MAINE DEFEATED BY WILDCAT FIVE

Varsity Basketeers Beat Middlebury and Maine

Pine Tree Staters Lose Before Large Carnival Throng, 25-19—Middlebury Outclassed in Wednesday's Game by 31 to 22 Score—Mass. Aggies Here Saturday

The Wildcat basketball team won its eighth game of the season out of nine starts, defeating University of Maine quintet by the score of 25 to 19, before a large carnival crowd Saturday night at the big gym. Maine, who was beaten by New Hampshire at Orono earlier in the year, put up a stubborn fight during the entire game with a strong defensive team. The Wildcats were a bit off in their usual scoring power, missing many tries at the basket and leading only by a slender margin at half-time over their Pine Tree State rivals. On last Wednesday night Coach McKinley's charges took the fast-traveling Middlebury five into camp, mounting up a score of 31 to 22 over the Vermonters.

New Hampshire took an early lead over the Maine basketeers with Craig and Cotton working the ball down for shots at the basket soon after the start of the contest. Both quintets then settled down to straight basketball, presenting tight defenses that slowed up the game at times. Bridge got inside the Maine five-man defensive for a foul line shot at the basket, but lost part of his hold of being high scorer of the team by only dropping in two double-deckers and one foul during the encounter.

Maine made a strong comeback in the final half, coming up within four points of the New Hampshire score and causing no small amount of worry in the wildcat ranks. Schurman entered the game at center, Nicora taking his old position at guard which Bridge had held from the start. Schurman speeded up the New Hampshire offense by sinking two under-the-basket shots. Kelsea left his

GLEE CLUBS OUT FOR NEW HONORS

Spring Concert and Trips Objective of Both Groups

Concert to be Given in Gymnasium in Spring Term—Men's Club Has Trips to Rochester, Manchester and Concord

The University of New Hampshire Glee Clubs under the direction of Prof. Robert W. Manton are preparing for the spring concerts and trips. The feature of the spring term will be a concert at the Gymnasium by the combined clubs which will be along the same lines as the presentation of Horatio Parker's "Hora Novissima" which was given last year.

One of the leading numbers on the new program will be the "Crucifixus" from Bach's Mass in B Minor. This is considered one of the greatest works of its kind ever written and is sure to please an audience. Combined with this will be other selections by the great composers, rendered both by the combined clubs and the separate organizations.

The Men's Club have a specially busy program in the spring with trips to Rochester, Manchester and Concord already assured. This will be the second appearance of the Men's Glee Club in Concord, and the favorable impression made there last year is sure to attract a capacity audience. The concert in Manchester will be the first appearance of this organization in that city. Other New Hampshire organizations are well known in the "Queen City" and the Glee Club should prove an addition to the heights already achieved there. In the near future a concert in Exeter will be given. Roland E. Partridge of the faculty is assisting the men in several of their numbers with tenor solo parts.

On Sunday, February 27th, a small group of the Men's Glee Club will sing at St. John's church in Dover. Last year a concert given there at the time of a church convention proved to be a great feature of the meeting.

Special features are being prepared by the University Double Quartette and the University Trio for these programs. Both of these groups are well received by all audiences who enjoy a variety of types and selections.

KITTENS DOWN CLARK FIVE IN FAST GAME

The freshman basketeers scored their eighth straight win Wednesday night when they defeated Clark School in a rather loose game by the score of 43-12 at the gymnasium. The frosh showed a superior brand of basketball throughout the game and were at no time threatened or even forced to their best. At half time the score stood 25-6 with Clark School trailing hopelessly. The visitors found the first string defence almost impregnable and they were too busy guarding their own basket to bother about scoring.

SPAULDING TROPHIES HERE FOR INTRA-MURAL DEBATES

The Huntley N. Spaulding Championship Wall Shield and the Second Prize Cup for the annual U. of N. H. Interfraternity Debating League have been received. It is expected that all of the fraternities will want to enter two-men teams this year, that the rules will be similar to those of last year, and that the League will function during some week in the spring term, with the final debate in convocation.

