American Square Dance, December 2003
A young Foreigner was applying for inclusion in his country’s quota of immigrants to America. A member of the board asked him why he wanted to go to America. The young man earnestly replied, “I want to go to America because—” he paused and then continued with a rush “—because in America it’s Christmas every day.” In square dancing it’s Christmas every tip. We are allowed to share our feelings, smiles and our joys with those around us. I like to think of an old Eleanor Roosevelt quote — “People say that Christmas today is too commercialized. But I have never found it that way. If you spend money to give people joy, you are not being commercial. It is only when you feel obliged to do something about Christmas that the spirit is spoiled.”

Square dancers give each other joy and happiness. This holiday season, share that joy with our friends, associates and even those individuals who may not be square dancers. May this holiday season bring you happiness and comfort.

God Bless our troops.

This group is practicing for a Christmas party!

The Positive Side Of Life

- Living on Earth is expensive, but it does include a free trip around the sun every year.
- How long a minute is depends on what side of the bathroom door you're on.
- Birthdays are good for you; the more you have, the longer you live.
- Happiness comes through doors you didn't even know you left open.
- Ever notice that the people who are late are often much jollier than the people who have to wait for them?
- Most of us go to our grave with our music still inside of us.
- If Wal-Mart is lowering prices every day, how come nothing is free yet?
- You may be only one person in the world, but you may also be the world to one person.
- Some mistakes are too much fun to only make once.
- Don't cry because it's over; smile because it happened.
- We could learn a lot from crayons: some are sharp, some are pretty, some are dull, some have weird names, and all are different colors....but they all exist very nicely in the same box.
- A truly happy person is one who can enjoy the scenery on a detour.
- Have an awesome day, and know that someone who thinks you're great has thought about you today!..
I always read with interest Bob Howell’s column and get a lot of good material from it. It always amazes me how one can make a slight change in the pattern and it becomes a “new” dance. In the case of “Wheat” in the November issue, only the name was changed. This very same dance was introduced as one of a group of trio dances by either Bob or Jerry Helt at a CALLERLAB convention many years ago, except then it was called “Wild Turkey”. The center person in the dance was called the wild turkey. I have been using this dance at virtually every fun night I’ve called since then, especially when kids were present, and it’s always a winner.

Congratulations to Paul Moore. He has invented a new line dance move called “jazz triangle”. It was previously known as “jazz box”. He ought to notify the author of the dance he describes, “Come Dance With Me”, because even the author’s step sheet as called up from Kickit and Country-Time calls it a jazz box.

Your Rovin’ Corner

Jim and Betsy have been your "Roving Corners" for over six years now and every column for every issue has been a pleasure to write. We chose the name "Roving Corner" because of its strong square dance connections, like "Dosado.com" the premier square dancing web site. "Roving" suited us then and it suits us now. "Corner" suited us then and it suits us now. After all, your Corner is the most important person in the square besides your partner. We are inclined to travel and love to experience life in far-away places, while keeping ourselves firmly grounded at home. We may "Rove" but we always find our way back home.

We have written "Roving Corner" from China, the United Kingdom, Germany, Austria, and all over the USA. Your Roving Corner has come to you from almost every National Convention since we started, along with several USAWest and other conventions.

We have tried to share with you the far-flung nature of square dancing, from many countries and all over the USA. For instance, you do know that Square Dancing is considered the "National Folk Dance" of the USA, but did you know that wherever it is practiced is is known as "American Square Dancing" and is often seen as an example of all that is good about America. There are over 500 square dance clubs in Germany alone, along with hundreds of clubs in the United Kingdom, Japan and all over the world. Even where-square dancing has been slow to catch on, it is growing. There is dancing in Saudi Arabia, Abu Dhabi, the United Arab Emirates. We even found two active clubs in Beijing when we were there.

Square Dancing can surely be seen as representative of what is good about America, and good about the people of the world. It calls for cooperation, creativity, and caring. Surely we get more "Yellow Rocks" in square dancing than anywhere else in our lives. Surely we help each other more than anywhere else. Surely we look out for each other more than anywhere else.

Square Dancing can be seen as an intensely spiritual experience-and a heck of a lot more fun than most other spiritual experiences. We often end a weekend square dance with a deep feeling of completeness, a wonderful sense of gratitude for others, and a real sense of being tired-helping our sleep!

Now the fall is here and it is time to get active in our clubs once more. Many have been away from dancing for much of the summer, and it is time to help out with the new classes, work on our own skills, and renew our fun and good, good times. What fun it is to dance with the newer dancers and recapture that sense of freshness, wonder, and excitement we experienced when we first began to dance. Every year, Betsy and Jim work as angels in the new class (often several). We love it!

The next step in our lives is a stay in Texas. Those who have known us for a while know that we have been legal Texans for some years, keeping our mailing address there. The Escapees RV Club in Livingston has the best re-mail service in the world. Escapees offers great convenience for people as loose-footed as we are.

After releasing our real estate in California, and knowing what a great community Livingston is, we will seek a home base there. Oh, we will keep traveling, and will be in San Jose often, but Livingston will become our center. There are several great square dance clubs there and nearby.

A Holiday Visit Back To The Good Old Days

Back in the 50's & 60's We have found that the more simple our holiday celebrations the more cherished these memories become. What are we all searching for in our holidays? The old-fashioned observances were filled with love and lasting memories. We didn't have all the material objects that we are looking for today to give or receive. A stocking filled with fruit, candy and maybe a special toy was a real treat. We had a real tree with the fragrant scent of pine, that as a family we searched for together. Sleigh bells jingling, the wonderful smells coming from the kitchen and mistletoe were the IN thing...

Today unfortunately we may never get past all the decorating, baking, gift buying to really get a chance to visit the good old days. What can "A Holiday visit back to the good old days", for us in the our square dance activity and our community revel in? Square dancing is part of our history for us to gather around for a good old-fashioned swing your partner. When we gather to celebrate the holidays we should give thanks to all of those generations that have kept the activity alive and to all of those that strive to continue to keep alive the square dance activity for future generations. We all have to realize that we in the square dance community have the opportunity to do our part in keeping it alive for future generations.

