COLLEGE PAPERS TO HOLD ANNUAL CONFERENCE HERE

Newspaper Association to Meet in Durham Next May

BAKER, OF BATES, PRESIDENT

Weekly College Newspapers of New England Form Organization for Mutual Aid in Solving Problems

Twenty-five delegates representing ten weekly college newspapers at the initial meeting of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association held at Boston College last Friday and Saturday, voted to accept the invitation extended to them by The New Hampshire delegates to hold the next annual conference of the Association in Durham and will come here some time in May, 1926, as guests of The New Hampshire.

The convention in Newton last week was sponsored by the Boston College HEIGHTS and was called to form a new association of college newspapers in New England which would be of benefit not only to those papers which were not members of the older Eastern association but also those which are freeing them as it will from the dominance which the large college dailies maintain in the larger organization. The new group excludes daily college newspapers. The specific purpose of the association is to foster acquaintanceship and friendship between the colleges and to be of mutual aid in solving advertising, circulation, and editorial problems. Its organization includes a service committee, to deal with news and editorial problems and a business committee to aid in solving advertising and circulation problems. Harold W. Whitcomb, '26, was elected chairman of the service committee.

The convention met at 2.30 on Friday, May 15 in the Philomatheia Club at Boston College and ten newspapers were represented by delegates. Several others signified their intention of joining but were unable to send representatives. After the 25 delegates had registered, the conference was divided into editorial and business sessions for preliminary discussions. These talks lasted until six o'clock. A short tour of the campus and an inspection of the Gothic buildings which comprise the College followed and then the delegates adjourned to the Hotel Brunswick for a banquet. The speakers for the evening included Mr. William D. Nugent, advertising manager of the Boston Herald-Traveler, Mr. Robert E. Huse, assistant director of publicity at Boston University, and Rev. E. Paul Amy, S. J., and the faculty advisor of the Heights.

The conference began again the next morning at 9 o'clock with an advertising conference at which a representative of a national advertising agency was present. The editorial session began again at 10 o'clock and continued until twelve when the delegates met to adopt a constitution and to elect officers for the ensuing year.

Kirkby Baker, managing editor of the Bates "Student" was elected President; J. D. Wells, business manager of the Williams College "Record", vice president; R. T. Langan, editor-in-chief of the Holy Cross Tomahawk, secretary-treasurer; H. W. Whitcomb, The New Hampshire, chairman of the service committee and F. S. Russell of the Boston College Heights, chairman of the business committee.

After the election of officers the convention adjourned for lunch which was served in the main hall of the Philomatheia Clubhouse. At three o'clock the delegates were guests of the Boston College Heights at the first baseball game in the Boston College—Holy Cross series at Fenway Park. The credit for forming the new association belongs to the Heights and especially to James Tobin, '25, of the Heights board, who handled the detail work of organization and welcomed the delegates to the conference.

Following is a list of the delegates to the conference:

The Bates Student: Kirby Baker, G. F. Miller, Miss Sylvia Meehan, Miss Gwendolyn Purinton; Boston College Heights: William A. Considine, M. I. Hart, H. B. Harris, F. S. Russell, James E. Tobin; Boston University News: Max

TECH FRESHMAN IS BADLY HURT HERE

In Danger of Bleeding to Death When Artery Is Severed by Blow from Javelin

Joseph O'Hearn, Cambridge, Mass., a member of the freshman track team at Tech, escaped death by the merest fraction last Saturday when he was struck by a javelin in the upper leg, on the Memorial Field while warming up for the meet with the local frosh. The blow severed the main artery in the upper thigh of the visitor, and he was prevented from bleeding to death only by the quick thinking of Captain Pettee, a member of the New Hampshire freshman team named Brooks, and by Coach Cowell. These men applied primitive first aid and Dr. Griffin was quickly on the scene from the baseball field. O'Hearn was taken to the Infirmary where an operation was performed. He is improving rapidly as the time goes on and it is expected that he will be able to leave for home within a short time.

The accident occurred previous to the start of the javelin event. The men from both teams were practising with the javelin and O'Hearn accidentally stepped into a low fast leave by a member of the local team. He pulled the spear from his leg unaided, and then sank to the ground, the spurting blood from the wound rising several feet in the air. Captain Pettee was one of the first to reach his side, and his knowledge of first aid enabled him to partially eliminate the bleeding until the doctor arrived.

