To the Editor:

Overall, square dancing seems to be declining in membership. I live in Omaha and here we have seen the number of clubs in our city decline substantially in the last few years. My guess is that the same trend applies on a national basis.

Most of the square dancers in Omaha clubs are at least in their 50s; many are in their 60s; and there are many even older than that.

I have a proposal for square dancers to consider. For the most part our most popular kind of dance music is country music. We need to attract younger dancers. We need people in their 40s and 50s and even younger if square dancing is to grow and survive.

Here is a suggestion. Perhaps we should change the main music from country music to rock and roll music. There is at least one caller who uses rock and roll and he is quite successful and the beat is danceable. If rock and roll were the dominant music we should appeal to whole new generation of square dancers. Perhaps it would give square dancing a whole new image.

I cannot guarantee that it will work, but I make the suggestion and perhaps those in CALLERLAB and other square dance leaders should consider changing our music.

Please think about it.

Ralph Ekwall

Hi ASD,

I am a big-time round dancer, and I love to see anything “round dancey” in ASD. I also square dance, but at the Challenge level, so a lot of the articles are dealing with classes and new students, and I don’t read those as excited as I should be.

I was glad you added the column “Peek Into a Cuer’s Record Case,” because I love to read about different cuers’ backgrounds, but the column does not ever talk about what records/dances they have in their “record case.” I suggest, in addition to the personal background of the cuers, the column include perhaps their favorites dances they like to cue or what dances they are teaching in their classes currently, etc. Include the name of dance, what rhythm, what phase, and who the choreographers are.

Keep this column – it’s excellent!

Anita J. Froehlich

I will see what I can do about putting some songs with their cuers in the Cuer Steal a Peek column. – Randy Boyd, Editor Square Dancing is a full contact sport! Regardless of your dancing experience, regardless of years of experience, regardless of dancing skill level, Square Dancing is a full contact sport. One of the first things we learn in Square Dancing is "yellow rock", a friendly hug, a greeting to show fellowship on the dance floor. The other thing we are, or should be taught is to take hands. The old commercial on radio and television used to say, "Reach out and touch someone." Nothing could be truer in Square Dancing. Reach out and touch someone. In researching this editorial, I looked through several magazines we have on file, Danny Robinson's "The Square Dance Bulletin", "The American Square Dancer", "The Barn Owl", and several others. I found one article by Jerry Reed, and two from Ed Foot in his columns on advanced and challenge dancing on the importance of taking hands after each call. I wonder why something so important to dancing is so often ignored. Consider, taking hands after the completion of a call keeps the square smaller, makes for smoother dancing and leads to fewer breakdowns. How many times have you seen a square go from a line formation to a column formation and the columns are so far apart the dancers couldn’t even reach each other? By sliding together and touching hands the square stays smaller, dancing is easier and you can keep time to the music. In lines or ocean waves if you only have one hand joined you are an end, two you are a center. Touching hands allows you to establish position. Touching hands allows us to keep a tight square letting slower dancers achieve proper position. Touching hands should be done on the completion of a call even if you are going into another call. This can be accomplished even if you only brush hands passing from one formation to another. Remember the old combination call that used to be common, “half tag, trade and roll”? How many times does the dancer have difficulty because they do not know with whom to trade? Half tag, take hands, you now have a partner and it is easy to trade and roll. In this article I keep mentioning touching hands. I do not say grab or squeeze hands. Men and ladies, keep your thumb along side your hand. Forearm contact will be easier and hand holds will be more pleasant if there is no grabbing, grasping or squeezing. The song goes, “Hands, touching hands, reaching out touching you...” The next time you square up, reach out and touch someone.

Tim and Nana Eum

Tim learned square and round dancing in 1973 while still a college student in California. The Army sent Tim to Germany where in 1976 he began to cue and teach round dancing. He has been a club cuer/teacher in Texas (1980), Georgia (1983) and finally Virginia (since 1987). Nana began square and round dancing in 1990 and quickly became an accomplished dancer. Tim and Nana met at a Dallas, Texas round dance club in 1994 and were married in 1996. Tim and Nana now teach round dancing at their clubs in Fredericksburg, Virginia and in Alexandria, Virginia. They have cued at special events all across the Eastern United States and in 2004-2005 will be featured at events in California, Colorado, and Texas. They have participated in every U.S. National Convention and Virginia State Convention since 1995. They have even taught internationally at events in Australia and Canada. They have served on the Roundalab Board of Directors since 2000 and will serve till 2006. They have been Presidents of the Round Dance Teachers Association of the Greater Washington DC Area twice, most recently 2002-2004. Tim and Nana’s choreography includes the phase V “Playful Rumba” and the phase V mixed rhythm “Only Time”. Tim and Nana are known for their energetic and playful cueing and teaching as well as their stylish dancing. They believe that “When you dance, do it with feeling, be playful and smile”.

Peek Into a Caller’s Record Case

Jerry Junck began square dancing in 1965. He started calling a year later, while still in high school. For the next 20 years, he was the club caller for a number of clubs in northeast Nebraska and traveled as much as his farming operation would allow. The spring of 1986 brought with it the decision to devote full time to calling square dances.

An accredited member of CALLERLAB since 1976, Jerry has served as chairman of both the Rural Area Considerations Committee and the CALLERLAB Foundation. He was a member of the Board of Governors for twelve years, having served on the Executive Committee six of those years. He made the decision to retire from the Board in 2004. He was Chairman of the organization for two years in 1997 and 1998.

Jerry firmly believes in the development of new callers and the continuing education of established callers. He is co-author of a new book on choreography called, “Standard Choreography.” Designed with the newer caller in mind, it provides examples of danceable choreography from standard formations to assist in teaching new dancers. As an accredited CALLERLAB coach, Jerry conducts caller schools and seminars around the country and is a permanent staff member of the Heart Of America Caller’s School held in Lincoln, Nebraska each summer.

During the winter months, Jerry and his wife, Sharon, make their home in Mesa, Arizona where he is the resident caller for the Mesa Spirit and Monte Vista resort parks. While there, he maintains a complete program of square dancing from Beginners through A-2.

Jerry records for Chinook Records and has been the featured caller at many festivals and weekends around the country. Traveling extensively during the summer months, he thoroughly enjoys the traveling side of calling and the many friends he has made throughout the activity. He takes special pride in calling smooth, flowing choreography with the basic philosophy that...“SQUARE DANCING SHOULD BE FUN.”