If the same inter-teaming arrangement used last year is used again the four winning interfraternity debaters will be eligible to own a newly devised bronze medal, one half inch in diameter, similar to the sterling silver medal for which all varsity debate speakers will be eligible.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA ELECTS DOROTHY PRAY PRESIDENT

At a recent meeting, the Alpha Tau chapter of Alpha Chi Omega elected Dorothy Pray, '28, of Somersworth, N. H., president for the coming year. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Winifred Soderland, '28; recording secretary, Ervilla Stoddard, '28; corresponding secretary, Marjorie Dahlberg, '29; treasurer, Margaret Baker, '29. Miss Pray entered the University shortly after returning from China where she resided with her father who was a missionary. She was recently elected Senior representative to the Women's Student Government Association.

given in Concord on March 10 and in Laconia, March 11, according to Melville L. Taylor '27 of Haverhill, Mass., president of the society. The purpose of the trip to these New Hampshire cities is to swell the scholarship funds of the alumni associations of these cities and, in the case of the Concord performance, to benefit the local hospital.

Two years ago Mask and Dagger produced "Grumpy" in Concord and last winter staged "The Whole Town's Talking," a John Emerson and Anita Loos comedy. Both plays, but especially the latter, were phenomenally successful. The performance in the capital this year will take place in the new Capitol Theater, one of the best in New England, and is expected to want nothing in stage effects and scenery.

Kelley's comedy, which he calls a "transcript from life", centers around the activities of the Fisher family and Aubrey Piper, the "show off", who is courting "Amy", the daughter of the house. The scenes portray the comedy and pathos in everyday life of an ordinary, middle class American family and do so in such a manner that the play was one of the most successful ever put on in New York. It ran there two full years and today is one of the favorites with leading stock companies. The leading part of "Aubrey" will be played by Melville O. Taylor, '27, who played "Grumpy" in the Concord (Continued on Page Three.)

ORATORICAL CONTESTS TO BE HELD SPRING TERM

The University Men's and Women's Oratorical Contests, with the Finals in Convocation, will be held in the spring term instead of in the winter term. ## VOCATIONAL ADVICE OFFERED TO STUDENTS

A new opportunity for advice on Vocational Guidance is offered to the students at the university by Joseph Barker of the local Y. M. C. A. Mr. Barker is taking a special course with the Dean of the Vocational Department at Harvard University in order to study more closely what is being done in other colleges and universities.

The question of "After College What" is in the mind of every student throughout the country. More and more the faculty, administration and interested outsiders are attempting to help the students solve this question. According to Mr. Barker, in many mid-western universities there is a special office and department of Vocational guidance and personal research. Helping students to secure positions and to make adjustments thereafter is a major part of this work.

The local Y. M. C. A. recently conducted one forum on the subject and it is the plan of the Y. M. C. A. committee on vocational guidance, of which Fred Mitchell, '28 is chairman, to hold several more in the near future. It is the desire of the committee to secure as speakers outstanding men in that field. Anyone interested in knowing just how much assistance can be given along this line is invited to see Mr. Barker at his office where all possible assistance will be given.

NO GIN

As one reads the popular books and periodicals of today he is impressed by the wild life of the average college student as portrayed therein. He is amused by the stories of Gin, Rye, Scotch, wild parties, questionable dances and various other forms of amusement that are written to humor the public. The reader is able to visualize college, not as it is or as William Howells would write about it but rather as some of the more modern authors would commercialize it.

Of course, the casual observer and he that would visit a college campus for the first time look first for these things that had been brightly painted in his imagination. He would expect to see a bootlegger on every corner and hear the strains of some lively music that would denote a wild party going on near by.

To those who visited the campus over the past week-end, it must have been somewhat of a disappointment to note the absolute different atmosphere from what he might have expected. We do not claim that every college student is a saint nor an emblem of perfection but it is obvious and it has been proved that the largest majority of students are not different in their actions than any other group of young people.

During Carnival there was no drinking, there were none of the so called "wild parties," there were few if any of the questionable incidents that would point to college as a place for the degenerates. On the contrary, Durham was the scene of a wholesome, clean carnival. The actions of the students were never questionable and their conduct at all times was that which could be accorded to gentlemen.

