PROF. NORDYKE DISCUSSES WORLD COURT

From Page 1

In addition, other states can constantly assert the need to establish an international court.

Mr. World Federation for International Professional Associations

If a judge reasonably judges that the court's role in determining issues is merely incidental, he has no authority to pass judgment on the court.

Funds for the court are derived from voluntary contributions and, if necessary, from the U.S. Treasury. The court's work is voluntary and is not dependent on the availability of funds.

In case of change of address, subscribers should notify the publishers, and in the case of publication, the court, to avoid the danger of continued and unnecessary publication.

SCRAMBLE MAJORITY

In the scramble for the majority vote, it is often necessary to resort to unethical or dishonest methods. Such practices can undermine the integrity of the electoral process and lead to the election of candidates who may not represent the best interests of the voters.

The election results, however, may be used to justify such actions. It is important to consider the ethical implications of such practices and to ensure that elections are conducted in a fair and transparent manner.

PREPARING FOR EXAMINATIONS

Examinations can be challenging, but with proper preparation, students can excel. The key to success is to approach the exam with confidence and a positive attitude.

This article provides tips for preparing for examinations, including strategies for managing time, minimizing stress, and maximizing performance.

The exam results are available to students upon request. It is important to review the results to identify areas of strength and weakness and to adjust study habits accordingly.

ADVICE TO THE STUDENT

Advice to the student is important in guiding them towards success. It is crucial to provide constructive feedback and to encourage students to take an active role in their education.

The article offers advice to students, including tips for managing time, balancing academic and personal responsibilities, and maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

The advice is based on the experiences of successful students and is intended to provide guidance for those navigating the challenges of higher education.

GILDOW EXPERIENCES IN POLICY PARALYSIS

 Prefects will parade every minute of the past, if experiments courtailed this week by Dr. Robert Gildow, new instructor in the department of political science at the University, are successful.

Up to the present time, preliminary experiments indicate that there is a report about this disease which is causing more and more attention to poultry growers in New Hampshire than any other.

Observation will be given, and all the poultry plant under various conditions. As the direction of the inquiry has been changed, it is likely that the tents of securing a valuable prophylactic measure for the disease. The Prefect will assist in this work.

In a few weeks a small considerable number of people will have their hens vaccinated, and the results will be analyzed and subjected to the Prefects review in order to determine the value of the vaccine for the prevention of the disease.

GOVERNOR PRAYES N. H. APPLES AS BEST

Pledge Him Support to Horticultural Society of New Hampshire at Exposition — Barker Grants Presentation —

Defeat Theta Chi 13 to 10 in Close Game — Learns New Out of Race For Championships

The Alpha Tau Omega five beat the Theta Chi squad today by the score of 10 to 7. The second half of the game was of interest, since it was a contest between two of the strongest teams in the league.

In the first quarter it was a contest between a couple of the best teams, and the score was 7 to 3. In the second quarter, however, the Theta Chi team regained its position, and the score became 10 to 7. In the third quarter, the Alpha Tau Omega five had a lead of 8 to 2, and in the final quarter, the team was victorious.