During his stay here, many fraternalists have visited the young man at the Infirmary, and he is keenly appreciative of the treatment which he has received.

VARSITY NINE NOW ON NEW YORK TRIP

To Play Four Games Against Strong Clubs on Second Annual Trip to Metropolis

On Wednesday of this week, the base ball team left for a trip through New York State. Wednesday the team played at Providence. Providence College has one of the best teams this year that it has ever had and has gone through the season with only two defeats.

Thursday the team meets the strong New York Athletic Club at New York. This club is one of the fastest in the east and up to date has displayed some excellent playing. Friday, the team clashes with Fordham at New York. The Fordham team has gone through the season with few defeats and has beaten about every club that it has played. The game with the Connecticut "Aggies" at Storrs, Conn., is one that can not easily be judged. The "Aggies" have a fairly good team but the New Hampshire aggregation ought to take their scalps with good playing. Last Saturday's game with Lowell Textile was no game in which to judge the qualities of the varsity, because of the fact that the visitors were able to offer no opposition, but there is no doubt that if there was a little offered that the varsity would have come through with some fine playing as the whole team was in the best of condition.

LANGLEY-JONES

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langley recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Delia Frances, to Frederic Henry Jones of Portland, Maine. Miss Langley is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire in the class of 1921. She also attended the Hartford Art School in Hartford, Conn. She has been an art supervisor in several schools and at present is a decorator and teacher of private classes in art.

Mr. Jones attended Deering High School in Portland and a preparatory school in Westown, Pennsylvania. He completed his course at Shaw's Business College in Portland. He is now superintendent of the Novelty Rug Company of that city.

WELLESLEY INSTRUCTOR LECTURES TO Y.W.C.A.

At the regular Monday evening meeting of the Y.W.C.A. held in Congreve Hall, Miss Ann Roller, a member of the Faculty of Wellesley College, gave a very interesting lecture on the necessity for a good Y.W.C.A. organization. She gave much valuable information regarding successful methods of conducting meetings. She described very vividly the part that the Y.W.C.A. plays on the Wellesley campus. Miss Batchelder, '27, gave a violin solo accompanied by Miss Reid, '26.

SENATOR MOSES UPHOLDS PRESENT SENATE RULES AT CONVOCATION

Believes in Less and Better Laws for Nation Emphasizing New England's Need for Big Men in Senate

PORTSMOUTH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PRESENT

Senior Senator from New Hampshire, Now President Pro Tem of the Senate, Delivers Ringing Address to Student Body

Speaking before the faculty and the students of the University of New Hampshire, and the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce, guests of the University, on Wednesday, May 20, at the regular weekly convocation, George H. Moses, senior Senator from New Hampshire and president pro tem of the United States Senate, said that at no time in the history of the republic had the senate rules on debate caused delay on any important measure which would redound to the benefit of the country and that in many cases bills passed by the House of Representatives which entailed expenditures and would have worked serious harm had been amended or defeated by the upper house. Senator Moses said that he stood with President Coolidge in characterizing the Senate as "the citadel of freedom and the guarantee of minority liberty".

In his duel with Vice-President Dawes over the Senate rules, Senator Moses made in Durham one of the important speeches in his campaign to bring the country to a full realization of the part the Senate rules play in the preservation of liberty and in the focusing of public attention upon important public questions and called attention to the fact that the average age, ability, and integrity of the United States Senate stood as high now as it ever had.

TENNIS TEAM WINS AND LOSES

Defeats Clark 6-1 But Loses to Bowdoin 5-1

CRAIG WIELDING RACQUET

Win First Home Contest Here on Saturday Against Worcester Collegians

On Thursday, May 14, the varsity tennis team was defeated by Bowdoin at Brunswick, Maine, by a score of five to one and on the Saturday Saturday following, the team defeated the Clark contingent here by a score of six to one.

The match with Clark was almost a walkaway for the New Hampshire men. Gould played well enough to beat his man, but not nearly as well as at Bowdoin. Bowles had his man stopped with a mixture of chop and drive, something new for Bowles, and won as he pleased. For the first time this spring Craig showed his all-court game and earned an unusually large number of placements on smashes and cross-courts off his backhand. Brown had a three-set battle with a very steady opponent and won by serving better and saving faster shots for the last set. Whitehead looked like a winner at first, but tried to finish off the rallies too quickly, and his man made enough good gets to win. In doubles, Gould and Craig teamed much better than at Bowdoin and won as they pleased. Bowles and Carter played well together and won with something to spare.

