All Men Who Helped to Develop the University

THOMPSON'S UPSTAIRS

Students Unaware of Significance of Portraits—Represent Men Who Have Given Unstinting Service in Early Days of Institution

There are a great many students who have never been in the back room upstairs in the Library. There are also many to whom this room is very familiar. Yet the latter probably know no more about the two men whose portraits hang there than the former, for these latter go there strictly to study what they have to—nothing else. We have therefore taken the trouble to find out something about the aforementioned men, and also about seven other gentlemen whose portraits hang unnoticed in the Library.

The portrait on the south wall of the upstairs back room is that of Benjamin Thompson, for whom Thompson Hall is named. Benjamin Thompson was born in Durham, April 22, 1806, and died here January 30, 1890. He never married. He inherited his father's residence in Durham village with neighboring lands, and the so-called Warner farm. Mr. Thompson taught school for three months in 1825 for $12 a month in District Number Two, and for $1 a month in District Number Four. No public office was ever held by him except that of auditor for one year. By strict economy and good management in the course of half a century, he increased his property to over $400,000. He was never strong physically. Nearly all his property he willed to the State of New Hampshire in trust, "The object of this device being to promote the cause of agriculture by establishing . . . an agricultural school to be located on my Warner farm, so-called, and situated in said Durham, wherein shall be thoroughly taught, both in the schoolroom and in the field, the theory and practice of that most useful and honorable calling." The real estate so bequeathed was valued at $17,000, and the Benjamin Thompson Trust Fund amounted to $363,823. Thus he wisely chose to perpetuate his memory by honoring his native town and conferring blessings upon untold generations.

The other portrait in the back room is that of Captain Andrew Lapish Simpson. The present parsonage of the Community church was built by him in 1840, in which year he married Lydia Kelley. Captain Simpson was a noted seaman and rounded Cape Horn twenty-six times. He was also a representative in the Legislature for several years. He died in 1870. When his wife died in 1895, she bequeathed the house to the Congregational Society and to the Durham Library Association. The latter sold their half to the former, and the house has been used as a parsonage ever since.

The portrait in room 206 is that of Hon. Benjamin F. Prescott. He was born in Epping, Feb. 20, 1833. He attended Exeter and graduated from Dartmouth in 1856. He practiced law in Concord. He was later associate editor of the Independent Democrat. He was twice elected governor in 1877 and 1878. Gov. Prescott, throughout his public life, took a deep interest in his native state, and few of New Hampshire's sons have done more for her. He was a trustee of New Hampshire college when it was located at Dartmouth. He died January 21, 1895.

The portrait of Judge Valentine Smith is on the back wall behind the library desk. Judge Smith was born in Lubberland May 26, 1774. He was a teacher and surveyor. He was town clerk from 1802 to 1819, and from

GLEE CLUB APPEARS ON LYCEUM COURSE PROGRAM

The fourth number of the Lyceum Course was given last night by Miss Grace Leslie and the Glee Clubs with Mr. Manton of the music department as accompanist. The program was of special interest because of the part played by the local organization in the concert.

This year there are seventy-five men and fifty girls enrolled in the Glee Clubs which is a gain of ten per cent. over last year. This was the last appearance of the Clubs before Easter.

Miss Leslie's fine voice was very pleasing. She was as much at ease singing operatic parts, usually omitted by contraltos as when singing folk songs.

The program was as follows:
 Drake's Drum, S. Coleridge Taylor
 Men's Glee Club
 Auf Dem Neer, Franz
 Marins D'Island, Foudrain
 Liebesbotschaft, Schubert
 Trois Noisettes, Dupont
 Chanson Slave, Charminals
 Je Suis Trop, Jeannette, Miss Leslie
 XIV Century French Folk Song
 It Was A Lover and His Lass, Chadwick
 Girls' Glee Club
 Aria L'Ingrate M'Abbandona (Le Propheeta), Meyerbeer
 Summer Evening, Palmgren
 Cavalier Song, C. Villiers Stanford
 Miss Leslie and Men's Glee Club
 Now The Spring is Come, (XV Century), Titcomb
 The Tempters, Titcomb
 Requiem, Arthur Foote
 Dreaming Time, Strickland
 Wings of night, Wintner Watts
 Spring Song of the Robin Woman, Cadmun
 Hallelujah Amen, Miss Leslie
 Combined Glee Clubs Handel

Last Monday night twenty picked men from the Glee Club gave five numbers at the Guest Night program of the Woman's Club. In addition to the singing Mr. Manton played two solos. After the entertainment the Glee Club members enjoyed an evening of dancing.

N. H. CLUB FAVORS WILDCAT AS COLLEGE MASCOT

The N. H. Club went on record Monday night as being in favor of the Wildcat for the New Hampshire mascot. Other names—Bull, Husky, Mountain Lion—were considered, but the Wildcat was adjudged the best for reasons which follow. The Wildcat is small and aggressive—like New Hampshire. The actions of the wildcat are more symbolic of a New Hampshire team on the field than those of the sluggish bull. The bull would be more suitable for a larger college than New Hampshire. Furthermore, the actual mascot, if a wildcat, could be more easily transported from place to place than a bull.

PROMOTION OF INTEREST IN CLUB FOR ARCHITECTS

At a gathering of the members of the Architectural Society Thursday night, plans were proposed for the promotion of interest in architecture on this campus. The club has planned to have well-known professional architects address them on architectural subjects during the winter term. Professor Huddleston and Mr. Dodge spoke to the society on the purpose and the benefits of similar organizations in other universities. President Willis Littlefield, '26, was in charge of the meeting. Refreshments were served during the course of the meeting.

A basketball league has been formed among the members, each class having a team. Similar projects are aimed to awaken interest in the club.

