '75 has just won a place among the honor list of classes which have exceeded their quotas. New subscriptions from O. Leslie Seward and C. W. Hardy, and an additional subscription from F. B. Curtis put the class over the top. Mr. Frank V. Emerson has also been an enthusiastic worker in the campaign. He writes, "I cannot believe that the alumni of New Hampshire will allow this thing to fall through or fail when we are so near the goal."

There are also indications that the class of '93, which is already a 100 per cent. class, will achieve the additional distinction of subscribing their full quota. W. E. Britton has just subscribed an additional $10 and C. E. Hewitt, former Dean of the Engineering Division of the College, has put up a proposition to the other members of the class that he will pay $25 more if the others will pay the remaining $55.

C. H. Hood, '80, Subscribes Again

One of the first subscriptions comes from C. H. Hood, '80, who, it will be remembered, started off the original campaign with a subscription of $500. The committee had refrained from soliciting further help from Mr. Hood because of his previous large contribution. Upon reading the appeal in the New Hampshire, however, he wrote out a check for $50. This is one-tenth of his original subscription; and if every other subscriber will do as well, the amount asked for will be raised.

From out in Los Angeles "Electric Jack" Wilson of '00 sends this message: "I am ready to pay my additional share, and if there is anyone in my class who does not feel able to do likewise, I will pay double." Dorothy Hanson, '19, sends in a pledge for one-quarter of her original subscription. "General" Lee of '02 sends $25, half of his first contribution.

"Of course we will finish the job," writes Arthur G. Davis, '12. "I intended to send an additional check as soon as the New Hampshire reached me stating that the job could not be finished without more money but the matter has slipped my attention when I have been at my desk. The enclosed check will bring my total to $65 and I will have another $10 before May 1st if it is necessary. The field must be finished. It is a memorial to 'Dick' as well as to 'the boys.' None of them were quitters. Neither are we."

Prof. Moore Among New Subscribers

Not only are old subscribers thus staging a "come-back" but some of those who had not previously given have been heard from. Among these are Prof. H. P. Moore, '99, and Mrs. Moore (Grace A. Mark) '99, who each sent $25. Mr. Moore is known and beloved by all the New Hampshire alumni as the author of the Alma Mater song. Other new subscribers are E. L. Scovell, '18, who sends $10; G. D. Clark, '06, $20; and Lewis B. Tilton, '19, $25.

An appeal to '08 for a 100 per cent. subscription has been sent out by G. A. Perley, who has stolen time from his duties as alumni secretary to help put his class over the line. "Think of it!" he says. "We have been out fourteen years, and to me it hardly seems but a year or two. Don't you believe that we could put aside a ten-dollar bill each year as a loyalty fund for our college activities? That is mighty poor interest at that, but after all loyalty is not measured by the magnitude of a gift, so I'm just sending out an appeal to each member of the class to think the Memorial Field situation over. Some members of the class have been more prosperous than others, but I do believe that every last one can send at least a ten-dollar contribution towards the completion of the Field."

Additional subscriptions from '08 are already coming in. Among them are $15 from Sarah E. Pettie and $20 from M. C. Huse.

Meanwhile work is going forward among the two-year classes. J. M. Bodwell of Sanborn will take charge of the campaign with the two-year class of '13, while R. H. Holmes of Claremont will lead the work with '14. "I think there are others who are as well qualified as I for the job," writes Holmes, "but I have felt that if N. H. C. ever did anything for those of us who have had a chance to gain some knowledge which would help us when we got out, this was a good time to prove it by making this drive a success."

Walter E. Quimby will take charge of the campaign with '02, Gardner W. Hazen with '15 and Douglas H. Dexter with '20. J. M. Bodwell in a letter to his classmates writes: "Personally I feel that too much cannot be done in memory of the New Hampshire State Boys who made the "Supreme Sacrifice." I also feel that the two-year alumni are just as much duty bound as the four-year alumni to help finish a memorial second to none in any college. It seems especially fitting that we, the members of the two-year class of 1913, should contribute to the limit for the sake of the one of our own number who died in the service of his country, William Henry Robinson."

CLASS OF '21

CO-OPERATING FULLY

Fifteen members of Twenty-one have returned pledge blanks in the campaign to raise $2,000 as the class share in the building of Memorial Field and with four more weeks to run leaders are confident that the quota will be raised.

Anderson, Craig, Cotton and Miss Knox have sent letters to the members of their groups and almost immediately replies began to arrive at Director Kendall's office expressing a spirit of co-operation and enthusiasm which, if continued, means the success of the campaign and the completion of the field and stands by Commencement when Twenty-one is planning to hold its first reunion. "I am certainly glad of the chance to be able to help out on Memorial Field," wrote Oliver J. Hubbard when he sent in his check for $25.00. Hubbard is at Walpole where he is working as hard on the farm as he used to work while plugging around the old cinder track which has been replaced by the fine stretch where records are expected to be broken this year.

Myron J. Holmes now a graduate student at Rhode Island State college, sent in his pledge during the latter part of the week.

"It means a sacrifice on my part," wrote Holmes, "for I am living on a mighty small fellowship, but I would not miss this chance to help out on the field."

Olive L. True, who was the first girl to contribute to the class scholarship fund and who sent in the largest contribution of any member of the class, was among the first of the girls to pledge her share in the Memorial Field drive. Harriet Ford, now teaching at Concord and Ruth E. Colburn, who is also teaching, have sent their pledges to Director Kendall.

