DURHAM, NH – New Hampshire residents support a bill to expand the state's "stand your ground" use of force law to include defending oneself in a vehicle. A plurality support a "right-to-work" bill and a bill prohibiting abortion after 24 weeks. A voucher system for education funding and a bill ending life-without-parole sentences in the state are not supported. Governor Chris Sununu's job approval and personal popularity have dipped since February but remain high.

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. One thousand seven hundred and forty-four (1,744) Granite State Panel members completed the survey online between March 18 and March 22, 2021. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 2.3 percent. Data were weighted by respondent sex, age, education, and region of the state to targets from the most recent American Community Survey (ACS) conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau, as well as party registration levels provided by the NH Secretary of State and 2020 election results in NH. Granite State Panel members are recruited from randomly-selected landline and cell phone numbers across New Hampshire and surveys are sent periodically to panel members.

Gubernatorial Approval

Governor Chris Sununu's popularity remains high in the midst of the state's budget process. Sixty-four percent approve of Chris Sununu's performance as governor, 30% disapprove, and 6% neither approve nor disapprove or don't know. Sununu's net approval rating (the percentage who approve minus the percentage who disapprove) among Granite Staters is +35, lower than in February (+47) but still indicating that Sununu is quite popular in the state.

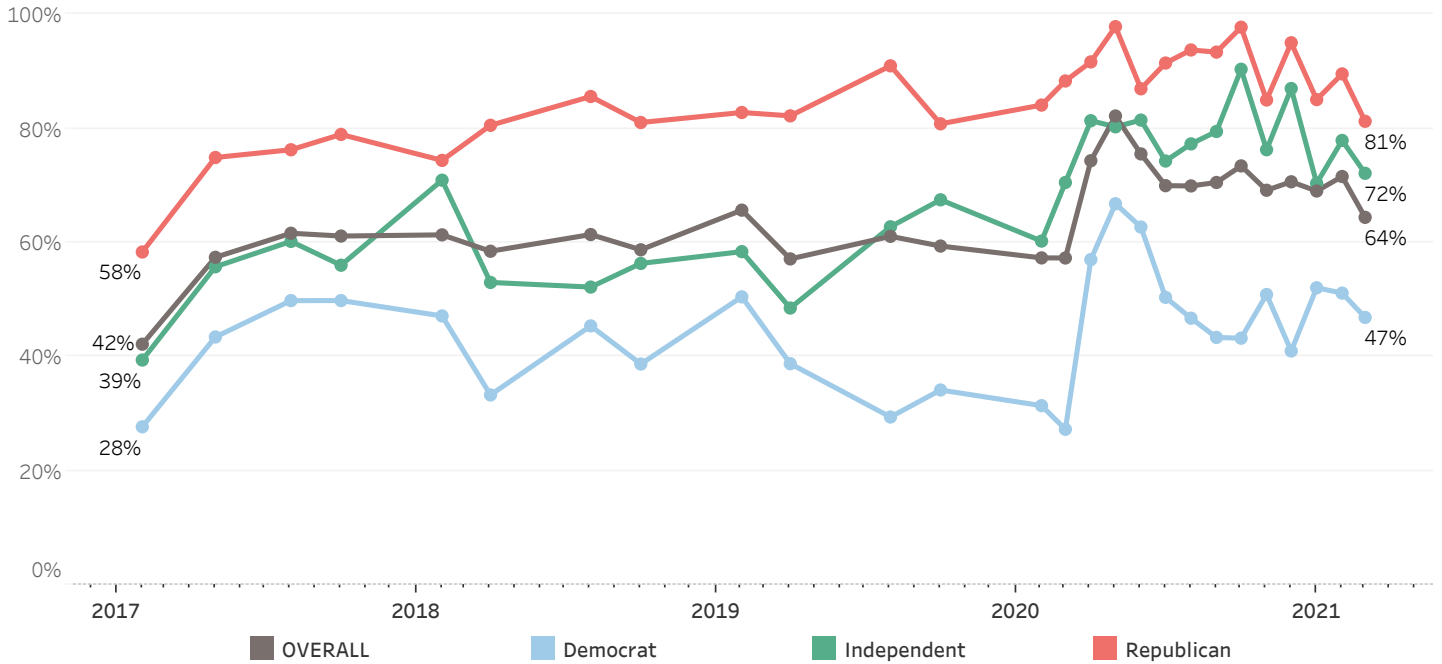

Gubernatorial Approval - Chris Sununu

* We ask that this copyrighted information be referred to as the Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center.