NO QUIZZES WEEK PRECEDING FINALS

Student Council to Petition Administration Committee—Glee Clubs Will Not Be Included in Point System

At a meeting of the Student Council held Monday, it was voted to present a petition to the Administration Committee requesting that no announced or unannounced quizzes be given the week preceding final examinations, as such quizzes are considered unfair to the students. It was also voted that the Glee Clubs will not be included in the "point system" inasmuch as they are under University control and receive credit toward graduation.

President Harry W. Steere informed the organization that the point system will be a University requirement hereafter and will be enforced by administration authorities. The chart showing the officers of the various campus activities and other students who come under the new point system, which hangs in the NEW HAMPSHIRE office, was approved.

The council discussed the question of a mascot and decided to devote part of a convocation to the subject. A certain length of time will be also allowed in which the alumni may submit their choices.

VARSIITY QUINTET ON WEEK-END TRIP

New Hampshire Due to Play Mass. Aggies and Springfield This Week—Both Important Games of the Schedule

The Varsity basketball squad leaves Durham Friday, for a series of two of the hardest games of the season. The New Hampshire "five" meets its first real opponent Friday afternoon, when it clashes with the strong Massachusetts "Aggie" quintet. The Amherst "club" has practically the same team that defeated New Hampshire last year by two points in an overtime period. Samuels, who captained the "Aggies" last year, is the only man not in this year's line-up. Massachusetts Aggies are doubtless New Hampshire's hardest opponents, but by the showing the Varsity made against Maine and the Portland A. C., the situation is encouraging.

The second test is with the powerful Springfield quintet. Springfield was one of the first institutions in the country to show the worth of basketball as a sport, and has consequently developed strong basketball clubs. This trip will help a great deal in determining New Hampshire's strength in the league.

NEW COMMONS WING ATTRACTS STUDENTS

Addition Transforms Former Building into a Uniform, Beautiful Edifice—Will Be Opened for Carnival

There is hardly a person in the University, or even the town-folk who has not, some time or other, commented on the great improvement that has come over the appearance of the Commons Building. But of these many admirers, how many have taken the opportunity to view this improvement from the interior? Everyone is aware of the fact that the University sadly lacks lobbies, and drawing room facilities in the dormitories. The new wing in the Commons furnishes one of the needed requirements, besides serving various other purposes.

It is expected that the new wing will be ready in time for the Carnival. As a matter of fact, it is practically completed now, the delay being due to the floor treatment, which will take two weeks. The addition is very attractive. The basement is arranged for the Commons help, and various types of supply rooms. The first floor is divided into three compartments, namely: a coat-room, two medium sized rooms, and a very attractive large room. The second floor is similar to the first except that the large compartment can be divided by a folding-door. The third floor is made up of women's dormitory rooms which will be occupied within a few weeks. The wing is finished in dull oak, and two fireplaces give a homelike effect. This will be helpful as a rest room for students, and a place to entertain visiting teams. The Y. M. C. A. will occupy a room on the second floor.

The outside appearance alone is a great asset to the Institution as it has transformed an unbalanced, unfinished building into a uniform, beautiful edifice of the same design as Fairchild Hall and the new dormitory, now in the process of construction.

N. H. CLUB TO HAVE ANNUAL MINSTRELS

Show Planned for April 10—C. W. Gray General Chairman—Mr. Manton and Mr. Hennessy to Assist Production

The N. H. Club, at a meeting Monday evening, drew up further plans for its Minstrel Show which is to be held April 10. C. W. Gray, chairman announced the following committees, which will be in charge of the different features of the evening's entertainment:

Show committee: P. Davis, chairman; L. Smith, E. Blewett, F. Fudge, E. Coughlin. Properties: F. Kirk, chairman; E. Munroe, W. Prince. Dance: W. Davis, chairman; N. Weeks, S. Craig. Refreshments: W. Hoagland, chairman; R. Nicora, J. Bloomfield. Publicity: E. Warren, chairman; H. Applin, L. Sargent.

These committees will work under supervision of the general committee, which consists of C. W. Gray, H. Tuck, and W. French.

Mr. Manton and Mr. Hennessy have consented to lend their services to help make the production both a musical and dramatic success.

It has always been the custom of the N. H. Club in the past to stage a show for the entertainment of the student body and others. This year the organization has selected the minstrel show and its cast will be selected from the entire student body. This plan gives more scope in the selection of talent.

It was proposed that a dance be held after the show; a committee was appointed, but as yet nothing definite has developed on this matter. The show itself will be the feature of the evening.

SIX GIRLS INITIATED BY ALPHA XI DELTA SOCIETY

VARSIITY DEBATERS MEET TUFTS NEXT

Strong Opposition Expected in Next Debate Here on Feb. 11

The next debate of the University of New Hampshire Debating League will be held on Thursday evening, Feb. 11, at the Community House. At this time the varsity debaters will meet the delegation from Tufts College of Medford, Mass. The topic to be argued is as follows: "Resolved, that the United States should join the League of Nations." The affirmative side of the question will be defended by Sleeper, Johnson, Neville and Page, of New Hampshire.

The debate will be a single contest, with 12 minute speeches, and 6 minute rebuttals. A popular vote will be taken to determine the attitude of the student body on this question. One official judge will declare the winner.

The topic of this debate is one of civic importance at the present time. It has been a topic of much discussion throughout the nation since its defeat by the Senate several years ago. The debate will be of keen interest to the student body, who will at some future time serve in the capacity of representatives of the people.

VARSIITY QUINTET TAKES PORTLAND

Roll Up Score 56-18 Against Ex-College Stars

HUGE THROG FILLS GYM

First Half Brings Close Play but Speedy Hoopmen Score at Will in Final Minutes—Substitutes Perform Well

The Varsity basketball team easily rolled up the score of 56-18 against the Portland A. C. at the Gym last Saturday evening. Although the game was comparatively slow, it proved interesting to the huge throng which filled the available space. The visitors were a group of ex-college stars whose shooting ability and experience provided excellent opposition for the Blue and White in spite of their lack of team work.