As a square dancer or as a club we can take a visit back to the good old days by one of the following:
Toys for Tots - Where the entrance fee would be a toy for a needy child.
Arrange a holiday dance at a nursing home.
Arrange to go caroling with your club members.
Visit club members that are shut-in and not able to dance any longer.
Visit another club that is in need of support and could use some good cheer.

Select a needy family and see that they have a blessed holiday season.
Be willing to support one’s own club by helping when asked.
Check with the handicappable dancers to see if you can have a holiday dance for them.
That each time we form a circle, we are extending our hands in friendship to all.
Express our sincere thanks to all the dancers we dance with year in and year out.
If you pick one or more from above and take a visit back to the good old days, we hope you will be filled with wonderful memories of yesteryear and today.

We wish everyone a very blessed holiday and many years of fun dancing, so you can tell the future generations how much square dancing has meant to you.

Rovin’ Corners from page 8

We are continuing our work for the 54th National Square Dance Convention. It will be in Portland, Oregon, on June 22, 23, 24, 25 of 2005. We recently learned that plans are afoot for a special "Square Dance Express" train leaving San Diego for Portland in time for the convention. An RV caravan will leave from St. Louis and follow the Lewis and Clark Trail to Portland. We have been working to recruit the largest turnout ever of dancers from outside the USA.

However you come, put it in your plans now. Download the advance registration from www.54NSDC.com, and send them in soon. It is time we all get on board for the 54th! However you come, by car, train, RV, or even afoot, make your plans now—do let us know so we can better prepare for you.

We will look for you across the square.

Successful Leadership in the Changing World of Square Dancing

The American Callers’ Association, in its attempt to be of service to all callers, dancers, and associations provided current, timely, and effective information on new dancer recruitment, winning ways to retain club dancers, and pitfalls to drive square dancers away for most of 2001, 2002, and 2003. ACA really appreciates the positive comments, encouragement to continue, and contributions from callers and dancers all over the country and from abroad to continue these initiatives. ACA will continue to provide information that will help the square dance community recruit, retain and retrieve square dancers as well as encourage the dancers to speak out on the cumbersome dance programs.

This month’s ACA Viewpoint presents an interesting and exciting narrative on how to adapt to and capitalize on the continuously changing world of square dancing. Theoretically, how can square dancers, square dance leaders, and callers survive the constantly changes of lifestyles in contemporary American society with its underlying rule that baby boomers and generation X people will join square dancing but they will not accept long periods of instruction. They are willing to pay their money and demand a good time.

If we look at the principles of marketing, it won’t take but a minute to learn that the pace of change in our society is intense. Those of my generation were often discouraged by the concept of “planned obsolescence” in the products we buy. Automobiles and televisions, etc. had a life span that was quite short. Although automobiles and televisions have a longer life span today, we live in a world where the computer bought one day is soon outdated. Just look at the incredible and miraculous changes in medical care and prevention of many diseases.

The rate of change places great stress on square dancing as well as families, businesses, and governments. The goal of square dancing might be considered to be stability, but the driving dynamics of our contemporary society is change.

How can we resolve this continuing saga of contradictions?

The primary responsibility of square dance leaders is to assure the survival of our beloved activity. Thus, the American Callers’ Association spends considerable time supporting callers and researching for answers to reverse the steep decline in square dancing. ACA spends many hours researching methods to recruit new dancers, retain current dancers, and return former dancers to square dancing. THIS MUST BE THE CHIEF CONCERN TO EVERY LEADER, CALLER AND ORGANIZATION IN SQUARE DANCING. Square dancing can transform the lives of countless people by offering them a healthy exercise program filled with fun and friendship. This transformation of peoples’ lives cannot be done without leaders working daily.

Marketing studies like the Phoenix Plan proved that there is a market for square dancing. In fact, with the health problems of many Americans, it can be argued that there is a pressing need for square dancing. Many people in various stages of their life often feel that there is something missing in their lives. They tell us in surveys, interviews, and focus groups that they want to feel connected with other people. Perhaps, they wish to be rescued from the enslavement of cable television and the Internet. They further tell us that they want to do something worthwhile, rewarding, fun with a sense of accomplishment, and they wish to keep growing personally. This is what square dancing is about now and always has and will be.

The key problem that square dance leaders, associations, clubs and callers’ have to solve does not concern what square dancing offers: it concerns how we can communicate what it offers. It follows logically that PERSONAL INVOLVEMENT in spreading the good new of square dancing is the key to success. Please remember that expensive advertising campaigns are non-personal communications and may only inform or remind people about square dancing. Individual human to human promotions are very inexpensive and personal and are far more effective and meaningful.

The individual square dancer, association, and caller are still the best solution we have to stop the steep decline of square dancing membership. People of all ages can be asked to come to a square dance party or open house. We can do a big favor for square dancing by thinking of the many health, social, fun benefits of square dancing. Think about the many friendships you have formed, and the opportunities to be of service to others. Think about the fact that care and consideration so often manifested in square dancing still matters in the world.

During this Christmas and festive period, talk with your friends and acquaintances about square dancing. Enthusiastically, explain the exercise, fun and friendship benefits. Accompany them to the open house fun dances and welcome them into the world of square dancing. Then and only then will our beloved activity master the many changes of today’s society and carry square dancing, viable, growing, and dynamic into the renaissance it so richly deserves.

Any individual, club, caller, or association who wishes to communicate his/her opinions on this subject or communicate their success story in recruiting is encouraged to contact the American Callers’ Association at Loulet@aol.com or Patrick Demerath at demerath@tsum.edu.

The board of Directors, staff, and members of the American Callers’ Association wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays.

Until next time, happy dancing.

