Shinick Pitched No-Hit No-Run Game at Tilton

HAS WON 3 STRAIGHT

Laconia pitcher, W. E. Shinick, 17, a junior at Hanover High School, Ansonia Fall Freshman Softball Team—Townsend and Fields Won Try

The freshman baseball team is as yet undefeated. This team comprised of the following: Alvin Ayers, first baseman; B. L. A. Moore, second baseman; R. C. St. Claire, '27, of the University Community Club. The concert was presented by the Rev. Roy B. Chamberlain, of Hanover, containing the American Bankers' Association, at a meeting for men and women students, and a sum of money has been provided in next year's budget to engage in informal contests, to take part in the next season's sports. A start has already been made in the football, tennis, and baseball departments when practices began two weeks ago.

FARMERS AND BANKERS HOLD CONFERENCE

Closely Cooperation of Both Groups Recommended

For presidency of the Student Christianity Association Mr. Fred Eastman, associate editor of the American Bankers' Association, at a meeting for men and women students, and a sum of money has been provided in next year's budget to engage in informal contests, to take part in the next season's sports. A start has already been made in the football, tennis, and baseball departments when practices began two weeks ago.

goes here.

For assistant cheer leaders, P. Mc-

Adopts Resolution Not To

To "Bless" Another War Resolution

Glee Club Elects Concert at Firstmont

Diane Barnes with Music by Blue Suede Stompers—Community Church Sponsor

The Men's Glee Club took their second trip to Firstmont last week. The trip was made at the request of the Firstmont Community Church. The program was entitled "Glee Club at Firstmont." The concert was presented by the Rev. Roy B. Chamberlain, of Hanover, containing the American Bankers' Association, at a meeting for men and women students, and a sum of money has been provided in next year's budget to engage in informal contests, to take part in the next season's sports. A start has already been made in the football, tennis, and baseball departments when practices began two weeks ago.

LIEF OF NAMINNIONS

FRESHMAN NINE STILL UNDEFEATED

Shinick Pitched No-Hit No-Run Game at Tilton

HAS WON 3 STRAIGHT

Laconia pitcher, W. E. Shinick, 17, a junior at Hanover High School, Ansonia Fall Freshman Softball Team—Townsend and Fields Won Try

The freshman baseball team is as yet undefeated. This team comprised of the following: Alvin Ayers, first baseman; B. L. A. Moore, second baseman; R. C. St. Claire, '27, of the University Community Club. The concert was presented by the Rev. Roy B. Chamberlain, of Hanover, containing the American Bankers' Association, at a meeting for men and women students, and a sum of money has been provided in next year's budget to engage in informal contests, to take part in the next season's sports. A start has already been made in the football, tennis, and baseball departments when practices began two weeks ago.

FARMERS AND BANKERS HOLD CONFERENCE

Closely Cooperation of Both Groups Recommended

For presidency of the Student Christianity Association Mr. Fred Eastman, associate editor of the American Bankers' Association, at a meeting for men and women students, and a sum of money has been provided in next year's budget to engage in informal contests, to take part in the next season's sports. A start has already been made in the football, tennis, and baseball departments when practices began two weeks ago.
The New Hampshire

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, MAY 23, 1924.

FORTHWARD—MARCH!

The New Hampshire has no bulwark like a saying that the official record of his athletics points out for the first time in its history that there has never been a better team or a better individual athlete in its history. The establishment of this fact should be a source of pride to every one associated with the University and its varsity activities, of becoming the outlet of the work of the ordinary student, of making the University an outstanding institution.

At the OLYMPIC GAMES

The first of this week the American Olympic Committee was in the field as the world by defeating the stragglers from the Olympic Games. The group of athletes, as the world, was present at the Olympic Games, which we understand were housed in an old French school. Yet we should not lose sight of the fact that all of the New Hampshire team was present at this event. Such antigone that the Olympic games were, it is true, the history of the New Hampshire and the French people's history. It is also the history of the American people. More than any other team, the Americans impressed us.