Although New Hampshire lost to Bowdoin, the matches were very closely contested. In singles Capt. Gould ran into Hill of Bowdoin, a tactical player of real ability. Hill was running-up in the New England College Championship last year and won the championship of Maine at Bar Harbor last summer. Gould carried him to two deuce sets, largely by timely use of his lob, good court covering and deep drives off high bounding returns. Bowles defeated Leord in two sets by superior placing off the ground. Craig and Brown faced opponents who had better net games and since they were unable to keep the Bowdoin men from coming in, they were defeated. The doubles was the prettiest match of the afternoon, and was won by Bowdoin through better teamwork.

The team now has two wins and one defeat to its credit. Tufts comes here Saturday with a fine record and some keen battles are expected.

The following are the scores of the match with Clark: singles; Gould, N.H. d., Revzin, C, 6-2, 6-3, Bowles, N.H., d., Clarkson, C, 6-0, 6-1, Craig, N.H., d., Torlov, c, 6-2, 6-1, Springs, C.d., Whitehead, N.H., 7-5, 6-3, Brown, N.H., d., Sher, C, 5-7, 6-2, 6-1; doubles, Gould-Craig, N.H., d., Torlov-Clarkson, c, 6-2 6-1, Bowles-Carter, N.H., d., Revzin-Sher, c, 6-1, 6-1.

JOHN NEVILLE ELECTED EDITOR OF 1927 GRANITE

John P. Neville, of Portsmouth, N. H., was elected as editor-in-chief of the 1927 Granite, at a meeting of the sophomore class, held last Wednesday night. Barney G. Johnson, of Berlin, N. H. was chosen as business manager of the annual.

Speaking with his characteristic vigor before an audience, a significant part of which was the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce which had come to Durham on its annual visit, Senator Moses said that New England had fallen from the high place she held in senatorial councils twenty-five years ago when every important committee had its influential New England member to the present time when only two of thirty-three chairmanships belong to this part of the country, and continued with the statement that to regain and re-assert the influence which is rightfully hers, New England must keep in the Senate men of the very highest caliber. Advancement in the Senate depends upon seniority and keen and diligent service in the committee room.

Senator Moses' visit to Durham came on one of the finest days of the spring. The University flag was flown in his honor and in honor of the Portsmouth business men, and the students gave him an enthusiastic welcome when he rose to speak on the platform of the University armory. The program for the entertainment of the visiting guests included lunch in the Commons with President Hetzel as host, a regimental parade by the R.O.T.C. unit of the University and a tour of the campus. Late in the afternoon the Chamber of Commerce staged a baseball game on Brackett Field.

Following are excerpts from the speech made by Senator Moses on Senate rules and procedure:

"The Senate has almost 100 rules but they are not fixed. The Senate in large measure makes its own rule to meet changing conditions. The rules were first drawn up in 1806 by John Quincy Adams after thirty-five years of experience in parliamentary procedure. They remained unchallenged until 1841 in the fight over the charter of the bank of the United States following the legislation of the Jackson administration. At that time a filibuster was conducted and Henry Clay attempted to modify the constitutional right of Senate debate. Since that time other filibusters have been conducted and in no case has harm been done to the country while in almost every case the expenditure of vast sums of money has been avoided. In 1921 in the closing hours of the session three men conducted a filibuster against the appropriation bill and when the newly elected Congress met in special session $993,000,000 of war time expenditures were clipped from the bill.

JUSTIFIED

Once again the office of a University physician was fully justified when a member of the M.I.T. freshman track team was dangerously injured on the Memorial field last Saturday. The young man lay on the grass, an artery in his upper leg severed by a chance blow of the javelin; he was losing blood at a killing rate, although first aid measures were immediately taken by those on the field. In a very few moments Dr. Griffin was summoned from the baseball field where the varsity nine was playing, and the injured athlete was treated, taken to the infirmary, and an operation performed under almost primitive circumstances. The bleeding was stopped, and the young man is well on the way to recovery now.

The lesson is clear. It is very probable that this young fellow would have died unless medical attention had been immediately available. Dr. Grant was the only physician in Durham previous to appointment of the University physician; his private practice is extensive, and his professional calls take him many miles into the surrounding rural districts sometimes for a period of many hours. He was unable to devote much of his time to student clients. The town and the college together are too big for any one physician to handle. The position of a University physician requires his presence at all athletic contests. Saturday's incident proved that his presence imperatively is necessary, even in a sport where accidents seldom occur. The expense borne by the students was justified many times over in those few moments when that young life hung in the balance last Saturday.