Square dancing lost one of its Giants this past fall. Bob Osgood will long be remembered as the editor of the “Sets In Order” magazine and the founder of The American Square Dance Society. He was a great leader, but was a fine caller and choreographer. Following is a dance that he created that I have used extensively. Easy to dance and smooth to execute. (A real EASY-Level Routine.) He called it the –

Last evening we experienced “An Evening with Groucho” starring Frank Ferrante at the Grand Theatre Annex in Wausau, Wisconsin. Frank Ferrante did a great job of “playing” Groucho Marx. If you are a Groucho fan, you may want to keep an eye out when his “An Evening with Groucho” comes to your area. The Wausau area will be hosting the 45th Wisconsin Square and Round Dance Convention August 6, 7 & 8, 2004. Why not consider a square & round dance vacation in beautiful Northern Wisconsin. The Wisconsin convention is programmed with all callers and cuers in attendance and has no featured caller or cuer. If you would like to call or cue at the Wisconsin convention, please email Ted Palmen - <dorispalmen@earthlink.net>. If you do come to the Wausau area, be sure to visit the Grand Theatre complex. For more information, please call or email us.

The wonderful year of 2003 ends this month. Most clubs have active new dancer programs. This is most encouraging. Now we have to concentrate our efforts to retain these new dancers. By the way, who is responsible for the major effort of retaining new dancers? Some callers have told me that the club is usually responsible for “retaining” efforts. Some club leaders say that it is the caller’s responsibility - we have little or no control of what is called and how it is called. We believe the club caller AND the club dancers are equally responsible for new dancer retention efforts. The benefits of square dancing are FUN, FRIENDSHIP & FITNESS. The “Fun” benefit is what keeps all dancers, new and experienced, coming back to each club dance, week after week. This benefit is provided by the caller for the most part. The “Friendship” benefit is primarily provided by the club members and other dancers attending club dances. If you take care of the Fun and the Friendship benefits, you automatically take care of the Fitness benefit.

I recently asked a caller if he keeps track of his square dance graduates for a period of three or more years so he could determine how he is doing in regard to retaining new dancers. He said that he doesn’t and that he leaves retaining of new dancers efforts to the club leaders. Maybe callers should be encouraged to keep new dancer retention records as a self-improvement measure that would take little effort on their part? Most new dancers are out of the square dance activity within three years and we all have to think “outside the box” to correct this major problem.

We learn of graduation dances all over the country. Clubs bring many people into the square dance world each year. Yet, our numbers continue to dwindle. Why are we not retaining these new dancers? Something is wrong. Maybe the ARTS survey efforts will come up with interesting findings to help the square dance movement to start growing once again.

Callers, cuers and dancers are still sending their 5 year pocket calendar orders to LEGACY. Peg Tirrell has been kind enough to forward these orders to us for proper handling. Please help spread the word that LEGACY no longer exists and all calendar orders should be sent directly to us. If you have questions, please give us a call or email us.

Sharon Albright, President of Woodruff Levis & Lace Square Dance Club, in Woodruff, Wisconsin has come up with another great idea to help recruit new dancers. It is a printed ticket that is perforated to the left of the center. The left portion has a layout that allows the new dancer prospect to give his name, address, phone number and email address; the right portion is a “free ticket to a “introduction to Square Dancing” Dance. The tickets are commercially available in 8 1/2 X 11 sheets, ready for you to print your information. One of our biggest problems is getting basic information from prospects at parades, demos, etc. Sharon’s ticket system solves this problem. The club gets the information they need for follow-up and the prospect gets the information about the special dance. For more information please email Sharon directly, fintouch@nnex.net, or call her, 715-356-9266.

We learned from the British Columbia Square and Round Dance Federation’s Cariboo Connection, May 2003 issue, that Caller Nick Turner and Cuer Mary Anne Turner are writing a school dance program for schools and community groups. The program contains a complete guide book and a set of CDs that have the dance instructions and calls recorded on them. It’s lively, fun and easy to use. One part of the program is a mix of dances done alone, with partners, in lines, in circles, and in squares. The other part is a ten unit course in square dancing. The whole program allows classes to dance no matter what the boy to girl ratio is. It is geared for students Grade 4 through adult. They are also writing an informational brochure for callers who want to go into schools to teach square dancing. Both these projects are encouraging. If you wish to learn more about these projects, you can email Nick and Mary Anne at <nmturner@telus.net>.

Bob Osgood, one of the founding fathers of CALLERLAB, passed away on October 4, 2003. We were lucky to get to know Bob during our LEGACY leadership years. What a great guy! We will miss him dearly. Bob was the editor of Square Dancing magazine for several decades and has written several square dancing manuals, pamphlets, etc. He also created the Square Dancing Hall of Fame and honored many of square dancing’s greatest leaders. Bob called square dances for over 60 years and has received just about every recognition award that exists in our square dance world. As Jerry Reed said in his email message about Bob’s passing, “The influence that Bob Osgood brought to this great activity will be felt for many decades to come and he will be missed.” An “After Party” Celebration of Bob’s Life was held on October 18th as Bob wanted. He was a great believer in “After Parties”. I will never forget his “paper plate” skit that Bob performed at a LEGACY convention in the 80’s. Good bye, Bob, and thanks for the memories.

Till next time, happy dancing!

NOTES IN A NUTSHELL

A Review by Frank Lescoini

Caller's Notes

Norm Wilcox (norm.wilcox@sympatico.ca)

This month’s subject of “Adding Creativity To Your Choreography” explores the concept of ‘doing your part’ of a call. In order for this to be successful, dancers have to be able to do “their part” of a call without having the others doing their part of the same call. Some examples would be to call from a line of four, “Ends Load the Boat, Centers Square Thru 4”; or from a Box Circulate formation, “Boys Scoot Back, Girls Dodge Right”.

The Mainstream 53 (Basic) feature subject contains material that can be called on the first few nights of new dancer sessions. This is followed by a page of choreography using that material.

The Mainstream featured call is Eight Chain Thru. This call used to be a Mainstream call, and was moved to the Plus program for a couple of years. It is now back on the Mainstream program. The following page contains sequences ‘Dancing the Mainstream Program’.

