DELTA SIGMA CHI

This week we are privileged to welcome a new Greek letter society to the body of social organizations on the campus. We are glad that the initiative of a few men has come to the front in such a manner that they have organized for the purpose of fraternal brotherhood. We believe in the future of the Greek letter fraternity and that they have a special mission to perform. Inside the doors of the fraternity house the real qualities of a man are brought out, his character is developed and there he may be either made or broken. The real spirit of brotherhood is found, the development of leaders is brought about, in short a man's fraternity is one of the mediums through which he is forced to the front and enlisted in the great service to mankind.

There is always room for one more. That may sound like a broad statement to the critics who maintain that this campus like every other is over-organized, but it is the truth. In spite of the fact that new dormitories are being built, the facilities for rooming accommodations are still inadequate. But a fraternity must be more than a rooming house, it must have the highest ideals possible, it must help a man spiritually, morally and mentally, and if all this can be accomplished the purpose of the Greek letter organization has been realized.

AN APPEAL

Each year during the late fall the Christian Association endeavor to raise, by means of canvassing, enough money to carry on their program of Christian work. We are now in the midst of this campaign and an attempt is being made to reach every student on the campus. No attempt is made to force one into giving, as it is felt that anyone interested in furtherance of Christian ideals will be only too glad to donate to this worthy cause. However, reports of the first evening's canvass are not particularly encouraging. Most of the results are in the form of pledges which experience shows are very often not collected. No doubt they are made in perfectly good faith. It is not the fault of the canvasser that they are not collected as they spend much valuable time in the work which interests them and in which they have the greatest sincerity. Why not think it over and decide to donate a dollar or two to an active and wide awake function of the campus life of the University? Pay it in cash as you pay cash to go to the movies. Remember that job they gave you. You are challenged; are you going to come through?

RALLIES

In another column on this page is a letter from a sophomore who attended the rally at the gymnasium last week. It is plain to be seen that he is instilled with the same spirit that prompted the editor of THE DARTMOUTH to denounce the student body.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE feels that rallies are the best means by which student college spirit may be motivated before a game. We further believe that the rallies should be maintained in the future but with a different attitude on the part of the student body.

It is true that there is a certain amount of indifference surging within the ranks, but that can be controlled with little difficulty. The majority of the students are for the team regardless of whether it wins or loses. We had a good season last year, and just because a few games have not been quite up "to snuff," there are some who are bound to criticize and lose faith.

We suggest that the rest of the rallies his year be held in the Franklin Theatre. Last year this plan was adopted and it was successful. There is a certain amount of laziness on the part of everybody and the fact that the theater is handier and that the majority will undoubtedly attend the show afterwards, should show a larger attendance. There is no fault to find with the speakers, they are doing all that is humanely possible to instill a spirit of confidence in the student body. Last year, various organizations presented certain novelties that were received by the student body with much enthusiasm; they certainly could be repeated in the future.

Probably the main reason for the "pepless, lifeless, dead" atmosphere is that the freshmen do not know the various cheers or songs.

We do not advocate any drastic measures to remedy this, but certainly believe that as the sophomores have taken it upon themselves to guide the underclassmen through college, they should see to it that their charges know "what it is all about."

Let's make the Homecoming rally the best ever.

To the Editor:

While reading THE INTERCOLLEGIAN I came across an article which I believe should be read by every upperclassman in the university and more especially by the fraternity men. It is by Rollin H. Walker of Ohio Wesleyan University and is a chapel talk on the mishandling of freshmen entitled "Making Rolls-Royces into Fords." We as upperclassmen are too quick to brand as a "wise guy" or a "big timer" any freshman who attempts to assume any of the responsibilities which become his when he enters the university. Let us help our freshmen and not hinder them when they desire to take an active part in our campus life.

Sincerely yours,
 H. O. P. '27.

MAKING ROLLS-ROYCES INTO FORDS

By Rollin H. Walker
 FROM THE INTERCOLLEGIAN

In assuming an autocratic attitude toward freshmen, upperclassmen are laughably inconsistent. For at the very time that they are setting up over new students a paternalistic regimen that reminds one of Russia under the Czars, they themselves in a hundred different ways are ostentatiously and passionately proclaiming the revolt of youth, and demanding freedom from the domination of father, mother, teacher or any of the conventional restraints that the hoary wisdom of the past has laid down for the guidance of youth.