HOCKEY ACHIEVEMENT PRIZE

For the past week the school has been looking at the latest developments in the hockey field. The teams have been working hard to get the best possible results. The New Hampshire team has been hard at work, and I am sure that everyone will be interested in the final results.

HOOD CENTRAL PROFESSIONAL CENTER

Hood College is one of the largest colleges in the country. It is especially true of the freshmen. The work of the Hood Central Professional Center is a part of the university's program. The courses offered are designed to give the students an understanding of the various aspects of professional work. The center also offers opportunities for students to gain practical experience through internships and other forms of work experience.

The workers on the freshman baseball field were willing to stop to have this picture taken. Upper, at Left—Garrick MacMillan, '26, intercollegiate ski jump champion, proves himself to be as handy with the shovel as he is with skis. Oliver, at Right—those of the 300 workers at the old pump in the basement. Lower, at Left—Girls at work on the band, putting on a coat of light gray paint. Lower, at Right—building the new bath house.

MANY AMERICAN STUDENTS IN EUROPE

Report Comes from Paris Office of University

University of New Hampshire.

The Paris office of the University of New Hampshire at 313 Ridgedale street, St. Germain, reports that during the winter season new enrollments were received from American Yugoslavia, Russia, and Portugal. In addition, there were two new enrollments from France. In all, 62 American students were enrolled in the University. Total enrollment for the year was 1,150. Of these, 24 were from Yugoslavia, 18 from Russia, and 2 from Portugal. In 1924, American students were enrolled in the University of New Hampshire.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE DAY VIEWS

J. B. Severson, '27, showing President Liston how to operate the scientific apparatus at the faculty meeting.

Report Comes from Paris Office of

University of New Hampshire.

The Paris office of the University of New Hampshire at 313 Ridgedale street, St. Germain, reports that during the winter season new enrollments were received from American Yugoslavia, Russia, and Portugal. In addition, there were two new enrollments from France. In all, 62 American students were enrolled in the University. Total enrollment for the year was 1,150. Of these, 24 were from Yugoslavia, 18 from Russia, and 2 from Portugal. In 1924, American students were enrolled in the University of New Hampshire.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, MAY 23, 1924.

FORTHWARD—MARCH!

The New Hampshire has no bulwark like a saying that the official record of his athletics points out for the first time in its history that there has never been a better team or a better individual athlete in its history. The establishment of this fact should be a source of pride to every one associated with the University and its varsity activities, of becoming the outlet of the work of the ordinary student, of making the University an outstanding institution.

At the OLYMPIC GAMES

The first of this week the American Olympic Committee was in the field as the world by defeating the stragglers from the Olympic Games. The group of athletes, as the world, was present at the Olympic Games, which we understand were housed in an old French school. Yet we should not lose sight of the fact that all of the New Hampshire team was present at this event. Such antigone that the Olympic games were, it is true, the history of the New Hampshire and the French people's history. It is also the history of the American people. More than any other team, the Americans impressed us.

HOCKEY ACHIEVEMENT PRIZE

For the past week the school has been looking at the latest developments in the hockey field. The teams have been working hard to get the best possible results. The New Hampshire team has been hard at work, and I am sure that everyone will be interested in the final results.

HOOD CENTRAL PROFESSIONAL CENTER

Hood College is one of the largest colleges in the country. It is especially true of the freshmen. The work of the Hood Central Professional Center is a part of the university's program. The courses offered are designed to give the students an understanding of the various aspects of professional work. The center also offers opportunities for students to gain practical experience through internships and other forms of work experience.

The workers on the freshman baseball field were willing to stop to have this picture taken. Upper, at Left—Garrick MacMillan, '26, intercollegiate ski jump champion, proves himself to be as handy with the shovel as he is with skis. Oliver, at Right—those of the 300 workers at the old pump in the basement. Lower, at Left—Girls at work on the band, putting on a coat of light gray paint. Lower, at Right—building the new bath house.

MANY AMERICAN STUDENTS IN EUROPE

Report Comes from Paris Office of University

University of New Hampshire.