Free Cup of Coffee!
Valid only at participating households.
Some assembly may be required.

Square Up this month with the 53rd National Convention in Portland, Oregon. There’s no better way to start your summer square dancing travels than with the National Convention. The National Conventions is one of our favorite square dance events of the year. The convention gives us a chance to visit and discover different areas of the United States. It’s a time we meet and visit some of the square dancing clubs, the dancers, the callers in that area.

It is a special time to meet old friends, who we only get to see once a year and a time to make new friends. It is a time that John and I have the pleasure of dancing with our friends. We have a chance to meet our subscribers who subscribe to John’s Notes...What a thrill to finally put a face with a name that we see monthly when sending out the Notes. A wonderful chance to get comments and new ideas. We enjoy the Parade of States and the largest fashion show that features square dance apparel.

Our first National was back in 1971 in New Orleans. We had all five children tagging along and what an impression they received from such a wonderful city. From that Convention all of us have enjoyed many other wonderful cities of the US along with learning different cultures and getting to travel around the US became a great summer event. Today our grandchildren enjoy traveling with us to the different areas of the US and foreign countries, where they enjoy meeting square dancers and learning about the different cultures and history of the area.

The National Convention is a time of coming together of dancers, callers, cuers, contra prompters, clogging, lines and country western instructors and all square dance organizations from around the world to share their common interest “dancing”. So many ideas shared and discussed by so many. It is quality time for all to give reports on their accomplishments during the year and their goals for the coming year. A vast number of leaders from all organizations come giving of their time and talents in hopes of increasing their knowledge on how to make our activity bigger and better.

We enjoy participating in the panels and educational sessions and having the opportunity of attending the numerous panels on a wide variety of various subjects that are available each day of the convention. From some of the educational panels and the other various panels we have found the greatest concern today is the steady decline of the number of dancers around the world. The questions and concern that are discusses each year are:

1. Are our advertising strategies put to the best advantages?
2. How do we get new dancers and how do we keep them?

These are not new concerns or questions. Many good ideas came from these Panels and Educational seminars that may work in your area, but will require many hours donated by those that are willing to give of their time, money and talents to see our activity grow.

We hope everyone will have or take an opportunity to travel and attend at least one National Convention. Mark you calendar for June 22-25, 2005 for Portland Oregon or June 21-24, 2006 for San Antonio, Texas, June 2007 for Charlotte, North Carolina, June 2008 Wichita, Kansas.

In marketing (as a discipline and art) a concept called the Product Life Cycle exists and attempts to provide a way for a company to trace the stages of a product or service acceptance from its introduction (birth) to its decline (death). A product or service passes through four major stages: introduction, growth, maturity and decline. The time a product or service spends in any one stage of the life cycle may vary dramatically. The most successful products (services) normally proceed through the introduction and growth stages and stay in the maturity stage for decades. The positioning of a product in the life cycle can help leaders/managers forecast the future and create appropriate strategies to either keep it in the mature stage or return the product to the mature stage.

If we look at Modern Square Dancing, one might argue that its Introduction Stage was in the barn dances. Everyone learned a few movements and spent the evening dancing and had great times.

It can be further argued that the Growth Stage of Modern Square Dancing began in the 1950s with the Basic 50 movements and the Extended 75 Basic movements. During this time new clubs were formed throughout the nation extending well up into the early 1970s. Around the same time Modern Square Dancing was introduced in many foreign countries like Australia, New Zealand, Germany, Spain, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Korea, Okinawa, and Taiwan.

The Mature Stage appears to extend from the middle 1970s to the middle 1980s. During this period clubs flourished, the extended basic 75 movements were declared to be Mainstream Dancing. Additional Levels of Plus, Advance, and Challenge Dancing added a great expansion to the dance programs. At the same time it required student dancers to take the beginners lessons for approximately eight months before being accepted as a mainstream dancer. At the same time square dancers were asked to dance for an additional year before taking the plus level lessons. Somewhere during this period the Plus Level evolved into the true “Mainstream Level.” Square Dance clubs were then separated by levels and placed in competitive positions for dancers. Many mainstream level clubs lost large portions of their member to the plus level clubs while the new member...

The Foundation's purpose is to support the funding of projects that will preserve and promote square dancing.

To be considered for the funding, projects must first protect the heritage of the activity and contribute to its growth. The projects must also emphasize the social, physical and mental benefits of square dancing. The Foundation also works to increase public awareness of the activity by showing the fun and fellowship that makes square dancing a popular recreation today.

The Foundation is registered with the Internal Revenue Service as a 501(C)(3) corporation and depends on private contributions, public grants and endowments for its operating capital.

recruiting rate declined.

Somewhere in the 1980s Modern Square Dancing moved into the tragic Decline Stage in the Square Dancing Life Cycle. Many mainstream clubs were reduced in membership and others closed down. Many square dancers left the square dance activity, and the effervescence and energy level of clubs to recruit new dancers dissipated. This appears to be where Modern Square Dancing is today. In our area, mainstream clubs are now attempting to stay alive by offering plus level dancing every third tip. This may or may not work, as the Mainstream Dancers will be pressured to learn the plus or sit out a large portion of each dance. It might also be argued that if we do not keep the square dancers time occupied, they will feel left out and become bored and disenfranchised and vote with their feet by leaving the activity. This may be the case today as is evidenced by a general decline in the square dance lessons recruiting numbers as well a high dancer departure rate from Modern Square Dancing.

The implications of the Product Life Cycle might encourage square dance leaders to recognize that there are several marketing strategies the leadership can and might do to return modern square dancing to the Maturity Stage and sustain it or even expand the activity back into the Growth Stage.

In the 1970s Modern Square Dancing was expanding by leaps and bounds, and new dance levels were added to challenge the ever-increasing number of student and recently graduated dancers. Perhaps not enough attention was paid to the expanding drop out rate both in the clubs and in the extended one-year mainstream lessons. In the 1960s club visitations from one club to a neighboring club were very popular. These visitations decreased significantly during the Decline Stage. Clubs went from equal friendships to separated and polarized competitors. On some occasions mainstream clubs were not only robbed of their dancers by the plus clubs but were considered less than equal to the plus clubs. A fun set of mainstream lessons went from four to six months up to two years of lessons and dancing before a dancer felt he or she had "made it." Many argue that there were many "casualty" dancers left along the way leading to the current Decline Stage. Others argue that the decline in dancers is from external sources such as Cable Televisions and Computer Entertainment, which is valid but not the true culprit.