You understand, of course, that, being an old professor, I am so used to college boys that I do not get excited over their larks. If some wag in a fraternity commands a freshman to rise at five o'clock in the morning, and perch himself on the back fence and crow like the bird of dawn, if the freshman is willing to do it, I do not propose to get the least bit excited.

What I am worried about is the occasional domineering contempt toward the sacredness of the personality of the freshmen, and the not infrequent use of all kinds of pressure to force them into the goose step of the group. This, of course you understand, is no railing accusation against the groups as a whole. I have had too much experience with the kindly efforts of seniors to save freshmen from their follies, to be guilty of such injustice. But even when this interest is very benevolent it is often officious to a degree that no senior would patiently endure from a member of the faculty.

Freshmen are certainly not helped by being browbeaten and standardized by mechanical pressure. On the contrary, they need to be encouraged to express their individuality. Many of our freshmen are the only ones in the senior class of the little high school that came to college.

The teacher noticed in them a certain uniqueness. The elements were so mixed in them that he felt instinctively that if they developed after their own individual manner a personality of distinction would result. And so they have come here dreaming that they would find free and normal expression for the idealistic impulses that are surging up within them. But they have fallen into the hands of the upperclassmen who are so busily engaged in standardizing them that if the process goes on they will become such factory-made products that if they lose one of their parts they will have no need to worry—they can replace it at the next garage.

There are men in the present senior class whom God Almighty designed to be unique and striking personalities. You were built on the plan of a Rolls-Royce, but unfortunately the committee on pledged men in your group did not understand the mechanism of anything above a Ford, and the respects in which you differed from the Ford model of your group struck them as unfortunate eccentricities that needed to be taken out of you. And so they began the melancholy task of making over a Rolls-Royce into a Ford. They have not made a good Ford out of you, but there is reason to fear that they have forever ruined the Rolls-Royce. Sometimes you have regretful moments when you think back on your sensitiveness and idealism as a freshman. Sometimes you remember wistfully those glorious dreams which you brought to college, and there is a secret resentment at the way you were mishandled. But alas! the damage inflicted upon you is so deep as to make it difficult for you ever to get back to your old self. And now, having received such treatment from others, let me beg you not to inflict this damage upon the freshman with whom you have to do. For God's sake, do not do it!

HOMECOMING DAY NOVEMBER 13

To the Editor:

And once more it's time to deliver a little oration on that time-worn subject—College Spirit. We went to the rally held in honor of the Conn. game. It was the worst exhibition of the kind we ever witnessed, pepless, feeble, sleepy—dead from the ears up. There must have been at least twenty-three upperclassmen there. We saw a half dozen frightened and lonely freshman women, loyal to old New Hampshire to the last breath, singing songs and yelling yells they didn't know in weak and quivering voices. And we saw, too, a group of freshman men, weary and heart sick, with sour, sullen faces; angry, and a bit scared because they had been "dragged out" to the rally by a crowd of super-loyal Sophomores, who, by the way, didn't show up at the rally themselves. A rollicking, jolly, high-spirited bunch, to be sure.

Of course, one worthless plea can't kick anybody out to a rally, especially if he doesn't want to come. Still the students curse their teams if they don't win, and if a game is won, they ask why the score wasn't twice as big for New Hampshire. The teams get the kicks when the students are to blame. No wonder they play poor football. If a student doesn't want to cheer his team to victory, it isn't a matter of shame but one of indifference. And if the student body has become indifferent, both to sports and rallies, then it is time for New Hampshire to follow the plea advocated by the Dartmouth man who caused such a furor a short time back. Ditch the Rally, and Can Sports. A hard course, but surely profitable in this event. But, are we indifferent? Think it over! And in the meantime, get out to the next rally, and put it over big.

Sincerely,
 R. H., 1926.

No student is complete without a Remington Portable

THE student who uses a Remington Portable Typewriter will tell you he couldn't get along without it, because it takes the drudgery out of writing up his lectures and preparing his reports and theses. Besides the time it saves, the Portable provides neater work than could possibly be turned out by hand. Profs are human, you know, and they appreciate and reward neat and legible work.

You'll find Remington Portable the handiest, fastest, and simplest to operate of all portables. It is the lightest (8½ pounds, net) and most compact portable (carrying case only 4 inches high) with four-row standard keyboard.

Can be purchased for $10 down and $5 monthly.

At Forty

"At Forty" the housewife in some sections of Europe wears a black bonnet to signify the end of her youth. A quaint custom—you say—but it usually signifies a fact. Heavy tasks, indoors and out, have made her old—at forty.

