The entrance of the library, how­ever, is another matter. Although the central curvatures, forming the style of support known as Ionic, are fine officer material. A list of sixty per cent of class sign up. The summary:

College athletic teams illustrate forcibly one truth—men achieve by inspiration. The bleachers’ cry of “Hold ‘em! Hold ‘em!” has kept many a game alive. “Touchdown! Touchdown!” has scored countless victories.

In an engineering organization like Westinghouse, this inspiration comes from engineering executives—men who correlative, organize, administer, and inspire. They are engineers, first, but engineers with the power to enlist the best of other men.

Many derived their own first inspiration from the Founder, George Westinghouse himself. He took a contract for electrifying the New Haven Railroad, for example, before the apparatus had even been designed.

THE APPLE THAT ROCKED THE EARTH

"I wonder why?"

In Issue Newton's mind that question elapsed for many. Many men had seen apples fall, but this man with the question mark mind found out why they fall—and his answer has helped us to understand the workings of a universe.

Would that we all could get a bite of that apple, and understand too with the "I wonder why?" attitude!

Intellectual curiosity is a great and moving force, a motivating factor. It is the stern drill-master which winds into shape that most invincible of armies—knowledge.

But with the will to sweat out the answer, the greatest asset you can acquire in your college course. This attribute is needed by industry today more than ever before.