We do not wish to drag any other college into this article nor do we say that any other college ever had a better holiday, but we do say to those who would be skeptical, that the University of New Hampshire was able to show the rest of the world that here we have men and women who are able to take care of themselves and whose honor and actions need never be doubted.

ORGANIZATION OF NASHUA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION FEB. 16

CO-ED CORA

Dear Co-Editor:

Aren't you just a little over-cynical in the attitude you persist in taking toward our co-eds? Are they really so dumb after all? (You see, I take it for granted that you have confused "dumb-Dora" with Cora, which is, to be truthful, just a simple mistake in euphony.) To hear you putter on, one might believe that you "got rooked" on a blind date sometime in the past. There is one result of your cynicism which is to be feared—That the entire male population of the Campus will begin to assume the same attitude. Just think what would happen if that should come about!

And now, Co-Editor, I have a sporting proposition to make to you. Give the Co-eds a chance. They deserve it, even more than the men. Just think of the disadvantage under which a co-ed works. If she acts natural and is shy and retiring, a thing which is only natural for a girl, some cynic says that she is "dumb." If, however, she assumes a different attitude, and talks and becomes a little boisterous, some other person swears that she is too loud and self assertive.

As a parting shot, let me ask whether it is the fraternity or the sorority that cracks off the best scholastic average? Again, why not give the Co-ed a chance? After all it's a little childish to pick on her all the time.

Most Hopefully,
 B. H., '29.

Dear "B. H.":

Do you know, your sporting proposition interests me immensely and also puts me in rather a false position. In fact, your whole letter does. You make me feel as though I've been picking on some one too weak to take care of herself, but it's the wrong idea. Really, "B. H.," co-eds aren't weak. They don't need to be petted (don't take that wrong) or protected. It's the male of the species who has to worry. The co-eds can toss the old half brick and if the young man is polite and doesn't make any comeback the young lady proceeds to walk over his prostrate form. And if he isn't polite, he's locked up or panned even more than usual in the Congreve Hall "bull sessions." We're the ones who need the chance. We're licked before we start.

As to that crack about scholastic averages—well, we don't sit in the front row of each class to get the drag. Silk stockings don't look as well on us. And I didn't "get rooked on a blind date." A senior taught me during the freshman week of the year I entered this institution of the pleasantest type of education, that blind dates are the worst and most dangerous vice a trusting young man can indulge in.

I must stop now as the editor of this publication won't give me any more space, but I must answer your remark about childishness. Of course, I'm childish. Every fellow would like to be "Peter Pan" all through life. I've even seen professors who would. Do write soon. I'm sure we'd like to know you better. That's all—Cora. Co-Editor.

To the Editor:

I wonder if any of the students would care to express their views on the reinstatement of undergraduates who are dropped from the university because of failure to pass the required number of hours during a given term? While not wishing to criticize the committee on reinstatement nor seem too hard upon my fellow students who look upon college as a place to get an education outside of the classroom, it seems to me that for the ultimate good of the university altogether too many people were replaced on the lists who had "funkt out" at the end of last term.

I realize as well as anybody the temptations which confront the average undergraduate to have a good time or make a name for himself on the campus in athletics or other student activities and to let studies slide, but, after all, isn't the classroom the real excuse for the existence of any institution of higher education? Is it fair to the student who does do his work in order that he may stay in college, to permit the intellectual slacker to stay on the same basis?

Of course, some may argue that the slacker doesn't stay on the same basis, that it takes him longer to graduate than the student who passes all his courses. This, however, does not prevent such a student from slowing up an entire course or an entire university if he is to be catered to and excused each time he can't make the grade.

Please do not misunderstand me. This is no peon of praise to the "grind." Nobody irritates me more. But I do feel that if a passing grade is to be maintained and if a standard requirement of hours for student rating is to be adhered to, a very just and sufficient reason should be demanded of any student, regardless of his social or athletic standing, before he be granted reinstatement.

cat team who won the Marshal Foch trophy at Lake Placid in 1925. Assistant Coach Gunnar Michelson, captain of New Hampshire's championship 1926 team, who won the Foch trophy in 1923, gave an exhibition jump at this time.