In the first period the Varsity was unable to score many points as Portland does not use the five men defense and, until the Varsity got used to playing against this method, the opponents held them in check to a score of 7 to 3. In the second quarter the New Hampshire "club" began to swing into form and this quarter ended with New Hampshire 21 and Portland A. C. 10. In the third period the Varsity completely ran away with the Portland "Club" and it ended with the Varsity 40, to Portland's 12. The latter scored only two points in the period. The final period brought forth another attack by the Varsity second team, which netted New Hampshire 16 additional points, and the contest ended with the Varsity 56, and Portland A. C. 18.

The points made by the Portland quintet were practically all long shots as it was a difficult task to get beyond New Hampshire's guards. This "club" consisted of some "big" men in the athletic world, namely: Gibbons, an "ex" Bowdoin man, picked on Walter Camp's all-American Foot-

WILDCATS

For the past three weeks THE NEW HAMPSHIRE has printed letters from alumni, who have been interested in responding to the numerous requests and pleas for suggestions for a college mascot. So far, the answers have been decidedly in favor of the Bulls. A few days ago, one of the most important organizations on the campus voted to go on record as being in favor of a mascot different from the Bulls, namely, the Wildcats.

A decision of this kind by such an organization as the N. H. Club, which has the prestige of having for its members all the letter men on the campus, should be given careful consideration by the students and alumni. For years, this Club has been pushing the idea of a University mascot, but the time has never been ripe for the actual choosing of the mascot. The issue is entirely up to the student body and the alumni. What will be done about this matter? The question cannot be avoided for another year. New Hampshire must keep up with its sister schools. A mascot must be chosen; a mascot that will be symbolic of New Hampshire teams, that will glorify in victory and encourage in defeat.

There have been various arguments forwarded in favor of the Bulls. In like manner the N. H. Club has presented its argument in favor of the Wildcats. The Wildcat is a native of New Hampshire. It is a small but aggressive animal. What could be more symbolic of New Hampshire teams than aggressiveness? The Wildcat is noted for its speed and ability to fight when cornered. New Hampshire teams have never been known to give up the battle until the final whistle has blown, even with defeat staring them grimly in the face.

The N. H. Club argues that the Wildcat represents the football teams by its aggressiveness, the basketball and baseball teams by its ability to fight when cornered, and the track teams by its speed in overtaking its opponents.

Such men as "Dutch" Connors, "Cy" Cotton, "Fat" Hobart, "Soup" Campbell and other well known New Hampshire "grads" were the instigators of this movement in favor of the Wildcats. The N. H. Club of today is merely approving the suggestions of former members.

The question comes up, "Whose vote should carry the most weight?" That is a subject for debate but it hardly seems fair that the problem should be given such little consideration by the students. It is a question of much importance and should be treated accordingly.

NOTICE

The result of the balloting for the official mascot will be withheld until the next issue of THE NEW HAMPSHIRE as the Student Council is planning to conduct a student ballot at the next regular Convocation. Some of the suggestions have been as follows: Wildcats, Huskies, Bulls, Unicorn, Centaur, Jaguar, and Mustang.

HEBRON WINS OVER FROSH BASKETEERS

Maine Team Victors by 39-18 Score—Wass and Small Star for Winners—Beck Plays Well for 1929 Scrubs

The strong Hebron Academy team beat the freshman basketball men Friday night by the score of 39-18 at the big gym. The Hebron team thereby continued to keep their record of wins over the New Hampshire freshmen intact, never having been defeated by the yearlings.

Hebron has always been noted for its well-trained basketball teams and this year's squad was no exception. They passed around the five man defense of the blue and white frosh with little difficulty. Most of their points were scored on under-the-basket shots. The freshmen played hard, but they were outclassed in every department of the game. Coach Fernald used various combinations in trying to check the scoring of the Maine academy team, but with slight success.

Hebron opened the game with two baskets, shot in quick succession. They continued to score easily through the first period. Landauer entered the game, taking McNamara's position at guard. Later in the same period Beck and Lucinski went in as forwards, and Chandler as center. The period ended in Hebron's favor, 11-3. Beck started the scoring in the second quarter for the frosh by dropping one in from the side line. Fouls were called frequently on the 1929 team for illegal guarding. The half closed with the Hebron team still in the lead, 19-10.

In the second half Clement started as guard, the only change in the lineup from the close of the preceding period. The freshmen tried many long shots, finding the Hebron defense impenetrable. Bruce scored two baskets by this method, but his teammates failed to follow up the tries at the basket. Beck became too active in his guarding and left the game on personal fouls. The game ended with the freshmen making several baskets against the Hebron substitutes, who had entered the contest during the last quarter.

Wass was the high scorer for Hebron, with nine baskets from the floor and three from the foul line. His floor work and passing were the best seen here this year in the freshmen games. Captain Small played a strong defensive game and scored three baskets. Lane, the tall and rangy center, got the jump nearly every time on Bruce and Chandler.

Captain Clement failed to score a basket, but was active on the defense throughout the game. Beck starred for New Hampshire, scoring three baskets from the floor. He and Lucinski worked well together in the forward positions. Many substitutions were made in the game for the freshmen.

In the only basketball game here this week, the frosh play the Providence Technical High School tomorrow night. This team is a new opponent for the freshmen and arrangements are being made to have the team on the schedule for the coming years.