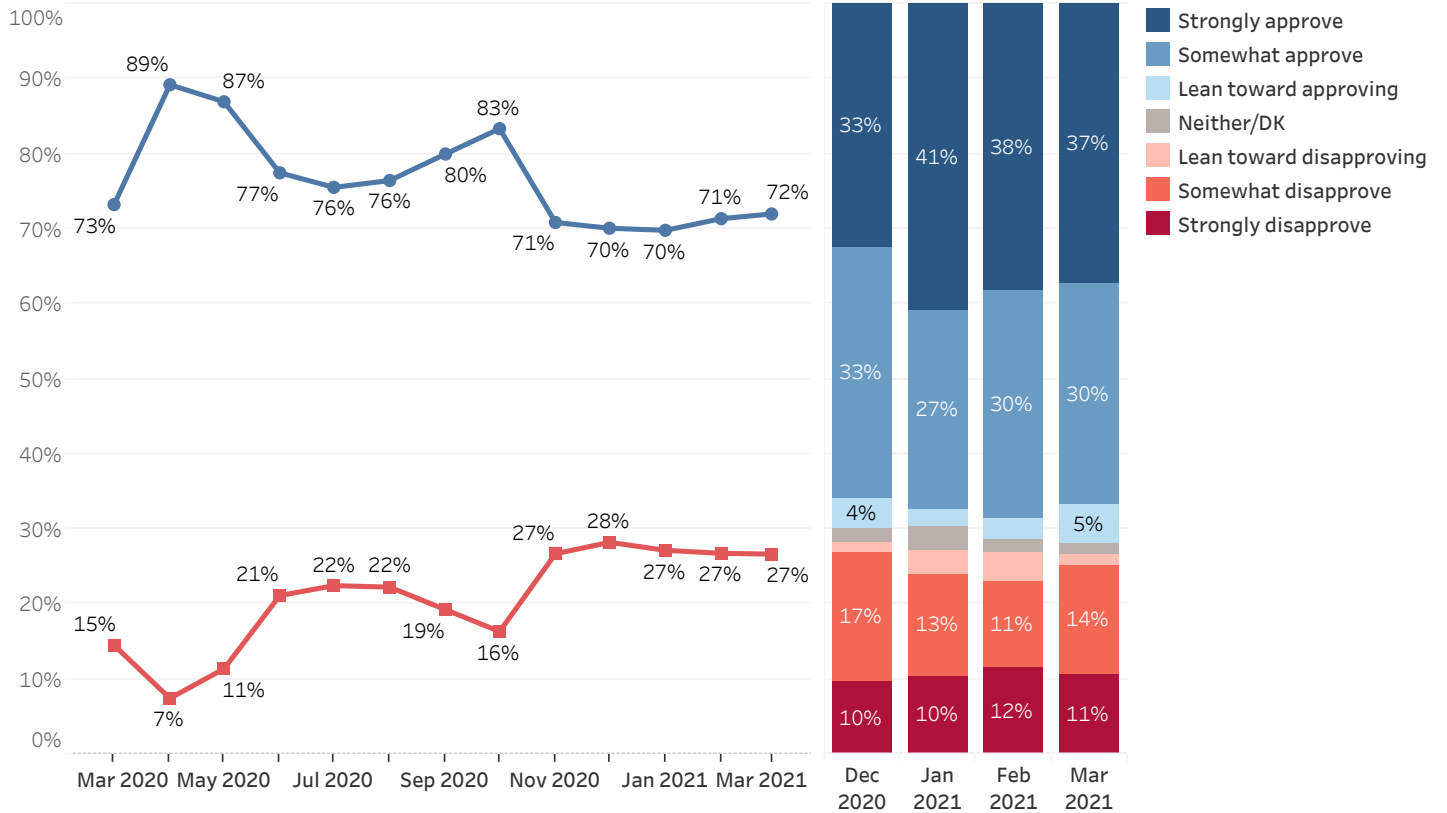

Large majorities of New Hampshire Republicans (81%) and Independents (72%) approve of Sununu's job performance as governor and nearly half (47%) of Democrats agree. However, Sununu's job approval has declined among Republicans (-8), Independents (-6), and Democrats (-4) since February.