Friday afternoon immediately after the winter sports events tea dances held sway at the various fraternity houses for the two thousand students and guests participating in the festivities and dinner was then served for the guests at the houses. At nine o'clock Friday evening the carnival ball, the gala social event of the entire carnival, took place at the Men's gymnasium.

The hockey game, scheduled for Saturday morning, in which New Hampshire's undefeated sextet was to play Brown had to be cancelled because of nearly a foot of snow on the ice. Dances until twelve at the various fraternity houses were held immediately after the basketball games Saturday evening.

The carnival officially closed Sunday noon after dinner and teas in the fraternity houses and the three hundred and fifty "imports" who were here in addition to the women students, left Durham on afternoon and evening trains.

YOUR INTERESTS

Considerable effort is being made by the faculty to adjust the number of units that are to be given to courses in order that students may not be burdened with extra work that in the end will affect their scholastic standing.

In certain departments in the University, time-slips have been passed out and have been filled in by the members of the courses. These will give to the heads of departments, a true idea of how unjustly the courses were rated in the beginning. It was no one's fault in particular, but was something that was inevitable inasmuch as the time unit system was a new project.

Students would do themselves justice and the faculty a favor if they would at some time mention the fact to their instructors that the course is or is not rated correctly. It is the only way by which the new system may be perfected.

The new catalogues will be out in the near future and if all will cooperate, there is no reason to believe that there will not be a decided change in the rating of many of the courses. Speak to those who have something to do with the matter, they will understand your point of view and you will be rendering a service to the University.

A South Sea romance—a drama of the Pacific that rings out with the clash of brawny men fighting for a dot of land at the world's edge—and fighting for a girl. There are men who can be broken on South Sea islands, but this man made himself there.

When the plutarchs start plutarching

AT THE night sessions, when class philosophers vie with class Merry Andrews in deciding the heavy problems of the world—or burlesquing them—notice the royal guest, Prince Albert. Chiming in with the spirit of the occasion. Filling the air with the finest tobacco-roma ever.

Do you smoke Prince Albert? It will bring you more pleasure and satisfaction than you ever thought a pipe could give. The instant you throw back the hinged lid and release that wonderful P. A. fragrance, you suspect you are in for some grand smoke-sessions.

The very first pipe-load confirms your suspicions. Cool as a gate-tender. Sweet as the week-end reprieve. Mild as the coffee in Commons—mild, yet with a full body that satisfies your smoke-taste completely. Get yourself a tidy red tin this very day.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound (tin) humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS IN POPULAR DEMAND

The library has added many new books to its collection during the past few weeks and the demand has been so great for them that it has been necessary to make application for them now in order to read them at a later date. The collection is one that should hold interest for anyone, it is varied and interesting. Below will be found a list of the most popular:

BIOGRAPHY

A VICTORIAN AMERICAN, HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW, by Herbert S. Gorman. A modern biography of the poet who has become almost a tradition in New England. Here Mr. Gorman makes him emerge again as a human being.

JOHN WANAMAKER, by Herbert Adams Gibbons. A story of the humblest beginning and a rise to wealth and achievement is not new in American annals, but it is always interesting.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN, an intimate narrative, by R. E. Dibble. A gaudy and spectacular career in the prize ring, preaching prohibition while running saloons, etc.

POLITICS

EIGHT YEARS WITH WILSON'S CABINET, 1913 to 1920, by David F. Houston. Wilson's closest friend in the Cabinet gives here a record of Wilson's government during the period he was Secretary of Agriculture and then Secretary of the Treasury. It is a very well written account.

TRAVEL

EAST OF THE SUN AND WEST OF THE MOON, by Theodore Roosevelt and Kermit Roosevelt. This is the record of the serious expedition to the Himalayas for collecting specimens for the Field Museum. The adventures met with, the dangerous passes surmounted, the successes in capturing trophies, are told graphically and simply.

POETRY

DARK OF THE MOON, by Sara Teasdale. The musical quality of her verse, the refinement and clarity of her thought are well known.

MYSTERY STORIES

THE MURDER OF ROGER ACKROYD, by Agatha Christie. So ingenious that it is impossible to guess the murderer until he is disclosed by the author.