N. H. ATHLETE LAID TO REST

Impressive Ceremonies At Sanborn Home

GRADUATED IN 1910

Captured Laurels in Athletics and Scholarship While at New Hampshire—Was Popular in Many Circles—Death Is Big Shock to Friends

News of the death of Edson Dana Sanborn, '10, was received as a great sorrow to the college community on Tuesday afternoon, March 14, shortly after his death at his home in Freemont, N. H.

Edson Sanborn, known as "Chuck" to the student body and his friends and relatives, was a student of great prominence and popularity during his career at college. He was a member of the Agricultural division. His prowess in athletics was a thing always recognized. He was for three years a letter man in football and the season of 1909 captained his team through a successful season. He was also very much interested in baseball and basketball, coaching the latter in after life.

He was also a leader on the campus in other activities and college functions. He was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Zeta fraternities. His interest in the student affairs was unbounded and even after graduation he came back during the hard parts of the football season to aid in the coaching.

Among the alumni after his graduation he held a place of great respect and esteem and was President of the New Hampshire College Alumni Association from June, 1917, until June, 1919. At the time of his death he was also chairman of the committee on Alumni Scholarships.

After his graduation in the spring of 1910, Mr. Sanborn remained at home in Freemont until January 1, 1911, at which time he went to the North Carolina State college as assistant in dairying. He remained here for two years and returned to his home farm where he remained until the college year of 1916-'17, when he again took up his duties at the North Carolina college. During this period he also was coach of the basketball team which had a very successful season.

From this time until 1921 he held his residence at his home in Freemont. In 1918 he was elected as representative to the New Hampshire legislature from Freemont.

From this time until 1921 he was at his home in Freemont. In the winter of 1921 he accepted the position of instructor at Massachusetts Agricultural college and returned to the same position in the fall of 1921, where he taught for one week and became ill which necessitated his return to his home. This was the beginning of a sickness which ended in his death Tuesday noon, March 14. He died of acute brights disease.

Edson Sanborn was a member of the Patrons of Husbandry, the Masons—Chapter and Council, and the Order of the Eastern Star. He is survived by his father, Alden F. Sanborn, and mother, Mrs. Alden F. Sanborn, and a brother, Herman Sanborn, N. H. C., '08.

The funeral services were held at his home Saturday at one o'clock under the auspices of the Masonic order. Many friends and students, his brothers in Sigma Alpha Epsilon, alumni and faculty of the college were in attendance and the deep sympathy and sorrow was expressed in a wonderful display of flowers.

WHY PAY A DIME?

It will be noted by those interested, that in the announcement of the interscholastic debate printed elsewhere in this issue, it is stated that there is to be a nominal admission charge to this contest. We are given to understand that such will also be the case at the interscholastic prize speaking later in the term as well as at the intercollegiate debate between New Hampshire and the University of Maine. It is the earnest desire of those who are endeavoring to advance forensics at this college that there be no misunderstanding regarding this matter.

To be specific, although there is to be an admission charge of a dime, there is no attempt on the part of the promoters to make any surplus capital for their own use. Far from it. On the other hand there is a considerable expense entailed in the bringing here and entertaining of the prep school debaters as well as the members of the other teams which visit this campus periodically. As everyone knows debating is a new activity here and as yet no regular appropriation has been made possible from the college treasury. That cannot come until after the next biennial meeting of the people who have in their power the apportioning of the state's funds to the various departments of this institution. Still there is no question but that these activities are of value, both as a medium of advertising for the college, and as a department of intellectual development for the students which should not be slighted. Realizing this, the administration has generously contributed from the already over-taxed bank account.

However, more funds are needed and it has been deemed advisable to take this means for the making up of the deficit. The committee in charge does not for an instant think that small admission charge will keep anyone away from these entertainments, but they do wish it thoroughly understood that this is merely a method for meeting necessary expenses and not an enterprise to increase the personal wealth of the promoters.

PAUL J. BAILEY, '22 CAPTAIN BASEBALL

Portsmouth Man Has Played First Base for Three Seasons—Member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, N. H. Club and Portsmouth Club

Paul J. Bailey, '22, of Portsmouth was elected Captain of the 1922 baseball team at a meeting of the letter men Friday, March 31. "Bo" as he is familiarly known all over the campus has played on the varsity team for three seasons and has cared for the initial sack in stellar fashion during this time.

INSERT cut of received. hfl

In the class room "Bo" is a senior in the pre-medical course and intends to enter the school of medicine at Columbia University next fall. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, is treasurer of the New Hampshire club, and a member of the Portsmouth club. During all his stay here "Bo" has been very popular and as Captain Bailey he will be sure of the unanimous support of the student body.

PLANS FOR 6TH NEW HAMPSHIRE DAY UNDER WAY

Prof. G. A. Perley
Chairman of Exec. Com.

MANY PROJECTS OFFERED

Personnel of Committee-at-Large Chosen and Arrangements Largely Made for Starting of Drive for Equipment—Students and Faculty on Committee

The sixth annual New Hampshire Day is scheduled for this year to fall upon Wednesday, May 3. This bids fair to excel all others in variety and number of projects, as well as in the number of people engaged. Plans are now well under way. Committees have been chosen which comprise the committee-at-large and they are rapidly getting into shape the necessary plans and equipment necessary for a successful day.