Job Approval - Governor Chris Sununu - By Party Identification

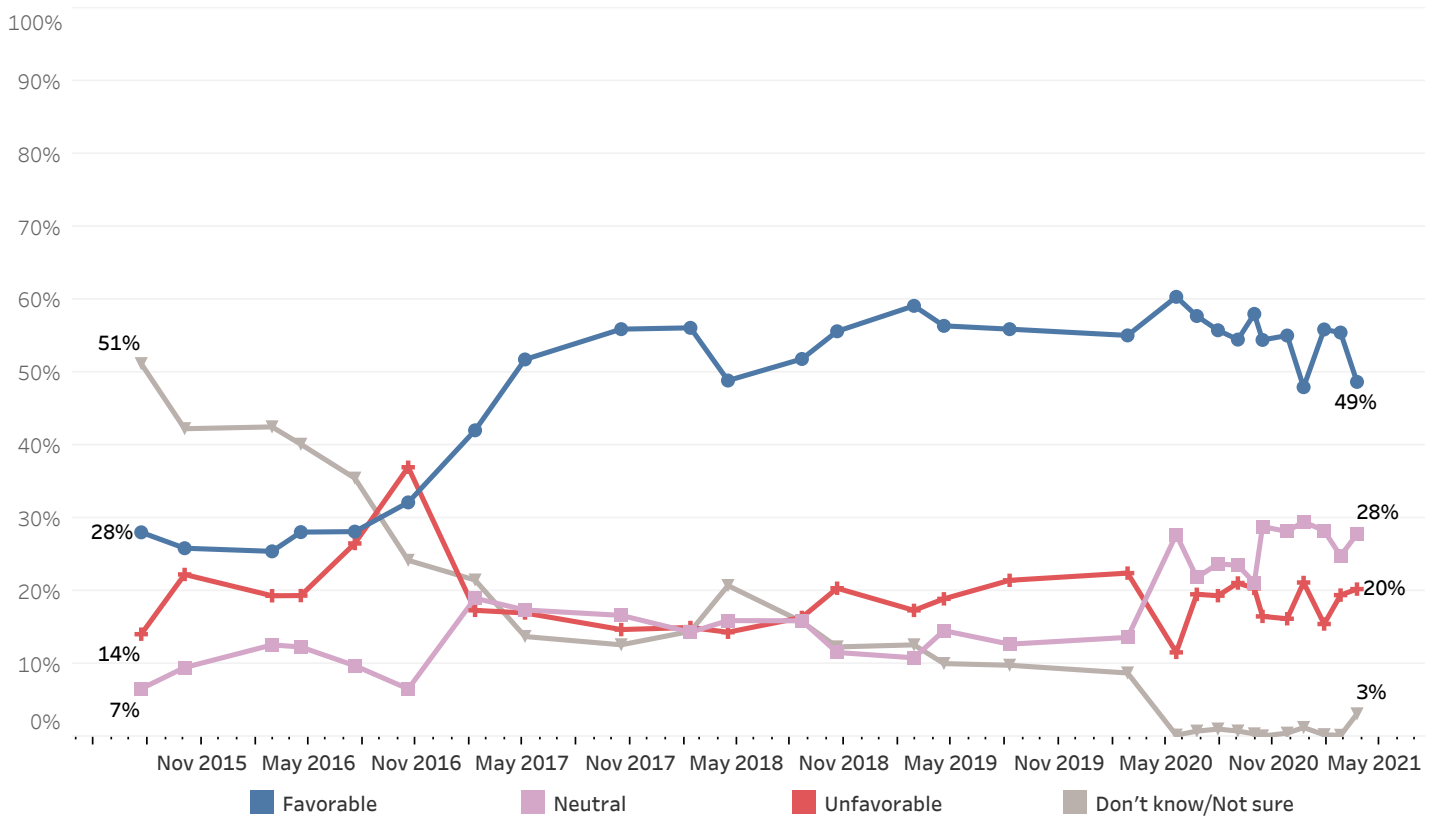

Granite Staters continue to broadly approve of how Sununu has handled COVID-19 in New Hampshire: 72% approve of his handling of the pandemic while only 27% disapprove. Ratings of Sununu's handling of COVID-19 have remained stable since November 2020.