INTO THE VOID: A BOOKSHOP MYSTERY, by Florence Converse. Complicating circumstances and lively wit form a mystery story that is different.

MURDER AT SMUTTY NOSE, by E. L. Pearson. This ought to interest Durham people! A murder on the Isles of Shoals and other cases are reported with great accuracy.

MURDER FOR PROFIT, by William Bolitho. Bolitho reveals the motives of professional murderers.

HARVEY GARRARD'S CRIME, by E. Phillips Oppenheim. Eighty thousand pounds to be paid to the bank within forty-eight hours, and the money to be secured only by the commission of a crime!

MAINE FROSH LOSE

Wildcat Cubs Win Seventh Straight Game by Defeating Maine Freshmen, 36 to 24—Coburn Classical Plays Here Saturday

The Blue and White yearlings won their seventh straight basketball game last Saturday night when they won over the Maine freshmen by the easy margin of 36 to 24, in a preliminary game to the varsity contest with Maine. Patch and Captain Donnelly were the stars of the freshman quintet, the former sinking seven baskets from the floor besides his fast floor playing.

The wildcat cubs had some difficulty in getting their scoring offense line teamed up, giving the Maine 1930 classmen a chance to creep slowly to tie the score at the start of the fourth period, 22 to 22. Then the New Hampshire freshmen launched an attack that left the Pine Tree state yearlings far in the rear, Patch adding most of the points during the final stanza for the Blue and White frosh court team. Kent was high point getter for the Maine first-year players with four baskets and one foul shot.

The New Hampshire freshmen play the Coburn Cassical quintet here Friday night for the ninth contest on their schedule. Last year the wildcats broke even with the Maine prep school players, each team winning on its opponent's court.

CARNIVAL BALL
HUGE SUCCESS

Carnival Ball, immune to the vagrancies of the weather, went off true to form with the real Carnival spirit. The gymnasium was completely transformed under a mantle of green and white crepe paper and the central lighting effect was covered by a mass of white streamers.

The "Purple Pirates" of Williams College furnished some of the best music that has ever been imported to the University, and were featured by "Nat" Greenwood, one of the players, who gave impersonations and told stories. Favors were hammered silver perfrumettes bearing the New Hampshire seal. These were distributed as the couples marched by the platform during the favor dance.

Shortly after twelve o'clock, Miss Isabelle Africa, a member of the Junior class, was proclaimed Queen of the Carnival and was presented with a huge bouquet of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Kalijarvi, Lieutenant and Mrs. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall, William Prince and Miss Grace Weber stood in the receiving line.

TECH. DEFEATED BY N. H. BOXING TEAM, 4-2

In addition to the success of New Hampshire's Winter Sport's team, the wildcat boxing squad emerged victorious over the Massachusetts Institute of Technology team at Durham Saturday afternoon, by the score of 4-2. Bouts were won for the local team by Boyd, 115 lb class, Lucinski 125-lb class, McCooey, 135-lb class and Necker, 175-lb class. Captain Sargent of New Hampshire lost the decision in the 145-lb class to Conroy. Flynn of the Boston team was awarded the bout in the 160-lb class over Farrell because the latter's second stepped into the ring. Boyd did well to defeat Captain Kwok of the visitors who had not been beaten during the present season. Both Lucinski and McCooey had decisive wins, the latter scoring a technical knockout over Aldrich when Referee Osthues stopped the contest.

The New Hampshire team will go to New Haven Saturday to meet the Yale boxers.

COMMISSION IN REGULAR ARMY

Senior Military Students May Secure Appointments

Highest Five Per Cent. of all Distinguished College Reserve Officers' Training Corps Designated as Honor Students

Captain John U. Ayotte, of the Military Department, has announced the requirements for an advance student in Military Science to obtain a commission in the regular army. If there are vacancies in the army any advance student graduates may receive a commission by taking only the physical examination. Army regulations pertaining to advance students are listed below.