Everyone on the campus is looking forward to this event which has come to mean so much in the life of those connected with this college and feel that in the appointment of Professor George A. Perley as chairman of the enterprise that a big step has been taken to insure the success of the undertaking. Professor Leon W. Hitchcock is secretary-treasurer and the following comprise the executive committee: Prof. G. A. Perley, Prof. L. W. Hitchcock, Coach W. H. Cowell, Mr. F. L. Hayes, Prof. E. T. Huddleston, W. J. Haggerty, '22, and Robert Perry, '22. These are all people who have a great interest in proceedings on this campus and will work to the limit to put across a successful program.

The first meeting of the committee-at-large was held on the evening of April 3 and the projects were roughly outlined. There will be another meeting on Monday of the week following when the work for the day will be definitely assigned. Below follows the personnel of the committee-at-large:

Personnel, Coach W. H. Cowell and Robert Perry, '22, of Manchester; commissary, Prof. H. F. DePew and Marguerite Marden, '22, of Troy, N. Y.; entertainment, Prof. A. D. Wassall and W. J. Haggerty, '22, of Nashua; publicity, Prof. H. H. Scudder and H. F. Barnes, '23, of Manchester; Tickets, Lieut. A. E. McKenney and F. K. Johnson, '22, of Winthrop, Mass.; tools, Prof. E. L. Getchell and C. N. Dickinson, '22, of Nashua; teams, Dean F. W. Taylor and I. F. Sherwood, '22, of Portsmouth; photographic, Prof. C. Moran and C. O. Dodge, '22, of Contocook; music, Prof. R. R. Lamont and J. V. Adams, '23, of Pittsfield; carpentry, Prof. L. J. Batchelder and R. F. Marsh, '22, of Manchester; lumber, Prof. K. W. Woodward and G. E. Wooster, '22, of Concord; grounds, Prof. J. R. Hepler and Marion Berry, '22, of North Hampton; walks, Prof. E. T. Huddleston and M. F. Tickner, '22, of Newfields; projects, Major C. R. Snow, Profs. E. W. Bowler, A. W. Richardson, C. L. Stevens and L. V. Tirrell, D. R. Dresser, '22, of Berlin, Mildred Swasey, '22, of Exeter, Helen Chase of Smithtown and S. E. McKerley, '22, of Gerrish. Faculty projects, Faculty Club Executive Committee.

BISSETT, EX-'23, JOINS CLEVELAND INDIANS

Friends of Delphia S. (Del) Bissett, ex-'23, will be interested in the following clipping taken recently from the columns of the "Boston Daily American":

"Manager Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Americans, has added another collegian pitcher to his staff in the person of 'Del' Bissett, a left-hander, according to advices from the Dallas, Tex., training camp. Bissett made a good showing when at New Hampshire College, and later at Georgetown University."

Bissett's wonderful work as varsity pitcher on the college nine in the spring of 1920, will never be forgotten by any who were fortunate enough to see him perform in the box.

HOME EC. DEPARTMENT IS COMPLIMENTED

In a recent letter from Miss Cora M. Winchell Professor of Home Economics Education at Teachers College, a part of Columbia University, to Miss Baie of Home Economics teacher training work at New Hampshire college, she complimented very highly the work and methods taught at this institution. She wishes for a detailed plan of the courses here, so that use of them can be made in improving the teachers training work in New York state institutions.

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE Regulations for the Prevention of Fire in College Buildings

1. The use of heat in the form of open flames, such as kerosene and gasoline stoves, alcohol lamps, canned heat appliances, etc., is strictly forbidden in college buildings.

2. The use of electric plates, irons and other electrical equipment is strictly forbidden except in rooms provided for the use of such equipment in the women's dormitories, and in such instances as may be approved in writing by the Superintendent of Property, petitions for such privileges to be presented in writing to the Registrar.

3. The installation of additional wiring, and tampering with electrical wiring and electrical fuses is absolutely forbidden. Authorized officials of the institution will make any sanctioned and necessary repairs or extensions. Proctors are expected to fuse properly the distributing cabinets.

The above regulations will be enforced through a system of regular inspection, and any apparatus the use of which is forbidden in these regulations will be subject to confiscation, such property not to be returned except upon satisfactory assurance that it will be immediately removed from the college premises. Violation of these regulations will also subject parties concerned to discipline as provided by the college regulations.

All college employees are expected to comply with the above regulations except in the use of the regular laboratory and shop equipment. Any necessary exception will be provided for upon written application to the Superintendent of Property.

N. H. TO MEET UNIV. OF MAINE

Second of Dual Debates
Coming April 13th

TOPIC IS LIVE ONE

Our Team Which Defeated Colby Will Speak in Durham—Strong Competition Expected in Maine Team

Students of New Hampshire college will be pleased to know that on the evening of April 13 our Varsity debating team will meet the strong University of Maine team. Inasmuch as dual debating is something new on our campus, it is expected that the men's gymnasium will be filled to capacity on this date. Another thing which will please the students is that our trio which overcame the strong Colby team at Waterville, will grace our own platform as upholders of the negative, while our affirmative team will journey to Orono.

The subject to receive discussion will be, "Resolved that the Principal of the closed shop is best for the interests of the American people." Because of the fact that labor and capital are at this time at swords' points, a topic of this nature ought to create great enthusiasm both between the debating teams and among the audience.

In spite of the fact that the Orono team was defeated by Colby last February, our men feel that they will run up against hard competition.