PLANNING BOARD REPORT GIVEN AT MEN'S CLUB MEETING

Amateur Vaudeville Also Feature of the Evening—Reports Show Progress Made in Community

The meeting of the Men's Club Thursday evening at the Faculty Club was featured by amateur vaudeville and a report of the Durham Planning Board. A mimic broadcasting station was put in operation for the evening with weather forecasts, bedtime stories and humorous acts on its initial program. Following this, Director Kendall, who is chairman of the Planning Board, gave his report for the past year.

Mr. Kendall's report contained the work done by several of the sub-committees of which the Board is composed. The Parks committee, Mrs. Henderson, chairman, has commenced its activities by maintaining the small park at the corner of Main street and Madbury road. The Zoning committee, under Prof. Huddleston, has been considering the advisability and means of zoning Durham. Although a zoning system has been enacted by the state legislature, it seems to be too complicated for a township the size of Durham.

Mr. Littlehale, of the Town Forest committee, recommended the survey of the Doe Farm, which at present constitutes the only land by the town of Durham, suitable for a forest. More than a third of this farm has already been planted by the citizens and boys of the town with the cooperation of the Forestry Department. This planting comprises about 1,000 small trees. Mr. Woodward reported for the Game Refuge committee of the Board, that it was proposed to convert the College Woods into a game refuge, under state supervision. The area of old growth timber, about 75 acres in extent, is very suitable for this purpose. A game refuge such as this would have to be approved by the state and policed partly by means of the state's funds. Such a refuge is justified in that it acts as a reservoir for game, is an added attraction for the College Woods, and a help toward solving the trespass problem, which is becoming more acute.

Dean Case reported for the Sidewalks committee, that the most important thing for the present is the making of profile maps and establishing the location and grades for streets and sidewalks in Durham. He feels that his senior class in Civil Engineering will be able to work on this problem in the spring. A map has been completed showing the amount of highway and sidewalk in good condition, at present, and indicates that there are nearly three miles of road still needing improvement. The Dean also, as chairman of the Water Supply committee, stated that an attempt would be made very soon to solve the water supply problem of the town, which he is now investigating.

That a salt water bathing beach is not only feasible but probable was proposed by the chairman. This bathing pool would be an enlargement of one which is found just below the bridge, by removing boulders and building a dam. The cost of doing this would be greatly lessened by making it a project for Durham Day, similar to the old New Hampshire Day.

It is the hope of Chairman Kendall that more intimate relationship may soon exist between the farmers who live within a short radius of Durham, and the township. This will mean that trading will be done directly with these producers; rather than indirectly, through the city markets. Other committees of the Board not reporting were: the Shade Trees committee, of which Mrs. Potter is chairman; and the Play Grounds committee, Mrs. Smith, chairman.

The first Planning Board was appointed by the President of the Men's Club, in the winter of 1923-1924. Another and stronger board commenced work the next fall. This committee consists of ten members, including the selectmen of the town. It was subsequently decided to organize the board on a basis of projects, and this method is proving very satisfactory. This Planning Board is representative, and promises to wield a strong influence in the affairs of Durham.

UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB SINGS AT NEWMARKET

A delegation of eighteen picked men of the University Men's Glee Club were the guests and entertainers of the Newmarket Woman's Club, Monday, January 25, at the New Market Town Hall. The program was enjoyed by a large gathering, after which refreshments and dancing were enjoyed. The club was under the direction of Professor Manton, who also rendered some piano solos.

The program was as follows:
 Drake's Drum (Glee Club) Ireland Readings Mrs. Harrison
 Piano solos Mr. Manton
 Cavalier Song (Glee Club)
 Villiers Stanford

 Piano solos Mr. Manton

N. H. BUILDING PROJECTS FAR AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

The three building projects started on the campus last summer are all progressing ahead of schedule. The lounge and club rooms in the wing on the Commons will be ready for use during the Carnival. The addition on the rear of the Commons will be completed in a month or six weeks. It will contain additional storage space and rooms for the women help. There will eventually be a revision of the cafeteria system, and the kitchen will be enlarged.

Helzel Hall is four or six weeks ahead of schedule due to the mild weather. The roof will be finished in a few days, and the heating system will be completed so that the interior work can be started. The building will accommodate one hundred and fifty-six men and should be ready by the latter part of the summer.

Land Grant Association Strong for Military Science

BEST OFFICER MATERIAL

Protest Against the Repeal of Essential Provisions of National Defense Act, Which are Inadequate to Maintain R. O. T. C. Units

By Dr. John M. Thomas, President of Rutgers University

The Association of Land Grant colleges stands squarely and strongly by the official military policy of the nation as embodied in the National Defense Act. We believe that the act provides for a reasonable, democratic, and efficient system of national defense suitable for a nation which has no designs of aggression, but which is resolved to maintain itself in security with the least possible disturbance of the industrial employment of its citizens.

We recognize the important function of the Land Grant Colleges in making the provisions of the National Defense Act effective. The keystone of that act is the constant maintenance of an adequate supply of reserve officers. Our institutions are the largest source of supply of reserve officers and the most economical means of supplying them. Better officer material does not exist than the student bodies of these colleges. They are prepared for their reserve commissions with no interruption to their civic employments and with gain rather than loss to their educational development. Military education is training in organization, in leadership, and in command, which qualities are of utmost value to college youth.

Because of our conviction of the educational value of military education as now organized and conducted by the War Department in the Land Grant Colleges, and from our sense of the patriotic duty of institutions founded by act of the national government and maintained by public funds to bear their part in the security of the nation, we desire no release from the contract with the government which we have observed faithfully for more than fifty years—to include military science and tactics as a required element in our curricula.

We protest against the indirect but virtual repeal of essential provisions of the National Defense Act through appropriations of Congress which are inadequate to maintain the R. O. T. C. units in our colleges at their full strength and efficiency. Already, in the face of increasing attendance, orders have been issued to curtail the enrollment of students taking military instruction. Allowances to enlisted men detailed to R. O. T. C. units in Land Grant Colleges have been reduced and in some cases discontinued, and it is increasingly difficult to secure these valuable assistants to the military staff.