Par. 85—
a. Each educational institution designated in the last published list as a Distinguished College under the provisions of Paragraph 80 may designate at the close of the academic year as honor graduates 5 per cent. of the total number of students who on March 1 of that year were enrolled in the second year of the advanced course of its Reserve Officers' Training Corps units; similarly, all other educational institutions in Class C and Class MC may designate 3 per cent. The students so designated will be selected from the Reserve Officers' Corps graduates of that year.

In computing the number which each institution may designate under the foregoing provisions, a fraction of one-half or greater will be added as one, and if less than one-half it will be disregarded.

b. The designation as honor graduate does not give the individual any claim or right to an appointment in the Regular Army. Eligibility for appointment in the Regular Army is governed by Section 24e, National Defense Act, as amended, and by regulations of the War Department relating to appointment in the Regular Army.

c. The names of the honor graduates of the distinguished colleges and of the honor military schools with the names of the institutions will be published annually by the War Department.

INCREASE OF INTEREST IN ANNUAL EXTENSION REPORT

Considerable interest is being shown throughout the state by the annual report on extension service which was recently published by the University of New Hampshire Extension department according to Mr. H. B. Stephens. The report has been changed from the uninteresting, dry and conventional form to a more interesting type of statistical summary. The bulletin contains many pictures which enable the reader to visualize the actual progress that the department has made in the rural communities of our state.

Several county delegations to the state legislature have passed bills for increased appropriations in order that the extension service may be increased accordingly. Belknap will be the only county that does not insure the county organization work on a three agent basis. Carroll county has increased its appropriation from $3600 to $5400; Hillsborough from $5000 to $5400; Merrimac from $5400 to $6000; and Belknap has maintained its $3400.

Professor Pipe's popular illustrated lecture...

You can learn far more about TOBACCO from old Prof. Pipe, than you'll get by studying every treatise ever written on it. For Prof. Pipe is the world's most eminent authority on the subject. . . He knows tobacco from plant to pipe!

Experiments with every known species have convinced the Prof. that the one perfect pipe tobacco is Granger Rough Cut. . . He points out reasons for this conclusion: (G) the Granger-grade Burley, the choicest tobacco grown; (R) the Re-discovery of Wellman's mellowing method; and (C) the Cut of the large slow-burning flakes. . .

Prof. Pipe proves Granger, by practical demonstration—shows how it acts under fire. . . You never saw tobacco burn so slow, never tasted such cool, mild mellow-ness! The first pipeful is a liberal education! You'll put your Q. E. D. and capital O. K. on G. R. C. . . and all your pipe problems will be solved. . . forever!

FROM AN ALUMNUS

American Board Mission, Paoting-fu, Chihli, North China.
January 19, 1926.

Dear Mr. Blewett:

Your letter to the members of the class of '26 has been received and read with much interest. You certainly have a spicy way of broadcasting news. I enjoyed the letter exceedingly. I must correct one of your statements, if you will permit me to do so. You say, "Floyd MacDonald wins the prize for our most distant classmate. 'Mac' is with Swift and Company in Marion, Indiana." If you will note the heading of this letter you will understand how Indiana seems to me almost next door to New Hampshire in its accessibility. I was able to study with the class only one year, but got a tremendous lot out of that year and was graduated last June with the rest of the class. I think a good deal of my Book and Scroll pin, and my Phi Kappa Phi key, and my memories of the year at New Hampshire; so I guess you'll have to count me in on your records.

After Commencement in the morning and Phi Kappa Phi initiation in the afternoon, I hurriedly packed my trunks and started on a two weeks' lecture trip in Eastern Maine. This was followed by farewell visits to friends and final shopping for China. On July 14th I sailed from New York beginning three months of intensive sightseeing in London, Paris, Venice, Florence, Rome, Naples, Egypt, Palestine, India, Ceylon, Penang, Singapore, Hongkong, Shanghai, finally arriving at Paoting-fu October 11th. I have now travelled around the world alone,—and it is not nearly so difficult a task as I feared it would prove. It is usually possible to find some one who understands English, though my limited knowledge of French did come in handy also. In Naples I ascended Vesuvius and got a big thrill out of it, as I did also out of riding on a camel to see the Pyramids at Cairo, and mounting an elephant in India and watching a snake charmer in Ceylon. Of course the whole trip was full of thrills, for the matter of that. The cathedrals, and paintings by old masters were wonderful. The days in the Holy Land I can never forget; they mean more to me than I can express. India's caste system, the worship of the elephant-headed Vishnu, and the passion for jewelry—expressing itself in even toe and nose rings—made me feel as though China is quite civilized, by comparison. Conditions here are very bad, however, due to the constant warfare. Instead of mail deliveries twice a day, as formerly, we sometimes go for several days without train connections. Our city is over-run with soldiers, and the Chinese families in both city and country have at times suffered sadly because of the military demands and depredations. In times of special fear they flock to us for refuge and we take them in. So far we have not been molested, as have been the foreigners in Central China. We hope our good fortune may continue. My work is chiefly that of Bible teaching, as I am Director of Religious Education in our junior high school for girls, and Vice Principal of the women's school.