Of all the uses of electricity in America, the most important are those which release the woman from physical drudgery. Electricity carries water, washes clothes, cleans carpets, cooks the family's food—better and quicker than could be done by hand.

A trip to town or an hour's rest in the afternoon pays a woman dividends in good health "at forty years." And what is youth but that?

Men and women who have had the benefit of college training and college life have learned to place the proper value upon rest and recreation. They appreciate the relief afforded by electricity.

Upon great generators which send out current to light the homes and carry the burdens of millions, you will find the G-E monogram. Upon industrial motors, on electric railway trains—wherever quality and un-failing performance are first essentials—the G-E monogram will be found.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

Third $2,000.00 CONTEST

"Don't be stubborn, Sir!"

Solomon was the first wise man who said "Nothing ventured... nothing gained."

America was discovered by a man who'd try anything once.

We KNOW that OLD GOLD is a better cigarette.

We KNOW that it is the smoothest and most satisfying cigarette ever parked between a pair of lips.

But the proof is in the smoking.

How can we "make good" our claims if you won't test them fairly with your taste! Here's what a fair tryout of OLD GOLD will prove to you:—That a cigarette can have plenty of punch without any punishment. That it can have all the aroma and fragrance in the world without taxing or tiring your tongue or throat. That you can smoke it morning, noon or night... as many as you like... with maximum enjoyment and without regret or after-effect. Now we leave it to you, Sir:—Isn't it worth a few cents to make these great discoveries?

PLENTY OF PUNCH •• BUT NO PUNISHMENT

CONTEST RULES

- (1) Contest opens November 1st and closes November 15th. All replies must be mailed to reach the Lorillard Company by or before midnight of November 15th. Winners will be announced the week of November 29th.
- (2) Anyone—of either sex—may compete, excepting employees of the P. Lorillard Company, or their affiliated companies.
- (3) Read the text of the above advertisement carefully. Get posted on the features of OLD GOLD Cigarettes. Then submit the most appropriate headline starting with the words "DON'T BE STUBBORN, SIR;" and using not over ten words all told. The shorter the headline, the better, if it gets over the point.
- (4) Originality, clearness, brevity, neatness and legibility will count.
- (5) Send your suggestion on the coupon in this advertisement, or a sheet of white paper, written on one side of sheet, only. Sign your full name and address. You may submit as many suggestions as you like, but each must be on a separate sheet of paper, or a separate coupon—with your name and address in full.
- (6) In the event that several persons submit the same winning headline, with equal neatness and equal respect for the above conditions, the prize for that headline will be divided equally among them.
- (7) The P. Lorillard Company will have the right to use as it pleases any or all headlines suggested, whether they secure a prize or not.

THIS is the third OLD GOLD headline contest —with another golden pot of $2,000 in prizes. Get on your thinking cap—you may get $1,000 out of that pot!

The Lorillard Company think the advertisement alongside is a dandy for OLD GOLD Cigarettes. But what shall the headline be? A headline makes or unmakes an advertisement.

You are invited to submit your headline idea. The obstinate man in the picture is refusing to try OLD GOLD. The young lady behind the counter knows that a stubborn man misses a lot of thrills. What is she saying to him, to get him to change his mind?

Your headline must not be over ten words, including the four first words "DON'T BE STUBBORN, SIR!" That gives you a maximum of six words to add.

52 prizes totalling $2,000.00 will be awarded for the 52 headlines which most cleverly get over the point of this advertisement . . . in the opinion of the judges.

SHAM BATTLE STAGED BY R. O. T. C. STUDENTS

Capt. Hoag With Machine Gun Outfit Successfully Defends Concord Road During Heavy Assault by Rifle Company Under Capt. Neville

Unknown to the League of Nations, war broke out in Durham Wednesday, October 27, and for an hour the fields and woods to the west of the campus were the scene of an active campaign. Maine and New Hampshire, in the persons of the R. O. T. C. unit were at war. Co. A of the Maine troops under the command of Capt. Neville received word that New Hampshire troops of uncertain strength were occupying a position near Five Corners. He advanced and, on reaching the enemy's position, discovered a machine gun platoon and a rifle platoon supporting it occupying the O'Kane farm and the woods to the south of the Concord line.

Capt. Neville sent forward an advance guard which was wiped out. He then divided his force and proceeded to flank the enemy on an attempt to drive them out of their positions. The New Hampshire troops, who were under the command of Capt. Hoag, were in a strong defensive position. Under extremely heavy fire from his machine guns and riflemen, the Maine forces wilted and were forced to retire severely crippled, leaving Capt. Hoag's outfit with only a few casualties and still in possession of the position.