If we look at the situation from a marketing perspective, there are two possible categories for the decline in the aging and decline in Modern Square Dancing. External: Too many competitive activities for people's leisure time; and Internal:
the addition of the ingredients in the life of a modern square dancer have become stressful and separatist and too much work for the remaining dancers.

It should also be pointed out that some of the many countries that have adopted Modern Square Dancing are not in the Decline Stage, but are in fact, in the Growth or Mature Stage. The concept of the International Product Life Cycle states that one product may be in Decline Stage in one country and in an explosive Growth Stage in another. The one reality that marketers recognize is that sooner or later the countries with Modern Square Dancing in the Growth Stage will progress through the Mature Stage into the Decline Stage if the problems and systems which caused the first country to slip into the Decline Stage are present in the other countries with Modern Square Dancing in the Growth or Mature Stage.

There are several possible solutions to analyze to attempt to move Modern Square Dancing to the Growth or Mature Stages:
1. Intensive Promotion and Advertising to attempt to reach and recruit new people.
2. Finding new categories of people to participate in Modern Square Dancing.
3. Lower the price / cost of Club Membership and lessons where Modern Square Dancing’s prices are below the competition’s prices for leisure activities.
4. Add new ingredients / activities or eliminating old ingredients from the dancing that cause problems of the decline in Modern Square Dancing.

Today in the new millennium we may be facing a similar situation in Modern Square Dancing that the US Automobile Industry faced during the 1970s. Sales were down as people were buying German and Japanese automobiles. The first reaction of the automobile makers was to increase advertising and sales promotion. It worked for a short time. The second item was to blame the Japanese for exporting too many cars to the US market. That did not work either, as the Japanese cars were better than American cars. The third item was to analyze and look for the problems. In this case the quality of American automobiles was below that of the Japanese and the Germans. It was at this point where the American Automobile Industry improved the quality of the automobiles and sales expanded and continue to expand today.

In Modern Square Dancing it is possible to pour large amounts of money into advertising and promotion. It can be argued that this will be cost prohibitive and will only have a short life span before the newly recruited dancers drop out of the activity. Advertising and Marketing both maintain that no amount of advertising / promotion will make a product / service with a problem successful beyond a very short term. Marketing will not fix a deficient problem or service.

The second approach of identifying new sources of dancers will have a similar result to the first approach. New groups / Churches, Schools, Fraternal Organizations may be good sources but the newly recruited dances will experience the same problem as the first and drop out.

The third approach of lowering the price of square dancing might be a productive approach if Square Dancing was not the least expensive activity in town. To lower the price will reduce the amount of funds that clubs have to operate with and might decrease the number of clubs and cause an exit of callers. This might compound an already troublesome situation.

The fourth approach of eliminating some of the ingredients of the problems in the product or service appears to have the best and most long reaching benefits. This might move Modern Square Dancing from the Decline to the Growth and / or Mature Stage with a new vibrancy in the activity. It appears that a portion of the decline is caused by the “separate but unequal” status of the clubs due to the dance levels. Another reason for the decline may be that new students come to open houses full of energy and enthusiasm and soon learn that they can’t dance with many of their friends for a year or more. Square Dance clubs are forced to run lessons continuously on a non-stop basis causing club membership burnout and all but eliminating club visitations. This has a tendency to tire the members, reduce the fun, provide a good reason for members’ lack of energy in recruiting and increase the withdrawal rate from Square Dancing.

Modern Square Dancing is a wonderful activity, but it has a virus or two that is hurting it badly.

Until the viruses are diagnosed and eliminated, no amount of marketing/advertising/promotion will solve the problem. The dancers who have dropped out and the small size of our mainstream class recruitment have given us a message. We either can ignore it and it will consume us, or we can take action to listen to it and prosper once again. Things must be simplified for the dancers and callers as well. Classes should be reduced in length. Callers could then call more fun dances, and increase club to club visitations. It might be interesting to note that the dancing requirements to become a graduate Plus Level dancer are about the same as the requirements for a Masters Degree in Business Administration. The levels that separate the dancers should be considered divisive and appropriate action should be taken to eliminate these divisive and cumbersome ingredients by culling both the mainstream and plus and combine the residual movements.

Moral of the story: If we keep this outdated and arduous dance program and rigid dress codes, new dancers will not come. If we bond with new dancers with a logical and easily learned dance program and up to date dress code, they will come and bring friends, and they will feel wanted and welcome, and stay a lifetime. Let's hope we learn and fix the dance program.

How Do You Keep ‘Em, Once You Get ‘Em?
Part Two of Two Parts
By Pete Wex

Last month we revealed 10 of Do-Pas-O’s “answers” to keep new dancers, after we succeeded in coaxing them to come out and give square dancing a try. We mentioned things the Club does, or doesn’t do, or tries to avoid, in order to be as “user friendly” as possible. The first 10 were particularly accommodating to new dancers. Some of the 10 that follow also help the newer dancer, and others are useful for various stages of experience within the Club.

11.) From the beginning, all our dancers are encouraged to become involved in the activity as a whole, not just our Club’s or our Caller’s events. Our table usually sports at least 50 different sets of fliers for other clubs and their dances, festivals, conventions, etc. We print our own listing of area events suitable for the newer dancer’s stage of readiness, and we announce those events regularly. We know that the more they dance around, the better dancers they will become. The better they become, the more they will enjoy and become addicted to the hobby. And, the more they will appreciate the unique advantages of their own Club and Caller. As the saying goes, “It’s great to travel, but there’s no place like home!”

12.) We “protect” our newer dancers. Whether it’s at regular dances, festivals or conventions, or events such as Lancaster County’s annual Heart Fund Dance, our more experienced dancers square up with and “look out for” our fledglings. Our protective nature is sometimes interpreted as “cliquey”. Quite frankly, the long-term future of our neophytes concerns us a whole lot more than anyone else’s opinions. We will always welcome in any other experienced dancers who enjoy encouraging and helping newcomers. It’s exhilarating and recharges those of us who truly love MWSD when we see each new dancer’s confidence and skills grow; we know that success breeds more success, and we’re probably looking at a future long time dancer. We do begin to let loose a little when we’re convinced they truly understand that the rude, impatient, thoughtless clod who has forgotten what it was like to be a new dancer is the fool, not they.

