THE PRESIDENT HETHEL

An Interview with President Hetzel

In a recent interview with a few of the campus leaders, President Hetzel expressed his views of several campus problems. Some of his views have caused much agitation for years and others are new to many of the students.

The main emphasis was on the problem of cutting down the number of social dances. President Hetzel explained that he had made up the mind to cut down the dances and had written a letter to the trustees about the matter. President Hetzel's letter was read in the meeting.

PRESIDENT HETHEL

LETTER OF RESIGNATION

Harley R. B. Morrison, President of the Board of Trustees of the University of New Hampshire, New Durham, N. H., January 1, 1927.

My dear Mr. Hetzel: I hereby respectfully resign my position as President of the University of New Hampshire, effective January 1, 1927. I am leaving New Hampshire State College in order to accept a position with the Department of Agriculture, Washington, and will be doing the work there for the next two years. I have decided to resign my position as President of the University of New Hampshire at the end of the semester, and will not be in residence in the fall of the year.

Sincerely yours,

Harley R. B. Morrison

A picture, screen celebrities, a real house, a real boy, and a real romance. The story of how a pretty young girl, with a heart full of hope and a future full of promise, comes to know and appreciate its value.

The question naturally arises, what can we do? Read, ah, there we find to use the spare moments so generally wasted. We have had available power in our hands to prevent the departure of the man who has literally put the University of New Hampshire on the map.

Camels add the charm of living

Camels are the only animals that can live on a diet of camel’s milk, a liquid that is high in protein and low in fat. They are also able to survive in the desert for long periods of time without water. Camels are often used by nomadic tribes in the Middle East because they can carry heavy loads over long distances.