NEW HAMPSHIRE WOMEN TO DEBATE RADCLIFFE HERE

The present system of sororities and secret societies for college women will form the subject for a debate between the womens' team of the university and a team from Radcliffe college here on Jan. 13. The New Hampshire women will argue in favor of sororities while Radcliffe will oppose such insitutions. The announcement was made Monday by Mr. Celian Ufford, coach of the debating teams.

Gwendolyn Jones, '27, and Alice Spinney, '29, will compose the New Hampshire team with Carolyn Woods '28, acting as alternate. A team from the Cambridge college debated here last year, but lost the judges decision to the local women. The debate will be Oxford.

Debates with the Marquette university of Milwaukee and the University of West Virginia have been arranged for the mens' team and will be held sometime in February. These debates will take place in either Manchester or Laconia and will be under the auspices of the Manchester and Laconia high schools. Both will be run under the Oxford plan rules, the subject of the Marquette debate being "Prohibition". The subject for the West Virginia debate has not yet been selected.

CLASS DEBATERS ARGUE ON STUDENT PROBLEMS

The love of the game for the sake of the game and the right of a student to a car were points of view ably supported in class debates Tuesday morning. The questions were, "Resolved, that all University of New Hampshire junior and senior varsity athletes should receive academic physical credit," and "Resolved, that the responsible University of New Hampshire officials should revoke the Student Motor Vehicles restriction." The athletics debate was fast and furious. The negative team: Marion Doucette, Ralph A. Brown, William L. Hoagland, (and Ruth Grove, alternate) won a 15 to 4 decision over the affirmative: Patrick J. Murnane, Randolph W. Chapman, Edna G. Flaherty, (and Emile Custeau, alternate), although the contest was closer than the vote indicates.

The motor vehicles debate was hard fought and close. The affirmative: Burdette W. Lyman, Edward Asheby, J. Francis Francoeur (and Ralph E. Churchill, alternate) won a 15 to 10 decision over the negative: Sherburn M. Potts, James D. Osgood, Charles N. Elliott, (and Marjorie Dillingham, alternate).

being only 23 5-10 seconds behind him. Willard finished fifth after being overtaken by two Dartmouth men on the home stretch. Eastman, Whitney, Weeks of New Hampshire finished seventh, eighth, ninth respectively.

The team developed this year under Coach Paul Sweet is one of the best ever produced in the history of the University and a win next Saturday from M. I. T. at Boston will keep the state clean. M. I. T. has one of the leading teams in New England, and New Hampshire will find its hardest opponent when it tackles them in Boston next Saturday.

The N. E. I. C. A. A. meet is to be held at Franklin Park, Monday, Nov. 15. A strong team will battle for the honors.

The summary of the meet held at Hanover is as follows:

Littlefield, N. H., 26 minutes, 43 seconds; Cahalan, N. H., 27 minutes, 6 5-10 seconds; Awer, Dartmouth; Martin, Dartmouth; Willard, N. H.; Keith, Dartmouth; Eastman, N. H.; Whitney, N. H.; Weeks, N. H.; Monahan, Dartmouth; Worth, Dartmouth; Bell, Dartmouth.

by the Men's Glee Club is one of the most beautiful, but comparatively little known, of his compositions. The famous Log Cabin at Peterborough, N. H., now the mecca of artists from all over the country, is featured on an attractive poster put up around the campus and in surrounding towns, to advertise the concert.

Edward Ballantine, who is a member of the MacDowell Colony, is not only a composer of note, but is well known at Harvard for his courses on the life and compositions of Beethoven, on counterpoint, and on appreciation of music.

Tickets for the recital, which will start at 8.15, are now on sale at the Book store, the College Pharmacy, and with the Music Department.

The stag at eve

THIS fellow missed out on a heavy date tonight by the close margin of one phone-call. But don't waste pity on him. He has his jimmy-pipe and a tidy red tin of Prince Albert . . . grand little pals in time of stress.

When that cool, comforting smoke comes curling up the pipe-stem, troubles evanesce with every puff. For P. A. is The National Joy Smoke in fact as well as phrase. Cool as a money-lender. Sweet as a check from home. Fragrant as a pine-grove on a damp morning.

You'll like Prince Albert better than any other tobacco you ever packed into a pipe. You'll like the friendly way it treats your tongue and throat. You'll like the way it helps you over the rough spots. Buy a tidy red tin today and see!

PRINCE ALBERT
—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.