13.) Historically, according to its constitution, Do-Pas-O was a Plus level club, and a member had to have the skill level of a Plus level Modern Western Square Dancer. We realized that requirement closed the door for membership to anyone content to dance the Mainstream program and/or who hadn’t completed Plus classes. It would force dancers to go on before they wanted to, whether prepared or not, or even to quit the Club. That seemed pretty foolish to us. We undertook a thorough, detailed revision of our entire constitution. Among many changes, it now states that membership is open to anyone who has at least a Mainstream MWSD skill level.

Today, some our members dance only as Angels on Monday nights, or choose to go purely (and happily) to Mainstream or New Dancer level dances. Everybody’s content! Everybody’s doing what they want to, and the Club can accommodate more dancers. Our membership grows, and everybody wins!

14.) Directly related to #13, we (officers, Caller and New Dancer Coordinators) monitor the progress of the dancers closely. Ideally, each should experience growth in confidence and skill at a pace appropriate and comfortable for him/her. One thing we try to avoid is dancers moving up faster or higher than their current skills warrant. Letting them get in over their heads can have only bad consequences. They will either become discouraged themselves and quit dancing, or they will alienate and exasperate others to the point that the others lose interest. In either case, MWSD needlessly loses dancers.

By communicating with and guiding the dancers carefully, we try to help them choose the best niche for their skill level. Those not yet ready to move on we encourage instead to come back in September to help us as Angels, while at the same time reinforcing and strengthening their own skills. Those ready to begin Plus lessons we invite to do so, and then monitor their progress at that level. They, too, are encouraged to come back as Angels, to become even more proficient dancers.

15.) The term “New Dancer Coordinator” was introduced in #14. It’s a nonExecutive Committee office we created nearly a decade ago, designed to provide special advocates, mentors, “father confessors” for the new dancers, to be a liaison between them and the Club. Experienced dancers, they are chosen for their tact and diplomacy, empathy and patience, enthusiasm, and dedication to MWSD. Their daunting task is to keep everybody happy. They might have to convey needs or concerns from the new dancers’ perspectives to the parties who can achieve a resolution. Or, in reverse, they may have to mediate and convey Club concerns to the new group or individuals. Always, their objective is to keep everyone cognizant of the enjoyment and fulfillment MWSD offers, and the new dancer’s place in it, now and for the future.

16.) The Club has become a haven for exuberant, fun-loving, youthful demeanor and outlook people. Members seem to understand it’s healthy to play as hard as they work. Our dances are typically noisy, energetic events, with smiles and laughter abounding. We’re complimented for our enthusiasm, friendliness and hospitality. We suspect a young-at-heart attitude has helped us in attracting and keeping our young dancers.

Which do you believe, that it’s a full hall that creates the atmosphere and attitude, or that it’s attitude and atmosphere that fill the hall? We firmly believe it’s the latter, and that allows us to control our own destiny. We know it’s our responsibility to create an atmosphere that makes people want to dance with us, and come back again!

17.) Everyone likes to see his/her name in print, and everybody wants to know what’s going on or coming up. Every October Do-Pas-O publishes a Year Book containing all the members, new dancers, the year’s schedule, birthdays, anniversaries, committee assignments, phone chain for notifications, the Club Constitution, etc., about 25 pages in all. At least quarterly (more frequently, if needed), a newsletter named “Patter Call” is published, full of information about the Club and its members, and also about MWSD in general. And, we urge you to visit the Club’s website: www.dopaso.org. We’ll let it speak for itself.

All three products not only reflect the talents and dedication of their respective authors/designers, but they also help to make every member feel pretty good (and maybe a little proud?) about the organization that they’ve chosen to be part of.

18.) A lot of clubs regularly lose their more capable and experienced dancers to the higher levels (Advanced and Challenge). Sometimes these people just want new stimulation and growth, and sometimes they’re simply fed up with the weak, unimaginative, monotonous, even downright incompetent dancing and calling they’ve encountered all too often. Once in the higher level, most stop supporting their original clubs. This is a real loss: The Club is now without its potentially most competent Angels, and what could have been its most experienced and savvy leadership.

In the 15 years I’m familiar with, not one dancer or couple has left Do-Pas-O in favor of Advanced. In fact, a few Advanced dancers have joined the Club. As its dancers become more experienced and competent, those who wanted to challenge themselves more branched into arky, no hands, or phantom dancer tips. 2 1/2 years ago, two Do-Pas-O couples founded an entirely separate Dance by Definition Club, named “Unconventional Squares”. Do-Pas-O’s strongest dancers (joined by some from other clubs up to 1 1/2 hours away) have chosen this as their rejuvenation and stimulation. With DBD as their creative outlet, all remain loyal to and active in their original clubs.

19.) Do-Pas-O has been wise enough from its beginning to never have allowed term limits to be placed on its offices/officers. As a result, the Club has enjoyed remarkable stability and consistency in its leadership, philosophy, and direction. The membership is free to re-elect as often as they wish those who have shown a talent for, effectiveness in and dedication to an office. The Club’s leadership is entirely proactive rather than reactive. Everything the Club does is revisited and reevaluated regularly, even if it’s working just fine at the moment. Potential problems are headed off or minimized or, if they couldn’t be anticipated, when they do arise, they are dealt with promptly and decisively. Bottom Line: Even though the purpose of the Club is entirely fun and recreation, and it is a nonprofit organization, it is managed with the same attention to detail, goals, and sense of responsibility (fiscal and other) that would be needed to make a business successful.

20.) Last, but far from least, are some characteristics that quickly become evident when this Club as a whole is observed. One is that, whereas in many organizations it’s common to have a small minority do a great majority of the work, in this one a great majority willingly steps forward to do its share, and more, whenever needed. Also, it has been and is a group that is astonishingly free of politics, factions and/or egos. From the officers to the newest dancers, all strive together harmoniously for the same goal: To get as much enjoyment out of this activity as they can, for themselves, their fellow dancers, and their Club.

A legitimate question (for which I admittedly haven’t an answer) is, has the Club just been dumb lucky in attracting such a cooperative, harmonious group, or is there an attitude and atmosphere in the organization that everyone buys into and adopts as their own attitude and behavior? I certainly hope it’s the latter. Dumb luck you don’t have any control over, but when something is the result of something else you’re doing, you can keep on doing it!!!

So, does any of this appear useful to you? We hope a lot of it does. We just want to stress again that these articles weren’t written to applaud Do-Pas-O or hold it up as a model for everything done right. But we do hope the readers will look at and think about these things that work for us, and try any that might help their clubs. And we hope other clubs will continue to share what works effectively for them. We’ll take all the help we can get.