SOPHOMORES LOSE BASKETBALL GAME

Hewitt and Wentworth Star as Freshmen Run Up 20 Points—Fernald, Anderson and Aul's Do Well for 1922

The freshmen defeated the sophomore 20 to 11 in the annual interclass basketball game played in the gymnasium Tuesday afternoon, March 21. The game was fast and sometimes rough but the outcome was never in doubt. Wentworth, the freshmen's left forward excelled in floor work and Hewitt, the yearling's right forward did the best work in the shooting. The defensive work of Captain Atkinson was good. For the sophomores H. Fernald was the high scorer and "Fat" Aulis the bright light when he tore down the floor and hooked one in perfect form.

Captain Perry of the Varsity refereed the game.

ONE-ACT PLAY DRAWS RECORD AUDIENCE

"The Trouble Sisters" by J. A. Roberts, '23, Is Well Presented in "T" Hall Gym by Y. W. C. A.—Entire Cast Exhibit Marked Ability

"The Trouble Sisters" by James A. Roberts, '23, the play which received honorable mention in the one-act play contest conducted by the Dramatic club earlier in the term, was presented by the meetings committee of the Y. W. C. A. in the gymnasium at "T" hall Thursday evening, March 16, to a capacity audience consisting of faculty, townspeople and students.

The instrumental quartet of the college orchestra first appeared in the living room of the Eta Pi fraternity house and played several selections while the Eta Pi brothers arranged the initiation tortures below. At the withdrawing of the quartet the Eta Pi "men" appeared on the stage; and now the men of the college know why they have been under such close scrutiny by the coeds for the last month or so, for their manners and yet the cast of characters announces that contrary to Elizabethan custom all the players are feminine. To give special mention to each who interpreted her own type with the most accuracy would be to enumerate each member of the cast, since each part was a distinct type and therefore comparison is rendered extremely difficult, honorable mention must, however, be given to Marion L. Boothman, '22, through whose efforts the play was secured for the Y. W. C. A., and who solicited the actors and coached the play through the first weeks of its infancy before turning it over to an experienced coach for the finishing touches and then at the last minute, when, through illness, one of the members was obliged to withdraw from the play, took that part herself and got the play presented on the date promised.

The cast follows: Johnnie Peterboro, Salome Colby, '25; Harold Bowser, Ruth Buxton, '25, "Croaker" Barton, Marion Boothman, '22; Fraternity Brothers, Elvira Dillon and Margaret Osgood, '24; Mauderite Pippin, Nathalie Marshall, '22; Penelope Pippin, Beatrice Noyes, '25; Eva Brick, Ruth Kemp, '23.

SENIOR DANCE HELD AT THOMPSON HALL

Attractive Decorations Add Cheer to Annual Affair—Novel Dance Orders Given Out—Doolittle Furnishes Music

The senior dance, this year an informal affair, was given at Thompson hall, the last day of the winter term, Thursday, March 23. Envious underclassmen safely out of town, the eleven o'clock closing rule was suspended, and as a foretaste of senior privileges, the forty-seven couples began dancing at eight o'clock and continued till one. The orchestra was Doolittle's Five Jazz Kings.

The hall was hung with bunting in the New Hampshire blue and white, in one alcove there was a cheerful fireplace, the lights were softened with yellow shades. The favors were novelty dance orders in little gray leather covers. Being seniors, all formalities, even at an informal dance, must be observed, accordingly the guests were admitted only on presentation of engraved entrance cards. Refreshments of sherbert and cookies were served.

The chaperones were: President and Mrs. R. D. Hetzel, Dean and Mrs. C. H. Pettie, Director and Mrs. J. C. Kendall. The senior president, Robert Perry, and Audrey Caldwell, '25, also stood in the receiving line.

ALPHA XI DELTA CONDUCTS PRETTY DANCING PARTY

The Alpha Xi Delta girls held their annual dancing party Saturday evening, April first, in the Thompson hall gymnasium. The rose scheme was carried out throughout the dance. The hall was attractively decorated with hemlock, pink roses; and the favors were pink roses. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served at intermission. Everyone reported a "wonderful time."

Over 400 students and professors from the universities in and around Vienna, Austria, met at the University of Vienna on January 17 for consideration of the problem of alcoholism. The meeting had been widely advertised and was attended by the President of Austria and many other prominent officials. A professor spoke against alcoholism and was followed by two students. Then a resolution was adopted by a vote of 385 to 15, asking the government to prepare quickly a law prohibiting the use of alcohol as a beverage.

Tuxedos are worn by ushers at basketball games at Columbia University and the University of Pennsylvania, according to news reports.

DEPARTMENT NOTICE

A course in the identification of flowering plants growing without cultivation in this locality will be given by Professor Doran of the Botany Department in the spring term. This course is listed as Botany 17-e. It is a two credits course, the hours being by arrangement.

Man-Made Lightning

FRANKLIN removed some of the mystery. But only recently has science really explained the electrical phenomena of the thunderstorm.

Dr. C. P. Steinmetz expounds this theory. Raindrops retain on their surfaces electrical charges, given off by the sun and other incandescent bodies. In falling, raindrops combine, but their surfaces do not increase in proportion. Hence, the electrical pressure grows rapidly. Finally it reaches the limit the air can stand and the lightning flash results.

And now we have artificial lightning. One million volts of electricity—approximately one fiftieth of the voltage in a lightning flash—have been sent successfully over a transmission line in the General Engineering Laboratory of the General Electric Company. This is nearly five times the voltage ever before placed on a transmission line.