In this month’s Plus Program section, Ping Pong Circulate is featured. Since Extend is usually called after Ping Pong Circulate, several other ideas are presented, including choro dancing the Plus program.

For those calling Advanced, Norm workshops Cross Over Circulate from general lines. It is not recommended to call Cross Over Circulate after a Swing Thru and Centers Run. That’s because the ends are Sliding Right for the Centers Run, and then immediately veering Left for the Cross Over Circulate, which is bad body flow. Scoot & Weave is the A-2 call, followed by some sequences ‘Dancing the A-2 Program’. An added bonus is material using Mainstream and Plus calls a little differently.

John's Notes

John Saunders (johnnysa@aol.com)

John includes a record review and things of interest section. There are several singing call figures included that are used in the newly released songs.

In the Workshop Ideas section this month is the call, “Reverse the Boat”, for the Plus program. From facing lines of four: the ends Pass Thru, Turn away from... the center of the line, Partner Trade with the dancer beside them, and do the trailing couples part of a Double Pass Thru to end as the center couple in a completed eight chain thru formation. Meanwhile, the centers of the line Pass Thru, Cross Run, Pass Thru and face to the center to become the outside couple in the eight chain thru formation. The move is equivalent to Half Sashay and Load the Boat.

The Mainstream (1-53) Program call this month is Flutterwheel. Eight Chain Thru is the call of the month in the ‘Dancing the Mainstream Program’. This call would be limited to normal dancer arrangements at the Mainstream program, due to the Courtesy Turn as part of the definition. Even numbers result in an eight chain thru formation, and the odd numbers end in a trade by formation.

Dancing the Plus Program this month looks at the call Peel the Top. This can be called from a box circulate and 'Z' formation.

The Advanced and Challenge Supplement includes: Clover and (Anything); Pass and Roll Your Neighbor; and (Anything) to a Wave.

If you publish a note service and would like it reviewed in future issues of this magazine, please send them to: 9836 E. Foothill Blvd. #6108, Upland, CA 91786. I will be glad to include your notes in future reviews.

Thanks, Frank.

Y-Squares Marks 40 Years Of Square Dancing

Y-Squares, a local social square dance club, marked its 40th anniversary with a celebration dance November 14, 2003, at the Roselle Presbyterian Church, Roselle, New Jersey.

Jim Snyder, caller, and Mary McGee, cuer, provided the varied dance patterns and music for this gala, fun activity.

To make this a "special" event, each person attending received a 40th Square Dance dangle and a commemorative booklet containing every member's name for the past 40 years.

Wrapped door prizes (each donated by Y-Squares' members) were awarded during intermissions. Names of other square dance clubs who attend were mentioned, also.

Presidents George and LouEllen Stoms, spearheaded this event, and recognized Charter and other long-time members.

The 67 eager and willing Club members worked together to prepare for this memorable Modern American Square Dance. Of particular mention are Dianne Cooper, Chair of the Refreshments Committee and Jan Sanderson, Chair of the Decorations Committee.

We are proud of our 40 years!

In a short time, beginner classes will be starting up again. It is usually an exciting time of the year for square dancers. Everyone is hoping for large classes. Some clubs are just hoping for a class.

There is no doubt that square dancing is in trouble in regards to the lack of new dancers entering the activity each year. New England is not immune from such problems. This scenario has been around for some time now.

Let's take a trip back ten years ago to the CALLERLAB Convention in Baltimore. There was a great deal of concern regarding the length of time it took new dancers to not only learn the activity but also adjust to "club level." Most of the caller present at the convention agreed that square dancing needed a program that can be taught in 25 weeks and possibly combine the "popular" Mainstream calls with the "popular" Plus calls.

After such discussion, CALLERLAB appointed a committee to come up with an experimental list of calls that encompassed some of the Mainstream program with about 8 to 10 Plus calls. There was also another experimental list of Bold Faced and Italicized Mainstream calls. The bold faced calls were to be taught first and then after the dancers "graduated", the italicized calls would be taught. The intent was to get dancers into the activity sooner.

The experimental programs were to be trialed on a one year basis for those callers who so desired. They were not meant to take the place of the existing Mainstream and Plus Programs. The combined Mainstream/Plus program was optional and was directed to those geographical areas in which Plus was the predominate dancing level, such as New England is today.

For many reasons, too lengthy to get into here, the trial lasted about one year and feedback was received by those callers who were actually using the lists. In the end, CALLERLAB did not endorse the experimental lists and business went on as usual. Many of the comments from those concerned callers back in 1986 were the same as you hear in 1996. Except today, the dance population has been reduced further from what it was.

Many leaders felt that by making the experimentation program an option, it just added confusion to the situation.

ALL THINGS CONSIDERED

MY CHRISTMAS WISH LIST

This Christmas I wish for the following:
1. That people dance instead of walk.
2. That dancers do Grand Square, Do Sa Do and Circle to a Line correctly.
3. That clubs allow new dancer classes to continue until the new dancers are comfortable with the material.
4. That callers teach dancers to understand calls instead of just memorizing positions.
5. That dancers tell callers they want to understand the calls and not just memorize positions, thereby providing encouragement for callers to teach in this manner.
6. That dancers remember to take hands with adjacent dancers immediately after every call.
7. That callers think about using smooth choreography and actually do it.
8. That dancers keep squares small.
9. That dancers keep their bodies under control and achieve a definite position after every call.
10. That clubs have many people volunteering for offices.
11. That all new dancer classes are large.
12. That clubs not make announcements between the patter and singing calls, because it totally disrupts the flow of the tip.
13. That clubs would not do announcements while people are squared up, recognizing that this is tiring for people.
14. That people would be polite by being quiet during announcements.
15. That round dance cuers would cue with excitement and expression, instead of just giving the commands in a monotone voice.
16. That men stop being so rough in the square. Complaints about men far outnumber those for women.
17. That the ladies will do more skirt work, because it looks elegant.
18. That callers will call material with correct timing.
19. That dancers and callers will contribute to the CALLERLAB Foundation, which is doing such fine work in so many areas for the promotion and Preservation of square dancing.
20. That dancers forgive the mistakes of others in the square.
21. That dancers reflect love to all whom they touch, thereby achieving the true perfect square.

