A great deal of comment has been heard commending Prof. Robert Manton and the members of the clubs for the pleasing variety of selections presented, and also upon the exceptional ability and versatility of the organizations. A very pleasing solo was rendered by Roland E. Partridge, which added materially to the worth of the program. MR. UFFORD PICKS YEARLING DEBATERS

Four Teams to Debate Speakers from Preparatory and High Schools and Other Colleges—First Time in History of University

The freshmen debating squad now has twelve members from which four teams will be picked. For the first time in the history of the university a freshmen debating team will represent the institution in competition against teams from other colleges and preparatory schools.

The yearlings will meet all comers from high or preparatory schools, and the entering classes of other colleges or universities, preferably upon the topic "Cancellation of Allied War Debts." A definite schedule has not yet been announced, but the team will take part in at least three debates during the winter term. Lacombe high school will be one of the yearling's opponents.

The squad now consists of James Hanley, Philip Parkes, Forrest Sanborn, Gordon Palmer, Frank Rogers, Winifred Ham, Elizabeth Ahern, Madelyn Lord, Ruth Towle, Katherine Harwood, and Mildred Knowles.

VARSITY CANDIDATES FOR BOXING WORKOUT

Captain Sargent Leads Boxers in Hard Drills To Reduce Weights To Get In Condition—Coach Brown Declares No Let-up in Work-outs

SARGENT
Boxing Leader

Coach Fred Brown of the varsity boxing team has been working his charges without any let-up during the past week in order that the men may get down to their required weights gradually, not losing too much poundage in the process. The daily program of the varsity boxers calls for calisthenic drills, medicine ball work, shadow boxing, and a light workout with some of the intramural boxers.

Led by Captain Francis Sargent of Lebanon the varsity squad is rapidly rounding into shape and now comprises the following boxers: Farrell and Necker, 175-lb class; Hubbard, unlimited class; Riccardi, Nodes, and Sacco, 115 pound weight; Currie and Ahern, 135-lb class; Sargent, 145 pound weight; and Abrahamson and Francoeur in the 125-lb class.

KAPPA SIGMA FRATERNITY HOLDS AFTERNOON TEA

Members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity, assisted by their matron, Mrs. Ralph D. Paine, entertained at tea on Sunday afternoon from four to six. The guests included Virginia McCrillis, '28, Celia Campbell, '29, Eloise Ledoux, '29, Elsie Kenerson, '28, Jane Blake, '29, Elizabeth Bauer, '29, Gladys Slocum, '28, Shirley Putnam, '29, Pauline Andrews, '27, Helen Estey, Margaret Lang and Miss Esther Brown.

PRESIDENT HETZEL IN FINAL FAREWELL

President Ralph D. Hetzel made his final speech to the student body yesterday afternoon at convocation before going to Pennsylvania State College, where he is to assume the office of president. The speech was brief and was really a farewell address to the students. When the president finished speaking he was cheered by the undergraduates.

WEEKS CAPTAINS VARSITY RUNNERS

Captain-Elect Placed High In Cross-country Races of Past Season—Led Freshman Hill and Dalers in Fall of 1924

Norman Weeks, of Gilmanton, N. H., was elected captain of the varsity cross-country team for 1927 at a meeting of the harrier letter men held Monday night. Weeks has been a consistent runner on the cross-country team all season, enjoying better success this fall than during the 1925 season when he ranked fifth among the varsity hill-and-dalers. This past season the captain-elect ran well-up in the varsity meets, excelling in the Bates and Maine races when points were needed to clinch the meets.

The new captain prepared at Tilton School where he ran cross-country, captaining the 1928 freshman team in his first year at the university and winning first place in all the yearling meets in the fall of 1924. Weeks is a member of the college of Liberal Arts. In addition to his cross-country running, the harrier leader ran in the two-mile race on the varsity track team last spring. Weeks is a member of the Theta Chi fraternity and was treasurer of the sophomore class last year.