Much valuable knowledge of high voltage phenomena—essential for extending long distance transmission—was acquired from these tests. Engineers now see the potential power in remote mountain streams serving in industries hundreds of miles away.

Man-made lightning was the result of ungrudging and patient experimentation by the same engineers who first sent 15,000 volts over a long distance thirty years ago.

"Keeping everlastingly at it brings success." It is difficult to forecast what the results of the next thirty years may be.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR BASEBALL

Ten Letter Men Report To Coach Swasey in Cage

THIRD BASE VACANT

First Game Fast Day with Amoskeag—Record Breaking Squad Out—Practice to Start as Soon as Snow Goes

Baseball at New Hampshire college has taken a new lease of life with the acquisition of a new baseball coach. Henry C. Swasey of Amherst and Sanford Industrial baseball fame is rated as one of the heaviest hitters in New England circles. He should turn out a heavy hitting team. He has a wealth of material and practice will be resumed as soon as the snow disappears.

With ten letter men available for the team and the battery candidates shaping up well in the cage prospects for a successful season were never better. There is an available veteran for every place on the team except third base and there is a plethora of material for that position. "Eddie" Rumazza, an outfielder, on the 1920 varsity is out for third. J. Spencer (Jack), Carr and Stanley (Stan) Hamilton of the 1923 team is out and Brown of the 1924 team.

Behind the bat is C. W. Smith of the varsity team two years ago. He is an experienced catcher and has been out for a month warming up the pitchers in the cage. When the curtain goes up on Fast Day "Smithy" will probably be on the receiving end of the battery. Other likely candidates in the list of catchers are "Soup" Campbell, '23, Russell Hinkley, '24, "Bob" Marsh, '22, "Bill" Phillips, '24, "Sam" Bell, '22, and "Ern" Christensen, '22.

Among the candidates for pitcher Sherwood of last year's varsity and Fernald of last year's freshmen are leading candidates. "Skim" turned in some good games last spring and "Lang" showed up well in the summer. Boutwell of last year's varsity and Cronin of the freshman team last year are also promising candidates.

Bailey at First
Captain Bailey will be found cavorting around the first base territory just as he has been for the past three seasons.

At second "Sal" Broderick another veteran of three seasons will be found. "Sal" is in the game all the time and easy or fast they are all the same to him.

"Bill" Haggerty, another old-timer, will be stopping the fast ones in at short. Both in the field and at the bat "Bill" is a real ball player.

The hot corner is an open spot with enough candidates to keep Coach Swasey busy weeding them out.

In the outfield four letter men are available, Perry, Connor, Rey, and Cullinan. Perry and Roy played last year. "Dutch" will probably devote most of his time to track. "Jack" Cullinan was a regular outfielder on the 1916-17 teams.

With the first game only three weeks away enthusiasm is running high and a record breaking squad will be seen on the field very soon.

GIRLS EXCEL IN "GYM" EXHIBIT

Varied Programme Is Of Excellent Character

RELAY RACES POPULAR

Instructors Deserve Much Credit for Their Achievements—Archery Contest Is Very Popular Number of Evening's Entertainment

One of the annual events which is always looked forward to with much interest by both the men students and faculty is the exhibition of class work in physical training by the girls of the college which was given this year, Wednesday evening, March 15th. The varied program was like those of past years, of a most excellent character and did much credit to the physical director, Mrs. Helen Wassall as her assistant, Miss Dorothy Flanders, '21.

The impatient, expectant occupants of the bleachers came to attention when the girls, attired in white middies and blue bloomers with their respective class ties of black, yellow, blue and red, marched in in single file, seniors leading "in the usual manner," with Mrs. Wassall and Miss Flanders leading the line.

Wand Drill Opener
The Wand Drill by the juniors was the first exercise on the program. The audience looked on in wonderment at the intricate motions which the girls performed with seeming ease.

And their wonderment changed to delight when Ingrid Soderlund, '24, and Ruth Sterling, '24, appeared in the spotlight as "Rintintin and Ninette" in a youthful, coquettish character dance.

Miss Flanders then ordered the freshmen to "fall in" for their gymnastic exercises which they executed with precision.

Gladys Holt, '23, Pearl Sargent, '23, and Florence Basch, '23, dressed in characteristic Tyrolican costume, formed a graceful trio in a character dance.

The Archery contest, a new feature this year, was one of the most interesting numbers on the program. A few times the arrows were lodged in the bull's eye, causing great applause from the direction of the bleachers.

"There was an Old Man" was a most fitting title for the clog dance performed by ten sophomore girls. The girls imitated with perfect nonchalance an old man shuffling a clog.

Six junior girls appeared next in costumes of all colors to do a dance called "The Rainbow" which combined all kinds of aesthetic steps and movements.

The Marching Tactics of the sophomore girls were not as well done as was expected by those who had seen them in practice.

"The Gypsy" most cleverly impersonated by Evelyn Dutton, '22, was one of the finest numbers on the program.

The exercises on the horse were said to be as well done by the girls as in the exhibition by the boys the previous week.

Sailor Dance Feature

The freshmen are to be commended for their excellent work in "The American Sailor Dance." With their jaunty sailor caps, red ties and signal flags they made a most attractive picture.