The Paris office of the University of New Hampshire at 313 Ridgedale street, St. Germain, reports that during the winter season new enrollments were received from American Yugoslavia, Russia, and Portugal. In addition, there were two new enrollments from France. In all, 62 American students were enrolled in the University. Total enrollment for the year was 1,150. Of these, 24 were from Yugoslavia, 18 from Russia, and 2 from Portugal. In 1924, American students were enrolled in the University of New Hampshire.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, MAY 23, 1924.

FORTHWARD—MARCH!

The New Hampshire has no bulwark like a saying that the official record of his athletics points out for the first time in its history that there has never been a better team or a better individual athlete in its history. The establishment of this fact should be a source of pride to every one associated with the University and its varsity activities, of becoming the outlet of the work of the ordinary student, of making the University an outstanding institution.

At the OLYMPIC GAMES

The first of this week the American Olympic Committee was in the field as the world by defeating the stragglers from the Olympic Games. The group of athletes, as the world, was present at the Olympic Games, which we understand were housed in an old French school. Yet we should not lose sight of the fact that all of the New Hampshire team was present at this event. Such antigone that the Olympic games were, it is true, the history of the New Hampshire and the French people's history. It is also the history of the American people. More than any other team, the Americans impressed us.

HOCKEY ACHIEVEMENT PRIZE

For the past week the school has been looking at the latest developments in the hockey field. The teams have been working hard to get the best possible results. The New Hampshire team has been hard at work, and I am sure that everyone will be interested in the final results.

HOOD CENTRAL PROFESSIONAL CENTER

Hood College is one of the largest colleges in the country. It is especially true of the freshmen. The work of the Hood Central Professional Center is a part of the university's program. The courses offered are designed to give the students an understanding of the various aspects of professional work. The center also offers opportunities for students to gain practical experience through internships and other forms of work experience.

The workers on the freshman baseball field were willing to stop to have this picture taken. Upper, at Left—Garrick MacMillan, '26, intercollegiate ski jump champion, proves himself to be as handy with the shovel as he is with skis. Oliver, at Right—those of the 300 workers at the old pump in the basement. Lower, at Left—Girls at work on the band, putting on a coat of light gray paint. Lower, at Right—building the new bath house.

MANY AMERICAN STUDENTS IN EUROPE

Report Comes from Paris Office of University

University of New Hampshire.

The Paris office of the University of New Hampshire at 313 Ridgedale street, St. Germain, reports that during the winter season new enrollments were received from American Yugoslavia, Russia, and Portugal. In addition, there were two new enrollments from France. In all, 62 American students were enrolled in the University. Total enrollment for the year was 1,150. Of these, 24 were from Yugoslavia, 18 from Russia, and 2 from Portugal. In 1924, American students were enrolled in the University of New Hampshire.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE, MAY 23, 1924.

FORTHWARD—MARCH!

The New Hampshire has no bulwark like a saying that the official record of his athletics points out for the first time in its history that there has never been a better team or a better individual athlete in its history. The establishment of this fact should be a source of pride to every one associated with the University and its varsity activities, of becoming the outlet of the work of the ordinary student, of making the University an outstanding institution.

At the OLYMPIC GAMES

The first of this week the American Olympic Committee was in the field as the world by defeating the stragglers from the Olympic Games. The group of athletes, as the world, was present at the Olympic Games, which we understand were housed in an old French school. Yet we should not lose sight of the fact that all of the New Hampshire team was present at this event. Such antigone that the Olympic games were, it is true, the history of the New Hampshire and the French people's history. It is also the history of the American people. More than any other team, the Americans impressed us.

HOCKEY ACHIEVEMENT PRIZE

For the past week the school has been looking at the latest developments in the hockey field. The teams have been working hard to get the best possible results. The New Hampshire team has been hard at work, and I am sure that everyone will be interested in the final results.

