DURHAM, NH – Matt Mowers leads Matt Mayberry in the race for the GOP nomination for the U.S. House from New Hampshire's First District, while Steve Negron leads Lynne Blankenkemper in the race for the nomination in the Second District. Democratic incumbent Chris Pappas leads his prospective Republican rivals in First District general election matchups, while fellow Democratic incumbent Ann Kuster holds slightly smaller leads over her rivals in the Second District. Pappas's and Kuster's leads are fueled by a clear gender gap: each matchup is effectively tied among men while Pappas and Kuster hold large leads among women.

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. One thousand and nine hundred forty-nine (1,949) Granite State Panel members completed the survey online between August 28 and September 1, 2020. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 2.2 percent. Included were 1,889 likely 2020 general election voters (MSE = +/- 2.3%), 839 likely Democratic primary voters (MSE = +/- 3.4%) and 703 likely Republican primary voters (MSE = +/- 3.7%). Data were weighted by respondent sex, age, education, and region of the state to targets from the most recent American Community Survey (ACS) conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau, as well as party registration levels provided by the New Hampshire Secretary of State. Granite State Panel members are recruited from randomly-selected landline and cell phone numbers across New Hampshire and surveys are sent periodically to panel members.

2020 First Congressional District Republican Primary

Former State Department Official Matt Mowers and Former NH Republican Party Vice Chair Matt Mayberry are competing in the September 8th Republican primary to be their party's nominee for Congress from New Hampshire's First District in November. Currently, likely Republican primary voters in New Hampshire's First Congressional District prefer Mowers by a large margin but many remain undecided: if the election were held today, 48% of likely Republican primary voters say they would vote for Mowers, 17% would vote for Mayberry, less than 1% would vote for another candidate, and 34% don't know or are undecided. Mowers holds a commanding lead over Mayberry among self-described conservatives (+45 percentage points) while the two candidates are effectively tied among self-described moderates (Mayberry +2 percentage points).

2020 First Congressional District Republican Primary - Mowers vs. Mayberry - August 2020

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. One thousand and nine hundred forty-nine (1,949) Granite State Panel members completed the survey online between August 28 and September 1, 2020. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 2.2 percent. Included were 1,889 likely 2020 general election voters (MSE = +/- 2.3%), 839 likely Democratic primary voters (MSE = +/- 3.4%) and 703 likely Republican primary voters (MSE = +/- 3.7%). These MSE's have not been adjusted for design effect. The response rate for the August 2020 Granite State Poll is 36%. The design effect for the survey is 2.3%.

Data were weighted by respondent sex, age, education, and region of the state to targets from the most recent American Community Survey (ACS) conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau, as well as party registration levels provided by the New Hampshire Secretary of State.

The Granite State Panel is part of an effort by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center to investigate new ways of gathering and understanding the opinion of New Hampshire residents. Approximately 5,500 New Hampshire adults were recruited from randomly selected landline and cell phone numbers to participate in the panel. Panelists are then asked to participate in online surveys sponsored by the UNH Survey Center.

The number of respondents in each demographic below may not equal the number reported in cross-tabulation tables as some respondents choose not to answer some questions. Due to rounding, percentages may not sum to 100%.

For more information about the methodology used in the Granite State Panel, contact Dr. Andrew Smith at (603) 862-2226 or by email at andrew.smith@unh.edu.