Approval of Governor Sununu's Handling of Coronavirus (COVID-19) Situation

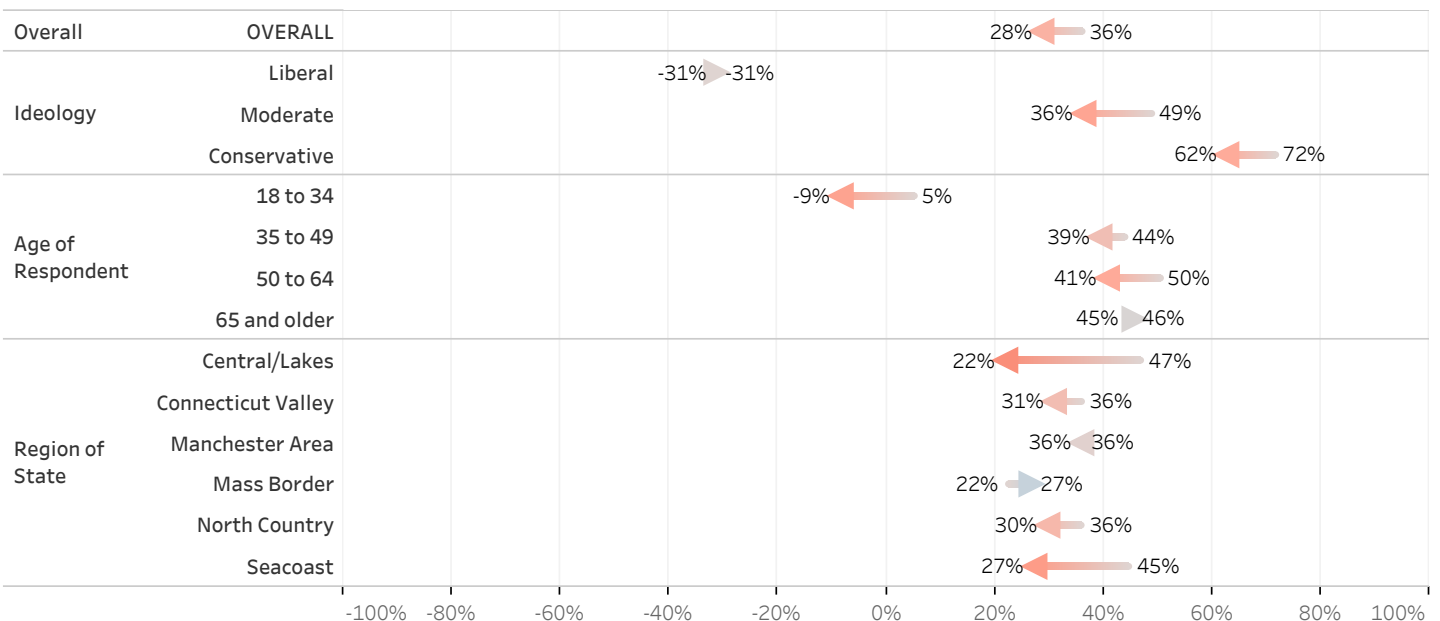

Governor Sununu's personal popularity has dipped slightly since February, but he remains broadly popular in New Hampshire. Just under half (49%) of New Hampshire residents have a favorable opinion of Sununu, 20% have an unfavorable opinion of him, 28% are neutral, and 3% are unsure. Sununu's net favorability rating is +28, down from +36 in February. Sununu is very popular among Republicans (+67 net favorability rating) and is popular among Independents (+47) but is somewhat unpopular among Democrats (-17).

Sununu (R) Favorability

Sununu has become less popular than he was in February among self-described moderates (-13 percentage points) and conservatives (-10), while liberals are unchanged in their opinion. Sununu remains considerably less popular among Granite Staters aged 18 to 34 than he is among older state residents.

Education Vouchers

The New Hampshire Legislature is considering a bill that would create a voucher system, called "education freedom accounts" by supporters, that would provide public dollars that can be used for private school tuitions (not colleges) for children. One-third (35%) of New Hampshire residents say that they strongly (23%) or somewhat (12%) support this legislation, while 45% strongly (35%) or somewhat (10%) oppose it. Six percent of respondents neither support nor oppose this legislation while 14% don't know enough to say.

Six in ten Republicans (60%) and 42% of Independents support this legislation but only 8% of Democrats agree. Respondents with no children in their household are opposed to this legislation - 44% oppose it while 32% support it - while those with children in their household are more divided, as 46% oppose it and 43% support it.

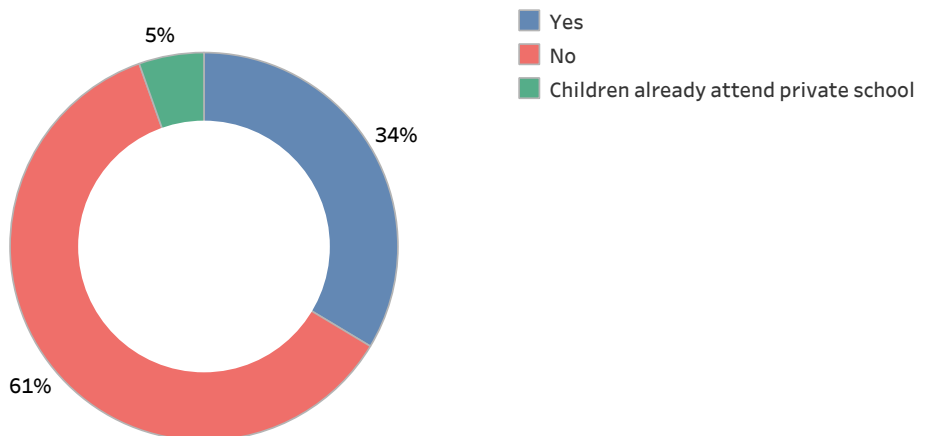

Support or Oppose "Education Freedom Accounts" Voucher System - March 2021

Among those who have school-age children in their household (N=436), 34% say that they would be more likely to consider sending a child to a private school if this legislation were to pass, 61% say they would not be more likely to send their children to a private school while 5% say their children already attend private school.

Half of Independents (54%) and Republicans (48%) with children in their household would be more likely to consider sending their children to a private school if this legislation were to pass, but only 13% of Democrats say this is true for them.