We are all in this together, and if we want to dance in full halls and at flourishing festivals, we all have to be successful in reversing the continuing net loss of dancers. It does not have to be that way! But we all have to work harder and a whole lot smarter than ever before! If we care enough, we will!

Nora and Otto Warteman of Trinity, Texas, presented a rendition of Cotton Eyed Joe at one of the sessions of the CALLERLAB Convention this past Spring. It is one that I have played at school-camp dances for the past couple of years, but have never taught it, in that it seemed to be quite difficult, but the kids all knew it. Well, the Wartemans shared a direction sheet of the routine with me and here are the instructions. Enjoy.

Jim and Betsy — Your Rovin’ Corners

Rovin’ Corner

Jim and Betsy have traveled across the US and around the world, dancing and promoting dancing. Each month we share with you our experiences and thoughts. This month we are looking at Square Dance 50th Anniversaries.

This seems to be the decade of the Golden Anniversary - showing 50 years of continuous activity, and we congratulate everyone and every organization that is/has celebrated recently.

We just love to participate in these grand celebrations of the longevity and popularity of square dancing. Square Dancing has given so much to so many people over the years and we are pleased and proud to be a part of it. The warm memories of the good times, good friends, and good feelings are renewed whenever we come together with our fellow square dancers, anywhere in the world. Square dancing cuts across national and cultural boundaries and draws people together in friendship and good times.

We were just invited to the 50th Anniversary of the Rafter Rockers in San Jose, California, founded in 1955. On April 20th they will celebrate at their regular club night, having urged all former members to join them. Though not their first, Ken Kenmille was their caller for 20 years and Gary Carnes followed in 2000 when Ken retired and moved to Montana. We danced with the Rafter Rockers for several happy years when we lived in California. Congratulations to the Rafter Rockers.

On April 2, Gary Kendall, Wade Driver and the Ghost Riders Square Dance band celebrated the 50th anniversary of the Concord Stompers with an afternoon of APD Plus and Advanced dancing, Rounds and a Plus evening dance. Congratulations and we wish you another 50 years of dancing in Concord, California.

Just four years ago we enjoyed the 50th National Square Dance Convention in Anaheim California, and this year we will be in Portland for the 54th National Square Dance Convention, June 22, 23, 24, 25.

In 2002 we attended the 50th Anniversary of Square Dancing of the BAASDC (the British Association of American Square Dance Clubs) in the United Kingdom (England).

This year in September, the EAASDC (European Association of American Square Dance Clubs) will celebrate their 50th Anniversary.

Many other clubs and square dance organizations have celebrated their Golden Anniversaries - throughout the U.S. and Canada, Europe and the rest of the world. We congratulate you too.

Many of us remember the 1950’s when Square Dancing was in its heyday - and joining a group for fun and entertainment was the thing to do. That was before television was in every home, and computers and game boys had yet to be invented. Families often joined together in dancing and other groups. In the seventies it was still quite popular, and the attendance at the Nationals in our bicentennial year of 1976 was at an all time high of almost 40,000 dancers. Numbers may be down today, but the enthusiasm lives on!

I know of no clubs who still have their original caller, although some notable callers have been holding forth for 50 years or nearly so. Marshal Flippo, Wayne Morvent, Al Stevens and others come to mind. Many have been calling for 25 years and many clubs have survived a quarter of a century or more.

We are particularly looking forward to the 50th Anniversary of the EAASDC (European Association of American Square Dance Clubs). Square Dancing is older than 50 years in Europe, but this will celebrate the existence of the association. It promises to be a grand affair. It will take place in Bergheim, Germany, near Cologne organized by our good friend Ingeborg, a noted German square dance caller. They have six halls, over three days, with twelve of the best German, British, and American square dance callers and a plethora of round dance cuers, cloggers and contra leaders. The Europeans really like to dance and this should be a really grand affair. It will be September 2-4, 2005 coinciding with the Labor Day weekend for Americans. More information in available at the web site for EAASDC: http://eaasdc.de/50years.

We plan to follow up with a dancing tour of Germany, including a side trip to St. Petersburg, Russia. The Russian/German Square Dance Friends Club will be dancing for a week in St. Petersburg, culminating in the graduation of the first group of dancers in St. Petersburg!

Our tour will end in Paris at the 7th Annual “Special in Paris” on Sept 30, October 1-2, featuring dancing at the Eiffel Tower!

Of course we would love to see you in Portland, Bergheim, St. Petersburg, or Paris! Our email is jimbetsy@aol.com.

JOHN'S NOTES

John Saunders (johnnysa@aol.com) – http://squaredancing.org/johnsnotes

John includes a record review and things of interest section. There are several singing call figures included that are used in the newly released songs.

The Blast From The Past section looks at Quadrilles. ‘Quadrilles are danced in a four couple square, but they preceded square dancing by several hundred years. Quadrilles can be done to many different kinds of music. Jigs, Hornpipes and Reels are popular. The music needs to be strongly phrased and organized into 64-beat tunes unless otherwise noted. Singing call records are often used. In prompting Quadrilles you can use square dance calling techniques by simply starting the call on count one of each line and filling in each line with patter as needed.’

The Workshop Ideas section features a presentation made by Steve Turner at the Canadian National Convention. The title of the presentation was “Left Allemande”, working off the general rule of Left Allemande: From lines facing in, the man’s corner should be on his left; From lines facing out, the man’s corner should be on his right. With this knowledge, the goal is to discover formations and setups in which to call a Left Allemande.

The Mainstream (1-53) Program call this month is Couples Trade. Cast Off 3/4 is the Mainstream Program call for the month. Besides following the call ‘Centers In’, it can also be called from many other formations, such as Waves, 3 in 1 Lines, Two-faced Lines, Tidal Waves and Lines and Inverted Lines, and others.

Dancing the Plus Program this month looks at the call Explode and (Anything). For dancer success, it works better if the ‘Anything’ call starts with a right hand, or a no-hand call such as Slide Thru.

The Advanced and Challenge Supplement includes: Horseshoe Turn; Checkmate; and Split Square Thru Variations.

If you publish a note service and would like it reviewed in future issues of this magazine, please send them to: 9836 E. Foothill Blvd. #6108, Upland, CA 91786. I will be glad to include your notes in future reviews. Thanks, Frank

In the southern tier of Erie County we celebrated St. Patrick’s Day at the Lakewood Nursing Home in Hamburg, New York. This line dance was the “Alley Cat.” Notice our one dancer with the hat she wore with the floppy ears. She forgot to paint on her whiskers. Tied around her (but hidden) is her tail.