This Association endorses the statement with reference to retrenchment for R. O. T. C. purposes made by its honored member, President William O. Thompson:

"The methods proposed are a body blow at this type of education and if persisted in will within a decade, or perhaps even within half that time, render the military organizations, especially the Land Grant Colleges, something of a by-word."

We desire to make military instruction in these institutions more efficient, rather than less so; and to relate our activities to the plans of defense in such manner that each branch of the service may be provided with its full complement of reserve officers.

We therefore authorize the Executive Committee of this Association to set forth to the officers of the Government and to members of Congress the judgment of the institutions here represented that provision should be made to keep step in the development of R. O. T. C. units at the Land Grant Colleges with the growth in numbers at those institutions and to maintain such units at full strength and in the greatest possible efficiency.

We also request the War Department to revise its standards and terminology in the classification of institutions in efficiency of military instruction. The phrase "distinguished college" is misleading to the public. Methods of classification should be found which are not unfair to the smaller institutions in comparison with those of larger attendance and greater facilities.

The institutions comprising this Association have expended many thousands of dollars in building armories and providing equipment for military education.

Relying upon the good faith of the government and upon their contract with the nation, which has been renewed and strengthened by legislation enacted through more than half a century, they have come to depend upon their military departments for important elements in a sound and practical education for American citizenship. In a period of marked advance in every other feature of their enterprise, technical, scientific, and cultural, they are unwilling to take a backward step in potential protection of the nation for whose safety and honor their whole effort is directed.

AGGIE ALUMNI TO FORM ORGANIZATION

Plan Originated with the '23 Aggies at Recent Meeting of That Organization—Professor Depew Guest of Honor

The formation of an organization of all the agricultural alumni of the University that are now residing in the state will be fostered by the "23 Aggies," a society made up of the agricultural students of the Class of 1923. Although the time of the meeting is not definitely settled, it may be held during Farmers' and Home-Makers' week in August each year at Durham.

A year ago at their meeting the "23 Aggies" adopted as their slogan "Boost New Hampshire" and, being agricultural students, this advancement in the state is of vital importance to them. The committee now making plans for the organization of the agricultural alumni consists of the officers of the "23 Aggies" which are Clyde R. Cotton, president and chairman; D. Kilton Andrew, vice president; Leroy J. Higgins, secretary-treasurer; Howard A. Rollins, treasurer of the University Alumni association; and one more member to be picked from another class.

There were about thirty agricultural students in the Class of 1923 who were known as the "23 Aggies" and whose spirit and activities in campus affairs brought them into the lime-light during their undergraduate days. Several were acknowledged leaders of the student body but they were especially noted for their tendency to stick together and aid one another out of the various difficulties which arose from time to time. In order that this fellowship should not end with their college days they formed the "23 Aggies" shortly before graduation in June, 1923. Earl Farmer was elected the first president of the organization. They agreed at this time to hold a yearly get-together and the practice has been in effect ever since. The next meeting will take place on Dec. 18, 1926, at the Hotel Carpenter, Manchester.

Professor Depew of the Dairy Department was the guest of honor at the recent meeting when the plans for the reorganizing of the agricultural alumni were made. Officers for the coming year were chosen and it was decided that Mr. Gale Eastman, professor of agronomy, should be invited to the next banquet.

UNIQUE PICTURES

HANG IN LIBRARY (Continued from Page One.)

1827 to 1838. He was a selectman for eleven years and a justice of the peace for fifty-six years. He taught one of the first four Sunday School classes formed in Durham in 1819. A highly useful citizen, he was interested in the church, in education, and in the Durham Social Library.

On the floor near the window stands the portrait of Hamilton A. Mathes. He was born July 16, 1843. He held various town offices and was one of the prime movers in establishing the Durham Social Library, and was its president until his death in 1891. He was a manufacturer of brick, employing two hundred men in five brick yards. In the last year of his life he sold 8,000,000 bricks. He was president of the Piscataqua Navigation Company, which he helped to organize. With his brother, Valentine, he formed an organization with a capital of $100,000 and had two boats and twelve barges engaged in freighting from Eastport, Maine, to Boston. He was an influential member of the Congregational Society.

The portraits of Ezekiel Webster Dimond, George W. Nesmith, and Henry Griswold Jesup hang in the south-west corner of the library. The first was born in Warner, August 7, 1836. Through years of farm work, he developed a vigorous constitution. He attended Kimball Union Academy and graduated from Middlebury College. With the establishment of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and the Mechanics Arts at Hanover, Mr. Dimond was elected on April 28, 1868, to be its first professor. Mr. Dimond returned from Europe to assume the position and the first term began with less than a dozen students. But the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and the Mechanics Arts outgrew room after room in Dartmouth buildings, and it became apparent that a separate building was necessary for the agricultural institution. Professor Dimond was instrumental in having erected Culver Hall, finer than any of the Dartmouth buildings. No one did more for the advancement of agricultural science in New Hampshire than did Professor Dimond. His achievements were all out of proportion to the length of his life, for he died July 6, 1876, under forty years of age.

George W. Nesmith was born in Antrim, New Hampshire, October 23, 1800. He was judge of the Superior Court of New Hampshire from 1859 to 1890, trustee of Dartmouth College from 1858 to 1890, trustee of New Hampshire College from 1870 to 1890, and president of the board the last three years. He was a shrewd man and his influence in the state was great. He died in Franklin, May 2, 1890.

Henry Griswold Jesup was a Yale man, an authority on botany, and associated with the Chandler Scientific Department at Dartmouth.