Use of Deadly Force From Vehicle

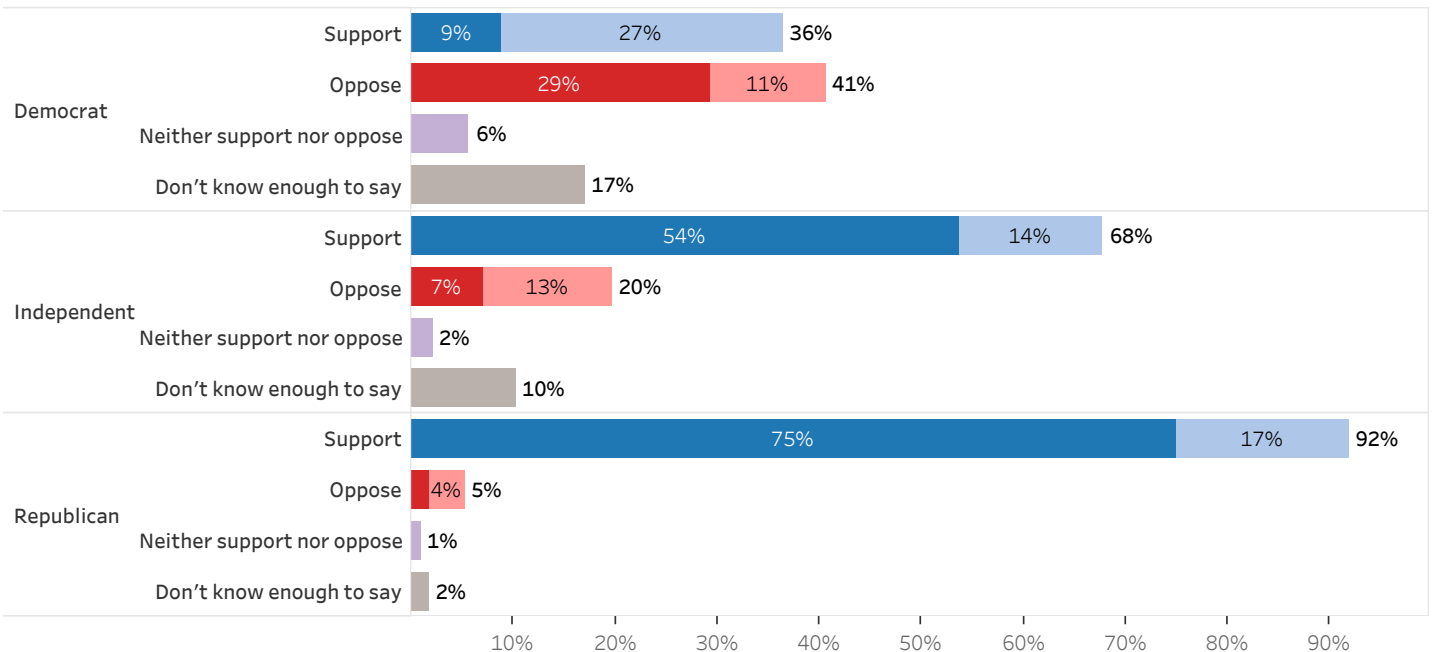

New Hampshire currently has a law, referred to as the "stand your ground" law, that allows a person to use deadly force to defend themselves if attacked or threatened in their home. The New Hampshire Legislature is considering a bill that would expand this law to include a right to use deadly force if attacked or threatened while inside their vehicle. Two-thirds (66%) of New Hampshire residents say that they strongly (43%) or somewhat (22%) support this legislation, while only 22% strongly (14%) or somewhat (8%) oppose it. Three percent of respondents neither support nor oppose this legislation while 9% don't know enough to say.

Support or Oppose Expanding "Stand Your Ground" Law to Include Right to Use Deadly Force in Vehicle - March 2021

Almost all Republicans (92%) and more than two-thirds of Independents (68%) support this legislation but Democrats are divided with 36% in support and 41% opposed.

