"CY" COTTON 1923 TRACK CAPTAIN

Forty-Two Men Are Out For Daily Practice Now

TRIANGULAR MEET MAY 26

land's Only One Away from Home -Three Dual Meets-Scholastic Tournament May 13-Intermural Meet April 22

Clyde R. "Cy" Cotton, '23, of the Phi Mu Delta fraternity was elected Captain of the 1922 track team at a Massachusetts department of agrimeeting of the letter men held after convocation last Wednesday, April 5, 1922. "Cy" is also a letter man in football. He made his decoration in track in the 440-yard dash and in the shot put.

There is a squad of 42 men reporting for daily practice undr the guiding hand of Coach Harvey W. Cohn. For the sprints there are four promising men out, Carr, '23, Perry, '22, Nassikas, '23, and Bethune, '25. The first three men need no introduction to lovers of track at New Hampshire college but the last mentioneed is a new man, a freshman. Last year Jack Bethune was a member of the famous Lynn Classical high school track team nd one of its best men. Good Men in Quarter Mile

In the 440 Cotton (Captain), Paine '23, Coughlin, '25, and Campbell, '25, look to be a bunch of winners in their own event. Cotton and Paine are men of proved calibre while Coughlin and Campbell are two fast boys who were out for the relay team last winter. The same four are out for the half mile with the addition of "Eddie" Warren another freshman, who is sizing up well in the daily practices.

In the mile Coughlin, Thayer, '24 and Slack, '24, are the leading candidates with "Eddie" Coughlin looking better every day. In the two mile event A. L. French, '23, and C. Graves, '23, are the only candidates. Both are letter men in cross country

In the hurdles "Jack" Morrill, '23 and Draper, '24, are out every day going over the timbers. Draper was in the hurdles last year and showed up well. Morrill was a sprinter last year but this year he will devote his time to the timber toppers. Jumping Pits Under Way

For the jumps there is a wealth of material. In the high besides Captain Cotton, who is already known in that event there are three others, Davis, '25, Hewitt, '25, and Bridges, '24. These freshmen look like real stuff and with the completion of the jumping pits the practice in these events will take on a more serious na-

In the pole vault there are the two veterans of the last two years, Walker, '22, and Stafford, '23. Besides them there is "Eddie" Warren. In the weight events there is also a plethora of material. New Hampshire has always scored heavily in these events and this year promises to be no exception to the rule. For the discus there are three men now out, Connor, '22, Stearns, '25, and Davidson, '25, and more are coming daily In the shot put the same men plus Graves, '24, and Graham, '23, and in the hammer the only new one is Hargraves, '25.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE REPRESENTED BY DIRECTOR J. C. KENDALL

At Formation of New England Research Council

Representatives of New England agricultural colleges, federal and state departments of commerce and several universities have taken the preliminary steps for the formation of a New England Research Council to study New England's food supply and marketing problems.

At a meeting at the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Kenyon L. Butterfield, President of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, was elected chairman of the groups interested in the project and arrangements were made to include in the Council all institutions and agencies actively engaged in studying the food and marketing problems in New England. The purpose of the Council, as stated in its proposed charter, "Shall be to stimulate and co-ordinate the studies cultural products of New England."

Dr. Butterfield declared at the eeting that one of the real problems DEPUTATION TEAM meeting that one of the real problems of the future of New England is that of adequate food supply. "Almost no research work has been done along this line," he said, "and to solve such problems requires the best efforts of all concerned, from producer to consumer." Lloyd S. Tenney, assistant chief of the United States bureau of markets and crop estimates, welcomed Six Events at Durham-New Eng-the idea of such a research council. He said that as New England was comprised of small states such a council could serve as a clearing house for the results of studies of the supply and marketing problems.

Y" CABINET READY FOR COMING SEASON'S WORK

Due to the resignation of D. K. Andrew, '23, who was but a few weeks ago, made president of the college Y. M. C. A., cabinet members gathered at the Association room last Monday evening to elect a new leader. After a short discussion it was unanimously decided to procure the services of Robert Horner, '23. Mr. Horner is a popular student at this insitution, and is sure to be a great asset to this organization.