Square Dance Music

I read with considerable interest Tom Rudebock’s column “On the Record - Squares” every month in American Square Dance magazine. As a musician, (I learned to play the guitar.) I thought I would share what I look for when purchasing square dance records.

Singing Calls

I look for a strong melodic introduction to start calling. This may involve an eight, sixteen or thirty-two beat introduction. I look for an introduction that leaves no doubt in my mind about when to start. I have purchased a few records with excellent music, but a very poor introduction. I could not get with the start, so I listened to the called side, only to find the caller had to make an adjustment to get into the melody!

I also might mention I like a strong melody to help stay with the rhythm and phrasing in the break and figure. This would involve a strong melodic lead instrumental, plus an added bonus of a key change and voices singing along on the chorus, or some real energetic instruments joining in at the middle and the end.

Hoedowns

When I started calling in 1957, 48 years ago, all hoedowns were recorded on 78 R.P.M. A metal box containing 50 or more records was heavy. The choice of hoedowns was fairly limited. The hoedowns included, Heck Amongst the Yearlings, Up Jumped the Devil, Boil the Cabbage Down, Blue Mountain Rag, among others. What was common back then was, all had an 8 beat, 16 beat or 32 beat phrase, and a melody that covered 32 beats, was repeated for 32 beats before it changed to a slightly different melody for two 32 beat phrases.

I have found some great singing calls and hoedowns in all these years, (my record collection has reached thousands, it fills a whole room. ) I also collected a few, a very few, I considered so bad, I purchased them to show/demonstrate to new callers and some regulars why they did not add to the dancers enjoyment, and how different they were from better dancer/caller enjoyment of the music.

American Square Dance, June 2005
Why Can’t Round Dance Cuers Hum A Tune?

Why don’t cuers ever sing any notes when they cue? Once square dance callers have learned the mechanics of calling, they are taught to partially sing their patter by finding the melody line of the record. They hum that note, along with a note or two on either side, as they give commands, and they also talk some of the calls. By humming the melody line of the record, callers immediately sound 1000% better.

Cuers don’t do this. They talk everything. It is extremely rare to ever hear a cuer hum one note. I have asked a number of cuers why this is, and the response is varied. Many cuers can not even comprehend what I am talking about - they think I am suggesting they should sing every note, like on a singing call, which is not what is being suggested at all.

Other cuers can not comprehend this, because they never realized that callers sing their patter by humming a few notes. I have had to demonstrate what I mean by having them listen closely to patter calling.

Finally, the response always is: “I don’t know why cuers don’t sing notes, I never thought about it, it’s always been done this way.”

In my calling career I have only heard about four cuers hum notes while cuing. The top cuers in the country will have perfect timing, but they will talk everything.

If callers immediately sound much better as soon as they begin to hum some of the notes in their patter, isn’t it logical that the same would be true for cuers? Note: I am not suggesting that cuers sing every note of a round dance, merely that they hum some of the notes as they give their commands - ie. the notes that would be most comfortable for their voice range. The improvement in the sound of the cuing would be dramatic.

Howdy folks. Good music is such an integral part of the dance activity. Because of the lack of upbeat tempos in today’s country music, many choreographers select music from a wide variety of music genres. Producers of Square Dance music have always selected music from all genres of music. Many popular line dances are being done to Latin, Rock, Disco, and even 50’s-60’s music. Every once in a while though, a country artist releases a song that really makes you want to dance. I, personally, choreograph very few dances. However, there are two reasons why I would choreograph a dance. First, I use the opportunity to teach my dancers a new step or reinforce a particular concept or technique. Secondly, the music must jump out of the speakers and say, “Hey, this song needs a dance choreographed for it.” When I heard the song for this month’s dance, the planets must have aligned because I had a pattern that I wanted my students to learn, and the music was great. I hope you enjoy the dance. If you have any questions about this month’s dance or a suggestion for a future column, please contact me at P.O. Box 2685, Topeka, Kansas 66601-2685. I can also be reached via e-mail at KSDanceguy@aol.com. Until next time, I will save you a spot on the dance floor.

This Month’s Dance: Bodonkadonk

Drag (Draw): To bring the free foot slowly up to the supporting foot, knee flexed or bent.

Grapevine: Vine is an abbreviation. A continuous traveling step pattern to the side with crosses behind and/or in front in 3rd or 5th position.

Hold: To perform no movement; to do nothing for a specified time.

Paddle Turn: A turn, either left or right, using a series of ball changes (weight changes) with three quarters of the weight staying over the turning foot. The other foot is executing a pushing movement to make the turn.

Point: To point the free foot forward, backward, sideward, or crosswise.

Rock Step: AKA Break Step, Check Step. Two weight changes in opposite directions using two beats of music. Forward and backward Rock Steps are performed in 5th position (Toe to Heel) while side Rock Steps are performed in 2nd position (shoulder width apart).

Step: The transfer of weight from one foot to the other.

Syncopated Movement: A variation of a normal pattern.

Program Policy Initiative New & Exciting

Last year the Board Of Governors approved a proposal from the Program Policy Committee (PPC) to support experimentation with the CALLERLAB Dance Programs. This proposal has been named the “Program Policy Initiative” or “PPI.” This initiative was introduced at the 2005 CALLERLAB Convention in Louisville, Kentucky and the information below provides more detail. The basic idea of the PPI is to encourage callers, clubs, associations, and others to conduct “experiments” of ways to get more people involved with square dancing. It must be stressed that these experiments are NOT intended to impact the current dancing community, they are intended to be a way to introduce square dancing to a large number of people. Some of these people MAY, at some future time, wish to join the activity as we know it today. The remainder of these people, it is hoped, will continue to enjoy the activity in a new way. Please read the following information carefully and if you have questions or concerns contact the CALLERLAB office (800-331-2577) or E-mail: CALLERLAB@aol.com

WHAT?

In close cooperation with the CALLERLAB Board Of Governors (BOG), members of the Program Policy Committee (PPC) have developed a new and exciting way of looking at our wonderful activity. It’s called the Program Policy Initiative (PPI).

The PPI encourages callers to use their imagination in bringing new dancers into the activity. The PPI urges us to experiment. Try something new. Teach in a different way.