The relay races were the last feature in the entertainment. Even before the races began, the spectators expressed their sympathies for the respective teams and with loud cheering urged the contestants on to win. The juniors won three of the five scheduled races, the sophomores came out first in the fourth and the fifth was not completed.

BASKETBALL MEN GIVEN LETTERS

Nine Players, Manager Win Coveted Insignia

BLUE HAS GOOD SEASON

Four Letter Men Will Be Lost to Team Through Graduation—Strong Nucleus for 1923 Team—Perry and Stafford the Outstanding Stars of the Past Season

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the New Hampshire College Athletic Association nine players on the basketball team as well as the manager were awarded their basketball letters. Captain Robert Perry, '22, Gordon Fox, '22, Carl McKelvie, '22, Irving Sherwood, '22, Theodore Stafford, '23, Henry Callahan, '23, Daniel Metcalf, '24, Langdon Fernald, '24, John McKinley, '25, and Manager Flanders were the men to receive the coveted insignia.

The season as a whole was a very successful one and from the material developed by Coach Cowell this season we may expect big things when another year rolls around. Four lettermen will be lost to the team through graduation and among them will be Captain Perry, star forward on this year's quintet.

Team Invades Maine
The season opened with an invasion of the Maine colleges and Coach Cowell's men returned to Durham with victories over Bates and the Portland Athletic Club. The Blue and White dropped a game to University of Maine. Lowell Tech was the next victim to fall before Captain "Bob's" men. Connecticut Aggies set too fast a pace for the Granite Staters and on two occasions the Durham outfit was forced to take the count.

Clark college of Worcester was defeated in a thrilling battle. On the next trip the varsity dropped their contests with Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and University of Vermont. Norwich, however, was following the Blue and White when the gun went off. The following week the varsity defeated Bates by an overwhelming score. University of Vermont and Worcester Tech were both defeated in two of the fastest games ever witnessed on a local court. In a return game with the Worcester engineers the Durham team was forced to bow to the Bay State boys. Norwich and Boston University were the last two opponents to face the blue-jerseyed men and both invaders took the count.

With the wealth of material available from this year's freshman team together with the nucleus of the past seasons varsity returning to college in the fall, prospects look very bright for a winning five in 1923.

MEMORIAL FIELD DRIVE WELL UNDER WAY

letics at Spaulding high school, Barr, Vt., "Steve" Boomer, who joined the faculty at college last term, C. W. Boodey, who finds teaching, "One of the greatest pleasures I have ever enjoyed," Burgess Nightingale, a graduate student at the University of Minnesota, who says, "I am pausing in my admiration of the beautiful spring weather long enough to do all I can for those whom we all remember with such tender feeling," Paul Blood, who is still studying on the Durham campus and Arthur Twaddle, employed on the Amoskeag in Manchester, are among those who have sent in their replies to the requests for pledges.

"Al" Baker, drive leader, told the New Hampshire reporter this week that he is much pleased with the responses to the appeal of the group captains but added that he hoped, "my classmates will send in their pledges more rapidly than in the past for four weeks is a mighty short time in which to raise a quota."

The team captains showed a bit of the old time class rivalry with Twenty when they hinted that they were going to show O'Leary's class up when the final returns are in.

The girls of the class are leading as far as percentage of returns are concerned and Miss Knox, when told of the fact, smiled. She predicted that when she consented to captain the girls' team.

"ELECTRIC JACK" WILSON, '00, HAS PERSUASIVE PEN

One of the incidental advantages of the Memorial Field campaign is that it has helped to arouse the interest of many of the older alumni and to get them in touch with each other. An instance of this is shown in the class of 1900. J. E. Wilson of that class has been writing to every one of his classmates in regard to the campaign. Many of whom he has not been in touch with for over twenty years. Wilson lives in Los Angeles where he has earned the title of "Electric Jack." It is evidently a good nickname, as he makes his letters tingle. "They say it is up to me to see that the class of '00 comes across," he writes one of his friends. I think they wished it on me because I am so far off that it would do me no good to kick. "Over twenty-one years since I've seen you, but I am still alive and I see by the paper you also are. It seems we need more money to finish the job we have started. Some have already come across and some have not. I see by the list that you are one of the ones who have. But come on, Ed. It's up to you and myself to slip them another check, say $25.00 each. I am sending my check on the same mail that I am mailing this to you. Say Ed, write me a few lines. Tell me what you are doing and if you are getting three square meals a day. If you are not getting the three squares come on out here to California where you can live on the climate."

"Well, Charles," he writes another: "The enclosed sheet tells you that they have slipped me the job of writing each member of the class of 1900 a short note to see if we cannot get enough money to finish the Memorial Field. Now, come on, Chas. If you haven't paralysis in your right arm, just sit down and send them a check. And after you do that, just drop me a few lines and tell me why you didn't answer my last letter a few years back." "Not a dun but a gentle reminder" that it's high time to kick in with a little dough to help finish the Memorial Field or there will be no goals kicked there next fall."

NEWSY ITEMS OF THE ALUMNI

THE ANNUAL BANQUET of the New Hampshire Club of Boston will be held at the Parker House on Saturday, April 29th, at 6.00 p. m. The hour has been purposely arranged in order that commuters may have better accommodations to their homes. President Hetzel will be the speaker of the evening.

The regular meeting of the New Hampshire Club of Boston was held at the Parker House, Boston, Mass., on March 24th, at eight p. m. After a general business meeting very interesting reports were presented by Miss Martha Higgins, '22, and by Perley Ayer, '22, as to the various student activities of the present college year. After an open discussion of campus topics the meeting was brought to a close by the usual songs and cheers.