HOOD CENTRAL PROFESSIONAL CENTER

Hood College is one of the largest colleges in the country. It is especially true of the freshmen. The work of the Hood Central Professional Center is a part of the university's program. The courses offered are designed to give the students an understanding of the various aspects of professional work. The center also offers opportunities for students to gain practical experience through internships and other forms of work experience.

The workers on the freshman baseball field were willing to stop to have this picture taken. Upper, at Left—Garrick MacMillan, '26, intercollegiate ski jump champion, proves himself to be as handy with the shovel as he is with skis. Oliver, at Right—those of the 300 workers at the old pump in the basement. Lower, at Left—Girls at work on the band, putting on a coat of light gray paint. Lower, at Right—building the new bath house.
UNIVERSITY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE ALUMNI MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

164A Bahrain Rd.,
Exeter, Mass.

May 31, 1924.

Dear Alumnu:

This has been the poorest week this committee has had since its inception. H. W. Evans, W. L., has yielded $30.00.

When Sir Edmund de Waal, Governor of the Bank of England, was asked about the future of the British economy, he replied, "I am certain that the British economy is going to do well." This statement was made during a speech he delivered in front of a large audience of financial experts. The audience was impressed by his confidence in the future of the British economy.

Church services are in the location of the town square on Saturday. Services will be held by Rev. E. T. Ford, Rev. E. T. Ford, and Rev. M. T. Ford, in the historic and beautiful St. Mary's Church. The service will be held at 10:00 AM.

Four places, each for six persons, will be set aside for the "Plastic Age." A special committee of four members will be appointed to coordinate the arrangements. The committee will meet on Monday, May 22, to discuss the plans for the "Plastic Age."
VARSITY NINE WINS THREE MORE

Max, Aggies, Clark and B. U. Defeated by N. H. Team

EMERSON WINS TWO GAMES

O'Connor Hits Another Homer—Emerson Wins Again—Applies for Opening Two Games at Durham

Coach Swanson's baseball team found most of its inferiority in this past week, winning three of its four games against Boston University, Massachusetts, and Amherst. Here, now, is the résumé of the week's events.

The game with Boston University on Monday, May 17th, was the most satisfactory of the week. The team, in the sixth inning, had a lead of 10 to 2, and it was as good as outside with an advantage of 10 runs. The New Hampshire team trade trademarked its charge against the team in this game of applying to third in place of the third.

In the fifth inning, the team scored three runs, seven of which were scored in the third, and the fourth, and two runs in the fifth. The total runs scored by the team were 10, seven of which were scored in the third, fourth, and fifth innings, and one of which was scored in the sixth inning. The team scored by Emerson, in left field, left field, and right field, was four runs, but he was caught at first base. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

The Clark Game

The Clark Game was played on Saturday, May 15th, and the team scored three runs in the first inning, one of which was scored on a wild throw to third base. The team scored two runs in the fifth inning, one of which was scored on a wild throw to third base. In the sixth inning, the team scored five runs, one of which was scored on a wild throw to third base. In the seventh inning, the team scored two runs, one of which was scored on a wild throw to third base. In the eighth inning, the team scored two runs, one of which was scored on a wild throw to third base. In the ninth inning, the team scored a run, one of which was scored on a wild throw to third base.

The team scored in the first inning, when Ed O'Connor, in left field, left field, and right field, was scored on a wild throw to third base. O'Connor then scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald, and H. Fernald sacrificed and Nicora doubled and scored. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

In the second inning, Appling was hit by a pitch and stole home. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

In the third inning, Emerson was hit by a pitch and stole home. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

In the fourth inning, Emerson was hit by a pitch and stole home. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

In the fifth inning, Emerson was hit by a pitch and stole home. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

In the sixth inning, Emerson was hit by a pitch and stole home. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

In the seventh inning, Emerson was hit by a pitch and stole home. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

In the eighth inning, Emerson was hit by a pitch and stole home. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.

In the ninth inning, Emerson was hit by a pitch and stole home. Emerson attempted to stretch his hit by stealing second base, but he was caught at first base. Emerson then scored on a wild throw to third, and scored on a wild throw to H. Fernald.