VARSIITY RINK MEN LOSE TO EXETER

Town Team Wins by 4-3—Defence Work of Home Team Outstanding Feature of Game

The varsity hockey team was defeated last Saturday the second time this year by the strong Exeter town team, losing by a 4-3 score.

The defensive work of the varsity was the outstanding feature of the game, with Blewett and Fudge doing the best work. Percival's hard and fast shooting and clever stick handling was the varsity's best contribution to the offense. The little, yet aggressive, forward line of the town team proved fast and peppered New Hampshire's defense from all angles. For the greater part of the first period the score was 1-0 in favor of the home team, but late in this period a hard shot by Stock from near the boards evened the score. Exeter forged ahead in the first part of the second period but Percival, New Hampshire's big offense man, scored on a hard side shot and the score was tied. In the closing minutes of this period Exeter scored again and the period ended 3-2 in favor of the town team. On the opening face of the third period Percival, with a bullet-like shot, whipped the puck by Russell and the score was again deadlocked. The teams battled for the greater part of this period with the score tied and only after a fierce onslaught in the final minute of play did Exeter go to the front. This last goal ended the scoring for the day.

The Varsity showed great improvement in their stick handling, and seemed much faster down the ice. The work of several of the substitutes was commendable, showing that there are several good men for replacements.

The summary: New Hampshire, Exeter 3, Williams (Connor) 1w, (Chandler) 1w, (Garvey) 1w, Percival, c, Thurston, c, Dearington, 1w, Stock (English) 1w, Applin, 1d, Holmes, 1d, Fudge, 1d, Booth, 1d, Blewett, 1g, Russell, 1g. Score: Exeter 4, New Hampshire 3. Goals by Percival 3, Stock 2, Thurston 2. Penalties: Thurston 2m, Williams 2m, Thurston 1m, Williams 1m. Referee: Criss. Goal Umpires: Fowler and Sanborn. Time: 3 1/2 min. periods.

PHILLIPS-ANDOVER NEXT ON HOME RELAY SCHEDULE

The Varsity Relay team will hold its second practice meet, in preparation for the B. A. A. games, with Phillips Andover Academy here on the new board track on Saturday afternoon. The Andover quartet is fast and during the last few years has held the edge on Exeter, beating them in their last contest. The Varsity men will probably experience a little more difficulty against Andover than they did last week against the Exeter team.

Coach Paul Sweet has several men this year in nearly the same class so tryouts were held Tuesday, to determine who would line up Saturday. The team will be picked from the following men: Daland, Toolin, Van Allen, Atkins and McManus.

DISCUSSION HELD AT PI GAMMA MEETING

The Pi Gamma Fraternity held its bi-weekly meeting in the Pi Gamma room, Thompson Hall, Wednesday, January 20th. The topic under discussion was "Adaptability." No definite programs for future meetings have been arranged as yet, but more discussions are planned.

COMMUNITY HOUSE OPEN DURING CARNIVAL WEEK

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUTS DATE IS POSTPONED

New York Meet Scheduled for Carnival Week—M. I. T. and Keene Normal Bout Pending—New Men Look Good

With the Novice and College Championship bouts postponed until in February, and with three scheduled Varsity bouts for next month, the University of New Hampshire boxing team is fast settling down to the season's routine. Within the last week several new and likely candidates for positions in the different classes have reported to Coach Fred Brown for training.

Among these late arrivals are Ralph Lizio, flyweight; Eddie Warren, bantamweight; and John Reed, middleweight. Lizio, who is a very clever boxer as well as a hard hitter was runner-up in the 125 pound class in the College Championships last year. He was defeated by Jimmie Boyd in the finals. Reid, a rangy lad with lots of speed and a heavy punch, is putting up fine competition for Captain "Al" Smith, and is improving rapidly. Warren, who is showing class at 135 pounds, will be an asset to the team.

Faculty Adviser C. S. Pettee has arranged the following schedule for the Varsity team. All bouts are to be fought in the men's gymnasium. New York University, February 13; M. I. T., Feb. 20. Dates for return bouts with M. I. T., and a bout with Keene Normal School are pending.

At Laconia High he captained the basketball and baseball teams. He has played in three state basketball tournaments and last year was named all-state scholastic forward. Clement is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, and is enrolled in the Liberal Arts college.

SCOUT LEADERSHIP CLASS HOLDS PARTY IN CABIN

The class in Girl Scout Leadership held a party last Wednesday after Convocation at the cabin in the College Woods. After practice in following trails and interpreting signs and signals, all the girls went into the cabin and prepared their own supper. Later on, they sat around the fire, telling stories and jokes until time for the hike back which was made by moonlight. Those taking the course had a good chance to make use of their knowledge of woodcraft and at the same time had a good outing.

OFF THE CAMPUS

The Targum of Rutgers University, in view of the enthusiasm shown in such interfraternity and intramural activities as basketball and volleyball, considers an interfraternity bridge tournament worth while. The paper continues:

"Teams of six men would be required of each fraternity and living group; the matches could be played at fraternity houses; and some prize—not a powder puff—should be offered the winning group. Two matches won out of the three table contests would decide the winner of the match between the two houses.

"What would be the result of such a tournament? We believe it would result in a better social feeling between groups, in that the players would have more chance to talk than in a basketball game; and that it would give many men a little better knowledge of one of the social requisites."

Each student who was enrolled in Lafayette College last year "owes" the college $149.31 for his education, according to estimates made on the basis of the annual report of A. M. Lane, college bursar, just made public in the annual reports now being distributed the alumni and friends of the college.

It cost Lafayette College $409.81 a student year to maintain its plant and to provide instruction for the 1,023 students in attendance. The average student paid $206.50 for this instruction.