LARGE CROWDS WITNESS PLAY

Mask and Dagger Gives "She Stoops To Conquer"

John Fleming, Catherine Grady, Lawrence Jensen, Gwendolyn Jones and Others Make Hit In Goldsmith's Comedy

KATHERINE GRADY

The performances of "She Stoops to Conquer" fall term production of Mask and Dagger, the University of New Hampshire dramatic society, held at the Ralph D. Paine Memorial Hall on December 8, 9 and 10 were, in the opinion of the audiences among the finest ever given in Durham. The play, in its setting of the 18th century was well received in spite of the opinion that a modern comedy would have been preferred. A great deal of praise is due the members of the cast, and Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hennessy for their remarkable production.

The leading parts of "Young Marlowe" "Tony Lumpkin", and "Kate Hardcastle" were played by Lawrence Jensen, '27, of Ashburnham, Mass., recently elected Mayor of Durham, John Fleming '29 of Newton, Mass., and Catherine Grady '28, of Winthrop, Mass., respectively. The three young people have been prominent in previous productions of the society, and their worth is already known to those on the campus. Other members of the cast who gave delightful interpretations were; Harry Page, '27 of Swampscott, Mass., who appeared as "Hastings", Gwendolyn Jones of Concord, N. H., as "Mrs. Hardcastle" and Maurice Waling of Keene, N. H., as Squire Hardcastle.

EXTENSION MEN PLAN PROGRAMS

Important Speakers Talk At Conference in Durham

Campaign to Keep Better Bulls on Farm, Home Egg-Laying Contest and to Increase Potato Raising Acreage Planned

Adoption of the annual extension program for the coming year featured the conference of county and state workers which closed last Friday at the University of New Hampshire. Among the outstanding plans for the next year are the following: An intensive campaign to increase the alfalfa acreage of the state, particularly among those already growing the crop; continuation of the effort to place better bulls on dairy farms, and a drive to take advantage of the southern New England surplus stock market; the keeping of cost and product on records in poultry; home egg-laying contest and sanitation campaign against poultry diseases; continuation of better apples campaign with the addition of thinning as a feature among growers; the keeping of more farm accounts and establishment of demonstration farms; forestry improvement work with the establishment of demonstration plots in the various counties; campaigns for increased potato acreage in favorable localities together with the continuation of the 300 Bushel Potato Club; a series of sweet clover plots demonstrating the value of this crop in pasture improvement work.

The home demonstration agents developed plans in millinery, pattern making, food work and other home occupations. The boys' and girls' club agents stressed particularly the work of leadership training. The furnishing of more subject matter and technical training with the leaders was given special emphasis.

Important points in the taking of photographs were outlined by Mr. C. H. Hanson of the United States Department of Agriculture. "Under exposure is the most serious as well as the most common fault," he explained.

The development of the extension news service was stressed at the conference and a hearty vote of appreciation of the Manchester Union for its semi-weekly farm page was passed by the agents following a talk on the use of the page by Mr. Fred Beane. It was pointed out that this page makes it possible for farmers throughout the state to keep in close touch with the development of extension work and in fact of all the important agricultural problems.

Dr. Paul Kruse of Cornell University in a talk on the psychology of extension work stated, "the agents have a three fold function; that of a salesman, a teacher, and an agent."

The interest of the Boston and Maine Railroad in developing the agricultural program was expressed by Mr. A. N. Payne, who is the head of a new bureau of the railroad formed for agricultural and industrial development.

Other speakers of the conference were Mr. H. I. Richards of the bureau of agricultural economics and Mr. Robert G. Foster, Boys' and Girls' Club Specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture.

PROF. KRUSE ENTERTAINED BY DEAN FRENCH FRIDAY

Paul J. Kruse of the Department of Rural Education, Cornell University, visited Durham Friday, as a lecturer at the Extension Conference. Prof. Kruse was one of Dean French's instructors at the University of Washington. A luncheon at the Commons followed the tour of the campus. Those present at the luncheon, in addition to Mr. Kruse, were Professor Wellman, Dr. Eckdahl, Dean French, Dr. Rudd, Mr. Marston, Mr. Redding, Professor Mangun.