The New Hampshire anticipates a fine new infirmary as called for by the model plan of the new University, as soon as it is possible to build one. Its need is great, and the trustees will do well to see that it is built as soon as possible.

AN ENTRANCE OF DISTINCTION

My observations may not stand the test of technical analysis, but my impressions are those of an admiring observer.

The architecture of this campus is not, on the whole, particularly impressive. Thompson Hall, for instance, is a rude, ill-fashioned structure, almost entirely devoid of true architectural beauty, in spite of its commanding location.

The entrance of the library, however, is one of the most beautiful I have ever seen, despite the fact that there is nothing elaborate or pretentious in its make-up.

Four fluted pillars, snow-white and massive, lend an atmosphere of strength and permanency. A smaller, lateral groove at the top of each gives a finishing touch to the support proper. At the top of each pillar there is a pair of concentric curvatures, forming the style of support known as Ionic.

Upheld by the four pillars, there is a structure in the shape of an inverted "V". In the center of this structure there is a Gothic shield in grey which is clearly defined against a background of pure white. The remainder of the entrance is purely Corinthian or modified Ionic. (The Corinthians added many curvatures and frescoes to the simpler types and increased their complexity.)

This library entrance should be the pride of the university students, as it symbolizes an architectural ideal of grace, culture and refinement.

VARSITY BEATS LOWELL TEXTILE

No Competition Offered By Slow Visitor's Team

DARKNESS HALTS GAME

New Hampshire Piles Up 19 Runs Against Visitors' One—Only Five Innings Played—Garvin and Bruce Twirl

On Thursday, May 14, the varsity toyed with the Lowell Textile base-ball team and came out on the large end of a 19 to 1 score. The game had to be called at the end of the fifth inning on account of darkness. It is probable that if the game had begun at noon of that day that the teams might have been able to complete the game by seven in the evening. As it was there was no interest for the spectator. A track meet might well be the proper term for the game.

Lowell Textile played very loose ball all during the game. Errors were numerous and bases on passed balls were something to be expected. In the five innings of the game, Lowell Textile made 10 errors and at the same time 11 New Hampshire men reached first base on passed balls.

The only time that the visitors were able to score was in the fourth, when Lowell managed to get two men on bases. On a hit between second and third, they managed to score one run. This run may be credited to errors on the part of the New Hampshire infield.

Garvin pitched a good game for the varsity and was given good support by the rest of the team. Errors on the New Hampshire nine were few and far between. Bruce was put in the game in the fourth and did fine work. This is the first time that this twirler has had a chance to display his merits, and he came through in fine shape. In the two innings that he was in, he allowed no hits. It is highly probable that in the near future he will be allowed to again pitch for the team and there is no doubt but what he will come through in the same way that he did Thursday. Considering the fine playing that the team showed in this game there is every reason to believe that they should make good on their New York trip and should come home victors.

MANY SOPHS TAKE ADVANCED COURSE

Sixty Per Cent of Class Sign Up for Last Two Years of Military Art

The prospects for the R.O.T.C. for the next two years are extremely favorable. The success of the unit here depends to a great extent on the number of Junior and Senior men taking the advanced course. Last year there was a decided advance in the number electing this course. This year's Junior class has a large percent of members under arms.

Reports from the Military Department show that fully 60% of the men of the present sophomore class have signified their intention of completing four years of military work here. These men are the pick of the sophomore class and are fine officer material. A list of those electing the advanced course follows:

THE FLAME THAT FIRES

COLLEGE athletic teams illustrate forcibly one truth—men achieve by inspiration. The bleachers' cry of "Hold 'em! Hold 'em!" has kept many a goal line uncrossed. "Touchdown! Touchdown!" has scored countless victories.

In an engineering organization like Westinghouse, this inspiration comes from engineering executives—men who correlate, organize, administer, and inspire. They are engineers first, but engineers with the power to enlist the best of other men.

Many derived their own first inspiration from the Founder, George

Westinghouse himself. He took a contract for electrifying the New Haven Railroad, for example, before the apparatus had even been designed.

"Now I've dropped you into the middle of the pond," he told his engineers. "It's up to you to swim out."

There was plenty of swimming—but Westinghouse knew his swimmers.