Padding is an old sport to college men, but a new use has been made of it; and this time the freshmen didn't get the benefit of this ancient system of chastisement. Coach Hill recently discovered that with a paddle, he would be able to make his varsity charges pass as soon as they receive the ball. Consequently, one day last week, he found a board about two inches in thickness and used it on those of his team who tired too much dribbling. The idea seemed to work, for the game was noticeably speeded up. The difficulty is that such tactics cannot be used in a regular game.—The Targum of Rutgers.

Two more R. O. T. C. rows have been recorded, one at Johns Hopkins University, the other at the University of Arizona. In both instances the student bodies strenuously object to compulsory R. O. T. C. work.—The Norwich Guidon.

On the Sunday night following the end of the fraternity rushing season the non-fraternity men of the three upper classes tendered a banquet to the unpledged freshmen. After a good supper at the mess hall a program of speaking and entertainment was given. This idea is something entirely new at Norwich and it is hoped that similar gatherings may be held in future years so that in time such a thing may become a custom to be observed annually.—The Norwich Guidon.

Blood transfusions are given by 150 students of the University of Michigan to help pay their way through college. They are called from classroom, theater, or sleep as the emergency requires.—The Exchange.

Hanover's ski-jumping records are going sky-high at Dartmouth's 16th annual Winter Carnival. This at least is the prophecy of the Carnival Committee, which has signed up for the open tournament on Saturday, February 6, one of the greatest arrays of championship jumpers that ever took off from any eastern slide.

The longest standing jump made from the Dartmouth Outing Club trestle since its erection in 1921 was 123 feet, the achievement of Gunnar Michaelson of New Hampshire University in 1924, in an exhibition contest with the take-off raised. Lehan, of McGill University, jumped 122 feet in the same contest. This is the mark which the entries at this year's meet are expected to better by a good margin.

Of the other first-rank entries for this year's meet at Hanover, Norman Berger is perhaps most widely known, holding both Canadian and American titles. Rolf Mosen, of the Brattleboro Club, was last seen here in 1924, when he made a remarkable showing in exhibition jumping. The dark horse in the contest will be Rene Fonjallaz, a Swiss student at Harvard, who has consistently jumped 100 feet in his native country from natural take-offs. Fonjallaz plans to spend the time from now until Carnival acclimating himself to the tower jump at Hanover, and he is expected to furnish plenty of opposition to the other jumpers' before the event is over.

In addition, the Norsemen Ski and the Swedish Winter Sports Clubs of New York, and the Nansen and Brattleboro Ski Clubs, will send their best jumpers, and entries are promised from five colleges—Ottawa, Montreal, Williams, New Hampshire and Dartmouth.

The Winter Carnival festivities began on Thursday evening, with Faculty Pond the center of attraction. A fast toboggan slide is being erected on the west side of the Pond, backed up against Occom Ridge, and the tobogganists will shoot the ice-chute across the Pond and take a hairpin turn in the snowbanks on the other side. A new ice palace, similar to that which caught the fancy of the crowd on Memorial Field oval last year, will be built as a back-drop for the ice stage, which will be lighted by flood and spot lights. Several clever skaters and comedians have been engaged to perform for the first

NEW SYSTEM TRIED BY MANAGERS' CLUB

Sophomores in Charge of Weekly Assignments—Revision of Managers' Rules Proposed—Coach Cowell and Harvard Manager to Speak at Banquet

At a recent meeting of the Managers' Club several changes in the managerial system were proposed. The most important of these was the revision of the section pertaining to the duties of assistant managers and sub-managers in the official information book for students. Coach Cowell's section has been obtained and from now on the sophomore managers will be in charge of the weekly assignments of the sub-managers for a trial period. If this change proves to be successful it will be presented to the Executive Athletic Committee for adoption, in place of the present regulations. This change will lessen the duties of the assistant managers of varsity sports who now have as many duties as the varsity managers. It will also place responsibility upon the sophomore sub-managers and will make them take more interest in managerial competition.

Under the present system the assistant managers are obliged to check the sub-managers when they report for work at the gym; assign them work on different sports, and have general supervision of them. In addition, these assistants have their own sports to conduct and report on for the season. The change should be welcomed by all assistant managers of varsity sports.

The club is also making arrangements for a banquet which will take place next month. Coach Cowell will address the managers at the banquet. A varsity manager from Harvard has been asked to speak on the managerial system of that institution. All managers and assistants will be the guests of the sub-managers. The sub-managers in charge of the arrangements for the banquet are: John H. True, '28; Ralph B. Morrison, '28; Norman Kincaid, '29.

On Saturday at 1 o'clock the Yale-Dartmouth hockey game will start on the Memorial Field rink. At 3 o'clock the ski-jumping tournament will be held at the steel jumping hill and the competition this year will bring the best card of jumpers that have ever appeared in Hanover.

Saturday evening at 7:30 the Dartmouth basketball team will meet the Crescent Athletic Club of New York in Alumni Gymnasium. The Crescent quintet is composed entirely of college graduates who are now playing amateur ball throughout the East. The second performance of "The Dancing Princess" will be presented in Webster Hall directly after the basketball game, and this will in turn be followed by fraternity dances.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEFEATS EXETER IN RELAY MEET

The Varsity Relay team opened the season in top form by beating the fast Exeter Academy tracksters in a practice meet, at Exeter last Saturday. New Hampshire took and held the lead from the crack of the gun, Toolin leading off for the Blue and White against Monroe of Exeter and passed the baton to Daland about a yard in advance of Monroe. Hollowel, Exeter's second man, was unable to hold the pace set by Daland, who handed Barclay a margin of about eight yards. Barclay duplicated Dalland's performance and piled up another eight yards on Gray. Van Allen, running anchor, took the stick about seventeen yards to the good,
 and set such a pace that Ferguson, Exeter's last bet, steadily lost ground. Van broke the tape at least 25 yards ahead of his opponent.