NOTICE!

The forestry conservation committee has requested that THE NEW HAMPSHIRE again call to the attention of the students, faculty and townspeople of Durham that the utmost care should be taken in selecting the trees cut for Christmas in the college woods and on other college property. Many of the trees on this land are being used as specimens and are subjects for experiment by forestry experts. To cut down any of these means that the careful study of years may go for naught. Permission to cut the trees should be secured from the proper authorities in order that the segregated sections may be left unmolested.

MEET AT LAKE PLACID DEC. 30

Date of McGill Winter Sports Meet Now Mar. 4-5

Coach Perley Enters Nine Men For Lake Placid Meet—Six of These Nine to Make the Trip

Coach Perley of the Winter Sports team has made nine entries in the Lake Placid Carnival which is to be held December 30 and 31 at Lake Placid, New York. Only six of these men will be allowed to compete, but the final entries have not been decided on. The following is the list of the entries: ski jumpers, Weston, Michelson, and Pederson; ski cross-country, Dustin and Bruce; snowshoe, Captain Littlefield; Speed skating, Tetley; figure skating, Johnson and Gilbert.

The date of the McGill University Winter Sports meet has been changed from February 18 and 19 to March 4 and 5 on request of Dartmouth and New Hampshire. The following is the letter received from the officials at Montreal.

"On the request of Dartmouth College and the University of New Hampshire, the date of the championship meet of the inter-collegiate Winter Sports Union has been changed from February 18 and 19 to March 4 and 5, 1927. This meet will be held at Montreal under the direction of the McGill Winter Outing Club."

New Hampshire's request for a change of date was made because of the Winter Carnival which is to be held in Durham on the dates originally set for the meet at McGill.

The weather conditions of the past week have been so poor that the candidates for the Winter Sports team have been forced to abandon their outside practice on skates and skis. They are still working out at calisthenics and road work to keep in condition for the Lake Placid meet to be held during the Christmas holidays. The boys have been under a handicap this year due to the unexpected thaw, but when the winter sets in, New Hampshire expects to have a team equal to that of last season which won the championship of the United States and Canada.

THETA KAPPA PHI WINS IN BOXING

Fourteen Men Entered in Intramural Boxing Finals

Kappa Sigmas Place as Runners-up in Tourney—Many Upsets Took Place In Semi-Final Round When Favorites Were Beaten

The semi-final round of the intramural boxing tournament held Monday night at the big gym eliminated all but fourteen men who met in the championship bouts Wednesday night in the seven classes of weights which range from the 115-lb to the unlimited. The Theta Kappa Phi fraternity won the tournament in team scores by placing five men in the seven classes. The Kappa Sigmas and the Lambda Chis fought it out for the honor of being runner-up to the championship, the Kappas taking the second place to the winners.

Several upsets took place in Monday's round of fighting when Jean Grenier, T. K. P., defeated Warren A. T. O., in the 145-lb class and Lucinski, K. S., lost to Campana, T. K. P., who was picked to win out in the 135-lb weights. Nodes, T. K. P., won from Kirk, G. G., advancing into the final bouts in the 115-lb class where he met Sacco of the same fraternity. Francoeur, T. K. P., emerged a victor over Dawson, P. M. D., after the latter had put up a stiff fight in the three two-minute rounds.

MORE TIME TO PREPARE FOR FINALS

Now that the period of final examinations is at hand, the period when those who are in charge expect so much from the students and very often get so little, it would seem that this is the proper time to see why certain students are not able to do much of anything and why certain others are limited in their knowledge of their various subjects.

Any course, no matter whether it is of the so-called "graft courses" or just a plain "tough one," requires a certain amount of reviewing before an examination. For those who have been in other activities during the term and have slighted their courses to a certain extent, the review is helpful, in fact at times it is probably the main factor in pulling the student through the course.