I am enclosing a five dollar bill ($5.00) which I find in my possession. Please use it to pay my membership fees in the University Alumni Association. If the rate to foreign graduates is the same as to U. S. A. residents it will be sufficient to pay for two and a half years, at the rate of $2.00 a year.

With best wishes, believe me
Sincerely yours,
Isabelle Phelps, '26

performance two years ago and "Shylock" in the Mask and Dagger production of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" in the fall of 1925. He is considered one of the best actors in the University. Elizabeth Tibbetts, '27 of Somerville, Mass., will take the role of "Amy" opposite Taylor, while the part of "Mrs. Fisher" perhaps the most important next to "Aubrey" will be portrayed by Aline Morin of Berlin, a member of the Freshman class.

Eunice Wilson of Berlin and William Nelson of Milton, Mass., will be seen in the roles of "Amy's" married sister and her husband, while Charles Johnson '29, of Washington, D. C., whose performance in the part of "Diggory" in the fall term production of "She Stoops to Conquer" attracted much favorable comment, will play "Mr. Fisher." Other students in the cast are Robert Garner '28 of Methuen, Mass., George McLellan '30 of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Osmond Strong '29 of Concord.

guard berth to sneak down the side of the court, where he received a pass from Cotton and scored an easy basket.

Coach McKinley used Clement, Clark, Slayton, and Schurman for subs in the Maine game, all performing well in the short time that they played. No doubt that some of these new players will be seen in action against Norwich here on Thursday night, giving the regulars a layoff before the Mass. Aggies encounter on Saturday.

New Hampshire found Middlebury a rather stubborn opponent to subdue on last Wednesday night, winning over the Vermonters by a 31 to 22 score. The Wildcats appeared to have an off night in basket shooting, although Craig and Cotton scored five baskets between them. Captain Kelsea was easily the outstanding player for New Hampshire against Middlebury, excelling in his all-around play and scoring four baskets and two foul shots for a total of ten points. The Wildcats led at the half by the margin of 14 to 10, getting more offensive power as the contest progressed in the second stanza. Palmer and Hasseltine were the stars on the Vermont quintet, both exhibiting fine work on the defensive.

FRATERNITIES HOLD OPEN HOUSE DANCES

The custom of open houses for fraternity dances, inaugurated last year, was carried out successfully last Saturday night, and visitors were in evidence at all houses.

The Kappa Sigma house was decorated with green and colored lights, and music was furnished by Perley Breed and his orchestra. The Sigma Alpha Epsilons went by busses to Simpson's at Dover Point for their dance. Other fraternities not holding their dances at the chapter houses were the Theta Chi fraternity, which held its dance in the Commons Building, entertained by the "Red Ramblers," and the Phi Mu Delta fraternity, whose dance was held in the "T" Hall gym with music by the "Blue Devils" from Manchester. The Theta Upsilon Omega dance took place in the chapter house and music was by "Bo" Garland's orchestra. The Lambda Chi Alphas secured the "Purple Pirates" to play for their house dance. Eagle's Troubadors played at the Alpha Tau Omega house, Larry Ward's orchestra at the Delta Pi Epsilon house, the Coral Gables' orchestra at the Tri Gamma house, and the "Blue Jays" at the Phi Delta Upsilon house. The Theta Kappa Phi fraternity had its dance at the Kimball Tavern in Dover.