Following is a list of officers who will perform their various duties for the coming year: Robert S. Horner, '23, president; Phillip M. Marston, '24, secretary; Norman D. Chase, '23, treasurer; Donald S. Barton, '23, vice president of religious education; Howard A. Rollins, '23, vice president of Christian service; G. H. Summerville, '25, Baptist vice president; F. S. Gray, '25, Congregational vice president; L. J. Higgins, '23, Methodist Episcopal vice president; D. R. Jones, 23, Protestant Episcopal vice president; C. R. Cotton, '23, Interchurch

"Don" Barton, '24, is chairman of the Department of Religious Educa-tion. This is composed of five committees: deputation, discussion, program, publicity, Silver Bay.

Howard Rollins, '23, is chairman of the Department of Christian Service. One of the most important functions of this department is to publish the college handbook. Mr. Marston is Managing Editor and Mr. With Largest Project Ever Barton is the Business Manager. R. Tyler, '25, and W. Hobson, '25, are the two assistants. Miss Mildred Bangs, '23, represents the Y. W. C. A. in compiling material for the handbook. Other committees are: movies, reception, employment bureau and book exchange.

COACH SWASEY'S MEN ARE TO INVADE BAY STATE ON SATURDAY

Wearers of the Blue Will Cross Bats With Strong Haverhill Professionals-Several Positions in Question as Yet

With the opening game less than a veek away Coach Swasey has practically made up his mind as to who will be who when the "Ump" calls "Play ball" next Saturday. The wearers of the Blue will journey to Haverhill on that date to cross bats with the strong professional team representing that city

Behind the bat Smith, '23, the exveteran, and "Soup" Campbell, '23, are still fighting hard for the berth. Both are setting a fast pace and this week will tell who will start when the team journeys to the Bay State.

Cronin, '24, Fernald, '24, and Sherwood, '22, are all working well in the box and probably all three will see service on Saturday. Sherwood, the veteran, seems to have a little the edge on the other two.

Captain Bailey, on first, Broder-ick, '22, or Brown, '23, on second, Haggerty, '22, at short and Rumazza, '22, playing the hot corner will comprise the infield and this combination should prove to be a stumbling block to many of the teams racing the Durham lads this

In the outfield Roy, '23, will be found in left while "Kike" Fernald, '23, will probably hold down the berth in the center garden. Gustafson, '23, and Darrah, '24, are both ex-'23, stars and they sure are staging a wonderful battle for the guardian's position of the right pasture.

THE GENEVA SUMMER SCHOOL OFFERS VAST OPPORTUNITIES

The Institute of International Education, 419 West 117th Street, New York, has announced that arrangements have been made for American students intending to attend the Summer Session of the University of Geneva, Switzerland, to travel to and from Geneva with the privileges of membership in the International Students' Tours. They will sail from New York on July 1st on the S. S. "Saxonia," which has been specially reserved for the Students' Tours, and will return on the same ship about September 1st. During the voyage, classes in language, history and international relations will be conducted by members of college and university faculties.

Professor Gilbert Murray of Oxford and Mr. Graham Wallis of London will arrange for the reception of these students who visit the great British universities, and similar arrangements will be made for the students who will visit the universities of France, Italy or the Scandinavian countries. It is expected that the students visiting England, France and Italy will lay wreaths on the grave of the Unknown Soldier in each of these countries, in the name of all American college students as an expression of their gratitude. The college professors who accompany each group will not only conduct classes on shipboard, but will interpret the background of places visited in order to assist the students to get the very most out of the trip. The Passion Play at Oberammergau this summer will add to the interest of European travel. These tours represent merely a new application of the program which the Institute has been carrying out in the direction of closer mternational understanding.