But when does the average student have time to review as he wants to? In general, one has at least three periods of class work a day. These three periods demand preparation even up to the last class. The following day, the first set of examinations is taken, with no more time for preparation, than an ordinary daily recitation, but with a weight equal to some ten or twelve times that of an ordinary quiz. The nervous strain produced is sufficient to tire anyone out in a very short time if the examinations extended over a very long period.

It would seem as though a little foresight could be used by those in charge and a little more consideration shown for the students. The strain and fatigue brought on by examinations are enough in themselves, without forcing the issue as it is in the present system of administration.

It is practical and possible, that a free day could come between the last day of classes and the first day of final examinations. This period could be devoted to reviewing and preparing for final exams and would benefit the student to an extent that would far exceed the cost of the efforts of making such a thing possible. It would be especially beneficial to the person who happens to have two or three finals on the first day. For the person who was behind in his work, it would give an opportunity for intensive study and preparation and would benefit him materially.

There is no doubt that if such a system were put in effect the scholastic average of the entire student body would be raised and each individual would be given a greater opportunity to show what he is capable of doing.

ELECT NEW MEMBERS AT MASK AND DAGGER MEETING

The Misses Catherine and Priscilla Richards, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Richards, featured in an entertainment at the Mask and Dagger meeting held last night at the Ralph D. Paine Memorial Hall of the Community Church. A short business meeting under the direction of Melville Taylor, '27, president of the society, during which Gertrude Nye, '27, Alice Keenan, '29, Edward Ward, '28, and Stuart Bradley, '28 were elected to membership preceded the entertainment.

Several selections were sung by Professor Edmund Bowler, of the Mathematics Department, accompanied by Louis Stark, a member of the Mask and Dagger. In addition to Mask and Dagger the members of the cast and production staff of "She Stoops to Conquer" were guests. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Brown.

A LONGER VACATION

Now that vacation draws near there are many complaints heard on the campus regarding the length of the holiday period. It seems as though New Hampshire is one of the last to close in December and one of the first to open in January. The main criticisms against this policy are that the vacation is too short, that there is not enough time for those who have to travel long distances to their homes thus losing time in travelling and for which no provision is made, that the rest of the universities shut down before New Hampshire and open later, and that the short vacation does not give one sufficient rest.

These criticisms and objections are just and are strongly upheld by the majority of the students on the campus. They can see no need of taking a week at Thanksgiving and only ten days at Christmas when the two vacations could be combined thus giving the students a longer and more beneficial stay at home during the Christmas holidays.

Some will argue that the natural break in the college year is at the end of the present and at the beginning of the new years. That is quite true, but no more time would be lost if a few more days were taken off term in December and a few more added to the vacation period extending later into January. The results would be the same, the students would be more satisfied even though they were only allowed one day at Thanksgiving, they would have a longer period in which to relax, a longer period in which to meet their friends from other colleges, a longer period in which to get ready for the work of the coming term.

And it is not only the students who would be more satisfied with this change in the policy towards vacations, the faculty as well would welcome it. A faculty member is human, even as you and I, and even though his life's work is wrapped up in his profession, he is ready and willing to rest, in fact it is almost necessary that he relax and prepare himself for the coming term's work.

We have outgrown the period that demanded that the year be divided into three equal parts with equal periods of relaxation between each term. The fall term is always the most difficult for the average student as it is usually filled with more divergencies than the other two. The student and the faculty members both find it difficult to adjust themselves to the continued breaks in the schedule. As a consequence, at the end of the term they are all willing and look forward to the vacation that confronts them. Why not make this as long as possible without causing any serious difficulties that would tend to make the administration problems more difficult?

Most certainly this proposal would not involve any more problems than the present system does and in the end would be much more gratifying to those who learn and teach in the University of New Hampshire.

SKIING AND SKATING PARTIES NEXT TERM

Executive Council of The Outing Club Announces Plans For Winter Program—Film To Be Shown At Convocation January 12

At the Outing Club election held at Convocation last week the following officers were elected: President, William Prince '27, vice-president, Frances Fairchild '27, secretary and treasurer, Dana Cotton '27, alumni member of the Executive Council, Richard Stevens and faculty member of the Executive Council Prof. George Perley. These five officers will compose the Executive Council of the Outing Club.