Life-Without-Parole Sentences

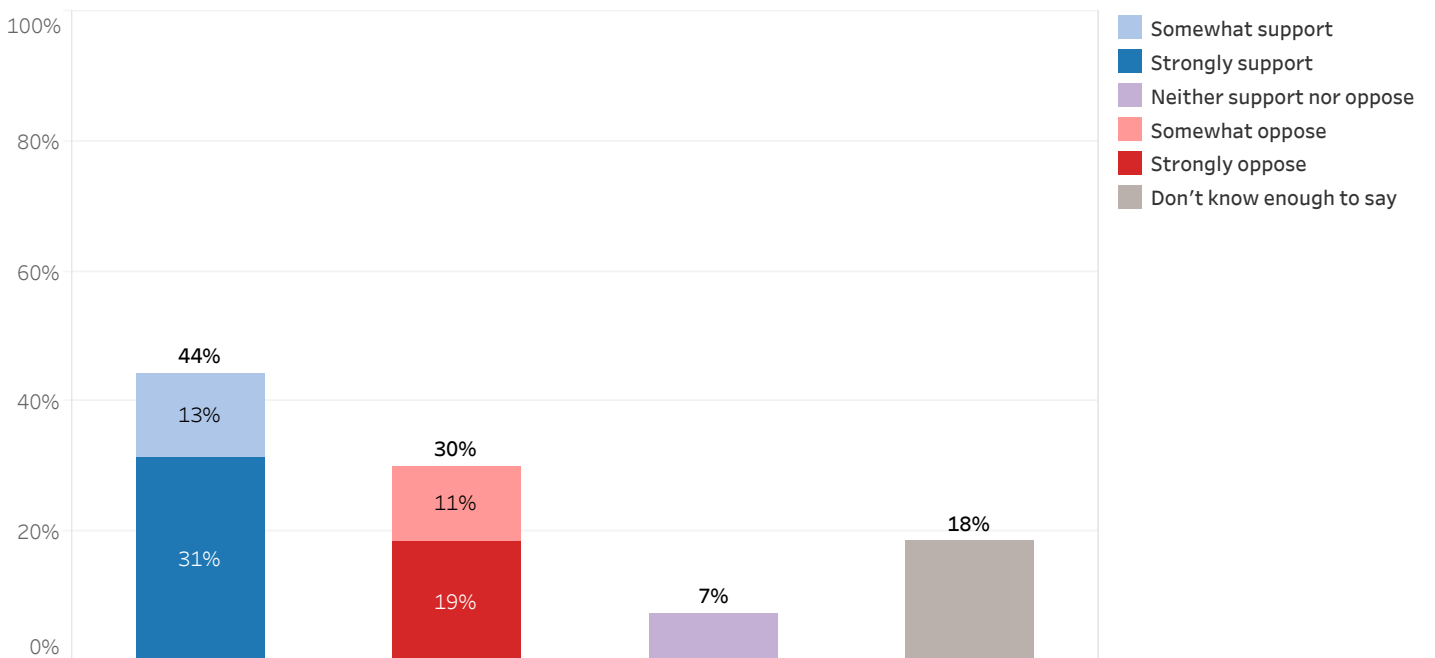

The New Hampshire Legislature is also considering a bill that would end life-without-parole sentences, with the exception of those who have been convicted of a capital murder charge. This bill has little support from Granite Staters: only 30% say they strongly (11%) or somewhat (18%) support this legislation, 43% strongly (29%) or somewhat (14%) oppose it, 7% neither support nor oppose it, and 20% don't know enough to say. Nearly half (47%) of Democrats support this legislation but only 16% of Independents and 16% of Republicans support it.

Support or Oppose Bill Ending Life-Without-Parole Prison Sentences in New Hampshire Prisons - March 2021

Another bill being considered by the New Hampshire Legislature known as a "right-to-work" bill would prohibit any requirement that employees of a private sector business join a labor union. A plurality of New Hampshire residents (44%) say that they strongly (31%) or somewhat (13%) support this legislation, 30% strongly (19%) or somewhat (11%) oppose it, 7% neither support nor oppose this legislation, and 18% don't know enough to say. Majorities of Republicans (65%) and Independents (62%) support this legislation but only 13% of Democrats agree.

