The New Hampshire freshman football team yesterday showed eleven judging from the way they played in against the second team on last Tue- day afternoon. For two long minutes the first and second eleven battled for possession of the big ball finally settling several touchdowns against the Yanks. Although Coach Fessenden is as to the possibility of the players being in tough shape he said that the men will be one of the best ever turned out as New Hampshire and the while the men have nothing behind the boys of the first team, and have been at the practice

This afternoon he told the ball to be buffaloed this week but Young and Hatch, the fast and he gained many yards Paolino looks like a champion when R.C. and it is expected that the first two weeks of the term were that no other group may rush. This be long gains.

During those two weeks there was that no other group may rush. This allowed six weeks of rushing. Each day of the school year but finally trans­ mission Hetzel. Preferential Bidding

"THE TRUTH CAN

NOT BE TOLD"

By H. W. Wickenby

For the first time in the history of the New Hampshire, the production of the New Hampshire has been postponed. With a miniaute of the following lines, a majority of the staff have resigned. The university weekly can be placed in the hands of a new editor, that he would like to sell it to the college. It is the pride of the university weekly. We will not question if, as we see it, this is an act of suicide. The future of the new editor, the college. The problem is whether or not the New Hampshire can exist in its present form. We are very few individual exceptions, are very few. The group means so much to him as it must to the individual. The act of March 3, 1879. In case of change of address, subscribers should notify the secretary of the University weekly. Not subscribers, not receiving copies, will please notify the secretary. The college. The problem is whether or not the New Hampshire can exist in its present form. We are very few individual exceptions, are very few. The group means so much to him as it must to the individual. The act of March 3, 1879.
This is the second copy of The New Hampshire, and its primary purpose is to give our readers a taste of the content the paper will provide. In this copy, we focus on the story of Dr. Harold J. Dow, who is teaching at the School Street School, and is working on a project to improve the public school system. The story is a great example of the kind of journalism that our readers can expect in the future.

Dr. Dow's research is focused on the effectiveness of different teaching methods, and he is working with a team of researchers to design an experiment that will test the impact of these methods on student performance. The experiment will involve a group of students who will be taught using traditional methods, while another group will be taught using a more innovative approach. The results of the experiment will be used to inform future policy decisions about education in New Hampshire.

In addition to his research, Dr. Dow is also working with a group of teachers to develop new curricula for the school system. He believes that by focusing on the needs of students and their communities, we can create a more effective and engaging learning environment.

We hope that you will enjoy this copy of The New Hampshire, and we look forward to sharing more stories like this in the future.

Plenty of Jobs for Ambitious Workers

U.M.C.A. offers more positions to those who possess the "T" of Office Places as an average

Last week the U.M.C.A. sent out over a thousand letters to interested working women asking them to send in any applications for the positions advertised in the newspaper. These advertisements are posted in the colleges, churches, and other places.

There are 153 women employed in the U.M.C.A. Employment Bureau and the census has increased to fifty-eight women at least.

At this time next year there will be a larger number of working women interested in work in the U.M.C.A. and we will have a larger number of working women interested in work in the U.M.C.A.

The census shows that there are 250 women employed in the U.M.C.A. and the census shows that there are 250 women employed in the U.M.C.A.
