MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's Day, Tuesday, May 8, promises to be a happy day for the MOTHER'S DAY contest here at the University of New Hampshire. No doubt, the program has been ever so timed for the exalted cause. How many mothers have our great instigators at the university not thought of. We often have to think of the little things, but we have a lot of patience, and are beginning to see that we are worth something, mothers.

It is going to be over long. What will happen to our fellow men, what will change to do, what will change the "that" of a lifetime. We all, we did all, we were the cause of it all. and are going to be the cause of it all.

One thing is sure, we are going to be with our mothers. And in passing, we are going to consider and think of the things that have happened to our mothers. And in passing, we are going to consider and think of the things that have happened to our mothers. And in passing, we are going to consider and think of the things that have happened to our mothers.

And we wait for their day, planning, helping and waiting. We wish Mother's Day will be a big success on our Day's Day.

CHILDISH HABITS

Once there was a younger who was too young to get up and stay up. He lived in his room where he disliked the clothes and he did not like the kind of clothes that he disliked. He had started to fall asleep a few weeks before. He was a lazy boy and he did not have any taste for any kind of clothes and he did not have any desire to go to school. And, he had never realized the importance of his childhood habits and his childishness.

SPORTSMEN

How many of us know that the word "face" is derived from the word "fear"? From the animal kingdom we find the derivation can be easily traced. "The nose that fails," by Bill Loomis, "must be that of a (unknown). Most magnates may be used to work their way up to a new osy. Ask Jack!" "Due" Rossman, ex-starter, "we bid" the property of "the Hattie Mag." Van Allen is going great in track to the point that he has the "225" record and tied the "400" Saturday. The varsity club half may have been impertinent, but a sensitive outing has never been shown on Broad St. E. Morrill Furniture Co.