Abortion Rights

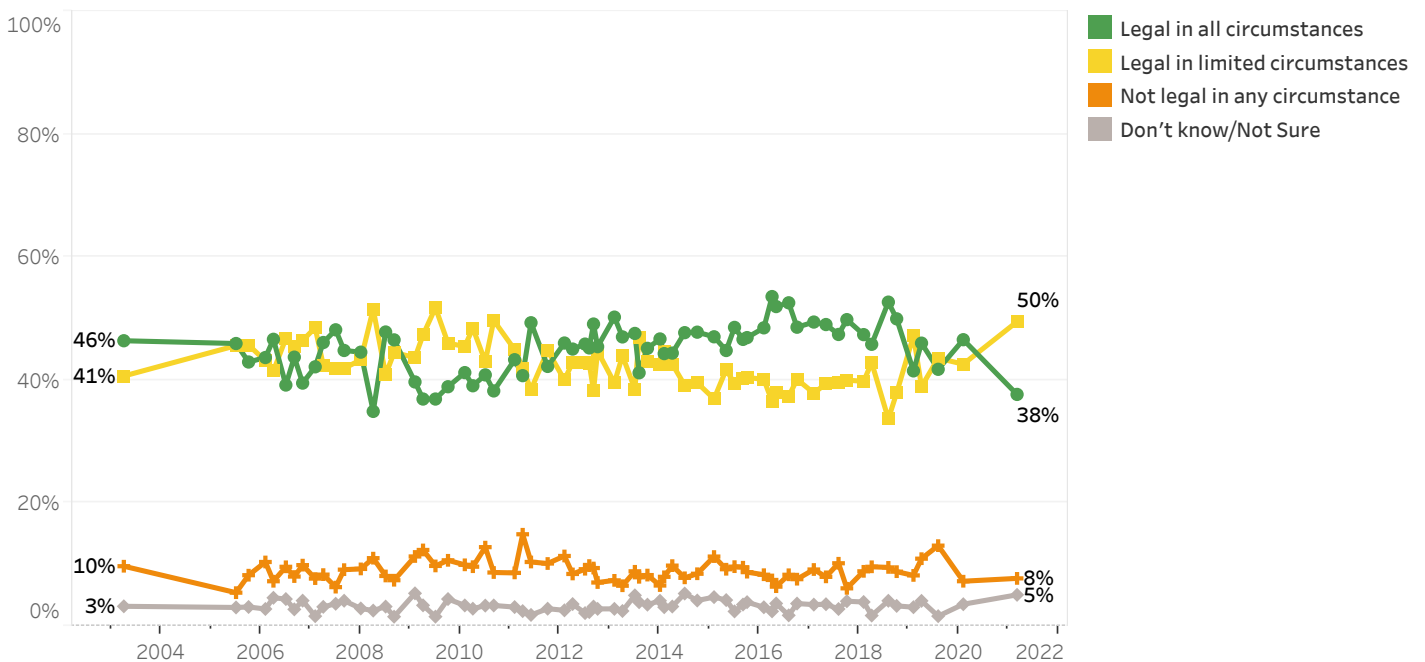

Finally, the New Hampshire Legislature is considering a bill that would prohibit abortion after 24 weeks unless there is a threat to the health of the mother. Just under half (48%) of New Hampshire residents say they strongly (40%) or somewhat (8%) support this legislation, 40% strongly (34%) or somewhat (7%) oppose it, 5% neither support nor oppose it, and 6% don't know enough to say. Four in five Republicans (79%) and more than half of Independents (56%) support this legislation but only 16% of Democrats support it.

Support or Oppose Prohibiting Abortion After 24 Weeks

New Hampshire residents have been divided on abortion for decades, but generally favor legal abortion. Thirty-eight percent think abortion should be legal in all circumstances, 50% think it should be legal in limited circumstances, only 8% believe it should not be legal in any circumstance, and 5% are unsure how they feel on this issue. Granite Staters differ markedly on this question by party. More than two-thirds of Democrats (68%) believe abortion should be legal in all circumstances while 30% believe it should be legal in limited circumstances and only 1% believe it should not be legal in any circumstances. However, among Independents and Republicans, majorities believe abortion should be legal in limited circumstances and small numbers say it should not be legal in any circumstances.