A third "Get-together" of the New Hampshire Club of Eastern New York was announced for Saturday, April 1, at 8 p. m. at Sirker's Restaurant in Schenectady, N. Y. The preliminary announcement indicates that besides the usual round of "eats and singing" that there will be dancing and every member was expected to share his pleasure with another.

Herbert A. Rose, 2-yr. '17, is County Agent and Extension Manager at Walpole, Mass. He also reports that Miss Estelle Hayes, '20, is Assistant County Agent for the same extension division at Walpole, Mass., and that Willis H. Hoyt, '17, is dairy instructor at the Norfolk County Agricultural School.

P. A. Campbell, '04, who has been extension dairy specialist at Storrs, Conn., for the past two years, has been induced to take the management of the Wawa Dairy Farms of Wawa, Penn. This farm produces from 10,000 to 12,000 quarts of certified milk per day.

Arthur R. Merrill, '04, has resigned as superintendent of the Balsams Stock farm at Dixville Notch, N. H., in order to accept the position as State Dairy Specialist of Connecticut left vacant by the resignation of Mr. Campbell. Mr. Merrill is now located at Storrs, Conn.

Arthur G. Davis, '12, writes us to the effect that G. A. Manter, ("Jed"), '12, has been seriously ill with blood poisoning for a long period of time and is still in the Hartford Hospital.

Norman S. Henry, 2-yr. '11, is giving up his "Y" work at Brockton, Mass., on account of ill health and is returning to his farm. His new address is 200 Dutcher Street, Hopedale, Mass.

M. M. Cory, '08, is associated professor of electrical engineering at the Michigan Agricultural college and resides at 625 Grove St., E. Lansing, Mich.

Carl D. Kennedy, '09, is now in this country and is still with the United States Rubber Plantation, Inc. of 1790 Broadway, New York city.

Dr. E. E. Savage, '05, is professor of Animal Husbandry at Cornell and resides at 196 Harvard Place, Ithaca, N. Y.

Dorothy Hanson, '19, who is assistant director of the Community Service at Franklin, N. H., she resides at 16 Thompson street.

Otis Pike, '20, and George Pingree, '20, are living at 211 Seward place, Schenectady, N. Y.

Chester Scammon, '20, has left Schenectady and is now located at 410 South Avenue, Wilkinson, Pa.

Max McConachie, '20, is now residing at 1241 Union street Schenectady, N. Y.

Guy Plaisted, '20, lives at 25 Catherine street, Schenectady, N. Y.

A New Hampshire college banner is permitted this year, for the first time, to have a place in the hall of the Edison Club at Schenectady. Only the first twenty colleges represented as working for the General Electric Company in point of largest numbers of graduates are permitted to have this honor. This speaks well for New Hampshire college.

Dr. L. A. Pratt, '90, has recently been made director of Research for the Merrimac Chemical Company. He is spending this week at Birmingham, Ala., in attendance at the meetings of the American Chemical Society.

C. L. Parsons, Jr., ex-'11, is now assistant secretary of the Commercial Credit Company of Baltimore, Md.

We have only recently learned that Helen M. Barton, '20, was married on June 18th, 1921, to Mr. Harry L. Smart of Hampton, N. H. They now reside at 2601 Aldrich Ave., North Minneapolis, Minn.

Paul D. Buckminster, '12, was in town last week and is receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Philip Irving Buckminster, March 22, 1922.

The engagement of Miss Hester Jackman of Penacook, N. H., to D. Watson Ladd, Jr., '14, of Epping, N. H., has recently been announced.

Among the alumni on the campus over the last week-end were Eva Eastman, '18, Maude Pinkham, '19, Hazel Dearborn, '20, and Leslie Jenness, '20.

TRACK SEASON ABOUT TO OPEN

Coach Cohn Has Plenty Of Old Material

SNOWFALL DELAYS

Heavy Schedule Reported for This Season—Board Track Is Used to Condition Men—Many Candidates Out

Spring track will start off with vengeance immediately after the holidays. Owing to the heavy schedule and the short period for training on the cinders, the coach will have to be a miracle man to turn out a winning combination. Due to the new board track, however, he has had the opportunity to keep the distance men in fairly good condition. The high jumpers have been working out for the past two weeks indoors, while out-of-doors, Dutch Connors is training to break his collegiate record in putting the shot.

Among the men who will undoubtedly figure prominently in the various track events this spring are: Bethune, Carr, Fox, Morrill, Campbell, and Nassikas in the sprints; Paine, Patrick, Warren and Coughlin in the middle distances; French, Graves, Higgins, Martin, Slack and Thayer in the distances; Draper, Menke, Stafford, Davidson and Cotton in the jumps and hurdles, while in the weights events are, Connors, Graham, Cotton, Hartwell, Davidson, Graves and Hobert.

COLBY VS. PINKERTON DEBATE HERE FRIDAY

Both Teams Have Envious Records—Contests Will Be Conducted in Both Afternoon and Evening

An interscholastic debate which promises to be of much color, will be conducted next Friday afternoon and evening at four and eight o'clock respectively, when Colby college and Pinkerton Academy will meet in the men's gymnasium.

In preliminaries held on March third, Colby eliminated Tilton Seminary and Laconia high school while on the same date Pinkerton eliminated Sanborn Seminary and Berwick Academy.