At the regular December monthly meeting of the Council held last Monday evening a critical study of the constitution of the club was made. A plan was devised by which committees will be appointed.

Convocation on January 12 will be given over to the Outing Club at which time films of winter sports nature similar to "The Chase" which was seen here last year will be shown and plans of the club's activities will be presented. At this time also there will be a plea for membership and cooperation of the student body.

Many student activities are being planned for this winter by the Outing Club. It is expected that there will be skating parties similar to informal when music will be furnished for the skaters. Ski hikes to nearby mountains and other points are also planned.

The Outing Club hopes to be a more definite organization this year than ever before. Bigger plans are being made and better times are hoped for.

MRS. SMITH ATTENDS BOSTON CONFERENCE OF TEACHERS

Mrs. Lucinda Smith of the Department of English attended a conference of the New England Association of Teachers of English at the college of Business Administration of Boston University, last Saturday. The morning session was devoted to conferences and the afternoon session to lectures.

Mrs. Smith found that New Hampshire was the only institution represented which has a definite teacher training project in English. Charles Swain Thomas of Harvard and Everett L. Getchell of Boston University have agreed to address the classes in teacher training here next term.

THREE HUNDRED HEAR PRES. HETZEL

Tells Of His Trip To Europe In Meeting Held Under The Auspices Of Joint Christian Associations

Over three hundred students and residents of Durham attended the get-together held by the Joint Christian Associations in honor of President R. D. Hetzel, which was held in Women's Gymnasium, Sunday evening. Albert Van Allen, '27, presided and selections were rendered by the Phi Mu Delta Orchestra. Following the introduction, a cheer was led by the senior cheer leader, Gunnar Michelson.

President Hetzel, in his speech, told of the impressions which he received during his trip to Europe last summer. Under the leadership of Dr. Sherwood Eddy, the party toured through England, France, and Central Europe. Dr. Hetzel described the economic and social conditions of these sections as they appeared to him. He described the foreign attitude on the War debts and the effect of the strike in England, telling many personal incidents which illustrated their place in foreign thought.

SKATING STARTS AT COLLEGE POND AFTER COLD WEATHER

The season's skating opened Tuesday, December 8, on University Pond with several students present. About one-third of the rink had been shoveled making the skating space small but fairly smooth. If conditions are favorable, practice for the intra-mural hockey games is expected to begin soon. For the interest of skaters, varied colored flags are hung across the road in front of the gymnasium. These colors are symbolized as follows: Red, unsafe, keep off; yellow, working on pond, blue, skating.

N. H. STUDENTS VOTE FOR CO-EDUCATION

Audience in Convocation Favors the Negative Side of the Question—Davis Best Speaker, Miss Annett Second

The debate held in Convocation December 8, resulted in a victory for the negative, the resolution, "Resolved, that the University of New Hampshire should adopt a policy to establish separate classes for men and for women," being defeated by a vote of the students. It was evident that the material was presented in a better manner by the affirmative for in the vote on the merits of the resolution the negative was an easy winner.

Gunnar Michelson was chairman of the debate. The other officials were Moderator William Hoagland and Sgt. at arms Albert Van Allen. The Oxford system of judging debates was used.

Following are results: By a vote on the merits of the question the resolution was defeated by a vote of 508 to 275. The results on a vote of the merits of the debaters were: Affirmative, 7367, Negative, 4935. The individual results on the merits of the debaters are, Burnham Davis, '29, affirmative, 3094; Dorothy Annett, '29, negative, 2583; Charles Johnson, '29, affirmative, 2269; Lyle Farrell, '29, affirmative, 2006; John Manning, '29, negative, 1287; Charles Gray, '27, negative, 1065.