Happy holidays. Marilyn and I would like to wish you a blessed holiday season, with the reminder that peace is remembering that you can choose to see things differently.
I'm going to start this column with a digression and then hope that I'll get back to the main point by the end.

Over the past few years we have heard the term “politically correct,” and usually it is used in a negative way: “Oh, that’s so PC.” However, the phrase did not have negative meanings when it was first used. It meant simply to avoid language and labels that would tend to marginalize people. In other words, don’t put someone out of the mainstream of American life by labeling them or calling them names.

The derivation of the word is from the Greek word for city — polis. From this base word we get words like policy and politics. Everyone should know that the only way we avoid politics is if there are only two people and one of them is dead. Politics is nothing more than working with people to come to an agreement on how the “city” or the state should be run. If someone is really good at politics, he/she may be called a statesman. Someone said, “Good statesmanship is letting others have my way.”

It looks like the word polite has the same base, but it does not. Polite comes from a Latin word which means to rub two objects to make them smooth. If we are polite (or polished) we are smooth in our relationships with other people. Nothing catches or tears.

Someone who is truly politically correct is also polite.

Both terms apply to what dance leaders and dancers should be at a dance. I remember very well being told never to discuss or tell jokes about religion and/or politics at a dance. We don’t do that because we are sensitive to people’s differences, and we do not wish to offend them.

Unfortunately, too many people forget to be political and polite when in a dance hall. We snarl at someone who makes a mistake or does not know how to do all of the figures. Sometimes we even say that so-and-so should not even show up because he/she doesn’t know how to dance. Some clubs will tell recently widowed women that they are no longer welcome because they do not have a partner – even when the couple had belonged to the club for thirty years. Or an elderly person is “politely” asked not to return because he/she cannot keep up with the fast pace.

Callers do it too. I remember one dance where a very sharp young lady who was part of a demonstration group came into the contra hall. She had enough knowledge from her training for the demonstration, but she did not know all of the figures. The caller used star thru in a dance, but the young lady did not know star thru. Rather than giving a quick walk thru, the caller said, over the mike, that she should not be in the hall if she did not know all the figures. The lady left in tears. Ten seconds of instruction would have kept her in the hall, and everyone would have won.

We keep saying that square (contra) dancing is friendship set to music, and most of the time it is true. However, we hear more and more stories of people being rude or cruel to others because they do not match our expectations of dance or calling level. We really do need to make a conscientious effort to be more polite — more loving.

And there is my segue to a contra dance called “Falling in Love Again.” Good contra dances tell a story: they have an introduction, plot, and resolution of the plot. We are always tickled when we can’t see how the resolution is going to come about. That is true of this dance. It is in the Beckett formation I have written about before — that is, couple facing couple.

Falling in Love Again

Intro:  - - - -,  - - lines forward and back
1-8  - - - -, with the couple across circle left full around
8-16  - - - -, as couples slant to the left and two ladies chain
16-24  - - - -, as couples slant to the right and two ladies chain
24-32  - - - -, across right and left thru
32-40  - - - -, across slow square thru two hands
40-48  - - - -, dosado with the next and step past
48-56  - - - - - swing your partner
56-64  - - - - - forward and back

The introduction is the forward and back with everyone moving in unison. When two couples circle left, the unit has broken into smaller groups. When couples slant to the left, they are on their own, two couples now have become one. Then the two ladies chain to the left, leaving their partners. It becomes even more complex when the ladies chain to the right because they are even further from their original partners. Then everyone does a right and left thru — two couples working together, but not with the original partner. The slow square thru even separates those couples. It feels that the dosado should be the resolution, but it isn’t. The resolution only comes when dancers leave one more person to finally swing the original partner — to fall in love again.

There is a lesson here. All of us will disagree with others and go our own way, but if we persist and work our way through all the complications we can come back together.

The only problem with this dance is it’s a cuer on the mike.
CALLERLAB MARKETING SURVEY

Marketing square dancing has been on the forefront of CALLERLAB’s efforts for several years. They formed the FOUNDATION for the Promotion and Preservation of Square Dancing, which has funded several projects instrumental in the first stage of the comprehensive marketing program known as the Phoenix Plan. Several CALLERLAB committees have worked on internal marketing ideas and education, but it is the hope of our organization that the ARTS Alliance, discussed in this column previously, with representatives from many diverse dance organizations, will continue the marketing and recruiting efforts. It became obvious that an external, nation-wide marketing approach was not only necessary, but also possible.

The goal was a 2-way street. The square dance activity has a solid, wholesome image in potentially one of the largest demographics in the United States, the “baby boomers” of the ‘40’s. Medical reports are showing that people are living longer and having a better quality of life longer than in any other time in history. With this knowledge, the ARTS Alliance could approach large companies who have LARGE advertising budgets and offer a partnership, in order to advertise their product...and ultimately our own. Companies that have done this previously have been Planter’s Peanuts and Hershey Kisses, but they have been one-time shots instead of consistent long-term exposure. Besides being part of potential nation-wide advertising spots on television, companies often help by sponsoring big events with their banners strung across walkways and stages. A large company, e.g. Pepsi, Coca-Cola, could help financially sponsor large weekend events and absorb some of our operating costs.

CALLERLAB contacted StarWorks, a professional market research company for advice. The first step we had to do was establish exactly what our demographics were. Not only did we have to identify the basic age groups, professions, and income categories, we needed to know the purchasing preferences of our people. We also had to make the survey “valid.” To do this it had to be a true RANDOM sampling. The CALLERLAB home office then ran a list of its membership and chose every 10th caller to mail the first letter. We had 50 callers on the list that were asked to send us their current membership roster (with the dancer’s approval).