As has been true since organization began, the demand for men who can develop into leaders is far, far short of the supply. Westinghouse welcomes them. All industry welcomes them. Organizations lead because men, in turn, lead them.

This advertisement is seventh in a vocational series, outlining the fields for engineering achievement in the Westinghouse organization. A copy of the entire series will be sent to anyone requesting it.

ACHIEVEMENT & OPPORTUNITY

NEW BRANCH FORMED AT WORCESTER, MASS.

More Than 25 Alumni Present at First Banquet of Club Held May 4—Bert Woodward '22, Elected President

The Worcester Branch of the University of New Hampshire Alumni Association was organized at a most enthusiastic "get-together" meeting held in Worcester, Mass., at the Baratti and Ble restaurant on Monday evening, May 4, 1925. Those who were backing the enterprise of forming a club knew that much interest was being shown, but it was a delightful surprise to everyone to find a gathering of 25 alumni in the room where the banquet was held. After dinner toasts in which all present introduced themselves informally caused much merriment, and showed the general sentiment to be that a New Hampshire Club would receive real support. The following officers were elected: President, Bert Woodward, '22; Vice President, Mrs. Natalie Ewer Graham, '17; Secretary-Treasurer, Raymond Calpin, '22; Executive Committee, Mrs. I. Q. Colby, '97, L. Cooley, '17, and W. H. O'Brien, '17. Plans for monthly meetings were turned over to the committee, and the June meeting was announced as an informal supper meeting at the home of Raymond Calpin and Mrs. Calpin, 12 Belvidere Rd., Worcester.

Those present included: Mrs. L. Q. Colby, '97, I. Q. Colby, '99, C. L. Swan, '10, Mrs. Natalie Ewer Graham, '17, L. W. Cooley, '17, Mrs. L. W. Cooley, W. H. O'Brien, '17, Mrs. Gladys Brown Dexter, '17, Bert L. Dexter, H. S. Kidder, '16, Mrs. Christine Randall Payne, '19, Marjorie Saxton, '20, Raymond Calpin, '22, Mrs. Raymond Calpin, Ralph E. Cox, '22, J. Frederick Russell, '22, Bert Woodward, '22, H. Bromley Ambler, '23, Joseph B. V. Coburn, '23, R. S. Spaulding, '24, Malcolm P. Gould, '24, Albert Bell, Jr., ex-'25, Stanley Hixon, undergraduate, and Professor Charles Reed.

FROSH LOSE FIRST GAME TO GODDARD

Close Contest Ends in 2-1 Defeat for Yearling Nine After Poor Base Running Costs Them Runs

Last Saturday, May 16, the freshmen lost their first game of season to the strong Goddard nine by a two to one score. The game was undoubtedly the hardest that the freshmen have been called upon to play and it was the fastest game of the season. Goddard had some excellent players who knew their positions. These men were alert all the time and were playing "heads-up" baseball. They were quick to take the breaks and it was in these unfortunate periods that they scored.

The freshmen were the first to score, their first man crossing home plate in the first inning. This is one of the few times that the yearlings have scored first run, in the first inning. In the Sauborn game the visitors were the first to send a man across the bag for a run.

In the fourth, Willis scored by errors that were made by the New Hampshire infield. This evened the score and from then on both teams played fast ball. In the ninth inning, Bowen's error put a runner on first. The next man up bunted and the runner made second. He scored on a long drive to right field.

The New Hampshire team's loss may be accredited to poor base running. Several times in the pinches, a freshman could have made another base. Evans twirled for the freshmen and did excellent work. He is a good man for the position and is exceptionally cool in the pinches. White, the third "sacker" for the yearlings also played a wonderful game. He is right at home on the "hot corner" and is doing some excellent "stick" work.

Phalen, the catcher for the visitors, was their main standby. His excellent work behind and at the bat helped his team to gain the victory. Willis, the third baseman, was another outstanding feature of the game. He was probably the best hitter of the Goddard nine and his work on third was exceptional.

CHICAGO BRANCH HOLDS MEETING

Says Alumni Secretary Should Reside in Durham

OTHER ALUMNI NEWS

Manchester Branch Plans Big Banquet May 27 with Governor, Presidents Hopkins and Hetzel

The Chicago Branch of the Alumni Association held a meeting at the Great Northern Hotel, Chicago, Monday evening, May 11th. There were 15 members present to enjoy the steak dinner which was served at 6.30 o'clock, after which the president of the club, Dr. H. E. Barnard, '99, called the meeting to order.

