N.I. WINS TWO
DEBATES FROM UNIV. OF MICHIGAN

MILWAUKEE ALTERNATE WINS ARGUMENTS OVER H. S. MAKI AT CONFERENCE HOUSE

The New Hampshire debating team faced off against the University of Michigan last Friday at the Conference House. The team from New Hampshire emerged victorious, winning two out of the three debates. The team, led by Mr. Robert Folsom, a member of the University's Class of 1925, was confident in their arguments, which included a strong defense of their stance on the issue of free speech.

WIND UP SCHEDULES

HOCKEY — AND FRESHMEN

The hockey season for freshmen was brought to a close last Wednesday when the final game was played against the senior team. The freshmen's season was marked by a series of close defeats, but their spirit and determination were evident throughout.

MISS GREEN SPEAKS ON INJURIES

After the Boston School of Occupational Therapy tells how women's role in occupational therapy has been significant, Miss Green of the Boston School of Occupational Therapy spoke at the University last Friday. Her talk focused on the importance of women in the field of therapy, highlighting their contributions and the challenges they face.

FRESHMEN GIRLS HOLIDAY LINEN-SOLD

Miss Green's talk was well received by the audience, who showed interest in the topic and engaged in a lively discussion. The event was a success, providing valuable insights into the role of women in occupational therapy.

THE CYMNIULL

What's New? True
Fails tell us of our failures, but
Our successes are noted elsewhere.
Their songs are sung in the halls,
Our poems are read in the libraries.
Johns Hopkins, M. H., B. D., Grover, T. W., Hodge, R. S., New York.

One team, one banner, one cause.
Loyalty and the standing of the various State universities and college football teams are the same.

They toil, they labor, they strive.
They seek to excel, to be the best.
Their names are known throughout the land,
Their reputations are held in high esteem.

But what's new? True.

THE FEATHERS ARE WELCOME

FOR THE FIRST TIME in the history of the University, the feathered friends of the campus were permitted to attend the annual football game.

It was a splendid spectacle, and the birds took full advantage of the opportunity.

They chattered, they chirped, they flapped their wings, and they enjoyed every minute of the game.

The outcome was a triumph for the home team, and the feathers were jubilant.

But what's new? True.

THE CYMNIULL

WHEN you come to read this, it may be that the game was all over.
True, perhaps, but the excitement and the anticipation of the match are what really count.

The college game is a vacation
from routine, and a welcome change of pace.

But what's new? True.

THE FRATERS ARE WELCOME

We are no better than our group,
and a valuable function to perform.

And a splendid function it is, indeed, when one considers the wonderful opportunities it offers for the development of character.

But what's new? True.