Mick Jagger’s song says, “You can’t always get what you want, but if you try, sometimes, you just might find you get what you need.” We may want to teach Mainstream in 26 weeks, but we may find our local dancers need a program of 25 calls in two nights and go no further.

The PPI says that CALLERLAB recognizes we may have to start thinking outside the box in order to bring our activity to today’s population. It is important to recognize that the PPI is outside the current program/teaching-order/teaching-season structure and will not impact the current structure until and unless we get data from PPI experiments that can contribute in a positive way. Those callers and dancers who are pleased with the current structure are not threatened by the PPI.

Yet the pre-CALLERLAB chaos must be avoided. That’s why the PPC is preparing a reporting system to share the successes and lessons learned, of new dance experiments. We try something new. We report the details to CALLERLAB. The reporting system collects and shares the info. From those reports we may be able to see trends that will help us make modern western square dancing as attractive as it once was, attractive to lots of people.
WHY?
CALLERLAB was originally formed to bring order to the hodgepodge of calls scattered everywhere. It did so. Programs were agreed upon and clubs developed that suited the population of that time. It seems, however, that much of today’s population is not willing or able to commit to a long period of training before they can dance. For those who are still able to make such a commitment, the CALLERLAB Mainstream and other dance programs remain just as they are. The PPI will have no adverse effect on today’s clubs. It may even result in additional dancers for those clubs. But its main intent is to encourage modern western square dancing to grow as an activity available to a majority of today’s population.

HOW?
The PPI is a grassroots operation. It will not be dictated by CALLERLAB or the PPC. Callers will make it happen. Indeed, we are starting to get reports that many are already trying abbreviated lists for local groups; different teaching orders; even mixing Mainstream (MS) and Plus calls to develop a list of what they consider their most popular calls. Some may find that MS 1-25 suits their local needs with new groups being started every three weeks. Whatever is tried, it will be crucial that both successes and difficulties be reported back to CALLERLAB.

The CALLERLAB BOG and the PPC will be working hard over the next months to develop the PPI. We look forward to reports and input from you. Let’s turn down the bickering on this issue, but continue to work together to tweak it into something more successful. Let’s channel our energies into more important areas like education of our existing caller and dance leaders, recruiting new and younger callers and dance leaders, changing our less than accurate image, positioning ourselves to afford and use modern marketing and promotional techniques, arguing less and just having more fun with one another.

There is more than enough room for all the associations and groups that make our activity go, so let’s all do what we do best, stop the duplication of efforts, promote each other, and most importantly, work together in harmony to make our activity more available and popular for future generations to enjoy.
Is 20 Or 30 Weeks Too Much?

From Mac Letson

(Reprinted from American Callers Assoc. April 2005 newsletter)

In this day of instant gratification, we ask too much of people when we ask them to commit to 20 weeks or 30 weeks when they aren’t even sure they will enjoy dancing. Even for those that do enjoy it, that’s too much of a commitment. Our current structure of dancing requires more commitment even after graduating. A new graduate cannot take a short time off and then start back dancing. The current dancers will not allow them that privilege, and as a result we never see them again.

How to accommodate the busy lifestyles of people that could and would square dance if we had a program that fit their lifestyle:

1) Basic lists of 30 to 35 calls that when completed, clubs would be formed to accommodate the new dancers.

2) A basic list that can be taught in 8 weeks. No more than 10 weeks

3) A place for the new dancers and other occasional dancers to go without the frustration of new calls, too many calls, and the fear that someone will look down on them if they can’t Load the Boat or because they can only dance once or twice a month.

4) No pressure to move up, but facilitate this for those interested.

5) Teach a new call, but use it for that dance. If you use it at the next dance, teach it again. Eventually some dancers will want to learn all of the calls.

Nowadays where can anyone go on a monthly basis to enjoy square dancing? No where. The only place I know you can go without a 20 or 30 weeks commitment is Line Dancing or Contra Dancing. But, if we restructure the way we bring people into square dancing with a shorter basic program to accommodate these folks with a new dancer club in each area. Different clubs could host new dancer programs each year or two or three times a year. Think of how many new people we could bring into square dancing. Area clubs could schedule occasional dances so that new dancers of the short basic list would have a place to dance and feel welcome in square dancing. Some more experienced dancers might even enjoy a chance to meet new people. New dancers can have fun if we provide a place for them. We have to change to do that. One suggestion would be to take the One Floor Program and take half of the calls and make that the new dancer program; then use the next half of the program for the next step. This is kind of like the old Basic & Extended Basic Program. We could appoint a work committee to study this and suggest a new dancer list for all the members to vote on. I use the term New Dancer for lack of a better term, but I hate the term class or lessons.

I know of a very prominent caller that taught an 8-week 35-call program this year and graduated two groups and formed a club with them. He said that he will do this until he has a hall full of people. If we do nothing, where will we be this time next year? I know most of you do not have a free night, but if we keep going the way we are, all of our nights will be free.

If you don’t see your festival or convention information listed in the What’s Ahead section ask, “Did someone remember to send the information?” We will include any dance that we feel might be of national or international interest.
Did you, as a caller, ever stop to think what are your real responsibilities? Do you feel that going to a hall and calling a dance for three hours is all that is required of you? Think about it. You are a professional and because you are, you are obligated with certain responsibilities. Let's consider for a moment the word "professional," in the terms of an amateur. "Amateur" originally implied a taste of liking for some activity rather than an expert knowledge of it. Amateur nowadays means one practicing an art without mastery of its essentials. "Professional," on the other hand, means (1) "conforming to certain standards of a profession"; or, (2) "engaging for livelihood or gain in activity sometimes pursued by amateurs," Mr. Webster says.

Right off the bat you are saying to yourself, "I'm certainly no amateur because I know all the essentials of calling".

You know how to breathe when calling; you know how to emphasize commands; you know that smiling while calling helps your enunciation; you know how many beats it takes to do each action; you always know where everyone is in a square, etc.

If you were in need of legal service some time you would get the best lawyer you could possibly find, wouldn't you? In essence you would expect the best possible service for your money. When a square dancer walks in the front door of your hall and plunks down his money, he expects the same thing — the best possible service. He may have heard about your calling ability, but there are other things which will determine whether you have a successful dance and whether or not you will attract that dancer to your next dance. Let's take a look at some of them.

1. YOUR ATTITUDE. If you stand up there looking down through your nose at these people, giving them the impression that you're doing them a big favor by being there, you might as well stay home the next time. If you are friendly, they'll be friendly too. In other words, you are the deciding factor in establishing the mood of your crowd. Your attitude is admittedly contagious.