PROFESSORS ATTEND COLLEGE GATHERING

Freshman Week Activities Discussed at New England Association Meeting Held at Boston University

Last Saturday Professors Wellman, Ekdahl and Mangun and Dr. Rudd attended a meeting of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools held in Jacob Sleeper Hall at Boston University. Reports were given by representatives from the undergraduate bodies of Bowdoin, Dartmouth and Harvard describing the work of the undergraduate committees of those colleges. The committees investigate opportunities of improving the work of the liberal Arts College.

The first committee formed for the purpose of college improvement was appointed by President Hopkins of Dartmouth three years ago. It studied the curriculum and administration and then published a report which was favorably received. Other institutions subsequently appointed committees for student participation in the organization and control of their colleges.

Freshman week was described as it is carried on in other colleges. At Boston University each college is handled separately but the tests and instructions are given along with the regular work instead of having a special week for that purpose. A service committee composed of upperclassmen give any information which a freshman may want. At Yale senior counsellors serve much the same purpose and are paid by the University. Professor Wellman believes that the system here of having Freshman Week before registration is much more valuable than any suggested at the meeting, but that an upperclass committee chosen by the administration might prove beneficial.

The association voted to consider as basic courses the following: Educational psychology, general and special methods, principles of secondary education, supervised practice Teaching and the history of education. New Hampshire offers all of the above courses.

Of seventy-nine degree granting institutions only twenty-two reported definite courses in education. The committee making this investigation was composed of Dr. Seth Wakeman of Smith College, Dr. Guy Wilson of Boston University and Professor Wellman. The committee will continue to outline units to make up the content of the basal courses, and to the minimum standards for New England institutions engaged in professional education.

STATISTICS SHOW BALANCE IN NUMBER OF TRANSFERS

Statistics obtained at the Registrar's office show that of the 51 transcripts issued to students last year for the purpose of transferring to other institutions, there were only 32 who finally transferred. Of this number, 20 were New Hampshire students and 12 out of state. Twenty-eight transfers were from the College of Liberal Arts, three from the College of Technology, and one from the College of Agriculture.

To make up for the number lost by transferring the University has had 31 students who transferred here from other institutions.

HOWARD D. EGE

—and now, while he doesn't own the business, he's got what he had hoped for in a business of his own. He's gained the opportunity to bring out the best there is in human effort—to handle men rather than materials.

That's what Howard D. Ege had in mind during the time of his early schooling at Grand Island College. It was actively developed during 1919-21 when he worked nights in a Lawrence power plant while completing the work for his B. S. in Engineering at Kansas University.

Ege doesn't scorn the well-known dictum of Socrates—"Know thyself." But he gets more of a kick out of the practical application of "Know others."

Today—five years after enrolling in the Westinghouse Graduate Students' Course—he directly controls a staff of fifty persons. And he's responsible for coordinating the efforts of 1500 employees—half of them men and half of them women—on the production floor.

Ege is Production Supervisor in the Coils and Insulation Department at the East Pittsburgh Works. He is the link between the entire Westinghouse organization and thirteen foremen who directly supervise the work of hundreds of employees. He is engaged in a production job which turns out finished parts with a shop value of more than $1,000,000 a year.

How Westinghouse offers opportunity to engineers differing widely in outlook is demonstrated again in Ege's case. From the time he conceived his

"What's the future with a large organization?" That is what college men want to know, first of all. The question is best answered by the accomplishments of others with similar training and like opportunities. This is one of a series of advertisements portraying the progress at Westinghouse of typical college graduates, off the campus some five—eight—ten years.

ambition to work with men his path has followed a straight line. His training course at East Pittsburgh was in Works Management. This lasted about a year. Then he became Chief Clerk in the Coils and Insulation Department. Only one year later he became Supervisor, reporting directly to the Works Superintendent of Production.

To the man who wants to work with men rather than with materials, Westinghouse offers promising opportunities.

WOMEN'S A. A. MAY CHANGE ITS RULES

Granting Membership—Must Have More Points To Be Member

The executive committee of the Women's Athletic Association has been working on a new system of awarding emblems and of granting membership. The new rules will be voted upon at the January meeting.