The question to be debated on in the preliminaries and finals is, "Resolved that the principal of the closed shop is justifiable." Colby's affirmative will meet Pinkerton's negative in the afternoon, while Pinkerton's affirmative will meet Colby's negative in the evening. The winning team will be awarded the Col. Walter M. Parker cup by the treasurer of the college. This trophy is given to promote interscholastic debating between the various institutions in this state.

JUNIORS NOMINATE "PROM" COMMITTEES

An important meeting of the Junior class was held in the Zoological lecture room, last Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

The nominating committee reported a list of committees for the coming Junior Prom. They are as follows: Invitation and dance order committee; George Campbell, chairman, Karl Dearborn, Ingeborg Laaby, and Ruth Prescott; decoration committee, Herman Rodenheiser, chairman, Robert Nelson, James Cassidy, Jennie Boodey, Ina Perkins, Abigail Meserve, Earl Davis, and Charles Rayes; music committee, Clifford Walker, chairman, Ralph Pierce, Arthur de Courey, Rose Corrieau, and Pearl Sargent; floor committee, Joseph Colburn, Charles Lord, Henry Callahan, John Carr, and Charles Graves; tickets and finance committee, Clyde Cotton, Oscar Pierson, J. Kilton Andrews; publicity committee, Arthur Lawrence, Samuel Patrick, Jr.; clean up committee, Peter Doyle, George Middlemas, and Mills Aldrich.

TRACK MEN ATTENTION!

Coach Harvey Cohn is offering a silver loving cup to be awarded at the end of the track season to the athlete scoring the greatest number of points and with a high mark for scholarship.

Should there be a difference of eight points or less, the athlete with the highest mark in scholarship shall be awarded the cup, subject to the approval of a committee of three chosen from the faculty.

Coach Cohn has always offered a trophy to his track candidates under these same conditions and finds that it affords great stimulus to better work in the class room. Such a prize is of value to the holder in that it is an indication to others that the possessor was not only a good point winner for his college but also that he was a good scholar at the same time.

"THE ACME OF PERFECTION"

A student will, perhaps, realize better than anyone else, the necessity of setting an ideal and striving assiduously to live up to it. The real student has a craving for knowledge; is consumed with an insatiable passion to learn something new every day. He or she has an ardent desire to be the embodiment of erudition, were such possible, in other words to be "The ACME of Perfection."

Such should be every student's ambition. The ACME of perfection was our ambition in the baking line when we presented to a refined and cultured public the FAMOUS M & M loaf. Such always will be our ambition as long as a discerning people demand a QUALITY food.

SHIFTERS

The original shifter was the result of James Watt's invention of the steam engine. You see them now on the railroads, in front of the coal car. Since the bright idea of a certain Tech sophomore they are also found behind the coal car—in the passenger coaches, and even in plutocratic Pullmans if the Shifting business has been profitable enough.

Legend hath it that Adam and Eve were the first shifters. Eve was second, she shifted the blame for eating the apple to a poor inoffensive serpent. (Don't tell me she didn't vamp the first scribe who chiseled out the Garden of Eden story into throwing that line about the talking serpent. Who ever heard a snake talk, except in pre-Volstead times?)

Eve shifted the blame to the serpent because Adam, the first shifter, and the superior passer of the buck, had shifted the blame to her. The woman tempted him and he did eat. Hence the origin of hard cider, clothes and shifters.

Noah was a Shifter. He shifted into the Ark. And when he shifted out again he established a precedent. Columbus later shifted into and then out of a piece of timber so constructed as to facilitate navigation. In other words, he shifted into the Mayflower (or was it the Santa Maria? we favor the latter—it sounds more Dagoish) and shifted out again at Cuba, just as millions are doing today, only they start from the aridity, alcoholically speaking, of the U. S., the land of onions and beefsteak, instead of from Spain, the land of onions and flowing wine. Columbus was the first immigrant, and he immigrated to take up land. Nowadays the immigrants also take up land—a shovelful at a time. Or else they take up room. But all are shifters, as the guy said when he asked me to join. That's why I didn't join.

The motto of the Shifters is: Something for nothing. The initiate gets nothing—which is more than can be said in the instance of other fraternities—speaking both with reference to fraternal benefits and fraternal paddles. The rest of the initiation fee goes to the worthy order of Shifters. Brother, if your secretary hands you a sheaf of bills, clipped together with a paper clip, beware. Hold on to your money. The paper clip is the symbol of the shifters. It's gripping prong represents to you the grip of the brother shifters, the grip you should keep on your worldly goods at the same time, and the enormity of the grip into which he puts his plunder. "Ware—ware the Shifter! For the Shifter, he will getcha—if you don't watch out."

This is the last issue of "By the Way."

AT THE MOVIES

Thomas Meighan starring in "The City of Silent Men" was very well received by a large audience, at the gymnasium, Friday, March 17. Many people considered this photoplay the best movie of the year.

The hero, convicted of murder on circumstantial evidence, is sent to Sing Sing from which he escapes and goes West. He is apprehended by a detective, but mangles his hand to destroy the finger print evidence. The real murderer makes a deathbed confession, completely absolving the ex-convict. The hero swimming across the Hudson to safety with the prison searchlight playing on the river made a spectacular scene.

"Life's Darn Funny," starring Viola Dana, was the chief attraction at the movies Friday evening, March 31. A reel of Pathe news was also given.