There will be five student tours during the summer of 1922. Four of them major in Great Britain. France, Italy and the Scandinavian countries, respectively, and the fifth is a more general tour of the principal European countries. Membership is open to students and instructors in American colleges and universities and to instructors in secondary schools. The postponement of this function until the spring term is a new departure, but one which is granted by all to be for Of overheated foreign cheese, the good of the club. Throughout the Of sprouting radishes and peas, year, at meeting and elsewhere the dinner is discussed at length and so it will readily be seen that by springtime a great deal of enthusiasm is aroused in agricultural circles and a large attendance is assured. In fact at the present writing over fifty of the undergraduate aggies have signed the roster as an ironclad guarantee that they will be present at the Grange hall on the evening of May 8, at eight o'clock.

A tentative list of speakers has been arranged by the committee and indications point toward a program of constructive criticism of the agriultural situation in New England at he present time. Professor John C. McNutt has consented to act as toast master with President Ralph Hetzel of the college and Major Frank Knox of the "Manchester Union and Leader" at the head of the after dinner speech makers. Announcement of the other speakers will be made as soon as their presence is assured.

Those who feel any inclination to worry over the possibility that there may not be food enough to go round or that there may be salt in the ice cream will have their misgivings done away with when they learn that the services of Mrs. Charles Langley have been secured as caterer for the occasion. Yes, the internal substinence side of the occasion will be attended to in ample fashion.

Under the direction of Prof. A. W. Johnson, of the Economics Department, there is being established a placement service for seniors desiring to enter the field of business after graduation from college. Over four hundred letters have been sent to manufacturing and mercantile establishments, asking for their co-operation and requesting that they notify us of vacancies occurring in their staffs. It is hoped that all seniors interested in this matter will register for the service at once.

Registration may be made any afternoon, except Saturdays, in the Library, Room 204. A registration fee of twentyfive cents will be charged, to cover cost of stationery, mailing, etc.

Girls Given Big Banquet at Hotel Kimball-Cap Climax of Evening's Fun by Attending Movies

The girls' basketball team made its last trip for this year when the entire squad went to Dover for a banquet Wednesday, April 12, returning on the State of Maine express. Mrs. Alan D. Wassall, who coached the team, acted as chaperone.

The girls left Durham on the 6.16 train and on reaching Dover went directly to the Hotel Kimball for the banquet. It is rumored that the girls tried to eat enough to make up for everything they missed when in training. After the banquet, they went to the movies at the Strand. As the roads were impassable for automobiles, the original plan of rewere made for the State of Maine express to stop in Durham so the girls could return on it.

The man whose courage and foresight gave alternating current to America, and founded the Westingkouse industries.

George Westinghouse

Thirty years ago the alternating current system was but an infant, for whose life those who believed in it were fighting daily and nightly battles; today this same system is a giant of almost inconceivable size, so capable of defending itself that no one seeks to attack it. For 95% of the electricity that is generated and transmitted today is alternating current.

The story of the development of alternating current is a story of courage and vision and faith; of misunderstanding and misrepresentation; of engineering failures and triumphs; of commercial ability and organization. It reads like a classic romance. In its chapters are credit and honor for all who have deserved it, but the central figure, the man whose motives and acts furnished the basis of the plot, was George Westinghouse, the founder of the Westinghouse Industries.

When, in 1886, he brought over from Europe the crude Gaulard and Gibbs system, even he, great as was his foresight, did not dream of the coming magnitude of the idea which he was fostering. The development work undertaken by the strong engineers whom he put to work led at first into many serious differences with those who favored direct current. Legislatures were even importuned to prevent the use of the "deadly Westinghouse Current", as many extremists described it.

That the little 50 horsepower generators of those days have grown to sizes two thousand times as large; that stations of a few horsepower have been succeeded by stations with a capacity of hundreds of thousands of horsepower, while at the same time, distribution voltages have grown from 1,000 to 220,000, is due largely to the vision and the courage of George Westinghouse, and to the qualities of the engineers whom he called, characteristically, to help him. By no means the least of the achievements of this man was his ability to organize the greatest aggregation of engineering intelligence ever known, men of analytical ability, consummate mathematicians, great inventors; and to promote in this great group the most harmonious and intelligent co-operation.

The same energy and courage and purpose that forced the acceptance of the air brake, the modern systems for the economic and safe distribution of natural gas, and later of the steam turbine, led and won the fight for alternating current, which has grown to be one of the world's greatest and most necessary commodities.