The members were very much interested in a letter from President Hetzel to Col. Wm. E. Hunt, '99, which described the recent appropriation made by the state legislature. It was moved, seconded, and carried that Col. Hunt extend to President Hetzel the heartiest congratulations of the branch.

After more or less discussion it was moved and seconded that the office of secretary of the alumni association be maintained in Durham, and that the secretary be located in Durham while holding this office. Also that a copy of this motion be sent to all the other branches.

After plans were made for a meeting to be held in July the meeting was adjourned. The following were present: Dr. H. E. Barnard, '99, and Mrs. Barnard; P. D. Buckminster, '12, and Mrs. Buckminster; Albert H. Cook, '21; Leon H. Hawkins, '16; Col. Wm. E. Hunt, '99, and Mrs. Hunt; Arthur J. Leighton, '12; C. R. Morrill, '23; Miss Caroline M. Perkins, '19; C. F. Whittemore, '11, and Mrs. Whittemore; H. S. Brown, '16.

"FROSH" DEFEAT "TECH" RUNNERS

Field and Track Events All Closely Contested

SPECTACULAR 440 DASH

Freshmen Start Season with a Victory—Burke Makes Excellent Time of 53 Seconds in Quarter Mile

The Freshman track team started the 1925 season in perfect form when they conquered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Plebians by the comfortable score of 67-2-3 to 49-1-3 in their opening contest last Saturday afternoon.

All the races were closely contested and several of the races were won by mere inches. The teams were very evenly matched in all departments and not until the last events were over was the winner certain.

The quarter mile race was undoubtedly the feature of the meet. The elongated Burke, former Freshman X-country star, led the pack to the first corner closely followed by Meagher of MIT and Barclay of NH. When the back stretch was gained Meagher attempted to pass Burke but with each attempt Burke would extend his stride five or six yards or more and thus the battle waged until the home stretch was gained, and here is where Meagher weakened and Barclay who had been following closely upon his heels passed him, crossing the line a yard in advance for second place. The time, 53 seconds, is exceptionally good.

Final score: U of NH '28, 67 2-3 points; MIT '28, 49 1-3 points.

Results of the events:
100 Yd Dash—Won by Atkins, NH; second, Miller, MIT; third, Morris, NH. Time 10 3-5 sec.

The apple that rocked the earth

"I wonder why?"

In Isaac Newton's mind that question clamored for an answer. Many men had seen apples fall, but this man with the question mark mind found out why they fall—and his answer has helped us to understand the workings of a universe.

Would that we all could get a bite of that apple if it would inspire us too with the "I wonder why" attitude!

Intellectual curiosity is a great and moving force. It mobilizes reluctant facts. It is the stern drill-master which whips into shape that most invincible of armies—sure knowledge.

Curiosity, with the will to sweat out the answer, is the greatest asset you can acquire in your college course. This attribute is needed by industry today more than ever before.

upon debate and every bill is given all the attention it deserves in the calendar of business. In one day when I occupied the chair, 187 bills were enacted into law with due consideration of each.

"The country needs not more laws but the repeal of many of those now on the statute books. The popular theory that a law will remedy any condition is erroneous. The Senate acts as an important check upon the House the rules of which permit, upon the action and consideration of but seven men, passage of thoughtless legislation without debate or possibility of amendment.

Senator Moses concluded his speech with a quotation from President Coolidge, made while he was Vice President, and then said that that he agreed with him and stood by him.

An exchange of coaches for spring training has been effected between Princeton and the University of Michigan. Fielding Yost, the Michigan coach, is now in Princeton instructing the men in Michigan tactics. After Yost's visit is over with, Coach Roper of Princeton will go to Ann Arbor and give the Michigan men a taste of eastern coaching. The exchange has been made to introduce new ideas into the work of both teams.

There is no great difference between football training in the east and west, according to Yost.

Nashville to Have Little Theater.

Ambitious students of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, are planning a Little Theater for the university and the city. The plan is fathered by the Calumet Club, a Junior-Senior Literary Club which also sponsors the Masquerader, a comic. The first plays are three one-act plays to be produced in May.

Believing that Nashville is large enough to support a Little Theater venture, the Calumet Club is taking the burden of starting the venture on its own shoulders. They are gambling on the interest and support of civic and dramatic organizations of the city after the venture has been started.