2. FLOOR CONDITION. Maybe the club you call for has the responsibility of seeing that the floor is right for square dancing. But guess who is going to get the blame if things are not just right. If you floor isn't good, it will take you dancers longer to complete the calls, some will sit out most of the evening, your timing may suffer; your dance will be slower. It is almost impossible to create enthusiasm when your dancers are either just concentrating on staying upright on a slippery floor or "picking 'em up and laying 'em down" on a sticky one. You make sure the floor conditions are right.

3. SOUND. You can be the best caller in the world, but if you dancers can't hear or understand you, it couldn’t matter less. The kind, size, number and placement of your speakers or enclosures can solve your problem. If you can’t work it out yourself, don’t be too proud to ask for professional help from a good sound man, or from some other caller who’s an expert. Your dancers will be forever grateful and you’ll be a happier caller.

4. YOUR APPEARANCE. Most of you have clubs that you call for regularly. Are you aware of what influence you and your taw have on these club members? Let’s look at it. If the caller and taw are neat and attractively dressed at all times, the club is going to copy these attributes. If on the other hand, you dress without concern for your appearance, your dances will tend to do the same thing and it won’t be long before your whole club has a disheveled air. If you are professional, look it and you’ll have a nice-looking club, too.

5. SEQUENCE. How many times have you started out with a full floor only to find that after intermission snack your floor is only about one-half to two-thirds full? Don’t you find that you have to work like a pack mule to get the enthusiasm back to the point where it was before the break? If these things are true, consider changing your snack time to after the dance. This gives people a chance to visit without being hurried, to get better acquainted and to think about the next dance.

SET AN EXAMPLE

In summary, do the best job of calling on the best calls you can find. Set an example for your dancers in both dress and personality. Provide the dancers with good floor conditions and sound. Consider your sequence for the benefit of the dancers – not for your own.

Give them your best for their money. You wouldn’t be worth a cracked copy of Patty Cake Polka without your dancers. Your purpose, as a caller, is to provide the dancers the means by which they can most enjoy themselves. If you are a professional in the true sense of the word, you will make every effort to accomplish this at every one of your dances.

American Square Dance, June 2005
Attention!! Flash!!

Important “Parade of States” Info! Attention!!

The Parade of States will form Saturday, June 25, 2005 at 5:30 p.m. in the corridor between Halls C and D at the Oregon Convention Center. Due to lack of space, each State represented will only be able to have one Square or eight people participating in the Parade of States. The exceptions to this rule will be: Oregon/Washington (The reason we are including Washington with Oregon is because of the joint effort of dancers in both states helping put on the 54th National Square Dance Convention®); Texas, North Carolina, Kansas, (Future Convention States); California (Bidding City) and Foreign Countries.

Please let the Leaders in your State know of our plans. The 54th NSDC wants everyone to be aware of this before Convention so it will not come as a surprise.

Don’t Miss the Outdoor Parade

The Mayor of Portland has approved the 54th NSDC Outdoor Parade for Friday, June 24, 2005 from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The parade will start north of the Oregon Convention Center between Holladay and Multnomah Streets and 1st and 2nd Avenues and will end at the south entrance to the Lloyd Center (10 blocks). There will be dancing at the Ice Arena at Lloyd Center following the parade. Assembly for the parade will begin at 11:00 a.m.

There are no limitations for participation. The more participants, the better display of colorful Square Dancers there will be for Portlanders to enjoy. There will be signs for each State and Foreign Country represented at the 54th NSDC.

The NEC President, the NEC Advisors for the 54th NSDC, the General Chairman and Assistant General Chairman will lead the parade in horse drawn carriages. This a great opportunity for Square Dancers to show their skirts, ruffles, lace and colorful Square Dance attire to the Portland, Oregon area, because the parade will happen at lunch time in an area where there are many office buildings, restaurants, parks and open areas.
ARTS Dance Adds Seminar Opportunity

A three-part seminar on marketing and public relations for club leaders and all interested dancers, arranged by the new ARTS Dance (Alliance of Round, Traditional and Square Dance), will be on the agenda for the 54th National Square Dance Convention® in Portland, Oregon.

Members of the ARTS Governing Board will be on hand for the first session Thursday, June 23, from 11:30am to 12:30 in Room E142, on the Education Campus in the southeast section of the Oregon Convention Center. They will highlight plans to bring together all the major organizations related to the Square Dance family for interactive exchange of ideas and national marketing assistance.

Dean Rodgers, Manager of the Portland Office of Weber Shandwick Worldwide Public Relations, will conduct sessions two and three on Friday and Saturday at the same time and room location as Session #1. For Session #2, Rodgers will speak on Blueprint for Club Relations: Creating a plan to raise the stature of your local club. Session #3 will cover executing your PR plan, working with ARTS, sample materials and a resource list. Preparation and presentation is a free pro bono contribution of Weber Shandwick Worldwide.

Completion certificates and a kit of sample materials will be provided for those who attend all three sessions.

“We’re pleased to be hosting this creative new step to make clubs stronger and link them to national efforts proposed by the ARTS Dance”, said Ed Warmoth, Education Chairman for the 54th National Square Dance Convention®. It fits in well with the Phoenix Marketing Plan developed by Jim Hensley of Creative Marketing Systems and surveys by CALLERLAB and others to determine public and dancer feelings about dancing.

Fashions To The Trails End

In squares of eight across the globe, people of all ages are gathering together in wholesome, healthy, family entertainment. In June 2005, the 54th National Square Dance Convention® will be hosted by the Square Dance clubs of Oregon and Washington under the banner of the Oregon Trail Board. One of the highlights of the Convention is the much-anticipated Fashion Show featuring models from throughout the world wearing the latest dance attire.

The show begins promptly at 1:00pm on Saturday, June 25 with 24 model groups comprised of individual dancers, husband and wife combinations and family units all participating. The show will conclude by 2:15 p.m. with close-up viewing of the model outfits available immediately after the show. Stage set will be provided by the Portland Opera Company and a professional narrator will provide the commentary. This show will also feature nationally known cowboy poet, Boyd Johnson, as entertainment. We have a number of door prizes for the audience and models ranging from Pendleton Wool Blankets to Charter Fishing Trips on the Columbia River to Lodging Gift Certificates to Diamond Lake Resort. If you would like more information about the 54th NSDC and the Fashion Show, please check out http://www.54nsdc.com/