According to the proposed ruling the membership qualification will be changed from one hundred points to one hundred and twenty-five and any girl who is eligible may apply for membership.

The advisor will be elected from the Physical Education staff and the president from a member who has not less than four hundred points.
The other officers must have over two hundred points.

The point system, if revised, will allow twenty-five points to any one who hikes thirty miles in one term and twenty-five for twenty-five hours in a combination of two of the following: snowshoeing, skiing or skating and in horseback riding, tennis, or swimming. Fifty points will be given for honors in swimming, archery and apparatus.

Five hundred points will entitle

LARGE CROWD WITNESS PLAY (Continued from Page 1)

To Mr. Waling goes double credit, as he not only acted in the production but also painted the scenery for the entire play with the assistance of Frederic H. Smith of Gloucester, Mass.

Students playing minor parts who deserve special mention are: Charles Johnson of Washington, D. C., who as "Diggery" the eccentric butler at "Hardcastle's", furnished many laughs to the audience, and William Hoagland of Dedham, Mass., whose interpretation of one of Hardcastle's servants was especially pleasing.

The entire cast of the production was as follows: "Squire Hardcastle", Maurice Waling. "Mrs. Hardcastle", Gwendolyn Jones; "Tony Lumpkin",
John Fleming; "Kate Hardcastle", Catherine Grady; "Constance Neville", Celia Williams; "Slang", William Prince; "Aminadab", Norman Berry; "Tom Twist", Otho O'Leary;
"Muggins", Ralph Garlock; "Stingo",
Edward Ward; "Young Marlowe", Lawrence Jensen; "Hastings", Harry Page. "Thomas", Arthur Andrews;
"Dick", Harold Mouilleseaux;
"Roger", William Hoagland; "Diggory", Charles Johnson; "Servant to Marlowe", Ralph Garlock; "Dolly", Elizabeth Bauer; "Sir Charles Marlow", Paul Blaisdell.

Abrahamson, L. C. A., faced Francoeur in the finals by his win over Peckham, S. A. E., in the 125 pound class. Atkins, G. G. G., defaulted to Mullane, T. K. P., bringing the latter boxer to fight with Grenier in the 145 weight.

The amount of varsity boxing material uncovered in this year's tournament has exceeded that of any previous season, the freshman class contributing many of the promising fighters in the 135, 145, 160, and unlimited weights. Farrell, a candidate for the varsity boxing team, showed up well in the 175-lb class which he was favored to win.

Purcell's masterpiece was sung with exquisite understanding, the folk song with true legato, while the Negro spiritual, with its rhythmic beat, afforded a marked contrast. In the Christmas group, Mr. Partridge rendered Debussy's sonorous aria with breadth and power, and to the Berlioz number he brought a delicacy which redeemed its recitative-like score from monotony, while the traditional Adeste Fidelis gained new meaning, in the young French composer's setting of ultra modern chords.

The Strauss numbers made severe demands for interpretation which were ably met. Against the beautiful and intricate background of the accompaniment, the depth and sonority of Mr. Partridge's voice had ample opportunity. The customary closing group of English songs were adequate, and were received with enthusiasm.

Mr. Partridge is the possessor of a beautiful voice, which he uses with musically art. At times of tremendous, almost overwhelming power, yet it is flexible and capable of sustained pianissimo singing.

LIBERAL ARTS FACULTY GIVE TEA FOR PRESIDENT HETZEL

The Liberal Arts faculty held an informal social hour in honor of President Hetzel Monday afternoon, from five to six. The reception was held in the organization room at the Commons, and about forty members of the faculty were present. All extended to President Hetzel their best wishes for his continued success in the future.

Light refreshments were served consisting of tea, sandwiches and waifers. Mrs. Leighton was in charge of the affair. President Hetzel expects to leave New Hampshire on December 22, and will assume his new duties at the Pennsylvania State College January 22nd.