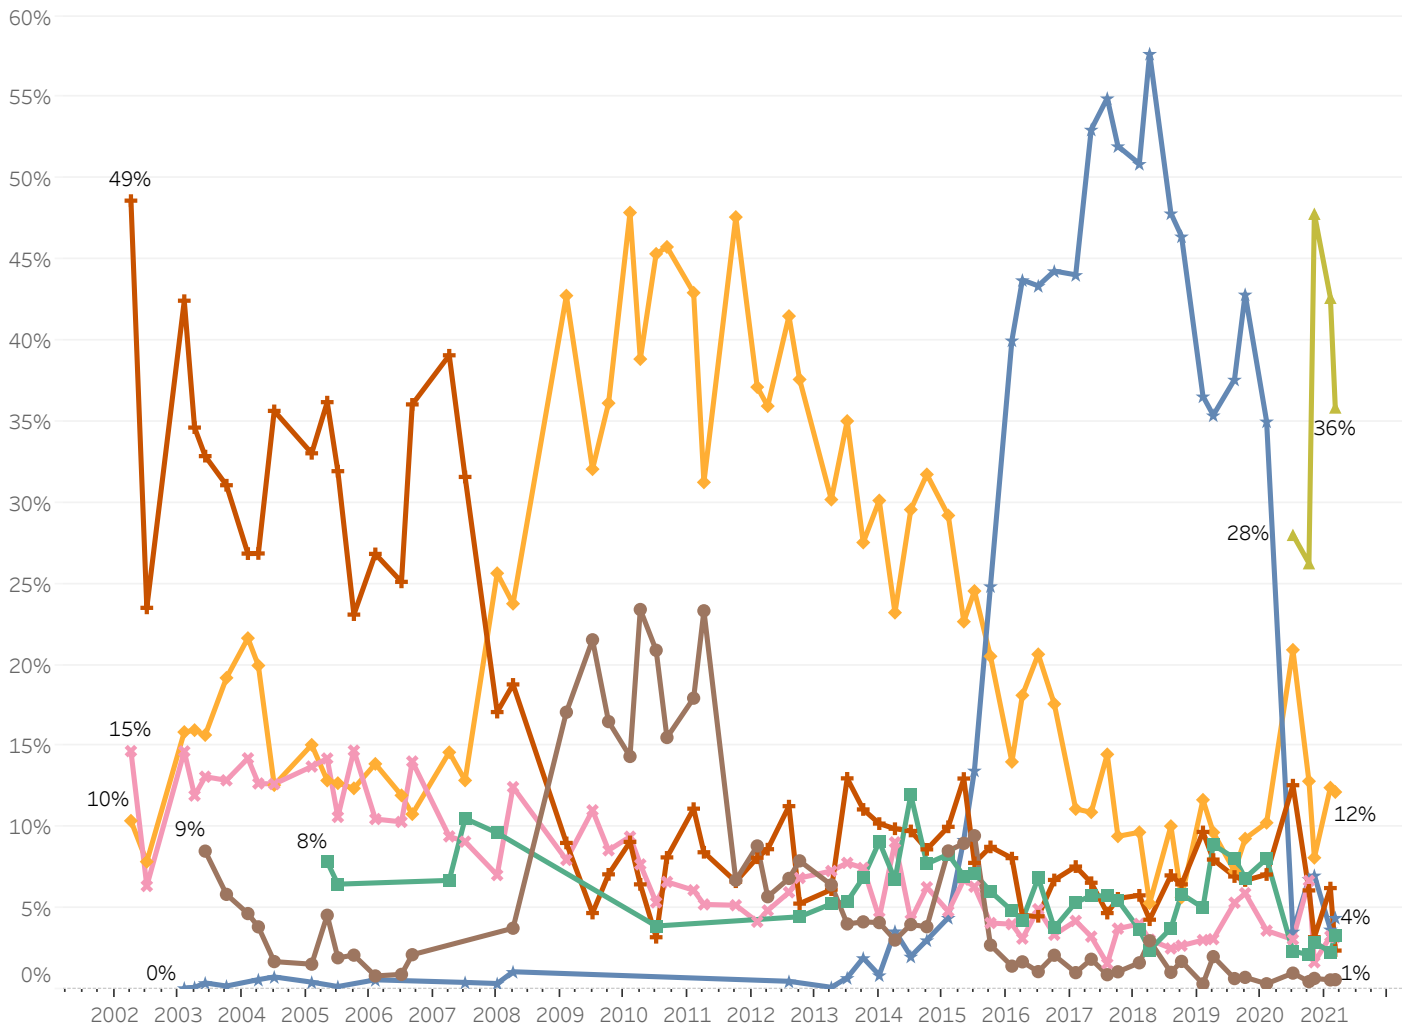

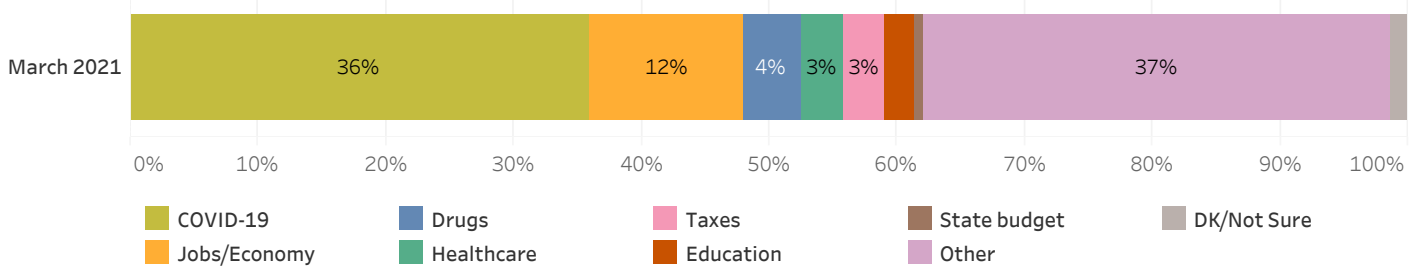

Overall Position on Abortion

Most Important Problem Facing New Hampshire

Thirty-six percent of New Hampshire residents believe that COVID-19 is the most important problem facing the state, lower than the percentage who said so in February (43%) and in November 2020 (48%). The COVID-19 pandemic has been named as the most important problem facing the state since July 2020. Twelve percent believe jobs or the economy is the most important problem facing the state, while less than 5% cite drugs (4%), healthcare (3%), taxes (3%), education (2%), or the state budget (1%) as the most important problem. Thirty-seven percent mention another problem and 1% don't know or are unsure.

Granite State Poll Methodology

These findings are based on the latest Granite State Poll, conducted by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center. One thousand seven hundred and forty-four (1,744) Granite State Panel members completed the survey online between March 18 and March 22, 2021. The margin of sampling error for the survey is +/- 2.3 percent. These MSE's have not been adjusted for design effect. The response rate for the March 2021 Granite State Poll is 30%. The design effect for the survey is 2.7%.

Data were weighted by respondent sex, age, education, and region of the state to targets from the most recent American Community Survey (ACS) conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau, as well as party registration levels provided by the NH Secretary of State and to 2020 election results in New Hampshire.

The Granite State Panel is part of an effort by the University of New Hampshire Survey Center to investigate new ways of gathering and understanding the opinion of New Hampshire residents. Approximately 5,750 New Hampshire adults were recruited from randomly selected landline and cell phone numbers to participate in the panel. Panelists are then asked to participate in online surveys sponsored by the UNH Survey Center.

The number of respondents in each demographic below may not equal the number reported in cross-tabulation tables as some respondents choose not to answer some questions. Due to rounding, percentages may not sum to 100%.