EXTENSIVE SUMMER TOURS FOR STUDENTS

Many Points of Interest to All Will Be Visited During Vacation Season By Representatives of Colleges

Students and instructors in the New Hampshire State College, are invited to participate in the student tours which have been arranged for the coming summer under the auspices of the Institute of International Education.

There will be four student tours during the summer of 1922: one to Great Britain, one to France, one to Italy, and one to the Scandinavian Countries. They have been organized, not for financial profit, but for their educational and international value. They represent merely a new application of the program which the Institute has been carrying out for many years in the direction of closer international understandings through the medium of educational opportunities—exchange professorships and scholarships, the exchange of scholarly periodicals, and the promotion of the study of international problems.

Since the tours have been organized on an entirely non-commercial basis, it has been possible to ask and to receive the patronage of foreign universities and scholars, and the sponsorship and support of international and educational organizations on both sides of the Atlantic, such as the English-Speaking Union, the Federation de l'Alliance Francaise, the Italy America Society, the American-Scandinavian Foundation, and the American University Union in

In the case of the Scandinavian tour, for instance, the members of the group will be received by the American ministers in each of the three Scandinavian capitals. In Sweden, the arrangements for the entertainment of the American visitors are being supervised by Dr. Svante Arrhenius, President of the Nobel Institute, and, as promulgator of the theory of electrolytic dissociation, Sweden's most distinguished scientist. Lauritz Swenson, Ameri-Minister to Norway, planned, in consultation with the head of the Department of Education of the Norwegian Government, a notable program for the days when the group will be in Christiania, including an audience with His Majesty King Haakon at his summer palace at Bygdo, a reception at the American legation, and a lecture on Viking antiquities by Professor A. The membership fee is $675 to $710, depending upon the location of the steamship accommodations selected. It includes ocean ransportation on the SS "Saxonia hotels, railroad travel, automobile and carriage drives, lectures, etc. The Cunarder "Saxonia" has been reserved to carry the student groups on both the eastbound and the return voyages, leaving New York on July 1st, 1922, and returning September 1st. The members of the British tour will land at Plymouth, the members of the French and Italian tours at Cherbourg, and members of the Scandinavian tour at Hamburg. For the return voyage, all four of the groups will embark at Cherbourg on August 22nd.

Membership in the student tours is open to persons associated with institutions of higher learning in the United States, either as students or as instructors, and to teachers in secondary schools. Every provision has been made for their safety and comfort, as well as for educational opportunities. Experienced travel eaders, lecturers, chaperones, and trained nurses will accompany each of the groups. The details of administration are being handled on behalf of the Institute of International Education by Mr. Irwin Smith, 30 East 42nd street, New York City.

In the present list of members of the student groups the following colleges and universities are represented: Winiams, Princeton, Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Vassar, Smith, Wellesley, Bryn Mawr, Barnard, University of Chicago, Brown, Boston University, University of Wisconsin, 2 University of Kentucky, Northwestern, Johns Hopkins, Syracuse, Goucher, Hunter, Grinnell, Indiana University, West Virginia University, Dartmouth, New York University, the Sorbonne, and others.

COLLEGE BAND GIVES CONCERT

Last Convocation Is Voted Best of Year

EXCELLENT PROGRAM

Students Join in Singing College Songs—Great Enthusiasm Aroused -Menu for New Hampshire Day Voted on

Last Wednesday's convocation has been voted the best of the year. The program opened with a number by band, after which President R. D. Hetzel gave the announcements for the coming week, and Professor George Perley spoke of the plans and projects for New Hampshire day. Three menus for New Hampshire day dinner were submitted by the committee on commissaries, and the following was chosen by a large majority vote of the student body:
Chicken Salad

Scalloped Potatoes Buttered
Apple Pie and Ice Cream
Coffee and Milk Buttered Rolls

Then came a musical program consisting of selections by the college band under the direction of Mr. La-Mont and of singing of college songs by the student body lead by Mr. Walter M. Dalglish of Dover, who is to become a member of our faculty next year. The following program was presented:

"THE ACME OF PERFECTION"

A student will, perhaps, realize better than anyone else, the necessity of setting an ideal and striving assiduously to live up to it. The real student has a craving for knowledge; is consumed with an insatiable passion to learn something new every day. He or she has an ardent desire to be the embodiment of erudition, were such possible, in other words to be "The ACME of Perfection."