The next step was to create the survey. The CALLERLAB Research and Development Committee, under the guidance of Terry Wheeler, was asked to research the best type of survey for this operation, and write questions that would help describe our population. Through much research and several drafts, the CALLERLAB Executive Board finalized the survey. It was market-tested with real dancers and reviewed by several members of affiliated organizations. It was then sent to the dancers on our list. Knowing that the mailing lists were in some cases 2 years old, we also knew we would get responses from those that may no longer be dancing which would also span another field of information...why weren’t they?

SURVEY CREATION
The survey was designed after several different surveys produced by reputable marketing agencies. It has seven categories.

#1-HISTORY: This establishes where a dancer first learned about square dancing and why there was interest to participate. It establishes how long they have been in the activity and what other related activities they participate.

#2-OPINIONS: This establishes what the dancer likes or dislikes about square dancing.

#3-PREFERENCES: This establishes music and news media preferences, and other activities of interest. It helps us decide what types of radio stations are best for ads, and what other activities that are in common with square dancing, e.g. people who like the challenge of computer games might enjoy the choreographic challenge of square dancing.

#4-TRAVEL: By knowing what airlines, hotels, motels, or rent-a-car agencies the majority of dancers prefer, potential sponsors could be identified.

#5-PURCHASING PREFERENCE: This is directly related to identifying companies with large advertising capability.

#6-GENERAL INFORMATION: This is the basic information that we will...
compare to all the rest. These are the basic questions about gender, living location, living style, age category, education, profession, etc.

With these answers, as an example, we will be able to present to a company that a certain percentage of our dance population is in the "XYZ" income bracket and drives their type of vehicle. With this type of data, companies are much more receptive to proposals of advertising and sponsorship.

The CALLERLAB Home Office sent out 1,588 surveys. We received back 463 surveys. This is a 29% return. According to the marketing agency, anything over 20% is great. We did have approximately 250 returned due to inaccurate addresses. This information is now being put into the computer and an analysis will be performed and presented at the next CALLERLAB convention, April 2003, in Reno, Nevada.

If you were one of the lucky ones to have received the survey, filled it out, and returned it, we thank you for your participation in the FUTURE OF SQUARE DANCING.

Note: Terry Wheeler is from San Antonio, Texas, and is the current Chairman of the Research and Development Committee of CALLERLAB.
Well, as this year comes to a close I have many embellishment techniques to pass on before we talk about those LAST MINUTE GIFTS. While we were at a recent Special Dance in Gatlinburg we were able to do some shopping. One of the favorite places for all the Square Dancers (and just about everyone else) is Stages West. If you want it they have it or can get it...if you ever dreamed it they have it. Well I saw my dream of an outfit there...all black with the blouse and skirt embellished with rows of different colored ribbon. The blouse was the ever popular peasant blouse with a small narrow neck ruffle. The colored ribbon adorned only the sleeve ruffles. The skirt was made of five tiers with ribbons sewn on each ruffle. These were bright colored ribbons, gold trim and even some decorative stitching. All the weight from the trim allowed the skirt to have lots of swing. The catch...the price. I almost didn’t believe my eyes when I saw that the price tag was almost $200.00. I really wanted that look but the sanity came back quickly as I read the CARE LABEL...DRY CLEAN ONLY. I wandered around the store and did make a modest purchase, all the while thinking “how can I duplicate that outfit.” It’s in the works as I am writing this...

Meanwhile back at the dance floor...one of our friends from the Tar Heel Twirlers, Peggy Barrett, took a basic black peasant skirt and tied tiny colored bows all over each tier and even on the blouse ruffle. As she said, “If you don’t sew you do what you can.” This was an original idea and I thought it was a great way to personalize an outfit with your own individual ideas. This is something to think about.

Also saw an outfit utilizing the iron on appliques. These were used on the gores of the skirt and also on the partners shirt yoke. Since the theme of this dance, given by Jimmy and Janie Roberson, and Greg and Sherri Jones, was Autumn Square Up the appliques were of different colored leaves on a solid black skirt. This was very appropriate with all the decorations carrying out the fall colors.

Now for those last minute gifts...

How about an eye glass case made from a pot holder. Pick a colorful but not necessary KITCHENY pot holder. Fold in half with the loop at the top and folding right to left. You can stitch with a machine or even use a hand whip stitch to close the bottom edge and side edge. Leave the very top edge open to insert glasses. You can personalize these with some buttons, a small piece of costume jewelry, or even an initial. You can use those iron on appliques again.

You can also make a very handy scissors case using the same technique but folding the pot holder into a triangle. Fold in the two corners and stitch as shown...remember I am not an artist...and these drawings are very simplified. Try to make some of your gifts...the recipient is always so grateful that you took the time to make something special. A little thought goes a long way.

Sew Happy!

Our recreation has managed to survive discrimination, but has lost many dancers to it. For just a moment, let’s look at a few areas where discrimination occurs most frequently.

1. Beginner dancers: we have all been there, because no one was born with the ability to square dance. But how often have you seen people refuse to dance with beginners, or dance with them so grudgingly that it shows? Some people lose sight of the fact that once upon a time they were pulled through a square until they learned. If we want to perpetuate our recreation, we can only do it by having a continual stream of beginners. The same goes for beginner callers we will lose for various reasons. Is it not worthwhile to work with beginner dancers and callers? I feel it is and if you will think about it, I believe you will agree with me.

2. Age differences: I have seen people openly rude to older dancers and to teen and sub-teen dancers. For the first, I hope I am still able to square dance in my twilight years and hope the younger people will dance with me then, because I cannot do it by myself. As for the younger dancers, in this day of hippies, yippies, protest, dope, and you name it, I am proud to see a segment of the youth interested in a wholesome and historic recreation. We have traveled with teen groups and find them much better behaved than their adult counterparts. So, if we can be proud of our square dancing youth, then let’s tell them and show them.

3. Ethnic groups: Houston does not have many dancers belonging to ethnic groups, but we do have some. Our nation is attempting to ease strained relations that have existed for many, many years. I believe square dancers have the same obligations. Let’s look at each other as square dancers, not as ethnic group members.