The time for the one mile relay was 3 minutes, 37 4-5 seconds, each man averaging 54 2-5 seconds.

New Hampshire will meet the Phillips Andover Academy team here on Saturday.

ADOLPH G. EKDAHL HAS MANY DEGREES

Graduated from Tufts Dental College and Practiced Dentistry Five Years—Received Other Degrees
 from Clark and Ohio State

Adolph G. Ekdahl, Ph. D., the new assistant professor in the department of education, was born in Chicago, Illinois, and graduated from the grammar schools of that city. He attended New Bedford, Mass., High School one year, and Nashua, N. H., High School two years. He then entered Tufts Dental School from which he received the degree of D. M. D. in 1912. He was one of eight to graduate "cum laude" and won a nationwide essay contest sponsored by the Delta Sigma Delta dental fraternity, of which he is a member. He is the youngest to ever graduate from Tufts Dental College.

He practiced dentistry for five years in Nashua and Worcester. In 1917 he entered Clark University and received his A. B. two years later. He was one of two to be elected to the honorary scholastic society.
 He sang in the Glee Club and was president of the Psychological Society. He received his A. M. degree in 1920, and also served as graduate assistant in psychology.

In the fall of 1920 he accepted an instructorship at Syracuse University, and in two years became assistant professor. The next year he resigned to accept an instructorship at Ohio State University in order to study for his Ph. D. degree there.
 He received this degree in 1925. He then engaged in research work at Harvard which he is still continuing.

In 1923 he married Naomi M. Goldthwaite, also of the class of 1910, Nashua High School, where she won the Noyes prize medal for excellence in English. In 1919 she spent a year at New Hampshire, but received her A. B. degree, and her A. M. in philosophy at Syracuse in 1923. She received her Ph. D. in psychology at Ohio State University in 1925. This was the first case in the history of the institution that a man and wife received a Ph. D. degree together.

Dr. and Mrs. Ekdahl are living at the Davis apartments on the Madbury Road. They have a daughter, Naomi Marguerite, aged eleven.

SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAMS NEAR FINALS

Competition Keen Among High and Preparatory Schools for Right to Play in Durham Tournament

Competition is keen among the high and preparatory school basketball teams of the state as all are working hard to obtain the privilege of coming to Durham for the finals to be held March 12 and 13.

The state is divided into sections, and teams of each division inter-play for sectional championships; the State championship being decided at the University in the spring. The prize was won last year by Portsmouth, whose team wrested the coveted bronze plaque from Lebanon
 High after a fierce battle.

In the North Country Division,
 Berlin has the best record to date.
 The White Mountain division seems dominated by the Kennett and Bartlett teams. The seacoast section is led by Portsmouth and Dover. The latter club played the New Hampshire Freshmen two weeks ago and has a very fast outfit. In the Central Division, things remain about even, with hard battles being fought on all sides. Cheshire Division's most successful club so far has been Keene, but this team must battle with Marlboro again before the first of March. Manchester Division reports
 Manchester at the top, but this club also has some major games ahead, so that no definite predictions are warranted. In the Dartmouth section Hanover and Lebanon High are working furiously.

State-wide interest in the Tournament is rising to a high pitch, and,
 according to Coach Swasey, there will be some excellent basketball played here in the Spring.

STATE INTER-SCHOLASTIC DEBATING LEAGUE ACTIVE

Three schools have already qualified for the first round of the Inter-Scholastic Debating League, conducted by the English department of the University of New Hampshire. Rochester High defeated Farmington High, Meredith High defeated Laconia High, and Kennett High of Conway defeated Proctor Academy
 by default.

Other high schools throughout the state are expected to qualify before the end of the month. The league is bound to create much interest this year, due to the expert training each school is getting, through their cooperation with Mr. Ufford, the debating instructor at the University.

GIRLS' TEAM TO DEBATE
 WORLD COURT AT U. OF M.

The University of New Hampshire Girls' Debating team will accompany the men's debating team, Thursday, March 4, to contest the University of Maine. The team will oppose the University of Maine co-eds, arguing that the "Federal Government should control and operate the coal mines."
 The girls who will make the trip are: Gwendolyn Jones, Katharine Flanagan, Gladys Harris, captain, and Dorothy Davis, alternate.

After the forensic battle at Orono, the girls will leave for Boston, where they will debate the Boston University girls' team the next day, arguing that "the United States should apply for membership in the Permanent Court of International Justice, subject to the Harding-Hughes-Coolidge reservations."

Debating on two distinctly different subjects within a period of two days will be a difficult task, but after the recent victory of the girls, their coach, Mr. Ufford, feels confident that they are equal to the task.

1227 STUDENTS ENROLLED AT REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

Final enrollment returns for the second term show that there are now 1227 students attending the University. Of this number 818 are registered in the College of Liberal Arts, 261 in the College of Technology, and 137 in the College of Agriculture.

The freshmen have the largest class with 433 members, and the sophomores come second with 315.
 The juniors and seniors are nearly equal in number, having 219 and 207 enrolled respectively. Twenty-five students in the two year agricultural course and eleven graduate workers complete the list. The men number 883, and the women, 344.

$250,000 TO BE LOANED BY CURTIS PUBLISHING CO.

The Curtis Publishing Company has offered $250,000 to be loaned to boys who desire to attend college in order to help develop leadership for the future among preparatory students of today.

To any boy who qualifies under the terms of this College Loan Plan, the Curtis Publishing Company will loan needed amounts up to $1,500 until the total of $250,000 is outstanding.

The security for each loan will be the boy's character as developed in his home, in his school and in his work in delivering the Curtis publications.

The plan has been perfected with the advice and counsel of more than fifty of the country's leading educators and business men. It has their unanimous approval on the ground that American business needs better trained executives and is finding it increasingly difficult to obtain them.