Such should be every student's ambition. The ACME of perfection was our ambition in the baking line when we presented to a refined and cultured public the FAMOUS M & M loaf. Such always will be our ambition as long as a discerning people demand a QUALITY food.

INTERCLASS MEET TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Complete Program Including All Events of Regular Track Meet to Be Run Off-Various Fraternities Keenly Interested - Greatest Competition Expected in Interclass Events

The inter-fraternity and inter-class track meet will be held at Memorial Field next Saturday at two p. m., under the direction of Coach Harvey Cohn.

A complete program has been arranged and all the events of a regular track meet will be run off. The meet s open to all students, with the except on of the quarter mile which will be limited to two men from each organization. Any athlete will be alowed to compete in two track events and one field event, or in two field events and one track event. The entries will be open until 5 p. m. on Wednesday, with Coach Cohn at the

It is expected that this will be one of the biggest events of the season. The fraternities especially are showing much interest; and nearly all of them have at least a dozen men in training for the coming meet. There will be much competition in the interclass events, because no single class has the advantage of all the big athletes as has often been the case in previous years.

The idea of this track and field neet is twofold: first, it will give he men who are not out for the regular track team an opportunity to get wholesome exercise; and secondly, it will enable the coach to pick additional material for his team.

REFUSE TO EAT BEANS AND CHOOSE SALAD FOR N. H. DAY DINNER

Student Body Assembled In Convocation Votes Down Famous New England Menu-Co-eds Accused of Stacking the Cards

New Hampshire college students urned down completely the "dish" that has made New England famous, and voted for chicken salad as the noon-time menu for New Hampshire Day on May 3. This selection was made at Convocation last Wednesday, at which time Professor George A. Perley presented the three different "regulars" that could be chosen.

New Englanders are famous from oast to coast as lovers of beans regularly on Saturday nights. It is supposed that they live on beans; and yet the N. H. C. student body, ninetynine per cent. New England bred, flatly turned a deaf ear on this, the When Convocation had been turned ver to Professor Perley and he had called the student body's attention to the three foods, it looked like a sure walkaway for beans. Who wouldn't ast his vote for beans and frankthe fair co-eds won the day, by polling the greatest number of votes for chicken salad and scalloped potatoes. The third possible and least popular dish suggested was boiled ham; but only one loyal ham eater arose to uphold the colors of the boiled ham brigade. Many of the men are of the forters as a workingman's meal? Yet, opinion that it is a good thing Professor Perley did not have a menu of chocolates, because we would in all probability be eating some choice brand of candy as our meal on that and Germany have developed a Young German movement (Deuts-Jugendmeinschaften) seems to be a general revolt against ancient authorities, traditions and customs. Among the ideas and habits attacked are militarism, monarchy, class distinctions and alcoholism. The movement is idealistic, patriotic for the development of a better self and the aid of the nation in the day of trial. It takes different forms in different localities, but the general spirit seems the same.

THE Vice-President of a great life insurance company who began his career as an agent has this to say to seniors who are about to graduate from college:

"If you love work and desire to pursue an honorable, useful and lucrative mission in life this is the business for you to take up. Life insurance salesmanship offers a fine field for the energies of the splendid young men "That this is true is demonstrated by those college men who have taken up life insurance for they have shown that the college man is fit for this kind of a job and that the job also is fit for the college man. "The work of the life insurance salesman is distinguished by independence and opportunity for directing his own. It gives all possible opportunity for individual initiative and a chance to make an ample income at an age when most fellows are struggling on a wage pittance."

That is the story of one who began at the bottom and reached the top without the help of a college education. The advantages are with you who graduate from college. Before deciding your career make inquiries of the "Agency Department."