4. Club cliques: How many clubs have closed their doors or split because of more than one distinct group within the club that could not agree with another? As I see it, a club is a group of square dancers dancing together for mutual fun and enjoyment. If a person no longer finds it fun and enjoyable, it would be better for him, or her to find a club more to their liking than to organize a few other people and attack the rest of the club. A dancer’s responsibility to his club is to support it. In a close decision we have to go along with the majority. We should try to do this with a smile.

There are other discriminations that rear their ugly heads occasionally, but I believe by now you see the point I am trying to make.
"Tis the season to mail early, Fa la la la, la la la la." When writing a monthly column it is necessary to submit them well in advance of a publication date. As I was preparing for this month's article, I realized that this column would be in the December issue. Therefore, I decided to take a break from my usual ranting and raving until next year. The holiday season, however you celebrate it, is a time of year to enjoy family and friends. I would like to take this opportunity to wish you a joyful and relaxing holiday season. To borrow from an old song, "It's the most wonderful time of the year." Enjoy your family. Enjoy your friends. Enjoy life. If you have any questions about this dance or a suggestion for a future column, please contact me at P.O. Box 2685, Topeka, Kansas 66601-2685. I can also be reached via e-mail at KSDanceguy@aol.com. Until next time, I will save you a spot on the dance floor.

Callerlab Programs

Why Programs and Lists?

CALLERLAB programs define a world-wide standard of square dance calls to be taught in square dance classes or workshops. Program Lists indicate the set of calls that may be called at a dance advertised to be a specific dance program i.e., Mainstream, Plus, etc. Dance promoters are encouraged to list the program to be danced on flyers, brochures and other advertisements of open dances. Dancers should refer to the program designations to seek out dances that will consist of material with which they are familiar. Program lists are used by callers in programming an appropriate dance for a specific group of dancers. Including the desired program in the caller’s confirmation agreement will provide programming guidance to the caller as well as protection for the sponsoring organization.

The program(s) are not intended to segregate dancers into exclusive groups or to indicate that one who chooses to dance at his or her own preferred program is any better, or any worse, than any other dancer. Dancing skill can be achieved at many programs, and the quantity of calls is not necessarily an indication of dancer proficiency. It is hoped that the program lists will be used to aid in a logical teaching progression and thorough coverage of basics in classes and to provide an enjoyable modern square dance for dancers of all inclinations. In addition, CALLERLAB’s intent is that approved styling and timing of square dance movements will be an integral part of all classes and dance programs. It is also hoped that proper teaching, including timing and styling, will result in smooth dancing for the greater enjoyment of all.

What Next?

Responsible leaders, within and outside of CALLERLAB, recommend that dancers dance regularly at the program at which they graduate for at least one (1) year.
before they enter into classes or workshops for another program. This means that dancers graduating from the Mainstream Program should dance regularly at Mainstream dances for a year before going into the Plus Program. Graduates from the Plus Program should dance regularly at Plus dances for a year before going into an Advanced Program, etc.

There should be no pressure put on dancers to move from one program to another once they have graduated. Dancers should be encouraged to take their time, enjoy the fun and fellowship and learn to dance well at that program before moving on to another program.

What About Periodic Selections?

Dancers are not required to know the Periodic Selections in order to attend an advertised Mainstream or Plus dance.

Periodic Selections are not part of the Mainstream or Plus Programs. They are provided as optional material for those callers and/or clubs that wish to include a workshop in their programs. Callers are reminded that Periodic Selections should not be used unless they are walked through or workshopped first.

I have, over the years made every attempt to keep in contact with the “cameo” callers and round dance instructors from the early fifties, Tex Brownlee, Nita Smith, “Bub” Ables, Cal Golden, Bob Osgood, Lee Helsel, Les Gotcher and many others.

In talking with Dick Leger, just prior to his passing away, he stated that he felt square dancing would see an upsurge when the movement “gets back to the basics” and everyone is dancing together again. Your featured article in response to Mike Burke, ironically falls along the same line of thought.

He also stated, very emphatically, that too many of the new people in our square dance movement do not know how much Bob Osgood from California has done for square dancing since the inception of Sets In Order. In talking to many of the “old timers”, they heartily agree. “Sets In Order”, and American Squares were the tools which built the movement in the fifties and sixties to the crescendo it reached not only in the United States, but around the world.

It appears to me that American Squares is proceeding in the same direction of the promotion of square dancing as Bob. This, in itself is great, as we, as square and round dancers need a publication that connects the world of square dancing.

Sincerely, Kappie Kappenman
What is a National Caller?

Sometimes putting your foot in your mouth is beneficial. As a squeaky new caller I attended my second Nationals. Every time I turned around there was a National Caller. I don’t think I blinked for two days. Finally, my greatest wish came true and I met THE caller I had been looking for. I bopped up and started talking before I even introduced myself. Ten minutes later, I realized I had not acknowledged her companion, who was frankly even better known. I was so embarrassed that I babbled the first thing that came to my mind - “Forgive me, I didn’t mean to ignore you – but you have to realize you’re just another male caller.” That one comment started a friendship, thank goodness, it could have been so different. I had always put National Callers on a pedestal and acted like a star struck groupie. I never really thought about it, but those pedestals are awfully hard to carry around, really hard to live up to and not all National Callers are created equal and they haven’t earned one. Once I figured out that these recording artists and entertainers were just plain square dancers, I became real picky on who I referred to as a National Caller. This is the way I have it laid out in my mind.

The first level of callers would be the local caller. Here is where you learn all of your fundamentals of square dancing and develop your love for the activity. Frequently, this level is full of brand new eager callers who want to teach every breathing person how to square dance. They will make every effort to teach you the basics straight from the book. This will be your introduction to not only mainstream but also DBD dancing though it won’t be very challenging. Your caller will be studying every known position of every call he can find and a way to explain it to the dancer so they can handle the maneuver. They will also spend a great deal of time transposing wonderful old singing calls to modem dancing movements. They may be studying line dances and rounds as well as extending into more complicated levels of square dancing. At this point they may have one club so these folks will tend to drop everything and run for a chance to call or teach.

The next level is the local square dance entertainer. This caller will be fun, popular, and charismatic while still helping you to learn the basics and apply them. You will find at his dance the choreography will have you in many different positions and you will learn to laugh at yourself when things go a little haywire. The focus will be more on successful dancing rather than technically perfect dancing. He, too, will be teaching lessons, but at higher levels than mainstream. There will be about five years of experience under their belt at this point so they are still learning to market themselves. More experienced callers will be trying very hard not to get into a rut. Not as easy to schedule, but you will seldom need to plan more than a few months ahead.

As your local entertainer progresses he will become better known turning into a regional caller. Still doing personal club dances, still trying to teach classes, but traveling anywhere he can. Not every dance will draw large crowds, but they will be different from your local callers. There should be more variety in his music and he will also be a little more creative in choreography than your club caller generally speaking. This is also where marketing comes into play. The caller must be positive that his image is where he wants it to be, his appearance is professional and he has the best equipment he can afford. Arranging for a visit will take a lot more coordination.
and planning, around a year in advance. He may also toot his own horn more and not exactly say he is a National Caller, but will let you know how many states he has called in and how big his dances were.

Once this regional caller relaxes and becomes more accustomed to his popularity, the dances will start becoming bigger and more entertaining. The regional square dance entertainer will provide a lot more stunts to amaze you with his ability to put you into strange positions successfully. The variety of music improves dramatically and so does the delivery. Unfortunately at this stage of the game the caller does not have as much time to devote to teaching new dancers, instead much of his time is in leading new callers to reach his level. The region he calls in is also expanding. The scope of calling may also broaden with recording contracts, festivals and special weekends. This is also where the caller is severely tested. With a bigger region and more time away from their roots, their personal strengths will come out. It is also increasingly more difficult to keep up with a 9 to 5 career, family and club. So this caller has a regular path that he travels. With few exceptions, you will know where they are by the day and month. For those exceptions you will need to plan at least a year in advance to have them come to your club. You will also find that his reputation becomes known now. If it is a really good one some well meaning dancer will issue them their first pedestal to tote around.

The next level is truly a National Caller. They travel coast-to-coast, border-to-border. When they are not calling, they are attending workshops as the instructor and working hard to make sure their schedule is full. They may also be studying to become a Caller Coach. These dedicated people draw the big crowds. They have learned to merchandise themselves and their abilities so you can be impressed with what they have accomplished. There is no time to teach on any kind of regular basis. More than anything, it will be a workshop at a festival. Their patter and singing calls will be very polished and they tend to spend a lot of time trying to show you new ways to do calls you’ve done forever. Expect a performance. You will find that when they are not driving, calling or learning, they will be in a recording studio making new music. Plan on at least two years in advance to pick your day for this caller and do not be surprised if you are squeezed into their schedule on off nights.

Finally, the ideal of being a caller is reached – sort of. Only now more than ever before you are at everyone else’s mercy. There is absolutely no time to teach a full class for beginning dancers, seldom any quality time to help a new caller at a slow learning pace, and you have to think three to five years ahead and have the reputation to show up when that dance finally arrives. On the up side –marketing yourself has become easier than breathing. Your reputation is your ticket to anywhere you want to go until you miss an engagement. Colds are enormously schedule boggling and those callers you helped or helped you will be your support system and harshest critics. You will also find that everyone knows you and will expect you to remember them and every dance you ever called. You will also be known overseas and quite possibly in the entertainment world also. Now you are of course an International Caller and things become even screwier because you will not always be able to ask for another pillow or even talk to your audience. The calling will be in English however all the little things that make life easier will be their language and their customs.

Where do you go from here? You’ve been calling for at least two decades and much more likely three or better. You know every way to get to and from an airport.
Rental cars are the best and worst things in your life. Newer callers who have researched (stolen) all your best gimmicks, will be sitting at your feet waiting for crumbs of knowledge and the dancers will assume you can solve all their square dance problems with a wave of your microphone. Sometime between leaving the regional level and getting your passport, it becomes much harder to keep the level of excellence alive.

At one point in time all that was needed to become a caller, was to get over your stage fright. Now however, you are expected to know every possible variation on the entire mainstream and plus calls, how to put your dancers into and get them out of the positions while maintaining the beat and a pleasant voice without boring them. You are required to teach folks from around 9 years old and all the way to ninety and turn them into team players within their square. You must learn that politics has nothing to do with government and words you say never die. And this is at the local level while you are having fun!! It becomes exponentially more complicated as a National caller. Yes they do ask for the biggest portion of the gate, but that is to keep the family comfortable while they are doing their dance. Well yes a limo at the airport would put them into the right mood for your dance, but that is optional. And well McDonald’s isn’t exactly what they think of when dinner comes around. So why do they do it? When all is said and done the bottom line is simple – it is where they started and they want to keep square dancing alive and square dancers young.

In Memory Of “Toots” Richardson

Elrene “Toots” Richardson, best described as a lady of many talents, passed away on August 4, 2003 in her hometown of Clinton, Oklahoma. Most of us in Oklahoma and surrounding states knew her as a very busy and well-respected female square dance caller. Some probably remember her as a professor of Psychometry at Southwestern Oklahoma State University in Weatherford, Oklahoma. Many will recall her and her husband Junior as Directors of the Red River, New Mexico Community House where together they brought many of us enjoyment for over twenty years. Toots served as a mentor for numerous “new callers” and was always quick to assist them in their efforts. Additionally, she was a member, past president and past secretary of the Oklahoma State Callers and Teachers Association.

On Saturday evening, September 20, 2003, a special memorial dance was held at Toot’s and Junior’s club, The Hydro-Hi-Steppers, Hydro, Oklahoma. Over ten squares of dancers, numerous friends and several callers were present. Skip and Lou Gates who had served as Assistant Directors at Red River with Toots and Junior for two years called the memorial dance.

Toots obviously enjoyed life! She took great pleasure in laughing and her giggle will be long remembered. Toots is survived by her husband Junior, her mother-in-law, two sons, other relatives and a long, long list of friends.
